Dear Mrs. Aldrich

I was greatly shocked to-day by hearing through a friend in Albion, of Richard's death. I can hardly realize it. It always seemed as though he was to live a long life. Rest assured that as far as it is worth anything, you all have my deepest sympathy in your affliction.

Is there anything I can do for you here, that will be of any assistance? I feel that if I was at Davis Mills I could make myself very useful, from my intimate knowledge of his business, those with whom he dealt, & of the books, of wh. I had charge so long. If you think it worth while, I might be able to get away from here for a short time to assist you.

Please write if I can in any way be useful. With regards to all,

I remain

Yours truly
Wm G. Reed.
