SOIL TOUR VIEWS CALLOWAY FARMS FRIDAY, MAY 30

Representatives from Seven States Inspect Demonstration Plots

GROUP DINES WITH HOME EC DEPARTMENT

A tour, including the following states in the Tennessee Valley—Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky—and sponsored by the TVA, entered Calloway County Friday morning, May 30, at the Joe Dunt farm north of Kirksay and inspected demonstration plots on three different farms before ending the two-day trip with a visit to Kentucky Dam at Gilbertsville.

Following the inspection of grass and pasture demonstrations on the Dunn place, the group looked over wheat demonstration plots on the H. V. Clark farm at Kirksay. The 38 members of the party enjoyed a delightful dinner prepared and served by Mrs. J. H. Wainston and the home economics department of Kirksay high school before seeing crimson clover and rye grass demonstrations on the W. V. Edmonds farm.

The visits in Calloway County terminated a two day tour, which started at Knoxville, Tenn., on Wednesday morning, May 28. Entering Kentucky through the Cumberland Gap, the party visited experiment stations at Fariston, Berea, Lexington, Campbellsville, Greenville, Princeton and one demonstration farm in Graves county, for the purpose of witnessing progress in the soil rebuilding program sponsored by the Kentucky College of Agriculture, which is symbolized by its slogan: "Keep Kentucky Farms Green."

Following the tour, Alex. McNeil, Tennessee, chairman of the group, stated that "Undoubtedly Kentucky is the country's outstanding State in the use of phosphate and lime." McNeil added that in the past three years Kentucky has used three-fourths of all the phosphate made available to the A.A.A. in the six states in the east central region.

Wednesday morning's Courier-Journal carried a picture of B. Edmonds, Calloway county farmer of the Kirksay community, discussing the soil rebuilding organization with Dr. George Roberts, agronomist, Calloway Experiment Station who is director of this program in the state.

Courts Voted to Have Home Agent; Reelects Cochran

For the first time in seven years, Calloway county will have a Home Demonstration Agent. The Fiscal Court, in session Tuesday, voted to re-elect County Agent John Cochran for another year and to employ a home agent, which will give Calloway county a complete agricultural extension personnel.

Announcement has not been made as to who the new Home Demonstration Agent will be, but Miss Myrtle Weldon of the Extension Division, University of Kentucky, was instructed by the Court to make the selection in order that the work might begin with the new fiscal year, July 1.

The addition of the Home Agent will add an appropriation of $600.00 to the county's budget, already being paid by Calloway County to the support of the agricultural extension program in this county. This total of $1600.00 will give the citizens of this county the services of five agents and two full time clerks, the remainder of the expense being borne by the State Extension Program.

County Agent Cochran came to Murray in July, 1934, to relieve John Bondurant who had been agent here for six months. Mr. Cochran acted as assistant agent under Mr. Bondurant for 15 days before taking over the entire work in this county.

The staff now boasts two assistants and one associate agent. They are Kelly Cromwell, who came to Murray as assistant in 1935, and Ray Brownfield, who took his duties a year ago. The associate agent is C. O. Bondurant, who serves Marshall, Livingston, Calloway and Trigg counties, came to this county in 1939.

Calloway county's enlarged agricultural program will mean added advantages to the farm people of this county, since it will again give the women an active organization through which to cooperate in making farm life the best way of living.

Benefits from the program will many times repay the relatively small amount expended by Calloway County to bring these agents to this community.

PINE BLUFF NINE TAKES 3 IN ROW

Blanks Standing Rock 7-0 at Dover Celebrations, Downs NYA 9-3 and Tops Rock Team 2-1.

Pine Bluff's baseball club went on a stupor last Thursday, Saturday and Sunday to win three consecutive games. The Eldridge team's first victim was Standing Rock who was blanked 7-0 before a huge crowd at the Memorial Day celebration held at Dover last Thursday. On Sunday the Bluffs took a double header on their home diamond. The first game was a league game with the Murray NYA club who was given a 3-2 setback by the East Siders. In the nightcap, Standing Rock was again the loser in a well played game. The score was 2-1.

In Thursday's game at Dover, Pine Bluff's Smotherman and Hamlin got on base in the first inning on fielders' choices and Lyon came to the plate and blasted out a homer to make the score stand at 3-0 in the seventh when Willoughby singled to start the fireworks. During the hitting rally four more runs were added to make the score stand 7-0. Pine Bluff, Batteries were, Pine Bluff, Smotherman and Buey; Standing Rock, Knott and Jobe. Pine Bluff collected 6 hits and no walks. Standing Rock hit safely 4 times and received no walks. Smotherman struck out 9 and Knott 4.

