Dear Mr. Meredith,

I wish to take this opportunity to tell you how much I admire you in your efforts to enter the University of Mississippi. I know you will be successful if you persevere long enough.

Men, such as Gov. Barnett and Gov. Faulkner of my home state of Arkansas, make me ashamed of my own race. I feel that their actions stem not from deep personal convictions of law and right, but rather from political expediency. You, on the other hand, are not only an honor to your race, but also to the oldest and next important race, the human race.

Good luck in your fight and may God go with you.

yours very truly,

Mrs. J. P. Malone
