Liberty TV to expand cable viewing format

by K. J. Pringle

Despite Liberty Cable TV's effort to resolve differences between the Charleston City Council and themselves, a city official said it probably will proceed in advertising for a second cable company.

Wednesday afternoon Liberty began setting the earth station and receiving dish that will allow cable subscribers to get channel 9, WGN Chicago; Channel 17, WCTG Atlanta and a station that broadcasts events from Madison Square Garden.

Randy Grimes, Midwest regional manager for Liberty, said all three stations should be in operation "for sure" on the cable by Friday.

After recent survey results on Liberty's performance in programming and other areas were received by the City Council, the council instructed City Attorney Tony Sunderman to look into revoking Liberty's franchise and the possibilities of granting a second franchise to another cable company.

In the survey 47.2 percent of those polled said the city's contract with Liberty should be terminated while only 19.5 percent felt otherwise. Sixty-three percent said Liberty did not offer adequate programming.

Sunderman said, "As of now, it looks like the city is not going to revoke Liberty's franchise. I envision that they will advertise for another cable franchise."

He added that it would be up to the council to decide if Liberty's recent addition of the three stations would appease the city's complaints over lack of adequate programming.

The most outspoken of the city commissioners about Liberty has been Clancy Pfeiffer. Pfeiffer has advocated that the city put out bids for a second cable franchise to compete with Liberty, but is on vacation and could not be contacted Wednesday about Liberty's newly acquired stations.

Grimes said the receiving dish for the stations arrived Tuesday after delays in shipping and ordering.

He said there were a number of reasons why Liberty was so late in providing more programming.

"We started planning for these stations in mid-1977 with a preliminary engineering study. They told us that we would have to find another site for the earth station because the one we had planned would have picked up interference from telephone signals.

"We then had to find another site, had to do an on-site survey and submit everything to the Federal Communications Commission for approval and a building permit for the earth station," Grimes said.

Grimes estimated that the total cost of the station base and receiving dish would be approximately $36,000.

"But that money won't come from funds already allocated to upgrade the system in Charleston. For this coming year we've allocated $52,000 for 800 directional tap replacements and 20 to 25 main line amplifiers. Most of the equipment has already been bought," he said.

Grimes added that Liberty will add a pay television station, such as Home Box Office, by June 1. HBO is one of three pay TV stations that offers first run movies and sporting events to cable subscribers at a monthly fee.

Grimes said he did not know yet what the fee would be because Liberty has not yet decided between the three companies. Besides HBO, there are Star-Channel and Show-Time pay TV networks.

Every channel on the VHF-frequency will be used by Liberty. There will be some changes in the current line-up, however, Grimes said.

Channel 4, WTTV Indianapolis, will be replaced with Channel 17, WTCG Atlanta, and Channel 5, the current local weather channel, will share that channel with the Madison Square Garden Channel, a part-time channel.

In other changes WSIU, Channel 16 Olney, will be moved to channel 13 and channel 9 will be used to broadcast WGN. Channel 6, over which WSIU was offered, will be reserved for pay TV.

Grimes said if a local TV station was operated through Eastern, the only place on the channel spectrum for it would be Channel 5.

"That way the station would share air time with Madison Square Garden. And because there are no studio

Charges 'outrageous'

Scott pleads innocent to tax evasion charges

by The Associated Press

CHICAGO — Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott pleaded innocent Wednesday to five counts of filing false income tax returns, calling the allegations "absolutely outrageous" and "trumped up charges."

In an impassioned speech before a crowded courtroom, Scott told U.S. Magistrate Olga Jurco the indictment was "invalid, and illegally obtained by persons with serious conflict of interest."

The charges against Scott, 53, allege that he deliberately understated his income for the years 1972 through 1975 on federal tax returns.

The U.S. attorney's office began investigating Scott's finances more than a year ago in an effort to learn if nearly $50,000 in campaign contributions were used for personal purposes.

Scott, considered the golden boy of Illinois Republicans, said: "I've never done anything wrong, never filed any statements wrong" and labeled the indictment as "trumped-up charges."

He said information was deliberately withheld from the grand jury that issued the indictment and charged that stories were "deliberately planted with the press" to discredit him in the eyes of the public and grand jurors.

The attorney general, who is campaigning for the GOP U.S. Senate nominations, said he was never subjected to an Internal Revenue Service audit, which he said should be standard procedure in investigations of federal tax violations.

Scott labeled the indictment as illegal because it was handed down by a special grand jury, which he said was created by Congress for the sole purpose of investigating organized crime.

"I am not involved in organized crime. I have spent my life fighting organized crime," he said. He added that the special grand jury was illegally extended beyond its 18-month term by a judge who had earlier disqualified himself as prejudiced in the case.