In the first game of the double header, Smotherman led the Bluffs to a 9-3 win over Murray NYA by smashing out 2 doubles and a single and followed by Thurman with 3 singles. Willoughby and Buey formed the Bluff battery and Feague and Young worked for the NYA. Willoughby struck out 6 and walked 2; Feague whiffed 3 and walked 4. The NYA's collected 6 hits and the Bluffs collected 8 hits and the Bluffs hit in 2nd, 5 in fourth, 2 in sixth, and 1 in eighth.

The nightcap affair saw an excellent pitching duel between Curry of the Bluff and Sykes of the Standing Rock, but again the Rivermen hit in the pinch to win 2-1. Sykes gave up 3 hits and 1 walk, but Curry allowed only 1 walk and 1 walk.

Big Rock, Tenn., reported to be undefeated this year, will oppose the Bluffmen Saturday afternoon on the latter's diamond. According to Manager Eldridge, Big Rock will give his men a real test and added that his team would have to be in full form to taken the Tennesseans.

Thirty 4-H club members in Carter county were furnished certified given over to discussion of State problems.

100 FARM PEOPLE ATTEND MEETING

Bondurant and Brownfield Hold Conferences to Aid Farmers

One hundred farm people whose farming operations lie wholly or partially within the portions of the Tennessee River Valley in Calloway County, which is being purchased and will be flooded on the completion of the Kentucky Dam, attended a series of several community meetings held in that area by Agricultural Extension workers, C. O. Bondurant and Ray B. Brownfield, last week. The meetings were held at Redden, Newburg, Russell Chapel, Brandon, Pleasant Valley, F. H. Spieland's farm and Shannon School.

The purpose of the meetings was to further acquaint the people in that area of the county with the extra Agricultural Extension services which are now provided through the placing of additional workers in this county. Mr. Brownfield devotes his entire time to work in Calloway County and Mr. Bondurant works in Calloway, Livingston and Trigg counties.

The work in this county is under the general direction of County Agent Jno. T. Cochran.

Kroger Plans to Increase Bidding at 4-H, FFA Sales

With the opening of the season for 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America livestock shows and sales, Albert H. Morrill, president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., announced that the firm's buyers are planning to increase their participation in these events.

During 1939 Kroger took part in 59 of these shows and purchased a total of 788 animals raised by youthful farmers throughout the Middle-west and South, according to Morrill. Compared with the previous year this represents an increase of 280 per cent in the number of shows attended and 368 per cent in the number of animals bought, he said. During 1938 Kroger bought 211 animals at 21 shows.

It was announced that the firm planned to continue its general policy of supporting the market by bidding on runners-up instead of attempting to buy grand champions and reserve champions. This plan was adopted a number of years ago when it was observed that the top animals nearly always brought premium prices, while runners-up sometimes sold below the market to the keen disappointment of youthful owners.

However, in several instances where circumstances seemed to warrant it, Kroger buyers did purchase blue ribbon animals, including the grand champion barrow at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, and several grand champion steers at other shows. Included in Kroger's 1939 purchases at 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America shows were 474 cattle, 192 lambs and 112 hogs, Morrill said.

The Coldwater Methodist Sunday School will present its annual Sunday School program Sunday morning, June 9. The public is invited to attend this annual event.

Germans Drive Toward Paris

Tremendous Offensive is Halted Temporarily on Somme

Adolf Hitler's armored German legions, concentrating on a drive toward Paris, were meeting resistance this morning more stubborn than any they have experienced thus far in all their lightning war on France and Britain.

A French communique declared that the point and the German broken through General Maxime Weygand's strategic defense, but they were smashing hard at tremendous cost of men and materiel along a 128 mile front on the Somme. They are 58 miles from Paris.

Early this week, after England had succeeded in evacuating 300,000 of her trapped soldiers in the region of Dunkerque which the Germans took, Hitler sent his troops against Paris—the move coming with remarkable suddenness after Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain had warned France could expect little help from Britain for at least six months—or sufficient time for England to recuperate from her terrific losses in Flanders.

The danger of Italy's entrance into the war on the side of Germany was imminent this morning as Mussolini, like a stalking bull, awaited the proper cue to send his men into battle.

