The program of work was planned for groups in Apache County in the fall of 1936. A group meeting was held at Alpine, which was attended by the following women: Mrs. Leona Heap, St. Johns; Mrs. Walter Kowalski, Springerville; Mrs. Eager and Mrs. Paris Ashcroft, Eager; Mrs. Helen Blæ, Mrs. Iva Judd, Mrs. Florence Clark, Alpine. Nutrioso sent no representative to this meeting. After consulting other members of their groups, the following demonstrations were selected for the respective communities:

- St. Johns: Refinishing Furniture, Painting, Enameling, Finishing New Wood, Making Furniture from Boxes, Boards, etc.
- Eager: Magazine Racks, Shoe Polishing Box, Wood Box, Shoe Rack, Flower Box, Screen Panels, Picture Frames and Framing, Making and Hanging Curtains, Rugs, Bedspreads.
- Alpine: Use of Attachments, Pattern Fitting, Finishes, Economics of Clothing, Making and Hanging of Curtains and Draperies, Rug Making, Refinishing Furniture, Simple Cotton or Linen Dresses.
- Springerville: Making Simple Cotton Dresses,, Clothing Economics.

At the meetings which Miss Huber had held earlier in the year the women had chosen the demonstrations on various phases of Home Management. Those on Household Pest Control and Pure Food and Drug Act were not covered during the year. Springerville expressed interest in Home Beautification projects and Alpine had asked for some special poultry work--the latter problem was referred to the County Agent.

Referring to the 1936 Annual Report, the following table gives a block pattern of the 1937 program:

DELIVERING PROGRAM OF WORK

Leadership: Leaders for the various projects were: Mrs. Walter Kowalski, Springerville; Mrs. Helen Blake, Alpine; Mrs. Anona Heap, Mrs. Leona Heap, St. Johns; Mrs. Florence Hall, Bagar; Mrs. Sarah Howe, Springerville, 4-H; these women have been assisted by others in the various projects. 1936 report gives a list of the Homemakers groups that have not functioned this year; but all of those leaders have been active. Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Love and Mrs. Cicardi of Nutrioso were requested to enroll the women in their locality. However, there were too few to establish a unit of work. Mr. Rogers, County Agent, felt that he was in his community and could be of assistance in getting the women organized so had made plans. However, these dates were cancelled so nothing has been done in Nutrioso.

The Homemakers club of Springerville and Alpine have been held intact during the year. Membership cards were signed by women who wished to become a part of the program. On these was a place where a particular interest in any phase of Home Economics work would be registered. Whenever bulletins have come giving information under any of these particular headings, we have mailed them to these people.

Home Agent's Part The Home Agent worked through the leaders in giving publicity and gave as much assistance as possible in arranging publicity and other details of the meetings which would promote better programs because the headquarters are in Holbrook, which is located from 65 to 130 miles from these various communities in Apache County, not as much contact was possible as sometimes might have been effective.

Home Beautification: The following program had been planned with Mr. Tate for the year:

January: Planning home grounds

March: Planting home grounds

April: Colored movie and continued planting demonstration work

Charlotte E. Biester
Apache County, Arizona
1937

June: Demonstration on sprays and insecto control.

August or: Flower Show or Tour depending on season.

September:

Mr. Tate has given two series of program in which the discussion of planning planting and the movie were given to the women in Springerville. The latter program was, also, presented to the Alpine group. A total of 154 people attended these meetings. 490 different types of perennials or packages of seeds were exchanged at these meetings and, as far as the leaders were able to check, 186 in addition to these were exchanged privately.

Home Management: Thus far St. Johns is the only community that has had any of the demonstrations which Miss Huber gave during the year. This work consisted of Control of Household Pests, a demonstration at which 8 fly traps were made by women who will pass the work on to others at meetings which are to follow. We have endeavored to have specialists contact each high school home economics class at least once during the year, and Mrs Chiano chose the demonstration on Beauty Products in Relation to the Pure Food and Drug Act as the demonstration for her classes. 24 portions of hand lotion were given to the girls, made during the demonstration.

Clothing: Purchasing hosiery, textiles--a study of current cottons was given at Springerville. A demonstration on making the collar line and neck line coincide on dresses and the coming shapes of collars for various types was discussed at Alpine. The Springerville meeting was in conjunction with the 4-H demonstration program. The Homemakers were guests of the 4-H Club. It is somewhat difficult to have tangent results from these demonstrations, but it is felt that the satisfactions constantly expressed when one is contacting the groups proves the worthwhileness of this work. During the winter when the weather was very stormy and cold a county-wide circular letter was sent to the women. Practically all of them do their own sewing so they welcomed these suggestions at a time when they could not leave home. A copy of this appears in the Supplement.

