UC Students: Dancin' The Night Away

Cara Nageli Grizzly News Writer

The Campus Activities Board sponsored the first-ever Ursinus dance marathon this past weekend in Wismer Lower Lounge, and Ursinus students enjoyed 24 hours of dancing, snacks, and prizes. The program began at 6pm on Saturday night and concluded at 6pm on Sun-

Greek organizations, campus houses, and other campus organizations participated and split up the tificates, and 24 cell phones that we've never had an 24-hour period among their members. Students could participate on their own as well. CAB also collected donations outside of Wismer during the weeks before the dance marathon so people who did not want to dance could still donate money.

The event was sponsored by a number of local businesses that donated prizes for the raffles. Among the prizes were tee-shirts, gift cer-were raffled off every hour. Music was provided by Y100, 6 live bands,

"It was a great way for students to get together, have fun, and support a good cause at the same time", Allison Wagner, Vice-President of CAB, said of the event. "I was glad that so many organizations participated."

"I thought the dance marathon was a lot of fun, especially since event like that on campus before," Junior Susan Goll added.

While the Campus Activities Boardraised only half of their $3000 goal, they hope to have another dance marathon next year. All proceeds went to support the Laurel House and Northern Home for Children.

Celebrating the Holidays Around The World

Quinn Dinsmore Grizzly Writer

As Ursinus students focus on inals and the upcoming winter reak, millions of people around the world are preparing to celebrate a wide variety of holidays.

The history of Christmas dates back over 4000 years. The 12 days of Christmas, the giving of gifts, amivals with floats, carolers, and easts can all be traced back to the early Mesopotamians. Another tration emerged when the sun would sappear during the winter months in Scandinavia. As the first light appeared, a great festival called the Yuletide would be held. A special feast was served around the burnng of the Yule log to celebrate the return of the sun. Christmas remains a non-religious holiday for many people. Lisa Johnson said, "Christmas is a time to show people how much you care about them. t's a break from the everyday have."

The Christmas story celebrated by Christians marks the arrival of the Christ child. The holy couple, Joseph, a carpenter, and Mary, a young virgin, lived in Nazareth. During their trip to be registered, Mary gave birth to a son named Jesus. When the child was born, a great star appeared over Bethlehem and could be observed for miles. Angels appeared to shepherds tending their flocks and three magi followed the bright star to the manager. Millions of Christians celebrate the birth of the Son of God with jubilation as the Messiah came to earth. Vicky Evereklian expressed, "The true meaning of Christmas is Jesus' entrance into the world to give eternal life to those who believe."

The Festival of the Lights lasts for eight days to honor the miracle of the oil lasting more than a week after the temple was destroyed. In America, families celebrate Chanukah by giving gifts, entertaining friends and family, eating special foods, and lighting the holiday menorah. As Jill McFadden remarked, "It's a time for the whole family to get together and show appreciation for the events of the year and each other."

Kwanzaa is a 7-day festival celebrating the history and culture of African American people. It is a time of community gathering and reflection, and concludes on New Year's Day. mination, collective work and responsibility, cooperative economics, purpose, creativity, and faith. Students can learn more about this holiday by attending the Pre-Kwanzaa celebration on Dec. 7, sponsored by SUN and The Office of Multicultural Services. Carlyn Skipworth commented, "Kwanzaa, to me, represents a sense of community, family, and friends. Kwanzaa is not a religious holiday. It is a celebration of culture, community and a time to remember our ancestors and our past."

