

VU Research Portal

Guardianship in Action

Reynald, D.M.

2009

document version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Link to publication in VU Research Portal

citation for published version (APA)

Reynald, D. M. (2009). Guardianship in Action: A Theoretical & Empirical Elaboration of the Routine Activity Concept. NSCR.

General rights

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

- Users may download and print one copy of any publication from the public portal for the purpose of private study or research.
- You may not further distribute the material or use it for any profit-making activity or commercial gain
- You may freely distribute the URL identifying the publication in the public portal ?

Take down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

E-mail address:

vuresearchportal.ub@vu.nl

Acknowledgements

There are a host of very special people, without whom this book could not have been produced, and to whom I would like to express my sincerest gratitude and appreciation:

To my enduring support system, the great loves of my life—my family. To Craig, Helen, Natasha, Shelly, Kristy, Jan, David, Ernesto, Kyra, Mateo, Maya and Sebastian. Thank you for your unconditional love.

To my paranymphs—Margit and Nicole. We have been through so many peaks and valleys together over the past four years, and I've come to the end of it feeling blessed to have had the two of you at my side from the beginning. You made it a phenomenal experience. Through it, we have developed a very special bond that I know will endure well past our NSCR days. Thank you both for everything.

And last, but by no means least, I would like to thank all of my great colleagues at the NSCR, both past and current—it has truly been an honour and an absolute pleasure working with and in the company of all of you. You are an integral part of what has made this experience especially rewarding.

In particular, extra special thanks go out to my partner in crime at the NSCR—Henk Elffers. You have been my own personal guardian for the last four years, and this book could not have manifested without your unyielding support and guidance. Thank you for providing me with everything I needed to find my wings along the way.

This book is a product of the inspiration I received from all of you. I am eternally grateful.