Food Preservation: This has not been a special project. However, when the sealer which had been loaned to various women was checked in, we found that 956 number 2 or 2½ cans had been filled as a result of the use which was made of this sealer.

4-H Club Work: The Springerville public school had a 4-H Club this season, which was conducted by Mrs. Sarah Howe. Mrs. Howe has not done a great deal of sewing so she secured the cooperation of Mrs. Junius Kinsey, a former Smith-Hughes teacher, who gave help on various phases of the work. The Home Agent was present to help plan the program of work, draft apron pattern, cut one piece dress, and assist with the planning of Achievement Day Style Show and Playlet. As was previously stated, Mrs. Watson gave a talk on cotton textiles. The only girls who did not finish projects were those who had moved away during the school year.

Poultry: The Alpine Homemakers requested a special demonstration on poultry, so arrangements were made with Mr. Rogers, County Agent, for the special work Mr. Rowe could give them on his schedule to Apache County. Although I have not seen the women since the meeting, Mr. Rowe reported a very enthusiastic interest on the part of the Homemakers and they seemed very pleased with the demonstration.

Home Furnishings: The initial steps in this project were made last year when Mrs. Watson and the Home Agent contacted 84 women in the St. Johns community. At that time only 48 had completed the work. Since that time follow-up has been made with 17 additional women, enabling them to complete suggestions which were made by Mrs. Watson. This work was done on 18 pieces. Eagar repeatedly had requested work on box furniture. Whether it was because of an unfortunate choice of date or that boxes were not available or some other reason, the furniture meeting was not particularly successful. Only 6 pieces were finished. Mrs. Florence Hall, Relief Society president, promised that they would take this up in their organization at a later date.

Christmas Suggestions: Local leadership of Mrs. Zina Cicardi, Nutrioso; and Mrs. Bessie Stradling of St. Johns, handled the Christmas suggestion demonstration in those localities and the Home Agent gave the work in Springerville, Alpine, and Eagar. Patterns of toys and aprons were given to the women, who also brought suggestions. Mimeographed sheets giving cooky and candy recipes were distributed. The 4-H Club at Springerville copied toy patterns so that they could make them for their younger brothers and sisters and take them home. Chairmen of two bazaars in the county, also, used these patterns. 362 articles were made.

The following demonstration program has not been completed. Eagar, Alpine and Springerville; Household Pest Control, Pure Food and Drug Act. Alpine, Rug Making, Making and Hanging of Curtains and Draperies, Use of Attachments; Eagar, Picture Frames and Framing, Making and Hanging Curtains, Rugs, Bed Spreads. These are topics that were chosen by the women in their county planning meeting.

The 1937 4-H Club program has not been started. Naturally, organization will be dependent upon obtaining satisfactory leadership. However, in accordance with the program which Mr. Baker and I have drawn up, let us hope that each community can have a special community project--a county-wide picnic at which time a demonstration team contest or judging contest would be held--and the Achievement Day be planned in conjunction with the County Agent

Cut a bias strip of fabric

8" wide and as long enough to fit the head. Seam both ends at back. Make a $\frac{1}{4}$ " hem around both raw edges. Fold 2 1/2" in on the head-size hem and stitch a $\frac{1}{2}$ " wide tuck which will simulate a tuff. Press.

Place a pin at the back seam on the top edge and place 7 more pins to mark the eight equidistant points on this edge. Fold on 4 straight lines across the width of the cloth. Sew together every other point and trim with wool pompoms or fur. If velvet is used flowers are attractive.

The Beretta toque is smart for the tot, as well as the big sister and young woman.

A NEW COLLAR MAKES A NEW DRESS.

The loop-trim may be made of double-faced velvet, or contrasting cotton.

Stitched tabs of an interesting color combination will make any dress have the "up-to-the-minute" appearance. These tabs are made from double cloth. Stitched rows give a tailored appearance.

Dear Home Maker:

Home lovers of Snowflake and Joseph City are having the opportunity of some special assistance in their Yard Improvement programs. Mr. Harvey Tate, State Horticulturalist, is presenting a series of demonstrations this season. Mr. McLernon, our County Agent who was associated with a professional landscape company in San Diego, is also interested in helping us.

This is the program!