Ramadan is the ninth month of the Muslim calendar during which Muslims fast from dawn to sunset, and eat small meals and visit with friends and family in the evening. It is a time of worship and contemplation, as well as an opportunity to strengthen family and community ties. During the Fast of Ramadan, strict restraints are placed on the daily lives of Muslims during the day, as they cannot eat, drink, or until sunset. On the evening of the 27th day of Ramadan, Muslims celebrate the Night of Creed. It is believed that on this night, the Prophet Muhammad first received the revelation of the Holy Qur'an, and God determines the course of the world for the following year. A feast occurs after the end of Ramadan when the crescent moon is officially sighted. As Manal Shehabi expressed, "This is the time Muslims celebrate breaking the Fast, and thank God for the health and strength He has given us. Ramadan feels very purifying and involves controlling yourself. Prayers and requests of Muslims are accepted and granted during Ramadan, and God grants His mercy and forgiveness upon the Muslims. We look forward to it as a time when we feel closer to God deny the power and magic of the and to one another, and hope to gain holidays and the experience of joy his reward and forgiveness. It's very joyful and rewarding."

Diwali, or the Festival of Lights, participate in any sexual activities is perhaps the most well known of the Indian festivals. The common practice is to light small oil lamps, diyas, for the home, courtyards, and gardens, as well as on rooftops and outer walls. As a family festival, it is celebrated 20 days after Dussehra in October or November. Diwali celebrates the triumph of the wife of Lord Krishna over a demon in a battle of good and evil. The festival of lights symbolizes the victory of righteousness and the lifting of spiritual darkness. Rahul Patri explained, "It is just a fun day with fireworks. It's similar to the July 4 fireworks in our country. Usually, this is the most popular festival not because of it's religious festival, but because every person can have his share of fireworks."

Pomenti Wins World History Association/Phi Alpha Theta Essay Competition

Susann Sobolewski

Grizzly Writer

Submitting an essay with the opes of getting an "A" is normal. Submitting an essay with the hopes of winning a national competition a goal. Recently, one of our fellow Ursinus students achieved hat goal.

Thomas Pomenti, a junior at Jrsinus who is currently studying broad in London, became the proud winner of the 2001 World History Association/ Phi Alpha Theta Student Essay competition his past October. The essay, en-cidal Cleansings: Why a Perpetrating Regime Will Choose Either Total Murder or Mass Expulsion as its Means of Population Cleansing," was chosen as the best paper by an undergraduate and was accompanied with a $200 award. Additionally, a short essay about the competition and its results was published in the WHA Newsletter as well as the newsletter for Phi Alpha Theta.

This essay was the product of Pomenti's summer fellows research, which he conducted over a titled "Genocidal and non-Geno- period of eight weeks. The actual ested in the topic, he remains unwriting of this paper did not begin certain. "Maybe it was all those until the last 3 weeks of the program, as it was not until half way through that the topic was even Holocaust. Maybe it was growing chosen. Pomenti, while juggling many other time-consuming responsibilities, remained focused and worked hard under the mentoring of Dr. Doughty, to whom he says he is indebted. " I read a pile of books...and I still have a lot more to read next year when I plan on working on the thesis and improving the paper," says Pomenti. As far as how he became inter-hours of watching the History Channel shows on WW2 and the up watching the news and seeing what was happening in the Balkans and Rwanda and not understanding any of it. Maybe I study these events in history to better understandthem, not only for myself, but also for others, since genocide and population cleansing are still possible in today's world," guesses Pomenti. Although he cannot put his finger on it directly, he feels as if "it's better this way."

When asked how he felt when winning, Pomenti explains that he was surprised because he only considered the paper to be a "rough, rough draft." Hearing that the winner would be announced in late September, he figured it was no big deal that he didn't win, knowing that senior year provided even more time to complete his research on the topic. He found out in late October that he was the winner.

Pomenti plans on going to Germany this summer to further his knowledge on the topic. He also plans on taking Dr. Doughty's Holocaust seminar next semester. His goal is to eventually have his work published, preferably in one of the major Holocaust and genocide studies periodicals.

Lastly, Pomenti adds, "I am in fact greatly indebted to Dr. Doughty. Having him as my mentor made my work [challenging and rewarding]. He pushed me to do my best all the time. His many last minute revisions may very well have saved the day for me, though there are still many days ahead."

US Economy Faces Economic Recession

Sarah Ewald

The National Bureau of Economic Research announced on Nov. 26 that the United States economy is in a recession.

This recession marks the end of the longest economic expansion. This recession is the first in a War II.

