Greene County Girl Selected In Girl Scout Exchange Program

Miss Louise Rothemund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rothemund, 604 Phillips St., Yellow Springs, is one of 12 Senior Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. who have been selected by the national organization to take part in the exchange-of-persons program of the Girl Scouts this summer.

Girl Guide Associations in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Suomi-Finland, Sweden, and New Zealand will cooperate in this year's program. Miss Rothemund is one of the two Senior Scouts who will go to Sweden. Each pair of girls will be accompanied by two adult camp counselors. Those going to Europe will sail from New York on June 24 and return to this port on August 30. The teams for Australia and New Zealand will leave by air in April and return in May, since the weather in those latitudes in July and August would not be suitable for camping.

Although the girls and adults will travel together, they will separate upon reaching their destinations and follow programs planned by their hostess Guide Associations. Senior Girl Guides (Rangers) and exchange girls as counselors from the countries visited meanwhile will be guests of selected Girl Scout councils throughout the United States.

This exchange-of-persons program is one of several major international projects sponsored this year by the Girl Scouts to promote friendship between girls of many countries through Scouting. Funds for these projects are provided by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund which is supported by contributions from Girl Scouts of all ages in the United States. This summer approximately 100 Girl Scouts and Guides will expand their knowledge and understanding of other countries through the exchange program, and about half of them members of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A.

Miss Rothemund, currently a freshman at Ohio State University, is a member of a Yellow Springs senior troop and served on the Senior Area Planning Board in Columbus and Dayton for three years. Some travel experience was acquired at Camp Greene, where also for two summers she was a Program Aide at Day Camp. Most of her established camping has been at Whip-Poor-Will in Dayton. Last August she had the honor of being selected by the national organization to attend All States Encampment at Cody, Wyoming.

CEDARVILLE GIRL KILLED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Evelyn June Williams, 21-year-old dietary assistant at Greene Memorial Hospital, was killed instantly enroute to her home in Cedarville after work at 6:15 p. m. yesterday on Us Route 42 two miles northeast of Xenia.

Miss Williams died of a fractured right leg and crushed skull when her car collided head-on with a semi-trailer outfit while she was passing another northeast-bound auto. State Patrolmen of the Xenia post, who investigated, said the Williams auto was passing a car driven by Burr E. Reed, 47, Columbus, at a U. S. Route 42 bridge near Stevenson Rd.

Shelby B. McGregor, 32, Clinton Route 2, driver of the Dixie-Ohio Express semi-trailer outfit, said he flashed his lights at the oncoming car to warn the car to move back into the proper lane.

Miss Williams apparently applied the brakes sharply and her car skidded sideways. She was thrown from the car when the truck crashed into the car's right side. Her body landed on the west side of the highway.

Patrolmen said the semi-outfit pushed the car another 175 feet down the highway before both landed in a ditch with the semi on top of the Williams car. The 1949 car was completely demolished.

McGregor escaped injury although his head slammed against the windshield, patrolmen said.

Reed's car narrowly was missed by the oncoming wreckage of the hit the brakes and skidded into a guard rail on the east side of the road escaping injury.

Greene County Coroner H. C. Shuck returned a verdict of accidental death.

Miss Williams had been employed more than two years at Greene Memorial Hospital.

She was born Jan. 25, 1934, in Cedarville, the daughter of Ernest Edmund and Joanne Loper Williams. Survivors include her parents, with whom she lived at 92 Bridge St.; three brothers, Tommy, Ellis and Wayne; and a sister, Louisa Mae, all at home; and two sons, Guy Craig and William Vaughn.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at McMillan Funeral Home at Cedarville with Rev. Raymond Strickland of Springfield officiating. Burial will be in Massies Creek Cemetery at Cedarville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

CEDARVILLE HOUSING SITE TO BE DEVELOPED

Mr. E. R. Rockhold of the Rockhold Realty Co. Xenia and Cedarville and C. C. Brewer of Cedarville, have announced the purchase of seven acres of land for the development of new home sites at Cedarville.

The land known as the Wells Property, is located back of Walnut St. a portion of which is within the Cedarville corporation limits.

