Students Compete in First-Ever Ursinus Drag Competition

Co-Editor in Chief

A large crowd turned out to support their fellow classmates who participated in an entertaining and unusual first-time Ursinus event Monday night.

The first annual Drag King/ Drag Queen show and competition, sponsored by the Gay and Lesbian Alliance and Zwingli and Hobson halls, awarded prizes to students who came out to demonstrate their creative and artistic spirit by dressing in drag and performing before a live audience. Sophomore Cliff Greer, who helped organize the event, estimated attendance at about 150 people.

Seven acts -- four female and three male, participated. Seniors Jen Zwilling and Leslie Strausbaugh took first place in the Drag King competition; freshman Mike Pomante and sophomore Stephanie Puryear took first among the Drag Queen acts.

Spring Fling Success

Brian Hess

Staff Writer

Students flooded Paisley Beach last Saturday, temporarily forgetting the mounds of work and stressful finals looming ahead and had a good time with friends. Spring Fling proved to be an excellent opportunity to relax, forget about responsibility, and have fun. Even the weather cooperatedit was sunny and warm throughout the day.

This year's event included many rides and games, contests, fortunetellers, and refreshments. Some of the highlights of the day included a dunk tank, inflatable slide, flight simulator, and contest to win a brand new 1999 Ford Mustang.

Spring Fling is sponsored annually by CAB, and primarily student-run. The approximated cost of the event is $19,000, and the activities are determined by student votes. Each year CAB takes requests for Spring Fling activities at one of their meetings, which are open to the entire campus community. A list of possibilities is then created and students vote for the activities that they want.

With the end of the school year fast approaching and workloads rapidly increasing, many students said Spring Fling was a good chance to have fun as a community and enjoy each other's company.

Many sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) are hidden diseases. The disease can lay dormant without symptoms appearing for weeks to even years later. People need to understand that STDs are very common and there are several different types of STDs. People should be aware of their sexual partners' history, while using condoms in their current sexual activities. The remainder of this article is to brief students on some common STDs and symptoms to look for Trichomoniasis is a parasite that attacks the genital area. It is curable, but both of the partners need to take the medication at the same time to fight the infection and wait until the infection is completely gone.

The human papilloma virus (HPV) has 80 different strains of the virus. They can cause itchy warts that are treatable with medication and/or surgery. The problem here is that they can cause a "sub-clinical" infection that can cause cervical cancer, and condoms don't offer complete protection. Women who are sexually active should have a Pap smear done yearly to detect any abnormal cell growth due to HPV.

HIV/AIDS is the fourth leading cause of death among women ages 25-44. Many women develop HIV through heterosexual intimacy despite the myth that AIDS is primarily associated with homosexual/bisexual lifestyles. A common symptom to look for is recurrent yeast infections.

The sexually transmitted herpes infection is usually caused by HSV-2, a relative strain of the common cold sore. Symptoms can be headaches, fever, and painful blisters. Oral herpes (HSV-1) can be transmitted through mucosal tissues, therefore oral sex can cause infections. There is no cure for genital herpes, but three medications help reduce the lesion time and shedding of the virus. They are acyclovir, famciclovir, and valacyclovir.

Two common bacterial STDs are bacterial vaginosis (BV) and chlamydia. BV can cause itching, and an odorous discharge. Women with chlamydia may experience vaginal bleeding or an abnormal discharge; however, even if a woman does not show these symptoms that is not to say that she may not have a bacterial infection. Bacterial STDs can be cured with an antibiotic, but if left untreated they can cause pelvic inflammatory disease (PID). PID spreads from the cervix to the fallopian tubes causing scarring which may result in infertility, pelvic pain, and possibility of an ectopic (tubal) pregnancy. BV can be found through the pH levels of the vaginal secretions, and chlamydia can now be tested with a urine sample.

Even though new vaccines come onto the market every year, no woman should take the chance to have unprotected sex. Find out the history of your partner and if needed, get tested.

Let's Throw Some Shoes!

