University of California, Irvine

Compliments of the UCI Alumni Association
June 1976

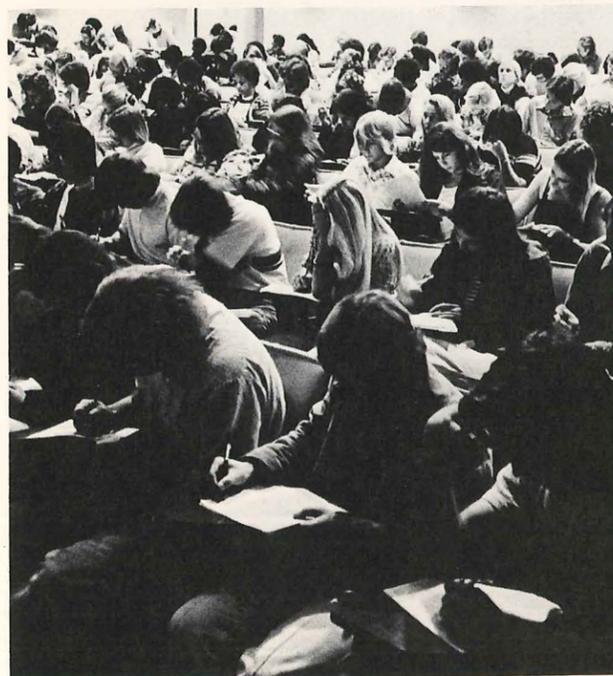

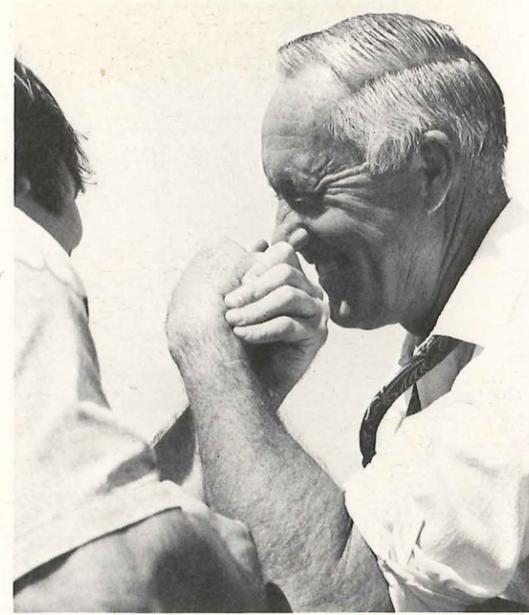

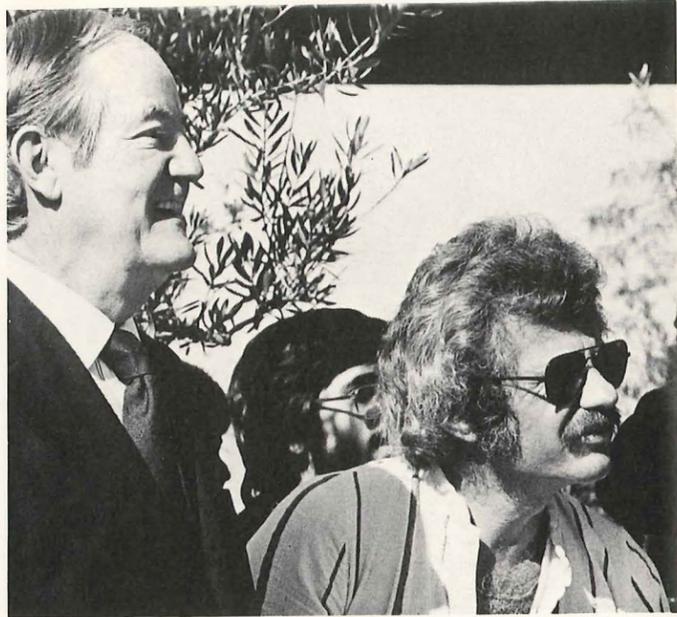

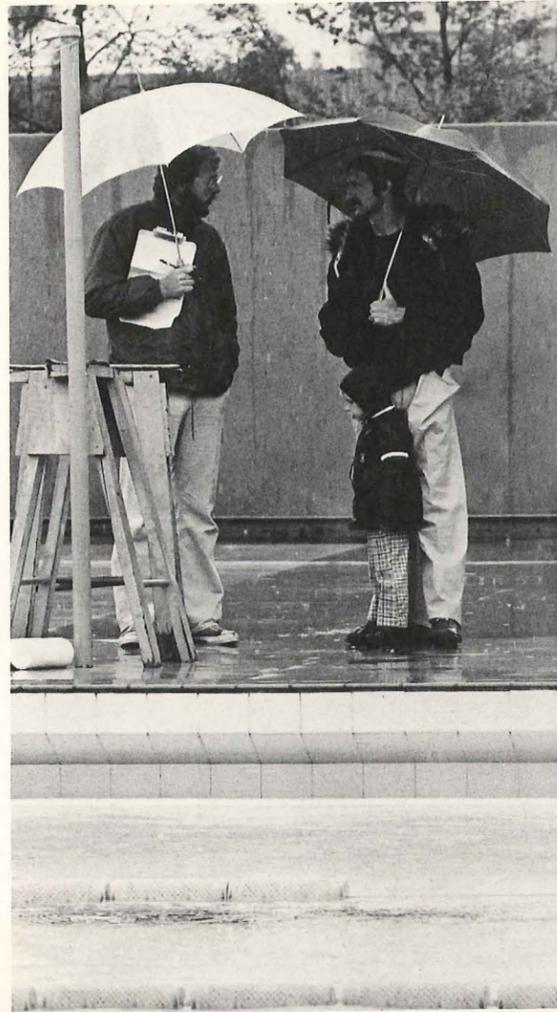

We started with Nixon . . .
 War, four more years, growing protest
 to the draft
 Then peace, peace at last,
 an end to Selective Service—
 A beginning to gas lines.

The economy fell . . .
 Unemployment soared, chasing prices—
 but the POW's came home.
 Watergate burst,
 the flood drowning Nixon's administration
 and
 nearly sinking our confidence as a nation.
 Yet we survived.

