Local Musicians To Perform With All-District Bandsmen

The first annual All-District Band, composed of 105 of the best band students from 14 West Kentucky schools, will perform at Paducah Tilghman High School, Saturday, January 25th. The personnel for this elite group were chosen by audition at Mayfield High School, December 12, 1974.

The selected students will rehearse at Tilghman Friday and Saturday, January 24th and 25th with the guest conductor, Howard Nicar, director of the Peabody-Vanderbilt University Band, Nashville, Tennessee. The two days of intensive rehearsal will climax with a concert Saturday evening, 7:00 p.m. in the Paducah Tilghman High School Auditorium. The public is invited to attend. Admission is $1.00.

Selected for the band from the local community are:

Calloway County High—Gena Cleaver, Cathy Calhoun, LaDonne Roberts and Charles Enoch.

Murray High—Sharon McConnell, Brenda Hough, Sally Matarazzo, Anne Gregory, Jana Jones, Carolyn Shown, Terri Rice, Pat Baggett, Pam Lassiter, Lynda Perrin.

Mona McCuiston, Tressa Brewer, Debbie McMillen, Tommy Pasco, Mike Comer, Beth Richardson, Linus Kodman, Sammy Kelley,

Marilyn Howard, Michele Richardson, Tim Philpot, Doug Crafton, Steve Howard, Stan

Hanesworth, Dwaine Hampton and Bill Bailey.

Nicar has selected for the occasion a varied program of music including: The Westerner March by Richards; An Original Suite by Jacob; The Girl I Left Behind Me by Anderson, A Symphonic Portrait by Ades (Irving Berlin songs); The Klaxon March by Filmore, Third Suite by Jager and Australian Up Country Tune by Grainger.

The All-District Band is sponsored by the band directors of the First District Music Educators Association. Ron Cowherd, band director at Ballard Memorial High School is the chairman for this year's event.

County Gets Grant Of $51,704 For Jobs

Calloway County has been allocated $51,704 to provide emergency employment for the jobless, Gov. Julian Carroll has announced.

The allocation is part of more than $9 million which has been channeled into Kentucky through the recent enactment of the Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act to provide approximately 1,200 jobs in the state.

The emergency program is expiring with the contract expiring Feb. 10, 1976. Salaries may range from a minimum of $2.10 per hour to a maximum of $10,000 annually, depending upon the skill required, according to C. Leslie Dawson, Secretary of the Department for Human Resources. DHR is administering the funds to 89 counties which are under the prime sponsorship of the Governor.

To qualify, a person must have been unemployed for 30 days or more and reside in an eligible county. Priority will be given to those who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits; who have been judged ineligible for unemployment insurance; or who have been unemployed for 15 weeks or more.

In addition to the funds administered under the Governor's sponsorship, more than $5 million has been allocated to the remaining 31 counties in the state.

County Judge Robert O. Miller, who will administer the program, said this morning that the funds can only be used for salaries, the participating governmental body must supply money for all materials and supplies.

Several projects have been proposed locally for the federal funds, including construction of a ten-unit T-Hangar at the Murray-Calloway County Airport; the construction of curbs, sidewalks and ramps at various intersections and streets in Murray and Calloway County; the reconstruction and renovation of several public buildings here; and general work on the Murray-Calloway County Park.

The projects will be presented tomorrow at a 26-county meeting in Hopkinsville. Approval will be given or rejected this week by Norman Willard, Jr., commissioner of the state department for human resources.

The program is designed to supply salaries to the local economy, Judge Miller said. It will be a joint city-county project, and will include capital improvements in both the city and county.

The project including curbs, sidewalks and ramps will, if approved this week, call for 9,500 feet of sidewalks in the area; curbs and gutters at

Grant To University Announced

Paul R. Jones, Regional Director, the federal agency for volunteer service announced today that a planning grant for $40,500 has been awarded to Murray State University, for a University Year for ACTION (UYA) program.

This planning phase, if successful, will be converted into an operating grant to enable student volunteers to work full time for one-year on anti-poverty projects while earning University credit.

ACTION's UYA program was established by the President July 1, 1971 to administer federal volunteer programs at home and overseas.

Presently, over 2,000 students in more than 40 colleges and universities in 43 states and the Districts of Columbia are participating in the program.

This planning grant should result in the placement of student volunteers in poverty areas to work on programs concerned with such needs as drug abuse, income tax service, parole assistance, day care, senior citizens services and community development.

Bobbie Smith Named As Finalist Miss Kentucky Teen-Ager Pageant

Miss Bobbie Smith age 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, Murray Route Two, has been selected to be a finalist in the 4th Annual Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant to be held March 21, 22, and 23, at the Continental Inn, Lexington. Final competition will be at Lafayette High School Auditorium on Saturday evening, March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant is the official state finals to the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant to be held in August, 1975. All 50 states and the District of Columbia are represented by State Winners at the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant.

The reigning Miss Kentucky Teen-ager is Cindy Ison of Greenup.

There will be contestants from all over the state competing for the title of Miss Kentucky Teen-ager. Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership; poise-personality; and beauty. There is no swimsuit or talent competition. Each contestant will recite a 100 word speech of her own composition on the subject, "What's Right About America".

Miss Smith is being sponsored by Peoples Bank, Special Occasion, LTD., and The Showcase of Murray. Her hobbies include needlework and ham radio operator. She is a sophomore at Murray High School and is a member of Kirksey United Methodist Church.

Readers Theatre Auditions To Be Friday And Monday

Auditions for the Readers Theatre production of "Cat's Cradle" by Kurt Vonnegut, Jr., will be held Friday, January 24, and Monday, January 27, at Room 308, Wilson Hall, Murray State University.

The auditions will start at five p.m. both days and are open to the general public. The date of the production has not been set as yet.

Robert Valentine, instructor in the department of communications, is the faculty director, and Bill Worrel is the student director.

Weather Forecast

Clear and cold tonight, low in the low to mid teens. Tuesday increasing cloudiness and a little warmer, high in upper 30s.

Outlook Wednesday through Friday: Partly cloudy through the period. Chance of showers Wednesday and Thursday. Lows mostly in the 30s, highs near 50.

John A. Stephenson, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner, campaigned in Murray Saturday. Stephenson, who is 31, said he plans to visit all 120 counties of Kentucky prior to the May primary.

Congress To Begin Work On Economic Proposals This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The work of Congress, including action on new measures to fight inflation, recession and the energy crunch, will get under way after the lawmakers complete their housekeeping duties this week.

The congressional Joint Economic Committee will open hearings Thursday on President Ford's economic proposals. Opening witnesses will be economists Gardner Ackley, Paul McCracken and Charles Schultz.

The joint committee has no legislative authority, and bills to put Ford's policy in effect will have to originate in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Among the organizational tasks, the Senate still must decide whether the New Hampshire seat vacated by retiring Norris Cotton belongs to Republican Louis Wyman or Democrat John A. Durkin.

The Senate, which took today off, has delayed a decision on the contest until Jan. 27 at the earliest.

The House meets only perfunctorily today before adjourning until Thursday when the Democratic caucus hopes to finish the reorganization process.

On Wednesday, the caucus will settle contests for the chairmanships of four committees following action by change-minded newcomers that jeopardized four incumbents last week.

House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., will be seeking to retain his job against a challenge from Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., who originally was selected by the Democratic Steering Committee but then was rejected by the caucus of all House Democrats.

The battle for the chairmanship of the Banking Committee was turned into a three-way race when Robert G. Stephens, D-Ga., announced his candidacy last week.

City Court Cases Are Transferred to County

City Judge Steve Sanders has issued an order to the Murray City Police Department to cite all traffic offenders into the county court of Judge Robert O. Miller.

The order came as a result of the absence of a city prosecutor, and will be in effect until the city hires a new prosecutor. Former prosecutor Don Overbey resigned last month. Sanders said this morning that one reason the move was made is to accommodate the county attorney, who is legally required to prosecute city cases in the absence of a city prosecutor. County Attorney Sid Easley was not able to easily fulfill both county and city duties, according to Sanders, and the new order, while giving Easley more work, will at least enable him to help schedule the cases at times more convenient to him.

The cases already cited into city court will be heard by Sanders, and those set for trial will be handled at the court's discretion based on the merits of individual cases.

County Judge Robert O. Miller commented this morning that "I feel every judge is legally obligated to hear every case that is cited to his court, and I will carry out this legal obligation."

Aubrey Rodgers Killed In Chainsaw Accident

Aubrey Rodgers of Mayfield Route Two died at about four p.m. Saturday in a chainsaw accident near Coldwater, according to Max Morris, Calloway County Coroner.

Mr. Rodgers, age 55, was cutting firewood on the Crawford farm, located on the Coldwater-Lynn Grove highway, and had visited at one of the neighbor's houses about forty-five minutes before he was found dead by his truck on the highway by a passing motorist.

Morris said Mr. Rodgers died when a chainsaw he was using hit an obstruction, bounded backwards and struck him in the neck, severing his jugular vein. After the accident he was able to drive his truck to the road and had gotten out of the truck before he collapsed. He was pronounced dead at the scene. State police and the Calloway County Sheriff's office had personnel at the scene. Mr. Rodgers was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Ruby Jean Copeland Rodgers, Mayfield Route Two; one daughter, Mrs. Larry Riley of Mayfield; one son, Donald Rodgers of Mayfield Route Two; five sisters, Mrs. Ruble Gamble, Mrs. Tommy Lewis, Mrs. August Watson, Mrs. Christine Rodgers, all of Mayfield; three brothers, Marrium Rodgers of Harlan, Clifton Rodgers of Union City, Tenn., and Murrell Rodgers of Mayfield.

Funeral services are being held today at two p.m. at the chapel of the Byrn Funeral Home, Mayfield, with Rev. James Rhodes and Rev. John Huffman officiating. Burial will be in the Mayfield Memory Gardens.