March 2001 marked the start of the recession according to the bureau. The economy has been in a slowdown since then, but it was not clear until this past week that a the recession should be over in the recession had hit.

The terrorist attacks on Sept. 11 and a rise in unemployment in the late summer were two contributing factors to the recession.

The terrorist attacks were not the cause of the recession but, decade and the 10th since World according to the committee, they were probably enough to turn the slowdown into a recession, said Richard W. Stevenson of The New York Times.

Some economists believe that first half of 2002.

"Recent signs that the rise in unemployment may be leveling off, plus generally positive reports about retail sales after Thanksgiving, and a revival on Wall Street, have led some economists to predict a bounce back early next year," wrote Stevenson.

But it could be much longer than the middle of 2002 until the economy bounces back.

Wismer's Fantastic Harvest Moon Festival

Ann Antanavage

Most of the time we find people on campus complaining about food services here on campus, but every once in a while we need to realize that not everything is as bad as it seems.

Although we may not like it when they serve wings or something, we have to admit that Wismer has its shining moments in meal history. What about the brain Jello at Halloween? How creative was that?! Remember this e-mail sent out by Emine Ozkan concerning the Harvest Moon meal?

"Dining Services invites you to attend our Harvest Moon Dinner. This traditional seasonal dinner will take place on Monday November 19,2001 from 4:30-7:00 p.m. in the Main Dining Room. Come out and enjoy a great dinner. I hope to see you all there."

To be honest, I was not excited about this meal, thinking it was going to be a mediocre attempt at feeding us another "home cooked" buds, however, I found that the meal was a delightful experience!

with raw veggies and cheese and soup as appetizers. Followed by side dishes, cold salads, and other similar faire.

Lastly was the table with ham and turkey. A fabulous spread, in cooked, the dining area a festive my opinion! And I can't forget the dessert table, which I always have to at least scope out before I leave Wismer.

ILOVED this meal, but I am not meal. Much to the joy of my taste a vegetarian and I had heard some of my vegetarian friends say tha they did not enjoy the meal be-Mmmmm, the buffet started out cause the felt there was not enough for them to enjoy. But that is not going to stop my praise of the Harvest Moon Festival! I thoroughly enjoyed it!

> Not only was the food delicious decorated to put everyone in a nice holiday mood.

So, thank you, Wismer for delicious meal!

Lancaster: Not Just for the Amish

Sarah Napolitan

Grizzly A & E Editor

What's up with everyone thinking that if someone's from Lancaster County that they're Amish? Don't get me wrong, there's absolutely nothing wrong with being Amish, but when you're talking to someone from Lanc and they have on a Weezer T-Shirt and are smoking a cigarette, I assure you that person IS NOT AMISH!

I do not wear all blacks, browns and blues and I tend to show my ankles from time to time, so I would appreciate a little less ignorance from the campus community by putting me and many other Lancastrians in the really weird position of being asked if we're Amish.

Sophomore Quinn Dinsmore, fellow Grizzly writer and Lancaster resident, just doesn't get it either. "I have lived in Lancaster County all my life and for the record, I have never milked a cow or had Amish relatives. It is a gross stereotype for while we have a rich tradition of farming and a unique cultural group, Lancaster is so much more than that.

We are the best blend of urban technology and hometown charm. I would bet Lancaster is a lot like every other town Ursinus students call home, so come visit it before right. Almost everyone who's from Lancaster is really, really proud of that fact. two horse and buggies tattooed on his chest with the words "I Love underneath. Okay, he wasn't the smartest bean in the basket, but still! Lancaster is a great place to you're from my neck of the woods, mailbox smashing.

Many Lancaster students at Ursinus feel the same as I do about this unnecessary stereotype. Sophomore Bret Newswanger expressed his opinion; "Lancaster is a very diverse county, and its not just Amish people like everyone

There are also like thugs and drugs and stuff like that."

