Thomas Scott Appointed Commonwealth Detective

Thomas A. Scott, for the past two years a legal assistant and investigator in the law firm of Hurt, Christopher and Jones in Murray, was sworn in as Commonwealth's Detective in ceremonies performed by Circuit Judge James M. Lassiter in Marshall County Circuit Court this morning.

Scott was appointed to the position by Commonwealth's Attorney for the 42nd Judicial District, M. Ronald Christopher. Christopher said the newly created position, authorized under Kentucky statutes, will be an aid to his office as well as to county attorneys in the three-county 42nd district.

Scott, who lives at Riviera Courts in Murray, will have the same power of arrest and right to execute process as county sheriffs have and he "shall assist the Commonwealth's Attorney in all matters pertaining to his office in the manner he designates and shall assist him in the preparation of all criminal cases in the counties comprising the 42nd Judicial District by investigation of the evidence and facts connected with such cases," the appointment signed by Judge Lassiter said.

Under KRS 69.110, Scott will serve as district detective for a term of four years, subject to removal at any time by the Commonwealth's Attorney.

Scott, a graduate of Murray State University, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Scott of Madisonville. He will continue to work on a part-time basis with Hurt Christopher and Jones.

Many Prizes Await Miss Christy Jean Sledd; First Baby Of 1975

Many prizes are awaiting Calloway County's first baby of 1975, Miss Christy Jean Sledd and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sledd of 1609 Dodson Ave.

Christy Jean arrived at 3 a. m. January 1 at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital and weighed six pounds, two ounces. She measured 18 1/2 inches long. The following local business firms, all participating in the annual Murray Ledger & Times "first baby of the year" contest, have prizes awaiting Christy Jean and her parents:

Clinic Pharmacy, one case of baby formula; The Showcase, a birthday candle; Murray Sewing Center, a $10 gift certificate; Trenholm's

Restaurant, a free pizza or Italian spaghetti dinner for the parents;

The Youth Shop, a gift certificate; Johnson's Grocery, one case of baby formula; Big K, a vaporizer-humidifier; Judi & Sherie's Beauty Salon, a shampoo and set for the mother; Hutson Texaco, $5 worth of gas;

Ryan Shoe Store, a pair of baby shoes; Peoples Bank, ten silver dollars; Christian Book Center, a New Testament with name imprinted; Lindsey's Jewelry, a baby cup;

Bank of Murray, a savings account; Burger Chef, a $5 gift certificate; Gene & Jo's Florist, a floral arrangement for the mother; Storey's Food Giant, one case of baby formula.

Hancock Files For Lieutenant Governor

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ed Hancock filed today as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, reiterating his promise not to live in a state mansion or use a state car if elected.

Hancock, 49, is a native of Monticello and still keeps in permanent residence there.

He has lived in an apartment in Frankfort since 1960, however. He worked for the state Revenue and Highway departments from 1960 until he resigned in October, 1970 to run for attorney general—his first political race.

Hancock was the first of what is expected to be numerous aspirants to file for the lieutenant governor's race.

One other rival—Lyle Willis of Corbin—mated in his papers for the same contest today. Willis, a perennial candidate, was the Democratic nominee for congress on the 5th district last year who was defeated by the incumbent Tim Lee Carter.

Hancock said he has not discussed his candidacy with Gov. Julian Carroll, who is expected to seek a full term as governor this year, other than in general terms.

Hancock said Carroll told him he would not slate anybody with him for the lieutenant governor's position.

Hancock said he was not worried at all about some reports that Carroll might, "talk to his friends in favor of a particular candidate for that office."

Hancock acknowledged that the duties of the lieutenant governor—aside from the constitutional function of presiding over the senate—largely would be up to the governor.

He said he felt he was, "on fine terms," with Carroll as far as he knew and felt he could work well with Carroll.

Two Alarms Answered By Rescue Squad

The Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit answered two calls Thursday, according to department reports.

The home of Roy Garland was gutted by fire Thursday when a short in an electric razor started a blaze in the home. The house fire was battled by the Hazel Fire Department, with assistance from the Rescue Squad.

None of the contents were reported saved, and the brick home was listed as a total loss.

A body shop owned by Bobby Osborn in New Providence was also listed as a total loss after a fire of unknown origin gutted the structure. Also lost was a 1964 model automobile inside the building.

Rescue Squad personnel answering the alarm arrived at the scene shortly before 4:30 p. m. and remained at the fire for about an hour.

Personnel answering the alarms were Jim Johnson, Phil Owens, Charles Tubbs, Gerald Montgomery, Carl Hosford, Ran Stout, Ron Stout, Marvin Weatherford, Ed Jennings, Roger Hughes, Dale Bogard, Jim Green, Max Dowdy, Bernard Steen, Tom Lyles, Randy Linn, Jim Biffle, Gordon Wirt, Bud Miller, Larry Warren, Jerry Downey, and Hal Winchester.

Dispatchers on both alarms were the personnel of the Mercy Ambulance Service.

TRUCKLOAD—The proceeds of several raids in Murray in recent weeks were turned over to the Alcoholic Beverage Commission by Murray City Police yesterday. From left are Detective Captain Paul Jerry Lee, Sgt. Dale Spann, and Chief Brent Manning. According to Judge Steve Sanders, the law provides that the ABC will take the confiscated alcohol, sell it, deduct transportation charges, and divide the proceeds equally between the city and the state. The money will be returned to the City's general fund.

Nation's Unemployment Soars To 7.1 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate soared to 7.1 per cent of the work force in December as Americans without jobs totaled more than six million for the first time since the Great Depression, the government reported today.

The 7.1 per cent rate itself was the highest in 13 years.

Not since 1940 — when the nation was shaking off the effects of the Depression — have more than six million been unemployed. Some 8.1 million were jobless then, about 14.6 per cent of that era's smaller labor force.

The Labor Department said the December increase in the jobless rate, from 6.5 per cent in November, was the biggest monthly increase since October 1960 when the unemployment rate also rose six-tenths of a per cent.

The unemployment rate is now at its highest level since May 1961 when it also stood at 7.1 per cent. The last time it exceeded that level was during the 1958 recession when it hit 7.4 per cent in August of that year.

Heavy layoffs in the auto industry helped boost the number of unemployed last month by 560,000 to a total of 6.5 million. There were 5,975,000 workers unable to find employment in November, the government said.

President Ford, who returned Thursday night from a skiing vacation in the Rockies, will meet Saturday with his key economic policy advisers.

Today's job report is almost certain to receive much attention at the meeting. With unemployment rising more sharply than anticipated as the recession worsens, the President will be under increased pressure to consider major tax cuts in order to help stimulate the economy.

Over the past 12 months, unemployment has increased by more than two million. The nation's unemployment rate averaged 5.6 per cent in 1974. The jobless rate in 1973 averaged 4.9 per cent.

The Labor Department said job losses last month affected both white- and blue-collar workers and virtually every major worker category.

Two other indications of the economic sag came Thursday when the Commerce Department reported that new orders for factories declined 2 per cent in November and new construction slumped 2.7 per cent that month.

The December unemployment figures, which reflect massive layoffs in automobile-related industries as well as those resulting from the nationwide coal strike, were based on data gathered before the middle of the month. Layoffs have continued to spread since then and will push the jobless rate for January still higher.

This trend was indicated Thursday in the Labor Department's weekly report on unemployment insurance claims. The report said 677,800 persons applied for jobless benefits during the week ended Dec. 21, an increase of 40,100 over the previous week.

Administration economists predict unemployment will continue rising until it reaches about 7.5 per cent by midyear, but some private economists forecast a rate of 8 per cent by summer, a level that has not been approached in the last 25 years.

In other economic developments: —AFL-CIO President George Meany is convening a rare meeting of the presidents of all 110 unions in the labor federation to develop a program "designed to stabilize the economy and put American back to work."

No Executions Expected In State For Several Years

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Any of several offenses committed after 12:01 a.m. last Wednesday now carry an automatic death sentence in Kentucky but state officials do not expect another execution here for years.

State Corrections Commissioner Charles Holmes, said Thursday he expected it to be that long before Kentucky has another execution because of almost certain constitutional challenges to Kentucky's new law. The law went into effect Jan. 1 along with the rest of the state penal code.

Kentucky has had no death penalty since mid-1972, when the supreme court held it to be cruel and unusual punishment and thus unconstitutional. The basis of the decision was that death sentences were given out in an arbitrary or discriminatory manner, falling too heavily on blacks or other minorities.

Besides Kentucky, 29 other states have enacted new death penalty laws along lines they have said would stand up to court tests.

In Kentucky's new law, the death penalty is mandatory for certain specified murder offenses and for kidnapping if the victim is harmed. Many authorities believe the supreme court indicated it would uphold a death penalty law if it were applied uniformly, without allowing any discretion which might be used arbitrarily.

Murder now carries an automatic death sentence in Kentucky for multiple killings or killing a policeman or prison employe or duty or if done for hire or profit, in conjunction with other serious crimes or by using a bomb.

"I suspect that many defense attorneys will claim that the death penalty (in the penal code) is too broadly defined, too hazy in spots," said Bruce Davis, of the Corrections Department's legal staff.

"But prosecutors have the burden of choosing whether to go for the death penalty at the time of indictment, no later," he said. "And they must pick

School Boards Will Meet On Monday, Jan. 6

Both the Murray City and Calloway County School Boards will hold meetings Monday night to swear in new board members for the coming year.

The Murray Board of Education will meet in special session at 5:15 p.m. to install Kenneth Humphreys as a new member and to elect the board chairman and vice chairman to serve for the 1975 calendar year.

The Calloway Board will hold its regular meeting Monday, and install Walter Byars and Joe Dyer as new board members. Chairman and vice-chairman will be elected for a two year period, and several items of routine business will be conducted.

Discussion of final payment on elementary buildings will be held, and the contractor and architects will be present.

The superintendent's report will include a request for bus route extension and new buses; the results of sale of property and the expenses involved; insurance premiums; extended employment for guidance counselor and assistant principal; bleachers at elementary schools and parking lots.

Boycott Of Panhandle School Begins Thursday

LEDBETTER, Ky. (AP) — A post-holiday boycott of the Panhandle Elementary School began here Thursday as only 10 of 192 students showed up for classes.

The Concerned Parents Committee announced after a Dec. 19 meeting attended by 100 Panhandle parents that children would not be sent back to classes following the holiday break until some assurances are received that conditions at the school will be improved.

Principal Peggy Edmonds didn't have to kick the furnace to get it started because, "it wasn't that cold today. It kicked on all right this morning. Sometimes it does, but I have kicked it to get it going," she said concerning one of many problems that led to the boycott.

Mrs. Edmonds said despite the boycott, "we're having class, serving lunch and just having a regular day and we'll do the same thing tomorrow."

She agrees with criticism of the conditions at Panhandle. "It takes two and a half hours to serve lunch, we have no gym and no place for the children to play. They have to stay in their rooms in bad weather," she said.

The committee claims the main building of the school houses the 7th and 8th grade classes in one room, which is petitioned to form two small classrooms.

The school has a reading room, a combined kitchen and cafeteria which measures 34-by-24 feet, two restrooms and one drinking fountain, the committee said.

A room the committee said measures 7-by-10 feet serves as the combined principal's office, teacher's lounge and conference room.

The school has no library and students must use a state Bookmobile which comes by on a regular basis but not frequently enough to serve library needs of the children, the committee claims that when they were installed state education officials called them temporary and promised further action if the school continued to grow.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
If you capitalize on your adaptability, imagination and discernment, you and others whom you influence will fit well into success patterns. No day for dawdling!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Mild influences, you are just about left on your own now to decide on the means to gain benefits, how to parlay efforts to get the most with the least expenditure of time and energy.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
If the game is not worth the candle, chuck it promptly. If what you planned has merit, stand by it staunchly. Wisely separate the significant from trifles.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Go about your duties and obligations eagerly, but as eagerly wait for new instructions, and hunt for the tricky spots. Impress others with your poise.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
An increase in duties? Then you can have a new peak in attainment. Keep your amiable self tuned to receive the best, reject the worthless.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Principles and values must be well considered now. If you avoid extremes, you can have a satisfactory day. Especially favored: executives, teachers, students.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Sincere endeavor and accuracy could carry you far beyond expectations if you put them into force and direct your energies into constructive channels.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)
Tip-top Mars influences stimulate possibilities of progress. You should feel buoyed for action. Details, tedious work, well-handled, can bring fine returns.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Jupiter's auspicious influence fans the fire of enthusiasm for dedicated purpose, popular enterprises. This should be a day to remember.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Saturn favorable. This is the time to press forward with all the grit and good will you can (and that can be a great deal when the Capricornian really tries).

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
In making changes or starting anything new, consider all possible after-effects. Weakness in spots must be shored up.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Some favorable hours; others will present unexpected obstacles. With self-confidence and your innately philosophical attitude, you can take all in stride.

YOU BORN TODAY are both artistic and practical; can conduct business matters with unusual competence and shrewdness, while also pursuing a highly creative avocation such as writing, sketching or architecture. You have tremendous inner forces which help you to overcome obstacles with seeming ease. If you do not choose business as a career, you could do exceptionally well as an educator, scientist, politician or real estate operator. There is no set boundary for the Capricornian. He sees new horizons daily. Birthdate of: Gen. Joseph J. Joffre, French hero, world War I.

Acting as lovers as the band played and sang "Let It Snow, Let It Snow, Let It Snow" at the Senior Citizens potluck luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Vaughn.

Charlie Marr and Elizabeth, decorated as Christmas trees by members and guests, were selected as the best decorated at the Senior Citizens potluck luncheon.

Monthly Luncheon Held By Senior Citizens

The Murray-Calloway County Senior Citizens held their regular monthly potluck on December 19 at the Ellis Community Center.

The theme for this month's decorations was Christmas scenes. A Christmas tree decorated like an old-fashioned Christmas tree, popcorn strings, homemade balls, and stars, toy drums hung on the tree along with a bird and birdnest, meant to bring good luck were included in the decorations.

Each individual table was overlaid with a handmade tablecloth and a ceramic Christmas tree, which the Senior Citizens made.

After the potluck, Charlie Marr and Elizabeth James were used as live Christmas trees and were decorated with the members and guest selecting the decorated. Amy Wilson decorated Charlie Marr, who won the contest. Thyra Crawford decorated Elizabeth James.

The band performed with several Christmas numbers, a few were: Jingle Bell Rock, Silver Bells, Frosty, the Snowman, Let It Snow, Let It Snow, Let It Snow, and Home for the Holidays. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Vaughn sat in front of a log decorated as a fireplace and acted as lovers as the band played and sang, "Let It Snow, Let It Snow, Let It Snow."

There were 88 members and guests present for the potluck and entertainment.

The guests present were: Betty Jean McGehee, Elvise Carson, Martin Salmon, Ruth Johnston, Junita Robinson, Lynn Smith, Frances Miller, L. D. Miller, Carolyn Halford, Laura Andrus, Kathy Jo Hart, Delma Trotter, Olelia Underwood, Cloretta Newport, Mable Robertson, Sue Lamb, and Charles Lamb.

Members present were: Novie Hale, Murla Brandon, Alma Cooper, Otie Trevathan, Ardee Riley, Ambie Willough-

Those serving on the potluck committee were: Mary Lamb, chairman, Rubena Dawes, Willie Emerson, and Madie Vaughn. Those serving on the decorations committee were: Thyra Crawford, chairman, Elizabeth James, Amy Wilson, and Otie Trevathan.

What's A Home Economist?

He's a designer of better living environments for the aged and handicapped.

She's a PhD researching ways to improve the human diet on a subsistence income.

He's a kindergarten teacher.

She's a legislative aide working on consumer concerns.

He's a trouble-shooter for a clothing manufacturer.

She's a publications editor, a writer, an information specialist.

He's an administrator in a governmental post.

She's administrator of a hospital dietary service.

He's the county agent for home economics in your local Extension office.

A home economist is a college graduate with special professional training. He or she can be a whole lot of different things.

"It's time to scrap that tiresome stereotype of the old-fashioned lady who's always teaching somebody to cook or sew," says Dr.

Marjorie Stewart, Dean of the UK College of Home Economics. "Even yesterday's home economist didn't fit that stereotype."

She explains that there are five major home economics disciplines in the colleges and universities that lead to a professional degree and also offer graduate courses for advanced degrees. They are: family economics and home management; family relations and child development; housing and household equipment; foods and nutrition and textiles and clothing. Degrees in Home Economics can lead to intensely satisfying careers for both men and women.

"Home Economics focuses on people," says Dr. Stewart. "It's an umbrella designation for a whole class of trained professionals who touch base with every major problem in the world today."

Sandra Jones, left, member of the XI Alpha Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi presented Barbara Owens, the head nurse in Pediatrics at Murray-Calloway County Hospital, with four new toys for the Pediatrics Department. Barbara Williams, chairman of XI Alpha Delta, expressed to the Administration of the hospital that these gifts were the chapter's Christmas project. The gifts included: puzzles, a farm and animal set, and a circus train.

Should she tell neighbors about their son?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor couple went on a vacation and left their 19-year-old son home alone.

There was a party going on at their house every night. I could see (and hear) the cars coming and going at all hours.

One night was noisier than all the others. There was yelling and screaming in the house, loud music, and someone vomiting in the back yard. It lasted until 4 A.M. The whole neighborhood was disturbed.

The boy disposed of four large garbage cans of beer cans and bottles before the parents came home.

My question: Should the parents be told what went on while they were away?

CINCINNATI NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Yes. If the boy were YOUR son, wouldn't you want to be told?

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15-year-old girl who has a thing for firemen. I live just around the corner from the fire station, which makes it nice. I've got a crush on a fireman right now. He's married, but he's a real neat guy. I dream about him all the time. Is this wrong?

ALL FIRED UP

DEAR FIRED: You're not responsible for your dreams, but when you're awake, concentrate on "neat guys" your own age. And quit hanging around the fire station. That's playing with fire!

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 46-year-old married man who works in a large office. We're all pretty friendly.

Last Sunday, my wife was out of town, so I went to a neighborhood restaurant alone. A young woman who works at the office came in (alone) and sat at the bar. Since I was at the bar I offered to buy her a drink. She seemed eager to accept. She had two, then I asked her to join me for dinner. She did. We had a nice time chatting about the people at the office.