Walt Dull

Staff Writer

Spring is finally here and that means students will be outside as much as possible. I, like most other Ursinus students, am used to playing traditional outdoor games such as basketball or baseball. However I will never forget the first time I heard the wonderful 'ping' sound that results from horseshoes being thrown nearby. If you don't know the sound I'm talking about then you have probably been hanging out in Wismer lower lounge for way too long. Horseshoes are synonymous with Ursinus College, I think there are more horseshoe pits at Ursinus than in the whole city of Philadelphia. Students all over campus will be spending valuable finals study time launching horseshoes around so I figured that someone needed to explain the game.

The first thing you need to do is to head over to the closest horseshoe pit available. For those of you who don't know, there are pits; behind Reimert, in between Maples and Commonwealth, behind 702, next to 942, and there are also a couple behind 944. I you want to make you own pit or bust on your friends crappy pit then the rules for pits are as follows. Stakes are placed 40 feet apart and should extend about 12 inches above the pit surface. By the way, stakes are solid or hollow steel bars between 3/4 and 1 inch in diameter. Pits are constructed 3 feet wide and 4 feet deep with the stake at the center. Here at Ursinus pits are are most commonly filled with sand, which must be kept dry to maintain its texture. Sand, sawdust, and loose soil are all commonly used as a pit filler. The purpose of the filler is to keep the shoes from bouncing excessively or rolling away.

Now that you are ready to go and play there are only a few simple rules to follow. Players take turns throwing their shoes at the opposing pit. Whoever scored in the last round gets to throw first. Casual games are played to 21 but quick games can end at 15 if you want. You must win by two points, so games can go past the established limit. Jeff Martin had to say, "I have only been playing for a couple of years but once I learnd all the ins and outs I can't be beat"

Ha! You thought that was all you needed to know but in fact the most difficult part of horseshoes is scoring the game. This takes time to learn so if you don't know how to count up points then one of the people you are playing with will. Any shoe must be within one horseshoe-width (measured across the outside of the open end of the shoe) of the stake to be considered for points. The closest shoe to the stake gets 1 point. but if you have two shoes closer than any of your opponent's, you get 2 points. Ringers are worth 3 points each and must completely encircle the stake so the ends can be touched with a straightedge without touching the stake. If you have the closest shoe and a ringer, it's 4 points. If your opponent throws a ringer on top of yours, then they cancel out your ringer and so on. Shoes that are leaning up against the stake are worth 2 points and are considered closer than any adjacent shoe except ringers.

"I was never a fan of horseshoes until I got to college. Now whenever it is nice outside instead of basketball we throw shoes. I even remember one night we played until the sun came up and people were going to their 8 o'clock class thinking we were nuts," said Joe Nangle a seasoned horseshoe player. You will fall in love with the game too, as long as you can throw underhand. Watch out for 'naked run' shut out rules and other pit falls involved with playing by other peoples rules. So grab a horse, rip his shoes off, just kidding. Get out there and enjoy the spring with Ursinus' favorite underground

Lou's Movie Reviews Hands Down: Pass on Idle Hands

Lou Nemphos

A&E Editor

Idle Hands: Finally, a teenage high school movie without the prom or some lousy football game. Where a dork doesn't become the damsel (the technical definition of dork is penis. You learn something new everyday at Ursinus, don't you?), or the popular girls of Reagan get their comeuppance via a recorded greeting card (it's a tough film reference I know, and I apologize, but be thankful you don't know it. It's from Jawbreaker). It's refreshing to see the main characters just cut class, hang out, and smoke weed, what most high school kids do. Unfortunately for Idle Hands, that is not enough. I think the entire cast and crew smoked pounds of dank and forgot about important things like script and originality.

Anton (Devon Sawa) is a grade A slacker who does nothing all da9y. He's a direct descendent of Cheech and Chong, going as far as to have a bowl fashioned as an asthma inhaler. At the beginning of the film, he can't seem to find his parents. That's because he killed them. He was just too high to know it. Then he realizes his hand has a mind of its own and it has gone on a killing spree throughout his town. He tries to stop it, but like I said just a sentence ago (come on man, pay attention) it has a mind of its own. Throw in two stoner friends who won't die (this idea stolen directly from American Werewolf in Paris) Seth Green (he's real good) and Elden Henson, a vigilant druiditic priestess, the Van Helsing of the film, Vivica A. Fox (and you wondered why her TV series with Arsenio was canceled), and the hand running around. There's your movie.