Molly George, a senior at Ursinus this year, has also experienced the mistaken identity of being Amish,

"Were watching a video in Genetics about the Amish and various genetic diseases that go through their families. In the video they were going through an Amish family tree and seeing how many people had had the certain genetic disease throughout history and while they were showing this lineage the calling us Amish!" Quinn is so guys behind me said, 'Molly, look, Amish I wouldn't have a tele there is your family."

Senior Erin Dickerson, a fellow Lancastrian, is disgusted with the Some guy in my high school got misconceptions as well, "People from Lancaster county don't live with cows all of the time," she Lancaster County, PA" written stated, "and just because someone is from Lancaster doesn't mean they're Amish!"

Kristen Servent, a sophomore at go for country food, fun and, if Ursinus, agrees with these statements. "I hate how people assume ested in pig stomach with pine that I am Amish, my roommate from last year called me on the phone and was seriously concerned that I was Amish, I in the back of my head thought if I was really phone and I probably wouldn't be going to college either." Right she

Sophomore Bret Marzock, who is not Amish, seems to disagree with his fellow countians. "Everyone from Lancaster is Amish," h cried, "EVERYONE!" One thing is for certain: Lancaster breed one heck of an interesting person

So if anyone out there is interapple sauce, cows with no tails of the fascinating history of Turkey Hills, I will be happy to take you back with me over Christmas I my farm. Home! I meant home!

Christmas Price Comparison: Lights, Cards, and Wrapping Paper

Katie Lambert Grizzly Staff Writer

Since about ninety-five percent came up with: of us are poor college students here at Ursinus, I've come up with a list of a few Christmas necessities that are sure to not break the bank this holiday season.

I visited The Dollar Store in the Trappe Shopping Center, CVS also in Trappe, and Eckerd in The Collegeville Shopping Center to get some prices on strings of lights, packs of Christmas cards, and rolls of wrapping paper. Here's what I

Lights

The Dollar Store: String of 20 (only size available) mini white lights for $1.00

CVS: String of 20 mini white lights for $1.50

Eckerd: String of 100 (smallest available size) mini white lights for $2.99

Christmas Cards

The Dollar Store: Pack of 16

(only size available) Christmas est) of wrapping cards for $1.00

CVS: Pack of 18 (only size available) Christmas cards for $9.99-

$12.99 Eckerd: Pack of 10 (only size available) Christmas cards for

Wrapping Paper

The Dollar Store: Roll of 25 sq. ft. of wrapping paper for $1.00 CVS: Roll of 12 sq. ft. (various sizes available, but this is the cheap-

paper for $4.49 Eckerd: Roll of 25 sq. ft. (various sizes available) $3.99

Obviously, The Dollar Store is your best bet if you want to keep yourself on a small budget this holiday season. However, since a string of 20 mini white lights is pretty small, it would probably fit, oh...once around your head or something. But, that's okay—you can still decorate small areas with them or buy a few packs and still keep your total cost down.

The Christmas card art at The Dollar Store isn't that great either (picture those dusty, fake plastic poinsettia plants your great-grandmother keeps on her living room coffee table all year long), but they'll suffice for your effort.

There are various, cute designs on the wrapping paper at The Dollar Store, though, so feel free to load up on rolls of that. Of course, the thickness quality of the paper isn exactly down-blanket thick, b who cares? We all know your little brother is just going to rip his presen open without even taking a secon look at the wrapping paper any.

So, since most of us can't afford caviar and champagne gifts and expensive decorations around Christmastime, I recommend try ing The Dollar Store on for size It'll do!

How to make your Own Christmas Gifts

Kelly Gray Grizzly Staff Writer

It is that time again for everyone to start their holiday shopping. Like most college students, you have no money and cannot afford to buy a gift for anyone. Well Martha Stewart has come to the rescue with tons of ideas for people who need to make Christmas gifts.

These could take some of your time, but in the end it is cheaper. All of these ideas and others are available www.MarthaStewart.com.

