MASS MEETING CALLED ON STRIKE ISSUE

Vote Taken On School Funds Here

Approximately 100 representatives from 25 local units in the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers at their district conference at Murray State College yesterday unanimously voted for a proposed amendment to the state constitution which would let the general assembly prescribe the method of distribution of school funds. The amendment which will be voted on in the November election also provides for the repeal of section 186 of the state constitution which now prescribes for a per capita distribution of the funds. The representatives further endorsed unanimously the Proposed Foundation program for the approval of the general assembly as a method of distributing school funds. Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler outlined the foundation program to the conference. Mrs. James G. Sheahan of Danville, state PTA president, presided and urged approval of the amendment.

Prisoners Of War At Home

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN United Press Staff Correspondent Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Aug. 12 (UP)—Seventeen sick Americans freed from Communist prison camps returned home from Korea today, the first freed since the armistice. A C-54 Military Air Transport Service hospital plane bearing 14 seriously ill tuberculosis cases and three mental patients touched Travis Air Force Base 50 miles northeast of San Francisco at 8:4 a. m. e.d.t. The mental patients, described by the Army as "quite restless," had restraining belts around their stretchers and their arms were strapped to their sides. The ex-prisoners had begun their 6,000-mile flight in Tokyo Monday night, stopping at Midway Island to refuel and at Honolulu for a 19-hour rest. Their illnesses were considered so serious that military authorities decided to rush them home by air for immediate treatment. Three hundred and twenty-eight other freed Americans sailed from Inchon, Korea, Tuesday aboard the troopship Gen. Nelson K. Walker. All was in readiness at Travis for the arrival of the 17 emaciated ex-prisoners. Ambulances were drawn up near the plane, ready to rush the men to the base hospital for a rest. A staff of doctors and aides were on hand to examine them and send them to hospitals specializing in the treatment they needed. The final destination of the patients was not expected to be made known until after the medical examinations. Among those attending the prisoners on the flight to Travis was Navy flight nurse Lt. JG Virginia Cardillo, Oakdale, Pa. The 17 looked thin and weak from long months of maltreatment in Communist prison camps. They were grim and silent as they were carried aboard their plane Tuesday, but even so, some showed signs of high spirits. Newsmen were not allowed to talk to the ex-prisoners during their stay in Honolulu. Officials in Honolulu said the names of the three mental cases would not be released for "Compassionate reasons."

Hundreds Die In Earthquake In Greece

Athens, Greece, Aug. 12 (UP)—Shattering new earthquakes demolished an entire city and brought death to hundreds today, as frantic police on the Greek island of Cephalonia radioed that the island was "sinking" and "all is crumbling down." Today's tremors—most violent of a three-day series—destroyed Argostolios, capital of Cephalonia, and spread devastation across two adjoining islands. Incomplete reports from the scene said 400 died and hundreds were injured in Tuesday's devastating quakes. There were no official estimates of the total killed and injured in the latest earth convulsions. The Gendarmerie Administration on Cephalonia sent this frenzied radio message after today's most violent shock: "We are all sinking. Send navy to take off inhabitants. They are mad with fear. All is crumbled down." Heavy seas churned up by the quakes were reported breaking high along the island's coast. Ships sailing near Cephalonia reported the entire island is "obscured by a towering cloud of dust." The town of Lixourion was wiped out. "The latest earth shocks rocked the island and the nearby islands of Ithaca and Zante as volunteers and police clawed through crumbling walls and explored gaping fissures in the earth for survivors and victims of Tuesday's earthquakes. American authorities in Greece said helicopters were being sent to the shaken region to drop food and medical supplies. Ships loaded with rescue workers and food supplies rushed from the Greek mainland to the islands today and the British fleet headquarters in Malta said it was sending aid.

NOT COVERED BY LAW

Menlo Park, Calif., Aug. 12 (UP)—John Kiefer complained to officials that a parrot called him some "very ugly words." Kiefer said he climbed into a pear tree after the uncouth bird and it squawked, "You don't know to much you old." Authorities said they were sympathetic but there was no law against foulmouthed parrots.