This plot has been done before, and done better (The Beast with Five Fingers, The Hand, and most notably Evil Dead II). Director Rodman Flender dares to do the impossible genre of film, the Horror-Comedy. It doesn't build up enough suspense to get scare you and the laughs come only from Seth Green or when the guy from The Offspring gets his scalp ripped open (by far the highlight of the film).

Overall, Idle Hands is an extremely watchable slacker film, refreshing in the year of the feel good teen dramas, but it doesn't do anything new or inventive, just rehashes the same old same old. It's like one hand clapping (Funny stuff, eh?)

Church on Film Don't be *Entrap*ed

Jeff Church

A & E Editor

More of the same. More of the same, monotonous, trite dialogue interspersed with ridiculous action scenes structured in the backstabbing world of thievery.

Ho-hum. I was hoping director Jon Amiel of Copycat and Queen of Hearts would do something original with character or with dialogue.

This is what Amiel mixed together: The sexy-thirty-years-ago Sean Connery plays the uncanny thief Mack (reminds me of Mack the Knife from Brecht's Threepenny Opera...hmmm...a good allusion—too bad the rest of the film falls flat before this powerful Brecht piece). The sexy-now Catherine Zeta-Jones plays the thief-who-can-seduce-any-man Gin. Amiel tosses in Ving Rhames as Thibadeaux, Mack's associate, Will Patton as Cruz, Gin's boss, and Maury Chaykin as Cornad Greene, the always necessary disgustingly fat underworld king.

What is the final product? 1. A formulaic, tired plot—man and woman fall in love, rob stuff together, but eventually their thievery catches up with them, breaking them apart. 2. Sensationalism—big name stars Connery and Jones, who made her mark with Banderas in The Mask of Zorro, prove to me that the purpose of this movie, like the goals of the thieves in the film, is to make money. 3. Lots of twists that we don't care about. The screenplay is terrible. The only reason I cared about anything was because Connery is an exceptional actor and there were some cool gadgets that the thieves used.

It was interesting to see Mack, the over-the-hill thief, try to relive his golden years but not being as good as he once was. After a while, the film seemed to forget about this. Mack disappears with superhuman powers with that o-so-banal train-between-us device—shot 1—we see Connery. Then, a train comes whizzing by in front of Connery, blocking him from our view slightly. There is a hidden cut while the train careens by in which the director takes Connery out. Thus, shot 2—Connery is gone! Amazing! And—at the very end—both Connery and Jones do it—Brayo!

It was neat to see some of the techniques the thieves used to break into high security buildings, and it was even interesting to see the wry Connery reveal to Jones that he took her goods right out from under her nose. But I didn't believe anything. At one point, when the thieves were making their getaway, everything felt so ridiculous that I didn't think they were in the real world.

Ursinus Lacrosse, Baseball Take Centennial Conference by Storm

Lax Takes on NCAA

Benjamin Baehr

Special to the Grizzly

Finishing with a perfect 9-0 Centennial Conference record, the Ursinus women's lacrosse team received an NCAA Tournament bid on Sunday, May 2 for the first time since 1996. Prior to receiving this honor, the team wrapped up its regular season by crushing Muhlenberg on Tuesday, April 27. The final score, in SNL style, was "Da Bears 21; Da Mules, uhh, 4."

Ursinus got off to a good start, scoring two goals in the first minute of play. The Mules were stubborn, though, and scored twice themselves to tie it four minutes later. At that point the Muhlenberg goalie began to be beaten like a rented Mule, as she picked ten Bears' shots out of the back of the net throughout the rest of the half for an Ursinus lead of 12-2 at the break.

Muhlenberg scored quickly to open the second period, but UC answered, and the Muhlenberg goalie got the hook. Muhlenberg to 15 shots, and senior JoAnne Kenney was good when she had to be, making 8 saves. Freshmen Erin Fitzgerald (4 goals, 1 assist), Leigh Voigt (4+1), and Jaime Matty (1+4) led the offense for the

Her replacement got more of the same treatment as the Bears scored four more times before and four times after the Mules' last tally for a final of 21-4.