Mrs. Jurco granted Scott a personal recognizance bond and waived the requirement that he remain within the boundaries of the court's northern Illinois district. She said Scott could travel anywhere within the continental United States but violations of the bond conditions would cost him $4,500.

Peace proposals made in Hanoi

BANGKOK, Thailand — Vietnam's peace negotiations with China opened in Hanoi Wednesday with a Vietnamese proposal that a demilitarized zone be established on its border with China, according to Asian news agency reports received in Bangkok.

It was the first day of talks between the two Communist neighbors, who fought a border war in February.

Vietnamese negotiator Vice Foreign Minister Phan Hien said Chinese troops still occupied more than 10 areas in Vietnamese territory. He said the Chinese were continuing to strengthen their forces along the border and that the situation was "very tense."

He proposed that both armies withdraw two to three miles from the border recognized before the Chinese invasion Feb. 17, and that prisoners of war be exchanged soon, according to a Radio Hanoi broadcast.

Thousands flee flooding river by The Associated Press — Thousands of Mississippians downstream from their stunned capital city of Jackson packed bags and fled Wednesday to escape record flooding of the Pearl River that already has cost half a billion dollars and displaced more than 17,000 people.

In neighboring Alabama, hundreds more joined the 5,000 families in the Black Belt region who have abandoned their homes to rising water. Officials warned of the added peril of snakes and alligators driven from their river lairs.

While the Deep South bore the brunt of this week's floods, which have been blamed for at least five deaths, the 2,000 residents of the northwestern Minnesota town of Warren awoke to find streets inundated by the overflowing Snake River which runs through the center of town.

In Georgetown, about 40 miles downriver, Mayor Beal Allbritton said 80 percent of his town's 420 residents had moved out. "All we can do now is hope we can ride this thing out," he said.

Court decides '60 Minutes' suit

WASHINGTON — Public figures who sue a journalist or news organization for libel may probe the "editorial process" which led to the allegedly libelous statement, the Supreme Court said Wednesday.

Voting 6-3, the justices ruled that reporters and editors are not constitutionally protected from being forced to explain how they prepared a challenged report—and may be asked questions about their "state of mind" during that preparation.

The decision in the journalism case is a victory for former Army Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert, who is suing CBS and others for $44.7 million.

Herbert's 1973 suit named as defendants CBS, the network's "60 Minutes" news program, correspondent Mike Wallace, producer Barry Lando and the Atlantic Monthly magazine.

Herbert, who was stripped of a battalion command, gained national prominence in the early 1970s when he formally charged his superior officers with war crimes and atrocities in South Vietnam.

Lando's investigation of Herbert's experience led to a Feb. 4, 1973 "60 Minutes" telecast called "The Selling of Colonel Herbert," in which the truth of Herbert's charges was called into question. Lando also wrote an article for the Atlantic Monthly based on his findings.

Proposed bill could draft labor

SPRINGFIELD — An Illinois legislator wants citizens not only to pay taxes, but to give government some of the sweat off their brows as well.

Rep. Raymond Ewell, D-Chicago, is sponsoring legislation that would require all Illinoisans from 7 to 64 to register for and provide a certain number of hours of work each year to the government.

Ewell says that it's a cost-cutting measure that would "absolutely" help offset future tax increases. And he says that with anti-tax fervor in the air, people would rather work in a few hours a year for the government than see their taxes go up.

His proposed method, he said, would help Illinois meet future tax increases by having Illinoisans provide the labor instead of paying for it.

A doctor, for example, could contribute medical help in prisons, a lawyer could serve as a public defender, and a seven-year-old could pick up litter, Ewell said.

Under the measure, persons from 7 to 10 years old would be required to provide 12 hours of labor each year; 11-to-14 year olds would have to work 24 hours; 15-to-18 year olds, 48 hours; and 19-to-64 years olds, 96 hours.

If a person failed to register or to work his hours, he would be ineligible to obtain a driver's license, or to attend a state university, or to "receive any other benefit from the state of Illinois or any unit of local government," the bill says.

Anti-nuke rally set for May 6

CHICAGO — Anti-nuclear power groups from across the nation said Wednesday they plan a rally in Washington May 6 to press for the phase-out of atomic power plants.

One of the organizers, biologist Barry Commoner of St. Louis, said the rally is a reaction to last month's crisis at the Three Mile Island Plant in Harrisburg, Pa.

Illinois has more nuclear power plants than any other state and Commoner said people here "are hostage to this inherently dangerous and unreliable form of energy."