SAFETY AWARDS PRESENTED — Two drivers for the Paschall Truck Lines were presented awards at the company's annual safety meeting Saturday morning. The drivers were given awards and $100 bonuses for accident-free driving during the last year. From left are Tax Thornton, 502 Stony, who has driven over 450,000 miles without an accident; Howard Schmidt, consulting engineer with the Aetna Life and Casualty Insurance Co.; Charles Carson, 1606 Belmonte, who has driven over 500,000 miles without an accident; and Tony Waller, president of the Paschall Truck Lines.

Hook And Seltzer Vows Are Read

The First Christian Church of Murray was the scene of the December 28th wedding of Miss Denise Hook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hook, Jr., of Murray, to Steven F. Seltzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Neil Seltzer of Paducah.

Herbert Simpson, minister, performed the double-ring ceremony at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The wedding party assembled before an arched candelabrum and two baskets arrayed with bronze chrysanthemums.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Thomas Wilkins, organist, and Alan Jones, vocalist.

Bride's Dress

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a formal gown of ivory silk organza over ivory peau de soie combined with ecru handmade Irish lace. The natural waistline was defined with an accent of ivory satin ribbon, with vertical rows of lace placed at intervals on the bodice. A Victorian neckline was featured with long bishop's sleeves which were also adorned with the vertical lace insertion. Deep Camelot cuffs were fitted at the wrists and were closed with tiny handmade buttons. Her skirt was designed with a deep bias flounce at the hemline, and flowered into a chapel train.

The head-dress was a Camelot crown of ivory organza, overlaid with Irish lace, to which was attached a fingertip-length veil of silk illusion, bordered in the repeated lace pattern. She carried a bridal bouquet fashioned of white roses, German statice, and pale green carnations.

Mrs. John V. Rayburn, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of maize crepe combined with ecru lace. The deep forest green gown featured the ecru lace on the slim long sleeves. The neckline was accented by ecru lace collar. She wore accessories of matching hue and carried a bouquet fashioned of talisman roses, dried baby's breath, and dried green flowers. Her head-dress was a forest green flocked wool picture hat. Attending her sister as junior bridesmaid was Miss Dinah Hook. Miss Shannon Seltzer, niece of the groom, served as flower girl. Both girls were attired identically to the matron of honor.

Errol Seltzer of Greensboro, North Carolina, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were David Porter of Owensboro, David Bradford and Rick Coltharp of Paducah, and John V. Rayburn of Murray.

Misses Jane Rose and Debbie Landolt kept the guest register. Mrs. Terry Hart directed the ceremony.

Mrs. Hook chose for her daughter's wedding a floor-length gown of red knit. Mrs. Seltzer, mother of the groom, was attired in a soft-pink floor length gown. Each wore matching accessories and white orchids.

Mrs. Earl Dennis of Paducah, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of beige lace underlaid with gold crepe and was presented a yellow orchid. Mrs. Parkman Fbezor, also of Paducah, maternal grandmother of the groom, wore a pink floor length gown and was also presented an orchid corsage.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Holiday Inn.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Sheila Ward, Misses Trina Nicks, Carol Simons, and Lynn Hewitt. Handing out rice bags was Miss Amy Morris of Paducah.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., with the bride wearing a burnt orange and forest green pantsuit and her mother's corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Seltzer are residing at No. 6, 128 Hickory Street in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he has a teaching position.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Butler, Mrs. Alvin Hollis, Mrs. Hazel Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Strickland, Larry Strickland, Phillip Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. Don Utley, Linda Griffin, Karen Ford, Kevin Smith, Michael Smith, Miss Aline Bowland, Mrs. Rupert Parks, Mrs. W. H. Hickman, Miss Janet Borgerding, Mrs. W. LeRoy Borgerding, Mrs. Laurine Stiles, Mrs. Patty Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Buchanan, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morris, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Rogers, Mrs. Jim Gatlin, Mrs. Edward Bichon, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rick Coltharp, Miss Joaquin Seltzer, and Mr. and Mrs. David Bradford of Paducah; Mrs. J. W. Ellis and Miss Patricia of Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Grogan of Springfield, Tenn.; Parkman Fbezor of Paris, Tenn.; Dr. and Mrs. Steven R. Tucker of Lexington; Matthew Dixon of Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Priest of Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Craven, Cheryl and Vicki of Knoxville, Tenn.; Michael Loveless of Ft. Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fezor, Julie, Lane, and Sarah of Benton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Errol Seltzer and Shannon of Greensboro, N.C.; Mr. and Mrs. David Porter and Felicia of Owensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven F. Seltzer

Well, at least our snow of last Sunday covered up all the ugliness around us. Brush piles, debris and even junk piles took on a magical beauty. But I must confess I like to enjoy the beauty from the inside. The appeal of making a snowman isn't as strong as it was a number of years ago. Now I enjoy the delights of winter from my window, leaving the snowballs and sledding to a much younger group.

This sort of weather is hard on the birds. Every bit of grass or seed is covered up and they look so cold hopping about in the feeders. There are cardinals, robins, blue jays, juncos and several others that I don't always recognize.

Occasionally I see a mockingbird and of course the ubiquitous sparrows. But I don't mind them one bit, they are so cheerful and industrious and scratch so happily in the seed that is put out.

Every now and then there are interesting dramas as I watch them. The squirrels are the first ones to get to the feeder, and this morning an irate blue jay sat on a limb of a pine tree nearby and scolded loudly at the squirrel. Then he would swoop down over the squirrel's head and back to his pine tree limb where he would sit and squawk. Then the whole performance would be repeated. During the whole time the squirrel sat on his haunches paying not the slightest attention to the jay.

Lay in a supply of bird seed and suet. They will show their appreciation without fail and reward you with song, their way of saying "Thank You."

There is practically nothing that you can do in cold snowy weather about your gardening. But you can order the seed you need for spring, so that when you get ready to plant, you won't have to scurry around hunting for the ones you want.

My order was placed early in January for some special seed that I wanted, and the package arrived this week. Among them is a package of Carved Ivory Zinnias that were so beautiful last year. This particular kind lifts them out of the zinia class into a more glamorous flower, looking more like a dahlia. Try some and see for yourself how pretty they are.

This is the time of the year we appreciate evergreens. They look lovely against the snow, especially the hollies with their berries.

Don't forget the birds!

FOR TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

A day for action! Be sure your energies are directed into constructive channels. Don't wait until errors are committed before you get better organized.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

A good period for introducing new ideas; also for developing those of others. Streamline your activities with both quality and productivity in mind.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

There's a tendency now to take off on tangents or useless ventures if you do not keep your mind on immediate objectives. Let moderation be your keyword.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Some restraint in order. Also some rechecking of plans. Prospects brightening in several areas. Be sure to make the most of them.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Balance earnings against expenditures; also study where tactics, moves should be altered, stepped up or slowed down. A day for thoughtful appraisal.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Don't change plans or methods without first consulting all concerned. Study where changes ARE needed, and to what degree. Press for efficiency.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Endeavors of the past should bring reward now. Keep up the good work and your future will be even brighter.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Do not become so deeply involved in the affairs of others that you invite fatigue, distress. An excellent performance now possible if you concentrate on your OWN goals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

In tight or unexpected situations, remain at ease, think things out; don't rush in without full data or know-how.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Take care of essentials assiduously, with primary factors thoroughly understood. Fine aspects encourage bright beginnings, sustained effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Improving conditions, but some areas need more patience, stronger effort. Your special talents qualify you to reap benefits.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

You may not accomplish all that you wish, but you will attain many things — through an unflinching spirit of enterprise, plus self-discipline. Avoid hasty decisions.

YOU BORN TODAY, in the first decan of Aquarius in the Air Triplet, are an unusually versatile individual, outgoing in personality and extremely industrious. You are an excellent judge of character and, while preferring to associate with those who are highly intelligent, get along with persons in all walks of life. You tend toward impulsiveness but many of your undertakings, carried out seemingly without any thought or pre-planning whatsoever, turn out amazingly successful. You are unusually creative and could carve an outstanding career in writing, painting or interior decorating. Medicine and research also interest you. Traits to curb: procrastination and excessive volubility.

Wall hangings for pennies

The newest fashion in interior decorating (for pennies): Find a large colorful print that you like in a fabric shop. Make sure it has just the right accent colors for a room you want to dress up with an eye-stopping wall hanging.

Figure the size of the wall hanging you want and buy enough of the print to be stapled on a frame that you make yourself, using thin strips of wood from the lumberyard. Presto—you'll have something that looks like an expensive watercolor.

The Murray Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet with Mrs. Eleanor Kodman, 1503 Glendale Road at 7:15, Tuesday, January 21. The program will be "Dynamic Learning: Releasing Human Potential" with Mrs. Frances Matarazzo as program chairman.

Burkeen And Vailes

MR. AND MRS. ALAN VAILES were married on Saturday, January 4, at the South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church with Bro. Hoyt Owen and Bro. A. H. McLeod officiating. The bride is the former Marilyn Burkeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burkeen of Murray, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vailes, Jr., of Grand Rivers. Music was by Mrs. Jan Taylor and Miss Sara Cooper. Attendants for the bride were her sisters, Misses Karen and Rhonda Burkeen. Greg Sledd was best man, Jeff DeWeese was groomsmen, and Roger Vailes and Kenny Ervin were ushers. A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Miss Leola Erwin and Mrs. Geneva Cooper directed the wedding and the reception.

Self-medication

Treating oneself with non-prescription medicines—known as over-the-counter drugs (OTC)—has become so common that they are used with little more thought than taking a drink of water. Taking laxatives, sleeping pills, pain relievers, anti-acid preparations and such has come to be accepted as normal. "Doesn't everyone?" The public, which has been brainwashed by the advertising media in serving the pharmaceutical industry, needs to be aware of the dangers involved in frequent use of OTC drugs. Much has been written about the side effects of drugs. These may be due to interference with normal body functions or the body's inability to limit the drug's action. This process, known as "detoxification," must be performed by such organs as the liver, the kidneys, or the lungs. If these organs do not function normally or are overloaded, drug action may be more prolonged and severe than intended. Excessive use of some pain-killing drugs has been found to cause severe and irreversible kidney damage. Some drugs for relief of stomach upsets can aggravate the condition by causing an imbalance in the body's secretion of enzymes, while other indigestion remedies contain bromide, which can accumulate to a toxic level in the blood, causing bromide poisoning.

