Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Following is the kind of letter we like to receive.

Mrs. A. W. Morris of Dexter, Mo., writes the letter, and we take this opportunity right now to thank her for her kind expressions.

Dear Sir: Would you please forward Lester and me to Mrs. J. S. Clark of Highland Park, Michigan. I will greatly appreciate it. I recently renewed my subscription and receive it daily. I enjoy the paper and feel I get my money's worth by far. It is a growing paper. Thanks.

Mrs. Clark is Mrs. Morris' daughter and she added that Mrs. Morris is the bookkeeper for the A. P. Farmer Tobacco here in Murray.

We appreciate any and all letters from our subscribers whether they are complimentary or not, but naturally we appreciate the complimentary ones the best.

The dirt streets in the colored section of town surely are in a mess.

The last of the Christmas candy is disappearing fast at our house.

It was pretty well concealed under the three year old accidently lifted the top of the cake plate.

From the looks on his face when he made the discovery you would have thought that he had struck pure gold.

When it was found we had to dish some of it out and then find a new hiding place.

All that remains now is about half a Christmas stocking of hard candy.

Almost half of January is gone. March will be here in about another month and a half. Guess we can make it the rest of the winter now.

Do you remember Mr. Mountain Dean, the wrestler? He used to be the terror of the wrestling world.

His real name is Frank Levitt, and he is now living on his farm near Morocco, Georgia.

There will be a full moon tonight five minutes before midnight. We will miss it.

This date last year President Truman named John Foster Dulles head of a mission to consult with General MacArthur and Japanese leaders on a Japanese peace treaty.

This date in history: The philosopher and psychologist, William James, was born in 1829. 80,000 persons were killed by an earthquake in Catania, Italy, in 1693, and a Brooklyn milkman, Alexander Campbell, delivered the first milk in glass bottles, in 1828.

The news from our correspondents in the county are becoming more interesting as the weeks pass.

The news they send is not only interesting to us, but also small comments of sympathy and congratulations, and on things in general, makes them interesting reading.

There is not a one that comes in, that does not get our personal inspection.

Chatterbox who writes of the events of New Concord commended on the nice letter that the Murray route six correspondent sent in the other day.

We noticed that letter and agree with her that it was one of the best we have received in recent months.

Rev. Robert Jarman is going to preach Sunday on "How To Be Happy." That should be a good sermon and should be well attended.

Incidentally the First Christian Church has moved up their Sunday evening services to 8:00 o'clock during January and February. This might enable some persons who so desire, to go there if they want to get to some of their service later.

Dr. Houston Some Better

Dr. Hal Houston was reported to be some better yesterday evening. He is now in the Barnes Hospital in St. Louis.

In a telephone conversation between Dr. McDevitt of the clinic staff and Miss Annie Nichols of the Murray Hospital who is in St. Louis, Miss Nichols reported that the index finger of Dr. Hal's left hand had to be removed. She said that possibly one more finger on that hand might have to be removed.

There is little muscle damage to Dr. Hal's left leg and he is in no danger of losing it, she reported. He will suffer no deformity after he recovers from the serious burns he received in the disastrous fire last Wednesday morning.

For the benefit of those who wish to write to Dr. Hal or send him some message of sympathy, his address is as follows: Dr. Hal E. Houston, room 8204, Barnes Hospital St. Louis, Missouri.

Two Points Still Deadlock Truce Talks

The truce talks at Panmunjom have settled down to a steady deadlock over two major points. But a UN spokesman says the Allies will "keep trying."

Senior Brigadier General William Nuckolls: "There have been deadlocks in the past—and they have been resolved."

No progress was reported during the day in the talks on exchanging war prisoners or supervising an armistice. What's more, one of the Allied truce men said there wouldn't be much progress from now on if the Reds didn't give a "straight" answer to a simple question.

Major General Howard Turner said that question is whether or not the Reds intend to build up their airpower during an armistice. Last month, said Turner, the Red truce said the Reds fully intended to build new airfields during a truce.

Since then, according to Turner, other UN delegates have accused the UN of "slander and misrepresentation" in charging that the Reds had built more fields. Turner told the Red truce men today they would have to "get together" among themselves if they expect any progress.