Judge settles Marvin lawsuit

LOS ANGELES — Michelle Triola Marvin, the unmarried woman who claimed Lee Marvin owed her $1.8 million, was awarded $104,000 Wednesday by a judge who said she needed help to rebuild her life after a long love affair with the actor.

Although the award was far less than the amount Miss Marvin had sought—which she claimed was half his income during the six years they lived together—she said she was "excited to get something" and viewed it as a victory for women.

Marvin likewise saw the ruling as a victory. "I think it's sensational," the actor said at his home in Tucson, Ariz.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Marshall, in a decision which will serve as a guideline in similar cases, reached outside the rigid requirements of contract law to grant Miss Marvin what he called "an equitable remedy."

Bacteria found in face cream

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration has announced the recall of 4,000 jars of Revlon's Milk Plus 6 face moisturizer that it said may be contaminated with potentially dangerous bacteria.

Nancy Glick, a spokeswoman for FDA, said no injuries had been reported and that the contamination was discovered by Revlon.

Glick said the bacteria found in the 3.5-ounce glass jars, which were distributed throughout the country and internationally, were identified as pseudomonas aeruginosa, which conceivably could cause damage to the eye.

Student teaching proves final test

by Marsha Hausser

Known as the "capstone" and the culmination of a student's teacher preparation, student teaching is often viewed by students with excitement and apprehension.

Harry Merigis, dean of the School of Education, said the student teaching experience "synthesizes everything you've learned in teacher ed."

Robert Zabka, director of student teaching, said, "Until they're (the students) out in the public sector, not role-playing, we can only tell them what it will be like. They have to experience it."

"For example, it's difficult for me to tell them about discipline. Once they experience it, they see how they will respond to it."

Ronald Gholson, an assistant professor in the Secondary Education and Foundations Department, said although students usually enter student teaching "a bit apprehensive, they know so much about their subject. It's the human side of teaching we don't emphasize enough."

Coordinating the student teaching program is not an easy task, Zabka said.

He employs 33 student teacher coordinators to deal with the approximate 300 students who student teach each semester.

The coordinators have teaching experience in various fields and deal with students who are entering the same field as theirs, Zabka said.

In looking for a school in which to place a student for student teaching, Zabka said the coordinators look for an "environment that helps our students grow professionally." The teacher's style should complement the student in order for the student to get the most out of the experience, Zabka said.

The most popular geographical area for students to do their student teaching is in southern Illinois, but it is not unusual for students to be placed as far north as Chicago, or as far south as Missouri, the student teaching office reports.

Being uprooted from the predictability of classes on campus to the student teaching experience can be a problem for the student, however, Zabka said.

"The selection process at Eastern is unfortunate, because a student can go through the program and get to student teaching before finding out he doesn't like it," Zabka said.

Curtis Richardson, a 1978 Eastern graduate, said his experience with student teaching made him realize "that I didn't want to be a teacher as much as I thought I did."

"I wasn't prepared for student teaching," he said. "Before a person student teaches, he should have more experiences in the classroom dealing with kids."

He noted that students need more "practical application" of material learned in the classroom.

In his case, it was not critical that his student teaching fell through, because he is using his training in math and industrial arts working as a draftsman at Trailmobile.

However, Zabka said, "It's extremely critical that something be done to make the selection process better. By the time they go for student teaching they should be certain they can do a good job," he added.

The clinical experience requirement should strengthen the program by "selecting out" students who are not cut out for teaching, Zabka said.

Rochelle Koester, a senior student teaching at Charleston High School, said her experience has been enjoyable so far. Although she sees student teaching as "something that a person just has to do," she said. "You see a lot of things you don't in the classroom," Koester said.

She said she felt her training at Eastern was sufficient except in the area of clinical experiences. "I don't think it hurt me a great deal though," she said.

Michael Snyder, working with special education students at Jefferson Elementary School in Charleston said he has had no problems with "his kids."

However, Snyder said he did not think he was prepared to deal with planning lessons for students.

"In education classes, making only one lesson plan never prepared you to do a week's worth of lesson plans. You have to have things planned for them every minute," he said.

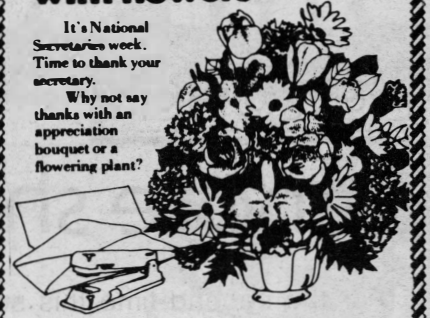

Lack of more clinical experience hindered him in adjusting to the students he is working with, Snyder said.