There is also danger of masking symptoms of more serious conditions by habitual use of OTC drugs. The use of more than one drug at a time is particularly hazardous, sometimes causing dangerous and even fatal reactions. This is due to the fact that the drugs may interact with each other while they are acting on the body. A patient who is taking a prescribed medication should check with his doctor before using OTC drugs. Pharmacists also know which drugs can safely be taken together. Alcohol, which is a drug, can produce harmful reactions when combined with sleeping pills or antihistamines. Federal law requires that drugs be properly labeled with warnings against improper use. Failure to follow directions of the label, carelessness, and faulty self-diagnosis make self-medication a hazardous procedure.

The Food and Drug Administration offers these safety rules for taking drugs:

1. Don't take drugs you don't need.
2. Don't continue taking non-prescription drugs if symptoms persist.
3. Don't take prescription drugs not prescribed specifically for you.
4. Do read and follow directions for use.
5. Do be cautious when using a drug for the first time.
6. Do destroy old prescription drugs and outdated OTC medications.
7. Do seek professional advice before combining drugs.
8. Do get medical check-ups regularly.

The loggers are beating down her door

DEAR ABBY: I am an attractive female divorcee who recently retired after a long, distinguished career as a university English professor. Now that I have a great deal of free time, I would like to find suitable male companionship. Although I receive numerous offers (the loggers in this town are practically beating my door down), I don't know how to meet men who could appreciate my best qualities, such as the art of conversation. There must be some other retired women in small towns with similar problems. Have you any suggestions? IDLE BUT ANXIOUS IN IDAHO

DEAR ANXIOUS: Enroll in an adult education class and do a lot of listening. Conversation could be considered "dessert," and since man cannot live on dessert alone, are you prepared to provide some meat and potatoes?

DEAR ABBY: I just had to write to defend that woman who writes notes to her husband to remind him of things. I've been doing it for years.

First of all, that letter couldn't have been written by my husband because he doesn't believe in communication, and note-writing is a form of communication.

This wooden Indian I'm married to might send up smoke signals if he could find his lighter, but on the other hand, fires within the city limits of Dallas are frowned upon.

Anyway, I say three cheers for that note-writing wife. I sure wish my husband would write me a note once in a while. It would confirm the fact that he's still breathing. IGNORED IN DALLAS

DEAR IGNORED: Your problem is far more serious than you realize. The ultimate in humiliation, women confide, is not in being belittled, berated, or even beaten. It's being ignored!

DEAR ABBY: I recently visited a friend in his New York apartment. We hadn't seen each other for 15 years. While he was in the kitchen mixing us drinks, I noticed that he had a splendid library. Then I noticed that he had a few books that I also owned.

I don't know what made me do it, but I took those books down from the shelf and turned to the fly leaves, and sure enough, my name was there!

He had borrowed those books from me years ago, and neglected to return them.

I put them back before he returned, and said nothing. Since then my irritation has grown.

Should I now tell him that I want my books back? IRKED IN INDIANA

DEAR IRKED: Certainly. No wonder your friend has such a "splendid library." He's a "collector."

DEAR ABBY: This is to encourage the 52-year-old woman whose husband wants a divorce. Let him have it, then sharpen up some of your old skills and get out on your own.

I was 47 when my husband entered his second childhood. He wanted a divorce to marry a younger woman. I fought and wept and begged! I thought my life was over. I finally came to my senses and let him go. At age 48, I went to work as a secretary, married my boss two years later, and couldn't be happier.

A 52-year-old woman can do anything a younger woman can do except maybe have a baby. And what 52-year-old woman in her right mind would want that? SITTING PRETTY Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Home Economist Loretta M. Wyatt Retires From The Cooperative

Loretta M. (Mrs. C.E.) Wyatt, home economist for the West Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative for the past 21 years, has retired from that position effective Jan. 1 of this year. Commenting on Mrs. Wyatt's retirement, John Ed Walker, general manager of West Kentucky RECC, says she "has been a very valuable and dedicated employee and will be greatly missed."

"Her years of experience have been invaluable in assisting the consumer in the wise use of electricity," he continued. "We regret that she is retiring but wish for her a happy and fulfilling retirement."

During her long service with West Kentucky RECC, Mrs. Wyatt spent most of her time educating the co-op's members in the use of electricity.

"I tried to show the members how to get the most good out of their electrical appliances, and I stressed education rather than promotion of electricity," she said. "Electricity, you know, sells itself."

Mrs. Wyatt worked with high school home economics classes, adult groups and individuals, and advised hundreds of families on interior lighting plans for their homes. She was also responsible for the publication and distribution of the quarterly newsletter sent out to the co-op's 23,000-plus members.

"I guess really the highlight of my career with West Kentucky RECC was working with and helping rural people," Mrs. Wyatt commented.

A Morganfield, Ky., native, Mrs. Wyatt taught at Hart Memorial High School and served as home demonstration agent in Marshall and Graves counties before assuming her post with the electric cooperative here.

Mrs. Wyatt's husband, C.E. Wyatt, is a 40-year veteran of agricultural service and presently is area specialist in agronomy for the University of Kentucky extension service.

The Wyatts have two children. Charles Jr., who holds degrees from UK and the University of Virginia, is an urban planner for Jersey City, N.J. Anne also has a degree from UK and from Emory University, and is presently employed as a physical therapist at St. Bartholomew Hospital in London, England.

Mrs. Wyatt doesn't think she'll have any trouble finding something to do in her leisure time that lies ahead. She's an expert in handicraft and gardening and loves to fish.

Puzzle: How to create extra space

One of the classic cures for winter doldrums is supposed to be rearranging furniture. If you are also stuck with a house where the space seems to shrink away, consider these suggestions from a Drexel furniture designer for giving an illusion of space to cramped quarters:

- Take advantage of all unused spaces. Oversized corridors or understairs openings may be transformed into extra eating, working or reading areas. For instance: a long, narrow Parsons table in a hallway can be additional dining space; a compact desk and cabinet fitted into an open stairwell creates a work-study area.
- Part of a walk-in closet might be converted into a quiet study area. A large closet with a sloping side, for instance, makes for inefficient storage but could be adequate for a desk or reading chair and lamp.
- In a very small room, sofas and chairs with curved sides seem to occupy less space than angular styles since people can move around them more easily.
- A coffee table with drawers, shelves or a glass enclosed gallery is more functional than a table-top only.
- A carefully placed mirror can give the illusion of space. Place it where it will reflect a window or an uncluttered area.
- Keep furnishings in scale with the room. If your taste runs to 18th century opulence but your room is 9 by 12 something's got to give.
- Strategic use of color is important in small rooms. Light colors generally give a feeling of space — both in walls and furnishings. Off-white, beige, yellows and greens usually open up cramped space. Recent studies show that a light blue wall or ceiling can make a room feel larger than an all-white scheme.
- Sufficient light, natural and artificial, is necessary for "enlarging" a room. Keep curtains and draperies open during the day and avoid harsh, bright light that outlines a room's boundaries at night.

Inflation Gauge

In one of Tidewater's fashionable men's shops, the customer had just purchased a quite expensive suit. Spotting a tie that seemed just right for it, he suggested that the salesman throw the tie in. "Nothin' doin'," the salesman said. "That's a $16.95 tie." To which the customer replied, "I've never seen a tie when that's what I paid for the suit."

Narcotics In Car

"Possession" of narcotics is plain enough when they are found in somebody's pocket or purse. But suppose they are found in somebody's automobile. Is each occupant of the car considered guilty of the crime of possession?

Police thought so in one recent case when they arrested not only the driver of the car but his passenger as well.

They had discovered a bag of illicit pills on the rear floorboard.

The passenger, however, who had been sitting in the front seat, denied any knowledge of the pills. And a court ruled that there simply was not enough evidence to connect him with the offense.

Most courts agree that one's mere presence in a car in which narcotics are found is not enough to establish guilt. There must be some additional evidence of involvement.

For example: All three occupants of another car were charged with possession of some drugs that were found underneath a blanket. But this time, each man told the police a different story—and not one of the stories checked out.

Under these circumstances, a court decided they could all be convicted of possession. A guilty conscience, said the court, was indicated by their efforts to "cover up."

Ownership of the car, too, may help to establish guilt. In another case, narcotics were found on an open shelf in the back section of a van. The owner of the van, who was also at the wheel, insisted they must have been left there by a passenger—unbeknownst to him.

But a court found him guilty nevertheless. The court said that as both owner and driver of the vehicle, he was hardly likely to be unaware of something located in such plain sight.

Income Tax Advice

By Ed W. Hancock
Attorney General of Kentucky

Consumers who find their Internal Revenue Service forms taxing frequently turn to private tax preparation services to save them time and money. If you plan to hire someone to prepare your federal or state income taxes this year, here are a few words of advice:

1. Read ads carefully and be sure you understand what type of service will be provided. Some firms actually fill out the forms. Other firms tell you how to fill them out.

2. Explain to the tax preparation firm the type of help you need, and then ask for a written statement of the complete cost of the service.

3. Before you decide upon the hip of a tax preparer, ask for identification and qualifications. If the person or firm you select to help you does not really know how to work with tax preparation, your tax forms could be prepared inaccurately, leaving you in trouble and in debt.

4. Find out if the company or person assumes any responsibility for the accuracy of your tax return. If so, ask for a written guarantee.

5. Insist that a tax preparer sign your returns.

6. Obtain a written receipt for all fees paid to a tax preparation service.

7. Be skeptical of ads or offers of large tax refunds. No one can be certain of a refund at all until the return is complete.

