NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS. — State Treasurer Clarence H. Kinsley has a lot of other people's hands under his watchful eyes, records in his office disclosed. In addition to his general duties of handling millions of dollars as state treasurer, he is the official custodian of three retirement and some fifteen additional funds which are represented by bonds in his care worth $214,000, 747, or more than a third of a billion dollars. The largest bond account by far is that of the state teachers' retirement system which totaled $81,851,590 on May 31 and is increasing steadily, while the second largest account was that of the Industrial Commission of Ohio which had a total of $52,170,285 in bonds, the records revealed.

"It's too bad but the law is the law and we can do nothing about it." This was the assertion made by Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Woodruff when he was informed that some bass fishermen had been fined by justices of the peace for possession of more than five small- or largemouth bass in one day. The 1938 fishing licenses were printed last fall and the daily bass limit listed on the reverse side of the permit as eight. This spring the conservation council established a daily limit of five, but in addition reduced the legal length of eleven inches to ten. In the future laws regulating fishing will not be published on the licenses so that changes are adopted by the council following publication there will be nothing that might unintentionally mislead the sportsmen, Commissioner Woodruff said.

State Director of Agriculture Earl H. Hanefeld, chairman of the Ohio committee for the 1938 National Dairy show, which will be staged at the Ohio State fairgrounds, announced that preparations for the event officially began with the opening of show headquarters last week in Columbus. The show, which represents the largest dairy event of its kind in the world, will be held from October 8 to 16, with entries from Canada as well as all dairy sections of the United States, Director Hanefeld related.

A warning regarding the danger to both life and property from carelessness in the handling of fireworks during the Fourth of July celebrations was issued by Dr. Walter H. Hartung, director of the state department of health. He urged that parents and older persons handle the explosives rather than children and said that when burned by powder a physician should be consulted at once, particularly if the skin shows evidence of being broken.

Under the direction of newly-appointed assistant Dr. George W. Woodruff, inmates of Ohio penitentiary now have the benefit of psychopathic treatment. All new arrivals at the institution will be examined for mental and nervous disorders when they are received, and as rapidly as possible present inmates who are thought to suffer from mental or nervous ailments will be diagnosed and treated. Warden James G. Woodard has stressed the necessity for the services of an alienist ever since he assumed charge of the institution. Dr. Woodruff was transferred to the penitentiary from Longview State hospital in Cincinnati by Welfare Director Margaret Allman. He will be assisted by Dr. George W. Kell, chief of the institution's medical staff, and duties only a month ago "significant findings" have been made, Warden Woodard said.

NOTICE ON DOGS

Mayor Kenneth J. Little wishes to call the attention of all dog owners that more care must be taken as to keeping dogs from roaming the streets. Also that each owner is directly responsible for any damage any dog might do either on the streets or another's property. Because a dog has a license on his collar does not give the owner permission to permit a dog to roam at large. The state law requires all dogs be kept up at night.

NEW ELECTRIC SIGNS

The Cozy Theatre has placed a new exterior electric sign on the show house. The design is of neon type and with red and blue light adds greatly to that part of the town. The R. & M. Construction Co. of Springfield designed same and installed it. Next door the Cedarville Farm Implement, Inc., recently installed an attractive electric sign.

COURT NEWS

DIVORCE SUITS
A charge his wife "threw herself" in front of a truck last April in Jamestown, in a suicide attempt, is contained in a divorce petition filed in common pleas court by Gilbert Evans against Daisy Evans, of the Grape Grove neighborhood. He seeks a decree of divorce on grounds of cruelty. They were married March 26, 1937 at Jamestown.

Margaret Barley has filed suit for divorce from Lawrence D. Barley, Xenia, charging gross neglect of duty. She requests custody of two minor children. They were married June 2, 1928, at Spring Valley.

Donna Le Vonne Kelly, in a suit for divorce, from Ray Kelly, Kennedy St., whom she married February 2, 1929, charges gross neglect and declares she was forced to leave the defendant August 6, 1934 because of his failure to provide for her support. She seeks restoration to her maiden name of Carter.

ANTIOCH GETS PROPERTY

In the case of Charles Partinis and others against Blanche Cunningham and others, an estate with an appraised value of $600 has been adjudged to Antioch College, on the basis of a contract entered into October 2, 1937, but held up until recent settlement of the question of a defective title.

