Asian Regional Conference on Systems Biology 2017

20-22 November 2017, Putrajaya Marriott Hotel, Malaysia

The Asian Regional Conference on Systems Biology 2017 (ARCSB2017) will be the fourth bi-annual scientific meeting organized by Institute of Systems Biology (INBIOSIS), UKM. The objectives of the meeting are;

- To provide a networking and discussion platform for the participants who are already involved in systems and synthetic biology research or for those who are going to venture/undertake systems biology approach in their existing research
- To organize intellectual discussion on the advancement in systems and synthetic biology research
- To provide a research network gateway among the researchers in this region with systems and synthetic biology experts from abroad

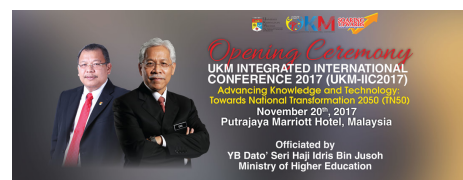

Who Should Attend

Postgraduate students (Master and PhD students), Post Doctorate, Academicians and Researchers (Government and non-government institution).

UKM-IIC2017

ARCSB2017 is one of co-organizers of UKM-Integrated International Conference 2017 (UKM-IIC2017). UKM-IIC2017 is organizing large-scale international conference that aims to collate major international conferences held at the university on broad areas of research.

UKM-IIC2017 is set to become one of UKM's major icons by positioning itself as a platform for sharing knowledge in the various fields of interdisciplinary research available at the university. For further information and registration, please visit www.ukm.my/ukmiic (<http://www.ukm.my/ukmiic>)