The enemy truce men replied by denying they had contradicted themselves and said they would not give any "satisfactory answer" to what they called the UN's "unreasonable demands."

As far as the fighting goes, little new ground action was reported during the day. In the air, Allied pilots downed an enemy jet plane.

Mrs. Carter And Mrs. Clopton To Attend Training School

Mrs. Martha Carter, 711 Olive Street, State Manager, and Mrs. Ruth Clopton, Deputy, of the Supreme Forestry Woodmen Circle will attend a training school for field workers of the Society in the Northeastern states of Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, and Virginia in the Bibbwood Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio, January 17, 18, and 19. This three day school will be an extensive course in the selling of life insurance, hospitalization and health and accident insurance to women and children.

The Supreme Forestry Woodmen Circle has assets of $48,500,000, and over $123,650,000 in insurance in force. The Society is managed by the Board of Directors composed entirely of women and insures only women and girls, providing fraternal training for adults and children and sorority life in the Tau Epsilon Sorority for young women.

Mrs. Carter will speak the morning of the first day on "Features of Our Certificates." She will also exemplify the part of President in the Model Lodge Meeting to be presented the evening of the second day.

Mrs. Clopton will present the United States Flag the morning of the third day.

Mrs. Goldie McKee Curt, District Manager, will also attend the three day training school.

Welcome Given Captain Carlsen

The cruel weather was not satisfied with the welcome it accorded over Captain Carlsen at sea. It followed him ashore today.

But it couldn't steal his glory. Seven thousand people lined the streets and piers of Falmouth, England, to greet Captain Kurt Carlsen—who fought and lost a 15-day battle against weather and the North Atlantic to save his freighter, Flying Enterprise.

There was rain, hail and sleet as Carlsen stepped ashore—in a borrowed overcoat much too big for him. But the crowd just buttoned up and shouted louder.

The skipper's Danish friends were in Falmouth to greet him. The emotion of the reception was almost too much for the captain. He choked up as he spoke, and seemed to be fighting tears. He said—"I want to thank all those who backed me. I just can't find words enough to thank you. And so added—"I deeply regret it was not possible to bring the Enterprise to port."

With Carlsen was young Kenneth Deane—the toughest mate who had joined Carlsen aboard the freighter to share half of his lonely vigil. He was too overwhelmed to say much on shore.

But earlier he told newsmen on the way, "You don't know how I feel. I'm like Carlsen twice in a lifetime."

In New York, Carlsen's employers, the International Line, announced there will be another "Flying Enterprise" soon, and that Carlsen will be offered another command as soon as he gets back. A line spokesman said the ill-fated vessel was intended for one-month voyage, but replacing it will cost about five million.

Meanwhile, Carlsen got a taste of what it means to be a hero. When he stepped ashore in Falmouth, he found commercial offers waiting for him—bids for his story, and for endorsement of various products. They total $200,000.

Observation Corps To Get Practice Here

The newly formed ground observation corps of Murray will get its first real experience Saturday when planes will fly over the city. They must be identified and pertinent information such as type, altitude, formation, and direction of flight phoned to the filter center at Louisville.

The observation corps is the 10th of its kind in the world. It is composed of members of the local Lions Club and upper classmen at Murray High School. From the Lions are W. Z. Carter, supervisor, Dewey Ragdale, Keith Morris, Paul Garman, Bryan Tolley, Rue Overby, Fred Schultz, Elliott Wear, W. E. Moser, Max Churchill and Henry Fulton.

Members from Murray High School are Bill Corbett, Chief Observer, Hal Houston, Harry Furches, Cheryl Lash, Frank Miller, Sammy Crank and Billy Mott.

The observation post is the Women's Club House, which is free from obstruction and from which planes may be seen from several miles in any direction. The phone in the Club House will be available for making reports of any and all planes observed which may be considered suspicious. The observers have held several meetings and been instructed by Sgt. Wheatcroft of the U. S. Air Force. They are divided into teams for duty and when necessary will be available 24 hours daily.

War Places Woman In Predicament

The fortunes of war have really messed up the life of a young woman in Atlanta.