Last summer, in connection with a sewage disposal plank project, the village dug a ditch varying from four to 14 feet in depth on the Dr. E. L. Haines land, within a few inches of the Sudders greenhouse, the petition sets forth.

The ditch, the Sudders charge, was negligently left open until last April, is now just partly filled and the ditch bank, along the side next to the greenhouse gradually collapsed, causing the foundation and wall of the building to slide and lean toward the ditch.

BOY SCOUT CAMPER

COUNTY BOARD DROPS FIVE CANDIDATES

Five candidates for public and party offices in Greene County were disqualified Monday by the board of elections at a meeting in Xenia. Those barred from the Aug. 9 primary ballot are:

Charles A. Eaton, Xenia, one of the two Democratic candidates for county treasurer, whose nominating petitions were not properly notarized.
B. B. Bowermeister of Boweraville, W. H. Wilkinson of New Jasper township and W. K. Gerard of Jefferson township, candidates for the Democratic Central Committee, and Dr. J. A. Yoder, Xenia, second ward, a candidate for the Republican Central Committee. Bowermeister is chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee.

On the strength of a legal opinion from Prosecutor Marcus Shoop, in which Secretary of State William J. Kennedy concurred, the election board held insufficient and therefore invalid the nominating petitions of the five candidates, ruling they were not properly signed or otherwise failed to meet election law requirements. A sixth disputed nominating petition—that of John W. Groves, Yellow Springs, also seeking the Democratic nomination for treasurer, was held valid by the board.

More Oil Leases For Sun Oil Co.

Embracing 12,178.38 acres of land, 107 more oil and gas leases, executed to the Sun Oil Co. by Greene County farmers, have been filed at the county recorder's office.

The newest leases increase to 270 the number of farms and to 32,200 the total acreage under lease to three different promoting groups in the search for oil or gas in paying quantities.

The Sun Oil Co. has negotiated 161 such leases, covering 18,687.59 acres, but has not started drilling operations. The land covered by the new leases is located principally south of Xenia, whereas previous leases have embraced territory north of the city. Despite the large number of leases, only one test well has been drilled in the county—that by the Midwest Development Co., Cleveland, on the Archie Peterson farm, south of Yellow Springs. This well has produced an average of less than one barrel of oil a day, according to reports.

Former Clifton Mayor Succumbs

Addison Thayne Young, 47, formerly mayor at Clifton for eight years was found dead in his bed at 8:30 a. m. Saturday at his home. Coroner H. C. Shick of Greene County said death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Young was found by his son, John, 7, when he went to summon him to breakfast. The two were alone in the house at the time and being unable to awaken his father the boy called in Edwin Wigninton, who was passing by. The latter obtained a physician.

Young, who was janitor of the Clifton School, leaves three daughters, Mrs. W. E. Reese of Springfield, Mrs. Allen Myers of Selma, Betty Young at home, his son and two brothers, Earl B. Young of Lebanon, O., and Rex Young of Springfield. The body was taken to the Littleton Brothers funeral home in Yellow Springs here funeral services were held Monday. Burial was made in Clifton.

CLEANER SIDEWALKS WILL BE AN ATTRACTION

Nothing will detract more to a place of business than dirty messy sidewalks in front of stores. Offices candy wrappers are dropped by children and these cause flies to gather. It would be a fine thing if all sidewalks in front of places of business could be flushed each morning. The customer must be attracted past the front door before you can have the opportunity to sell him a single article. Side walks where loitering gamblers at night often are a disgrace to any town.

Xenia May Vote On Present Plan Of City Manager

City commission has under advisement petitions requesting a referendum vote on a change in Xenia's government.

The petitions, reportedly bearing more than 270 signatures, read as follows: "We, the undersigned voters of the city of Xenia, Greene county, Ohio, hereby petition the city commission of said city to submit to the voters of said city the proposition of whether said city government shall continue to be the city manager form under our charter, or that we return to the commission form under the laws of the state."

The commission-manager form of government has been in effect twenty years. Under the old federal form of government in Xenia, councilmen were elected to represent all city wards and the mayor was the chief municipal officer.

A NOTE FOR PARENTS

What is the purpose of the Boy Scout Movement? Does it take the place of the parent, the church, the school? Emphatically, no! Scouting is a service, set up solely to aid the parent, the church and the school. It is the obligation of every parent to build the health of mind and body as well as the good character of their children. Scouting helps them to do this job.