Both the state and federal government offer assistance to taxed consumers. The Internal Revenue Service has a toll-free number which you may call to ask about your federal income taxes: 1-800-292-6570. There are also 14 IRS offices throughout the state where you can just walk in and obtain assistance.

For state taxes, you may contact one of the 11 district offices of the Department of Revenue, or their main office in Frankfort.

If you have a consumer complaint, call the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division on the consumer hotline: 1-800-372-2960, or write to Consumer Protection, Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Room 34, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

If you'd like to hear more about consumer protection, tune in your TV set to the Consumer Survival Kit, a new series designed to help you save headaches and money. Check your local listings on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday for the exact times and channels.

Sex Hormones Help Bone Cancer Victims

The nation was saddened to learn that a 12-year-old son of Sen. and Mrs. Ted Kennedy had developed a bone tumor (an osteosarcoma) in one of his legs and in November, 1974 had to have a high amputation of the affected limb. Now, 13, he continues on additional treatment to suppress the spread of this highly malignant tumor.

Osteosarcomas occur particularly in the age group in which bone growth is most rapid.

The Journal of the American Medical Association has published a report made at a recent meeting of the American College of Surgeons, in which James McMaster, M.D., and Pierce Scranton, M.D., reviewed their 20 years of experience with osteosarcomas at the University of Pittsburgh.

The studies of these orthopedists lead to the conclusion that this tragic adolescent disease may prove to be hormone-responsive in a manner similar to certain other malignant tumors, such as those of the kidney, breast, and prostate.

Affected persons appear to have increased growth but suppression of growth hormone.

Research recently has linked skeletal growth to somatomedin (produced by the liver under stimulation by the growth hormone) and not directly to the growth hormone.

Additional research has demonstrated that patients with osteosarcomas have abnormalities in the handling of glucose. Their elevated somatomedin competes with and inhibits normal insulin function. But these patients fail to respond to added insulin when it is given.

The Pittsburgh researchers, noting that females survive longer than males with osteosarcomas, gave estrogen to a series of terminal cases, some of whom also received progesterone, another female hormone. Survival time was lengthened, and the disease in most cases failed to progress, or it actually regressed.

While the outlook for persons who develop osteosarcomas remains guarded, it appears to be better by the combination of hormones with other methods of treatment. Additional research and experience are needed.

Q Mr. F.M. wants to know if deadly carbon monoxide is odorless.

A Yes. Carbon monoxide is odorless, tasteless, and does not irritate the eyes, nose, or throat. Of course, this gas may be mixed with others which have color and odor, such as those in the exhaust from an automobile.

Q Mrs. P.C. asks what is meant by dropsy and what can be done for it.

A Dropsy refers to the accumulation of an excess of fluid in tissues. This condition usually results from impairment of heart muscle to perform its work (heart failure) and is treated by medicines to strengthen the heart muscle and regulate its beating, by cutting down on sodium intake, by giving diuretic to cause the kidneys to excrete more urine, by limitation of exercise, and by reduction of weight. Dropsy is usually a serious sign and requires prompt management by a physician.

TVA And Taxes

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by James T. Catlett, executive director of the South Kentucky Industrial Development Assoc., Inc., in response to recent articles "Kentucky Government Affairs" and "Kentucky Business." The letter is being reprinted here at the request of Murray Electric System officials. Reader response, in the form of letters to the editor, either pro or con, are welcomed and should be addressed to: The Editor, The Murray Ledger & Times, P. O. Box 32, Murray, Ky. 42071.)

Our organization represents the 17 TVA power distributors in Kentucky of which some are members of the Kentucky Chamber along with ourselves and numerous other businesses in western Kentucky. We were concerned with the articles that appeared in the most recent issues of "Kentucky Government Affairs" and "Kentucky Business." It was requested at our Board Meeting today that we set straight some of the statements made in these articles.

Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce is more concerned about state and local taxes and these show a different picture than portrayed in the above publications. While TVA is a federal agency and is not subject to state and local taxes, TVA does make generous payments in lieu of taxes, mostly to the state government. The Commonwealth in turn redistributes a large proportion of the TVA payment to local units pursuant to local laws. Since TVA is a wholesale power supplier, the tax and tax equivalent payments of the municipal and cooperative distributors of TVA electricity must be combined with the TVA payment in order to make a comparison, say with the Kentucky Utilities Company (KU serves in 78 counties having 226,118 residential customers, while TVA serves only 26 counties and has 130,126 residential customers). LG & E is the second largest distributor in Kentucky and has 223,617 residential customers.

As you can see TVA and its distributors pay more taxes than any other electric utility in Kentucky which might be newsworthy. With reference to federal taxes, it is true that TVA pays no federal taxes since all of (Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the editorial views of The Murray Ledger & Times. Readers who would like to express their opinion on the issues discussed in this column are encouraged to respond with a letter to The Editor.)

TVA's net earnings belong to the Government anyway. However, TVA undertakes to set its power rates so as to just cover its operating and capital costs with little margin left over which might be theoretically subject to income tax as applicable. On the other hand, as a result of investment tax credit, accelerated depreciation, pollution control writeoff, and other advantages in the income tax law applicable to private utilities, the burden of the federal income tax on electric power companies has been steadily decreasing in recent years. According to FTC statistics, federal income tax paid by the nations electric utilities decreased from about 15 per cent of gross revenues in the mid 1950's to 2.6 per cent of revenues in 1973, and about 1/4 of the major electric utilities paid no federal income tax at all for the year of 1973.

TVA bond issuing authorization relates only to power revenue bonds supported solely by TVA power operations and revenues. Such bonds are not guaranteed by the Federal Treasury and they enjoy no interest exemption from federal income tax. In other words, they are quite similar to the bonds issued by any large well managed private electric utility. Consequently, the TVA bond interest rates are roughly comparable with Moody Utility Index of Aaa grade bonds with TVA bonds usually having a slight edge (around 1/2 a percent point) perhaps because of sheer size of the public power system. At the end of November, 1974, the average TVA bond yield rate was 8.38 per cent while Aaa public utility bonds were rated at 8.97 per cent.

The trend by the electrical generating companies across the United States is to have and own sources of coal and produce for the lowest price to avoid the high profits that the mining companies are now passing on to the electric consumers. For this reason TVA is considering the purchase of the Peabody Coal Company and would only continue to operate the mines in the area accessible to their generating plants. The foreign operations and the Pennsylvania operations would be divested of.

Sincerely,
James T. Catlett

13 Proves To Be Good Luck For Nets' Coach

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — It's lucky 13 for Coach Kevin Loughery of the New York Nets.

His players assured him that he would coach the East Division in the American Basketball Association All-Star Game at San Antonio, Tex., by beating Virginia 113-91 Sunday. The coach whose team was in first place through Sunday's games was automatically made the all-star coach, the Nets' victory made certain they would remain in first ahead of Kentucky.

"It's a great honor for me," said Loughery. "I've been around pro basketball for 13 years. And I might add I never deserved it." He spent 10 years as a player and a half year as coach in the National Basketball Association. He is in his second season as coach of the Nets.

Loughery will be joined in the All-Star Game by three of his players — Julius Erving, a first-team forward and the only unanimous selection, and Billy Paulz, a second-team center, and Brian Taylor, a second-team guard.

Forward Larry Kenon finished fourth in the voting but didn't make the team because of the rule which says every team must be represented. Stu Johnson of Memphis was placed on the squad as the only representative of the Sounds.

Kenon certainly played like an All-Star Sunday, scoring 23 points and grabbing 13 rebounds.

Colonels 114, Nuggets 101 Kentucky's Artis Gilmore's 34 points and 19 rebounds paced the Colonels as they handed Denver only its fifth loss in the last 35 games. Dan Issel scored 17 of his 19 points in the first half for the winners, who led at halftime 58-50.

Sounds 101, Spurs 94

After San Antonio, with James Silas putting on a one-man scoring show, pulled to within one point at 92-91, Tom Owens scored five straight points as Memphis out-scored the Spurs 9-3 in the game's waning moments.

Silas scored 18 points in the final 12 minutes, including 10 in a row, and finished the game with 33 points.

Pacers 108, Q's 91

A 34-point performance by Billy Knight gave Indiana its victory over San Diego, dropping the Q's a full game behind Utah in their battle for fourth place in the Western Division.

Caldwell Jones scored 29 points and Dwight Lamar had 20 for San Diego, but the Q's played without their leading scorer, Travis Grant, out with a knee injury. And guard Warren Jabali saw action for only a few minutes because of a pulled muscle.

Frank Jones And Tech Unload Bomb On Murray State 74-68

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

"I'll tell you one word, awful. That's how we're going to be and you can write it and put it on your locker room or whatever because we have it on ours."

—Fred Overton, November, 1974

Fred Overton probably didn't spend Sunday afternoon looking through the junk to see if he could find that sign. But although Overton wasn't ready to concede anything yet, a jam-packed crowd of 7,000 fans in the Sports Arena Saturday night was.

Playing undoubtedly its worst game of the season, Murray State was embarrassed by lowly Tennessee Tech in the Racers' Conference opener 74-68.

Overton made the statement about how bad his team was going to be back in November at a press luncheon in Nashville. But after the Racers cruised to victory in their first six games of the season, everyone thought it was a great "snow-job" by Overton, who had earned the label of "Freddie the Snowman."

Has the snowman melted? "You have to give Tech a lot of credit," Overton said.

"They played it smart and had a lot of patience. They are a little better club than what we'd like to give them credit for."

"Is true. Tech was a better club than most people thought. But Murray made them look better."

Playing very lackluster and at times looking as though they were playing in a daze, the Racers never led in the game.

Tech, picked to finish last in the conference, raced out to an early 12-2 lead, saw Murray come to within two in the final seconds off the first half and then Frank Jones reached back and drove the final nail in the coffin.

Jones, a 6-2 junior All-American candidate who is pacing the league in scoring with a 25.0 average, caught an inbounds pass with just a second left on the first half clock.

Murray had just scored on a 12-footer by junior forward Jesse Williams and the Racers trailed only 38-36.