The Ursinus defense limited

Bears. Additionally, juniors Ashley Claus (3+0), Kristen Calore (2+1), Madeleine Dunphy (1+2), and Taryn Brackin (2+0), freshman Diane Elia (2+0), and senior Erika Johnston (1+1) each had multiple point games. Freshman Jill Yersak scored her first collegiate varsity goal.

Thus securing an NCAA berth, the Bears had to wait until Sunday, May 2, to be told where and whom they would be playing in the first round of the Division III championship. When the greatly anticipated moment arrived, Ursinus found out they would be traveling to St. Mary's College (MD) for a game on Wednesday, May 5. If/when the Bears defeat the Seahawks, they will travel to William Smith (Geneva, NY) on Sunday, May 9.

The women's lacrosse team has had a great year, and I have greatly enjoyed every moment of it. I feel honored to have been a part of this season, and I would like to congratulate all the coaches and players for all their hard work and success. Best of luck at NCAA's! Go Bears!

UC Baseball Dominated the Centennial Conference Behind Great Pitching Performances by Wiatrak and Goldwater

Erny Hoke

The Ursinus College baseball team won the Centennial Conference this week as they shutout Western Maryland 5-0, 3-0 in the sweep on Saturday.

Junior Kyle Goldwater improved to 9-1 this season as he threw a four-hit shut out on the mound for the Bears. Senior Andy Hawkins went 2-4 in the first game, and junior Dave Pierce added a 2-3 performance in the opener which included a two run homer in the seventh. With the win, the Bears clinched the Centennial Conference Championship.

The Bears closed the regular season with another shutout, 2-0, over Western Maryland. Junior lefty Matt Wiatrak hurled a seven hitter, while fanning eight. This was Wiatrak's Ursinus record fifth straight shutout pitched. Sophomore Mike Ottey had two hits in the game for the Bears, as sophomore Mark Toto added his own RBI single.

"Running out onto the pitcher's mound and celebrating when we clinched the championship is probably the best moment in my life so far," sophomore Ian Savitz commented.

Junior Jim Ward replied, "With the way Kyle and Matt have been pitching all year all we needed was a few runs and we just knew we were going to win. With a couple of clutch hits, our pitchers then just shut the door.

After the year we had in 1997, just missing was a big let down, but to bounce back and take the title this year really helps out the program. It's great feeling and I hope it is the first step in getting a NCAA bid."

Ursinus iscurrently r a n k e d fifth in the Mid-At-lantic RegionforDivision III baseball. The Bears will be patiently waiting until Monday for an invitation to the NCAA Division III Tournament.

Goldwater and Wiatrak surpassed the Ursinus pitching record for wins in a season this year. The old record was eight wins, Goldwater and Wiatrak each had nine. Wiatrak did not allow a run in 36 2/3 conference innings pitched this sea-

On Saturday and Sunday, May 1-2, the Ursinus Track and Field team took on the conference at the sixth annual Centennial Conference Track and Field Championships hosted by Franklin and Marshall. Both the men's and women's teams finished respectably with 49 points, both taking seventh place in their divisions.

Sophomore Yori Adegunwa was up for the challenge. On Saturday, Adegunwa set a meet record during the trial heat of the 400 hurdles with a time of 53.10, automatically qualifying for the national competition. On Sunday, he won the final heat for the same event to complete his victory. Adegunwa also placed second in the 400 meter race (49.18) and fourth in the high jump.

In the field events for the men, nationally ranked senior Anthony O'Hara took home the top spot in the javelin competition for the third consecutive year. O'Hara was followed by freshman Ryan Warden who took second place with a personal best throw of 173.10 feet. Rounding out the strong javelin hurlers from Ursinus, junior Tom Flud placed seventh with a throw of 161.1 feet.

For the women, sophomore Molly Walsh and junior Colleen Reasor also dominated the field of competitors in the javelin event. Walsh placed second with a personal best of over 111 feet, while Reasor took third place with a career record of over 108 feet.

In other events, sophomore Andrea Lister placed third in the pole vault and was within the top five finishers in the high jump and the 100 meter hurdles. Freshman Whitney Daniels won points in the 100 meter dash, long jump, and the triple jump. Additionally, junior Eileen Duffy took fourth place in the 400 meter event.