What can mother and dad do to help the Scout? Many things, but the most important is to keep in touch with the work of the boy and the Troop. Check his progress. Find out why he isn't further advanced. Encourage him in his work. Talk to his Scoutmaster, his Troop Committee, and his Scout associates. Show them all that you are interested in their progress. Attend meetings occasionally to see what goes on. If the Troop is lagging, get behind the Scoutmaster and Troop Committee and help put it over. Help in arranging banquets for boys and adults, plan good turns for your community, arrange an occasional Scout Day in the sponsoring organization, in fact, there are hundreds of ways for you to lend your assistance. Your actions play a major part in governing the success of the boy and the Troop.

Remember, Scouting is here to help you. It is still your obligation to train your boy. If you will take advantage of the opportunities presented by the Boy Scouts, you can improve the character, the mind, the body and the leadership qualities of your boy.

L. J. George Issues Card of Appreciation

I wish to express my appreciation to the parents for the wonderful cooperation I have received in the four years I have spent in the Cedarville community.

We have enjoyed working with the farm boys of this school district. It is my sincere hope that this community will give the same interest and cooperation to my successor as I have enjoyed.

We would be glad to have any of our friends visit us at Troy, Ohio. Our address is 318 W. Race St. We plan to move June 24. The work of organizing the two new departments starts July 1st.

Dwight Wise To Address Farm Forum

Officers and directors for the coming year will be elected at the meeting. The camp committee composed of Herman W. Eavoy, Harry Martin, Joseph B. Mason, Emory Oglesbee and Stanley Hester will report on plans for the Farmcamp camp which will be held at the 4-H Club Camp at Camp Clifton during August.

Morgan Says We Face Dictatorship

Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, says America is faced with dictatorship within the next few years unless industrial transition could be accomplished without reaction. Morgan was kicked from the board by Roosevelt when the former exposed graft, mismanagement and waste in the TVA with the other two members of the board. The New Deal is out to whitewash the charges made by Morgan.

LEAVE FOR CCC CAMP—GREENS IS RENEWED

One-year renewal of a lease on the site of CCC Camp Greene, west of Xenia, was announced Saturday by First Lieut. Woodrow Harder, commanding officer. Signatories to the renewed agreement were Ralph Horney, owner of the camp site, and Lieut. Lawrence Leever, commander of the Lebanon CCC sector.

The renewal extends to June 30, 1939, but whether the Xenia camp remains in operation until that date depends, Lieut. Harder said, on the amount of soil conservation work made available to CCC enrollees under cooperative agreements with Greene County farmers. The camp was established in September, 1936.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The United Brethren Church, Xenia, will observe its thirtieth anniversary Sunday, June 26. The pastor, Rev. Walter J. Peck, announces that an excellent program has been prepared for various services throughout the day. Three prominent speakers will be on the program. ## KILDOWNS SUE COUNTY FOR OLD SALARY

Request of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kildow, superintendent and chief matron, at the Greene County Infirmary, for restoration of a $600 joint 1935 salary reduction, was taken under advisement Tuesday by Judge Frank M. Cleveland of Wilmington, presiding on the common pleas court bench in this county.

Pending a study of testimony offered at an abbreviated court hearing of a combined mandamus and injunction suit filed by the Kildows against county commissioners, the Clinton County jurist reserved his decision.

But witnesses testified at the trial, held without a jury. They were County Commissioners James H. Hawkins, Howard L. Hatford and C. A. Jacobs, who were cross-examined by defense counsel, Mr. and Mrs. Kildow and Mrs. Leona Brewer, Yellow Springs, a former member of the Greene County Board of Visitors.

Legality of the board's action in reducing the 1935 pay of the infirmary heads from $1,900 to $1,300, was the point at issue. Supt. Kildow's salary was previously fixed at $25 a month, but was lowered by commissioners to $20. That of his wife, as chief matron, was reduced from $65 to $40.

Centennial Celebration For County Fair

A proposed centennial celebration in 1939 to fittingly recognize the one hundredth birthday of the Greene County fair, one of the oldest and best known expositions of its kind in Ohio, is in formation.

The observance is planned to commemorate the founding of the Greene county agricultural society, sponsor of the annual fair.

While many of the details remain to be worked out for the centennial, according to N. N. Hunter, James town, president of the society, plans are already underway to promote a series of historical pageants and pageants, titled "The Pageant of Greene County Families." This feature will highlight the night seasons of the 1839 exposition.