April --Planting
June --Cultivation and Pest Control
Fall --Flower Show or Tour

Should you be interested in some phase of this work your enrollment will make it possible for us to formulate more definite plans. It will be especially helpful in making a detailed program of time which Mr. Tate will devote to your community.

Dear Homemaker:

I think of you garden lovers, as folks who love beauty, are creating beauty in the things about you and who, through the exchange, will be interested in helping others progress with their planting schemes.

The exchange can be anything--rhubarb, shrubs, Chinese elms, prunings, roses, bulbs, perennials--anything surplus which will assist others with planting plans.

You may be one of us who is just starting her planting. Of course, it is not expected that you necessarily have anything to exchange. (Your turn may come later for in a few years you'll have a surplus to share with your neighbors.) But turn your card in to the chairman.

It was splendid to have Mr. Tate's assistance and I am glad that so many are interested.

Very cordially yours,

Charlotte E. Biester

HOME MAKERS

Organization: On taking over Home Demonstration Agent duties June 16, 1936, an effort was started to carry to completion the program planned in the fall of 1936 by Miss Biester in five communities, St. Johns having expressed a desire to discontinue activities during the summer months.

The women of Nutrioso asked for an organization, Mrs. Olga Myers being chosen president, Mrs. Simpson, vice-president, and Mrs. Vera Sharp, secretary, on July 11. Reorganization was effected with the Alpine group on July 15 with Mrs. Annie J. Hamblin being elected president, Mrs. Iva Stoneburner, vice-president, and Mrs. Eliza Jepson, secretary.

Ninety-six women were enrolled in the four clubs and 77 have completed the work. A total of 17 demonstrations have been presented by the Home Agent and Specialists with a total attendance of 316. Various phases of home activities have been taken up with these Home Maker Clubs in Springerville, Eagar, Nutrioso, and Alpine.

Home Furnishings: Home Furnishings projects unfinished in St. Johns have been followed with individuals. Mrs. Carl Mineer and Mrs. Ward Heap have especially creditable projects completed.

Home Management: At the invitation of the president of the St. Johns' State Relief Society (a Latter Day Saint Woman's organization) a discussion of home accounts and budgets was given to a group of 16 leaders from seven different communities in the county on July 11. It was decided to get Miss Thelma Huber's help and take up account keeping with the interested women of the communities in connection with the regular Home Maker meetings, as indicated in the outline plan for next year beginning the first of the year.

In cooperation with Miss Huber, home management specialist, demonstrations on selection and buymanship of canned foods were given at Springerville and Alpine, 30 women attending. No project has brought forth more interested comment and serious consideration than has this demonstration. There is, as a result, a definite demand for more study along the line of consumer problems as affecting the various phases of home purchasing and consumption to be given next year.

Home Management:

A meeting scheduled for Nutrioso was cancelled due to an Old Folks Annual Party being held in the school house. Women of the community were serving and entertaining.

The major activity with the Home Maker groups in October was Miss Huber's attractive kitchen demonstration given in each of the following groups: Alpine, St. Johns, Nutrioso, Round Valley High School (Eagar and Springerville groups combined with the high school home economics girls). One hundred and three attended and 25 women have already reported use of ideas gotten from the demonstration. These include selection, care, and treatment of linoleums, kitchen curtains, color schemes, kitchen arrangements, etc.

Clothing:

One clothing renovation and spot removal demonstration was given to 21 interested women at Eagar in July. Collar demonstrations with patterns and instructions as to neck lines, suitability to types, etc., were given in each of the four communities with a total attendance of 53 ladies and 180 patterns were copied. Mrs. Margaret E. Watson, clothing specialist, conducted the demonstration at Nutrioso. These women have so little opportunity for selection of commercial patterns, hence the value of such a demonstration.

Christmas Suggestions:

Requests for early presentation of Christmas suggestions came from all groups. The people have little access to shops, patterns, designs or decorative ideas. Apron, pajama, and undergarment patterns as well as stuffed toy animal patterns, designs suitable to adornment of household articles, simple devices as match holders, hot pot holders, simple wood devices, and crochet and knitting suggestions for those desiring them were taken out. The women worked diligently to get all possible help in the time allotted them and were usually loath to leave. A total of 315 designs and patterns were taken off by the 131 women attending. Both at Nutrioso and Alpine the ladies decided to come early and have a pot-luck dinner at noon and a pleasant community "get-to-gether" for the day.