Calloway County Dairy Show Is Held Here August 15

The Calloway County Junior Dairy Show will be held on August 15, according to information received today. The animals should be on the grounds by 9:00 o'clock with the judging to begin at 10:00 o'clock. The event will be held on the Murray State College campus. Sponsors of the project are the Ryan Milk Company, the Peoples Bank and the Bank of Murray. The committee in charge of the show are Milton Walton, chairman, S. V. Foy, and Carmon Parks. The rules and regulations for the annual event are as follows: 1. Participants are limited to 4-H and FFA members in good standing living in Calloway County. 2. Each entry must be certified by the county agent or agricultural teachers. 3. All animals must be registered in the names of the 4-H and FFA members showing them and their registration and transfer papers shown to the superintendent of the show. 4. Only females are eligible to be shown. 5. All animals not halter broken and fitted for the show will automatically be placed in the "white ribbon" or "fair" group. This decision will be made by the judges. 6. 4-H and FFA members must have owned the animals at least 60 days before the show. 7. The animals will be judged on the Danish system. Very Good or Blue Ribbon, Good or Red Ribbon, Fair or White Ribbon. 8. There will be $225.00 in prize money awarded. (Blue 3X) (Red 2X) (White X). 9. Ribbons for the show will be furnished by the Calloway County Farm Bureau. 10. Showmanship halter will be given to the best 4H club member.

Rev. Byler Addresses Lions Club

Rev. S. E. Byler, minister of the Memorial Baptist Church, spoke before the Murray Lions Club last night. He used as his subject the current strike situation at the Murray Manufacturing Company. Rev. Byler told the Lions present that "We are on the verge of losing our strongest industry in Calloway County." He stated that everyone is being affected by the stoppage of the plant, including himself. His statement that "we're going to lose unless something is done," caused his listeners obvious discomfort. "The deadline is set," he continued, "we're going to lose in a matter of days—not weeks, but days." He pointed out that the economy of the county is being jeopardized by outside elements. Brother Byler related that he was a member of a very large family, and like all normal families had quarrels and squabbles. "If any outsider moved in to argue with any member of his family, the group would band together against the outsider," he said. "We, here in Murray, are a family," he said, "we have allowed elements to disturb our economy." "We should not allow out-of-town investigators to disrupt completely everything we have 'all worked so hard to achieve,'" he continued. Brother Byler stated emphatically, "I am not against either labor or management—I'm against anyone who works against us." Rev. Byler ended his talk with a proposal that a body be formed to meet together and pray together. "We seek reach an honorable agreement—honorable to God and ourselves," he concluded.

Jet Plane Crashes Into House And Kills Nine

By Jacques Carier, Que., Aug. 12 (UP)—Twin investigations were ordered today in the fiery crash of a new jet fighter plane that killed nine persons, including five children, when it roared through four houses in St. Lawrence River village. Jittery citizens appealed meanwhile for "some sort of protection" from the screaming aircraft skirting nearby St. Hubert Base of the Royal Canadian Air Force. A twin-jet GF-100, Canada's newest fighter, roared eastward at 300 miles an hour Tuesday night and slammed into the row of houses while 10 feet above the ground. Explosions set the plane and the houses ablaze instantly. Flames roared through the tangle of timber and steel trapping the five children and the mother and grandmother of two of them. The fighter's pilot and navigator also died. The dead were in two of the houses. Mrs. Emilien Fournier, 57, her daughter, Mrs. Marcel Boussa, 30, and the latter's six-year-old son, Michel, and two-year-old daughter, Jeannette, died in one house. Pierre Laviole, 6, his sister, Collette, 4, and brother Normand, 2 months, died in another. Four other persons were burned and hospitalized, including Mrs. Marie Laviole who suffered critical burns in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue her three children.