Mr. Sam Zehrnitz, Planning Engineer of Dayton, has been engaged to plot the land and lay out plans for the developing of the acreage.

The couple behind the proposed development said they expect to build 25 to 30 two and three bedroom, ranch type homes, basements will be optional. All streets will be blacktopped.

The home site is located 1 square from the grade and high school, approximately 2 from Cedarville College, and only 5 squares from the shopping district.

Rockhold said "we plan moderately priced homes, however there will be restrictions. Our plans call for homes for average people, with G.

I. and FHA financing expected to be available.

In a meeting with the Cedarville village Council, Monday night, Brewer and Rockhold acquainted them with the proposed plans, and stated the council showed enthusiastic interest, and will study the proposal to annex the remainder of the tract to the village.

In incorporating the entire tract, all village facilities could then be extended to the home site. It was pointed out that no expense would be added to the taxpayers, as all utilities going to the plot would be paid for by Brewer and Rockhold.

The expansion, will bring added revenue to the village, and could attract new business to Cedarville in the future, said Mr. Rockhold, citing the existing potentialities of the community.

The Journal is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Journal Office between 10:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., absolutely free of charge. The Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers will be in charge of the photography. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers are urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing state pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years

LAST ESCAPEE ROUNDED UP

The last of the 5 member gang who escaped from the Greene County Jail Dec. 26, was taken into custody Tuesday evening according to an announcement by Sheriff Stewart.

Earl L. Dean, described as toughest of the lot, by Greene County authorities, was nabbed by F. B. I. agents, about 5:30 Tuesday evening in a Columbus rooming house. The agents awaited outside the door of his room until he emerged, nattily attired, to leave the house.

Dean was unarmed, and offered no resistance said the officers, although he did protest vigorously as to his identity, saying he was not Earl Dean. He carried identification bearing the name of Dale Wyckoff.

Sheriff Stewart said he first heard the news via Associated Press, and immediately contacted Columbus authorities to verify the story.

After interrogating Dean for several hours the F. B. I notified Stewart they were ready to release Dean to the custody of the Greene County law officer.

Sheriff Stewart motored to Columbus Wednesday afternoon to return the fugitive to the jail in Xenia.

Dean will now have the jail breaking charge to face as well as the breaking and entering of Erbaugh and Johnson Drug Store charge. He is also charged as being an escapee from a prison in West Virginia.

Dean has been described by authorities as being a dangerous man.

BY ROBERT TAYLOR

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Wyoming Democrat, told the Roosevelt Day dinner of Americans for Democratic Action in New York the other night that the nation must return to the economic policies of FDR. Since the Eisenhower Administration had blocked the Roosevelt reform wave and set up "a new cycle of reaction", something must be done to protect "the system of private property from collectivism of the right as well as collectivism of the left."

We find this rather confusing, since we were beginning to think that much publicized "change" for which Ike said he stood, is being lost sight of—what with retention of New Deal holdovers, the kid-glove attitude on reducing the army of Government workers, the continuance of costly, unrealistic foreign aid and propaganda programs, the softness toward labor leaders, the establishment of a Department of Health, Education and Welfare (with cabinet status) to federalize sundry state functions, and now that 101 billion dollar highway program.

To ask one simple question, how does Senator O'Mahoney explain the resurrection of the Passamaquoddy project?

SOUNDS LIKE "NO"

Chou En-lai, the so-called "Premier" of the bandit group administering the blessings of Communism among the 600 million mainland Chinese, appears to have made up his mind that President Eisenhower's request for broad authority to defend Formosa, and the endorsement of that request by Congress, is a bluff.

In replying, via the Peiping radio, to Dag Hammarskjold's invitation to join the discussion of a Formosan cease-fire in the UN Security Council, Chou outdid in arrogance all previous performances.

Red China must be given the Security Council seat of the Chinese Nationalists, he said, and the US must answer for its "acts of aggression" and "direct violation of the fundamental principles of the United Nations Charter."

He reiterated that the Formosan crisis had been brought about by "United States occupation of Formosa and intervention in China's internal affairs". He could only agree to send a representative, he said, "when the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek's clique have been driven out from the Security Council and the representatives of the People's Republic of China attends in the name of China."