JUNE 14 SET FOR FELLOWSHIP MEET

Breakfast at National Hotel to Promote Closer Unity of Murray Men

A fellowship breakfast, which is open to the business and professional men of Murray, will be given Friday morning, June 14, at 7:00 at the National Hotel. Plates will be thirty cents each and reservations may be made by calling Bryan Tolley, Wildy Berry or Dr. O. C. Wells.

The idea for such a group meeting grew out of the successful breakfast which was held during the observance of Boy Scout Week, but the committee in charge of arrangements is anxious that it be understood that this gathering is not for business purposes and is by no means a drive to raise funds for any cause. It is purely a fellowship meeting and for the purpose of fostering friendship and genuine liking among the business and professional men of this city.

According to the committee, the breakfast on June 14th will be the first of a series of monthly breakfasts. A very short program will be given, since plans are for the group to be together only for a period of 45 minutes. Since only 100 guests can be accommodated at this time, reservations should be made at once. The pastors of all churches are urged to attend.

The eight week term will be carried out in all four State teachers colleges while the University of Kentucky will hold the usual ten weeks' term.

To Editor, Ledger & Times
 On behalf of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Calloway County, I desire to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to all the people of the First Congressional District who assisted in making the Young Men's Democratic banquet held in Murray Saturday June 1, such a grand success. Especially do I want to thank Dr. James H. Richmond, Mr. Robert Broach and the entire faculty of the College, and also Mr. G. B. Johnson and his Campus Democratic Club for the fine cooperation they gave to make this banquet possible.
 It was quite an honor and pleasure to the members of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Calloway County to be hosts to and entertain the members of the Young Men's Democratic Clubs of the First District and their friends. However, we are sorry that National and Inter-National affairs prevented several distinguished people and State and National officials from attending. I hope and trust that we as Young Democrats conducted ourselves in such a manner that we will be able to retain the respect and confidence of all the people of the First District, and to strengthen our organization throughout the State.
 I am very happy to announce that the Young Men's Democratic Club of Calloway County has been very progressive and fortunate in obtaining the things in which we were most interested for the year 1940: That is, the election of the Hon. W. H. Crowder of our district as State president, the election of Miss Myra Bagwell of Murray as District Secretary, and of course the selection of Murray as place for the District Convention. Therefore, as I am sure that someone else can't pick up where I leave off and do a much better job as President of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Calloway County, I am today submitting my resignation to Mr. W. H. Crowder, as it is impossible for me to devote as much time to necessary to carry on the duties of this office.

 I will always be happy to cooperate in any and all times with any group or organization in any matter that is beneficial to a worthy cause. I want to thank all the people throughout the State, and especially the people of Calloway County for their kindness, and the honors that have been given me in the past.

Hazel, Kentucky
 May 30, 1940
 To the Editor of the Ledger & Times

Inspired by James Russell Lowell's "Biglow Papers" against entry in the Civil War the following lines of feeble verse were original in bed gave me time to ponder on the wish of youth the world over and if poorly written their sentiment deserves mention. The death-knell already sounded for the youth of Europe and the East calls forth the melancholy picture that is given.

A YOUTHFUL PLEA
 Today the modern youth confused, With unbelieving eyes stares out Upon a world to him profused With hate, intrigue with threats and doubt.

For years in-school and then in life, He loved and dreamed with youthful expectation, And now when ready for the strife, Finds nation again the enemy of nation.

Machines, and guns and armies grand Parade before him in foolish pride. Quaters, staterooms, rich men take their stand. And DICTATORS choose for him his lot and side.

So youth looks back on happy years, Remembers hours spent in play; Then with lips wet with despondent tears, Kneels prematurely old, and pray.

The Plea
 Dear God, we pray not for ourselves alone, We who already await orders and position.
 Our blood may again be given to atone For the ruthless age old yearning of ambition.

But God, we pray, the few who live To bear from homes, to us denied, Another generation their talents to give In service to mankind applied.

Oh God, let their work be of peaceful blend, Let not their hands in years, every score, Take up the gun to murder fellow-men, Let them faith in God and man restore.

Let the graves of boys passed to stand, Stand to the youth of every race and clime, A monument to the futility of hate, And resolved in peace, let them serve mankind.

COUNTY TAXES

Fellow Taxpayers:
 July 1 is the date to value your property for 1941 tax year. The assessor may not see you for several months but you will be asked to give a list as of July 1. It is well to think from now to July 1 about this list, and, if necessary, make memoranda to use in making your assessment and preserve them to bring before the Supervisors next spring if you should get a notice.

