With an abrupt but well-placed shove, Pollux is suddenly sent careening back down into the crater, where he crashes into the earth for the second time that night.

Castor crouches down at the crater's edge, and his gaze flicks up to the sky, where he can see Polaris's resolute radiance. He gives the smallest of salutes in the direction of the North Star, and then turns his eyes back down to the Earth, back to Pollux, who is reciting a steady stream of curses as he tries to climb out of the crater.