After dinner she said: "Your place or mine?" I laughed, and said it sounded like she was propositioning me. She said she was. I nearly fainted. Then I said I didn't think it would be a very good idea because I was a married man, and besides we had to work together.

The next day I heard that she told some of the girls at the office that I had spent the night with her, and that I was a "lousy lover." It's pretty embarrassing, Abby. I'm wondering if maybe the best way to handle it is to quit my job and clear out.

BAD-MOUTHED

DEAR BAD: QUIT YOUR JOB? Never! Just tell a few of your men friends at the office that nothing happened. They'll believe you, and you can bet they'll circulate your side of it.

DEAR ABBY: I was in the war in Vietnam and was wounded when I stepped on a mine. I was hospitalized for a long time. I finally pulled through, but my sex life was ruined.

Recently I have met a beautiful and intelligent girl and we have been dating regularly. We are becoming more and more intimate and I am getting to the point where I feel I have to tell her about my problem, but I don't know how to do it. Can you help me?

DEEPLY TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: The only way to tell her is directly and in simple language—just as you have told me. Don't put it off. The longer you wait, the more difficult it will be.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Miss Leisa Sandefer And Don Faughn Are Married At Church December 28

The marriage of Miss Leisa Sandefer of Hopkinsville and Don Faughn of Murray was solemnized on Saturday, December 28, at two p.m. at the Southside Church of Christ, Hopkinsville.

Dr. Douglass Harris, uncle of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony. The focal point of the altar decorations was a fifteen branch candelabrum with beauty baskets of white carnations and mums on either side. The trinity candelabrum was used during the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred U. Sandefer, 409 Blane Drive, Hopkinsville, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Faughn, 1107 Poplar Street, Murray.

A program of nuptial music was presented by a group composed of Ron Stegall, Mrs. Prewitt Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Embry, Mrs. Kevin Batey, Mrs. Francis Swain, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mahoney. A solo, "Whither Thou Goest," was sung by Joe Embry.

Bride's Dress

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore full bridal attire, designed and fashioned by her mother. Her gown was of white bridal satin featuring an empire waistline, gored skirt, a scooped neckline enhanced with a semi-stand up collar of embroidered Chantilly galloon lace. The sleeves, slightly gathered at the cap, were tapered at the wrist and fastened with tiny loops and pearl buttons. Teardrop pearl trim, accented with crystal rocailles, outlined the waistline and the neckline. White fur adorned the sleeve edges.

Her cathedral train of satin was attached at the waistline, topped by a touch of white fur. Her cathedral veil of matching lace was attached to a Camelot-styled headpiece of white fur. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses with holly and wide satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mary Helen Pierce of Hopkinsville was the matron of honor and Miss Debby Mitchell of Marion, Ill., was the maid of honor.

The matron of honor wore a mint green gown of ban-lon jersey featuring princess seaming, v-neckline, long fitted sleeves, and a shaped tab across the center front fastened at each end with pearl cluster buttons. Miss Mitchell wore a gown identically styled like Mrs. Pierce except in bottle green.

Mrs. Pierce and Miss Mitchell carried French bouquets of white carnations tipped green with sprigs of holly.

The flower girl, Beth Cunningham of Hopkinsville, wore a gown fashioned of the same bottle green with a long shirt gathered to the bodice above the normal waistline, a high round neckline, stand-up collar, and long fitted sleeves. A self ruffle marked the hemline. She wore a long sash tied in a bow at the front and wore a long jumper of mint green over the dress. She carried a white basket of red rose petals.

G. W. Faughn was best man for his son, and Charlie Warren was groomsman. Ushers were Larry Watson, Billy Dan Crouse, Steve Lynch, and Bud Nall. Rodney Grogan of Hopkinsville was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Sandefer, mother of the bride, wore a dress of off-white knit flecked with flowers of green and pink, featuring a cowl neckline, long fitted sleeves, and high-rise shaped waistline. The skirt was gored to fit the waistline and fell into a full skirt. She wore shoes of matching green.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Faughn, was attired in a matched three piece street length suit of cranberry polyester. The fitted top had a slightly flared skirt overlaid with a loose lined jacket. She wore matching cranberry accessories.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the educational building of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a satin cloth and centered with two three branched candelabra and an arrangement of white flowers and holly. The three tiered cake and the punch bowl flanked either end of the table.

Mrs. Richard Grogan and Mrs. Peggy Cunningham presided at the table.

The guest register was kept by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Sandefer.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to

Mr. and Mrs. Don Faughn

Aspen, Colorado, and upon their return will reside at 1402 Johnson Avenue, Murray.

The bride, a graduate of Hopkinsville High School, received her degree from Murray State University in December 1974. She majored in elementary education and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Mr. Faughn graduated from Murray High School and attended the University of Tennessee and Murray State University. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is now national sales representative and distributor for Ron Rice Beach Products.

'Gill Nets' Criticized

Dear Editor:

All across the face of the earth "Gill Nets" are regarded as criminal devices. It is strange, therefore, that the Fish & Wildlife Department licenses these devices. In doing so they have opened the door to the use of all other criminal devices.

Here on Lake Barkley and Kentucky Lake land values are depressed, fishermen and tourists are staying away in droves, businesses are closing, and Crappie, Bass and Strippers are almost extinct. We recognize that there are "cycles" and particularly so with Crappie. However when all species vanish at the same time you may be certain that "Gill Nets" and other criminal devices are the cause.

People of Kentucky united once before and got the criminal devices eliminated and the slab Crappie came back and fishing was excellent. Then the Fish & Wildlife people sold out again.

Never, has there been as much illegal netting as is going on at the present time. Kuttawa Lake surrounded by nice homes has been thoroughly cleaned of fish by commercial fishermen using two inch "Gill Nets." Houseboats from Tennessee with several small boats are working all bays on both lakes. Although these waters will produce, with proper management and sensible "catch limits," plenty of fish for constant sports fishing, it can not and will not produce enough to satisfy the greed of the fish-hogs from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Illinois, and Kentucky.

Kentucky is indeed fortunate to have its great water resources and such natural fish hatcheries as Barkley and Kentucky Lakes, and we do not believe the Fish & Wildlife people should be allowed to continue their absurd policies.

We are hopeful that the people of Kentucky will write the Governor, the Hon. Julian Carroll, Commonwealth of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, and join in the effort to protect one of Kentucky's great Heritages. Thanking you in advance, I am,

Sincerely,
Kenneth C. De Villez
Rt. 2, Kuttawa, Ky.

The Master Teacher

By H. C. Chiles

Christ, the greatest teacher the world has ever known, by His words and His life, taught people about God and His way of life for them. He challenged all of God's children to a full commitment of themselves to Him for the doing of His will.

Matthew 5:17-20

When Christ assumed the role of Teacher many wondered what He believed, and whether or not He would be a true Hebrew. So much emphasis was placed upon the Mosaic Law that a man was accepted or rejected by the Jews on the basis of his attitude toward the law. To avert any possible misunderstanding concerning His own attitude toward the law, Christ spoke to His disciples in the hearing of the multitude and told them plainly that He had not come to destroy the law and the prophets, but to fulfill them. Thus He sought to allay any prejudice on their part towards Him and to incline them to receive His teachings.

Christ did not come to destroy the law, nor to brush it aside as something of little or no significance, but rather to fulfill its literal demands. Through His sacrifice at Calvary he showed the end toward which the ceremonial law pointed. Christ considered the moral law as perpetually binding on all mankind. Would to God that all who profess to be His followers had the same high regard for God's law which Christ had! If they did, they would not be so ready to ignore it or to attempt to explain it away. Some contend, "We are not under the law, but under grace." Admittedly Christians are not under law as a means to life, but the law remains the expression of God's will for them. God's law is eternal, never to be abrogated or set aside.

In verse nineteen Christ denounced those religious leaders who were minimizing the importance of the commandments. It is certainly a mark of wisdom to do and to teach the law of God. On the other hand, it is an evidence of pathetic smallness to break God's commandments and to teach others to disobey them.

Matthew 7:24-29

One of the amazing things about the preaching and teaching of Christ was how He could make so clear the eternal truths of God with such commonplace illustrations. For example, He showed that building your life is like building a house.

Christ here told about two men who were impressed with the need of building a house. Alike in their desires to be shielded from the rains and protected from the winds, these men resolved to obtain what they needed. They resolutely set to work to build a house. Naturally the first consideration in the erection of each house was that of the foundation. The character of a foundation is determined by the importance of the structure that is to rest upon it. Since the foundation imparts strength to the superstructure, any wise builder will be careful about his foundation.

The sensible man built his house upon the rock, but the foolish man built his house upon the sand. Externally both houses appeared to be well built and comfortable. The main difference in these two buildings was out of sight, under the ground. The stability of any house depends ultimately on the solidity or strength of its foundation. If the foundation be faulty, no matter how good the materials of which it is composed or how reliable the workmanship of those engaged in its construction, it will not stand the test of time.

It is thrilling to note Christ's description of the testing of the house which was built upon the rock. In contrast, Christ censured the thoughtless and shortsighted man for his stupidity and lack of judgment in believing that one foundation was as good as another.

Each of us is engaged in building the house of life. All of the inclinations of the heart, the impulses on which we proceed, the thoughts of the mind, the decisions that we make, the words of the lips, and the acts of the life add their quota to the structure of character. All of us have a choice of foundations: Only the person who builds on the right foundation is equipped to meet whatever life may bring. No matter how well it is constructed, or how attractive its appearance, any structure is unsafe if it has a poor foundation. If one builds his life on the shifting sands of the opinions and philosophies of men, it will crash when the raging storms of care, temptation, and sorrow surge around it. Any man who builds in rejection of God's will certainly prepares for disaster. Rock is a symbol of Christ, and sand is a symbol of anything except Him. A life built on anything except Christ will crumble and fall when the testings come, as they most assuredly will.

All foundations will be tested. Sooner or later the winds of adversity batter us. The dreary drenching rains of sickness, suffering, and sorrow get us down. The floods of disaster, calamity, or bereavement overwhelm us. The difference between people is not the measure of adversity which comes to them, but how they handle it when it comes. All kinds of winds blow and beat — sharp winds of criticism, unkind winds of adversity, bitter winds of defeat, cruel winds of grief, and cold winds of death. The storms reveal the quality of one's life. Foolish indeed is any man who builds his house on the sands of indulgence and pleasure, selfishness and ease, and does not take account of the lashing of the storms. Few things, if any, are more grand than to see one stand up when the crises of life come. Only those who build on Christ are prepared to meet whatever life brings. Build on Christ and you will find that He will never fail you, but that you will be safe regardless of what experiences may come to you.

Matthew 13:33-35

In both the Old and New Testaments the word "leaven" is used uniformly as a symbol of evil. However, there are commentators who claim that in this passage there is an exception and that here it is a symbol of good. They proceed to make the leaven represent the gospel of Christ and the meal to be a symbol of the world, thus teaching that in due time the entire world will be saved. This position many of us cannot accept. Nevertheless, the leaven does give us a familiar picture of the power of influence.

Worth Repeating

"Coal and oil are strictly limited in quantity. We can take the coal out of a mine but we can never put it back. We can draw oil from subterranean reservoirs, but we can never refill them again. . . . Alcohol makes a beautiful, clean and efficient fuel and can be manufactured very cheaply." — Alexander Graham Bell (Prediction in 1917).

Rush Resolutions

By Chuck Moffett, Pastor
First Presbyterian Church

JANUARY 1 - the day of horrendous hangovers and rash resolutions . . . . . and sometimes the two go together when we find a person making a rash resolution to never, ever have another horrendous hangover.

What is it that makes us play this game of "I resolve...?" I think it boils down to the fact that we want to be a "better" person.

But our problem is not in the resolutions our problem is in the implementation - in the game plan.

We take aim on various areas of our life:

- "I resolve to be less prejudiced"
- "I resolve to attend church regularly"
- "I resolve to take a day off from work each week"
- "I resolve to cut down on my drinking"

We have taken aim - but our strategy has caused us to miss our mark. In this age of the "power of positive thinking" we think all we have to do is WILL something, and presto: new creature.

NOT SO!!

The dynamics of personal change require "insight"

Let's take our four resolutions above:

"I resolve to be less prejudiced" . . . . . no change will come until this person realizes that he needs his prejudice to pigeon-hole people to cover up his feelings of inferiority-his feelings of being threatened.

"I resolve to attend church regularly" . . . . . no hope for new behavior here until the person looks at how he feels about pastors, God, and religious hypocrites.

"I resolve to take a day off from work" . . . . . no way any re-creation will come into this person's life until he sees that his whole self-worth is tied to his job.

"I resolve to cut down on my drinking" . . . . . no sober days until this person faces that thing in himself from which he is fleeing.

An essential part of change is what Thomas Chalmers has called

"THE EXPULSIVE POWER OF A NEW AFFECTION" . . . . . and what Jesus called:

"You don't really kick out a bad demon unless you replace it with a new boarder." (Luke 11:24-26)

It's not enough to say "NO!"

It's not enough to say what "THOU SHALT NOT!"

Change comes only when, after the insight, you can say "YES!" to something . . . only when you can say "This is what I BELIEVE."

So, for instance, change comes for the prejudiced person when, instead of WILLING to love others, he feels good enough about himself that he can develop a real commitment to justice for ALL people.

There has to be something NEW added if you really hope to be rid of the OLD.

Change doesn't come by mere "resolutions," but only by a deep "revolution" of what you hold dear . . . . . and that's called a RESURRECTION!

Let's Stay Well

Plastic Surgery To Be Taken Seriously

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Think twice before you have plastic surgery. If you decide to have it, it should be performed in most cases by a competent surgeon of experience and special training.

This form of surgery is on the increase. More than a million persons undergo some kind of plastic surgery each year in the United States. More than 90 per cent of cosmetic surgery is performed on women, but the number of men having such surgery is increasing also.

In most instances, plastic surgery is done to improve appearance. Such a need may have resulted from an earlier, scarring injury or from unbecoming natural features, such as a crooked nose (its correction is known as a rhinoplasty).

Procedures to shorten and lift pendulous or droopy breasts are popular. Wrinkles and sagging skin of the face are corrected. A receding chin may be built up and brought forward.

Many plastic operations are performed under sedation and local anesthesia. The amount of pain depends on the site of the surgery and a patient's tolerance of pain.

Such surgery usually requires only a short period of hospitalization, and dressings may have to be worn for about a week.

The healing process takes time. The operated area may be quite firm for a while and frequently show an increased redness. These effects gradually subside. It is often six months to a year before the full benefits of such surgery are apparent.

Plastic surgery is often expensive and may not be covered by the usual hospital insurance policy.

Such corrective surgery may improve appearance, but it will not perform miracles or change a personality. It is essential that the patient and the surgeon have a clear understanding of what the surgery will accomplish.

Q. Mrs. O. T. has a relative with Paget's disease of the bone, and asks for an explanation of the disease.

A. The cause of Paget's disease of the bone (osteitis deformans) is unknown. The condition is characterized by an increased, spotty reabsorption of bone, while other areas show added bone formation. It is a disease of late adulthood, occurring in about three per cent of the population above 40 years of age. Victims have skeletal pain. Some degree of deafness may be present. Fractures may occur. The disease is chronic and may extend over a period of many years.

Q. Mr. G. R. sends an involved inquiry regarding the relationship between diet and brain development.

A. Brain capacity is largely inherited, but its proper function is dependent on normal growth of the brain. The major development of the brain takes place by the fifth year of life. Therefore, proper nutrition in early life, even before birth, is essential. Malnutrition, whether from disease or poverty, can impair brain development permanently and stunt intellectual capacity. However, even a perfect diet does not assure a bright mind.

Q. "Beth" inquires whether swallowing a cherry pit can cause harm.

A. A cherry pit, like certain other seeds (apple, peach, and plum), contains hydrocyanic (prussic) acid in small amounts. It is a deadly poison. If the seed or pit remains unbroken, the acid remains inside the seed and causes no harm. The kernel portion of such seeds should be avoided.

There are epigrams composed with a wry sense of humor by the grave's occupant before death, many of which describe his one-time work or occupation. On an angler, for example, the one word: HOOK'D. On a farmer from Eastport, Me., TRAN- SPLANTED. On a doctor from Brookland, Ark., OFFICE UP- STAIRS. But my favorite among all individualists (French in this case, and not American) is a wealth Parisian who, bored with the petty routines of daily life, committed suicide after penning the words now etched in his tombstone: "Tired of this eternal buttoning and unbuttoning." Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was convinced that he could communicate with the dead. On one occasion, the mystery writer was asked to pay a call on a fellow author who was in the hospital. "I'll see him tomorrow," said Sir Arthur. "Tomorrow may be too late," he was told. "He is not expected to last the night." "In that case," said Doyle, "I'll speak to him next week."

Wes Furgerson Signs MSU Grid Scholarship

By Joe Tom Erwin
MSU Sports Publicity
Wes Furgerson, 6-3, 190-pound quarterback from Murray High School, has signed an Ohio Valley Conference letter-of-intent with Murray State University.

Furgerson, whose Murray High team won the Class A state championship and compiled an 11-2 record last season, is the son of Murray State Coach Bill Furgerson and Murray State Alumna Hazel Hood Furgerson. A two-year starter for the Tigers, Furgerson had perhaps his best game ever in the state championship game against Beechwood when he rushed for 50 yards and one touchdown, passed for another touchdown, and punted four times for a 45.0 average. He was his team's leading rusher the last two seasons and averaged more than 40 yards a punt last fall.

Tech Goes To 6-2 By Beating Mercer

COOKEVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Guard Frank Jones poured in 32 points Thursday night to spark Tennessee Tech to a 100-88 non-conference college basketball victory over Mercer.

Tennessee Tech, now 6-2, led almost all the game and was ahead 48-41 at halftime. Mercer, which lost to the Golden Eagles earlier this season at Mercer, is now 3-5.

Furgerson, in signing the Murray grant, said he had always wanted to play college football and Murray was where he had always wanted to play.

Most of the Murray players are friends of mine and I'm really looking forward to playing on the same team with them and helping the team in any way I can," he said.

Cut Dates

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Bay Meadows is cutting its winter harness racing meeting from six to five days a week, with Sunday-Monday off, because of a shortage of "raceable horses," the track announced Thursday.