2612 Mile Trip Is Enjoyed By Yandell Wrather's Recently

Returning refreshed and quite pleased with their vacation trip through the east, the Yandell Wrathers have lots of stories to tell about their trip. They left Murray July 13th by automobile. After spending two days in the eastern part of Kentucky, they motored to Washington, D. C. While in Washington, the Wrathers visited Yandell's brother, Steve Wrather, who is with the Marketing Department of Tobacco. They were happy to see Mrs. Wrather's sister, Mrs. John A. Shouse, who also resides in Washington. Yandell had been cautioned about the fast, heavy traffic in New York City. However, he gathered his courage and his family to set off for New York over the New Jersey Turnpike. They pulled up to the entrance of the Plymouth Hotel in the heart of New York with no tickets, or mishaps. Yandell said that the trip from Washington to New York wasn't bad at all. While in the nation's wonder city, the family took in several plays. They went to Radio City where they saw the current Broadway hit "Bandwagon." "The music was wonderful," Yandell commented. The Wrathers also saw the stage production of "Annie Get Your Gun." A regular tour of the city's points of interest, including the United Nations Building, the Bowery, and Chinatown, was taken while they were there. From New York, they traveled to Niagara Falls, and Letchworth Park. Yandell said the Letchworth Park is almost as beautiful as Niagara Falls. While at Niagara, the family got a good "soaking" under the falls, due to a shift in the wind's direction. Mr. and Mrs. Wrather considered their visit with Dr. Stockin, head of the Romance Languages Department of Houghton College, a very pleasant one. While at Houghton College Mr. and Mrs. Wrather and their daughter, Barbara Jo, considered their overnight visit with Mr. Ortlip, the famous portrait painter, to be a most outstanding event on the tour. Ortlip's entire family are painters. Mr. Ortlip specializes in painting of a religious nature. Yandell relates that this family of painters have made their home and studio in an old barn. It is a picturesque and very comfortable, he says. Ortlip is in charge of the art department at Houghton College, which is about 300 miles from New York City. The weather held up wonderfully well on their 2612 mile trip through the east. Mr. and Mrs. Wrather's niece, Carolyn Jean Whouse, who had been visiting here in Murray, returned to her home in Washington with them.

Mrs. Myrtle Speight who is 75 years of age fell Sunday and sustained injury of a broken arm just below the shoulder. She was rushed to Campbell Clinic in Memphis, Tenn., where she will remain for a few days. She is the mother of a Harold Speight of South 16th Street, Murray.

Germ Warfare Poses More Serious Problem Than The Hydrogen Bomb Scientist Says

By HERBERT FOSTER United Press Staff Correspondent Washington, Aug. 12 (UP)—A leading atomic scientist said today germ warfare poses a deadlier threat to mankind than the hydrogen bomb. But defense officials quickly disputed the statement. Prof. George Gamow of George Washington University, a world-famous nuclear physicist, told a reporter that the H-bomb which Russia now claims to possess is not the weapon to be feared most in the modern arsenal of mass killers. "Biological warfare would be worse," he said. "In sheer destructiveness, a little bottle of germs could do more damage than an H-bomb." Defense Department spokesmen said they did not share Gamow's view, and asserted that this country has "excellent" defenses against germ warfare. "Nobody is worried about the possibility of a devastating bacteriological attack," one Pentagon official said. Officials refused to say how much information, if any, U. S. intelligence agencies have been able to obtain about Russian progress in germ weapons. Nor would they discuss this country's own "BW" development program, which is conducted under condition of extreme secrecy at Camp Detrick, Md. It is U. S. policy to treat germ weapons like poison gas—that is, them in war unless the enemy does so first. But the army evidently feels that the power to retaliate strongly is the best insurance against enemy use of such weapons. From several authoritative sources, the defense germ warfare picture, looks like this: The Army Chemical Corps, the Public Health Service and the Civil Defense Administration are cooperating on means of detecting and stamping out bacteriological attacks. Basically, germ warfare consists of prodding nature into exerting her nastier side—encouraging the diseases of man, animals and plants. Therefore a primary defense is the good public health system of the United States, plus its high standard of living—its plumbing, good water supplies, its food sanitation and the average American's personal cleanliness. In addition, the nation normally has a large stock of vaccines and sera, and the ability to turn out more in a hurry. With these precautions, officials say they hope to spot any outbreak of disease quickly, isolate it and stamp it out. They point to the quick action in New York City a few years ago, when some 600,000 persons were vaccinated for smallpox in a few days to forestall a possible epidemic.

Members Of Civic Clubs To Meet At Court House Thursday

Representatives of the Murray Rotary Club, the Murray Lions Club and the Young Business Men's Club met today at 11:00 o'clock to make plans for a mass meeting of the membership of the three organizations tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock. All members of the three civic clubs are urged to be present at this meeting tomorrow. The representatives of the three civic organizations met today and discussed the strike situation at the Murray Manufacturing Company, which will be two months old on next Wednesday, August 19. It was decided at this meeting that some action was apparently necessary to keep the plant from moving from the city of Murray.