Messing it up, too badly that pretty 22-year-old Agnes Sasser isn't sure whether she has one husband or two...or whether she soon may have none at all.

Mrs. Sasser was once the wife of Private Walter Dixon. In June of 1951, she was notified that Dixon had been killed in action in Korea. Months later she married another man, William Sasser.

But fate intervened again. This time in the form of a letter. The letter—according to Mrs. Sasser—was in the handwriting of her first husband, Dixon. It said he was alive and a prisoner of the Reds.

The Army has voiced doubts as to the letter. One spokesman in Washington says that Dixon's death was "well substantiated by eyewitness reports." The Army asked Mrs. Sasser to send the letter to Washington for a check.

But Mrs. Sasser is taking no more chances. She has taken steps to end her second marriage, and husband number two is now being annulled—figuring it's just about the only course open right now.

Purchase-Pennyrile Tournery Won By Wickliffe Blue Tigers

Wickliffe's Blue Tigers dealt the Cuba Cubs their first defeat of the season 52-51 and then beat Dawson Springs 73-56 in the final round to win the 14th annual Purchase-Pennyrile tournament Thursday in Murray State gym.

Dawson Springs won its way into the championship game by defeating Holy Name of Henderson, the other Pennyrile team, 51-48. Holy Name was defeated by Wickliffe 71-56 in the consolation. A crowd of 1800 frenzied fans watched Cuba's all state guard, Howie Crittenden, miss a game-tying free throw after the game was over to send the Cubs to defeat for the first time in 17 games since the finals of last year's state tournament.

The Dawson Springs-Holy Name contest started slowly. Bill Goldey of Holy Name and Charles Nichols of Dawson Springs took matters into their hands to lead the scoring and play-making with 23 and 15 points respectively. The game was tight during the second and third quarters before Dawson pulled into its eventual six point lead. Holy Name lost Bill Fenwick and Dawson-Springs' lost Joe Russell on fouls.

Cuba and Wickliffe battled all the way with the lead changing hands on practically every shot. Cuba, though weakened by illness, displayed its usual finesse while the Tigers capitalized upon aggression and excellent team play.

Cuba held the lead through the game 50-48 with two minutes left in the contest. Charles Floyd committed his fifth foul with 1:38 on the clock. Wickliffe's magnificent play-maker, Phil Rollins, brought the score to 50-48 with one minute left and Buddy Shockley tied it up for Wickliffe with two seconds to go. Cuba's forward Raymond McClure who played a scrappy game, fouled Wickliffe's Roger Giles with 11 seconds to go. Giles missed his shot but Rollins tipped in the winning basket. The second, ineffectual foul shot of shooting with only 2 seconds to play, the horn sounded as the foul was called and the fans surged onto the floor to congratulate Wickliffe.

When the floor was cleared Crittenden was awarded two foul shots. With both teams holding their breath Crittenden missed his first shot. The second, ineffectual shot brought the score to 52-51. The win was Wickliffe's 14th of the year against one loss. Wickliffe's Carl Newton was top scorer for the game with 18 points. Floyd topped Cuba scoring with 16 markers. Wickliffe lost Roger Poole, Jewell Morgan and Buddy Shockley on fouls. Cuba lost Floyd and Joe Warren.

A scrappy Holy Name team fought Cuba to a standstill for almost two quarters before fouls took them out. The Cubs rolled away to a comfortable lead and turned the contest over to reserves in the last quarter. Holy Name lost scores Goldey and John Reid early in the third period and Cuba's Warren went out the same way as last period. Floyd was the leading scorer with 29 points. Goldey

AAUW Member Support Four Point Program

The Murray Branch of AAUW held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Science Building, the president, Miss Lydia Wehling, appointed a nominating committee consisting of Miss Roberta Whitman, Mrs. Orval Austin, and Miss Lottie Suter.

The program was in charge of the legislative chairman, Mrs. John Winter, asked each member to contact the representative and senator to the Kentucky legislature urging them to support the four items to education which AAUW is supporting: (1) distribution of common school funds on other than a per capita basis; (2) raising of the common schools to approved National average; (3) increased contribution to teachers' requirement; (4) improved textbook law to permit school districts to select books from a list of ten.