Chou's blast followed on the heels of the press conference in which President Eisenhower clamped down on detailed questions on such points as whether we would defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu and whether orders to the Seventh Fleet permitted "hot pursuit" of Red attackers. In answering a more general question, the President said: "The purpose is to make certain that no conflict occurs through mistaken calculations on the other side, as to our concern about Formosa and our determination to defend it. We have been as exact as it seems possible to be, and we have certainly tried to avoid being truculent. The purpose is honestly and hopefully to prevent war."

Also a matter of hours before Chou En-lai's searing reply to the UN invitation, reports from London indicated that Red China would accept a cease-fire in return for the Tachen Islands, Quemoy and Matsu—providing it was informal, an unwritten gentlemen's agreement. The fact that India's Prime Minister Nehru, who is in London for the British Commonwealth conference, has been in contact with Red Chinese diplomats, and the report that he would like to set up a "Geneva-type" conference to settle the Q—What is the difference between an atomic power electric plant and one using coal or gas for fuel?

A—In the simplest terms the only difference is that in the boiler room, the atomic plant burns uranium or other nuclear fuel for heat, whereas in the conventional plant, coal, gas or oil is used to produce heat. Conventional fuel is burned in a furnace of the conventional type, while nuclear fuel must be burned in a construction called a reactor.

Q—Does the new Atomic Energy Act of 1954 end the government monopoly on Atomic Energy?

A—No, not wholly. The government is still the only entity which can own any nuclear fuel and the only entity where nuclear fuel can be obtained. The new Act permits private industry, if the Atomic Energy Commission approves, to lease, or to borrow sufficient nuclear fuel to operate a reactor, but in no case not sufficient enough to produce an atomic weapon. The Government can take it back in an emergency, or for other reasons it might deem to be essential.

Q—What is the function of the National Archives?

A—The National Archives building is one of the finest in Washington. Its role or function is to act as depository for the preservation of all the government records and papers and documents, including the originals of such documents as the Declaration of Independence and Constitution. It preserves historical activities on motion picture films and sound-recordings and on microfilm and is responsible for publication of the Federal Register, in which all laws, orders and directives of federal agencies must be published.

Lower Insurance Rate To Benefit Motorists

Gerard, Insurance Co., Jamestown, Ohio, agents for American States Insurance Co. announce new insurance rate for Ohio.

A considerable number of Ohio motorists are due to receive a substantial reduction in their automobile insurance costs because of a new four-point reduction in automobile insurance rate for Ohio announced by the American States Insurance Company of Indianapolis. Mr. Ben Forbes, Executive Vice-President of the Company, in announcing this rate reduction said, "The reductions were made because of the favorable over-all experience of the company in Ohio during the past year and also because of the company's desire to recognize the good driving record of certain classes of drivers and allow them lower rates commensurate with their experience."

The greatest reductions have been made in the field of young drivers under 25 years of age. Here the company's studies have shown two facts: one, that the young lady drivers are much more conservative and less prone to accidents than males of the same age; two, that any young driver who has completed a high school driving course with behind-the-wheel experience is a better risk than an untrained driver.

As a result, American States is now accepting cars with only female drivers, at the same rates as cars with only adult drivers. This change will produce savings of 30% to 40% for many family cars.

For cars with young male drivers who have completed a driver training course, American States is now allowing 15% discount in liability rates.

The third point in American States program is the creation of a new collision class which grants a 10% lower collision rate for private passenger cars which are not used in going to or from work and are therefore not as much exposed to collision losses.

The final item of reduction which will effect the greatest number of motorists is a flat 10% reduction in all Bodily Injury and Property Damage rates in the state.

"Building For A Better Tomorrow" Theme For Boy Scout Week

Through many varied activities the nation's 3,660,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders will observe the 45th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, with its theme, "Building for a Better Tomorrow."

Boy Scout Week is the largest annual single observance by young citizens. Since Scoutings incorporation in Washington, D. C., on Feb. 8, 1910 more than 22,750,000 boys and leaders have been enrolled.