The cutdown came in spite of business being up 12 per cent from a year ago during the first five days.

Murray High Coach John Hina said that Furgerson has good college potential and will be an asset to any college program. "He started every game for us the last two years and did a tremendous job," Hina said. "He's a fine athlete, a good student, and a solid young man with much potential for growth."

Coach Furgerson, on signing his son, said that he had the size and ability to play several positions and that he would be a valuable and versatile member of the Murray squad.

Samford To Give Racers Tough Test

Fans in Carbondale have grown accustomed to watching shots get batted down. And the man who has been doing the batting is 6-11 All-American center Joe C. Merriweather of Southern Illinois University.

As a junior last season, the Saluki pivotman was the top draft choice of the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association. And in case you forgot, the starting center this year for the Stars is 19-year old wonder Moses Malone.

Well, Thursday night at Carbondale, the Saluki fans saw 16 shots get batted down. But the man doing the batting was not Merriweather, it was 6-7 forward Dwayne Barnett of Samford.

Samford fell behind early in the game and wound up losing 95-80 to the Salukis, who last month bombed highly-regarded Michigan by 20 points.

Samford will bring a 1-9 record into their contest against Murray State Saturday night. They have lost to such teams as Jacksonville, Mississippi State (who defeated SIU by 15 points last Friday), Tulane, Oregon State and New Mexico State.

Of Barnett's 16 blocked shots, believe it or not, five came at the expense of Merriweather. And neither the Saluki crowd nor the big man himself had ever seen anything like that before.

Racer assistant coach Jim Calvin, who scouted the game last night, said Samford is a very aggressive ballclub that plays a tough man-to-man defense and they like to run a lot on offense.

The homestand will continue Monday as the Racers host Mississippi College before beginning league play a week from Saturday at Morehead on the two-game swing through the east or "Death Valley."

Cage Picks

Basketball action begins anew for 1975 tonight for the Calloway County Lakers as they play at Ballard Memorial.

It's been a disappointing season for both clubs.

The Lakers started out winning their first three games, dropped their next four, won one and then lost their last contest, bringing their season record to 4-5.

Ballard Memorial started out by winning their first contest of the season against Brookport but since that time, the Bombers of Coach Tom Buchanan have lost nine consecutive games.

It's been a bit of a layoff for high school ball, at least on the local scene.

Last week, I took off early and went home and caught a 16-team tournament at Eldorado, Ill.

On Friday night, the last game was over at 11:35 p.m. That same team that played at that time played again at 10:30 a.m. the next morning and then at 4 p.m. that afternoon.

I actually sat through seven games on Saturday. Needless to say, it was a double elimination tournament.

My season's record for picking cage contests stands at 43-18 for a mark of .705.

Here are the picks for games this week: CALLOWAY COUNTY at Ballard Memorial by seven, Fulton County at CARLISLE COUNTY by nine, SYMSONIA at Cuba by five, Sedalia at FARMINGTON by 11, Fulton City at REIDLAND by 14, Heath at ST. MARY by 14, South Fulton at HICKMAN COUNTY by seven, TILGHMAN at Lone Oak by 10, Wingo at LOWES by five. Games for Saturday include Fulton County at HEATH by three, Obion Central at LONE OAK by 10, Bardstown at MAYFIELD by nine and Marshall County at TILGHMAN by 21.

Ellis Files Dead

A great ballplayer that Murray State tried to recruit last year, Ellis Files, died last week in Los Angeles.

Files, who was just 25 years old, was attending Southwest College in Los Angeles and at the time of his death, was playing basketball on an outside court at Pepperdine University, the school where Racer Coach Fred Overton was an assistant before coming to Murray.

Files walked over toward some bleachers and sat down and moments later was gasping for breath. He was declared dead of a heart attack upon arrival at a local hospital.

At Aurora East (Ill.) High School last year, Files was listed as one of the Top 100 players in the country and was a member of every high school All-American publication.

Before choosing to attend the junior college, Files had narrowed his choices of schools to Murray State and Montana.

Win Meals At Rudy's

Since I did not run the contest last week for the free meal at Rudy's, two people will be able to win this week.

And those two people will really have to do some work before they come up with the right answer. But a good sports record book or a good memory might help.

Here goes: Once, someone scored 100 points in a college basketball game. He played for Furman University in 1954. Who was he?

If you think you have the right answer, call me after 5 p.m. Saturday at 753-6977 and you can win up to $2.50 of your choice on the menu at Rudy's.

Jabbar Scores Season-High 52 In Pacing Bucks Past Hawks

By The Associated Press
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Milwaukee's towering inferno, says he is beginning to feel more comfortable. At the same time, he is making opposing National Basketball Association teams feel most uncomfortable.

Abdul-Jabbar was red-hot Thursday night, firing in 52 points — the high in the NBB this season — powering the Bucks to a 116-111 victory over the Atlanta Hawks.

"I feel more comfortable now," said Abdul-Jabbar, who missed the first 16 games of the season with a broken hand and an eye injury, and recently was plagued with a strained back.

"Kareem's getting in the groove with his hook shot," Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said after Abdul-Jabbar had tossed in 18 of 29 field goal attempts and 16 of 20 free throws. "He got hot and the guys went to him, which is good."

In other NBA games, the Detroit Pistons edged the New Orleans Jazz 99-95 and the New York Knicks outlasted the Phoenix Suns 117-113 in overtime.

In the American Basketball Association, the Spirits of St. Louis routed the Virginia Squires 112-88, the San Antonio Spurs whipped the San Diego Conquistadors 120-104, and the Memphis Sounds downed the Utah Stars 95-88.

Abdul-Jabbar's 52 points surpassed the NBA's previous high of 49 this season, by Buffalo's Bob McAdoo. But they fell three short of his career high of 55.

Good Payoff

BOSTON (AP)—Suffolk Downs reported today that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts received more than $5.54 million as the state's share from parimutuel wagering in a 60-date thoroughbred meeting ended recently.

For 200 days of racing in 1974, the track said, the state received a record of $13.188 million, compared with $12.747 million in 1973.

Tom Van Arsdale led Atlanta with 20 points.

Pistons 99, Jazz 95
Despite Detroit's victory, Coach Ray Scott was not satisfied with his team's play. "We just didn't have a good performance," he said. "We have to realize that we're now a first-place team and learn to play like it."

The Pistons, leaders of the NBA's Midwest Division, were led by Bob Lanier's 36 points. The expansionist Jazz, losers of 31 of 34 games including all 21 on the road, got 31 points from Pete Maravich.

Knicks 117, Suns 113
Walt Frazier collected eight of his game-high 32 points in overtime, including the Knicks' last four, as New York won for only the third time in 10 games. Frazier also had six assists, all six of New York's steals and seven rebounds. Earl Monroe added 27 points and a game-high eight assists for New York.

Spirits 112, Squires 88
Marvin Barnes and Freddie Lewis each scored 27 points and Barnes grabbed a game-high 18 rebounds for St. Louis, which snapped a three-game losing streak. Lloyd Batts was high for Virginia with 20 points.

Spurs 120, Q's 104
George Gervin's 26 points, Rich Jones' 23 and Donnie Freeman's 20 paced San Antonio's victory. Travis Grant scored 29 points and Bo Lamar 25 for the Q's.

Sounds 95, Stars 88
Stew Johnson's 25 points led a balanced Memphis attack against Utah, which played without standout rookie Moses Malone, sidelined with a leg injury. The Stars' Ron Boone scored 33 points, but only two in the final period.

Flames And Canadiens Battle To 1-1 Deadlock

By The Associated Press
Who says a 1-1 tie is boring? Not Atlanta Flames' Coach Bernie Geoffrion.

"It was a hell of a game for both the players and the fans," declared Geoffrion after his Flames battled to a standoff with Montreal Thursday night in the National Hockey League. "Both goalies played exceptionally well. Just one mistake cost us the win."

Atlanta's mistake came at 5:05 of the final period. Montreal's Murray Wilson, taking advantage of a defensive lapse by the Flames, ripped a slap shot from 20 feet out past goalie Phil Myre. The goal enabled the Canadiens to preserve their 15-game unbeaten streak. The Flames are unbeaten in five games.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Pittsburgh beat Minnesota 6-3, the New York Islanders topped Washington 5-2, St. Louis edged Kansas City 2-1 and Boston triumphed Los Angeles 5-2.

Jacques Richard got the lone goal for Atlanta with 20 seconds left in the second period. It was Richard's 10th goal of the year and his seventh in the last seven games.

Richard blew a chance for another goal earlier in the second stanza when Montreal reminder Ken Dryden stopped him on a penalty shot — Atlanta's first such opportunity this season. Atlanta's Myre also had several strong saves, including a fine leg stop on Pete Mahovich with 7:13 left in the game.

Atlanta outshot Montreal 36-29 in the contest.

Penguins 6, North Stars 3
Pittsburgh rapped out 21 shots and scored five times in the third period to run their home-ice undefeated string to nine games. Jean Pronovost had two goals for the winners, who outshot Minnesota 52-32. The North Stars have 16 losses and three ties in the their last 19 road games.

Islanders 5, Capitals 2
Dennis Potvin had two goals and an assist for New York, which outshot Washington 46-15. It was the seventh straight loss for the expansion Capitals and dropped their record to 3-31-4.

Blues 2, Scouts 1
Chuck Leffley scored both St. Louis goals, his 11th and 12th of the season, as the Blues posted their first road victory since Dec. 12. Wilf Paiement got the Kansas City goal.

Brums 5, Kings 2
Phil Esposito notched his 36th and 37th goals of the campaign within a four-minute span of the second period for Boston. The game was marred by an assortment of fights that resulted in a total of 96 penalty minutes being called.

Triple Crown Winner Secretariat New Father

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Triple Crown winner Secretariat officially became a father for the first time at 10:05 p.m. Wednesday when stakes winner My Card gave birth to a filly at Walter M. Jefford Jr.'s Faraway Farm near here.

The brown filly was born 2½ weeks prematurely but was reported in good condition.

A night watchman called farm manager Harry Scott when he heard a stirring in the barn and the filly was born by the time Scott arrived.

Scott speculated the filly might be the first thoroughbred born in the United States for the new year.

healthy, and said it was hard to tell what her markings were but she may have three white stockings like Secretariat.

The filly has a white star, Scott said, and "like momma, a little white on her nose."

My Card is a daughter of Ace Card who was also a stakes winner. My Card won the Selma Stakes in 1964.

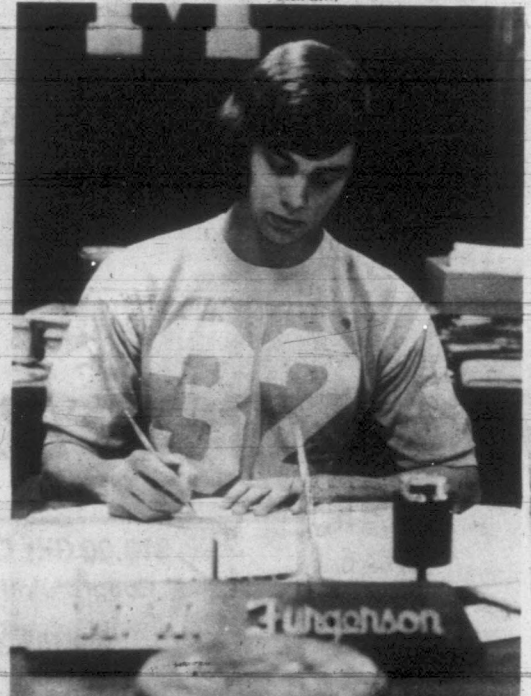

Though a test mare, ineligible to race, earlier gave birth to a Secretariat foal in Minnesota, the Faraway filly is the big horse's first official foal.

Tulsa has won the past six Missouri Valley Conference baseball titles.

Gophers Almost Wanted To Go Crawl In Hole

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The way Bill Musselman talked to them at halftime, Minnesota's Gophers wanted to crawl into a hole.

Bristling at their poor performance in the first half, Musselman told off his players and got some action in the second half.

The Gophers turned from lambs to tigers and whipped Wisconsin 61-46 in Big Ten basketball Thursday night.

"I talked to them about what life was all about," Musselman said about his hot blast at intermission. "If this was a non-league game I wish Wisconsin had won. They deserved it."

"We weren't ready to play. They outbounced us by four in the first half. That shouldn't be. I'm not running an in-tramural program."

While Minnesota was winning its Big Ten opener, Michigan, Purdue and Iowa also got off winning in the conference race.

Michigan, the nation's No. 17 team, tripped Illinois 86-84 in double overtime; No. 18 Purdue stopped Michigan State 94-86 and Iowa defeated Northwestern 75-73.

In other games involving the ranked teams, No. 7 Maryland walloped Appalachian State 96-50; San Francisco smashed No. 10 Providence 96-68 and No. 19 Memphis State turned back Georgia State 102-76.

Freshman Mark Olberding scored 20 points and helped Minnesota dominate the backboards in the second half as the Gophers beat Wisconsin. The Badgers, playing without leading scorer and rebounder Dale Koehler, who has an ankle injury, stayed with the taller Gophers through the first half, which ended in a 24-24 tie.

But Minnesota, 8-1, opened a quick second-half lead and won going away. Responding to Musselman's halftime lecture, the Gophers outbounced the Badgers after intermission, 27-12.

Waymon Britt's jump shot with 2:11 left in the second overtime period lifted Michigan past stubborn Illinois. Illinois had two chances to tie the score in the final two minutes, but Rick Schmidt missed with 45 seconds left in the overtime period and Nate Williams missed another shot near the buzzer.

The teams were tied at 72 at the end of regulation play as Illinois came back from a 37-35 deficit at halftime. Michigan's C. J. Kupec had to hit a basket with 51 seconds left in regulation play to push the game into overtime.

Freshmen Wayne Walls and Walter Jordan combined for 52 points and 31 rebounds to lead Purdue past Michigan State. The game was close only in the opening minutes, but the Bol-makers' two talented freshmen ignited the team to a late surge in the first half and continued their great play in the second.

Larry Moore's two free throws in the closing seconds clinched Iowa's victory over Northwestern. The triumph broke Iowa's four-game losing streak and extended Northwestern's losing streak to five.

Maryland settled down after a ragged first half and ran away from outgunned Appalachian State in the second. Owen Brown scored 12 of his 16 points in the second half to lead the Terps to their eighth victory in nine games.

Bill Cook scored 25 points as Memphis State overcame a cold-start to bomb Georgia State.

Chicago White Sox announced the signing today of a pair of rookies, pitcher Jim Otten and outfielder Mike Ondina, to 1975 contracts.

That was it for Michigan, however, as Lund connected twice and defenseman John Schella once in the final stanza. Lund now has 23 goals on the year and Houston has 165 — tops in the league. The Aeros lead the West Division with a 25-11 record — also tops in the league.

There were just two other games played in the WHA Thursday night. Cleveland beat Indianapolis 4-1 and Vancouver tripped Phoenix 3-2 in overtime.

TENNIS
DALLAS — Cliff Richey and his sister, Nancy Gunter, combined for a first-round victory over Cliff Drysdale and Virginia Wade 4, 3-6, 6-2 in the opening of the second annual International Mixed Doubles Tennis Championship.

HOBBART, Tasmania — Jan Di Louie, a 16-year-old Dallas schoolboy playing his third match of the day, was eliminated by Australian veteran Geoff Masters 6-3, 6-7, 6-3 in the Tasmanian Open Tennis Championships.

Kentucky State, 6-0, won the Granite City Classic last weekend, beating St. Thomas, Minn., 62-50, Wisconsin-LaCrosse 66-65 and finally Ouchita Baptist 85-63.

Eastern Illinois climbed from seventh to sixth place in the rankings with 137 points, followed by Old Dominion, 96; Morgan State, 82; Bentley, 60, and newcomer Southern University, 50.

Aeros Off And Running Toward Another Crown

By The Associated Press

The Houston Aeros won the World Hockey Association championship last season and they're off and running toward another title this time around.

Larry Lund pumped in three goals, two in the final period, Thursday night to power Houston past the Michigan Stags 6-3. It was the Aeros' fifth straight victory and their 24th in the past 31 games.

Lund, Larry Hale and Ted Taylor scored to give Houston a 3-1 lead early in the second period, but the Stags rallied on goals by Gary Veneruzzo and Alain Caron to tie 3-3 after two.

That was it for Michigan, however, as Lund connected twice and defenseman John Schella once in the final stanza.

Kentucky State Retains Lead In Small College Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Kentucky State basketball Coach Lucias Mitchell is convinced his Thorobreds have the breeding to be one of the best teams in the school's history. Obviously, someone agrees, since they have retained their No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press college division basketball poll.

The Thorobreds, unbeaten in 25 straight regular season games, received 14 first-place votes and 319 points to remain No. 1. Their last loss was to 1974 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champion West Georgia in the playoff semifinals.

"I have my entire squad back from last season," says Mitchell. "We're big, we're experienced, fast, have an excellent defense and handle rebounds extremely well. I could start any eleven and it wouldn't matter."

Southwest Splits Pair Of Contests With East

Southwest Elementary and East split a pair of contests played Thursday night on the Southwest floor.

In the first contest, the East eighth grade girls team won an easy 38-19 win over Southwest while in the nightcap, the Southwest eighth grade boys gained revenge for the girls by ripping East 48-31.

In the girls contest, East jumped out to a quick lead in the opening period and led 15-6 at the quarter stop.

By halftime, the East girls were leading 26-12.

East wrapped the game up in the third period by outscoring Southwest 8-0 to carry a 34-12 buge into the final canto.

Rose Ross paced the scoring attack for East with 18 points while Shelia McKenzie tossed in seven for Southwest.

The boys contest was close for the first period as Southwest struggled to an 8-6 lead at the close of the quarter.

But in the second frame,

Southwest outscored East 16-7 to claim a 24-13 lead at the end of the half.

In the second half, the winners had a 24-18 margin to account for the final difference of 17 points.

Barry Guthrie led the winners with 14 while Ricky Garland added 11. For East, McCuiston and Dedmon led the attack, scoring 13 and 11 respectively.

Southwest's boys teams will play at home at 6:30 p. m. Monday against the seventh and eighth grade boys from North.