The project will be sponsored in co-operation with the Greene County Historical Museum society, which will be consulted in reference to the historical accuracy of the event depicted and the data exhibited.

To stimulate country wide interest and rivalry, the fair board has voted to award a number of prizes to participants in the "family" pageants.

Sheriff Thinks Foul Play For Harness

Sheriff George Henkel holds to the opinion that Elsa Harness, 75, wealthy missing farmer since June 28th, has been murdered. He was last seen entering an automobile driven by a stranger and it is known that he had from $400 to $500 on his person.

Relatives have posted a $500 reward for information leading to his whereabouts, whether alive or dead.

Big Prize Fight Short But Sweet

The Louis-Schmeling prize-fight Wednesday night lasted two minutes and four seconds, just long enough that the German took the count. In addition he suffered a paralyzed kidney and fractured of the third and fourth lumbar vertebrae which will keep him in the hospital for several weeks.

The termination of the fight was a great stroke for organized bettors as a "wind" campaign was started over the nation Sunday to boost Schmeling. With Louis winning the betting crowd gave the lamb a good shearing.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I wish to take this means of correcting an error in connection with the supposed disappearance of a watch and ring from my home last Saturday night. I am satisfied that one Harold Bartley, Springfield, O., is innocent of any reflection that might have been cast upon him.

W. M. MARSHALL.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

A Farewell Reception will be given on Monday evening, 8 o'clock, in the Social Rooms of the Methodist Church, to Mr. and Mrs. I. J. George, and their daughters, Joan and Doreen. This is a community-wide affair in which the Future Farmers and other organizations with which Mr. George has been working will be represented.

FARMERS ARE PROTESTING CROP CONTROL

Darke County Farmer Says He Was Offered Bribes to Check Opposition to New Deal But Refused Offer. Near $20 Present.

Despite the fact that the attention of farmers is needed to care for hay harvest, wheat cutting and corn cultivation some 500 farmers attended the Federal Crop Control Protest meeting at Central High School auditorium, Xenia, Tuesday evening.

The speakers of the evening were two farmers from Darke county, I. E. Baker, Phillipsburg, and Col. William Norris, the latter also an auctioneer for forty-two years, both opponents of the control plan. This was the 89th meeting in the Miami Valley addressed by these speakers, neither of whom have received pay for their service. They proved to be the leaders in their community when a few farmers could not stand the AAA plan and other committees have asked their services. Politically, Baker is a Republican, and Col. Norris, a Democrat, the latter having been chairman of the Roosevelt-Garner club in Darke county with a membership of 5,500. He stated that he had held other prominent places in the party council and had a letter of congratulation from Chairman J. B. Fisher for his party efforts. The meeting was presided over by Charles H. Shephard, Upper Bellbrook place, who explained the purpose of the meeting and presented the speakers.

Mr. Baker in his remarks in opposition to the control plan paid high tribute to Senator Vic Donahey who voted against the measure that would regiment the farmer. He had no praise for Sen. Buckley who he termed a "New Deal" rubber stamp who he held responsible for the trouble which he had in mind and demand for relief while farm production was to be curtailed and the Wallace lifting the lid for importation of foreign grain, meat and wool. He said it would take forty-million acres of land to produce the amount of farm products imported in 1927. Reference was made to the fact that so-called committeemen were hired at $8 to $13 a day to sell the plan to farmers which if it was sound and worthwhile farmers would soon adopt it. One committeeman informed him he needed the money but was not in sympathy with the plan. He said if farmers did not repudiate this plan before it became compulsory the farmer would be told just what he could and could not plant to the end of time for that was just what had happened in Russia, Germany and Italy.

Col. Norris being an auctioneer as well as a farmer was the most convincing speaker. At times he was dramatic. His picture of both present conditions and what was ahead for the farmer with political control of crops, was convincing. His shafts of sarcasm at the New Deal brought round after round of applause from the audience.

SAYS HE WAS OFFERED BRIBE
"Having a county-wide acquaintance and having conducted 9000 public sales in his 72 years of life, the New Deal endeavored to bribe him to withdraw his opposition and stop campaigning against the crop control plan" was the way Mr. Norris related his story. He says he owns three farms and was offered a free hand to plant what and when he pleased if he would stop speaking. He refused the offer he said rather than sell "his farm neighbors down the river."