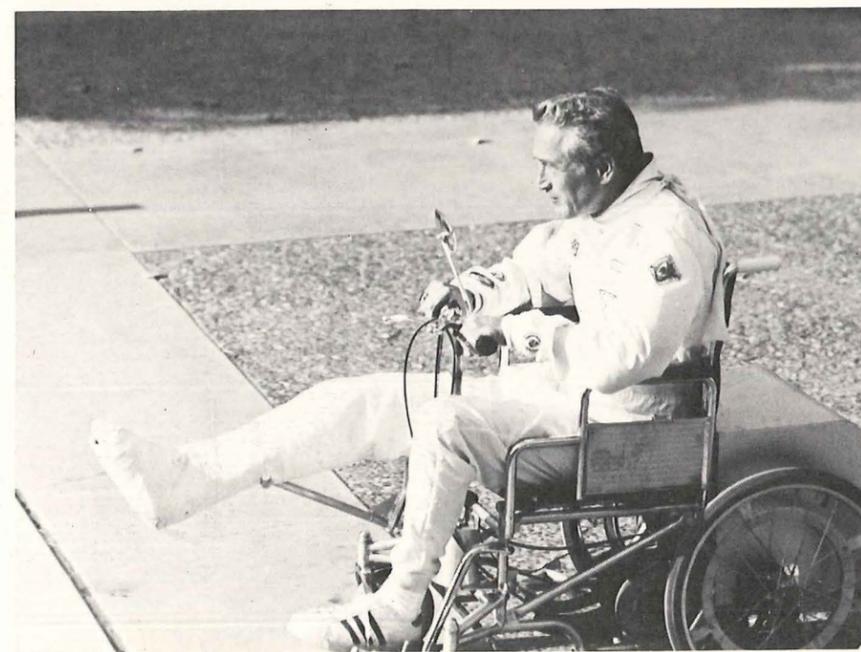

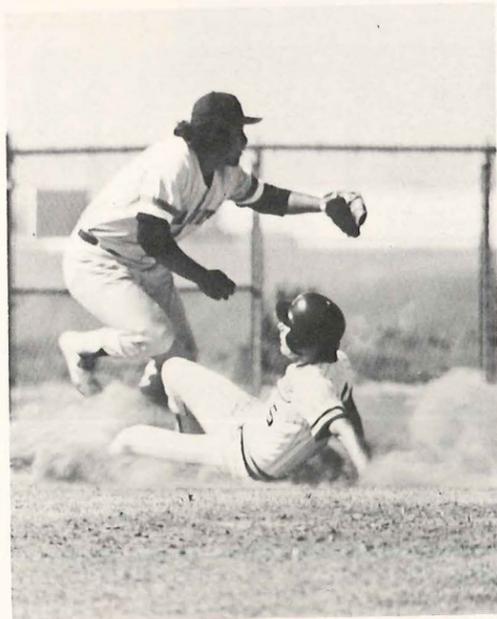

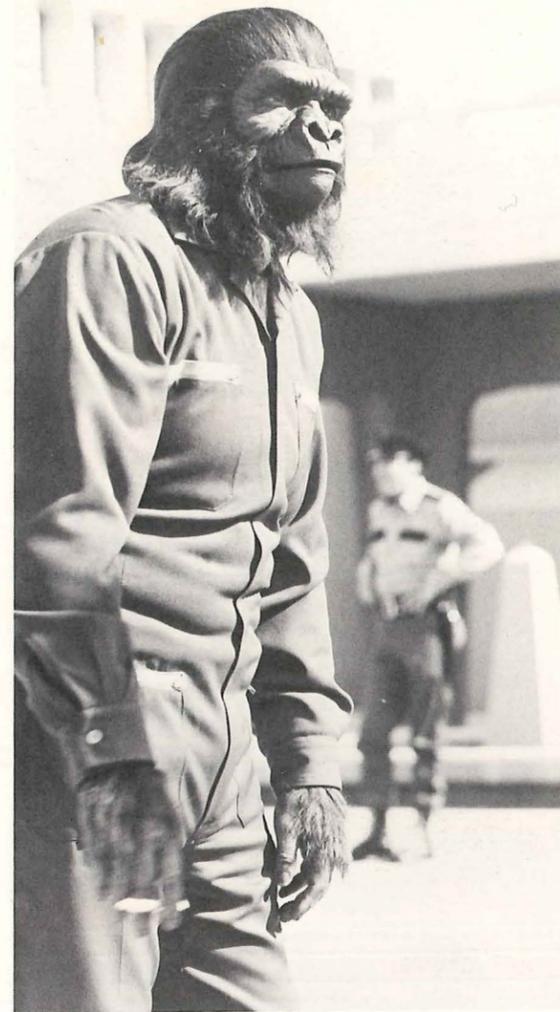

Wounded Knee, amnesty, Patty Hearst,
 an economy getting worse.
 Familiar scenery of the 60's changing bit by bit.
 Old issues died—and old issue-makers:
 LBJ, J. Edgar Hoover.
 Heroes of another age,
 artists that had molded our times—
 Lindberg, Picasso—were no more,
 their eras ended.

But Bob Dylan came back, singing new songs.
 Rhoda got married
 and
 Betty Ford spoke her mind.
 Streakers ran by,
 bringing simpler pursuits.
 Apollo and Soyuz joined in space,
 Brown replaced Reagan,
 And
 we started dreaming of the 50's again.

The Bicentennial arrived,
and the two dollar bill revived.

Bits and pieces of our Irvine years,
fragments of what was happening
outside the confines of central park.
Now events have come round the circle:
another election, another Olympics,
another graduation.

In four years our focus changed, shifting from international vistas and fights for peace to basics.

Like energy, food,
a job.