Jones, standing about five feet from the baseline, nonchalantly hooked the ball over his head.

And while most of the fans in the Sports Arena were already up and on their feet to go for refreshments or to coach the game in the lobby, the ball sailed high and touched nothing but net on the way down.

The shot was estimated to have been from 85 feet away.

That sort of sewed the coat of defeat on the Racers. For when Tech came out in the second half, they were fired up.

Eleven points were scored within the first four minutes of the second half.

Unfortunately for the Racers, Tech had 10 of those and the Golden Eagles were coasting along with a 50-37 bulge.

The largest lead of the game came when 6-5 Tom Schmidt canned a 10-footer at the 11:22 mark to give Tech a 60-43 cushion.

And in a span of just nine minutes in the second half, Schmidt scored 18 points.

Murray made one last-ditch effort at coming close to Tech.

Down 74-59 with less than 3:30 left in the game, the Racers closed to within six at 74-68 with 1:25 left on the clock. But Tech went into a four-corner offense and the Racers tried for the ball rather than foul and that was that.

"You look for a chance to double team the ball. That's the first thing you do in that situation is to try and cover the ball. Then if you can't get it, you try to foul their worst shooter. We just didn't do it, that's all," Overton said.

Sophomore guard Grover

Woolard led the Racers with 21 points while Williams added 17 and Blasingame 13.

Larry Moffett, though scoring just six points, grabbed down 15 rebounds and played a good game.

Schmidt paced the Eagles with 24 while Jones added 21. Tech goes to 1-2 in the league, the same as the Racers, and 7-5 on the season while Murray drops to 8-4 for the year.

The Racers host East Tennessee, a quick and very talented club, at 7:30 p. m. tonight. There will be no preliminary game as the junior varsity is idle.

Then on Wednesday, the Racers visit Indiana State.

Sluggish Wildcats Hold On To Nip Mississippi

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky could have been looking ahead to tonight's Southeastern Conference showdown game with Alabama or it may have just been sluggish Saturday, but whatever the problem, the Wildcats held on for an 85-82 win over Mississippi.

Kevin Grevey, although bothered by the flu, led Kentucky with 27 points and Mike Flynn hit for 22 in what coach Joe Hall called "his finest game of the year."

Flynn-battled fellow hoosier Dave Shepherd, an Indiana University transfer, who collected 21 points to lead Mississippi's scoring.

Coach Cob Jarvis of Ole Miss said his Rebels fall to 4-9 over all and remain winless in five conference games.

"We've just got to be grateful to get out of this place with a victory," coach Joe Hall of Kentucky said. "Ole Miss always plays so well here and our seniors showed the same lack of killer instinct they've had since they were freshmen," he added.

Hall said, "We played brilliantly at the start of the game, and I almost hated to see it because I was afraid of what was coming."

Mississippi trimmed Kentucky leads to just two points on four different occasions—the last time with six minutes to go in the game and with Kentucky on top 67-65.

The Rebels cut Kentucky's leads to three points five times after that but could never take the advantage.

Kentucky's conference mark was improved to 4-1 and the Wildcats are now 11-2 over all.

It was Hall's first win in Oxford and had to be especially satisfying for Jimmy Dan Conner who missed a last second shot in a 61-60 loss to the Rebels last season and for Flynn, who scored just two points when Kentucky lost to Ole Miss on the road in 1973.

Kentucky hopes Grevey—who in addition to his virus Saturday, suffered an ankle sprain—will be in playing shape for the Alabama contest.

The Wildcats are now in a tie with Auburn for second place in the conference standings behind Alabama who blasted Louisiana State University 93-67 Saturday to stay unbeaten in four SEC outings.

Acquire Player

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Blues have acquired Bernie Lukowich from the Pittsburgh Penguins for Bob Stumpf, a spokesman for the Blues' National Hockey League team said Sunday night.

The spokesman said the exchange was a straight player-for-player deal.

Lukowich, 22, will report to the Denver Spurs, the Blues' farm club in the Central League where Stumpf had been playing.

A right winger in his fourth professional season, Lukowich played 53 games for Pittsburgh last season and scored nine goals, 10 assists and 19 points. He was playing with the Hershey Bears of the American League, a Pittsburgh farm team, at the time of the trade.

Receive Money

ATLANTA (AP) — Lou Hudson, Atlanta's high-scoring perennial All-Star, will undergo surgery Tuesday for removal of calcium deposits in his right elbow, the National Basketball Association club has announced.

Hudson, a 6-foot-5 forward-guard, has played in only 11 games this season for the Hawks, averaging 22 points a game. However, the 30-year-old sharpshooter had not played in two months.

Hudson, who has been an NBA All-Star six times, holds a 23.2 scoring average for nine seasons and was fourth last year in the league with a 25.4 average.

ON THE DRIVE—Senior guard Henry Kinsey (11) of the Racers drives to the basket for two points against Tennessee Tech. Others in the picture include Larry Moffett (15) of the Racers and Bobby Porter (45) of Tech.

Johnny Miller Makes Joke Of Tucson Open

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — He's almost too good to be true. He's tall, slender, blond and good-looking enough to serve as a male model. He's polite, courteous and soft-spoken. He's a non-drinker, a non-smoker, an elder of his church and possessed of a vocabulary in which "heck" and "damn" are the strongest expletives. And, right now, Johnny Miller may be playing the ancient game of golf better than anyone has ever played it before. His recent accomplishments are the stuff of legends. "I like setting records," Miller said Sunday after an astonishing, 11-under-par 61 had given him still another run-away victory, this time in the $200,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open golf tournament.

"That's what records are for — to be broken. But it's getting to be a problem. When you set records you have to live up to them. I want to keep on improving, keep on progressing. How am I gonna top this? How can I keep on like this?" Of course, he asked the same questions a week ago, when he won the Phoenix Open with a 260 total, the lowest 72-hole score in 20 years of tournament competition. He was 24 under par for that tournament. But he found a way to top it.

He went 29 under par in winning Tucson, composing an artistic, 11-under-par effort in the final round over the Tucson National Golf Club course, at 7,200 yards one of the longest layouts the touring pros play all year and a course that had been toughened and strengthened this season by the addition of water on three holes. His total was 263. He won by nine strokes, compared with victory margins of 8, 7 and 14 strokes in his last three previous individual starts. In completing an unprecedented second consecutive sweep of the two Arizona tournaments, this year the kickoff events on the pro tour, Miller has led or shared the lead in every round and has had scores of 67, 61, 68, 64, 66, 69, 67 and 61 for a season stroke average of 65.4.

"He's phenomenal," said John Mahaffey, a distant second with a closing 67 and 272. Miller's effort before a national television audience and a massive gallery announced at 38,000 in Sunday's final round was just that — phenomenal. "Without doubt, it was the greatest round of golf of my life," said Miller, who now has shot 61 — within a single stroke of the lowest competitive round in tour history — on three occasions, including twice within the last two weeks. "It could have been the greatest round I'll ever shoot," he murmured, a touch of awe in his voice and speaking just above a whisper. Tom Watson lost the battle for second to Mahaffey by a single stroke. Watson had 67-274. Don Iverson holed a 50-60 foot birdie putt on the final hole to tie Mike Hill for fourth at 276. Each had a last round 69.

Bille Jean King Says She's Quitting Circuit

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Bille Jean King says she has some regrets over quitting the women's tennis tour, but she expects her future work in women's athletics to dull the pain. "I'm a little sorry to see it end because I'm hitting the ball well again," said the 31-year-old star after dumping Chris Evert 6-3, 6-2 in Sunday's finals here and earning $15,000 in her last regular appearance on the women's pro tour. Ms. King plans to play only in a few special events and World Team Tennis in the future. "I've won a lot of Wimbledon and Forest Hills and those have been great," she said of her decade of dominance in the sport, including five Wimbledon and three Forest Hills singles titles. "But to help tennis and women's tennis in particular has been a great thrill for me. And I've been allowed to have a creativity that I don't think any other person will ever have," she said. "That means more than winning to me. "Now, I'm going to be satisfied with helping other women in other sports through my magazine and the TV job. There are so many others who aren't recognized and I'd like to play to help them. "Although she said she has lost her desire for the regular tour, she admitted a special urgency to win Sunday's match against Miss Evert, who has replaced her as the world's top-ranked woman tennis player. "It's been a long time since I have been nervous before a match but I knew this was my last one and I really wanted to go out with a win," she said. "I got myself really psyched up and told myself to go for everything."

She was nearly flawless, hitting backhands that "even surprised me" and volleying superbly. Miss Evert, who had whipped Ms. King 6-1, 6-1 a week ago, said, "I think it's the best that Bille Jean has ever played. I hit some great shots but they just kept coming back at me. "She was steady in all parts of her game," added Miss Evert, 19, who earned $8,500 plus $2,200 as her share for teaming with Ms. King for a 6-4, 6-2 doubles conquest of Betty Stove of The Netherlands and Virginia Wade of England.

TWO FOR THE BIG MAN—Larry Moffett (15), the 6-8 sophomore center of the Racers, gets two of his six points here as he goes up over Bobby Porter of Tech. Moffett had 15 rebounds in the contest.

Bucks Slam 'Blazers Jabbar Scores 50 As

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer
Amidst all the controversy surrounding Portland's rookie center, Bill Walton, and his desire — or lack of same — to play pro basketball, Milwaukee pivotman Kareem Abdul-Jabbar ran a clinic for Walton, a sellout crowd of 10,938 at the Milwaukee Arena and a national television audience on what the pro game is all about.

In one of his finest performances, Abdul-Jabbar poured in 50 points, grabbed 15 rebounds, dished out 11 assists and left little doubt as to who is the dominant force in the National Basketball Association, leading the Bucks to a 122-108 decision over Portland Sunday. The win put Milwaukee over .500 for the first time this season at 22-21.

Abdul-Jabbar was overwhelming, sinking 18 of 30 shots — skyhooks, driving flips, lay-ins, jumpers and tap-ins. He completely outplayed Walton in the first regular season meeting of the former UCLA stars.