This brought out the manner in which the control plan was operated for the more you objected to the plan the more land you could plant and the more money you would get. He was vitriolic in his criticism of the highly paid committeemen to sell such a plan to unimformed farmers.

Norris suggested that every New Dealer should be given a number, fixed on his back, so that the few citizens not drawing federal money would know who were and who were not on the government pay roll. He said farmers are numbered by the government; automobile and owners were numbered; hunters and others were numbered, so he saw no reason why those crop control committeemen should not wear a number and have the proper identification.

"I am over here in this county by invitation" and this is his 89th meeting in the Miami Valley. I receive no pay from any source but I consider it my duty to do what I can as an American citizen to keep my farm or friends free and independent citizens as provided under the constitution and not regimented plans on they have in nation since 1933.

MARSHALL IGNORED CORRUPT PRACTICE ACT

When checking election returns last week in Clark county we asked the board of elections for the expense account of receipts and expenditures as required by law of L. T. Marshall as a candidate in 1936 for congress in this district. We were informed such expense accounts had to be filed with the Clerk of Congress in Washington and another copy with the Secretary of State in Ohio. We sought the aid of the latter office and find that Marshall did not even comply with the law yet his attention was called to the requirement by letter from the Secretary of State. This letter was ignored.

Some weeks ago the wind was filled with charges against Chairman Schorr and D. C. Pemberton. All of a sudden the Marshall-Baker crowd became silent. We have continued to press for the break between Marshall and Schorr as well as Pemberton. Through a Columbus attorney we have been gathering some interesting facts as to funds that never reached the treasurer of the Greene County Executive Committee. In time the whole story will be given in black and white and not only central committee members in Greene county but in every county in the district will know why there was no funds to conduct the campaign. Republican candidates lost in the November election for county offices in many of the nine counties all of whom suffered by the weight of Marshall as the Republican nominee. In Greene county, merchants and Republican supporters were begged for funds for campaign expenses when state and national funds were not available. There is a reason for the Marshall-Schorr break.

READ AND REFLECT ON FARM IMPORTS

Certainly every farmer in Greene county should be interested in the prices at present on wheat, corn, wool, butter and other farm items. Farm programs may have been organized with the best of intentions but one thing is certain you cannot restrict farm crops and yet have the administration import all kinds of farm products in the face of what we hear is flooded markets or over produced crops.

The Federal Crop Control Protest Committee has issued a statement on these imports as taken from the Congressional records and printed originally in the Government printing office, under New Deal management, which should place the stamp of correctness on each item.

When it takes forty million acres of farm land to produce the equal of what was imported last year, 1937, and these importations coming from foreign nations with cheap land and peon labor, the American farmer cannot hope to compete with the New Deal program despite a little government check given you not for what you do but nothing more than a bribe. Elsewhere in this issue we give the list of imports. You will hear them disputed no doubt by the paid representatives of the New Deal. When you are approached on this subject just ask the committeeman this question: "How much of the farm funds do you draw to sell this plan to Greene county farmers?"

It makes no difference how much your check was there is plenty of evidence on the surface and behind the door to prove that if you had squaked louder those in charge rather than have you dissatisfied, you would have received a larger check last year. We have been gathering statements from various farmers who admit they "squaked" and had their allotment amounts increased. If you sit back and listened to what the committeeman was paid to tell you and accepted the first offer, it is ten to one you cheated yourself and the committeeman went away with a chuckle and pictured you as an easy chump.

WHEN IS GAMBLING NOT ILLEGAL

The campaign in the county against the numbers method of gambling which has captivated every town in the county, brings out the question "When is Gambling illegal?"

The slot machine has been outlawed. The baseball pool ticket went out several years ago when a number of baseball players met unfortunate fate for having a hand in throwing a game. Numbers is the present day gambling that is eating money by several million dollars daily in Ohio that should go to legitimate business.

But there is a form of gambling that is illegal in Ohio, that which is licensed for horse racing. Why Numbers should be illegal and race horse gambling legal may be a fine legal point but common sense says there is no difference. Dog racing was illegal because the race horse element had money enough behind the legislative program to keep the dogs in the kennels. More discrimination as to gambling.