East visits Murray Middle School at 6:30 p. m. Monday for a pair of boys games.

Several New Series Highlight KET Schedule

Consumerism, Kentucky public affairs, foreign reports, theater, and the evolution of man are only a few of the new topics Kentucky Educational Television (KET) plans for its viewers in 1975.

These programs, some of which will be repeated during the week, include "Consumer Survival Kit," "Kentucky Night," "Bill Moyers' Foreign Report," "Theater in America" and "The Ascent of Man."

Other new series on KET's spring schedule are "The Japanese Film," "World Press," "Romantic Rebellion," "Human Relations and School Discipline," "Dimensions in Cultures" and "Career Education for Elementary School."

"Consumer Survival Kit" offers consumers some solutions, not more problems. It begins Jan. 5 and a new subject and solution is introduced each Thursday at 4:30 p. m. CST, with repeats on Sundays at 5:30 p. m. CST and Tuesday afternoons at 2:30 p. m. CST.

Several television personalities join host Lary Lewman to show consumers how they can solve problems in the marketplace and save money.

"Kentucky Night," each Monday at 7 p. m. CST, includes documentaries, personal interviews, panel discussions dealing with current events, distinguished Kentuckians and an overall in-depth look at some problems and people of Kentucky.

On alternate Monday nights, KET presents "Comment on Kentucky" with host Al Smith. Also scheduled is coverage of legislative hearings, programs from Kentucky universities, special events of interest to Kentuckians, "Kentucky Magazine" and a monthly analysis of Kentucky's new penal code, which goes into effect Jan. 1. The penal code series airs Jan. 27 and is shown every fourth Monday night.

"Bill Moyers' Foreign Report," a series of 21 one-hour programs, is devoted to international affairs. Five types of programs are projected: interviews with world leaders; international journalists discussing the month's most important news events; issue forums on the economy, environment and human rights; magazine programs, analyzing foreign countries of U. S. news; and a special film report on global issues. "Bill Moyers' Foreign Report" airs each Thursday at 7 p. m. CST on KET.

Hal Holbrook is the host for "Theater in America," 17 memorable productions selected from the innovative work in both classic and contemporary theater. Productions include "Zalmen or The Madness of God," "The Year of the Dragon," "Feasting with Panthers," "The Widowing of Mrs. Holroyd," and "The Seagull." "Theater in America" is shown each Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. CST.

"The Ascent of Man" deals with ascent at places where evolutionary, cultural and intellectual steps took place. The late Dr. Jacob Bronowski takes a personal look at the scientific evolution of man, development of agriculture and domestication of plant and animal life. Bronowski and two film crews set out in March, 1971, on an 11-month excursion, which covered 27 countries—from Afghanistan to the Vatican and from Easter Island to Iceland. "The Ascent of Man" airs each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. CST.

OAKLAND YOUTH WIN SILVER MEDAL

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The 65-member Oakland Symphony Youth Orchestra has returned home from West Berlin, where it won a silver medal at the Herbert von Karajan Festival of Youth Orchestras.

It is believed to be the first time that any American youth orchestra had won a prize in international competition.

The second prize winner was the only American orchestra among the 16 groups competing, the only one racially integrated, with more than 20 per cent of its players from minority groups; the only one with a substantial proportion of women, 60 per cent. No government subsidy was part of the $40,000 raised for the tour. Conductor Denis de Coteau, Cal State Hayward teacher, immediately started auditions to fill the places of 30, graduating high school seniors.

The Russian orchestra, whose members had studied at a conservatory since age 8, won the gold medal.

KET Presents Basketball Special

Now one of America's top spectator sports, basketball is much more scientific than at the turn of the century, and the rules much more sophisticated. Understanding and enforcing the rules of the game is the subject of an hour-long special on Kentucky Educational Television (KET), Monday, January 13 at 8 p.m. (CST).

The show begins with a 27-minute film, "Basketball Today," which explains the rules of the game, defining and giving examples of each infraction. "Basketball Today" is followed by a live phone-in, whereby viewers can field questions to a panel of Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) members. The panel includes Billy Wise, assistant commissioner of the KHSAA; Bobby Flynn former senator and now the assigning secretary for officials; and Pat Nielson, a schoolteacher and an official.

Viewers may call KET collect at (606) 233-0666 on Monday, January 13, at 8 p.m. (CST). Questions concerning the film or an interpretation of a rule will be answered promptly.

Lessons WE TEACH

Here are little minds hearing words, receiving impressions, being taught. If you are a parent or a grand-parent, you are also a teacher.

What words and deeds are you passing on to your children - what are you teaching them?

God gives each of our children different talents and different gifts, but He left it to us to nurture and cultivate these talents.

Children learn as much from our example, as from our words. If our faith in God is strong, then their faith will be strong as well.

Let God help you to be a better teacher.

Ford Holds Meetings On CIA Domestic Spying Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford summoned CIA Director William Colby, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to the White House today for separate meetings on charges that the CIA engaged in illegal domestic intelligence activities.

The meetings were disclosed by administration sources as Ford returned to his office after a 12-day Rocky Mountain skiing vacation.

The Oval Office meetings raised the possibility that Ford soon would be making a statement on a 50-page report submitted by Colby after published allegations that the CIA maintained files on 10,000 U.S. citizens.

Colby succeeded Schlesinger as CIA director.

Flying back to Washington from Colorado Thursday night, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said he expects Ford's statement on the CIA to come by the middle of next week.

Ford also is planning to sign the trade bill today, a measure he says is needed to help avert an international economic disaster.

The bill empowers the President to negotiate mutual trade concessions with other nations and provides special assistance to U.S. industries and communities threatened by imports. The measure also permits trade concessions to Communist countries that allow free emigration of Jews and other minorities.

The President also was meeting with Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton and Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb.

Ford has called a conference Saturday of key economic advisers and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller was promised a major role in shaping administration policy, but he was conspicuously absent from meetings that Ford held in Vail, Colo., last weekend with top government officials.

White House officials said Rockefeller did not join the Vail conferences because he had long ago scheduled a Christmas vacation in Puerto Rico.

Nessen acknowledged that Ford returned to the capital "favoring his right leg a little bit" after skiing in Vail on all but one day of his holiday there.

The press secretary said Ford "did not injure himself out there at all," but that his right knee, injured when he played college football, had stiffened up because of the outdoor exercise. Nessen said the knee troubles Ford periodically after tennis and golf but that it requires no special treatment.

Agnew Dealings Have Violated No State Law

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Former Vice President Spiro Agnew's Kentucky land dealings apparently have violated no state laws, according to the Kentucky Real Estate Commission.

"We don't see any violation," commission member Robert Enos said Thursday, though he said the case remains open until the commission inspects an agreement between Agnew and Evansville, Ind., businessman Walter J. Dilbeck.

Agnew and Dilbeck have secured an option to buy "certain land in the Barkley Lake area" of Western Kentucky, according to a statement by commission chairman George L. Cave.

Commissioner Enos, of Covington, instigated the inquiry last month after a Northern Kentucky real estate agent questioned whether Agnew and Dilbeck were working as real estate agents without licenses.

Cave said the commission will have "no final opinion if a violation of Kentucky revised statutes has occurred" until it receives a formal copy of the agreement between the two.

The contract with Dilbeck reportedly gives Agnew $100,000 a year and a share of any business the two secure.

Enos said commission representatives have interviewed Agnew, Dilbeck and several Kentucky landowners in recent weeks and have examined court records.

Dilbeck said Thursday that he and Agnew were unable to close a deal involving the purchase of a 1,600-acre tract on Lake Barkley, but have received a 60-day renewal of their option to buy it.

Agnew and Dilbeck have attempted to secure financing from Mideast Oil interests for the project, which would involve development of homes and high-rise apartments.

Enos said the commission will have "no final opinion if a violation of Kentucky revised statutes has occurred" until it receives a formal copy of the agreement between the two.

Death Penalty - Carroll's Move Into Governor's Mansion

carefully the charge to level against the defendant."

Some critics have said the new law might cause juries at times to acquit a defendant rather than, in effect, to sentence him to die. The new law will not allow juries to reduce a charge carrying a death sentence to another with a less severe penalty, Davis said.

At the time of the 1972 Supreme Court ruling, 24 prisoners were under the death sentence in Kentucky and awaiting execution or action on their appeals. All had been convicted of murder although some were found guilty of other crimes as well.

All those prisoners now have had their sentences reduced to life in prison and now are immune from execution.

No one can be sentenced to death in Kentucky now except for a crime committed after 1975 began.

The last person executed in Kentucky was Kelly Moss, of Henderson, on Mar. 2, 1962.

Under Kentucky's old law, 15 different crimes were punishable by death. Those included bank robbery, throwing or shooting a missile into a train and death resulting from obstruction of a road or private passway.

Since Kentucky started using the electric chair at the penitentiary at Eddyville as its sole means of execution in 1911, 162 persons have died in it. Of those, 144 were executed for willful murder, six for criminal assault, five for armed robbery and seven for rape.

All seven men executed for rape were blacks, as were 53 per cent of the total. No woman has been reported executed in Kentucky.

Since Kentucky attained statehood in 1792, 3,325 persons have been executed for murder, 456 for rape and 24 for kidnapping.

Carroll's Move Into Governor's Mansion

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Governor's Mansion changed hands Thursday with the family of Gov. Julian Carroll moving in and the family of U.S. Sen. Wendell H. Ford moving out.

Carroll was inaugurated governor last Saturday to succeed Ford.

The Carrolls moved in during the afternoon; the Fords had vacated the mansion earlier in the day.

The Carrolls had been residing in the Old Governor's Mansion, which will remain unoccupied.

Mrs. Carroll explained that they leased their home in Paducah when Carroll became lieutenant governor in December 1971 and brought much of their own furniture to Frankfort.

She said she wants to live in the Governor's Mansion for a while before deciding what pieces of furniture to transfer from their former residence.

She explained she is not under pressure to move everything from the old mansion since it will remain unoccupied.

Jimmy Treas Back From Mediterranean

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman Apprentice Jimmy L. Treas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Treas of Route 1, Kirksey, has returned to his homeport at Charleston, S. C., aboard the destroyer escort USS Garcia, after a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean.

During the extended cruise, the Garcia conducted training exercises while operating as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

Between at-sea operations, Treas visited such cities as Naples and Civitavecchia, Italy; Augusta Bay and Taorminas, Sicily; and Bizerte, Tunisia.

Economy... Municipal League To Appeal Pay Decision

The nation's auto makers reported that car production in 1974 was the lowest for a non-strike year since 1962. The four major manufacturers said production in 1974 totalled 7,340,373 units, down 24 per cent from the 1973 record of 9,660,819.

Chrysler Corp. said it is cutting back production in the Detroit and St. Louis areas beginning Monday. The company's St. Louis car assembly plant will be shut down, putting 2,000 employees out of work indefinitely. Another 3,600 St. Louis-area Chrysler workers will be laid off with the shutdown of the Missouri truck plant. Chrysler said 5,200 workers at its truck plant in Warren, Mich., will be out of work with an extension of a shut-down there.

Ford Motor Co. is laying off 1,100 workers indefinitely at two trim plants.

The nation's largest retailers reported December sales gains were better than anticipated but not strong enough to erase the cloud still hanging over Christmas profits.

Municipal League To Appeal Pay Decision

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A 1974 state law requiring cities and other local governments to pay their employees at "time-and-a-half" rates for work in excess of 40 hours a week was upheld by Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs Thursday.

Meigs declared the law constitutional in response to a class action suit filed last July by the Lexington Fayette County urban county government and the cities of Louisville, Bowling Green, Henderson, Elizabethtown, Anchorage and Audubon Park.

The state Department of Labor and the Associated Professional Firefighters of Kentucky were named defendants in the suit.

The Municipal League has authorized an appeal of Meigs' decision to the state Court of Appeals.

The law's application to firemen is especially costly to cities because firemen average 56 hours of duty a week although it applies to virtually all local workers.

The law would force many cities to raise taxes, the suit claimed, and incur unauthorized debt or force them to curtail service in order to pay the overtime rates.

Services Planned At First Church

The First Presbyterian Church, 16th and Main Streets, will have regular worship services on Sunday, January 5, at 10:45 a.m. with Church School at 9:30 a.m.

Rev. Charles Moffett will speak on the subject, "Angels and Talking Donkeys," at the morning services. His scripture will be from Numbers 22:22-35 and John 1:1-14.

A Review Of The Top Local News Stories Of '74

The defeat of 16-year incumbent Frank Albert Stubblefield by Carroll Hubbard, Jr., of Mayfield for the first Congressional District Seat stands out as the top news story locally for the year of 1974.

A review of the last year's top stories also shows these top items of local interest:

—The Veterinary School Bill introduced for a school at Murray State by Senator Pat McCauston, D-Penbrooke.

—The Tenure controversy at Murray State University.

—Police Chief James Brown retires after 20 years of service to the city, and the naming of Brent Manning as his successor.

—The major reorganization of the Murray State University administrative and academic structures was announced, and implemented.

—The Murray City Council voted on March 8 to join with the Calloway Fiscal Court in the purchase of the Ryan Property for a city-county park.

—The groundbreaking in September of the Murray Tennis Courts.

Here is a month-by-month breakdown of the top news stories for 1974, as reported in the Murray Ledger & Times:

JANUARY

County Road Supervisor Ralph McCauston was fired by the newly-elected Calloway Fiscal Court; the court also ended support of the city-county detective.

$12,000 in carpeting was reported stolen from the Paschall Discount Carpet House.

An average price of $71.13 was reported on the opening day of the dark-fired tobacco sale here, with 228,286 pounds sold.

Attendance at Murray State University home football games rose 72 per cent over 1973, the fifth highest percentage rise in the nation.

Bank resources were reported up over $15 million from 1972 at the three banks in Calloway County.

"In-state" tuition rates for Tennessee students and Kentucky schools were proposed.

A city budget of $835,500 was approved for the 1974 year.

Payrolls in the county reached the $21 million mark.

Murray State University was awarded a $70,000 grant for chemical research on water wastes from a textile manufacturing operation.

Market Operators Ordered To Stop Violating P&S Act

WASHINGTON — Billy E. Dunnigan, Joe Skaggs, and Joe Stewart, operators of the Mayfield Livestock Market, a stockyard at Mayfield, have been ordered to stop violating trust account, conflict of interest, and recordkeeping requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) said Friday.

The partners are registered as a market agency and as a dealer to buy and sell livestock. They purchase livestock in western Kentucky.

The respondents asked for a hearing on the administrative charges filed by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration. The hearing was held July 23, in Paducah, Ky., before USDA Administrative Law Judge John A. Campbell. Judge Campbell ordered the respondents to cease and desist from:

—Failing to properly maintain their market's trust account;

—Using funds received from the sale of consigned livestock for any purposes of their own and purposes other than payment of lawful marketing charges and remittance of net proceeds to consignors;

—Using consignors' funds in their possession in any manner as to endanger prompt and faithful accounting;

—Permitting auctioneers and other employees who are engaged in actual conduct of auction sales to purchase livestock out of consignment for any purpose;

—Purchasing livestock consigned to the market for their own accounts;

—Issuing accounts of sale which fail to show the true and correct names of both consignors and buyers; and —Issuing purchase invoices which fail to show the true and correct names of the buyers.

They were also ordered to maintain sufficient accounts and records to fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved in their livestock business.

The shortages in the market's trust account have now been corrected.

The cease and desist order—like a permanent injunction—was issued to insure future compliance with the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act.

Market agencies are required—under the P&S Act—to properly maintain a trust account for proceeds received from the sale of consigned livestock as a measure of financial protection for the sellers. They are also required to maintain an "arms length" business relationship between the buying and selling sides of the market to avoid conflicts of interest.

The P&S Act is a fair trade practices law. It promotes and maintains fair and open competition in the marketing of livestock, poultry, and meat.

The record in this case is open to the public. Copies of this order, P&S Docket 4915, may be obtained from the Information Office, Packers and Stockyards Administration, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

THOMAS A. SCOTT, left, is being congratulated by Commonwealth's Attorney, M. Ronald Christopher, after being sworn in as Commonwealth's Detective by Circuit Court Judge James M. Lassiter Friday. Scott has attended a seminar on the new Kentucky Penal Code sponsored by the UK College of Law. He will be directly assisting Christopher and the county attorneys of the 42nd judicial district in the investigation of criminal cases.

Ford Advisors Say Worst Yet To Come In Recession Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's advisers are telling him the worst is yet to come in the nation's struggle with economic recession.

The gloomy economic forecast, acknowledged by senior administration officials, is spurring high-level talk of 1975 tax cuts.

It was against this backdrop that Ford called his top economic advisers to the White House today for another in a series of meetings to prepare for his Jan. 20 State of the Union message.

The officials included Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, Chairman Alan Greenspan of the Council of Economic Advisers, White House aide William Sidman and energy chief Frank G. Zarb.

In advance of today's session, White House sources reported that Ford has been told by his advisers to brace himself for more economic bad news in the months ahead.

The Labor Department announced Friday that the nation's unemployment rate climbed to 7.1 per cent in December from 6.5 per cent in November as 6.5 million Americans were unable to find jobs. It was the biggest monthly jump in more than 14 years.

Total employment dropped 500,000 from November to December, to about 85.2 million.

Two hours later, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said that "the decline in productivity that is now going on means that the country must expect further increases in unemployment during the period immediately ahead."

Amid the signs of deepening recession, there is increasing talk among high government officials of the likelihood of temporary tax cuts for individuals and corporations.

Some administration sources said Ford's economic advisers had concluded that a tax cut of at least $10 billion is necessary to pull the nation out of recession.

A $10-billion tax cut distributed evenly to the nation's individual and corporate taxpayers would mean an average annual savings of $90 per household.

In other economic developments Friday:

—The Federal Reserve Board continued its easier-credit policy by lowering the discount rate at six of its regional banks by one-half point to 7.25 per cent. The discount rate is what the Fed charges on money lent to commercial banks.

—The nation's second largest commercial bank, First National City of New York, increased its prime rate a quarter percentage point to 10.25 per cent. Citibank had been alone among the major banks in offering a 10 per cent rate on loans to its best corporate customers. With its upward adjustment Friday, its rate was increased to that being charged by most other banks.