Abdul-Jabbar did it all in helping the Bucks erase a 14-point first quarter deficit and break away from a 77-77 tie in the third quarter with a 13-2 spurt. Walton, meanwhile, played 21 minutes in his third game after an 18-game absence, blamed on a heel spur. He scored seven points, had six rebounds and seven assists, but was no match for Abdul-Jabbar.

Afterwards, Walton confirmed he has retained attorney Charles Garry, who has represented the Black Panther Party, but said little else about reports he is trying to break his estimated $2 million pact. Garry, meanwhile, said he has "absolutely not" been hired to help Walton break his contract.

Meanwhile, Blazers Coach Lenny Wilkens said, "There have been stories like that all year long. I can't worry about those things. I know he's here and he's playing — that's all I care about."

Hawks 117, Sonics 109
Tom Van Arsdale's 32 points led Atlanta to its eighth consecutive victory over the struggling Sonics, who have dropped five of six games on an extended road trip without the services of star forward Spencer Heywood, who is sidelined with pneumonia. Two free throws by Dave Cowens with one second remaining gave Boston its 12th consecutive triumph over Philadelphia in Boston Garden, Only

Willie Lanier To Bid His Farewell Tonight

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
MIAMI (AP) — The answers to pro football's problems lie with "reasonable men sitting down and working out sensible settlements reasonably," one of the game's retiring stars suggests. "We cannot continue to live in discord," added linebacker Willie Lanier of the Kansas City Chiefs who will be pulling on a jersey for the last time in tonight's Pro Bowl game at the Orange Bowl. The game, matching all-star teams of the American and National Conferences, will have a 9 p.m. kickoff. It will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

Lanier, 29, a graduate of Morgan State and a defensive titan in the National Football League for eight years, will play with the favored AFC squad, which will feature the quarterbacking of Ken Stabler and Bob Griese, the running of such stars as O.J. Simpson and Larry Csonka and a defense girded by Mean Joe Greene and L.C. Greenwood of Pittsburgh's Super Bowl champions.

With Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings begging off because of a sore arm, the NFC squad will have two quarterbacks making their first appearances in the game — Jim Hart of St. Louis and Jim Harris of the Los Angeles Rams.

Lanier is quitting football to take an executive position with a tobacco company and will be stationed in the Washington, D. C. area.

"I don't leave with any regrets or recriminations," the 245-pound middle linebacker said. "It has been a great life. Pro football offers players tremendous opportunities in other fields."

Lanier said he hoped the game would never have to go through a bitter player strike such as the one which hit the game last summer. "The key word is respect," he said. "If owners learn to respect the players as individuals and as business men and the players have the same respect for the owners, then there is no reason that all problems can't be worked out satisfactorily."

Alabama And Kentucky To Collide Head-On Tonight

The Hatfields and McCoys start shooting at each other tonight. In other words, it's Alabama vs. Kentucky in college basketball.

"Well, it's a big game because it's the next one," says Alabama Coach C.W. Newton, dismissing the significance of the Southeastern Conference meeting.

Actually, it's bigger than Newton will concede. His players have to beat the Wildcats to hold onto their lead in the SEC and their prestige as the nation's seventh-ranked team. Kentucky, ranked No. 10, will try to disprove the Crimson Tide's alleged supremacy and knock them down a peg in the standings while improving their own position.

Alabama crushed Louisiana State 93-67 Saturday while Kentucky defeated Mississippi 85-82, adding some luster to Monday night's game at Kentucky. The victory gave the Crimson Tide a 5-0 record in SEC play and Kentucky improved to 4-1.

Alabama looked like a conference champion Saturday while taking apart LSU on the shooting of Charles Russell and Charles Cleveland. Kentucky, meanwhile, almost broke under the strain of a Mississippi rally before winning.

"We definitely had a let-down," said Kentucky Coach Joe Hall, whose team was perhaps looking ahead to Alabama.

Elsewhere in college basketball Saturday, top-ranked Indiana buried Northwestern 82-56; No. 2 UCLA walloped California 102-72; third-rated Louisville nipped Drake 55-53 in overtime; No. 4 North Carolina State defeated No. 14 North Carolina 88-85 in overtime; No. 5 Maryland turned back Navy 87-73; Stanford upset No. 6 Southern Cal 67-66; No. 8 Oregon nipped Washington 68-66; ninth-ranked Arizona State trimmed New Mexico 93-76; 11th-rated La Salle tripped Penn 67-65; No. 12 Marquette beat Notre Dame 71-68; No. 13 Arizona defeated Texas-El Paso 69-57; 15th-ranked Providence routed Missouri State 82-74; No. 16 Minnesota downed Michigan State 82-71; Lafayette upset No. 17 Rutgers 72-66; No. 18 Tennessee whipped Florida 59-56; No. 19 Michigan defeated Iowa 75-70, and South Carolina, ranked No. 20, trimmed Davidson 85-68.

Alabama started slow but picked up steam behind Russell and Cleveland, who combined for 48 points. The Crimson Tide broke open the game by outscoring LSU 16-2 late in the first half, then led 39-34 at halftime and Newton substituted freely in the second half.

Kevin Grevey and Mike Flynn combined for 49 points and Jimmy Connor added some clutch baskets late in the game as Kentucky held off Mississippi. The Wildcats lost most of a 16-point lead before pulling it out.

Kent Benson's 20 points led Indiana past Northwestern in a Big Ten game that extended the Hoosiers' winning streak to over two seasons, longest in the country among major colleges. The Hoosiers led by 10 points at the half and poured it on after intermission, racing to a 28-point advantage at one time.

UCLA built a 54-33 halftime lead and breezed by California behind Richard Washington and Dave Meyers, who divided 34 points.

Colts Expected To Take Good Trade Bet Bartkowski In Draft

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
MIAMI (AP) — Steve Bartkowski, a big, strong-throwing quarterback out of the University of California, looms as the hottest commodity in the approaching National Football League draft, and the Baltimore Colts have first grabs.

"We don't feel we need a quarterback, but believe we could use Bartkowski for good trading purposes," said Joe Thomas, Baltimore's general manager, after winning the coin flip for the No. 1 pick over Tex Schramm of the Dallas Cowboys.

The New York Giants, with a 2-12 season record to match that of the Colts for worst in the NFL, would have been in the coin flip, but traded their No. 1 pick to Dallas for quarterback Craig Morton.

"I am in contact with four clubs which are interested in landing a quarterback like Bartkowski," Thomas said. "We are trying to rebuild, to get the Colts back into the playoff status they once enjoyed. We feel we should be able to land two front-line experienced players, at least, for this fine quarter-back."

Thomas said the situation was similar to that which existed a few years ago, when he was with the Miami Dolphins and had a chance to pick Mike Phipps, the Purdue quarterback, but actually wanted a top wide receiver. So he traded the choice to Cleveland, and received Paul Warfield in return.

"I hope to have a deal made before the draft," the Baltimore executive said. The draft is scheduled Jan. 28-29 in New York.

Thomas declined to identify the four clubs with whom he is talking, but they are believed to be the Kansas City Chiefs, Washington Redskins, Los Angeles Rams and New York Jets.

The Chiefs have an aging quarterback in Len Dawson and owner Lamar Hunt has indicated he is anxious to instill new blood in the Chiefs, to rebuild them into a Super Bowl contender. Earlier, Hunt fired veteran coach Hank Stram, and he is still seeking a successor.

Washington is plugging along with a pair of old-timers, Sonny Jurgensen and Billy Kilmer, and the Rams, having traded John Hadl to Green Bay, are reportedly not completely satisfied with James Harris and young Ron Jaworski.

The Jets' situation is well known. Broadway Joe Namath hasn't made up his mind whether to continue in the game, and he has advised Phil Iselein, the club's president, that he should sign a young quarterback even if he, Namath, decides to play a couple more years.

Baltimore appears to be satisfied with its present signal-callers, Bert Jones and Marty Domres. The Colts are in the market for a lineman of the caliber of Maryland's Randy White, or a linebacker like Rod Shoate of national champion Oklahoma or little-known Robert Brazile, a little All-American from Jackson State.

"If we are unable to make a deal for Bartkowski before the draft," Thomas said, "I think we would go for White."

White is a 6-foot-4, 255-pounder who received both the Outland and Lombardi trophies as the nation's top college lineman.

Bartkowski had a sensational season, completing 182 of 325 passes for 2,580 yards. He threw for 12 touchdowns and had seven passes intercepted.

Task Force On Children With Emotional Problems Established

FRANKFORT, Ky. — C. Leslie Dawson, the new secretary of the Kentucky Department for Human Resources (DHR), today announced the establishment of a task force on children with emotional problems.

Members will be selected from the Institute for Children, the Councils for Social Services and Health Services and the Department's Bureau for Social Services.

Dr. Lyman Ginger, Superintendent of Public Instruction, will appoint two citizen members and a representative from his staff.

The task force will begin operation by February and will complete its study by Dec. 15, 1975.

Its purpose is to develop a plan for the provision of preventive and treatment services to children with emotional problems.

Children with emotional problems are defined as those whose behavior is upsetting to the family, the teacher or the classroom or the general community and whose behavior may retard learning, bring social disapproval, maladjustment, delinquency, incorrigibility or aggressiveness.

As a part of this study, the task force will look into the effectiveness of DHR's programs which help troubled youths readjust to community and family living and will make recommendations to DHR for improvements in existing treatment and rehabilitation methods.

DHR's philosophy and programs emphasize treatment, making it possible for the youths to readjust successfully in their communities. A variety of rehabilitative programs is offered through the Department's Bureau for Social Services.

Wet Weather Trend In Tennessee Valley Continues Throughout 1974

The record spell of wet weather that began three years ago in the Tennessee Valley continued in 1974 with rainfall across the region averaging 60.1 inches for the year, TVA reports. That was about 8 inches above normal.

