Dear friends,

On behalf of everyone at Prasco and the Arington Family Foundation, I am pleased to offer you a warm welcome to the 2009 NCCAA World Series. Prasco Park is privileged to be the host site for these championships, and we sincerely hope that all players, coaches, spectators, umpires, vendors, and sponsors will have a memorable experience here in Mason, Ohio.

Along with the phrase “love God, love people” (based on Mark 12:29-31), another phrase that defines Prasco’s corporate culture is “do good, do well.” This phrase is applicable in both business and baseball—and, frankly, in all other walks of life as well. Doing good is the attitude that initiates doing something for the betterment or blessing of another person—a teammate, parent, coach, etc. Doing well is exerting the fullest extent of effort and ability toward performing a task with excellence—such as hitting the cut-off man or running out a ground ball—every time. No matter our situation in life, when we do good and do well, we are successful, and we also worship God (Colossians 3:17).

Our prayer has been, and will continue to be, that God be glorified by everything that has gone into the planning of—and will go on during the playing of—this World Series. We are certainly blessed to partner with the National Christian College Athletic Association, with its member schools represented here, and with our community in presenting these national championship tournaments.

Thank you for being part of this event. We look forward to celebrating competition and fellowship with you over the course of this week!

In Christ’s service,

E. Thomas Arington
Founder and Chairman
Prasco Laboratories

NATIONAL CHRISTIAN COLLEGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

On behalf of the NCCAA and the Board of Directors, I welcome you to the NCCAA Division I Baseball Championship. It is exciting for all of us to have institutions from across the United States in Mason, Ohio to compete in this National Championship.

This event is just one of our 22 national championships and three invitationals sanctioned by the NCCAA. Over 13,000 student-athletes and 94 institutions make up the NCCAA and this event is an important part of our Association.

Congratulations to each student-athlete and coach who participates in this baseball championship. Your participation in this tournament setting certainly represents many weeks of dedicated time and work. It is also a statement that you stand for the Lord while you compete.

The NCCAA thanks Prasco Laboratories and the Arington Foundation for their unprecedented support of NCCAA Baseball and for their excellent leadership in organizing and administrating this fine event. The Prasco/ Arington Foundation Team has worked diligently to insure that each participating student-athlete, coach, and spectator has a memorable experience. I am also very grateful for the time and dedicated work of Alan Sumner, NCCAA National DI Baseball Chair, from Geneva College.

The NCCAA is simply about using intercollegiate athletics to serve the Great Commission. Our goal is to give each student-athlete their personal Game Plan 4 Life as they seek to grow in Christ. Events such as this help showcase that effort and we trust each of you will experience the NCCAA at its finest this weekend.

Sincerely,

Dan Wood
NCCAA Executive Director

WELCOME TO PRASCO PARK

Prasco Park, which opened on June 19, 2008, is one of the premier amateur baseball destinations in America and serves as the home of the Cincinnati Spikes, a Cincinnati-based amateur baseball team. Prasco Park endeavors to provide a safe, enjoyable, and family-friendly atmosphere for all players, parents, families, coaches, and spectators.

Further, Prasco Park is intended to be a focal point of community outreach through athletic contests and other special events. While here, we hope that you may experience an example of God's love and blessing. We also pray that Prasco Park is used to further the purposes and growth of God's kingdom—for the park is an example of His provision, and is dedicated to His glory.

Prasco® is an independent pharmaceutical company dedicated to expanding horizons for partners and customers through its leadership in Authorized Generics – brand products sold under the Prasco private label. Prasco's guiding principle is "love God, love people." And following that guidance, Prasco's corporate culture is built upon Christian principles and values – including integrity, loyalty, dedication, and servant-leadership.

The company's Chairman asks one question of all of its employees... "Does it matter?" Does it matter that God loves you, your family loves you, your fellow co-workers love you and that you love them? Our Father calls us to love your neighbor as yourself. This is one key to the Prasco culture.

The company is committed to providing employees careers within a challenging environment that maintains a team-like, family feel – an environment that allows employees to Unlimit™ their potential.

Corporate Values – I SEE

- Improve daily
- Serve God, family, customers, partners, fellow employees, and community
- Execute tasks with excellence to meet our goals
- Energize others daily with the passion for what we do

Founded in 1994, the mission of The Arington Family Foundation is to positively influence the value systems of youth through media, sport, and education. The foundation's vision is to spread the love and gospel of Jesus Christ throughout the world by putting Christian values into action.

The Arington Foundation

Our philosophy in funding change is simple. First, we acknowledge that a particular societal need exists and also that there is a capable nonprofit group in place to address that need. Next, we decide how best we can assist to positively affect that need—utilizing our human and financial resources. Finally, through regular interaction and continued attention, our goal is to walk alongside grantees, going beyond financial contributions to affirm them in their daily efforts to bring about change.