—Republic Steel Corp., the nation's No. 4 steel producer, announced price increases averaging 1.4 per cent for various steel-mill products.

President Expresses Fear And Hope About New Trade Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signed a sweeping trade reform bill and expressed both hope and fear about its impact.

The bill gives Ford authority to reduce tariff and other trade barriers for a new round of trade negotiations this year.

In signing the bill at a White House ceremony Friday, Ford described it as "the most significant trade legislation passed by the Congress since the beginning of the trade agreement program four decades ago."

But Ford took sharp issue with amendments pegging Soviet trade concessions to freer emigration of Soviet Jews and with restrictions on trade concessions to members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

"I must express my reservations about the wisdom of legislative language that can only be seen as objectionable and discriminatory by other sovereign nations," Ford said.

Ford apparently was responding not only to Soviet criticism of the bill but also to bitter attacks by Venezuela and Ecuador, both OPEC members.

Ford also signed a bill to allow broadcast and newspaper reporting of state lottery results. Congress passed the measure after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe warned that many state-run lotteries violated federal law prohibiting public reporting of lottery information.

The President vetoed legislation that would have allowed retail milk prices to go up by six cents a half-gallon, calling the bill "highly inflationary to consumers and unnecessary."

The trade bill establishes a long-promised system of generalized tariff preferences for the manufactured products of developing nations but denies participation by OPEC countries.

Congress ignored a State Department recommendation that Venezuela and Ecuador be exempted from the OPEC restriction on the ground that, unlike their Arab counterparts, these countries never have used oil as a political weapon.

The Soviet Union has rejected the bill's linkage of trade benefits to Russian emigration policy, calling the provision interference in its internal affairs.

U.S. officials said after the bill-signing ceremony that they expected discussions between Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Soviet officials before any move by Ford to proclaim the Soviet Union eligible for most favored nation trade benefits.

Ford had said he needed the bill to help avert international economic disasters as oil prices

Haldeman's Lawyers Say Jurors May Have Received 'Information'

Haldeman's lawyers say the Watergate cover-up trial jurors "may have received influential information which could have affected their verdict" while they considered charges in the case.

They asked U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica on Friday for a new trial and permission to subpoena one of the jurors and a newspaper reporter.

The jury convicted Haldeman and three other defendants on New Year's Day of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the Watergate case.

The next day, the Washington Star-News reported that juror Ruth Gould "hinted there were some jurors who disregarded his (Sirica's) instructions not to watch television or read newspapers during the brief periods they were not actually under surveillance."

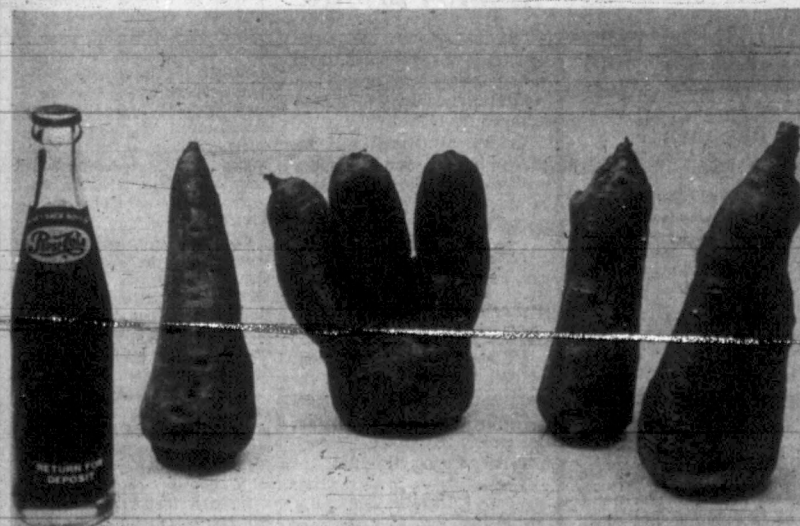

"I just think I never said anything like that; I didn't indicate anything like that and it wasn't true," Mrs. Gould told The Associated Press Friday.

She added that none of the jurors watched television or read newspapers during the three-day deliberation period.

Sirica had permitted the jurors to read newspapers, listen to radio and watch television during the trial's testimony phase. But a U.S. marshal always was supposed to screen out references to Watergate.

The judge, however, banned all TV, radio and newspaper reading after the jury got the case last Monday.

Haldeman's lawyers said they were making their first motion for a new trial as they asked for the hearing "to develop the accuracy and extent of the news article." They asked (See Haldeman, Page 12)

SWEET POTATOES OR CARROTS?—Dyrus Stubblefield of RL-4, Murray, brought these carrots (that's right, carrots) by the Murray Ledger & Times this week when he returned from a visit with his brother, John McThearson, Fairview Hts., Ill., who grew the giant vegetables. Total weight of the four plants was 6 1/2 pounds with the smallest in the lot weighing 11/8 pounds and the largest, the three-stalked monster, weighing 2 1/8 pounds.

Dear Abby

Palm-reading regarded as rubbish

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-H. V. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am so upset I can hardly see straight. The other night, my husband came home and told me that some woman had read his palm for five dollars and told him that either I was going to die and he was going to marry somebody else, or he and I were going to get divorced because she definitely saw TWO marriages in his palms. How do you like that?

Ever since my husband told me this I've been afraid to go to sleep for fear I might not wake up again. Also I'm afraid of saying something that might not set right with him for fear it will start a fight which may lead to breaking up our marriage.

Man, this thing has really hit me hard. We've always had a pretty good relationship, but not anymore. I need your help. SCARED

DEAR SCARED: The only thing you can tell by looking at a person's palm is whether it's clean or not. Fortelling the future? No way! It's all a lot of rubbish, so forget it. And tell your husband to forget it, too.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a miscarriage, and while I was in the hospital a neighbor sent me a get-well card, and she wrote on it, "Some people have all the luck!" (She has nine kinds and I don't have any.)

I thought that was in very poor taste. Do I have to thank her for the card? EMPTY ARMS

DEAR EMPTY: Not unless you want to. But when you see her, tell her that as far as you're concerned, your "luck" was bad.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, I returned home from shopping and found my 16-year-old daughter and her 18-year-old boyfriend in her bedroom. (He has been teaching her to play the guitar.) The door was open and her two brothers were in the living room.

I'm afraid I over-reacted, because I said in front of the boy, "I would rather you didn't have David in your bedroom."

They promptly put away the guitar and went for a walk, but before leaving, she said, "We weren't doing anything wrong, Mother."

I told her she could have her lessons in the basement—that it would look better and she said, "With the boys and their friends running through every few minutes? My bedroom is the only quiet and private place I have."

After thinking it over, I realized that she was right, and as long as they weren't doing anything wrong I shouldn't have said anything.

Abby, how do you feel about a 16-year-old girl entertaining a boy in her bedroom? OLD FASHIONED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A girl should not "entertain" her boyfriend in her bedroom—so you aren't wrong there. But she wasn't entertaining him. She was taking a guitar lesson. There's a difference. Privacy is necessary and legitimate under special circumstances. This was one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has started walking to work every morning because he thinks it's healthier than driving. (It's a 20-minute walk.)

Recently, a pretty, dark-haired young girl, who lives across the street, has started to wait for my husband to come out of our front door so she can walk with him. She is new in the city and she doesn't know her way around town very well. My husband assures me that it's the only reason she wants to walk with him.

I know I can trust my husband, but I still don't like the idea of this girl walking to work with him every morning. I think it's time she learned her way around.

Should I play hurt every day as I did the past two weeks, or should I keep quiet for a while and see how things develop? FEELING HURT

DEAR FEELING: Quit playing "hurt." If you insist on making an issue of it, you may give your husband ideas he never had.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Quality Child-Care Need Rises

As more mothers enter the working world, the need for quality child care rises.

Marion B. Mariner, University of Tennessee Extension family life specialist, says that one out of three working mothers have children under 6 years of age. About 20 percent are put in day-care centers and the others are in the care of a baby-sitter or relative.

In a quality day-care program, children are given an opportunity to receive guidance that meets their emotional, intellectual and physical needs, Mrs. Mariner says.

Salvation By Grace (No.2)

In last week's article we noted that the Bible doctrine of salvation by grace is a heartwarming and thrilling doctrine indeed. However, we also emphasized that salvation by grace does not preclude the necessity of obedience on the part of man. Today we shall substantiate this affirmation in the following paragraph in which, in the numbered statements, the DIVINE side and the HUMAN side of salvation is depicted.

(1) Grace is given of God (James 4:6), but man has ACCESS to it by faith, Romans 5:2. (2) The grace of God provides the gospel through which salvation is attainable (Acts 20:24), but man must RECEIVE the gospel, I Corinthians 15:1. (3) Man is saved "according to the election of grace (Romans 11:5), but it requires "OBEDIENCE" on the part of man, I Peter 1:2. (4) The grace of God is "in Christ Jesus" (2 Timothy 2:1), but man must ENTER Christ Jesus through baptism, Galatians 3:27. (5) "By the grace of God" Jesus tasted death "for every man" (Hebrews 2:9), but one REACHES His death by being "buried with him by baptism unto death," Romans 6:3,4. (6) "The grace of God" brings salvation (Titus 2:11), but man through obedience must "WORK OUT" his own salvation "with fear and trembling," Philippians 2:2.

It is significant that in EVERY scripture in which God's grace toward man is mentioned, a parallel scripture can be given which suggests the necessity of appropriate response on the part of man. Let us not therefore, with reference to this great subject, read something INTO some of the scriptures on grace which contradict other scriptures on the same subject. Man can never through obedience ever merit or deserve salvation, but it is also a fact that, apart from obedience, no accountable person can be saved.

Is it possible for a child of God to fall from grace? The Lord willing, we plan to pursue this question next week. In the meantime, we invite YOU to come and visit with us at the West Murray church of Christ.

How to become a WISE DENTAL CONSUMER

Oral Health Products

With so many oral health products to choose from, it has become increasingly difficult for the consumer to sort out the types of products that are important and the brands that are useful and effective.

The best advice, of course, is to follow the recommendations of your family dentist. He may suggest a particular oral hygiene aid for your personal needs, and he may recommend a particular brand.

There is general advice, however, that the American Dental Association offers to consumers on making wise decisions in purchasing oral health products.

The ADA conducts a continual, independent review of some of the most commonly used, commercially manufactured products. Those that have demonstrated usefulness and safety through scientific and clinical studies are allowed to carry statements of ADA acceptance on packaging and in advertising.

Consumers can look for acceptance by the Association's Council on Dental Therapeutics on toothpastes and the ADA Council on Dental Materials and Devices on powered toothbrushes and denture adhesives.

What the consumer should know in selecting oral health products is one of several topics discussed in a new booklet, How To Become a Wise Dental Consumer, which is available from the ADA. It also tells how to select a dentist and how to save on dental bills.

For a copy of the booklet write: The American Dental Association, Dept. J, 211 E. Chicago Ave., Chicago, IL 60611. Enclose 15 cents to cover handling and postage.

It now turns out that David Thompson isn't Superman and the North Carolina State basketball team isn't superhuman. The nation's top-ranked team and its spectacular top-ranked player who flies through the air with the greatest of ease were just sitting ducks Friday night for Wake Forest.

The Deacons proved that the defending national champions and their star player were only human with a shocking 83-78 upset in the annual Big Four Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. Thompson, the nation's leading scorer with a 35.8-point average going into Friday night's game, was held to an embarrassingly low total of 15 points.

"Wake Forest just outplayed us and outthrust us," said North Carolina State Coach Norm Slean. "They deserved to win. Wake Forest has a lot of talent people don't realize. They did a fine job with our big people on the boards. They zoned us well and they jammed their zone around David Thompson."

"It was a great win for us, certainly, especially with the start we had this season," noted Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy after his club stopped North Carolina State's fabulous 36-game winning streak and extended its record to 6-3 this season.

Thompson, the nation's Player of the Year last season, was kept away from the basket by a wall of Wake Forest defenders and his conspicuous off-night proved to be a significant factor.

"We gave him the outside shot but prevented him from coming inside," said Tacy.

After the biggest upset of the college basketball season, Duke pulled off another shocker by beating eighth-ranked North Carolina 99-96 in overtime in the second game of the double-header. The night's unlikely results moved Duke into tonight's Big Four finals against Wake Forest.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 3 UCLA whipped Davidson 91-64; No. 5 Southern Cal routed Villanova 101-74; No. 13 Marquette tripped DePaul 61-60; No. 14

Arizona State nudged Texas Tech 62-61 in overtime and No. 16 Arizona State turned back Oregon State 76-70.

Wake Forest, using a zone defense and a deliberate offense, trailed in the opening minutes but went ahead after a 6-6 tie and led the rest of the game.

The Deacons were ahead 46-36 at halftime and still led by 10 points with 3:52 remaining. North Carolina State pulled within 74-72 with 1:41 remaining, but Wake Forest scored five of the next seven points. With 20 seconds left, a field goal by Monte Towe pulled the Wolfpack within 79-76.

Wake Forest hit 54.2 per cent of its field goal shots, while North Carolina State could do no better than 34.9 per cent. Skip Brown scored 25 points for the Deacons while Phil Spence led the Wolfpack with 22.

Kevin Billerman delivered four free throws in the last 11 seconds of overtime, lifting Duke over North Carolina. Billerman had six of his 24 points in overtime while Bob Fleischer scored a game-high 26 points for the Blue Devils.

Twice this season Ballard Memorial has started off on the right track.

It's what's happened in between that's been worrying Coach Tom Buchanan.

After defeating Brookport in their opening game of the season, the Bombers dropped their next nine games.

And then Friday night on their home floor, they started off well again, playing their first game of the new year and pulling off an exciting 70-69 upset over Calloway County.

"I'd like to think we are on our way back," said Buchanan, who enjoyed tremendous success at Carlisle County before taking over the head coaching job this season at Ballard.

"The whole season has been like it was tonight. We've played spotty ball all year long."

It just so happened the Bombers picked the right spot in playing their spotty ball Friday.

Trailing by as much as 11 points midway through the final period, the Bombers turned red-hot in the "Green Palace" and roared back to take a 66-66 lead with 1:37 left in the game as lightning-quick Kelly Stone stole the ball and drove the length of the court for the bucket.

During the next 97 seconds, both teams had chances to win the game but unfortunately, for the Bombers, the chance dribbled down the floor with just four seconds left.

With eight seconds left, sophomore guard Tommy Futrell fired from 12 feet away and the ball bounced off the rim. Senior center James Wells grabbed the ball and so did forward Kevin Stewart of the Bombers. And with four seconds left, the two jumped it up at the Laker free throw circle.

Wells controlled the tip but he batted it too far downcourt and Stone grabbed the ball and held on as the game ended with a rush of Bomber fans mobbing their team on the floor as if they'd just taken the State Tournament.

"It was just plain and simple," Calloway County Coach David King said.

"They wanted it more than we did."

The loss drops the Lakers to a dismal 4-6 for the season.

Once again, the downfall of the Lakers proved to be turnovers, a department that Calloway County seems to be winning a lot this season. And when you win in that department, you usually lose.

The Lakers committed 28 floor errors, 12 by James Wells. Wells did, however, finish with 24 points and grabbed 22 rebounds as the Lakers had a lopsided 51-29 rebounding edge in the contest.

It looked more like a shootout in the first period than a basketball game as both teams came out running and gunning. By the end of the period, the Lakers were coasting along with a 24-18 cushion.

Calloway County led by as much as seven points in the third quarter before two charity tosses by Stewart knotted the count at 34 all with just 49 seconds left in the period.

And 12 seconds later, Stewart stole the ball and hit on a drive to give the Bombers their only lead of the half. Two free throws by Mark Miller left the Lakers in a 36-36 deadlock with the Bombers at intermission.

In the first four minutes of the third period, it was like watching a clock pendulum as the lead swung back and forth, back and forth.

Trailing 44-42, the Lakers then hit a spurt and rallied for nine consecutive points, pulling out to a 51-44 edge late in the stanza.

And that seven-point margin was the spread at the end of the third period as the Lakers held a 57-50 lead.

With 4:57 left in the game, Thorne canned two free throws and Calloway County had a seemingly safe 65-54 lead.

The Lakers did not score again until when with 1:10 left in the contest, James Wells hit a free throw. And that free throw tied the game at 66 apiece.

The game was tied once more at 68 before David Williams' free throw with 20 seconds gave the Lakers a 69-68 edge. His second shot fell off the rim and on the battle for the ball, Thorne fouled Shaunza Henderson who calmly hit two free throws to post the final count of 70-69 on the board.

Then any chances the Lakers had to pull the game out of the fire ended when Wells tipped the ball too far downcourt.

"We lost the game in the first half," King said.

"Anytime you let a team like that play ball with you for a half, you're in trouble because they begin to realize they can play with you."

Stewart claimed game honors as he pumped in 25 points for the Bombers while Stone, the only other Ballard player in double figures, added 10.

For the Lakers, Wells scored 24 while Thorne tossed in 16 and Miller 13. Futrell added six, Mike Wells five and Williams four.

From the field, the Lakers lost the game by 12 points as they were outscored 58-46. But from the charity stripe, Calloway County hit on 23 of 34 while Ballard made just 12 free throws.

Ballard will host Heath Tuesday while the Lakers will try to get back on the winning track the same night by playing at home against Wingo.

"After that second quarter, I felt like taking my team for a Sunday stroll in the park."

John MacLeod, coach of the Phoenix Suns, was shaking his head over Chicago's 47-point explosion in the second period Friday night, which carried the Bulls to a 126-99 triumph over Phoenix. The Bulls hit 47 of 71 shots from the field in 19 road games this year and into first place in the NBA's Atlantic Division.

JoJo White topped Boston with 28 points. Center Elmore Smith scored a season-high 30 points for the Lakers.

Steve Mix tallied 29 points and Doug Collins added 26 for Philadelphia, to lead the 76ers. Sonics 98, Blazers 93
Fred Brown scored 31 points to Seattle past Portland. Sidney Wicks was tops for Portland.

Bruising Rose Bowl Game May Have Taken Toll On Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (AP) — The hard knocks of the Rose Bowl battle between Southern California and Ohio State may have taken their toll on the Hula Bowl Galaxy.

The Trojan's flashy running back, Anthony Davis, will decide today whether he's ready to play in the 29th annual all-star game, which begins at 4:10 p.m. EST.

