"FOR THE WORD OF GOD AND THE TESTIMONY OF JESUS CHRIST"

This newest of Cedarville College buildings, a dormitory for women, was erected last summer and occupied in September. It has fifty-two rooms, and now cares for 104 students. Next fall it may be necessary to house 150 girls in this building since new applications are being received at a rate of two-to-one over last year. Because our dormitories will be crowded next fall, it is urgent that we build the new recreation building announced in this bulletin in order that our students may have some place to use leisure time outside a crowded dormitory room.

CC Plans Gym

Cedarville College Trustees have approved preliminary plans for a new gymnasium to be located on the old campus football field, Rev. James T. Jeremiah, college president, announced today.

Plans approved by the trustees included a regulation-size basketball floor, book store, student union and room for holding banquets plus physical education classrooms.

Rev. Mr. Jeremiah said construction may possibly start this summer but will depend on funds available at the time. No monies will be borrowed or bonds sold to finance the project.

Bleachers will be provided for 800 people and there will be enough room to seat additional people in front of the stands, which would provide for 1,000 seating capacity. If more room is needed in the future the building will be constructed so additional seating can be added.

Four dressing rooms are included in the plans, and the floor plan will permit playing two games at the same time by playing cross court.

Front portion of the building will consist of a student union, including a lounge, game room, snack bar and a book store on the first floor, and on the second floor a 30 by 90 foot room will provide a classroom and banquet room.

Present plans call for a 125x 140 foot structure, but the plans are not definite, said Rev. Mr. Jeremiah.

The president said that if the building is constructed the present gym on campus will be turned into a chapel, the college chapel will become a classroom and the book store and snack bar, located in the men's dorm, will be used for additional dormitory rooms.

OH, TO BE UNACCREDITED

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by our registrar, Robert M. Underwood, and printed in the Whispering Cedars a student publication. We reprint it in our Bulletin because we believe it will be of interest to our readers.)

This is the sentiment expressed by one leading American educator. He says, "... the small unaccredited college is the luckiest college in the United States right now. You are lucky because you are broke and unaccredited; you are most likely to live by your wits and not be complacent, the way most of higher education in America has been and is..."

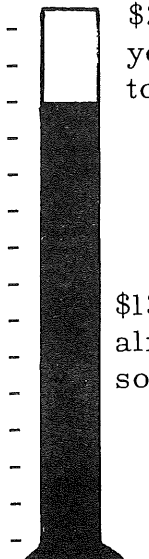

Certainly too many of you have been admonished by high school counselors to be sure the college you attend is accredited. This may seem like a strange concept. May I say that it is not, for accreditation often leads to complacency and uniformity.

I do not seek to imply that a college should not seek after accreditation, and by God's help Cedarville will continue to strive for it, but with our striving we must never lose sight of our individuality as a distinctively Christian institution, grounded upon the eternal truths of the Scriptures.

Cedarville College is engaged in "Operation Bootstrap" and is making continuous progress toward the goal of regional accreditation. This is not a one-man job; it takes the concerted effort of all the trustees, faculty, staff and students to reach our goal. Certainly you as students can make a valuable contribution by continuing to pray for the leaders of Cedarville College, by encouraging individuals and your churches to contribute regularly to the college, and last, but not least, by living up to your own capabilities as a student, accepting your responsibility of doing the best work possible in keeping with your abilities.

USING THE BULLETIN

Many of the churches have requested enough Cedarville Bulletins to use once a month as inserts in the church bulletin. Now that our Bulletin is folded so that it can be used in this manner, we will be glad to send any quantity which the pastors desire. Just send us a card stating the number you need and they will be mailed to you.

Some churches have asked that we mail the Bulletin directly to the members. Since this is done by means of a second class permit, the postal rate is not prohibitive. If you prefer this means of promoting the College, then indicate who should receive the Bulletin by mail.

PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

Though, because of crowded conditions here at Cedarville it is no longer possible to hold our "Prospective Student Conference," we do invite interested young people to visit our campus. If a group is interested in coming, please inform us of the number in your party and the date you expect to come. For your information, classes are held Monday through Friday from 8:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. You are welcome to visit any class and talk with our faculty and staff about the courses which are offered by the College.