Emergency Loans Are Available

Emergency livestock loans, authorized by recent legislation, are now available to eligible farmers in Kentucky. Earl Mayhew, Farmers Home Administration State Director, announced today. These loans will be made to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep and goats, provided they have good records of operations, have a reasonable chance to succeed and are unable to obtain needed credit from other sources to continue their normal operations. Such loans will not be made to carry on commercial feed lot operations, to refinance existing debts except for payment of current incidental bills, or to enable a borrower to start livestock operations. Special livestock loans will bear 5 percent interest and may be made for periods up to 3 years. Borrowers will be expected to repay the loans as rapidly as they can. Each loan must be secured in the full amount by the personal obligation and available security of the borrower. The government will not require present creditors to subordinate their liens, but borrowers will be expected to obtain standby agreements from their present creditors so they will have a chance to work out their difficulties. Also, present creditors must be willing for a portion of the borrower's livestock income to be paid on the Government loan. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has designated the Farmers Home Administration as the agency to handle this emergency credit program, and has made Administrator R. B. McLeish administratively responsible for it at the national level. However all loans must be approved by the Livestock Loan Committee appointed by the Secretary. To serve as a temporary State special livestock loan committee for Kentucky, Secretary Benson has named the following: Earl Mayhew, State Director, Farmers Home Administration; Frank J. Welch, State Director of Extension and Clarence L. Miller, Chairman, State PMA Committee. This temporary committee was named in order to speed up processing of applications for assistance. Application forms may be obtained at any county office of the Farmers Home Administration or from any other established lenders in the area. They may be filed with the local county FFA supervisor or directly with the state special livestock loan committee.

Panel Named By Lions

The Murray Lion's Club appointed a five man committee last night to act as an impartial group of citizens who will attempt to help toward bringing the strike at the Murray Manufacturing Company to an end. The hope of the Lions Committee is that they will be able to meet with labor and management and to have an opportunity to discuss the problems and differences as soon as possible. This committee is interested only in acting as an impartial panel, organized to talk reasonably, openly, and sensibly to both members of management and labor, an official said. The Lions Club also announced last night that the minstrel will be held about October 7 this year. The board of directors of the club will meet next Tuesday night at the home of Vernon Anderson. Visitors at the club last night were Sam Foy and Everett Jones.

Six Local Boys Leave For Induction

Six boys left Monday for Louisville for induction in the United States Army, according to the Selective Service Local Board No. 10 of Murray. Those leaving were Max Horace Churchill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Churchill, Sr., of Murray; Veris W. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Russell of Murray Route 6; Max H. Brandon son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Brandon of Hazel; Bobby Earl Woods son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woods of Murray route 1; Phillip Howard Murdock son of Mr. Phillip Murdock of Lynn Grove and wife of the former Mrs. Jennie Walton; and John Delbert Johnson of Murray Route 6, transfer from Colorado. Pfc. Joe Phillips entered the service in September 1951 and went overseas in January 1952. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have another son, Pvt. Garvin Phillips, serving with the Army Medical on the front line of Korea. He entered the service November 4, 1952 and was sent overseas April 16, 1953. The task group, composed of a jeep carrier, destroyers, an air anti-submarine squadron, and a submarine for a target, was commanded by Rear Admiral W. L. Erdmann, USN.

Pfc. Joe Phillips On The Way Home

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Phillips of Murray Route 6 have received word that their son, Pfc. Joe Phillips, who has been serving with the Army in Italy, left last Saturday for the United States. Pfc. Phillips entered the service in September 1951 and went overseas in January 1952. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have another son, Pvt. Garvin Phillips, serving with the Army Medical on the front line of Korea. He entered the service November 4, 1952 and was sent overseas April 16, 1953.

Let's Keep Our Plant

Rev. S. E. Byler spoke before the Lions Club last night on the strike situation at the Murray Manufacturing Company.

We wish to compliment Rev. Byler on his courage in discussing this situation before the club and for mentioning it on his broadcasts each morning over the local radio station.

As Rev. Byler stated, he is not against the union, he is not against the employees, he is not against the company. He is FOR bringing about a resumption of operations of the stove plant.

He has stated exactly our position on the matter. It may have seemed that we have favored one faction or another during our discussions of the strike, but the one underlying theme that we attempted to bring out, was that we wanted the strike ended, and normal operations to be resumed.

As a daily paper, we feel that we should do all we can to bring about progressive movements that will aid the majority of the citizens of this community.

The actual "doing" of things will have to be done by an aroused populace.

The days and weeks are slipping by and more and more we are beginning to feel the impact of our closed plant.

If this strike was necessary then we would have different feelings about the situation, but we doubt strongly if the strike is necessary.