Davis, likely the number 1 Hula Bowl attraction because of his sensational performance against Notre Dame and his runner-up finish to Ohio State's Archie Griffin in the Heisman Trophy voting, suffered badly bruised ribs during USC's 18-17 Rose Bowl conquest of the Buckeyes.

Davis gingerly tested his battered bones in a light workout Friday, but avoided contact.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, who is assisting Houston Coach Bill Yeoman with the West squad, recruited Sooner running back Grant Burget to take Davis' spot. Burget played in the shadow of junior Joe Washington in the national champion's thundering wishbone offense.

The Sooners also contributed linebacker Rod Shoate, defensive back Randy Hughes and offensive guard John Roush to the West.

Yeoman has two drop-back style passers in USC's Pat Harden and California's Steve Barkowski, the nation's top passer, but the Houston coach says he'll stick with his Veer T attack, which calls for the passer to sprint out.

"If a kid is a good football player there's no problem, and these kids are all good football players," Yeoman said. "We'll run our offense and just see what our people can handle."

Prime targets for the quarterbacks will be the nation's premier receiver, Dwight McDonald of San Diego State, and Rose Bowl hero John McKay of USC.

East Coach Bill Battle of Tennessee planned to operate from a pro set with split backs, mixing options with pure drop-back passing.

Tennessee quarterback Conredge Holloway will start for the East, with North Carolina

State's Stan Fritts and Minnesota's Rick Upchurch as running backs and Olympic sprinter Larry Burton of Purdue at flanker.

The East's defense will rely heavily on Big Ten stars, including linemen Pete Cusick of Ohio State and Mark Peterson of Illinois, linebackers Steve Stranko and Dave Elliott of Michigan and Terry McCowry of Michigan State, and defensive backs Dave Brown of Michigan and Mike Gow of Illinois.

NEW YORK — The Oklahoma Sooners, the nation's only unbeaten and untied team, were named the No. 1 team in the country in the Annual Associated Press final football poll.

Vikings "14-Man" Defense Is Reason For Success This Year

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The genesis of the Minnesota Vikings controversial "14-man defense" precedes the team to its Jan. 12 Super Bowl match with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Vikings defense gave up 195 points in its regular 14-game season. Only Los Angeles and Pittsburgh did better.

In the National Football League playoffs, Minnesota's defense held St. Louis to two touchdowns for a 30-14 victory in the opening round and a week later handcuffed the Los Angeles Rams 14-10 in the National Conference title game.

During the Rams game, the Minnesota "front five" sacked James Harris twice in the closing minutes.

Harris said, "Those sacks, they just plain beat us."

Part of the masterminding of the Viking defense comes from another Pennsylvania team — the Philadelphia Eagles of the 1940's.

Minnesota, which sometimes shows 14 players in the defensive huddle, has utilized a 5-6 defense with great success in the last month when the opposition is in an obvious passing situation. Actually, it's a 5-2-4 defense devised in the late 1940's by Philadelphia Coach Earl "Greasy" Neale.

"Philadelphia had five down linemen," said Vikings' defensive quarterback coordinator Neil Armstrong, who was a member of the Eagle secondary. "That was the only similarity, however."

Minnesota uses Jim Marshall, Carl Eller, Bob Lurtsema, Doug Sutherland and Alan Page in a five-man front when it expects the opposition will pass.

"Instead of two defensive backs, there were two linebackers," said Armstrong. "The linebackers dropped back into pass coverage."

Armstrong continued, "Our concept is a little different. Our defensive backs have pass coverage and run responsibly." The Vikings send rookie Randy Polt and Terry Brown into the lineup with Lurtsema for the linebackers.

A year after Armstrong and Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 14-0 for the pro football championship, the Eagles drafted University of Minnesota end Bud Grant in the first round.

Within three years, Armstrong, Grant and another Viking coach, John Michels, had left Philadelphia for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League.

So, the publicized "14-man defense" has arrived in Minnesota from Philadelphia with a rather lengthy layover in Canada.

New Record

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP) — Since New Year's Eve, 12-year-old Kelly Kennedy has been holding a basketball.

He sits, stands and walks holding his basketball. And he lies, holding his basketball.

The Springfield youth plans to end his holding pattern at Saturday's Oregon-Providence basketball game in Eugene, where he will present the basketball to University of Oregon player Ron Lee at halftime.

Kelly's mother, Opal, said her son is trying to set two world's records simultaneously — one for holding a basketball the longest, and the other for being the youngest person to do it.

A British Realist

By Anthony Harrigan

LONDON, England—While British economic policy is made by socialist ideologues in the Labor Party and, as a result, the nation sinks deeper into trouble, voices of economic reason are heard in this island.

The most authoritative voice is that of Sir Keith Joseph, Conservative Party spokesman on home affairs. Like Winston Churchill in the early 1930s, he is telling the British people grim truths many of them don't want to hear. Yet acceptance of these truths is the only way for Britons to avoid economic disaster.

Britain faces disaster because a generation of socialist mismanagement of the economy has left the country poorly prepared to compete with other nations and produce the income necessary for a comfortable standard of living.

In a hard-hitting speech at Leeds in mid-December, Sir Keith said overmanning is Britain's real obstacle to growth and prosperity. He declared that the working population "must choose between narrow, illusory job security in one place, propped up by public funds, or the real job security based on a prosperous, dynamic economy."

What one sees in Britain today, as Michael Spicer, M. P., pointed out in a recent letter to The Times of London, is an "obsession with the distribution and the spending of wealth" instead of attention to the problem of creating wealth.

This same obsession exists in America and in the U. S. Congress. It is the basic obsession of the McGovernite liberals who seek economic controls, super-regulation of industry, and maintenance of the unions' monopoly power.

Hopefully, America will develop economic realists in public life who are as outspoken and lucid as Sir Keith Joseph.

growth and social progress have been brought to an end by 'overheating' caused by labor shortage when we know well, all of us know, Conservative and socialist, management and unions, that not less than a fifth of our labor forces is tied up in over-manning enterprises and departments in both public and private sectors.

"Manpower, manpower everywhere, and not a drop for expansion, for exports, for speeding-up the improvement of our housing, Dickensian schools, infirmary-style hospital buildings, and factories which look like outdoor museums of the industrial revolution.

"What a cruel mockery it is that Prime Minister Wilson's Minister for Industry, or should we call him Minister Against Industry, while paying lip service to technological progress, should tell workers that the need for redundancies and redeployment is a myth, that all workers have a right to stay on in the same job in the same firm. This is a cruel deception, because it would be a recipe for national bankruptcy which would end by undermining millions of jobs."

Worth Repeating

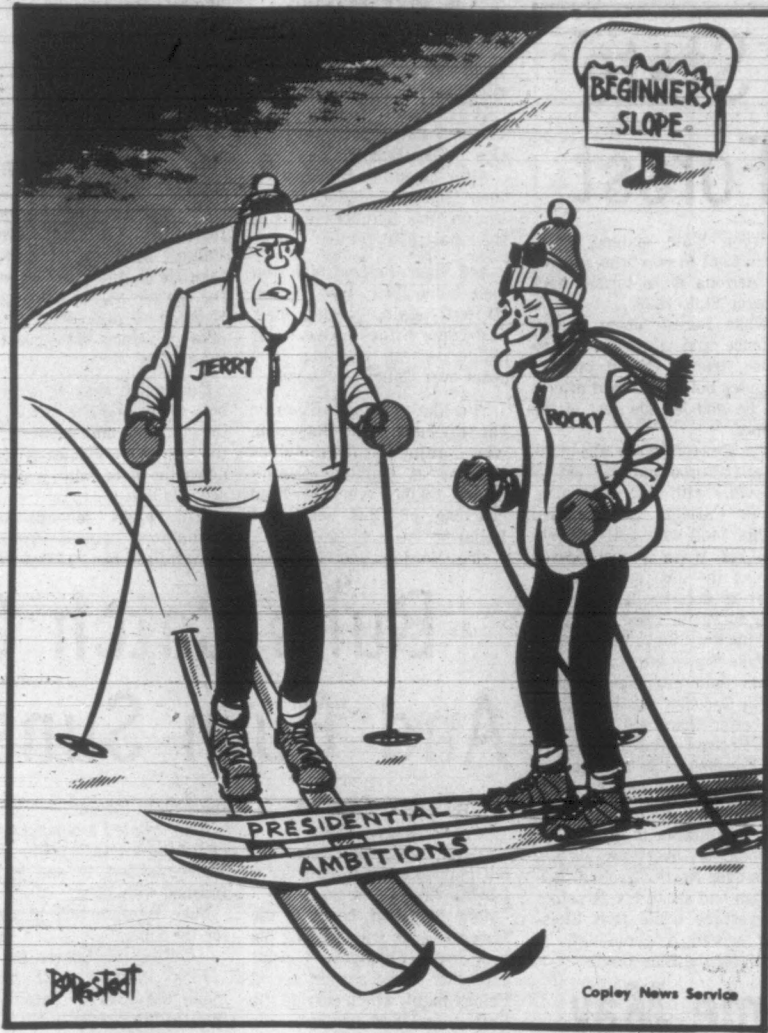

"Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange, indeed, if so celestial an article as Freedom should not be highly rated."—Thomas Paine.

Let's Stay Well

Honeybees And Our Food Supply

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

At a time when boosting food production is becoming a global priority, some discouraging news comes from the University of Wisconsin. It points out that honeybees are being killed by some pesticides in the United States at a rate that provokes concern for nearly 100 crops, with a value of $4 billion annually. These crops depend on bees for pollination.

as alfalfa — may be adversely affected by the 20 per cent reduction in honeybee colonies in our nation today, compared with the number present 10 years ago.

In California, the leading bee state, as many as 20 per cent of that state's honeybees have been killed in recent years — a mortality rate double that of the early 1960s.

The bee laboratory at the University of Wisconsin reported that the economic value of honeybees as pollinators is 20 times their value as honey-producers.

The laboratory workers discovered a few years ago that cranberry production could be tripled with efficient bee pollination.

Even more dramatic and significant results may lie in the potential effect of bee pollination of soybeans, the nation's second most important feed crop and a critical source of protein.

Some observers expect a new hybrid soybean that would double present yields to be in common use in a few years. Unlike present varieties, however, the new hybrid would require honeybees for pollination. For all-out production, about two million colonies, or half of the country's present total, would be required.

These facts point up the importance of research in expanding our food supply and in detecting developments which might impair it.

Q. Mr. D. R., has a friend suffering from sphenopalatine neuralgia, and he wants an explanation of the disorder.

A. This form of neuralgia is unusual but not rare and is characterized by episodes of facial pain on the affected side. The pain is in the upper jaw or maxillary area and under the orbit. The pain is dull, burning, and constant, differing from the sharp, lancinating pain of trigeminal neuralgia.

Sphenopalatine neuralgia is often the result of an acute sinusitis, such as follows an acute upper respiratory infection. Local medication in the nose on the affected side may give relief but may have to be combined with medicine by mouth to relieve the pain. Occasionally the pain may persist and require surgery.

Q. Mr. D. P. wants to know whether or not highly intelligent men are more sexually aggressive than women of average intelligence.

A. Sex drive is not necessarily associated with high intelligence. However, studies have been made which show that, on the average, intelligent women are more sexy, though not necessarily more aggressive, than the women of lower intelligence. To assume that intelligence is a barrier to love and sex is false, though such opinions appear to exist quite commonly. United Feature Syndicate

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

SENATOR MIKE MANSFIELD (Mont.) "... Volunteerism is not the answer. Wearing a button on one's lapel is not the answer. Cleaning one's plate is not the answer. Oil shortages alone are not the problem.

"It is not satisfactory to blame it on an international oil conspiracy alone. Assessing blame does not provide a remedy. Getting our domestic house in order through a balanced program of energy conservation and economic restraint will do more to remedy the international recession than the rhetoric of countless international conferences.

"The measure I introduce today should be considered as but one part of an over-all program to meet the urgent needs of this nation.

By Mr. Mansfield: S.4174. A bill to stabilize prices, rents, wages, salaries, profits, dividends, interest rates, and other economic transfers. Referred to the Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs.

"The President has indicated or at least his predecessor did, that he does not have the authority to impose wage, price, profit, rent, and interest rate controls; that authority expired on April 30, 1974, and is not in operation at the present time.

SENATOR McCLELLAN. "It has expired. What the Senator is doing then, with his bill, is seeking primarily to renew authority that heretofore been granted to the President, that is discretionary authority."

SENATOR MANSFIELD. "The question will be raised 'Well, we are just trying to pass the buck to the President.'"

"Not at all. If there was any way in which I could devise a measure which would pass Congress on a substantial basis and which would give Congress equal control with the President, I would be delighted to do it. But the only way it can be done, as I see it, is on this basis, because the President is the Chief Executive Officer of our Government, and the designated leader of this Nation.

CRUMP'S GRASS

ROOTS COMMENT

Thousands of words have been written and hours of TV newscasts have been devoted to inaction by the President on "controls." The "inaction" was due to the fact that his authority to act had expired on April 30, 1974. The Senator's bill, if passed, would renew that authority. The "buck" is passed to the President.

Your Individual Horoscope Frances Drake

FOR SUNDAY, JANUARY 5, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Some patterns changing, but you can prevent the worthwhile from being diluted with froth. Inattentiveness prevalent. AND some high-spirited notions to direct carefully!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) Venus, favorable, urges all your best instincts and sympathies to help this day get off to a bright beginning, and remain on course.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) A challenging day! Surely you should enjoy this! If you wish to rest, do so, but try to get in SOME activity which stimulates the mind. Continue rapport with associates.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) It may seem monotonous to you to have to re-check, review to offset small hazards and keep things nicely. But aspects suggest that you stay on guard, alert.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

A combination of pluck, strength of purpose and feeling of adventure should make this a good day. Social events should be especially enlivening.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Favorable Mercury influences stimulate enterprise, perception. You can gain through thoughtful communications and the acquisition of more knowledge.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Past efforts should be bearing fruit now. Study tendencies and changes that may seem odd, but may hold new advantages.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) A better-than-average day — one which encourages your best efforts. Stretch the imagination without overplaying it. Concentrate on new methods, ideas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Auspicious for just about anything that strengthens the link between men of good will and counteracts indiscretion, botheadedness and intolerance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can coast on your laurels if you do not actually waste time or dissipate talents. The restful day is also useful, indulged with proper purpose.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A fine Uranus aspect encourages your particular know-how, sensitivity to situations and reasoning powers. These are winners — always — but especially now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some situations complicated. Be sure you have all the facts before making decisions. Whether the day is for recreation or you have strenuous tasks, remain serene.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely versatile individual, ambitious and endowed with the persistence needed to reach your loftiest goals. Your nature is a gregarious one, yet you like to be alone when trying to think constructively. You are progressive in your thinking and could become a leader in almost any field of your choice. The Capricornian excels in salesmanship, athletics, the law, the military, in literature or the entertainment field. Birthdate of: Stephen Decatur, Amer. naval commander.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Where there are fairly equally divided opinions, be careful not to force or press for hasty answers on either side. Try to mediate.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) Influences stimulate your intellectual and artistic leanings. Capitalize on the smart ideas and comprehensive follow-ups for which the Taurus is renowned.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) Especially favored now: literary work; scientific and technological advancement; aiding children, elders; domestic interests.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) Pep up the "difficult" areas; aim for surer efficiency; study others' methods to note where they could apply to your situation.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) Calculations, estimates, reports need careful attention.

Take nothing for granted. In all matters, the straight route will be better than the circuitous.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Old-fashioned common sense will be needed in making good decisions. Self-reliance, plus a certain amount of flexibility, will also boost your stock greatly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Planetary influences encourage both long-pending projects and new ventures. Your intuition and foresight should be keen now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Fine influences! You can enliven dull moments but keep within sane boundaries. Seek information; convert to better systems.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Favorable influences will stimulate those of you who maintain even balance and tranquility. Start and stay with the will and disposition to enjoy all things.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Judiciously applied skills will be a boon to yourself and others; unwisely used talents or backing could undo much good done. Face facts squarely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Fine Uranus influences! You should have a happy go of things generally. Especially favored: writers, workers in all intellectual and creative lines.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look over all situations penetratingly. Then, coupling your native intelligence and remarkable intuition, ACT — if you feel the time is ripe.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a trigger-quick mind and are rarely caught napping when opportunity knocks. Your perceptiveness in business matters and perseverance in forging ahead toward lofty goals are outstanding. You love to travel and will take off on a moment's notice; like to be with people and could succeed in any field involving dealings with the public. You hurdle obstacles with ease and never let them dismay you. Traits to curb: unreasoning jealousy, moodiness. Birthdate of: Danny Thomas, TV star.

1974: A Most Successful Year For Local Sports

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

The year just past will never be forgotten by local sports fans.

For Murray High fans, it was as the old Chinese saying goes, "The Year of the Tiger."

For the first time ever, the Tiger basketball team went to the State Tournament. And then, for the first time since 1961, the Tigers won the State Class A Football Championship.

There were other big events in 1974 too. Cal Luther, after a long and successful career as coach at Murray State University, stepped down and Fred Overton took over the job as the Racers basketball coach.

Murray State completed its most successful football season since 1961 and this summer, the Murray Little League All-Stars went all the way to the semifinals of the State Tournament.

It was a fabulous year for sports in Murray. Here is a brief review of what happened in 1974:

JANUARY

Jan. 17 — New Concord wins the Calloway County Junior High Tournament by defeating Lynn Grove 54-46.

Jan. 18 — James Wells sets a new scoring record in Jeffrey Gymnasium by pumping in 44 points as the Calloway County

Lakers defeated Paducah St. Mary 84-79.

FEBRUARY

AP Names Sooners As National Grid Champs

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners, who overcame the dispiriting effects of being banned from post-season bowl competition and national television exposure because of a two-year probation for recruiting violations, have been named college football's national champions for 1974.

The Sooners, the only unbeaten and untied major college team in the country, climbed to the top of the college football world in Barry Switzer's second year as head coach and easily outdistanced the rest of the field.

For their 11-0 record, the Sooners received 51 of 60 first-place votes and 1,162 of a possible 1,200 points from the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters participating in the final Associated Press major college poll.

