THE OLD PACIFIC AND THE NEW

EDITED BY CHAS. F. LUMMIS

"A magazine wholly unlike any other published anywhere. . . . The best there is in periodical literature on the Pacific Coast. . . . Ability and individuality powerful enough and original enough to give distinction to any periodical. . . . A voice listened to with respect and interest in all parts of the country."

"Its lively independence and its genuine learning. . . . A steady evenness of worth and interest."

Los Angeles, Cal. . . . May 11th . . . 1903.

Dear Mr. Muir:

You probably know all about this already, but a bright and pleasant young man here insists that there is only one best view in the Yosemite, and that it is not generally known, and that you can see four of the five falls from it, all at once. I send along his communication and directions for what they are worth, which you will know better than I.

Wishing you all good luck in the outing, and renewing my advice to Keep the Gentleman on Foot, and hoping that you may be able to make a sneak down this way before you depart,

Hastily but

Always your friend,

Turbese sends love.

Chas. F. Lummis
