where 40% <sup>(2)</sup> of the student body is colored. They allowed colored students here before they allowed girls. It has only been co-ed since 1952.

The reason for my writing you is twofold.
I love my country and I love all its people, but, I feel, you are doing a grave wrong.

James,
How can you "conscience wise" be used as a tool?
If you wish to attend a southern college, why not one that will accept you, or do you have a
"martyr complex"?
In 1956-1957 I attended a southern college

Today, with the world in such a turmoil why try to separate a united? nation.
That is exactly what you are doing.

Are you a southerner?
If you are, then I can't understand, because I saw much more prejudice against your race than I've ever seen in my entire life (31 yrs) down south while I lived in Pennsylvania.

Sincerely yours,
L. H. Master