It becomes necessary to make the burden of taxation equal among all taxpayers, to equalize, and in view of the condition in which we find the county to sustain the maximum established by the State Board, from our observation I am afraid that there are some yet too low, which prevented us from getting the State raise lifted. We thought we were getting it reduced to 10 per cent, but the board, after hearing the official side of the county obligations, would not allow it, so we have 15 per cent on the supervisors' record.

The efforts of the last Board of Supervisors was to try to bring on a more equal level of valuations, however, the legal time allotted and the short intermission between the session prevented us from making as good an adjustment as if we had more time in the last session. We would have been willing to have served free for another week to have corrected some mistakes we might have made but we found that the law did not permit any other arrangement of the session.

 It is evident that we cannot lower the assessment, but instead must increase it some, so the right thing to do is to hold the assessment to the amount left including the raise the state left us with the exception of some small homes and properties that have been listed higher in value than most larger properties. This is the reason for a study of your property, so as to be ready and able to give a better list and have a just reason for the valuation you have placed upon your property.

The county must rely upon the real estate for most, and in fact, 75 per cent of her revenue as the State gets very little from real estate, but requires the county to render for taxes sufficient to take care of the obligations. Therefore, if you do not want to pay so much taxes, do not require so much from your county government.

We had trouble with the state board on livestock, but we argued with them on the grounds that hogs and mules which are the most valuable in Calloway were much less in value and also less in number than in 1938, the comparative year. In the matter of tangible personal property all merchandise stocks were less in value in 1939 as compared with 1937-38, their comparative years. Because of these facts were we able to get the raise off personal property. When it came to farm lands we presented the argument that the farms were small as a rule and not so many as in 1938, and that they were listed probably better than the larger farms. We were then successful in removing the tax on lands from the proposed raise, which was making real progress in elimination of taxes.

I almost forgot to state that we fought hard on the automobile raise which was arbitrary, and I think illegal and if the 20 per cent had been put on it would have proved to have been a burden.

However, in the meantime county officials were beginning to ask what would they have to run the county on if all the raises were cut off? We had arrived, I thought, to an agreement of 10 per cent on the city, but we were blocked and in order to hold what we had gotten off we had to quit.

I think the 15 per cent raise on City property is higher than the farm lands as far as small residents are concerned, but the majority of the business properties should stand if we are to finance our county. This is based on rentals and incomes.

I hope the Farm Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce and other business organizations will busy themselves to help regulate the expenses of the County and tax levies so as to make balanced county budgets for 1941. The holding of loss of revenue from the TVA purchase of lands must be met. The burden must be borne by lands outside of the Valley, let us, therefore, hope that new buildings will help to relieve this burden to some extent. However, we find so much of the new buildings that the loan companies and to the government, that the tax burden will be as high as the income of the new homes and to pay from their various incomes.

Cooperation from every taxpayer is the only hope of an equal burden and holding down of county expenses will cause less demand for taxes.

The assessor should observe the property as much as possible and place his estimate of value and aid the property owner as much as possible in making a list equal to his neighbor, and should set down this memorandum for the help of the tax board.

The War and the United States
 Hitler's continuous march toward the English Channel has had no effect on the United States far stronger than any Allied propaganda or any carefully planned preparedness campaign on the part of the Administration could have. News of the death trap in Flanders of the dropping of bombs on British channel ports have indicated more eloquently than the arguments of the internationalists that the day of isolation is past.

Careful analysis of the war may well lead one to the conclusion that there is no immediate danger of attack from Germany. While it is true that there is more danger from that source than in the last war, it is still possible to doubt that Germany could launch a heavy attack on us. After all, it can be argued that Germany could use her forces to get valuable conquests much more easily in Africa and in southeastern Europe.

 The demand for greater defense can be placed much more substantially on a different basis. The revolution in international affairs that would likely follow the dissolution of the British and French empires would naturally place the United States in a position greatly different from that which she has held in years past. The desire to participate in the division of colonies, the necessity of defending the Americas without any aid from the British navy, the policy of pursuing a firm stand relative to the islands of the Pacific, the intention of holding our world markets—all these will be used to justify a larger defense force.