Congratulations to the Ursinus Track and Field team for its valiant performance at Championships, and best of luck next season.

Softball Falls Short of Top Spot

Compiling a record of 2-6 for the week of April 26 to May 2, the Ursinus Softball team was unable to secure the Conference Championship. Conference rivals Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, Dickinson, Western Maryland, and Ursinus crowded and clutched for the top spot until the closing games of the season, but the Bears were not able to reach their goal.

The Bears split the doubleheader against Muhlenberg on Friday, April 30, winning the first game 8-2 and losing the second 12-7. Only a clean sweep of the Mules would have allowed the Bears to continue to vie for the championship, but that fateful loss eliminated the team's chances.

Then on Sunday, May 2, the eventual 1999 Centennial Conference champions from Gettysburg added insult to injury, splitting with the Bears in two close games. Ursinus took the first game 6-4, but Gettysburg came back in the second game 4-2.

With doubleheader losses against Rowan on Monday, April 26 (8-0, 8-0) and against Lebanon Valley on Wednesday, April 28 (4-3, 3-2), the Lady Bears finished up the season with an overall record of 22-21 and a conference record of 10-6.

After a tough ending to the 1999 season, team members are still keeping their heads high and are looking forward to next season with enthusiasm. Junior Jill Fennimore commented, "Although the middle of the season was rough, the team finally came together at the end. I hope that this intensity that we were able to produce will continue into the next season."

Congratulations to the Ursinus Softball team members for their hard work and dedication and best of luck next season

For the second straight year, junior Lisa Newmaster has won the honor of the Centennial Conference Pitcher of the Year. Newmaster continues the tradition of strong pitching at UC, making this the fifth consecutive year that an Ursinus pitcher has taken this title in the Conference.

Taking her position on the First Team All-Conference, Newmaster has tallied 50 strikeouts on the season during 82 1/3 innings of play. Newmaster posted an ERA of 3.32 and leads the conference with four saves. Ending up the season with a record of 8-6, Newmaster proved to be a valuable asset to the Ursinus team.

Also named the First Team as the leading second baseman was Ursinus freshman Jennifer Baci. Baci was a leader for the Bears offensively with six triples, five doubles, and a batting average of .367. A rookie for the UC team this season, Baci also managed 19 RBI and 19 runs.

Senior co-captain Pam Hufner was the recipient of an outfield position on the Second Team. In her final season with the Bears, Hufner tallied four doubles, one home run, and 13 RBI.

Freshman Nicole Erdosy was also honored with Honor Roll for the week of April 25-May 1 for the Bears. In the Gettysburg games on May 2, Erdosy scored two runs, had three RBI, and went 3-for-6 on the day. Erdosy also drove in the winning runs against Gettysburn in game one and against Muhlenberg in game one on April 30.

Best Wishes to Spring Sports Seniors

Lacrosse

Seniors: Jacqueline Colvin, Jamie Eissler, Michelle Fanelle, Erika Johnston, and JoAnne Kenney

"I think the seniors did a great job this year bringing the team together and motivating us to do well. We had a really young team this year, but they were able to bring us close to one another both on the field and off. They will be truly missed next year, not only as teammates, but as friends."

-Cara Riley, junior

"When it comes to the seniors, it is difficult to come up with words to summarize them. They have been such an integral part of the team since my freshman year. They are the group of girls who made me feel like I was a real part of the team. They have always had encouraging words and have always been there to help you up, both on and off the field. I hold each of the seniors very close to my heart. We shared many of the joys and disappointments when it came to lacrosse.

As a defender myself, Jacqueline, Jamie, JoAnne, and Michelle have helped make our defense among the strongest in the league. Next year will be interesting attempting to find the same chemistry we've had the past two seasons. I will miss the luxury of having Jamie or Jacko being able to read my mind on defense without me having to say a word. It was what made everything click. I will be forever grateful for being privileged enough to work with these girls who have had so much "heart" through everything. I will miss them dearly."

-Madeline Dunphy, junior

"Erika's been a big sister to me ever since I first stepped onto the lacrosse field. She's an excellent player and her contribution to the team will be greatly missed. She's a big part of why the team is where we are today, and I will miss her more than anything. I wish her the best of luck in the future."