The period from 1972 through 1974 has been the wettest three-year period on record for the Valley, with total rainfall over that span amounting to almost 33 inches more than normal. Among Valley rainfall totals for the past 85 years, 1973 was the highest, 1972 the fourth highest, and 1974 the seventh highest.

One result of the unusually heavy 1974 rainfall was total hydroelectric generation of about 23 billion kilowatt-hours for the year from the 48 TVA, Corps of Engineers, and Alcoa dams supplying power to the TVA system. This nearly equalled the calendar year record hydro generation of 23.4 billion kilowatt-hours in 1973, and contributed about 22 percent of total TVA system generation in 1974. Tennessee River streamflow for the year was the fourth highest on record.

or 9.3 feet below the flood crest that would have resulted without regulation by TVA reservoirs. This reduction averted damages estimated at $28,500,000. Another flood control operation was carried out in March, but in that case the natural crest would have been only slightly above flood stage.

Chattanooga flood damages averted by TVA flood control operations now total $952 million since completion of Norris Dam in 1936.

In January TVA's newest dam, Tims Ford, reduced the Elk River flood crest at Fayetteville, Tennessee, by 5.5 feet. This prevented an estimated $691,000 in damages, making a total of $4.7 million in damages averted at Fayetteville since the dam was completed in 1970.

Operation of the TVA reservoir system helped reduce flood crests on the lower Ohio and Mississippi Rivers from five separate floods between January and June. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers estimated the damages prevented by these TVA operations at $7.4 million, making a total of $71 million in flood damages averted along the lower Ohio and Mississippi by TVA's control of the Tennessee River since 1944.

creased streamflows near the end of the year filled these reservoirs to near their normal year-end flood control levels. These flows pushed water levels in Cherokee, Douglas, Hiwassee, and Tims Ford Reservoirs above planned year-end levels, but they were being lowered again in early January to provide normal winter flood storage capacity.

Last month's rainfall averaged 6.0 inches across the Valley, compared to the normal 4.5 inches for December. The highest December total reported to TVA was 9.69 inches at Cosby, Tennessee, near the Great Smoky Mountains. The lowest was 2.45 inches at Johnsonville Steam Plant, about 70 miles west of Nashville near Waverly, Tennessee.

The Valley's wettest month of 1974 was January, with average rainfall amounting to 9.7 inches. A January flood control operation on the TVA system reduced the Tennessee River crest at Chattanooga to a nondamaging stage of 27.8 feet,

The tributary river reservoirs that provide the major storage capacity for regulating Tennessee River floods were lowered through the summer and fall in helping meet TVA power requirements, and by mid-November were generally at lower levels than in other recent years. However, in-

State Air Crashes May Decrease

FRANKFORT, Ky. — If the present trend continues, the present fiscal year may see a decrease in the number of air crashes in Kentucky compared to the previous year, according to Marcel J. Hanscom of the Kentucky Department of Transportation's Division of Aeronautics.

Hanscom, Aviation Regulatory Coordinator, said there have been only 11 crashes in Kentucky since July 1, compared with 50 for the previous fiscal year. There were 23 people involved in the 11 crashes—but only one fatality.

The crashes were attributed to several causes. Four of the mishaps resulted from engine failures, two were landing accidents, three resulted from lost control due to pilot error and in two cases the cause has not been identified.

Most of the air accidents occurred in the western section of the state, with two near Owensboro, two near Paducah, and one each in Symsonia, Kingston, Clinton, Pentrod and Joy. Two also occurred near West Liberty in eastern Kentucky.

Of the planes that crashed, seven were small single engine planes, two were of the larger twin engine variety and two were helicopters.

Security National Bank Sold

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press Writer

Faced with "probable failure" and a lack of "public confidence," the Security National Bank of Long Island, 53rd largest in the nation, has been sold to another New York bank.

Security National, of Herkimer, N.Y., said in a statement Sunday that its troubles resulted from a loss of investor confidence, which the bank said stemmed from the general economic decline and the failure of another Long Island bank, the Franklin National, last year.

"This gave rise to rumors and speculative, damaging news stories about the bank which caused substantial withdrawals of deposits and seriously impaired the bank's ability to obtain borrowings from its normal sources," Security National said.

Banking sources said Security National had suffered losses in loans to builders on New York's Long Island, where the construction industry is depressed following a building boom during the 1960s.

Franklin National's failure followed heavy foreign exchange losses. Franklin National at one time was the nation's 20th largest bank and its failure was the largest in the nation's history.

The Federal Reserve Board in Washington, which authorized the sale of Security National without stockholder approval, said the comptroller of the currency had found "external forces and public confidence have adversely affected the operations and condition of Security National to the point that an emergency action is warranted."

Comptroller of the Currency James E. Smith declared an emergency at Security National and asked immediate action "to prevent a probable failure of that bank."

Security National, with deposits of $1.3 billion and 80 offices on Long Island and 15 in New York City, was purchased by the Chemical Bank for $40 million. Chemical, one of the nation's 10 largest banks, will assume all assets and most liabilities of the smaller bank.

In another economic development Sunday, the administration stepped up its campaign for President Ford's antirecession program as three officials made public appearances urging congressional approval of the package.

Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton said there are areas of the program where Ford is willing to compromise with Congress but urged: "Let's start with the President's program through the Congress, and then if it needs adjusting, let's adjust it."

Morton, appearing on ABC's "Issues and Answers," said congressional criticism of Ford's proposals is something to be expected in response to bold suggestions.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, appearing on NBC's "Meet the Press," declared that he will fight for Ford's program despite his dislike of the large deficits included in them. Reminded he once indicated he would resign if the budget deficit reached $40 billion, Simon said that no longer is the case.

Navyman Larry K. # State To Open Eight Group Homes For Juvenile Offenders

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Hoping to cut down the use of large institutions for juveniles, the state plans to open eight new group — homes for delinquents this year and phase out some larger facilities.

Four of the eight group homes will be in Northern Kentucky, and one each in Morehead, Middlesboro, Hopkinsville and Louisville, Social Services Commissioner Jerry Hissong has said.

Group homes are already operating in Owensboro and Lexington.

Also in line with the concept of using small community facilities will be three community centers expected to begin operation this year for children with emotional problems who are not aided by current delinquent or mental-treatment centers.

Officials have said some children who don't fit into existing programs and facilities are left to spend their lives in mental or corrections institutions.

Two of the three community centers, for eight youths each, will be in Jefferson County. One will be operated by the state and the other by the Metropolitan Social Services Department (MSSD).

A four-unit facility for 32 youths will be opened at Elizabethtown by the North Central Comprehensive Care Center.

David Riffe, superintendent of MSSD's Ormsby "Village," said its full-fledged program for emotionally disturbed youths won't be operating before next month.

Paul Rapo, director of the Lincoln Village center nearing completion at Elizabethtown, said the $425,000 center will be operating by April, concentrating on youths with school problems and accepting emotionally disturbed youths in trouble with the law if they are not hard-core delinquents.

Hissong said the Bureau of Social Services has applied for an $84,000 federal grant for its Jefferson County unit, expected to open by July.

Hissong said the federal anti-crime funds, along with $5,000 in state funds, will finance the first year of a model program.

The three centers will stress involvement of parents and counseling for all family members, Hissong said.

"Many emotional problems revolve around family relationships," he said. "Unless these problems are resolved, all of the treatment of the child would be for naught."

He said it is hoped most of the youths will be able to return to their homes after three to six months in the centers, with care at home by visiting counselors after that.

Auto Makers Begin New Week Somewhat Better Than Before

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's beleaguered auto industry begins its third full week of production in 1975 with 11 assembly plants closed and 228,000 workers on layoff.

The new week began as an improvement over last week, when the auto makers reported 23 plants closed and 282,000 hourly employees on furlough because of declines in retail sales.

Only American Motors, the smallest of the Big Four, will be in full production this week. General Motors will operate without four plants, Ford Motor Co. will have three plants closed and Chrysler Corp. is extending another week of shut-downs to four plants.

Ford and Chrysler will offer new car buyers factory rebates of up to $500 again this week in hopes of boosting sales, which have been in the doldrums for 16 straight months. It is the longest auto slump in 30 years.

Chrysler's rebate program, now in its second week, offers up to $300 in company checks to buyers of specified models, and a $100 bonus if specially designated models are traded in on the sale. The program ends Feb. 16.

Ford begins the first full week of a similar plan which provides up to $500 in rebates for the purchase of small Ford models. The promotion ends Feb. 28.

General Motors has not launched a rebate promotion. GM will have 10,455 workers on temporary layoff this week — in addition to 100,000 on open-ended furlough — as it closes car plants in Leeds, Mo., North Tarrytown, N.Y., and South Gate, Calif. The company also is shutting its huge GMC Truck & Coach plant in Pontiac, Mich., for the week.

Ford is closing car plants in Wixom, Mich.; Lorain, Ohio, and San Jose, Calif., along with five manufacturing plants this week in moves that will leave 21,750 workers on temporary layoff. Ford also has 33,350 employees on open-ended layoff.

Chrysler is keeping car plants in Hamtramck, Mich.; Newark, Del., and St. Louis, and its St. Louis truck plant closed again this week. About 13,750 workers will be on temporary layoff because of the closings. Chrysler also has 49,900 workers on indefinite layoff.

With 20 car plants closed last week, auto production was off 41 per cent from the previous week to 68,000. It was the smallest output for the period in recent memory, industry observers said.

Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb, appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," said that if the energy proposals of Ford are followed, the nation would be invulnerable in energy and even could be able to export energy by 1985.

The wife of Daniel Morgan, Revolutionary War general (Morgan County was named for him), lived in Kentucky 10 years after her husband's death and is buried in Logan County.

U.S. May Have Four Times As Much Oil As It Knows Of Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may have four times as much oil as it already knows about, and the Interior Department wants to find out for sure through its offshore leasing program.

But even if those additional reserves are found, the nation could fill its own demand at present levels for no more than 20 years at best.

