On Sunday, Jan. 12, at 4 p.m., music for woodwind quintet will be presented in “Aires Tropicales” as part of the Sunday Music Series at the Howard Performing Arts Center on the campus of Andrews University.

The woodwind quintet will feature Andrews University assistant professor of music Byron Graves (clarinet), Andrews University graduates Pedro Falcón (oboe) and Alexandra Castro (bassoon) and current Andrews University students Betania Cañas (flute) and Erin Penrod (horn). They will be performing a variety of delightful music including “Aires Tropicales” by Paquito D’Rivera, “Three Shanties” by Malcom Arnold, “Umoja” by Valerie Coleman and “Quintet in C” by Claude Arrieu.

Admission is free, and no tickets are required for this event. For more information, call the Howard Box Office at 269-471-3560. For a full season schedule of events please visit howard.andrews.edu.