-Kristen Calore, junior

Track and Field

Seniors: Carrie Haslbeck, Anthony O'Hara, Barry Keppard, and Dan Tavares

"I just want to say that senior Anthony O'Hara is a leader as well as a role model for all of the javelin throwers on the team, as well as for the other track athletes. He is also a great teacher and a very supportive guy, who has helped me greatly with my throwing technique."

-Molly Walsh, Javelin Thrower, sophomore

"Both Barry Keppard and Anthony O'Hara are great team leaders and team captains. They both have a great attitude about the sport and keep it fun at the same time. Both will leave gaps that few could fill and will be greatly missed by all of us."

—Dave Heath, sophomore

"I won my third Conference Championship this year and qualified automatically for Nationals earlier in the year. It's been fun."

-Anthony O'Hara, senior

Men's Tennis

Seniors: Ravi Chokshi, Dan Jones, Joe Ruggiero, and Jay

"I've had my ups and downs with tennis and football during my career at UC, but looking back, I'm glad I did it. It definitely keeps you on task, and has brought me many memories. I'll always remember all the coaches and teammates I've had and will always have that common bond with them because of sports."

-Joe Ruggiero, senior

Softball

Seniors: Kristi Ford and Pam Hufner

"Kristi and Pam were dedicated leaders who held the team together in difficult times. Their leadership was crucial in our success this season. They will be sorely missed."

-Chris Moran, sophomore

"Captains of a sports team have to take on a huge responsibility, not only to the coach and team, but to the individual players as well. Kristi and Pam did a wonderful job with this. They both deeply cared for everyone on the team. They were not only team captains, but were also team leaders in everything they did. They will be missed next year.

We definitely had an interesting season to say the least. While things didn't turn out the best in the end, I think we learned a lot as a team and about one another. We're losing two great players this year, but I believe next year we will be stronger than ever and a definite threat for the CC title!"

-Jody Smith, sophomore

"Through this season, the team had its ups and downs, but Kristi and Pam were always there to lead us and keep our spirits up. We will miss them!"

-Carolyn Schweizer, junior

"I think we really came together as a team. Kristi and Pam really kept us together when we were behind."

-Kara Johnson, junior

"The cohesion of the team was maintained by our team captains, Kristi and Pam. We could not have survived the season without them"

—Jill Fennimore, junior

"Pam and Ford always knew what to say to us between innings whether we were up or down. They could always bring us together."

-Allison Vasta, freshman

"As a junior, I have not only had an enjoyable time with Pam and Kristi, but I also feel like we have become friends. This year as seniors they have really stepped up and led us through a turbulent year."

—Lisa Newmaster, junior

"My four years have been very successful. We won two conference championships and won ECACs in '97. We made another run for the conference championship this year but just came up a little short. I had a lot of fun over the four years and made a lot of memories.

Even though our record doesn't necessarily reflect it, this was a very successful season for us. We had a lot of people do really good things. A lot of underclassmen set and tied team records, which is encouraging for the years to come. We played some of our best games here at the end, and we really came together as a team. We are a very close knit team both on and off the field.

I am going to miss this team next year. They are a great bunch of girls with a lot of talent. They are going to go far in the coming years. I wish them the best of luck and hope that they can bring the conference championship back to Ursinus."

-Kristi Ford, senior

Baseball

Seniors: Donny Asper, Andy Hawkins, and Ben Mills

"Everybody looked up to the seniors for leadership, and people always expected them to step up in key situations, which they did. They've done a great job keeping everyone together as a team. There was very little dissent throughout the season, and I think this was because the seniors showed the proper attitude to have.

Donny Asper has been the spiritual leader of the team. The enitre season, he was the one to get everyone up before and during games. He did a great job handling pitchers, and making sure they were ready to play."

--Kyle Goldwater, junior

"Donny Asper was more of a quiet leader on the team. He's a real solid defensive catcher and really comes through in clutch situations.

Although Ben was hurt for most of teh year, he really provided a solid defensive replacement when we needed one. He was also an emotional leader and knows the game well.

Hawk is one of the best shortstops in the conference. He executes both on offense and defense, a true all-around player."

-- Jim Ward, junior