Southern California was a distant runnerup to Oklahoma. The Trojans, who edged Ohio State 18-17 in the Rose Bowl, received six first-place votes and 1,060 points. They were followed by Michigan, Ohio State and Alabama. Notre Dame, the 1973 champion, finished sixth, trailed by Penn State, Auburn, Nebraska and Miami, Ohio.

Oklahoma was preseason choice of the AP voters, but dropped to third place after an unimpressive 28-11 opening game triumph over Baylor. The Sooners climbed to second two weeks later, then reclaimed the top spot after Ohio State was knocked from the unbeaten ranks on Nov. 13. Once gaining the top spot, the Sooners never gave it up.

The national championship is Oklahoma's fourth since the AP began its poll in 1936. The others came in 1950, 1955 and 1956.

Oklahoma finished third last season and second the two previous years.

The American Football Coaches Association, at its meeting a year ago, adopted a resolution that schools on probation should not be recognized in polls. The position of the Associated Press is that its poll is a rating of relative strength of all teams playing football, and that no team will be ignored.

The Sooners were virtually assured the national championship when Alabama, 11-0 and runner-up in the final regular season poll, was beaten 13-11 by Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl New Year's Night.

The second Ten consisted of North Carolina State, Michigan State, Maryland, Baylor, Florida, Texas A&M, Mississippi State and Texas, tied for 17th, and Houston and Tennessee.

The final regular-season Top Ten consisted of Oklahoma, Alabama, Ohio State, Michigan, Southern Cal, Auburn, Penn State, Nebraska, Notre Dame and Maryland. Only Maryland dropped out, after losing to Tennessee 7-3 in the Liberty Bowl.

Fly Williams Scores 29 But Spirits Drop Game

By The Associated Press
The New York Nets posted their sixth consecutive triumph over the Spirits of St. Louis Friday night, and Coach Kevin Loughery says his team is reaping the benefits of earlier efforts against the young expansion club.

"The fact that we beat them real badly the first three times we met is still having its effect," said Loughery following his team's easy 130-113 triumph at the Nassau Coliseum. Although the Spirits are winless against New York, they have posted victories over some of the other top ABA clubs, including two over Kentucky and one over Denver.

"Elsewhere in the ABA, the Kentucky Colonels overpowered the Virginia Squires 113-79 and the Denver Nuggets beat the Indiana Pacers 120-111. Spirits Coach Bob MacKinnon said of the Nets, "This is a very good club and to beat them you have to play well. We just haven't played well in any of the games we've played them."

The game was close only until midway through the second period, when a 19-10 spurt gave New York a 64-55 halftime edge. The Nets quickly stretched their lead to 15 in the third quarter, and Loughery was able to clear his bench and go with reserves in the final quarter.

Julius Erving paced the Nets with 34 points and 15 rebounds, John Williamson added 27 points and Billy Paultz had 21. The Spirits got 33 points from Freddie Lewis and 29 from rookie Fly Williams. Colonels 113, Squires 79

Fight Scheduled

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Danny Lopez, on the comeback trail and seeking a title bout with Bobby Chacon, will battle Octavio Famosa Gomez of Mexico City in a featherweight fight Jan. 18 at the Anaheim Convention center.

Lopez, of Alhambra, Calif., was knocked out by Chacon who went on to win the World Boxing Council title. Danny currently is rated No. 10 among the world's 126-pounders. In a companion 10-rounder, Jimmy Hear of Okolona, Miss., will meet Art Leone of Bisbee, Ariz., in a lightweight bout.

One Step Won't Do It

It would be nice if you could take one dramatic step that would whack a big chunk off your electric bill. But conserving electricity is a little more than one step. It's lots of little ones.

Like cooking with small appliances instead of the electric range.

Like taking a quick shower instead of a "battleship-floater" bath... and keeping the water as cool as possible.

Like washing all clothes in the coolest water possible.

Like keeping the thermostats at 68 degrees in winter.

We could go on and on, but a better suggestion and dozens more are in a handy booklet that is yours free. Just ask for the "Conserve Energy" booklet. It'll be a big step toward getting all those little steps done.

SPORTSMEN
 Look Around You!

By Jerry Allen

Have you ever stopped to wonder if Kentucky is lagging behind all its surrounding sister states in game and fish management programs? I have! I can't seem to get all the facts though. I look around at Missouri, a state with not near as much to offer in game habitat but yet they are one of the most flourishing states when it comes to game management programs. They may be ten years ahead of our state in their wild turkey management programs. A state that only a few years ago was almost barren of wild turkey flocks is now named the top turkey hunting state by the top wild turkey expert in the nation, who is also the chairman of the technical committee of the N. W. T. F., Wayne Bailey. Missouri deer and waterfowl programs also appear to be leaps and bounds ahead of us as is all other surrounding states programs.

Tennessee has almost twice the number of wildlife management areas and their license revenue is near that of Kentucky, I am told. It makes one wonder what's happening up there in the big building in Frankfort? Are they setting on their behinds as previous managers have done? True, we have management areas and are damn lucky to have them. Time and time again Kentucky has had the opportunity to buy more land for management areas but have lagged behind and bogged down in the muck of red tape that is so typical. True, again some new areas have been added in recent years. But take a look at our management areas—as compared to other states, then take a look at what we the sportsmen of Kentucky have in comparison to these other states. Take a long look at what Illinois has to offer, then Missouri, Tennessee and Virginia. Do we come close to comparing? Are our biologist on the ball as other states biologist? Are the sportsmen of Kentucky well represented? Do the sportsmen have a real voice? These are questions the Kentucky outdoorsman needs to be asking.

One well known writer of a leading newspaper in Kentucky takes special pains every year to phrase our department of fish and wildlife. I'm sure his friends in the capital appreciate it but it's high time the sportsmen of Kentucky took time to

Lead Industry Voices Position On Non-Toxic Shot

The Lead Industries Association is in basic agreement with the purposes of the proposed Department of Interior regulations to reduce needless mortality of waterfowl. But we do not believe that substitution of steel for lead shotgun ammunition will achieve this end.

It has been documented that some waterfowl are poisoned through the ingestion of lead shot. However, the magnitude and severity of lead poisoning among waterfowl is a matter of considerable debate. The widely varying figures quoted in discussions of the waterfowl poisoning problem indicate a lack of accurate information on which to base the regulations proposed by the Department of Interior.

Compared with the normal characteristic fluctuations of waterfowl numbers, which can run as high as 50 per cent or more over a 10-year period, the losses due to lead poisoning are small and exceeding difficult to measure in any scientifically valid fashion.

Nevertheless, if a suitable substitute which eliminates the loss of waterfowl due to ingestion of lead shot and at the same time does not produce other adverse effects, can be developed, then pure lead shot should be replaced. Such alternatives are under development and hold great promise.

It must be realized that there are trade-offs involved in the proposed substitution of steel for lead shot and that these trade-offs have not been adequately evaluated in the Environmental Impact Statement issued by the Department of Interior.

A review of the available information, of ongoing research and of the Department of Interior's Environmental Impact Statement indicates that the proposed substitution of steel for lead shot could actually increase waterfowl mortality through a substantial rise in crippling caused by steel shot.

There are a number of problem areas in the Environmental Impact Statement that are being used to justify the regulations. We will discuss two of the most significant.

First, the Department of Interior has relied heavily on the determination of the lead content of wing bones of ducks collected during the 1972 and 1973 hunting seasons as a measure of the magnitude and severity of the lead poisoning in waterfowl.

Second, the Impact Statement contends that in some instances the lead in wing bones is attributable to environmental Impact Statement regarding the dosing of ducks on different diets with lead shot:

"It can be seen that food in the form of commercially prepared duck ration reduces the amount of lead absorbed and deposited in the bones. This reduction is so pronounced that the number of shot doses is much less important than the diet." Other factors that can account for differences in lead content of wing bone between flyways include (1) representativeness of samples, (2) amount of lead shot available, (3) type of bottom material in the water body, (4) percentage of birds ingesting shot. It is factors such as these, not other lead sources, that affect the amount of lead deposited in bones and account for differences between flyways, between states within flyways, and between hunting areas within states. It is inconceivable that any source of environmental lead could contribute to the absorption of lead by waterfowl to the magnitude of lead pellets from spent shot. There is no justifiable basis for extrapolating the data for lead in wing bones to support speculation about the contribution of lead sources. New Shot Under Development

Steel shot is considered by the Department of Interior to be the only alternative at this time. However, it is our opinion that questions about the adverse effects of steel shot on increased crippling of waterfowl should be resolved before the proposed regulations are put into effect. Other questions which have not been adequately evaluated in the Environmental Impact Statement include gun barrel damage and possible injury to hunters from catastrophic failure or ricochet of the lighter steel shot. It is relatively certain that changes will occur in the chokes of most guns which use steel shot.

Current research activity could provide a better solution to the existing problem of waterfowl poisoning. The use of a lead-iron shot, which has been under study by Canadian Wildlife Service as a substitute for lead shot, looks very promising. A spherical agglomeration process combining lead and iron powders produces shot which retains the advantages of lead shot, such as softness to preclude barrel damage, inertness, and good ballistic properties, while being relatively non-toxic. The Environmental Impact Statement of the Department of Interior acknowledges that test results indicate this type of shot "must be considered as a possible alternative to steel shot."

Mr. Nolan Perrett, of the Canadian Wildlife Service, in a paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners in 1973, made reference to a mixture of iron and lead shot in this statement: "We believe that we now have a solution to the problem of lead poisoning in waterfowl."

Further development and testing of the lead-iron shot we believe will show this shot to be superior to steel shot. The ballistic properties of lead-iron shot, due to greater density as compared to steel shot, should decrease the possibilities of increased crippling losses which now exist for steel shot. The Nilo Farms study showed crippling to be much greater with steel shot than with lead shot at distances in the 40-70 yard range. Total annual crippling losses due to substitution of steel shot for lead shot were estimated from data of the Nilo Study at three million waterfowl, far surpassing the estimated one million in losses due to lead poisoning. The lead industry, in addition to producing and testing lead-iron shot, is also studying lead-magnesium, lead-calcium, and other lead alloys as possible alternative shot materials. A number of different lead alloys have been produced and are now in the evaluation process. Work by Dow Chemical Company indicates that lead-magnesium alloys do break down in water, contrary to the information contained in the Environmental Impact Statement. Research indicates that a high calcium diet decreases the absorption and toxic effects of lead. Hazard evaluations of various lead alloys used in experimental shot are presently being conducted. Although the proposed rules provide a mechanism for approval of other shot materials, a requirement to use of steel shot at this time will undoubtedly reduce interest in research on superior alternative materials. A requirement to use steel shot also would make it very difficult, if not virtually impossible, to obtain approval for any other material. The proposed procedure for approving "non-toxic shot" addresses only the question of toxicity and does not appear to consider the crippling potential, a factor which may be equally as important. The proposed rules allow the Director of the Department of Interior only 180 days for reaching a decision after receipt of an application for approval of a shot material. This time period is much too short to make a complete evaluation and most, if not all, applications will probably be rejected. Neither the Environmental Impact Statement nor the proposed rules define "non-toxic" shot. However, a clear definition of "non-toxic" by the Department of Interior is needed as a guide in research and development efforts. The concept of a non-toxic agent is a fallacy. Any chemical agent given in large enough quantity, by the appropriate route of administration and in the proper physical form, will produce an unwanted effect. Although the reference to non-toxic shot undoubtedly refers to a "low toxic hazard" for waterfowl this factor needs clarification.

Cattle owner A. M. Wray (right) displays what is suspected to be a young timber wolf which Wray killed Friday afternoon in his pasture in West Paducah. Wray and other area cattle owners said five or six calves were reported missing in the last week, but the losses were blamed on roaming packs of wild dogs. Wray said he was investigating a disturbance in his pasture when he shot the animal. Conservation Officer Joe Alexander said the actual species of the canine could not be determined until a study of its skull structure could be undertaken.

Turkey Hunting Dates Set for Land Between The Lakes—Turkey hunting will be permitted in Land Between The Lakes again this year with the same number of days as last year. Hunting will be permitted April 17, 18, 19, 24, 25, 26, and May 1, 2, and 3. Only one turkey gobbler per hunter per season will be permitted. Special permits will be issued in March.

Small Game Hunting Continues Through February 20—The small game season in Land Between The Lakes will continue through February 20. Quail, fox, and rabbit hunting will be permitted through the 20th, while raccoon and opossum hunting will be allowed on January 3, 4, 10, 11, 17, 18, 24, 25, and 31.

Construction Continues at Land Between The Lakes—Various construction projects continue in Land Between The Lakes. Construction on the 7.1

miles of the northern portion of The Trace is 95 percent complete, with total completion expected in the spring of 1975. The new administration building located at the intersection of Gatehouse Road and The Trace is also 95 percent complete. The 1.1 mile new Brandon Spring entrance road, located approximately 1/2 mile south of the old entrance, is open for public use while work on the new information and entrance station at the northern end of Land Between The Lakes is approximately 40 percent done.

North Information Station Closed—The North Information Station, temporarily located near the entrance to Nickell Branch on The Trace, will be closed until further notice. Hunters may get small game permits at the Golden Pond Information Station located on U. S. Highway 68.

Four Wheeling

By Hamp Brooks, Jr.

On Sunday, December 29th, at 1:00 p.m. The TWIN LAKES FOUR WHEELERS, INC. met and hosted a four wheel drive run involving twenty six vehicles from four counties. Seventy-one people attended. The afternoon was warm, humid, and wet when the four wheel drive rigs started rolling into the Cain and Treas parking lot. The assortment tallied out to be nine Jeep CJs's, four Ford four wheel drive pickups, three Jeep four wheel drive trucks, three Dodge Powerwagons (four wheel drive trucks), two Chevrolet four wheel drive trucks, two Ford Broncos, a Chevrolet Blazer, a Dodge Ramcharger, and a Jeepster. Channel 13 was picked to be the official voice on the CB radios for the day. The procession traveled down Chestnut Street, around Industrial road, and headed east on Highway 94. After taking a right on Potseven feet wide, twenty feet long, and weighs six thousand pounds or so. After about an hour most of the vehicles had reached Checkpoint 2. It did require some winching to get some of them through. One Ford pickup was sporting a new crease about four feet long down one side and a Dodge had a new style rear quarter panel. The run proceeded back up the main "trail" to Checkpoint 3. This spot has come to be known as "Brooks bathtub" ever since your notable reporter managed to drown out his trusty old CJ5 right in the middle of it. It's really only an old pond about thirty feet wide and two or three feet deep in the middle. After Sunday it was renamed the "Brooks & Galloway bathtub". The trail proceeded three hundred feet uphill, very slick, very muddy, with a huge ditch directly in the middle. Two women took the wheel and tertown road the group reformed in the Wildcat Creek area. Drivers got out and locked in the front hubs, pushed in the outside mirrors, and got ready. The run started up an old road, heavily rutted, sloped to one side, with mud about four inches deep and water standing everywhere. The caravan spun, slid, and lunged its way to the top and proceeded on down the trail to Checkpoint 1. Here a right turn led the group onto a motorcycle trail laid out through the woods. Here is where several folks soon came to know what rough offroad driving is all about. An offroad trail bike is less than three feet wide, about five of six feet long, and weighs somewhere between a hundred and two hundred pounds. They are ridden over trails which are cut about five or six feet wide through the woods and up and down hills, etc. A four wheel drive pickup is proceeded to drive up this very challenging obstacle. There were a lot of men who did worse before it was over. The caravan proceeded onto Checkpoint 4 at the gravel pit. There were several waterholes along the way and one person poured nearly two gallons of water out of his air cleaner slightly after he drowned out. Hooks established a seesaw with his Blazer on top of a large pile of gravel. All four wheels were clear after he did a real good job of getting it high centered. Ten friendly fellows finally managed to push it off after it had been recorded on film for the record. Checkpoint 5 was the mud flats and here everybody had a lot of fun. Nobody even got stuck. Darkness was approaching along with a light rain so after saying good-bye to each other a very muddy bunch of four-wheelers headed home.

Bowhunter's Bag
By Barry William Drew

REFLECTIONS

Bowhunting is a demanding sport which requires the individual to put in quite a bit of time in order to gain the skills necessary to be successful in the field. This time is spent in learning to 1. shoot the bow and arrow, 2. learning the habits of the game which is to be hunted, and 3. pre-season study of the area where the game lives. For those who got their program together, the result was a successful hunt and the pleasant memories that go along with success. Most of the area bowhunters didn't quite make the grade. Many will attribute their lack of success to bad luck. Most will realize that they didn't invest enough time in one or more areas of the sport. The success or failure of next season's hunt may well depend on recognition of the mistakes that we made this season and our attempts to correct them.

Most bowhunters suffer because they don't do enough pre-season practice with the equipment that they plan to use in the field. In plain language, they just can't shoot well enough to hit a deer and make a good clean kill. Many bowhunters can't make a good hit on a target at twenty yards or less!

Equipment problems can make accuracy as hard to come by as a three dollar bill. The bowhunter owes it to himself to be sure his equipment is balanced. This means that bow and arrows are matched to one another and all the accessories used are blended into an efficient weapon. Many hours of actual shooting will develop the poise and physical strength that is required to make the good clean kill which we all desire.

Most bowhunters in this area are treestand hunters. This fact demands that anyone planning to hunt from a treestand must practice shooting from a treestand. Treestand shooting causes most people to shoot their arrows high and over the intended target. Practice from a treestand allows the hunter to develop the necessary hunting technique that is required when shooting down (at a downward angle) at game animals.

Now is a good time to begin practicing at least three times each week for next season. Try to practice thirty minutes at a time. Shoot at targets of deer and become familiar with deer anatomy. Shooting the bow all year will do wonders for your skill with our primitive weapon.

Knowledge of the game to be hunted will help a great deal when added to the shooting skills required. Bowhunters often start with a good reference work such as The Deer of North America, by Taylor. The bowhunter who knows what deer are likely to eat or where they are likely to bed down is one step closer to success and a freezer full of choice venison.

The white-tailed deer is a creature of habit as is the bowhunter who is hunting him. The deer's habits can be his undoing if the bowhunter makes use of this valuable knowledge. The time you spent this winter studying deer habits may well be the ingredient which spells success next season.

