Hello Mr. James Meredith,

Answered 12/11/62

Don't be surprised as you don't know me in person. I am a Ghanian from West Coast of Africa as a student working my way through collage here in America.

I have been following the crisis in which you are involved closely at the University of Mississippi in paper as well as on Televisions.

I certainly congratulate you for the courage you have taken in this intricate situation of our time and the course for which you stand for.

The course you stand for to-day, is for the betterment of humanity and entire race of our universe; and I believe you will not be discouraged a minute in this course, but rather have the Faith, and all will be well by the help of our Almighty God. I realized your life is in danger but I hope due to gigantic stand of ^{the} President Kennedy administration as well as the prayers of the citizens of this great Nation of God, you will be successful at all cost.

The whole world eyes are on you to-day and praying for you.

Therefore, I urged you to remember the Lords prayer every second too.

I am not writing this epistle because I am dark skin, but I feel you stand for tangible reasons so far. And so far as education is concerned, I am with my brothers who are here in America seeking additional knowledge or observing the real frame work of Western Democracy being practice