Junior block, where he observed classes for one hour per week for six weeks was the most beneficial experience in helping him deal with students, he said.

In junior block, the student spends time in an area school working with students, Zabka said.

facilities in the area, I suspect that if some kids at Eastern wanted to run something on the air, they'd have to tape it first, then show it," he said.

With the addition of the three stations, Grimes said he felt that Liberty is providing as good as programming as any cable system in Illinois.

Grimes declined to comment on the survey compiled by City Planner Larry Stoever. "We did use the survey somewhat, but only to decide what stations to get. We decided not to get the Christian Broadcasting Network."

Senate should use impeachment carefully

For the second time this semester, the Student Senate has threatened an executive office with impeachment proceedings. For the second time, the senate has made the wrong decision.

Five senators filed a petition last week to hold an impeachment trial against Student Body President Bob Buckley. The petition charges that Buckley was negligent in his duties because of his failure to appoint a student member to the Intercollegiate Athletic Board.

Senate Speaker Kevin Sandefur acknowledged that the senate did not really want to impeach Buckley but instead just wanted to "reprimand" him. The motivation was much the same earlier in the semester when student Collective Bargaining Representative Dean Prokos was in the senate's doghouse.

Impeachment is not a device to be used to "reprimand" executive officers with whom the senate is displeased but is to be reserved for serious offenses. Failure to fill one appointment is not sufficient grounds for bringing an impeachment proceedings.

The senate does have some basis for being upset with Buckley, who has done little during his term in office.

But not only is the impeachment petition based on insufficient evidence, it is also too late in the semester to accomplish much.

Even if Buckley were to be impeached and replaced by the executive vice president, there are but three weeks remaining in the semester, hardly enough time to make any improvement.

Instead, the senate has spent precious time dealing with the Buckley impeachment petition when it could have been considering important issues of concern to all students.

The senate should, as Sandefur suggested, decide to not hold the impeachment trial Thursday night and should in the future exercise greater discretion in using the powerful threat of impeachment.

Eastern should revamp its housing policy

A lawsuit filed last week against our Eastern administrators and the Board of Governors could have been prevented if university officials had fairly applied an unwritten freshman-sophomore exemption policy.

The American Civil Liberties Union is representing Eastern student Mary Fry and the Christian Collegiate Fellowship in their attempt to reverse the denial by the Housing Office of Fry's request last spring to be exempted from the university residency rule.

Although the policy is unwritten, the Housing Office generally allows freshmen and sophomores to be exempted from living in a dorm if they stay in an approved fraternity or sorority house.

Fry, as a sophomore, unsuccessfully sought to be allowed to live in the fellowship's Covenant House. Administrators and the student Supreme Court decided against her appeal.

As we said after the student court's ruling in December, the situation points to the need for a clearly defined housing policy which would prevent exemptions from being granted unfairly.

The university has no grounds to deny Fry an exemption to live in a house belonging to a religious organization with trained resident counselors if it allows other underclassmen to reside in greek houses.

Defending the ACLU suit, filed in U.S. District Court in Danville, would cost Eastern and the BOG time and money, neither of which it can afford to waste.

The defendants should acknowledge Fry's claim before a costly court battle ensues and Eastern administrators should also work to develop a written, uniform housing policy concerning freshman and sophomore exemptions.

Union disco is only one of many alternatives

University Union administrators and the Union Board are evidently desperate for suggestions to improve the Union's financial picture. So desperate, in fact, that they are considering converting the Union addition Rathskeller into a disco. Shoot, if I knew they wanted suggestions like that on dumb things to do with the Rathskeller, I would have written this sooner.

The disco idea is a pretty sure bet to flop-flop fizz-fizz and to serve as a business laxative, which will only worsen the financial record of the Union food services. The food services operate on a small profit whenever they turn one. Why disrupt a lousy trend when you can fuel it with another lousy trend—disco?

Union Area Head Bill Clark said the suggestion to remodel the Rathskeller into a disco is in preparation for the possible passage of the bill to raise the drinking age to 21, which would leave thousands of Eastern students high and dry.

Imagine the horror these students will face when they enter the new disco

Tom
Keefe

Rathskeller to relax after a hard week. Red, yellow, green and other colored lights flash, blink and sweep across the room while the Bee Gees' latest disco hit/release (is that redundant?) covers up unnecessary noise, such as conversation.

Thirsty students will not be able to buy alcohol. Instead, Clark suggests they could be served a non-alcoholic drink which looks, smells and tastes like wine or champagne.

And that is when the first disco-related riot would erupt. Most students will not be satisfied with strange blinking lights and loud disco music. Robbed of their legal right to drink, they will demand more entertainment and excitement than to be offered "Donna Summers Submarine sandwiches with Swiss and Bee-Cheese on it."