PUBLICITY ON FARM PROGRAM WILL AID

For weeks we have been hearing all sort of reports in connection with the farm crop control plan, not only in this county, but it is general all over the country. A Xenia attorney brings back word from Illinois in the big corn belt that few farmers are paying any attention to the corn program.

One reason for the many reports and caustic comment we hear is that farmers have no means of knowing whether they are being treated on a fair basis, one with the other.

Those in charge of the control program could ease the tension that is growing fast by giving out a list or making it public in some manner so that all could know just what each receives. The number of acres in each farm, the allotment for corn or wheat and the amount paid each farmer would either give the program 100 per cent backing or put it out of business. Also farmers have no means of knowing just what the expense of operation is. No salary list was ever published. Nor has the amount drawn by each committeeman ever been given the public. Certainly farmers have a right to know just what it is costing for this program.

Only two weeks ago a group of AAA managers, or those in authority met in Columbus and gave out the report that the small farmer may be dropped from the control program. This report was interesting in that the small farmer had already tried to meet the program or ignored it as the case may be. If the program was such a good thing why should the small farmer be dropped? If it is a good thing why should the small farmer even be discussed in preference to the large farmer? Public sentiment indicates trouble lies around the corner for the crop control plan in its present form. The fellow that tries to force it on his fellow farmer is only preparing the noose for his own neck in his community.

Comparison of the number of names on petitions filed in the Republican primary contest between Clarence J. Brown and L. T. Marshall brings out figures that read much the same as did the election results two years ago in the general election between Marshall and Arthur Aleshire. The Brown petitions carried more than 7,200 names from the nine counties as filed with the Clark county board of elections. A number of petitions were mailed to different county boards and several were not filed due to irregularities found in them. All told the Brown petitions had more than 9,000 names. The Marshall petitions had 600 names from the district and the surprise was the few names found on the Clark county petitions.

The primary fight between Gov. Davey and Charles Sawyer promises to be a hot one, the former challenging the latter as to how he stands on John L. Lewis and the CIO in Ohio. The Lewis union following will likely fight Davey due to his stand for law and order in the steel strike last summer. Every federal official in Ohio must line up behind Sawyer according to reports from Democratic circles. The writer gets a tip from Columbus town that every postmaster in Ohio will get orders, if they have not already, to get active in the campaign against Davey. If we recall words of Roosevelt, Farley, there must be no politics in Civil Service ranks, and WPA. However, orders are orders, in politics as well as the army or navy.

The "hot off the griddle" speech of Col. Norris in Central High School auditorium, Xenia, Tuesday night, protesting federal control of crops, and how he as a Darke county Democrat chairman, burned the air under Roosevelt, Wallace, Ickes, Hopkins, recalled the story of a prominent state Democrat when he boasted of the New Deal: "You can't beat 'em as long as they keep 'em drunk and hungry." The Col. invited questions of New Dealers present. He also thinks that very New Dealer should be compelled to wear a number so the public can know all those who are drawing government salaries.

Charles Kelble, Xenia, well-known retired clothier, tells us a good story in the WEA. Shawnee Park, Xenia, has a wading pool about six feet wide and eight inches deep for the little tots. Realizing the danger of such a body of water WPA put two life-saving guards on duty of eight hours each last summer at a salary of $65 a month. As hours passed each day when there would not be a child in the park, the guard would sleep on a nearby bench. Then it became the duty of D. L. Crawford, care-taker, to watch that the life-guard asleep did not roll off the bench into the pool of water.

Charley also tells of his recent experience of a Xenian on relief. Needing a man for labor in his yard Charley was solicited to take the job working about one and one-half hours before lunch hour. He did not return for the afternoon but reported to Charley later that "somebody reported him to relief headquarters for working," and if he continued working he would be dropped from the rolls. It is dangerous to work under the New Deal if you want to eat.

Millionaire weddings are all right in New Deal circles but how many can adjust such events to conditions of today when a government voter billions for relief. Fifty thousand destitute and must be fed in Cleveland. In Chicago $7,000 and New York City, $60,000. All New Dealers should follow the old maxim "When in Rome do as the Roman's do." A case of beer for every family each week-end. The more liquor we consume the more revenue we have for New Deal programs. Ohio has raised the price of liquor to meet a new federal increase in taxes for the New Deal.