Food Preservation: Food preservation groups were organized in August. The Kerr Canning Contest served to motivate more and better canned products with twelve women in Alpine and five in Eagar. Several others signed up but withdrew later because of the high price and scarcity of fruit. There was no local fruit as a result of last year's cold weather. Mrs. Bernice K. Gilbertson, Farm Security Administration Home Management Supervisor, judged the exhibits, and places were awarded as follows:

- 1st, Mrs. Thora Hamblin, Alpine
- 2nd, Mrs. Sarah Hamblin, Alpine
- 3rd, Mrs. Rinda Udall, Eagar
- 4th, Mrs. Luella Davis, Eagar

November is too early for achievement date as the weather is too warm for slaughtering since there is no means of artificial refrigeration. Hence the meat canning is incomplete. The products were attractively canned and good interest was shown. Many kinds of vegetables and vegetable combinations as well as meats and fruits were successfully canned by these women. Totals canned follow:

2,740 quart jars of fruit
964 quart jars of vegetables
244 quart jars of meat.

Whether or not this activity is carried on next year will depend largely on the availability of products to can.

Mrs. Isabell Pace

Unplanned Work: The Home Agent has assisted individuals in several instances with interior finishes, color schemes, drapes, arrangement of rooms, built in fixtures, and equipment. Mrs. Olga Myers and Mrs. Hilda Wilkins of Nutrioso have been especially appreciative and have followed suggestions. Mrs. Wilkins' is a remodeling project on an old house and the result is gratifying indeed.

Miss Huber accompanied the Home Agent in October to the new home of the Lawrence Sherwoods' at St. Johns. Suggestions were given as to colors for woodwork generally, cupboards, linoleum, for both kitchen and service porch. This is a commodious house, well built and attractive.

Assistance was, also, given Mrs. Roscoe Hamblin of Eagar. Her progress is slow because of limited finance, but eventually will be achieved. Mrs. Carl Mineer of St. Johns has achieved a real success in her living room on little expense--inspired, I should say, by Mrs. Watson's home furnishing program. She has not completed her three piece living room suite as yet. The couch is delightful and she has all her materials for the chairs. She, also, is following suggestions for yard improvement, much to the improvement of her corner and "suggestive to the neighbors", as one lady put it.

Achievement Days Held For 4-H Girls

Oct. 1, 1937
H. R. Baker, 4-H Club specialist of the extension service of the University of Arizona, and Mrs. Margaret Watson conducted achievement days for the girl members of the organization in Navajo and Apache counties this week.

Articles made by the different members were exhibited in the various communities and judged.

4-H Clubs To Hold Achievement Day During Next Week

Sept 24, 1937
TUCSON, Sept. 22—4-H Club boys and girls will celebrate achievement day in their respective communities in Apache and Navajo counties next week, according to Mrs. Isabel Pace, home demonstration agent.

Achievement day represents the completion of 4-H club projects by various groups of boys and girls. At Nutrioso 4-H club members will hold their achievement day Sept. 27th; at St. Johns on September 28th; at Snowflake on Sept. 29th; Heber and a joint Pinedale and Clay Springs meeting in Pinedale on Sept. 30th will conclude the achievement day programs.

Mrs. Margaret Watson, University of Arizona clothing and home furnishing specialist, will judge a part of the club work. H. R. Baker, state 4-H club leader, will also be present at all five programs.

Daughter-In-Law Wins Contest From Mother - In - Law

Nov 14, 1937
The ancient, but lovable competition between mother and daughter-in-law was enacted last week in Mrs. Isabel Pace's canning contests in Apache county and the daughter-in-law came off wearing a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Thora Hamblin of Alpine won first place and Mrs. Sarah Hamblin took a close second in the home contests sponsored by a nationally advertised glass concern. The champion is the wife of the second place winner's son.

Third went to Mrs. Rinda Udall, Eagar, and fourth to Mrs. Louella Davis, Alpine. Mrs. Bernice K. Gilbertson, home management supervisor, judged the contest.

Home Demonstration Agent Working With Contest And Exhibit

Nov 12, 1937
Mrs. Isabel Pace, home demonstration agent, spent this week in Apache county giving Christmas suggestion demonstrations in several homes.

The demonstrations deal with decorations and suggestions for making homes more merry during the yuletide celebration days. All women are invited to attend these exhibits.

A canning contest is being conducted this week among the younger people of Apache county and will be brought to Navajo county next week.

The contest is sponsored by a national concern and awards are made from the company's factories. Anyone interested should see Mrs. Pace in the county agricultural office.
