THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

November 15, 1973

Dear Senator Eastland:

Thank you for communicating to us your interest and concern about the distillate fuel situation.

As you probably know, the regulations for a mandatory allocation of middle distillate fuels became effective November 1, 1973.

Although supplies may not meet one hundred percent of demand, it is hoped that this program will contribute to a more equitable distribution of available supplies.

Administration of this program is the sole responsibility of the Office of Oil and Gas. The Energy Policy Office will be playing no administrative role. In order that the Office of Oil and Gas may respond to questions, requests, and problems with a minimum of delay, please direct communications to:

Distillate Division
Office of Oil and Gas
Department of the Interior
Post Office Box 19247
Washington, D.C. 20036

Sincerely,

John A. Love
Assistant to the President

Honorable James O. Eastland
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510