So if the Union Board and Clark are serious about the disco Rathskeller, they first should consider these alternate "Dumb Ideas to Do to the Rathskeller:"

—A restaurant named Sally's, which is located near my home in Chicago, features pipe music and waitresses on roller skates. The Rathskeller could feature waitresses on skateboards who serve while members of the music department play melodies on Eastern's English horn.

—The Rathskeller could be converted to an Iranian decor. Students could then kidnap student government executive officers and hold secret midnight trials instead of taking the time to begin impeachment proceedings against them. What a practical laboratory experience in foreign government policy!

—If the nuclear reactor being built near Clinton is finished, the Rathskeller could be converted into the "Radiation Room." Concrete walls and glow-in-the-dark drinks would highlight weekend "Nuclear Nights."

—With a little work, the Rathskeller stage could be changed to a selling block where members of Eastern's Silly Party could auction the Board of Governors student representative or anyone else they prefer.

—With the current movement to reinstate the draft, the Rathskeller could be converted to a draft-dodger's training room. The room would feature high tables for students to jump from to flatten their feet, treadmills for barefoot students to develop blisters and corns and a research library of past successful draft exemption stories including histories of dorm bed-wetting and mental imbalance caused by mid-term exams.

I hope Clark and the Union Board members consider these suggestions as thoroughly as the suggestion for a disco Rathskeller.

These ideas could provide entertainment and education for students and might ease the Union's financial picture. Anyhow, after reading about the disco Rathskeller suggestion, I figure the Union administrators are desperate enough to try anything.

Greek Week begins with royalty selection

by R. W. Monroe

Eastern's 25th annual Greek Week will begin voting for the 1979 greek king and queen from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom, Ann Cavanagh, assistant director of student activities, said recently.

A roller skating marathon benefit for muscular dystrophy will be held Saturday at the Charleston Roller Rink. Food and prizes have been donated by local merchants and participation is open to all, Cavanagh added.

A chicken fry is set for 11 a.m. Saturday at Sporty's with chicken donated by Bob Gilbertson, Cavanagh said.

The first Greek Week was held in February, 1954. The week was established "in an effort to get greek organizations to work together and enable their 397 affiliated members to get acquainted with each other," she said.

"Although the greek system has grown since then, the purpose of the original week remains the same today," Cavanagh added.

Original Greek Week activities included a speech about greeks at Eastern, a picnic, a greek ball, a campus beautification project, and a non-competitive greek sing, Cavanagh said.

Three sororities and five fraternities participated in the original Greek Week activities, Cavanagh added.

Many changes in greek week have been made over the years, she said. In 1957 the greek sing became competitive. In 1961 the addition of a greek king and queen was made and greek games were introduced.

An Adviser-Housemother Banquet was held during the 1968 Greek Week. This is now called the Honors Banquet, Cavanagh added.

Sandefur: Trial might be stopped

Student Senate Speaker Kevin Sandefur said Wednesday that impeachment proceedings against Student Body President Bob Buckley are still scheduled but that "there will be an attempt to stop the trial as soon as it starts."

The impeachment trial will be conducted at a regular Student Senate meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Tuscola-Arcola Room.

Sandefur said he expects "parliamentary maneuvering" efforts to stop the impeachment trial.

"I think they (the senate) just decided that it wouldn't do them or Buckley any good," Sandefur said.

"Nobody really wants to go through with it," Sandefur said. "I think the senate just wanted to reprimand Buckley, but they wanted to use something stronger because the move to censure failed," he added.

Board of Governors to discuss Fry lawsuit

Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin said Tuesday the Board of Governors will discuss in its executive session Wednesday a lawsuit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union.

The ACLU filed suit Thursday in the federal court in Danville on behalf of Eastern junior Mary Fry, the Christian Collegiate Fellowship and the Christian Campus House.

The suit filed against four Eastern administrators and the Board of Governors charges Eastern with discriminating against religious groups in enforcing its freshman-sophomore housing policy.

Fry was denied an exemption to the policy last spring when she requested that she be able to live in the CCF's Covenant House as a second-semester sophomore.

Marvin said a federal marshal served him with papers informing him of the suit Tuesday morning. However, Marvin declined to comment on the case.

"I haven't read them yet and I would rather not say anything," Marvin said. "I must talk to the attorney for the board before I do anything.

"This is no longer fun and games. This is a federal court," Marvin said.

The board will meet in executive session in Springfield Wednesday and will hold its regular meeting at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Items on the agenda for the meeting Thursday include a proposed guideline for distribution of fiscal year 1980 salary increases for civil service and administrative personnel and information reports on legislation and spring semester enrollment reports.

