

Library Week 2018: Travel Posters

To celebrate National Library Week 2018, Alex Watson (UM Libraries) created library "travel posters," using both public domain and open source elements.

Downloads of the individual images are available in the zip file: watson_libwk_2018.zip

Make Every Week LIBRARY WEEK

I will never forget the first time I walked into the public library in the small Mississippi town where I was raised. I stood awestruck looking at the shelves and shelves of books. I even remember the smell of the place. Nothing smells like a library. Starting that day, I began reading and it still remains one of the joys of my life.
