Kind Sir:

I wrote you yesterday via Ashwood stating the cause of my failure to write by last up trip of S. Norwell &c which I hope you have excused. I mentioned there in the price or charge for wood used at the fire which is (50¢) fifty cents per cord.

As the business of our is drawing to a close, I will wait longer and learn all I can, though as I before said it will be impossible for me to find out all as they like many others have this share of secrecy in business matters.

No cases of cholera reported since yesterday morning.

Yours old servt
R. J. P.

Since writing the above one death is reported - the case was under treatment yesterday and is informed