In fact after almost 18 months, we can't even find what the reason for the strike.

We thought we had the reason at one time, but apparently we did not.

This is a community problem and should be solved by the community as if it were something of a different nature.

The community needed a hospital, so we got one.

The community needed a college, so we got one.

The community needed industry here so that we could enjoy the increased payroll, and all the other benefits to be gained, so we got industry.

Now that we have the industry, we think it is only common sense to do all we can to keep it here.

We have much to gain by the resumption of operations at the Murray Manufacturing Company, with the losses that will be caused by its moving affecting us for several years to come.

Dodgers Make Sure Of No Repeat Performance Of 1952

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
New York, Aug. 12 (UP)—The Dodgers make it an "anniversary walk."

Never forgetting for a moment that it was exactly two years ago they started the memorable collapse which saw the mellow the 13 1-2 game lead they possessed on Aug. 11 of that season, they just about convinced everyone in sight that it won't happen again—at least, not this year.

And they did it right in the Polo Grounds after five straight defeats there, his 13th of the season. In fact it was the only complete game he ever pitched there.

2. Sal Maglie got his ears nailed to his head, permitting nine hits in four innings, including Gil Hodges 25th homer of the year and his first against Giant pitching. Maglie, who had a 3-0 won-loss record in the fourth inning before Tuesday night's defeat, begged off in the fifth inning because of a stiff right shoulder.

3. The Dodgers finally evened the season count with the Giants at 7-7. They are ahead of all other clubs in season play.

Erskine, who said he threw "mostly curves because they were doing things for me," thought he might have had the second no-hitter of his career. "If I had been a little better fielder, and if my control hadn't been so good," he said, "I should have pitched Thompson's first hit which went right through the box but I didn't get my glove down on it. On the second one, he hit change-up for a blooper. But he's a hot hitter. Maybe I should have walked him both times. I just got that ball where he could lay it."

Brooklyn's lead went to 7-2 games when the Cardinals, on doubles by Solly Hemus and Red Schoendienst in the ninth inning, drove in the winning run in a 4-3 victory at Milwaukee, which ended the six game winning streak of the second place Braves. Stu Miller pitched a seven-hitter for his third victory over Milwaukee. Stan Musial and Rip Repulski homered for St. Louis and Del Crandall hit one for Milwaukee.

The White Sox cut the Yankees lead to six games in the American League by defeating collap-

THE JUNIPER TREE

By FAITH BILDWIN

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE DAVE rose abruptly and went blindly to the windows and looked out. She was not there. Where she had been there was only sun, wind in the birches, the volition's running of the little river, the static mountains.

Dave turned away. Presently he went outdoors, to sit on the bank near the place where she had sat to rise again and walk to halt close to a tree. He felt empty and light, as if there were no flesh to hamper him. He coughed a faint spasm, as once before the earth's slow turning beneath his feet; this time he was shaken by it as by some subterranean tremor.

He sat down, his back against the tree, the red cedar, the juniper. The spring wind increased and sang in the branches, a loud, wild voice. And sitting there, his mind as light as his eyes had been, he heard a car on his narrow road, and sprang to his feet, alive, his sight returned, his mind and body tense.

She has come back, he thought. But it was Cas, stopping the truck, getting out and walking toward him.

"Hi, Dave. Sweet day, ain't it?" "Hi yourself. Yes, one of the best. Come on in."

"I can't stop. Just turned in to fetch your papers and mail." He looked closely at his friend. "Say, you don't look good. Is he looked all right?"

"I've had a bad headache," Dave answered. "It's gone now, but my head's still sore. Occasionally I have headaches, I don't know why."

"Never had one in my life. Well, so long, Dave. Take care of yourself. I hope you'll feel okay tomorrow."

Dave went back to camp, and crackers and milk. He had no idea of the time, and didn't care. He went out, thinking he'd fish. Instead he rowed, or drifted in the little boat, watching the birds, looking at the clouds and the altering colors on the mountain. Perhaps she won't come back...

He went to bed early, slept at once, woke in the night and did not sleep again for a long time. Before dawn he slept again, and waking to sunlight, thought: "I won't see her again. I'll be away when she comes; I'll leave early and return late. After a while she'll stop coming."

On that day, in the late forenoon, a car drove in. Hearing it, Dave waited for the visitor to come to him.

Karen knocked at the back door, and he opened it. "Come in," he said, "you're late."

"Am I? But sometimes I don't come till afternoon."