Physics department slates trip to area nuclear plant

The physics department has scheduled two informational activities this week, including a speech by a representative from a calculator manufacturing company and a trip to the nuclear power plant being built near Clinton.

The speech, by George Korous of the Hewlett-Packard company, is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday in the Science Building Room 215.

His topic will be "Hand-held Programmable Calculators."

A member of the science department said programmable calculators are much different now than they were several years ago.

"The thing that is interesting to me is that the calculators you get today for $200 or $300 at one time cost $500,000 and took up two or three rooms for equipment," Doug Davis said.

The department is also planning a trip Saturday to the nuclear power reactor construction site near Clinton, Davis said.

Women netters return to action at Western meet

by Jane Meyer

After a two week layoff, Eastern's women's tennis team will take to the courts once again this weekend when they travel to the Western Illinois Invitational.

Eastern coach Joyce David said there will be a total of six teams entered in the competition which will not be based on team totals.

David said the teams entered in the competition are Augustana, Illinois State, Principia University, Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville and Western Illinois.

David said that according to her seedings, Eastern will be sending Patti Groth, Jill Anderson, Debbie Belton, and Mona Etchison in singles competition only.

David explained that the tournament will not be based on procedures normally used in tennis competition but it will be based upon flight competition. In this way, David said that in singles competition a player may lose the first match but be able to play in the consolation bracket.

Entered in doubles competition for the Panthers are the duos of Kathy Holmes making her first appearance for the spring season and Maureen Fitzpatrick, while Janet Haberkorn is teamed with Julie Frueger at the other doubles spot.

David said Augustana, Illinois State and SIU-Edwardsville, will be the top contenders.

"SIU-Edwardsville was ranked second in the state and Illinois State was ranked third in the state during the fall season and Augustana always has a strong team," David said.

Among the other teams at the tournament, Eastern beat Western 9-0 during the fall season while Illinois State was the only team to defeat the Panthers during the fall.

Pryor paces Sox to 12-5 win

TORONTO (AP)—Greg Pryor had three hits and drove in three runs to spark the Chicago White Sox to a 12-5 victory Wednesday over the Toronto Blue Jays.

Richard Wortham, 3-0, went eight innings for Chicago. He allowed seven hits while striking out six and walking just two. Dewey Robinson pitched the ninth in relief.

Wortham was backed by an 18-hit attack which featured three hits each by Chet Lemon, Alan Bannister, Eric Soderholm and Mike Squires.

Jim Clancy, 1-2, started for Toronto but left in the third inning with the bases loaded and Chicago leading 3-0.

Bill Nahorodny greeted reliever Tom Murphy with a run-scoring grounder to short and Pryor followed with a two-run double down the left field line.

Chicago had scored two unearned runs in the second inning when first baseman John Mayberry bobbled a grounder by Soderholm. Squires, Nahorodny, Pryor and Ralph Garr followed with consecutive singles.

Scott lifts Cards past Cubs, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Tony Scott's second single of the game drove in Keith Hernandez from third base with

Loss _____ from 12

Eastern had to tie the game in the seventh sending it into the eighth inning.

Indiana State then used doubles by Piskol and Rickard in the eighth pushing three runs home for the win.

In suffering his third loss of the season, Ozga retired the first seven hitters he faced and didn't allow a hit until the sixth. However, the Sycamore bats came to life in the late innings.

"It's too bad. Ozga pitched winning baseball," Eastern coach Tom McDevitt said. "He's a super competitor and certainly deserves a win."

"We made mental mistakes that hurt us but we're young," McDevitt added.

Indiana State extends its season record to 20-5 while Eastern slips to 10-11.

two outs in the 14th inning Wednesday, lifting the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Hernandez doubled to the center field wall with one out against loser Donnie Moore, 0-1. Ted Simmons was issued an intentional walk when Dane Iorg rapped into a force play.

Scott, who had scored the game's tying run in the seventh inning, then lined a single to left field to drive in Hernandez and give the victory to Tom Bruno, 1-0. Darold Knowles retired the final batter in the 14th and earned his first save of the year.

Dave Kingman's run-scoring double in the third inning gave Chicago a 1-0 lead, and his RBI single in the fifth made it 2-0 against St. Louis starter Pete Vuckovich.

The Cardinals rallied to tie the game in the seventh on Ken Reitz's run-scoring single off Cubs starter Rick Reuschel and Mike Phillips' slow roller down the first base line that scored Scott.

Ruggers travel to Peoria, ISU for weekend matches

by Jane Meyer

Coming off an impressive 6-0 romping of Terre Haute last weekend, the Eastern Rugby Club will travel to Peoria and Bloomington for games this weekend.