If the Germans win, it appears that the United States will go on a long footing for the next decade (or longer). Such a result would have tremendous implications for the United States. It means talk of spread governmental control of labor and industry, higher taxes, possible curtailment of the social program of the New Deal. It seems destined to end in restrictions on the civil liberties of the people as a whole. Already there is evidence of that undercurrent of striking at subversive elements many states are beginning to attack various organizations on the ground that they may contain members of the fifth column.

Vigilance against activities of a fifth column in this country is necessary, but it can lead to the type of hysteria frequently apparent in war time which results in a sort of witch hunt in which every individual tends to regard his neighbor with suspicion. Such hysteria can lead to the point where one citizen digs up charges against his neighbor in order to protect himself from suspicion. Despite much talk of subversive activities in this country, there has not yet appeared the same number of cases of sabotage and espionage activities which appeared in the United States before our entrance into the last war.

Another phase of the war may be observed in its relation to Latin America. Although our relations with our southern neighbors are better than they have been since 1917, a movement is gaining ground in this country which looks toward American occupation of Mexico as a defense measure. Such a proposal, which appeared in the last war, may secure our southern border, but only at the cost of widespread Latin-American resentment. It may become a military necessity, but we should make sure first that our gains from this seizure would offset the loss of Latin-American support which we would sustain. For the time, at least, the Fascist danger in Latin America is much greater from dictator-minded Latin Americans than from any outside attack. Any crisis which stirred these countries profoundly would help to bring these groups to power more quickly than anything else. Realization of this fact has led President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull to consider a policy of friendship and collaboration with the states south of us to be our best defense against Fascism and Nazism.

In the Far East, we still have many problems for us. If we could defeat would place French Indochina, Hongkong, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore and the islands of the south seas in danger of economic and military pressure from Japan. It is not too early to consider whether our policy is to be one of sharing the Pacific possessions with the British or deciding to hold the British possessions for ourselves. In either case, it appears that China will be left to the tender mercies of Japan unless Russia decides to interfere.

Thus we see the war involves many problems for us. If we could have seen last July or August that war was as imminent as President Roosevelt predicted, we might have been in a better position to postpone certain developments in Europe. Since we failed to prepare for that eventuality, it is well for us to consider our position in this war. There are many questions of policy to be settled. They can not be worked out by persons in panic, by ostentatious methods or by hysterical clamorings. We must consider our position, our resources, our needs and prepare sanely to carry out that policy best suited to our interests.

war in Europe, I said at the conclusion I would tell who the next world ruler is to be.
 We hear many people saying Hitler is going to rule the world. Impossible! Although he may for a while rule all Europe. God forbid.
 In about the year 606 B. C. King Nebuchadnezzar saw in a dream a great vision of a man all metallic and no one could interpret the dream to the King but Daniel, the only man of God there and he is in captivity. Daniel 2 chapter. This image the King saw and as interpreted by Daniel, systematically covers all the history of the world from that time on to the end which I will endeavor to show why no man is to be the fifth ruler of the world.

If you rulers will read this chapter of Daniel, because it is too long to get it here, and beginning at the 30 to 43rd verse you will see there will be four world kingdoms beginning with Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece, and Rome. After the downfall of the Roman empire then that left the feet of iron and clay which is and has been the nations small and great since then. Nero tried to rule the world. Napoleon tried desperately to do it. The Kaiser tried with all his might and failed and now Hitler with the most powerful mechanized and motorized war machines on land and in the air the world has ever known, is trying with all his might to accomplish it. Although he has so far gained almost 100 per cent every objective he has set out for, will he succeed? No, thank God for prophecy that cannot be changed or altered.

Now, turn again to this same 2nd chapter of Daniel 44 and 45 verses. Here, the nations cut out of the mountain without hands, Christ, who is to rule this kingdom which shall never be destroyed.

—Hitler no doubt will cause the greatest bloodshed the world to date has ever known—until the final and last battle of Armageddon. Then shall all nations flow to this great mountain which will never be destroyed, and Jerusalem will be the seat of government. Isn't it a glorious thought to know there is One who is able to set this old, sin-cursed world in order and set up a reign of peace and joy that can never be destroyed to last forever and ever. Amen.

Hafford Parker, who heads Parker's Garage, declared that Nash Motors anticipated a touring boom this year, and keynoted much of its 1940 engineering on a low-cost, motoring-for-fun basis. As an example of this, he cited the further development of the Nash car bed, which gives tourists many more days and miles of free vacation travel, and makes out-of-the-way places easily available to motorists.