The 95,000 Units in all parts of the nation, its territories and overseas bases, will dramatize through demonstrations, exhibits, window displays, and "pot luck" dinners with parents participating the purpose of Scouting and the rich heritage it has in this country.

Boy Scout Week completes the National Conservation Good Turn the Scouts have undertaken at the request of President Eisenhower, their Honorary President. Members will report to their sponsoring institutions and public officials their accomplishments in arousing "public recognition of the need for adequate protection and wise management of our soil, water mineral, forest, grassland and wildlife resources."

President Eisenhower will honor in the White House during Boy Scout Week the 12 Boy Scouts and Explorers having the most outstanding records of conservation.

Throughout the nation Scout Units which qualified are to receive National Conservation Good Turn Certificates of Merit awarded jointly by Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture and Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior.

Most of the nation's 32,000 Cub Packs with 1,160,000 members will hold Blue and Gold Pot Luck "banquets" with each family bringing a part of the menu. They are the 8, 9, and 10-year old members who follow a home-centered program in their homes and backyards.

Farmer's Wives May Not Need Social Security No.

Many farmers have asked us whether their wives should have a social security account number because they file joint income tax returns with their wives, Mr. S. E. Stratton, manager of the Dayton social security office announced today. The answer is that the farmer's wife does not need a social security number unless she is the actual operator of the farm or is a genuine partner in the farm operation. Income from the farm operation should be reported in the name of the actual farm operator only. If there is a genuine partnership, the income would be divided according to the partnership agreement. Usually, the husband is the actual farm operator. All the income from the farm operator would be reported in his name for social security purposes. This does not prevent a farm couple from filing a joint income tax return.

DOWN ON THE FARM

By GEORGE L. ZEIS

One of the agriculture items produced in Ohio often-times does not get a second look. Yet, it is a multi-million dollar industry. I'm referring to vegetable and potato production.

1946 was the biggest year for the vegetable grower. Over 83 thousand acres were planted that year. The estimated value of the vegetable crop that year amounted to over $36½ million.

Acres had dropped by 1952 (latest available figures). It had gone down to 66½ million acres and with a value of some $18 million.

There is yet another phase of vegetable production in Ohio that a lot of people know very little about. It is greenhouse production.

There are about 650 acres under glass in Ohio. This represents nearly a ¼ of the total glass acreage in the United States. Estimated income from vegetables produced under glass amounts to about $12 million a year.

Potato producers have gotten very little attention in the past few years. So far as Ohio is concerned, it has become a situation of decreased acreage for this particular crop.

Relatively low prices have forced the inefficient producer out of business. And that is exactly what the figures indicate.

1939, they had planted 41,000 acres. There were approximately 5,600 potato growers with over three acres in 1939. They had planted 41,000 acres to potatoes that year.

Production amounted to 5½ million acres and the average yield for all growers amounted to 107 bushel per acre.

The situation had changed considerably 15 years later. There was an estimated 800 potato growers in Ohio in 1954. They planted nearly 18,000 acres to this crop. Production amounted to approximately 5 million bushel and the average yield was 250 bushel per acre.

The move is to fewer growers with larger acreages so far as potatoes are concerned. Then, too, larger operators have been able to lower unit costs by being able to get better equipment.

Ohio is a deficit producing state in many of the agricultural items. That in itself should be the key for more farmers to make a success of farming.

Being situated in a favorable marketing area with lower freight rates involved in practically all items should make it possible to break even—or even make a better profit.

I heard a statement made by C. R. Arnold not long ago that would bear repeating now. An average farmer, Arnold said, had better sell out and go to town. That is blunt but it has a lot of truth in it.

It makes no difference what kind of farming you do, you can't get by just being average. If it's potatoes you grow, you'll have to produce over 250 bushel to profit properly. You'll have to have sows that farrow over 6 pigs per litter to keep you out of the red. Efficiency in production is now the key word.

Greene County Corn Acreage Allotment Up In 1955

Greene County's Corn Acreage Allotment for 1955 is 58,675 acres as compared with the 1954 allotment at 54,159 acres. In making the announcement, R. Roy Stoneburner, Chairman of the Greene County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee points out that the increase over 1954 is due to an increase in the national allotment recently proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson. The national Corn Acreage Allotment for 1955 is 49,842,697 acres; in 1954 it was 46,995,504 acres.