Eastern club president Jay Mackin said that the ruggers will be playing against a private Peoria club on Saturday and taking on Illinois State on Sunday.

In its last outing the Panther squad won as a result of two drop kicks from twenty yards and from thirty yards out by Mike Hummert.

Mackin said the win was characterized by the constant good efforts of the pack. The pack, as Mackin explained, is the offensive or defensive line in a combined effort at the beginning of the game.

"I think our pack is one of the best we've ever had,"

Mackin said, "I think we have the best team ever as far as knowledge, experience and dedication are concerned."

Mackin said the Panthers have played the Peoria team twice winning 21-8 in the first meeting, and losing 13-14 in the last contest.

Mackin said the Peoria club is very strong and physical but the Illinois team poses the toughest competition yet.

"We haven't beaten Illinois' A-team since we started our club three years ago. They are a very good team," Mackin said.

Mackin said the Eastern's B-team will also be seeing action for the second time this season after competing against Western Illinois in the Four Corners tourney. The Panthers easily won that match slapping Western with a 16-0 setback.

Panthers drop two to tough Indiana State

by Carl Gerdovich

Indiana State University took advantage of eight Panther errors Wednesday afternoon sweeping a baseball doubleheader from Eastern at Monier Field.

The Sycamores' attacked a parade of Panther pitchers in the opener winning 13-5 then overcame a superb pitching performance by Eastern's Tom Ozga in the nitecap for a 6-3 decision in eight innings.

Eastern committed four errors in each game, aiding a potent Sycamore offense which converted the Panther's defensive miscues into productive run-scoring innings.

Although Indiana State coach Bob Warn had said Tuesday that he expected a good game against Eastern because "they seldom beat themselves with mistakes," the Sycamore skipper still insisted that the Panthers were a competitive team following the twin-bill sweep.

"Even though we took two here today, this Eastern ballclub really comes at you. They don't quit and they showed it by lasting us out here in the second game," Warn said.

"They're (Eastern) a young team whereas we have experience and excellent speed. I think the amount of speed we have forces opponents to make certain mistakes and certain situations today proved that," Warn added.

In the opening game and the score tied at five in the fifth inning, Indiana State pushed five more runs across using aggressive base running and timely hits.