Fifth Column of Bean Beetles Reported in Calloway County

The under cover work of the Mexican Bean Beetle was reported Monday June 5 by Houston Webb of the Providence section, also at Darrell Shoemaker's southeast from town, and a pair had parachuted into the garden of County Agent Cochran by the last of May.

The way to stop the advance of this destructive beetle is to use methods similar to those being tried in Europe, and that is to cut off the food supply or poison it to kill them.

Since this beetle feeds on the under side of the bean leaves, poison must be placed there. Poison placed on top of the leaves will not stop their advance.

Another important fact is that the beetle matures from egg to adult in 10 days and it is important that new applications of poison be placed at ten day intervals. With these two important steps as described above taken care of, it is not so important as to what to spray with, but a good cheap spray can be made by using magnesium arsenate, 1 part, and lime, 6 parts, for a dust; and a rounded tablespoon to a gallon of water for a liquid spray. Use this until beans are formed, then use a dust or spray containing pyrethrum or rotenone, because it is not poisonous to humans. Remember, spray or dust under side of leaves and repeat at least every ten days.

Hardin Circuit W. T. M. Jones, Pastor

The pastor will preach at Olive Sunday at 11 a. m. and at 7:45 p. m. The church schools will meet at all the churches at the regular hours.

Our District Conference will meet at McKenzie, Tenn., June 18. Our quarterly conference will meet at Olive June 23. Let the entire membership cooperate with officials that we may have our work ready for these conferences.

Let's make Sunday a great day for all our services.

Our Service...

Our services would not be complete without the aid of a lady assistant. For there are many little things that a woman intuitively seems to know should be done and does gracefully and tactfully, that the lady assistant is becoming an important factor in modern funeral service.

Sincerely, J. H. Churchill, Funeral Home, Telephone 7, Murray, Ky.

Kentucky to Aid Materially In Success of Dairy Month

New York, June 5—Kentucky is playing an important role in June Dairy Month, as the state's annual milk production is valued at more than $17,000,000.

"On January 1, there were 540,000 milk cows reported in Kentucky valued at $24,300,000," says the Milk Industry Foundation—in a statement urging nation-wide support for the Dairy Month campaign. "Production in 1939 equalled 877,000,000 quarts.

"Kentucky is an important state to the dairy industry," the Foundation declared, "and this June program will benefit consumers by emphasizing the food value of milk and dairy products, and enable producers and distributors to promote increased demand for excess farm milk production.

"In addition to fluid milk which brings the farmer his highest price, Kentucky in 1938 produced 23,814,000 pounds of butter, 7,903,000 pounds of cheese, 1,776,000 gallons of ice cream, 62,006,000 pounds of canned milk.

"In 1938 milk was the third largest single source of farm cash income in the state topped only by tobacco and cattle. Milk was 32 percent larger than cash farm income from hogs, 2 percent larger than the combined income from lamb, chickens and eggs, 2 1/2 times grain, more than 3 times vegetables, fruits and nuts.

"Estimates for the nation as a whole show that milk production on farms this June will reach a new all-time peak. Last June farm milk production in the U. S. totaled 5,332,000,000 quarts of milk."

WE ARE NOT ASLEEP

(AN EDITORIAL SERIAL)

When the Nazis fought through neutral Holland, they lost the United States of America. That is, much of it.

Of course, they never conquered the United States and it is problematical if they could—probematical even if they will ever want to. But when this country saw a nation overrun, when it was trying its best to be neutral and remain peaceful, the Germans lost no little of our sympathy. Already the Fifth Column of apathy had made inroads in America. Its task is now difficult and bordering on the impossible. America has visualized what could happen and is ready.

Isolationists, those who wanted the United States to stay out of all things pertaining to war, have nonetheless realized that preparation is a phase of national conditioning that cannot be overlooked. We must be prepared.

Events which followed the invasion of Holland, and which appear at this moment a possible prelude to the ultimate crushing of France and England, also have a lesson.

Mechanized, motor driven, armament has been most effective. Despite the opinion of army experts that after all is said and done the soldiers on foot will decide the war, it now appears that gasoline driven tanks and cars may be one deciding factor. Germany seems to have known. The rest of the world did not. Or perhaps it was the very effectiveness of the Nazi mobilization system—a style based on American blueprints.

However, if it takes mechanical ability and production to win a war, America's chances are of the best. She is recognized as the greatest mechanical nation on earth. She has by many times the greatest number of automobile drivers, the greatest number of pilots, commercial air-planes, and facilities to build more. She has the greatest factories, and they are located far from bases of possible enemy attack.

