The Star Spangled Banner

Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming.
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Tom Brokaw

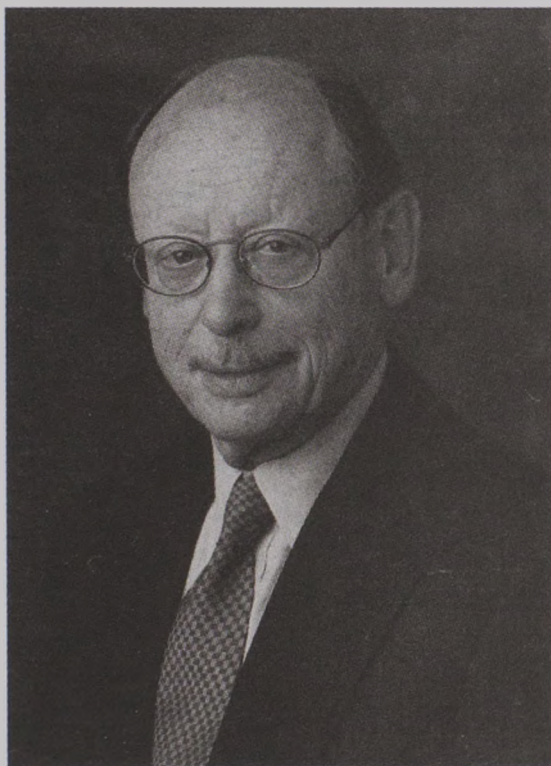

Doctor of Humane Letters

Tom Brokaw, one of the most trusted and respected figures in broadcast journalism, anchored the NBC Nightly News for more than two decades. In addition, he has a distinguished record as a political reporter and author. He has interviewed every president since Lyndon Baines Johnson and has covered every presidential election since 1968. He has reported more than 30 documentaries on subjects ranging from race, to the war on terror, to literacy. In 1998, Mr. Brokaw became a best-selling author with publication of "The Greatest Generation." He has received numerous honors, including the Edward R. Murrow

Lifetime Achievement Award and the Emmy Award for Lifetime Achievement; and he was inducted as a fellow into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Mr. Brokaw, who grew up in South Dakota and has long had a home in Montana, continues to serve as a special correspondent for NBC News.

You have the distinction of graduating in a year history will long remember. 2011 is the year of seismic events, literally and metaphorically. The massive earthquake and tsunami that devastated Japan and triggered a nuclear meltdown is another stark reminder that whatever the promise of a nation or the strength of its economy and culture, nature rules. We must always be prepared for the natural cataclysmic event that can strike without warning. We must dedicate ourselves every day to the proposition that we have only one Earth and it requires the best kind of care and stewardship. This is also the year of what is being called The Arab Spring, when young and old alike throughout the Middle East arose as one and braved the onslaught of ruthless dictators to demand representative government, political and economic honesty. 2011 is reminiscent of 1989 when the Soviet Union was forced to free its captive nations, when Nelson Mandela walked out of a South African prison and into that country's presidency. In Japan, Egypt, Libya, Syria, Yemen and Iraq the title "citizen" took on renewed meaning. We can do no less in this country. The obligations of citizenship are not confined to election years or events that address our special interests. To be a citizen means to be a patriot and to be a patriot means to love your country every day and always believe it can be improved.

⌘ HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS ⌘

Bernard Osher

Doctor of Humane Letters

Bernard Osher, a patron of education and the arts, is well known as “the quiet philanthropist.” He created the Bernard Osher Foundation in 1977 which seeks to improve quality of life through support for higher education and the arts. A native of Biddeford, Maine and a graduate of Bowdoin College, Osher pursued a successful career in business in a variety of family and corporate businesses. Mr. Osher is a collector of American paintings of the mid-19th to mid-20th centuries and he was the owner of the fine art auction house of Butterfield & Butterfield. He and his wife Barbro, Consul General for Sweden in San Francisco, conduct their philanthropy through the Bernard Osher Foundation, the Bernard Osher Jewish Philanthropies Fund, and the Barbro Osher Pro Suecia Foundation, which supports Swedish culture and educational projects in North America and Sweden.

My congratulations to you, today's graduates, on the dedication and hard work that have brought you here. You should take pride in your achievement, as should those who have encouraged and guided you - family and friends, fellow students, colleagues at work, and your teachers in primary and secondary schools as well as at the University of Montana. Today, you celebrate the attainment of academic degrees that mark the conclusion of specific programs of study. Tomorrow and in the years to come, your learning will continue, not only as required by your work in an ever-changing global economy, but for pure pleasure, even when your working days are done. On my own 80th birthday, with the encouragement of a forgiving teacher, I began to study the piano and find it a source of enormous satisfaction. Here at the University of Montana you have an excellent lifelong learning institute, known as MOLLI, that provides unlimited opportunity for seasoned adults to learn new things, to participate in a robust intellectual community, and to develop a better understanding of themselves and of the world in which we live. Be sure to keep MOLLI in mind when the time comes.

← CLASS BANNERS →

The class banners which are displayed above the stage are part of the University's history. From 1898 until 1970 a class banner or flag was designed and constructed every year by members of the graduating class. After 1970 the tradition was discontinued. A group of seniors restored that tradition in 1993. The class of 2011 banner is displayed along with the banners of the reunion alumni classes of 1941, 1951 and 1961. This year's class banner was designed by Deborah Woody, Master of Arts in German, Class of 2011.

← HONOR CORDS →

Some of the students graduating today are wearing honor cords. Those wearing silver cords will graduate with honors. Those wearing gold cords graduate with high honors. The students wearing red cords are members of the Mortar Board, a national senior honorary society. Those wearing purple cords are members of Rho Chi, the Pharmacy Honor Society. Those wearing blue, gold and brown cords are members of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the Geography Honor Society. Those wearing green cords are members of the Order of Omega, a leadership honorary society for members of Greek organizations. Those wearing maroon cords are graduating as University Scholars in the Davidson Honors College. Those wearing gold and blue cords are members of Golden Key, a national honor society. Those wearing violet, gold and lavender cords are members of Pi Mu Epsilon, the Mathematics Honor Society.