"That has nothing to do with it," he answered as she went ahead of him to the big room.

"How do you feel?" she asked. "All right, thanks to you. What's that in your hand?"

"The one book I forgot to bring back."

"It was neatly wrapped in brown paper. He said, smiling: 'I thought you'd brought your lunch.' 'I did today, but it's in the car with the other things.' She brought the book—open to the school...

The Murray Woman's Club Has One Of Nicest Club Houses In State of Kentucky

Woman's Club House
By JO BURKEEN

August is the midway month for the various women's organizations for the city and county. This is the month when the "behind the lines" work is being done by members of the various clubs.

Programs are being planned for the year, yearbooks are being put in shape to be printed and each committee is having its own special meeting to prepare for the year's program.

Each officer and each member of the club has a special part in each of the activities and accomplishments of the particular organization she belongs to. The officers are only leaders and if the members do not support and help them there is nothing they can accomplish satisfactorily.

The largest women's club in Murray is the Murray Woman's Club which has its own beautiful stone club house on Vine Street.

According to the "History of Calloway County" in the fall of 1907 the "As You Like It" Club of Murray was organized by a group of college girls and young matrons to foster continued study and to deepen their appreciation of cultural values.

"After about a year a sense of municipal responsibility brought about a change of name and program, so the Woman's Club of Murray came into existence and shortly afterward affiliated with the State and General Federation of Women's Clubs. Since 1910 it has supported the state and national club program and in 1913 the club won favorable publicity throughout the state by being the first small town club to become departmental."

There are now six departments of the club namely Alpha, Delta, Garden, Home, Music and Zeta. The 1934 officers of the club are: Mrs. E. Owen, president; Mrs. Ed Griffin, first vice; Mrs. O. C. Wells, second vice; Mrs. John Quertemus, recording secretary; Mrs. James R. Albritton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Garnett Jones, treasurer.

Departmental chairmen are Mrs. C. N. Lowry, Alpha; Mrs. Harry Sparks, Delta; Mrs. Fred Gingles, Garden; Mrs. G. B. Scott, Home.

The beautiful modern club house was officially dedicated on September 27, 1949. Mrs. Hall Hood was president of the club at this time. The principal speaker at the dedication service was Mrs. Joe T. Lovett of Columbus, Ohio, who had served as president of the club when plans were made for the construction of the club house.

In the account of the dedication story of the club house in the October 2, 1949 issue of the Ledger & Times, the Lovett expressed the hope that the club house would mean much to the community as a recreation center.

This hope has been realized as the beautiful house is used by the people of Murray and the various civic and social clubs as a place for meetings and social activities.

The first club house hostess was Mrs. V. F. Windsor who was named in March 1949 because of the numerous activities that were being held at the club house.

The club house was built by the N.Y.A. on a lot donated by Mrs. Will Fulton, Mrs. Adrian McRee and Mrs. Maud Schmidt, daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Barnett.

At a special ceremony on the third anniversary of the opening of the club house on September 27, 1949, the burning of the note for $4000, the indebtedness of the club house was opened, with, took place. Mrs. George Hart was club president when this milestone was reached. The club house was at that time serving as the headquarters for the Naval Cadets in training at Murray State College.

In the story of the club in the "History of Calloway County" it states that the club gave the first public health program and was responsible for the introduction of physical examinations of school children which resulted in the establishment of a public health unit in Calloway county.

The Murray Woman's Club is a club that has meant much to Murray and Calloway County and we hope with the beautiful club house and its facilities that it will continue to grow and continue to be one of the finest clubs in the state and the nation.

Holland-Williams Rehearsal Dinner Held On Saturday

The rehearsal dinner for the La Vora Holland-Jerry David Williams wedding party was held Saturday evening at six o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len D. Williams, 1110 Sycamore. An account of the wedding appeared in Tuesday's issue of this paper.

The guests gathered on the Williams' lawn where the appetizers were served. The main course was served on the sun porch and the living room.

Individual tables for four were placed in the rooms and were overlaid with pink, blue and green cloths. Each table was centered with a tall candle entwined with matching pink and yellow daisies.

The piano held a lovely arrangement of pink magic lilies, white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Miss Holland wore for the occasion a black sheath dress with black and white jacket trimmed in black velvet. Her accessories were white.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Irving Zeal and daughter, Ronnie Ann, of Wilmette, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Warren and son, Robert Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Card, Rev.