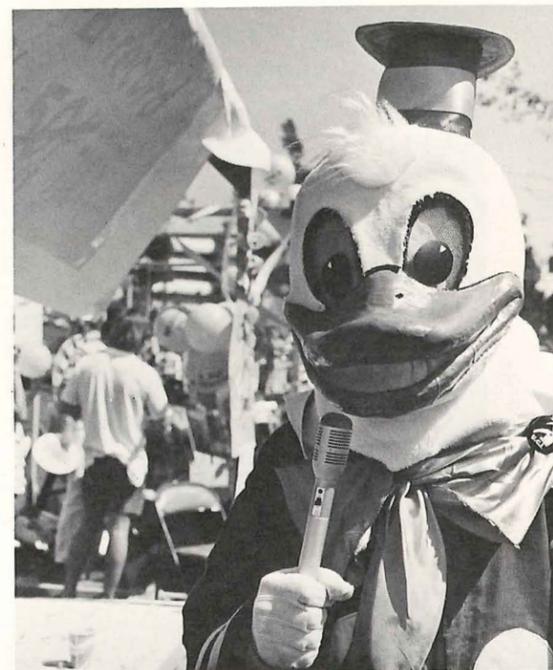

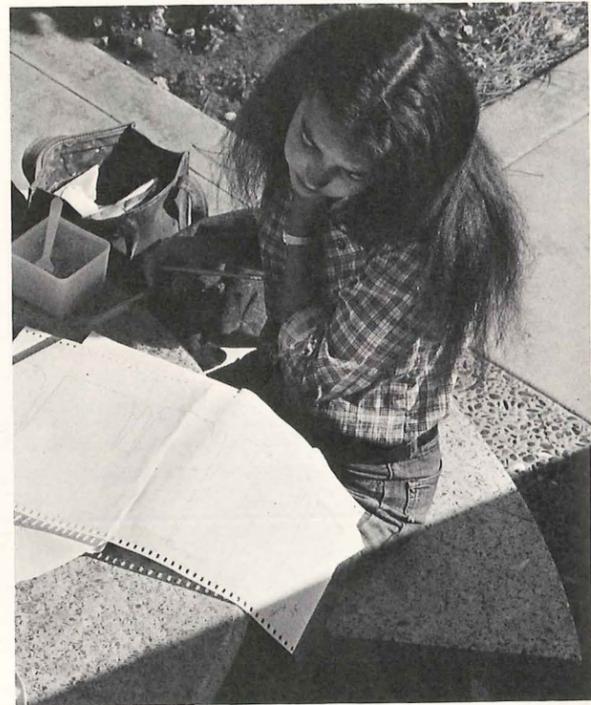

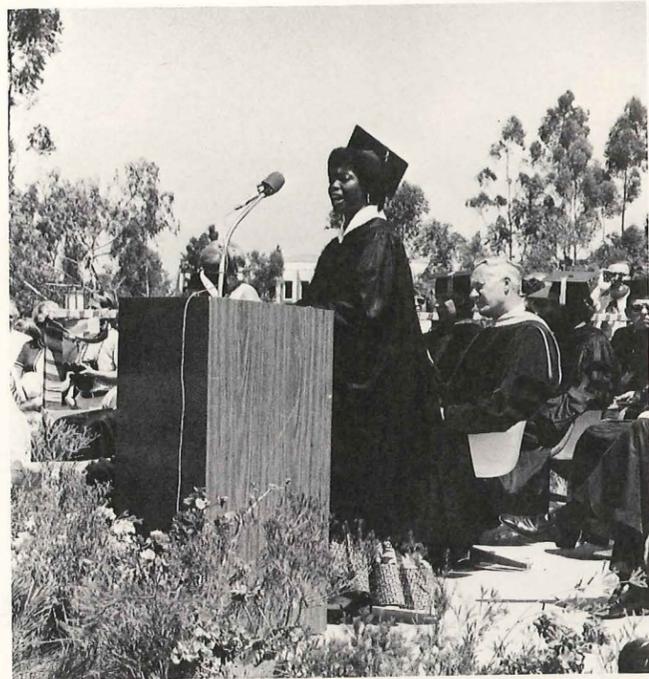

Our academic pursuits grew practical,
no time now for demonstrations.

The earth's resources are dwindling,
we have an education
to finish.

Besides, they're filming a movie
at
the Engineering Building.

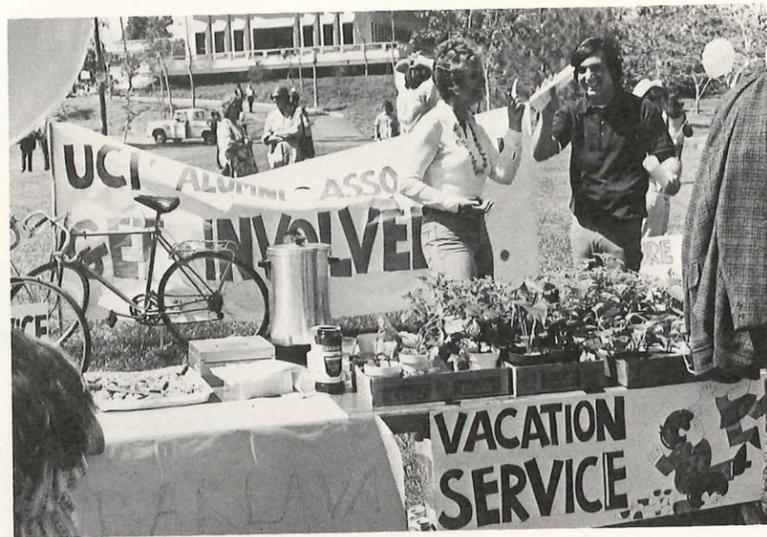

College is more than earnest pursuit of a "future,"
more than preparation for the uncertainties ahead.
Our Irvine past will be made up of many pictures:
fraternity pyramids, NCAA championships,
moving in and moving out,
gardens and sundae contests,
books, fees, and trees growing in central park.
Glimpses of our work and play
are here frozen for us, a black and white reminder of how we were . . .

So, you're leaving UCI.
Just think,
no more requirements,
fines for late add-drop cards, allnighters,
or
nodding over organic chemistry in the library.
No more huge library fines
for unopened books that have sat in the back seat of your car for two months.
In fact,
it means the end of all those degree-related hassles
that you've survived.

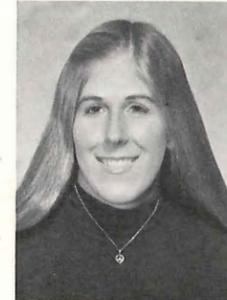

Yet—
 we've heard that the "real world"
 out there
 can be just as confounding.
 But don't despair,
 that's what the UCI Alumni Association
 is all about—
 to make it a little easier
 to make your way
 in the world after graduating.
 Congratulations and best wishes
 for a happy,
 satisfying life ahead.
 Bon voyage!