America is not ready to produce war machines and materials on a big scale, but she soon will be. Henry Ford said his factories in Detroit would turn out 1,000 airplanes a day if left alone by Government red tape. There are hundreds more, including the great Lockheed blueprints.

America is second to none in intelligence. Sending of an army overseas is still meeting opposition and will continue to do so. If America could not win a war at home, she certainly could not do so abroad. Perhaps, however, she might do either or both but there is little necessity in proving either just yet. However, technicians, skilled operators, and others will be in demand and could help the Allied cause much. The sending of tanks and other armaments from our factories would be only a step from war itself, and is not to be recommended—although, of course, Congress will decide that.

Possibly, today we are too late to send aid anyway, possibly not. At any rate, an awakened America is getting ready insofar as its own shores are concerned.

America realizes Great Britain's fleet has patrolled the Atlantic many years for her and permitted more American ships on the Pacific to be ever watchful over a semi-belligerent Asiatic set-up.

But there is far more behind America's defense problem than appears on the surface. We have the factories, the raw materials, the brains and nearly all it takes to build up a great war machine. However, we do not want to discount too much another factor, and that is the Americans who live in America.

Wars are not fought entirely at the front lines, on the sea or in the air. Behind every shell that whines a hymn of vengeance as it speeds toward the enemy, behind every plane that dromes through the sky indeed with bombs of destruction, behind every tank that roars its way to meet the foe are thousands of other persons, men and women.

These men and women include office workers, factory workers, laborers, chemists, farmers, administrators and even housewives. And take it for granted that Americans who make up America today, who are jealous of their living standards, jealous of their labor, fighting for every dollar they get, asking for more hours of recreation, containing an element of greed, of sensuality, of pleasure-loving America that has nearly forgotten the moral and religious standards of those who built this nation out of the rough, are not the Americans who can win a real war when the very foundations of this nation might be threatened.

Ominous indeed is the fact that Japan can build a fine battleship—and is doing it—at one-third the cost America can build one. Labor is the factor.

If there is a Nazi domination of Europe, aided by the other "isms", and America becomes actually threatened, then we residents of the United States will be forced to shed the artificial cloak which clothes many of us, and get to work and sacrifice without restraint, in order to maintain that for which we stand.

The industrialist or small business man who operates on large profits will be forced to forget them. The "40-hour-a-weekers", who get wages that make Europe marvel and jealous, will have to forget them. Labor unions will have to draw into a shell, farmers will have to produce food and be satisfied with plenty of personal needs as well. In short, the America of today will have to face things as they are; all sham, all greed, all pretense, and the various other factors that grow out of these, will have to be tossed overboard.

This is not idle chatter. History substantiates all claims. Great nations have held sway, conquered, decayed and died. The reasons they passed out of existence are plainly shown in history. It was not because enemies grew stronger, it was because the great powers grew weaker. The reason they grew weaker is written in black and white.

If there are not sufficient persons in the United States willing to sacrifice and to dominate those who are unwilling to sacrifice, then America will get just what she is asking for. The "isms" will come out on top and they will not include Americanism, as we know it today.

Should these clouds appear on our horizon, and recent events make it appear a possibility, if a remote one, then this sacrifice must be made. You may go to the polls and vote as you wish or you may not vote, but still you enjoy that privilege. You have right to express your personal opinions about anyone or anything. You have the highest living standard of any nation in the world. You may go to church or you may not, but you fully believe that, if a person wants to go to the church of his choice, that is his privilege. You may not be a farmer, but you believe he has a right to plant the crops he wants, raise the stock he wants, cut what timber he wants and make the profits he can.

You believe that, if oil, gas, coal, gold, silver, lead, copper or any other mineral is found under your land, you have the right to it and if you do not own land that the person who does own it has the right to it.

You believe you have a right to travel in this nation where you please and without questioning as long as you obey the laws of good behavior.

You believe you have a right to buy what you want in the quantity you want and from whom you please.

You believe you have the right to work at the job you desire, to quit if you do not like it and, to seek another.

You believe you have a right to go to bed and arise when you wish and to light your home as you see fit, using as much or as little fuel as you desire.

If you buy a car, you believe you should buy the one you want, pay an advertised price, drive it where you want and when.

If you desire entertainment, you believe you have the right to go where you desire and do what you want to do, as long as you again observe the rules of good behavior.