January is a good time to go to the woods and scout for next year's trophy while the woods are bare. Deer sign is easy to spot now. Deer are shedding their antlers (or soon will be) and next seasons trophy may frequent the same area where you find this year's discarded antlers. Go to the woods with your topographical map and scout likely areas, talk to people who may have hunted these areas, and become familiar with the deer population and its movement. Now is a great time to increase your knowledge of the white-tailed deer's habits and habitat.

If you were among the ninety-five percent of the bowhunters who didn't score, take heart. Many bowhunters hunt for years before making that all important first kill. Bowhunting demands that you invest time and effort in order to be successful. Good luck may be a factor for some bowhunters but most of us know that a bowhunter makes his own good luck. Shooting skills, knowledge of the game being hunted, and pre-season scouting of the area where deer live make a good foundation on which to build next years hunting season.

Good luck and good bowhunting!

Auto Industry Ends Worst Year In More Than A Decade

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers have closed the books on their most tumultuous year since World War II and opened 1975 with announcements of new production cutbacks and hints of more to come.

They also have confirmed independent industry estimates that new car output in 1974 sank to its lowest level for a nonstrike year in more than a decade.

Additional bad news is expected to come Monday when the industry reports its year-end sales totals. Deliveries since September have trailed year-before levels by 30 per cent.

Another sales drop in December, as anticipated, would trigger a new round of production cutbacks and layoffs.

U.S. passenger car production in 1974 stood at 7,340,373 units, a 24 per cent drop from a record 9,660,819 in 1973.

It was the lowest output since 1962, with the exception of 1970, when General Motors was hit by a 67-day national strike.

December production was 357,429 units, off 31 per cent from 517,955 in December 1973 when production and sales had just begun to tumble in response to effects of the energy crisis.

GM production in December 1974 was 215,423, down 17 per cent from 259,273 in December 1973. Production for 1974 stood at 3,585,509, a 32 per cent decline from the 1973 total of 5,252,734.

Ford's production for December 1974 was 108,024, off 18 per cent from December 1973's 131,984. Total production for last year was 2,205,245, down 12 per cent from the 1973 total of 2,495,853.

Chrysler built only 15,222 cars in December, an 85 per cent decline from the 103,217 built in December 1973. For the year, Chrysler's output was 1,196,241, off 23 per cent from 1973's 1,556,377.

American Motors reported output in December at 18,760, off 20 per cent from 1973's 23,481. Production declined one per cent for the year, 351,378 to 355,855 in 1973.

The most hard-pressed of the companies, Chrysler Corp., announced Thursday it was shutting three plants for at least a week, beginning Monday, and eliminating second shifts at two of those facilities when they reopen. One of the shift eliminations was announced previously.

The new shutdowns will force the layoff of 10,800 hourly workers, 2,600 of them for indefinite periods. About 50,000 of Chrysler's 117,000 hourly workers have now been given open-ended furloughs.

Company spokesmen hinted at further cutbacks, but declined to disclose production schedules beyond those for next week.

A Chrysler spokesman also confirmed Thursday for the first time that approximately 20,000 of the company's 39,000 white-collar workers will be laid off sometime this month. He said he was among those handed pink slips.

Ford Motor Co. also announced new production cutbacks Thursday, saying reduced operations at two Michigan trim plants will result in the open-ended layoff of 1,100 workers, beginning Monday. That will boost Ford's indefinite furloughs to 29,000.

Ford has 85,000 of its 178,000 hourly workers slated for layoff this month, 56,000 for temporary periods.

GM is idling 132,000 of its 370,000 workers this month, 91,000 of them indefinitely. AMC is laying off 15,150 of its 23,000 workers for a week this month.

Hospital Rate Hike Approved In Elizabethtown

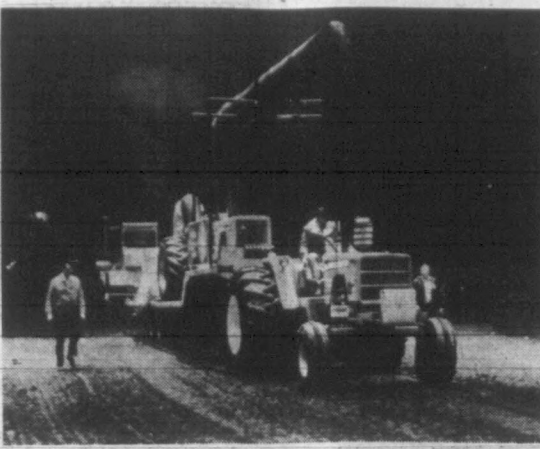

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Hardin Memorial Hospital can boost its room charges $12 a day in a rate increase approved by Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Kentucky.

With the rate boost, charges for semi-private rooms will range from $54.50 to $56 a day and for private rooms from $59 to $61.50 a day.

Dennis Hall, hospital administrator, said the increase was approved on the condition that the hospital, which is beginning a cost-control program, review its revenues and expenses in three months.

"They're very concerned about our increases in expenses," Hall said.

The hospital budget went from a $131,000 surplus to a $136,794 deficit in a matter of months last year, Hall said. The hospital estimates that rate increases will add $756,500 in revenue.

Over 60,000 people are expected to watch the four nights of exciting competition during the National Farm Machinery Shows Tractor Pull in Louisville at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center February 12-15. Drivers will be competing for their share in big prize money and trophies.

More than 160,000 people are expected to view the 1975 Tenth Annual National Farm Machinery Show February 12-15 at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville. Over 350 manufacturers and suppliers from over 30 states, not to exclude Canada and England, will show the latest Farm Machinery and techniques in the eleven and a half acre indoor showroom.

Two Pounds, Two Ounces At Birth, Two-Year-Old Boy Now Near Normal

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Two-year-old Mike McFarland is rather talkative and likes to eat a lot. Not bad for a guy who weighed 2 pounds, 2 ounces when he was born and was almost given up for dead.

"He has a vocabulary of 30 words. He likes the color red best of all and he enjoys watching television. He loves to eat — anything and everything," said Roy McFarland, 42, Mike's father.

On New Year's Day two years ago, McFarland said his wife Susan, who was about 5½ months pregnant, had been uncomfortable. So they went to the university of Utah Medical Center to find out why.

Doctors determined that she was going into labor, but warned the McFarlands that the birth would be too premature and that the child would die.

Later, a doctor came out of the delivery room and told McFarland that the baby had not been able to breathe properly and had died shortly after birth.

"The doctor said the child breathed for a moment, but could not prolong it," McFarland said. "I was amazed and shocked to hear there had been a baby and to hear it had died. They told me, though, that the baby had not had time enough to develop, and its lungs had not grown enough to support it.

"I went back into the hall again and tried to call my wife's parents and my mother to tell them that the baby had died. I was standing in the hall outside the delivery room for about half an hour.

"A nurse later told me she had tried to go into the delivery room and get the baby to take it to the morgue. She said she didn't have the heart to do that with me standing right there, so she waited."

An orderly went into the delivery room to clean up, heard a noise and saw a movement under a sheet on a table.

"When the orderly saw the movement and lifted the sheet, he was amazed to find a baby there," McFarland said.

The baby was rushed to the intensive care unit and put into an incubator.

A spokeswoman for the hospital said Michael was delivered by a second-year resident who "no longer is with us."

Crisis followed crisis and several times the McFarlands were told that Mike might not make it. But, three months after he was born, Mike was sent home.

Today Mike, who is 33½ inches tall and weighs 31 pounds, gets physical therapy once a week to develop motor coordination in his left hand, which has not yet gained its full strength.

McFarland is a vice president of a Salt Lake City advertising agency. Mrs. McFarland, 31, has an 8-year-old girl from a previous marriage, and McFarland has two daughters, 16 and 20, also from a previous marriage.

'Perinatal Hotline' Established, U Of L

Babies in the western half of Kentucky and Southern Indiana will now have a better chance at life, if complications develop before, during, or at birth due to the newly established Perinatal Coordinating Center and 24-hour "Perinatal Hotline", at the University of Louisville School of Medicine's Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Located at the Perinatal Medical Center in Louisville General Hospital, the new service will be available for education, referrals, coordination of treatment, emergency services and professional advice. Primary users of the facility are expected to be private physicians, public health nurses, hospital, and Department of Health clinics.

"A major dichotomy of perinatal medical care exists in Louisville, Southern Indiana and Western Kentucky," explains Dr. John T. Queenan, Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology and director of the new program. "We have a Perinatal Medical Center here, with some of the most sophisticated diagnostic and therapeutic methods in existence. And for babies who are ill following birth, we have Newborn Intensive Care Units at Children's Hospital and Louisville General Hospital. However there are many babies and mothers who do not receive the specialized care they need."

The main reason is simple: lack of immediate awareness and employment of the specialized services available to detect and treat high risk pregnancies. And lack of knowledge of particular treatment modalities available here aimed at assisting an ill newborn reach a state, where he can maintain life on his own.

"It is our hope," Queenan emphasizes, "that through this widespread effort we can decrease the number of infant deaths and the amount of unnecessary illness by making available to women who may have high risk pregnancies and to their babies the specialized care they need before, during, and after delivery."

The Perinatal Coordinating Center is funded by a grant from the National Foundation, March of Dimes and is staffed by Joy Price, a registered nurse who will be coordinator of the program. Personnel support for this effort will come from the existing Perinatal Medical Center, and department of Pediatrics, University of Louisville School of Medicine.

Frankfort Is Hardest Hit By Flu Epidemic

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentuckians suffering from the flu are most numerous around the capital city, with more than 1,000 cases reported in Franklin County and no heavy outbreaks elsewhere, the state Health Services Bureau reports.

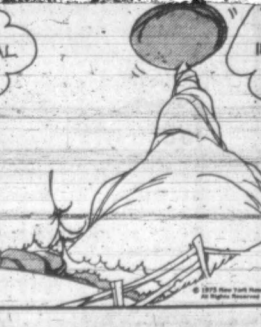

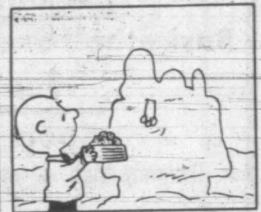

The bureau's mail, and telephone checks to different counties, have turned up a "very insignificant" number of flu cases, said Dr. C. Hernandez, director of the bureau's Preventive Services division.

"Statewide, so far, counties are not experiencing what Franklin County appears to be," Hernandez said Thursday. The Franklin County Health Department asked county and Frankfort city schools to remain closed until Monday rather than reopen Thursday after the holidays as scheduled.

Elsewhere, however, the state Education Department reported no school closings or delayed reopenings due to flu.

Hernandez said the type of flu being experienced has not been identified. He said the department will try to obtain specimens to isolate the virus.

Meanwhile, he said, the state has provided 25,000 doses of flu vaccine to most county health departments. "We will have to wait and see what happens," he said.

Mid-Century To Offer Courses Just For Women

Mid-Century Baptist Bible College of Mayfield announced today that it is offering several courses in the winter trimester just for women. The courses are designed to fit the schedule of the busy housewife that would like to attend college. The program may be entered as part-time, full-time, or on the non-credit audit basis.

The courses just for women meet only on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Classes may be taken as early as 7:45 a.m. Classes in this recommended program will be over by 2:00 p.m.

The 7:45 class is taught by Dean Roper of Mayfield, and is entitled "Home Management."

The 9:00 class is either English or Library Techniques. A course entitled "Children's Literature" is offered at 11:00. Music, taught by J. Frank Young, is scheduled for 12:50. Ladies taking all four courses on Tuesdays and Thursdays may earn eight college hour credits.

Mrs. Anne Markham, wife of the college president, was quoted as saying, "It's about time the college offered some classes for the woman and housewife that felt all hope of college had passed her by."

Information may be obtained by contacting the college on North 15th Street in Mayfield or calling 247-8521.

Registration For Draft Still Required For Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men are getting the word that they still have to register for the standby draft and "there's no great failure to register," says Selective Service Director Byron V. Pepitone.

"But there is quite a bit of tardiness," failure to register as required by law between the period 30 days before and 30 days after their 18th birthday, Pepitone said.

He said in an interview that in 1956 — who turn 19 this year — is scheduled for March 12. This will assign them numbers setting the order in which they would be called in case of a national emergency which would cause Congress to resume the draft. These men would be first in line for any call-up during 1976.

Pepitone said he is "reasonably satisfied" that he has overcome the erroneous impression prevalent in the first half of 1973 that the end of draft also meant the end of draft registrations. Nobody has been drafted since December 1972.

The draft director took several steps to get things back on track. First he launched a massive publicity campaign to inform the young men of their obligation. Then he took steps to make it easier for them to register.

Men no longer have to report to their draft boards, but can register with volunteer uncompensated registrars. Most of these are at high schools, but others are at such places as fire stations, court houses and National Guard armories. There are now 25,000 such volunteers backing up the draft boards.

Pepitone also instituted a system under which men in isolated places could register by mail. This has just been expanded to permit those overseas to register by mail.

FPC Warns Nation Of Natural Gas Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States is headed unavoidably for deepening shortages of natural gas, and the nation should prepare to allocate the dwindling supplies, a staff report of the Federal Power Commission warns.

The shortages will cause "widespread plant and business shutdowns and local employment and economic problems," the agency's Bureau of Natural Gas said Friday in calling for preparation of federal relief plans.

Residential users of natural gas, who normally are given preference in obtaining supplies, also may be affected in some, unspecified areas, the bureau said.

Natural gas also is an important ingredient in the manufacture of chemical fertilizer, and a cutback would be felt in farm production.

The report was released as President Ford met with Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger and Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb to continue drafting energy policies.

The officials were said to have discussed the prospects for tapping Naval petroleum reserves in California and Alaska as new sources of oil for domestic use.

The petroleum industry reported this week that domestic drilling for oil and gas rose by 20.4 per cent in 1974, but the FPC study said even that would not reverse the deepening shortages.

"Past efforts to effect a turnaround in the national supply posture have been largely ineffective, and we view the likelihood of success in the future with pessimism," it said.

"It is no longer simply a matter of gas supply failing to meet increasing requirements. It means that from here on we must make do with less gas in absolute terms. We see this as inevitable..."

The report clearly implied that natural gas cannot be depended upon to help the nation reduce its reliance on imported oil. More oil, in fact, may be needed to replace the dwindling gas.

A private Brookings Institution study, also released Friday, concluded that the United States could cope adequately with any future cutoff of foreign oil if petroleum imports were trimmed from the current 36 per cent to 20 or 25 per cent of total consumption.

State's Highway Death Toll Drops Dramatically

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) - The state's highway death toll dropped dramatically in 1974 compared to the previous year's traffic death count and Kentucky State Police say that hadn't happened before in 25 years of record-keeping.

Figures released Friday revealed 785 deaths on Kentucky highways in 1974 compared to 1,117 traffic deaths in 1973 - a reduction of 30 per cent.

The 1974 total is the fewest number of traffic deaths in Kentucky in 15 years.

Both Louisville and Jefferson County also had fewer fatal accidents last year and the trend toward fewer fatal accidents is a national one according to the National Safety Council, whose figures reveal an 18 per cent decline in traffic fatalities during the first 11 months of 1974.

The Louisville fatality count for 1974 was 53, compared to 61 a year earlier and in Jefferson County, excluding Louisville, the drop was from 76 in 1973 to 45 in 1974.

Nothing new in traffic enforcement was used in Louisville according to Capt. Thomas

Hall, commander of special services for the department, but in Louisville a selective enforcement unit was established to concentrate on reducing the violations that result in accidents, especially in areas where mishaps occur frequently.

Imposition of the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit is viewed as a likely reason for the reduced highway carnage.

Officials noted that even when drivers exceed the limit by five miles an hour, they're still driving within safe speed limits.

State Police Commissioner Ron Johnson said, "I think that's the biggest thing. We've effectively brought down the average speeds to a safe level."

Volume of traffic across the state is down according to state Department of Transportation figures which reveal about 5 per cent less traffic volume in 1974 than for the previous year.

'Begin Right' Is

Dr. Fisher's Topic

"Begin Right" will be the subject of the sermon by Dr. James Fisher for the worship services at 8:45 and 10:50 a.m. on Sunday, January 5, at the First United Methodist Church.

Special music at the 8:45 services will be a quartet composed of Mary Lou Abbott, Douglas Abbott, Eleanor Duguid, and Paul Shaban who will sing "Come Thou Almighty King."

The Chancel Choir, directed by Paul Shaban with Mrs. Richard Farrell as organist, will sing the anthem, "Come Thou Almighty King," at the 10:50 service.

The Junior High Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at six p.m. and the Senior High MYF will meet at 5:45 p.m. on Sunday.

Murray City School's Lunch Menu for the week of Jan. 6 through Jan. 10 has been released by Margot McIntosh, supervisor as follows:

Monday, Jan. 6 - Cheese Dog on bun, Tater tots, Fruit cocktail, Cookie and Milk.

Tuesday, Jan. 7 - Hamburger on bun, Slaw with carrots, Baked beans, Corn chips, Donut, and Milk.

Wednesday, Jan. 8 - Tacos with meat and cheese, Lettuce and tomato, Chili beans, Peach cobbler, and Milk.

Thursday, Jan. 9 - Sloppy joe on bun, Whole kernel corn, Apple, Cake, and Milk.

Friday, Jan. 10 - Pizza, Peanut butter and cracker, Tossed salad, 1/2 orange, Ice cream, and Milk.

The menu is subject to occasional change due to availability of products.

also for permission to subpoena Walter Taylor, whose by-line appeared on the story in Thursday's Star-News.

Taylor said, "Another reporter was involved in the story and I didn't talk to Mrs. Gould. But I stand by the accuracy of the story." The Star-News declined to say who the other reporter was.

Haldeman's attorneys said if the jurors did indeed violate Sirica's instructions "then it would appear that they not only received extraneous information which they were prohibited from receiving, but as well, were permitted not to be under surveillance during brief periods, they not only disobeyed the express orders of this court but, even more importantly, they may have received influential information which could have affected their verdict."

Haldeman was the first of the convicted defendants to ask for a new trial and the reference to "his first motion" indicated there will be others on additional grounds.

New trial motions are routine and were expected from the other men. John N. Mitchell and John D. Ehrlichman, together with Haldeman, were convicted on multiple counts.

Robert C. Mardian, was convicted only of conspiracy.