The program was in charge of the Education Committee and the topic for discussion was "The Moral and Spiritual Values in the Guidance of Children." The chairperson was Mrs. W. D. Ashbrough.

The Type of Moral and Spiritual Guidance Programs Now Existing in our Schools in Murray by Miss Roberta Whitman.

How the Community and Church Groups Help Contribute to this Type of Training by Mrs. W. D. Ashbrough.

Sources and Kinds of Books Available for Moral and Spiritual Guidance and the Influence of other types of communication, such as Radio, Television, and Movies by Miss Betty Ekins.

Mrs. Herbert Halpert, program chairman, summarized the reports by saying, "that it would seem in Murray Schools, community and churches are doing an excellent job in training in moral and spiritual guidance. The lack in certain other areas may be our fault. We are morally responsible to make ourselves heard."

Group discussion followed.

Purpose of the committee is to develop legislation that will cut down costs and increase the efficiency of post offices in the country.

Senator Olin D. Johnson, a Democrat from South Carolina, is chairman of the committee and has chosen Underwood and Republican senator Frank Carlson of Kansas to serve with him on the committee.

Four Members Of High School Stump Soon Says Manager

GHENT Jan. 11 (UPI)—A highway accident has brought sadness to the High School basketball team in Northern Kentucky, today.

Four members of the Ghent grade school basketball team are dead after a car carrying five members of the team smashed into the back of a tobacco truck last night on U. S. highway 42, about six miles east of Carrollton.

Police who investigated the accident say three boys were killed in the crash. All three were seventh grade students at the county school.

They have been identified as 15-year-old John Humble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Humble, 15-year-old Don Layton, son of Mrs. Katherine Layton, and 15-year-old Delbert Lee Winburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winburn.

A fourth member of the team, 14-year-old Norvin Layton, has died in Norton Memorial Infirmary in Louisville today. He was a brother of Don Layton, one of the boys killed last night.

Another player, 14-year-old John Riley, and the driver of the car, James Lee Fothergill, have suffered only cuts and bruises and are not seriously injured.

Police say Fothergill has told them he was driving a car owned by the coach of the grade school team and had been going about 50 miles an hour when the accident occurred just outside of Ghent.

Fothergill says he didn't see the truck until it was too late to miss it. He says he can't remember if the truck's parking lights were on at the time or not.

Sheriff J. J. Coghlin, one of the policemen who arrived at the scene, says the truck had been carrying a load of tobacco into Carrollton and had broken down.

Coghlin says the owner of the truck, Ernest Gadd of Burlington, Kentucky, had pulled the truck off the road.

But, according to the sheriff, the rear of the truck had projected some two feet onto the highway.

Both Gadd and Fothergill, a 16-year-old friend of the boys killed, have been arrested on manslaughter charges.

General Eisenhower May Take Stump Soon Says Manager

A political manager of General Eisenhower predicts the Atlantic pact commander will take the stump before convention time.

The Eisenhower manager, who does not wish to be quoted by name, says he expects the General to return to America before July to deliver one or more major speeches. He says the talks will not be made under political sponsorship, but will summarize Eisenhower's views on national issues. The statement was made despite denials from the General's French headquarters that he plans any pre-convention speech-making.

Meantime, another Republican Bigwig—Senator Taft—is stepping up his pre-convention activities.

He wired the Nebraska secretary of state for the latest compilation of Nebraska election laws. The Ohioans move speeded fresh speculation that he will enter the state presidential primary being held April 1st.

Harold Stassen beat Taft in the Nebraska primary in 1948. Since then, the state law has been changed. A candidate's consent is now required before his name can be placed on a ballot. Previously, petitions signed by 100 persons in each of the state's four Congressional districts automatically placed any candidate on the ballot.

So far, Stassen has not decided whether he will enter the Nebraska primary. He is expected to confer with officials of his Nebraska organization in Washington this week.

Taft told a newsmen yesterday that he is looking forward confidently to a test of his vote-drawing powers against Stassen in the presidential primary in Illinois. Said the Senator: "If I can't beat him in Illinois, I can't beat him anywhere." Taft explained that Stassen's entry into the Illinois primary was a challenge which could not be ignored. Taft is favored by the Republican organization in Illinois. Before he decided last Wednesday to enter the Illinois contest, Taft had planned to go into only the Ohio and Wisconsin primaries.