Yes, all of these are simple things, every day things, things that are part of the American way of living. They are so common and so taken for granted they are but little thought of. However, there is only one "ism" that permits all of these and it is Americanism.

Our President, our business leaders, our economists, our pastors and others have been pleading for months for a spiritual revival.

Why? For the simple reason that a spiritually right human has within him the power to make sacrifices which would be for the betterment of all, and would be so minded that he could adapt himself to any circumstances in order to preserve those things that are so peculiar to America and which we love.

The storm clouds now hiding the sun from other portions of the world may fade into oblivion before they drift this direction and all may remain serene here. We believe this is the most logical course, provided we do not, like the boastful rooster, strike into the center of the ring. But foolish indeed is the man who does not keep a close watch on his barometer when storm warnings are posted.

Let us be watchful at home, discreet abroad.

ONE BIRD TO ANOTHER

By MARTHA GARDNER

This month has been proclaimed by the Governor of our Commonwealth as Dairy Month. In compliance with his proclamation, then, let all housewives see how great a supply of dairy products they can use in feeding their family in an effort to aid in the promotion of the dairy industry.

Milk, butter and cheese may be used in a vast number of ways in preparing meals that will consume larger quantities than we use at present, and such an increased use will certainly benefit the farmers, who have learned in the last few years that dairy cattle are a source of income worth having.

Custards, scooped and creamed vegetables, and now that the weather is warmer, ice creams can add very appetizing notes to your meal planning and all tests prove that the ingredients used in the preparation of such dishes are healthful.

Some Red Cross literature that recently came to my attention stated that Mrs. Sara C. Thompson, an 88-year-old woman of Charleston, S. C., is, for the fourth time in her life engaged in knitting socks and sweaters for war relief. Mrs. Thompson has already made 10 children's sweaters and numerous pairs of socks for sufferers of the present war, but her first war relief work was during the Civil War when she sewed for Confederate soldiers.

Her second war relief work was done during the Spanish-American war and during the World War she knitted 75 pairs of socks and made many woolen helmets and sweaters. She is the mother of seven sons.

In the wake of the movie "Swanee River", and probably started before the picture was thought of, comes Claire Lee Purdy's life of Stephen Foster for children, which is called HE HEARD AMERICA SING. The book is illustrated by Dorothea Cooke and contains 28 of Foster's most famous songs with the music.

In speaking of the book, Fletcher Hodges, Jr., Curator Foster Hall Collection, University of Pittsburgh, says "Children may now become acquainted easily with this composer, the stories behind his songs, their background and their significance in the American scene."

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends, our neighbors, and to all who have been so kind to us during the illness and death of our darling Pauline Moore Raspberry. Your kind words and deeds have made this great sorrow more bearable and have helped us to better understand what Jesus meant when he said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me." "Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Marriage of Miss Farmer and Mr. Noel Is Revealed Saturday at Lovely Tea

The marriage of Miss Maryne Farmer and E. L. Noel, Jr., which came as a pleasant surprise to their many friends, was revealed Saturday at a lovely informal tea which was given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Arthur Farmer, at their home on Poplar Street. A color scheme of pink and white was developed in the decorations of the spacious reception rooms with a profusion of centerpieces used in artistic arrangement.

The guests were received by Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Noel who were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Marvin Fulton and Mrs. W. M. Reeder.

Following the arrival of the guests a telegram was presented at the door and handed to Mrs. A. V. Havens who read the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farmer announce the marriage of their daughter, Maryne, and E. L. Noel, Jr., which was solemnized on October 16, 1939, at Metropolis, Ill., with the Rev. J. W. Cummings performing the ceremony."

Best wishes were extended the bride and the guests were then invited into the dining room where a dainty tea course was served. The table was draped with a lace cloth, and held a centerpiece of pink roses with tall pink tapers burning in silver candleholders. The mints, sandwiches and cookies repeated the pink and white color scheme. Mrs. Havens presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Noel is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farmer, and her charming personality has endeared her to a wide circle of friends. She is a student at Murray State College where she is active in campus affairs, and was chosen for the part of the leading lady in the movie which was sponsored recently by the Lions Club.

Mr. Noel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Noel, Sr., of Somerset, will receive his degree in social science at Murray State in February. He has taken a prominent part in athletics, having been a member of the varsity tennis team for two years, and on the boxing team in 1938. He is a member of the M. Club, the Physical Education Club, and is a former vice-president of the Geology Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel are at home for the present with the bride's parents.