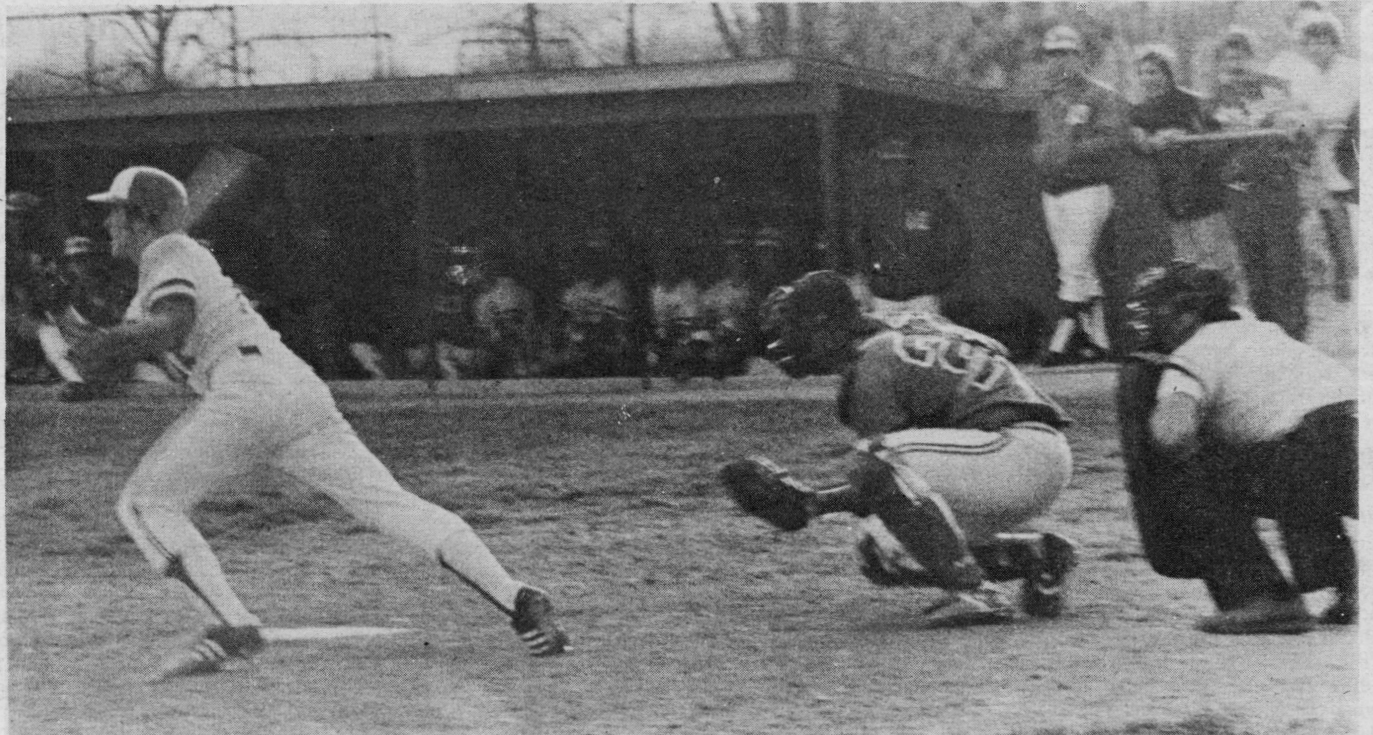

The Sycamores' used a one-out triple by Gary Osborn, three consecutive singles and two stolen bases in taking a commanding 10-5 lead.

Indiana State scored one more in the sixth and two in the seventh with two more Panther errors extending the run-scoring innings.

Greg Baker collected two hits for the Sycamores, including a home run for five runs-batted-in. Walley Johnson and Pete Piskol added a double and triple respectively.

Lenny Lundberg suffered the pitching loss for Eastern in relief of, although hurling one full inning effectively. Lundberg however, was responsible for the winning tally.

pitcher for the Panthers, Terry Browne and Myron Richardson also saw action in relief.

In the nitecap, Indiana State waited five innings for its first hit off Eastern's Ozga, then struck for three quick runs before winning it in extra innings.

The Panthers scored one in the first and added to the lead in the third on a solo home run by Tim Pyznarski.

After the Sycamores took a 3-2 lead,

Junior guards Dave LeTourneau, left, and Lance Jones were named to the MCC All-Academic team Wednesday.

LeTourneau, Jones on All-Academic unit

Junior guards Lance Jones and Dave LeTourneau represent Eastern on the Mid-Continent Conference's All-Academic team.

Six players were picked to the team, selected by the league's Sports Information Directors.

To be eligible for the unit a player must start at least 50 percent of his team's games, and maintain at least a 3.0 grade point average.

Six players were chosen instead of five due to a tie in the balloting.

Jones, a junior from Normal, carries a 3.57 GPA in psychology. Jones averaged 1.2 points a contest on the floor for Eastern this past season.

LeTourneau is a criminology major from Batavia, and maintains a 3.12 average in the classroom after scoring 2.2 points a game for the basketball Panthers.

"It's really kind of surprising," LeTourneau said. "I mean I have always had good grades, but I really don't study that hard."

Others named to the squad are Northern Iowa's Mike Kemp, who threw in 15.5 points a game during the season, and is maintaining a 3.70 GPA in psychology. Kemp's classroom average is the highest on the elite team.

Mark Long joins his UNI teammate on the team, after putting together a 3.29 average in business.

Northern Michigan is represented by forward Dave Meinert, a business major, who has a 3.63 average, and Western Illinois' Jeff Nielsen rounds out the team. Nielsen, a 6-foot-7 sophomore, is a biology major with a 3.62 classroom average.

Netters looking for third victory

by Julie Penne

Hoping to even its season record Eastern's men's tennis team will travel to Indianapolis Thursday to take on Indiana University-Purdue University (IUPU).

So far into the season, the Panthers have defeated Millikin University, and the University of Evansville. Southeast Missouri, Indiana State and the University of Illinois have defeated the netters thus far into the campaign.

Coach Dutch Gossett looks for a well-balanced, competitive meet between the Panthers and the Metros, though the two teams have never met.

"IUPU recently beat Butler in a dual, though Butler did not play its top two seeds," Gossett said. "We should have a close match with them."

Playing this weekend for the Panthers will be number one, sophomore Rick Hayden and Junior Brad Siler at the number two slot. Mike Stumpe will pick up the number three spot with Brad Patterson at number four.

Rounding out the top six are junior Tom Wenzel at number five and freshman Joe Benyo at number six.

With half of the season over with, Hayden, Siler, Patterson, and Stumpe all stand with individual records of 2-3. Wenzel is 2-2 on the season and Benyo is 1-4. Sophomore Bob Nasenbeny is 1-1.

In doubles, Hayden, and Stumpe will team to form the number one doubles pair. Siler and sophomore Brian McDonald combine for the number two doubles team and Patterson and Wenzel will pair up for number three.