The increased National Corn Allotment for 1955 will reflect an increase in farm allotments on corn this year on individual farms in Greene County of approximately six percent. In 1954, the Corn Allotments were based on a reduction of 19.3 percent from the historical base established for each farm while the 1955 Corn Allotments will be based on a reduction of 13% under the historical base.

Mr. R. Roy Stoneburner advised that the County Allotment is now being apportioned among the corn growing farms of the County and that notifications of individual farm allotments will be in the mail to farmers about February 15, 1955. Those who feel that their allotment have not been properly calculated may file an appeal with their county committee within 15 days after the allotment notice was mailed.

The farm allotments, Chairman Stoneburner explains, are based on the acreage planted to corn in 1951, 1952, and 1953, as adjusted for abnormal weather, and changes in the type of farm operation. Adjustment also may be made to bring the corn acreage into conformity with farms that are similarly operated and also are similar as to liable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography. After this a uniform adjustment percentage is applied to all farms in the county to bring the total within the allotted acreage for the County.

Farmers who stay within their farm allotment will be eligible for price-support on all the corn produced in 1955, provided the corn meets grade and moisture requirements, and provided the corn is stored in a bin or crib or in commercial storage approved by the County A. S. C. Committee.

Eligible corn may be put under Commodity Credit Corporation Loan as in other years. Purchase Agreements also will be available. The loan rate for 1955 will be announced at a later date but will not be less than 82½ percent nor more than 90 percent of parity. Farmers who stay within the corn and other acreage allotments established for their farm also are eligible for Agricultural Conservation Practice Payments.

Greene County Fair Flower Show Catalogs Available Soon

With the time drawing near for making show flower plantings, Mrs. J. Robert Bryson, secretary of the Greene County Agricultural Society states that in revising the Greene County Fair Premium list the society thinks their exhibitors in the Open Class Flower Show, would appreciate knowing which seeds, bulbs, or plants to select in order to prepare their entries in time.

The Open Class Flower Show is NOT open to Garden Clubs Members.

The Garden Clubs announce their own listings to their groups, says Mrs. Bryson.

The following includes flowers, etc., which will be accepted for exhibition of specimens, arrangements or miniatures: Amaryllis (hardy), Calendulas, Dahlias, Gladioli, Lilies, Marigolds, Nasturtiums, Petunias, Roses, Snapdragons, and Zinnias (large-small), Gourds, Greenery and Vegetables.

A registered Ayrshire cow, Black Acres Betsy, owned by Howard Arthur, Cedarville, Route 1, has received a certificate from the Ohio Dairymen's Association for having a lifetime production record of 67,350 pounds milk and 3022 pounds butterfat. This record was made in 4 years and 10 months.

Breeder Award Given To Myron Fudge And Son

For distinguished success as a breeder of Ayrshire dairy cattle, Myron R. Fudge and Son of Jamestown have been presented the Constructive Breeder Award by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

In order to qualify for this honor, which is considered the most coveted prize in dairy cattle circles, it is necessary for the herd to excel in production and type, and in addition, a high percentage of the herd must have been bred and developed by the owner.

On a strictly twice-a-day milking schedule, the entire herd of 21 head made an actual production average of 9407 pounds of milk and 403 pounds of butterfat, 95 per cent of the herd was bred or owned by this breeder for at least four years.

Horse-Sense Needed

More horsepower in motors calls for more "horse-sense" in motorists, asserts Doyd Warburton of the Greene County Automobile Club.

"In the 'good old horse-and-buggy days', the horse often was an extra safety factor, sensing danger when the driver had a mental lapse or dozed off", said the local official.

"But now, 'Old Dobbin' just about a thing of the past so far as transportation goes, that safety factor also has disappeared. Today it's all up to the driver to make his human intelligence as complete a substitute as possible for the 'horse-sense' which gave his parents extra protection at railroad crossings, on slippery roads, and at other points of danger".

Often a man and his New Year's resolutions go broke together.