Two newspapers in Pittsburg, one owned by Hearst and the other a Scripps-Howard, have been taking a vacation since Sunday, due to a strike of employees. The strike started as a fight between two different unions, then finally both turned on the companies. In as much as Hearst has been giving mild endorsement to the New Deal and all Scripps-Howard papers have been rubber stamps for Roosevelt and his Communist crowd, independent publishers just sit back to watch the fun. Both are being paid in kind for leaving the traditions of the newspaper held where the management permitted the editorial offices to be manned by members of the Lewis Communist CIO union.

Democrats in Ohio are sleeping with one eye open these days due to the expected appearance of FDR in Marletta soon for the centennial celebration of the Northwest territory. Fearful that Roosevelt will attack Ex-Gov. White, who is a candidate against "Rubber Stamp" Bulkeley for the Democratic nomination for senator, party leaders do not know which way to turn. Roosevelt has no compunctions or even a sense of propriety or gratitude for White. It is this fear that disturbs Democratic leaders. It is hinted Gov. Davey would welcome Roosevelt's open opposition so he could connect Lewis and White House in the movement to turn the party over to the labor union leader.

Dear, Dumb Dad

My Father, poor misguided gent, Wasted his life; a life mispent By working hard and working late Trying to gather pieces of eight

Poor Dad: He'd fuss and fret and toil And burn the blooming midnight oil For nothing but a little cash To buy the daily beans and hash.

Poor Dad: He was so mild and meek He'd work six days in every week And fourteen hours most every day To try to keep the wolf away.

Now Father, meaning well, but Amassed a rather tidy sum, In fact the future held no fears For him in his declining years.

Then came the NEW DEAL; Simple Dad, He worked so hard for all he had, Awoke one morn to find that he Was now a public enemy.

A louse, a scrooge, a national cyst, An economic royalist; So Dad, industrious but dumb, Is now the source from which will come The coin to buy the gasoline For some poor underdog's machine.

To bring THE MORE ABUNDANT LIFE To every loafer and his wife, From Dad will be extracted sums For radios to ease the hells Of all the chronic Ne'er-do-wells;

For booze, so labor's little Nell Can tell the boss to go to—! Poor Dad, a faithful, trustful goon, Was born just 36 years too soon. EN VERITE.

A moral lurks along the hall, In all this fancy fol-de-rol, And it is this: That any chert Who says you ought to work to eat, Is simply nuts, out of his head, Sit on your tail or stay in bed, The Government will see, by gad, That you get yours from chumps like Dad. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

United States Imports OF COMPETITIVE FARM PRODUCTS 1937 AGAINST 1932

Extension of remarks of Hon. Bertrand H. Snell, of New York in the House of Representatives, Thursday, March 24, 1933

MR. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, my attention has just been called to a comparison of imports of farm products for the year of 1937, as compared with the year of 1932, before the Roosevelt administration adopted the national policy of domestic-production control. These are official Government figures:

Item	Unit	1932 Imports	1937 Imports
Corn	Bushels	347,627	86,337,248
Wheat	Bushels	10,825,000	17,434,337
Barley, malt	Bushels	52,532,636	371,243,456
Rye	Bushels	87	208,800
Tapioca	Pounds	130,990,872	482,857,758
Hay	Tons	19,855	149,149
Soybeans	Pounds	36,508,700	109,418,264
Cottonseed oil	Pounds	1,062,265	11,110,762
Butter	Head	97,840	494,242
Cattle	Head	24,155	10,558,215
Hogs	Pounds	1,627,500	20,997,500
Fresh pork	Pounds	3,015,480	47,422,282
Hams, bacon, etc.	Pounds	796,594	4,685,558
Fresh beef	Pounds	24,793,497	89,087,133
Canned beef	Pounds	46,749,202	191,966,012
Total meat products	Dollars	243,784	520,189
Eggs, in shell	Pounds	1,132,000	5,462,268
Dried yolks	Pounds	422,000	1,422,000
Frozen yolks	Pounds	1,378,700	2,244,072
Egg albumen	Pounds	54,297,261	264,204,700
Wool and mohair	Pounds	80,000	2,264,187
Dried milk	Pounds	184,211,200	271,628,607
Hides	Pounds	184,211,200	271,628,607
Inedible molasses	Quintals	184,211,200	271,628,607

Just stop and consider for a minute how many acres of land it would have taken to have produced these imported farm products, and how much more the income of the American farmer would have been if we had raised these additional amounts at home, instead of importing them from the foreign farmer. This New Deal administration has sold the American farmer down the river. It has been figured out that it would require 60,000,000 acres of farm land to produce the amount of farm products that were admitted to this country for the year 1937, including grazing of cattle for meats and dairy products.

