

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail,
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you,
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

Morehead State University

Class of 1985

May Commencement

Saturday, May 11, 1985

Graduation with Honors

Morehead State University has adopted the traditional Latin terms used to designate those who graduate with honors. Persons finishing undergraduate degrees with superior grades are identified as "cum laude" (with praise), "magna cum laude" (with great praise), and "summa cum laude" (with highest praise).

The terms are applied in the following manner, based on the university's grading system of 4.0 for "A," 3.0 for "B," etc.:

Summa Cum Laude—3.9-4.0

Magna Cum Laude—3.6-3.89

Cum Laude—3.4-3.59

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and presidential inaugurations.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns: three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's degrees are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with trailing "elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy, Business—drab	Music—pink
Education—light blue	Nursing—apricot
Engineering—orange	Philosophy—dark blue
Fine Arts—brown	Physical Education—sage green
Journalism—crimson	Science—golden yellow
Law—purple	Social Science—cream
Library Science—lemon	Theology—scarlet
	Veterinary Science—gray

Commencement Speakers

Robert M. (Mike) Duncan, chairman of the Morehead State University Board of Regents, received his six-year appointment in 1981 and was elected chairman in April 1984. The Inez native is president of the Inez Deposit Bank and the First National Bank of Louisa and is president-elect of the Kentucky Bankers Association. He also serves on the boards of Alice Lloyd College and Highlands Regional Medical Center. Mr. Duncan is an appointee to the Kentucky Tomorrow Commission and is the current lieutenant governor of Kiwanis International's Kentucky-Tennessee District. He is a graduate of Cumberland College and the University of Kentucky College of Law.

Dr. Herb. F. Reinhard Jr., became the university's ninth president in July 1984. A native of Covington, Ky., he has devoted most of his adult life to public higher education, including five highly successful years as president of Slippery Rock (Pa.) State University and as an administrator at universities in Florida, North Carolina, and Tennessee. President Reinhard chairs the Committee of Governance of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, is a member of the new Presidents' Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), and is active in a number of professional, civic, fraternal, and service organizations. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in psychology from Florida State University and the doctorate in higher education from Indiana University.

Rebecca Rae Giles will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics and computer programming today, graduating with a 4.0 grade-point average. A graduate of Carroll County High School, she has done her student teaching in 9-12 mathematics classes at Fleming County High School. Ms. Giles is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honorary society, O.P.U.S. Keyboard Club, and National Education Association student program. She plans to do advanced study in mathematics. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Giles of Carrollton, she has a brother, Todd, who is a junior at MSU.

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns: three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's degrees are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with trailing "elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy, Business—drab	Music—pink
Education—light blue	Nursing—apricot
Engineering—orange	Philosophy—dark blue
Fine Arts—brown	Physical Education—sage green
Journalism—crimson	Science—golden yellow
Law—purple	Social Science—cream
Library Science—lemon	Theology—scarlet
	Veterinary Science—gray

Class of 1985

August Commencement

Saturday, August 3, 1985

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail,
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you.
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

Graduation with Honors

Morehead State University has adopted the traditional Latin terms used to designate those who graduate with honors. Persons finishing undergraduate degrees with superior grades are identified as "cum laude" (with praise), "magna cum laude" (with great praise), and "summa cum laude" (with highest praise).

The terms are applied in the following manner, based on the university's grading system of 4.0 for "A," 3.0 for "B," etc.

Summa Cum Laude—3.9-4.0

Magna Cum Laude—3.6-3.89

Cum Laude—3.4-3.59

Commencement Speakers

Lloyd Cassity, a member of MSU's Board of Regents since 1963, served as chairman 1976-83 and vice chairman 1972-76. The Morgan County native retired last May as chief executive of Johnson's All-Star Dairy in Ashland, a post he had held since 1968. He continues in the capacity of consultant and vice chairman of the board for the company. Mr. Cassity is chairman of the board for Ashland Home Federal Savings and Loan Association. A former president of the MSU Alumni Association and the Joint Alumni Council of Kentucky, he has received numerous awards and honors, including the 1984 Founders Day Award for University Service. He, his wife Hazel, and daughter Diane are graduates of MSU.