The United States is scarcely an oil-poor nation, with proven reserves estimated at some 45 billion barrels by the U.S. Geological Survey. This is about 7 per cent of the world total by government estimates. But the nation consumes about 6.5 billion barrels a year, or more than 30 per cent of the world's annual oil production.

That is clearly a formula for trouble, which made its point last winter when the world's major oil exporting nations temporarily reduced their shipments and simultaneously raised their prices.

For the immediate future, the United States must continue to pay the high price for foreign oil, under the constant threat of yet another embargo.

In the short range, both the administration and the oil industry agree that domestic oil production can not be quickly increased very much.

Ford has asked Congress to allow commercial oil production from the Naval Petroleum Reserve at Elk Hills, Calif., and estimated this could add about 160,000 barrels per day in 1975 and about 300,000 barrels daily by 1977.

Ford also said he would end federal price controls on domestic crude oil. The White House estimated this would increase production about 500,000 barrels a day over the next three or four years by allowing higher prices for oil which now is unprofitable to produce.

Ford also has asked Congress to allow exploration and production in Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 4, a vast, frozen area next to the big Prudhoe Bay oil field discovered seven years ago on the northern slope of Alaska.

And the Interior Department has proposed to open for exploration the previously untouched offshore areas along the Atlantic Coast, and areas off California and Alaska.

How much oil these areas really contain will not be known until they are explored with drilling rigs, but the U.S. Geological Survey has estimated that the nation may have 73 to 146 billion barrels hidden away in addition to 45 billion barrels of proven reserves, for a total supply as high as 191 billion barrels. This would be enough for about 22 years at current consumption rates.

If the United States does strike oil again within its own boundaries, that will not bring back cheap oil.

Government and industry of-officials agree that oil produced by drilling rigs standing in hundreds of feet of water offshore will be more costly than oil drilled on land or in shallow waters.

The Federal Energy Administration estimates that the government may have to support the price of oil at around $7.70 per barrel to protect the investments it will take to produce new offshore oil.

Hopkinsville Mayor To Head UK Alumni

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Hopkinsville Mayor George L. Atkins Jr., has been elected president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association succeeding Charles Landrum Jr., a Lexington lawyer.

Atkins, 33, is one of the youngest mayors in the nation. He was elected in 1972.

Atkins, who is in the real estate and insurance business in his native Hopkinsville, graduated from the university here in 1963 with a degree in personnel management.

James W. Stuckert, Louisville, was elected vice president of the association.

Panhandle Officials Meet With Board

LEDBETTER, Ky. (AP) — Education officials and parents journey to Frankfort today as it is hoped a new school building will be the result of a protest and three-day pupil boycott at the Panhandle Elementary School here.

The Livingston County Board of Education had unanimously recommended a new school to cost about $400,000 and to send representatives and parents to Frankfort for the meeting with Supt. of Public Instruction Dr. Lyman Ginger.

France Flies Terrorists Out Of Paris In 707 Jet

By The Associated Press

France flew three Arab terrorists out of Paris today after the gunmen made an attack on an Israeli jumbo jet at Orly Airport, fought a gun battle with police and held 10 persons hostage overnight in an airport restroom.

The French Boeing 707 carrying the terrorists requested permission to land in Lebanon, but authorities refused and closed Beirut airport. The plane then flew eastward and a source at the Beirut control tower said the pilot gave his new destination as Baghdad, Iraq.

The Israeli Boeing 747 was not damaged in the attack at Orly Airport on Sunday and the hostages were released unharmed early today. But 21 persons, including one of the terrorists, were reported injured in the 15-minute gunfight that preceded the attack. Eight were reported in serious condition.

Conservation Urged By Instructor At MSU

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The natural gas shortage is making itself felt in the world of art as well as industry, according to a Murray State University ceramics professor.

Professor Fred Shepherd told a weekend ceramics workshop that potters are particularly affected by the squeeze.

Shepherd, whose work in ceramics has been displayed nationally since 1964, said Saturday at the Hopkinsville Art Guild Workshop that potters who use natural-gas-fired kilns must begin to economize as natural gas supplies go down and prices go up.

"You could feel it was going to follow suit from the other shortages that have been taking place in the country," Shepherd said.

Potters, he said, are "going to have to be very careful about economizing when they can and where they can."

Civitan Club Meets Recently

"Murray Civitans are grateful to the citizens of Murray for the 2700 pounds of fruit cake they bought prior to the Christmas holidays. The proceeds will enable us to keep our financial pledge to the local mental retardation program," announced Elbert Thomason, chairman of Murray Civitan Club Fruit Cake Committee at a January 16 meeting.

Dale Spann of the local law enforcement office spoke to the group on a variety of law enforcement problems. "Behind practically every delinquent or problem child in our community there is a delinquent or problem parent," stated Spann. "Of all the drug problems in our community with teenagers and adults, alcohol still remains our major drug problem with juveniles and adults," Spann reported.

Spann emphasized that local civic and social clubs could be helpful by providing wholesome activities for our junior and senior high school age citizens that are well supervised and that parents need to be concerned about who their children associate with and where they go when not at home.

The Murray Civitans will meet next on February 6, 1975 when they will honor local preachers for their service to the community. Mr. Jack Keeney, Governor-Elect of Kentucky, Owensboro, Kentucky will be the guest speaker.

Pilot Mail Program Muddled By Cross-Charges Of Sabotage

KOKOMO, Ind. (AP) — A pilot program set up here to develop standards for mail carriers is being muddled by cross charges of sabotage, mass layoffs and talk of a nationwide postmen's strike.

The U.S. Postal Service says the study was ordered "to establish fair and adequate work standards" for mailmen and to develop foot and motor routes "with equal annual workloads."

But President James H. Rademacher of the National Association of Letter Carriers says 15,000 jobs will be eliminated by the program, which has become known as the Kokomo Plan.

Ronald Takacs, president of Letter Carriers Local 533 here, declares, "They want to put 20,000 to 30,000 carriers out" of work.

But Postmaster Richard P. Gerhard says no one even knows whether there would be a net reduction in jobs nationwide if the plan were implemented.

Gerhard adds, "There is a no-layoff clause in the agreement with the letter carriers. So if there were a reduction, it would be done by attrition."

Postal executives here say the program is not being given a fair chance and talk privately of pressure being exerted by "big (letter carrier) unions in the East" to make sure the plan does not work.

Asked if the union is conducting a slow-down, Takacs gave an emphatic "no," adding that the carriers are "giving their full cooperation."

"The plan is not working," Takacs said in an interview. "We're using more overtime. I don't think anybody is getting done in eight hours. They're all working nine and 10 hours."

The plan, called Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System, was drawn up under contract with Lester B. Knight & Associates, a Chicago engineering firm. Postal officials have not discussed costs.

Gerhard said in an interview Friday that a postman's "average salary is $14,000 and we have a right to demand a fair day's work out of him."

Gerhard, a postal employee 38 years and son of a lifetime letter carrier, said, "My father was 5 feet 2 and 120 pounds, but this program wouldn't have

Local Funeral Home Has Membership In The Golden Rule

The J. H. Churchill Funeral Home, Third and Maple Streets, has been accepted for membership in The International Order of the Golden Rule for the fourth consecutive year.

The firm has been notified of its reaffiliation by Roger Ytberg, Executive Director of the Order, which has headquarters in Springfield, Illinois.

The Order is an organization of carefully selected funeral directing firms throughout the world. Before being admitted, a firm must receive the written recommendation of families it has served and other professional people in the community. To remain affiliated, a firm must requalify annually.

Members attend regional and international conferences in order to share their knowledge and improve their service to the public. In addition, all information that comes into the Order's headquarters is made available to the entire membership through various programs.

Founded as a non-profit organization in 1928, the Order is the world's largest controlled-membership organization for funeral directors.

Schools In 45 Kentucky Counties Closed Today

By The Associated Press
Schools in at least 45 Kentucky counties were closed today after an overnight snow fell as thick as a 2 1/2 inch covering in some areas.

By late morning the snow had diminished to a few flurries. A traveler's advisory continued in Central and Eastern Kentucky.

Paintsville and London were among places that reported the heaviest snow. Lexington and Pikeville reported about two inches and other areas had lesser amounts.

The snow came on top of more than one inch of rain in the upper basins of the Cumberland, Kentucky, Licking and Salt rivers. The Weather Service said the runoff would cause a 5 to 10 foot rise along the upper forks of the Kentucky and upper Licking rivers. Streams were expected to remain below bankfull, however, and no flooding was expected.

School closings stemmed from poor conditions on bus routes.

Police said conditions varied from main roads slippery in spots to slippery and hazardous with secondary roads particularly bad in all except the Mayfield and Madisonville areas in Western Kentucky where clear, dry conditions existed.

Schools closed today included the Garrard, Shelby, Hardin, Owen, Trimble, Grant, Harlan, Leslie, Larue, Butler, Carroll, Henry, Scott, Fayette, Boyle, Lincoln, Laurel, Pike, Barren, Metcalfe, Monroe, Warren and Whitley County districts.

Other school closings included Carter, Lawrence, Rowan, Elliott, Lewis, Hart, Muhlenberg, Jessamine, Bourbon, Madison, Woodford, Clark, Robertson, Estill, Nicholas, Marion, Washington, Powell, Clay, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties and the Pikeville and Caverna independent districts.

The frontal system that brought precipitation to Kentucky moved eastward toward the Appalachians and the snow was expected to end today, followed by a brief clearing trend. The outlook called for a chance of showers by late Tuesday.

Carroll To Deliver

Address At KPA Meet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll will deliver his first "State of the Commonwealth" address Friday during the mid-winter convention of the Kentucky Press Association.

Carroll will be following a precedent set by other Kentucky chief executives years ago in making the report to the KPA in the years in which the General Assembly is not in session.

The convention, which opens Thursday and continues through Saturday, also will include a talk from William B. Arthur, former editor of Look Magazine who now serves as executive director of the National News Council.

New officers will be elected during Saturday's session.