Temperance Notes

Spurred by
Cedarville W. C. T. U.

"Believe it or not, printers' ink... If the campaign does nothing more than cause a little decency into liquor advertising, it will be worth while. Furthermore, the women are having a real service on general principles in their apparent recognition of the accepted fact that the Lord is not going to do anything for anybody that he can do for himself. By backing up its prayers with its cash the W. C. T. U. is working a pretty strong combination. The liquor people have plenty of cash, of course. But what are they going to do about the praying part?"

Members of adult Bible classes now have their opportunity to cooperate with the W. C. T. U. if they believe in both prayer and action.

From the small beginnings of the W. C. T. U. in Cairo in 1891, fostered by years of prayers and endeavors by such pioneers as Miss Anna Y. Thompson and Dr. Carrie Buchanan, has grown the national organization which started functioning in 1929—Egyptian Gazette.

Many who use alcoholic beverages regard them in the same class as coffee, tea, and other stimulants. Scientific findings, however, are all to the contrary.

Local radio broadcasting stations of Mexico, following the lead of larger stations in the capital, have advised the Government, and anti-alcohol committees that they will provide several free hours weekly for anti-alcohol committee have for some time been preparing and giving programs during which the evils of drunkenness were explained.

It is said that a young girl, convicted as a revolutionist, stood before her judges to receive her death sentence. As the fatal words were pronounced she heard them without flinching, and then said, quietly, "Gentlemen, I am dying for a cause. What are you living for?"

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union may not be asked, in the year of 1935, to die for the cause they are representing, but they know they have a cause worth living for, and with strength and courage renewed by the coming again to the Cradle of the King and beholding His love for all mankind, they will go as He leads. They do not know what lies before them, but He knows, and that is enough.

Alcohol Test for German Pedestrian. "Both the driver and the victim must be tested for alcohol, according to the receipt announcement made by the Home Secretary of Germany. In the future, he says, when a traffic accident occurs, not only must the motorist have the lobe of his ear pierced and blood extracted for the alcohol test, but the pedestrian concerned in such an accident must have the same test applied to him. In this way, it is hoped, will be shown whether the pedestrian was capable of acting quickly enough to avoid causing an accident."—The Union Signal, November 13, 1937.

"Excessive drinking is increasing by leaps and bounds, says Dr. S. S.

500 Attend County Crop Protest Meeting

4-H NEWS

The 4-H Sewing Club of Cedarville met Wednesday, at the school house, with Jane Frame presiding. Joyce Clemons was elected as our new president and Laura Hill as vice president. Miss Frame talked to us about the trip to Cincinnati and Cosy Island.

At a meeting of the 4-H Cooking Club of Cedarville, June 16, we demonstrated how to make food. After judging our demonstration we discussed plans for the tour to Cincinnati and Cosy Island, July 7. The next meeting will be held in the Home Economics room, June 23.

A Sure Cure
In the English Parliament some years ago, a member moved the appointment of a committee to investigate the cause of intemperance among the people. Another member arose and said he thought he could tell them without a committee—it was drinking. This being a clear statement of the cause, a clear statement of the cure—stop drinking.—From Temperance.

Because of the Telephone —a little girl is playing today

To cut expenses a Dayton family ordered out their telephone. That same day one of the baby girl twins swallowed an open safety pin. The mother was frantic. Desperate, she tried the telephone. It worked. The little life was saved.

"We always will have a phone. To us it is a necessity now. We can't express its value in money" the grateful mother told us.

You can measure and price most things. Not the telephone. How can you put a money value on your peace of mind which comes when a well beloved voice is heard over the wire and you know the absent one is well!

How can you reduce to dollars and cents the assurance you feel when you know the telephone is at your side in emergencies as well as the commonplace activities of your daily life!

The telephone generally is taken for granted. You turn it on instinctively time after time and it is only in emergencies like that faced by the Dayton mother that you realize how vital it is to you and how inexpressible its value.

Ohio telephone management is conscious of the vital part the telephone plays in the life of every community. It wants its use to be as extensive as possible. It strives to bring into play all new methods and developments that costs of giving service, which tend constantly to rise, may be offset and that you may be given a still more dependable service at rates which always are low.