Dr. Herb. F. Reinhard Jr., became the university's ninth president in July 1984. A native of Covington, Ky., he has devoted most of his adult life to public higher education, including five highly successful years as president of Slippery Rock (Pa.) State University and as an administrator at universities in Florida, North Carolina, and Tennessee. President Reinhard chairs the Committee of Governance of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, is a member of the new Presidents' Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), and is active in a number of professional, civic, fraternal, and service organizations. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in psychology from Florida State University and the doctorate in higher education from Indiana University.

Linda Oakley Carter receives a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education today, graduating with a 4.0 grade-point average. The Olive Hill native, who attended a one-room school in Carter County and graduated from Olive Hill High in 1965, did her student teaching in Haldeman Elementary third grade. A member of the Honors Program, she missed only one class after entering in June 1982. Mrs. Carter is the mother of three children—Dovie, 11; J.B., 9; and Stacey, 8. Her husband, Johnny Austin Carter, is an MSU Physical Plant employee and has been highly supportive during her student years. First of a family of nine to earn a college degree, she plans to teach and do graduate study at MSU.

Class of 1985

December Commencement

Saturday, December 14, 1985

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail,
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you,
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

Graduation with Honors

Morehead State University has adopted the traditional Latin terms used to designate those who graduate with honors. Persons finishing undergraduate degrees with superior grades are identified as "cum laude" (with praise), "magna cum laude" (with great praise), and "summa cum laude" (with highest praise).

The terms are applied in the following manner, based on the university's grading system of 4.0 for "A," 3.0 for "B," etc.:

Summa Cum Laude—3.9-4.0

Magna Cum Laude—3.6-3.89

Cum Laude—3.4-3.59

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns: three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's degrees are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with trailing "elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy,	Music—pink
Business—drab	Nursing—apricot
Education—light blue	Philosophy—dark blue
Engineering—orange	Physical Education—sage green
Fine Arts—brown	Science—golden yellow
Journalism—crimson	Social Science—cream
Law—purple	Theology—scarlet
Library Science—lemon	Veterinary Science—gray

Commencement Speakers

Robert M. (Mike) Duncan, chairman of the Morehead State University Board of Regents, received his six-year appointment in 1981, and was elected chairman in April 1984. The Inez native is president of the Inez Deposit Bank and the First National Bank of Louisa and is president of the Kentucky Bankers Association. He also serves on the boards of Alice Lloyd College and Highlands Regional Medical Center. Mr. Duncan is an appointee to the Kentucky Tomorrow Commission and is the current lieutenant governor of Kiwanis International's Kentucky-Tennessee District. He is a graduate of Cumberland College and the University of Kentucky College of Law.

Dr. Herb. F. Reinhard Jr. became the university's ninth president in July 1984. A native of Covington, Ky., he has devoted most of his adult life to public higher education, including five highly successful years as president of Slippery Rock (Pa.) State University and as an administrator at universities in Florida, North Carolina, and Tennessee. President Reinhard chairs the Committee of Governance of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, is a member of the new Presidents' Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), and is active in a number of professional, civic, fraternal, and service organizations. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in psychology from Florida State University and the doctorate in higher education from Indiana University.

Sigmund Bachmann receives a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural science today, graduating with a 3.92 grade-point average. A native of Rueschlikon, Switzerland, Bachmann came to MSU in 1981 after six months of travel to visit agriculture schools throughout the United States. During his stay at MSU, Bachmann has lived at Derrickson Agricultural Complex, where he has been active in the work-study program in animal care. After graduation he will remain at Morehead State for his student teaching at Bath County High School, and then he hopes to work in farm management in a rural area of the U.S. Bachmann's parents are Leopold and Hanni Bachmann. He has one brother and three sisters.