Every year you walk past Bath & Body Works looking for the right gift and then you look at the price. Well this year you can make your own colorful soap cubes. It is different, fun, and decorative for the holiday season. All you need is blocks of glycerin, liquid food coloring, petroleum jelly, cotton swabs, and a microwavable ice cube tray. Like cubes of ice, the soap cubes melt and getting gradually smaller after every use.

is a molded candle. Instead of buying an expensive molded candle, you can make your own. You can buy mold at a craft store that comes with directions for the gauge of wicking and amount of wax necessary. To mold your candle you can use household products such as a small baking tin, milk carton, or a cardboard paper towel roll. This is so easy that even younger children could help you make the candle.

Another popular gift for Christmas is the same, old, boring picture frame. To spice up your Christmas gift you can decorate the frame with some felt. All you need to do is buy a self-standing clear frame A great gift for every Christmas and you can use three different colors of felt for the front, back, and edging of the frame. For a more sophisticated look, you can use leather instead of felt, but only use one color for the leather. Some materials you would need for this project is a clear frame, felt, pencil, pinking shears, paper, small scissors, fabric glue, and a sewing machine.

For those cold winter nights, the best gift for this holiday season is a fleece hat. This will help your family and friends keep warm through these winter months. Fleece is a soft, lightweight, and durable material that is not itch like wool. The hat traps the warmt just as efficiently as wool and wil not shrink. All you need is some soft tape measure, fleece fabric pins, strong matching thread, scissors, and a sewing machine.

All of the directions for thes projects can be found on the Martha Stewart website. The website also offers even more ideas of how to make your own Christma gift if you would like some more ideas. These are great gifts that come with sentimental value for your family or friends.

T'was The Night Before Finals....

Twas the week before break and all through Ursinus,

Students stood hoping their professors might show some kind-

Finals loomed dreadfully in the brisk campus air,

As students began to ponder why life isn't fair.

In every room on campus, not a student lay in bed,

Inhopes that some cramming might stick in their head;

There were students in Myrin, and some seen in Zack's

Some needed to study and some a few caffinated snacks.

When all of a sudden I witnessed a student in shock,

So, I sprang from my studies and turned down the Bach;

Away from my studies I flew out

Ran over to Wismer Lower to see what the commotion was for.

The campus activities board I am sure you all know,

Put on some lively entertainment for those stressed souls to go; And what to my wondering eyes should appear,

But President Strassburger himself (whom we all hold so dear).

Eight professors behind him, the students did roar,

What are you putting us through all this stress for?

More rapid than eagles his excuses they came,

And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name:

Blame, Xaras! Blame, Dawley! Blame, Chambliss and Shuru! Blame Hess, Dole, And Hemphill! Blame Engstrom, too!

Now they are the ones that you shall blame your strife,

They are the ones who put this cram and don't jerk, stress in your life!

With the clocks winding down, the time was still ticking

Students began to worry, oh why isn't it sticking?

Away at their desks, the professors they flew,

With test questions for essays to find what students knew.

So the day of exams students pulled out test books,

And each professor looked on with deep scornful looks; Students scribbled and filled #2 bubbles for hours it did seem, When from within one exam room, we heard one victim scream.

My test is over and I'm never

I'm off too pack for my parents and I'm hitting the sack. His eyes-how they twinkled despite dark circles below! And he ran out with a scream as he put on a show!

As students finished their exams they were happy to see,

That they'd survived the semester (especially me). So with one semester down and another to go, I'll offer a suggestion you may care to know:

When next semester comes don't

Meet all of your deadlines and do your all your work; It's okay to go out but don't pro-

With your knowledge now at hand your hard work must be proved, And though professors have drilled you don't let your spirits be moved; Go spring to your desk; to your friends give a whistle,

Watch the time fly like the semester's dismissal.

It's only four years of study and many memories to remember, And congratulations, for so far, you've made it to December; Happy Holidays, to all! Go home, Get some rest!

coming back! "A Chrismas Story: A Hysterically Timeless Classic

Grizzly Opinion Editor

What better way to spend the holidays then to watch the adventures of Ralphie in "A Christmas Story." Now, for all you readers, I find it hard to believe that you have never seen this Christmas classic (it is on for 24 hours on Christmas day), so this will help to refresh your memories.

