FIRST VOLUNTEER GROUP LEAVES

The first group of volunteers for the Japanese-American Combat Unit, six in number, left the Project yesterday morning on a Reno bus for Salt Lake City for induction.

Induction will take place at Fort Douglas near the city. It is believed that they will get a seven-day furlough before they are sent to Camp Shelby.

T.S.O. MAY ASK AID FROM USO.

Once the TSO is organized, application for affiliation with the national USO will be made, it was indicated at the TSO organizational meeting held at #2008 Wednesday.

It was brought out that such an affiliation will greatly widen the organization's scope of activity since the help of the national USO headquarters will be made available.

CREDO

We believe in democracy and dedicate ourselves to the furtherance of its principles. To uphold these principles, we must destroy every form of tyranny, oppression, and violation of human rights.

We place our faith in America and base our hope in the future on that faith.

Therefore, we believe that our volunteering in the armed forces of this country is a step towards the realization of these ends, and a positive manifestation of our loyalty to the United States of America.

quarter at #2008 is open and soldiers on furlough are urged to make use of the service available.

COOK RETURNS

John D. Cook, Information chief, returned to the Project Tues. after attending a conference in San Francisco.

Friends and relatives of the departees crowded around the bus to bid the volunteers farewell and to wish them luck.

Date for departure of the second group of volunteers is still indefinite.

Those leaving yesterday were: James Okubo, George Muraki, Robert Masami Akita, Mitsuru Hayashi, Henry Y. Hirakawa, and Takeo Matsumoto.

TAKE PHOTOS NOW--FAGAN

To prevent delay in leaving the Project, evacuees were warned by Frank D. Fagan, Placement officer, to have their pictures taken in advance.

Anyone with any intention of leaving the Project at anytime in the future should go to the Leave office for a photograph as soon as possible.

Marines Wounded At Guadalcanal Visit Here

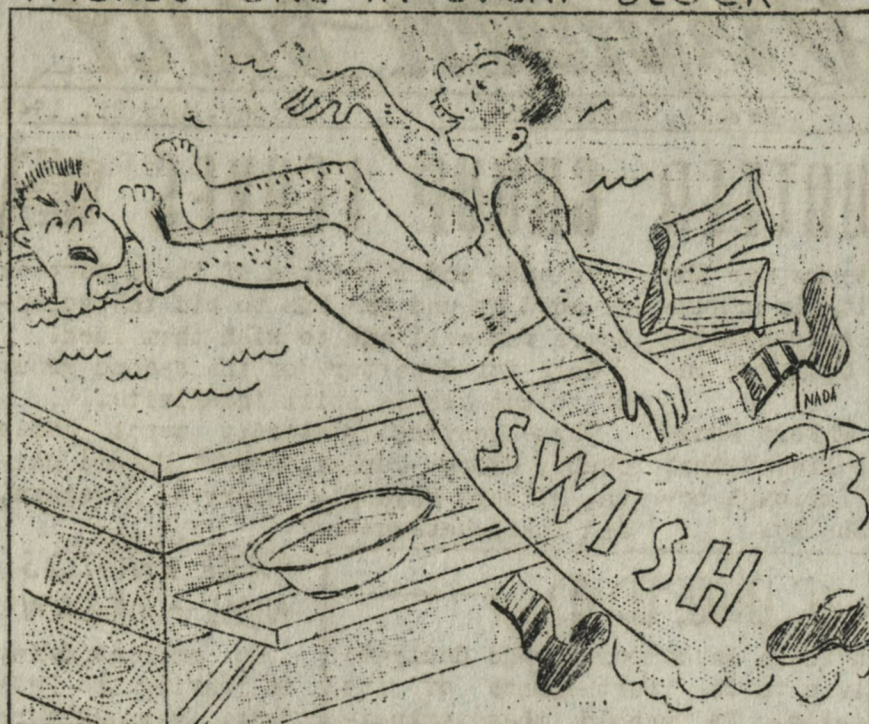

Four marines who have seen action at Guadalcanal visited the Project yesterday afternoon, in company with Leslie Rogers, Klamath Falls business man and host to some of the boys.

The marines, all of whom were wounded and who have been recuperating in a Mare Island hospital since November, were Pfc. Roy Brebaut from Flint, Mich.; Pvt. Andy Nolan from Camden, N.J.; Pfc. Sammy Irwin from Sistersville, West Virginia; and Pvt. Pat. Molloy from Long Island, N.Y. These young marines saw services at Guadalcanal from August to October, 1942.

After being discharged from the hospital at Mare Island, they, like others, accepted invitations to further recuperate in various homes throughout the country. These young men are being entertained in Klamath Falls homes and were driven in cars to the Project by Klamath Falls Commandos.

The marines said they were looking forward to seeing the Project. They spoke enthusiastically about the hospitality shown them by their Klamath Falls hosts. They said they were "having a wonderful time."

ROVING REPORTER:

COAL UNLOADING IS HARD WORK SAY VOLUNTEERS

The recent arrival of numerous carloads of coal resulted in the necessity for volunteer coal workers to help out.

Our roving reporter went to interview these volunteers whose usual jobs are as office workers, janitors, block managers, etc., and asked them what they thought of unloading coal. Here are the answers:

Richard Muraoka, "Downbeats"; Coal shoveling isn't easy as strumming a guitar."

Tom Okubo, Garage; "It is a cinch this isn't no work for sissies. P.S. It isn't for me either."

Jimmie Takagi, Storekeeper; Head of Blk. 39 crew; "The blk. 39 volunteers amazed me for their wholehearted cooperation."

Johnny Kimoto, Blk. Mgr. 36; "I'll take a Blk. mgr. job any day."

Shig Sakamoto, Canteen #1; "If its for the benefit for the community I'm willing to pitch in 100%."

Jimmie Kozuma, "This is one time my face is black as the ace of spades."

Isa Tsutsu, Food Warehouse; "Now my wife can have plenty of hot water to wash my clothes."

KLAMATH FALLS ELKS PLAYS LOCAL ALL-STARS ON MAY 30

HAND IN SCORE SHEETS

All softball managers both girls' and boys' are requested to hand in the scoresheets at once.

A history making event in Tule Lake sports will take place in May 30, as plans have definitely been arranged to have the powerful semi-pro Klamath Falls Elks to play a picked team of local ball players, it was announced by the Recreation Department.

This game was made possible through the efforts of Jiggs Yamada, well-known sports enthusiast, and Mr. Melhorn of the Internal Security, who lives in Klamath Falls and has connections with the Elks team. Harvey M. Coverley, Project Director, has given his okay to hold the contest.

If the game turns out to be a success, it is hoped that more outside teams of the same caliber can be lined up.

First practice session for the project team has been called for this coming Saturday afternoon, May 22, from 2 p.m. on the field opposite Block 9. Coaches Shig Tamai and Yamada have issued an open invitation for players from any camp team to try-out.

In all fairness to everyone, it was reported that the squad will be selected from the persons who turn out regularly. Just because a player was an all-star last year does not mean that he is on the squad, it was added. Those making the best showing in practice will get the starting posts in the line-up.

Turn-outs will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:00 and on Saturday afternoons at 2:00 p.m. when there is no game on Sunday.

Since the hope of having future games with outside teams rests on this first game, everyone's cooperation is requested in making it a success.