Of the Democratic side of the ledger, Democratic chairman from five Ohio counties endorsed Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as the party's presidential nominee. The Ohioans said they would back Kefauver since President Truman has indicated he will not enter any state primaries.

Weather Playing Flighly Tricks

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (UPI)—The thermometer is playing some flighly tricks across this nation this morning. It's dipping to below-normal readings on the east coast, rising to almost mild temperatures in northern border sections.

The entire east coast from Maine to the Gulf Coast is experiencing a new cold front that tumbled temperatures some 10 degrees. Light snow flurries accompanied the cold in New England. There's also a cold front moving over Montana and threatening to spread to other northern states along with a light snow.

But in the central section change in the temperature was in the opposite direction. The mercury has climbed above freezing in most mid-section areas.

Except for light snow in the cold front portions of the nation and some showers in the northwest, fair weather is predicted for most of the country.

Some early morning temperatures were—New York, 19; Atlanta, 27; Miami, 52; Chicago, 30; Kansas City, 34; Laredo, Texas, 43; Cutbank, Montana, 4 below; Denver, 24; Los Angeles, 45; and San Francisco, 45.

New Allotments To Be Granted

Under the present regulations governing new tobacco allotments, any farmer who has had experience growing a type of tobacco that he does not have an allotment for, can be granted a new allotment.

To be eligible he must have grown the type he is applying for two years in the last 5 years, to wit: 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951, unless he has served in the armed forces. A veteran is required to have grown the type of tobacco he is applying for one year before entering the service or has grown the type of tobacco he is applying for one year since his discharge.

Other requirements are that he live on the farm, derive 50 percent or more of his income from the farm on which the new allotment is grown, does not own a farm that has an allotment of the type applied for, have land suitable for tobacco and have curing space.

Explosive Sweaters Found On Market

At least two of the companies making explosive sweaters have been tracked down, said a federal official today.

The sweaters first turned up in the west coast, and later they were found in Massachusetts and New York.

It seems that if a flame comes anywhere near the neck, they go up in a flash. Chemists say they are made of nylon, with a nap that's as sensitive as a fuse on a firecracker. One touch of flame and they are off.

All the authorities knew before tonight was that they were being sold by door-to-door peddlers.

But, tonight, in Providence, Rhode Island, fire captain Thomas Fitzgerald found two factories turning out the hot stuff. He has asked the city's legal authorities to be run so to stop distribution of the sweaters.

MOTHER NATURE AND BABY GIRL GET IMPATIENT WITH SLIGHT DELAY

Mother Nature pulled a fast one on Mr. and Mrs. Troy Webb Tuesday. Ideally, they had been expecting their baby for some time, so Mr. Webb took Mrs. Webb to the Murray Hospital Sunday about 11:30, parked the car at the ambulance entrance, and went inside to make arrangements for her admittance.

He was not very long at all, and returned hastily with nurses to take Mrs. Webb into the hospital.

They were greeted with the they cry of a baby girl, who apparently became impatient with the delay. Mother and daughter are reported to be in good condition at the hospital in spite of the hasty birth.

Mr. Webb is also reported to be in good condition.

MEN CHARGED WITH WORKING ON SUNDAY

DANVILLE, Jan. 11 (UPI)—Trials of 30 pipeline workers charged with working on Sunday are scheduled at Danville, Kentucky, today.

County Judge S. R. Check, Jr., will preside.

The men were arrested December 30th on warrants sworn to by two former John Robinson and James Lee Murphy Jr.

The charges against the men allegedly brought after they allegedly had been involved in fixing dynamite near the homes of the farmers.

US May Bounce Back In Price Support Field

This, of course, would tend to reduce our lean supplies still further—and probably exhaust them before a new crop can be grown. Then, too, farmers aren't going to raise quite as many potatoes this year as they would have if the price had been more attractive. These two factors—greater consumption and lower production—will merely serve to extend the current situation another year with prices, meanwhile, straining to go just the ceiling.