This movie is about an American Midwestern family celebrating the Christmas season. It's filled with humor, like who can forget such great lines "Stuck...Stuck!" when Flick, on a dare, sticks his tongue onto a flagpole.

The overwhelming snowsuit that Randy has to wear is alaugh every year, especially when he collapses into a snow bank and cannot manage to get himself up. Of course, who can forget Ralphie's father, as he battles with the furnace and sets up the tackiest leg lamp in the world in his front window. This movie includes American Christmas traditions, picking out and decorating the Christmas tree, watching a Christmas parade, and sitting on Santa's

There are other non-American traditions, like visiting a Chinese restaurant for Christmas dinner. Their version of "Deck the halls" and a "turkey" dinner are certainly humorous moments in the

The best part of the movie is when Ralphie's Christmas wish comes true, and he gets the Red Rider bee bee gun he had been harping on through the whole movie. Moreover, despite everyone's warning, he just about

Women's Hoops Knock Off the Devils

Sports Writer

In front of a home crowd Saturday the Lady Bears (2-3, 1-1) nipped the Dickinson Devils (2-4, 0-2) 57-53. In a balanced attack senior center Katie Shearer paced the Bears with 14 points and 10 rebounds while sophomore forward Erica Maurer added 11 points and 8 boards. Junior point guard Krista Marino and sophomore forward Kate Guisto contributed with 10 points each.

Ursinus used some clutch freethrow shooting by Maurer, Marino and Shearer in the closing two minutes to come behind from a one-point deficit. This evened the Bears record in the Centennial Conference at 1-1.

"I'm really happy that we were able to get our first conference win at home in front of our fans," stated Krista Marino, "My mom really likes it when we win."

Early in the week Ursinus suffered a loss to the Gettysburg Bullets (4-1, 2-0) 76-64. Maurer turned in an outstanding overall performance scoring 15 points, grabbing 7 boards, registering 4 steals and dishing out 4 assists. Katie Shearer lead the Bears in scoring with 16 points and rebounds with 9. Bridget Hussey accounted for 11 of the Bears points in the loss.

This season the Bears have 4 players (Hussey, Shearer, Maurer, and Guisto) averaging over 13 points per outing. This shows unselfishness and great teamwork by the girls. All starters return having seen varsity time last season, experience that will prove vital as the season heads into the rest of the schedule. With a balanced attack like this one the Bears season only seems to be heading one way - up.

The Pro-Wrestlin Report

The wrestling world has seen some changes in the past week. Eddie Guerrero was released from the WWF, and now he is working for an independent promotion in upstate New York. Jim Ross was very upset backstage after he had to kiss Vince McMahon's rear end. He did not approve of the idea because his daughter was there and Oklahoma is his home state. Mark Henry is training to compete in the World's Strongest Man competition. Ric Flair plans on writing a book soon, and many speculate he is using his return to the WWF as a vehicle to market it. Do sions. The WXW joined forces not expect Kevin Nash, Scott Hall, or Scott Steiner to come to the WWF for sometime. Kevin Nash wants to work less house shows and the WWF does not approve of Scott Hall's drinking problem. Scott Steiner also wants more money than the WWF is offering him at the current time. It is likely for Hulk Hogan to come back, because he wants out of the XWF. Look for Chris Jericho and Christian to become a tag team in the near future.

On November 28, a benefit show was held for the late Yokozuna in Allentown, PA. He passed away last year, and he held the WWF Championship on 2 separate occa-with the WWF and provided an exciting evening of wrestling. Undertaker, Kane, and the APA wrestled for the WWF, and Bob Backlund and Doink made an appearance as well. Yokozuna was a great wrestler and he will be missed!

The WWF will be coming back to Philadelphia on January 27 at the First Union Center. If you have never been to a wrestling event in Philly, then I strongly recommend going. They will also be doing a show in Trenton over the Holiday break. I obtained some informa from www.wrestlezone.com. Thanks for reading.
