Itemized
fee cards available

by Vicki Pape

Students who did not receive a new student fee breakdown card at registration can pick one up at the Student Government Office, Financial Vice President Tom Dersch said Monday.

The itemized fee breakdown cards, proposed by Dersch earlier this summer, gives students a record of how their tuition fees are spent.

"I want to stress that the reason for the card was to let students know how their money is being used," Dersch said.

"I just feel there is no better time for it than now when we are dipping into our own pockets more and more for our education," Dersch added.

He explained that the cards were paid for by university funds and cost about .4 of one cent per student.

"At first the administration had agreed to distribute the cards provided I could get the funds from student fees to print them," Dersch said.

He explained that since the university catalog does not include the new Union operating fee or a bond revenue fee breakdown in its information, he felt the cost of printing the cards should come out of general revenue.

In response to a letter from Dersch, President Daniel E. Marvin, decided to pay for the cards out of the general revenue fund.

"The total cost came to almost $40," Dersch said.

Dersch said that he "was enlightened" when he gathered the information for the card.

"I found the history behind some of the fees to be very interesting," Dersch added.

Dersch said that the response from students has been both "enlightenment and surprise" regarding the information on the cards.

"Depending on the response, of course, I would like to see something similar to the card implemented periodically," Dersch said.

Percy quizzes Holden about Eastern pot use

by Bernie Frey and Karen Kunz

After receiving his share of questions on controversial topics during his visit to Charleston Friday, Sen. Charles Percy turned right around and asked one himself.

Taking Student Body President Tom Holden by surprise, Percy asked Holden if he thought the use of marijuana was prevalent on Eastern's campus.

After Holden recovered from the initial shock of the question he answered Percy with a simple "yes".

Before Holden had answered, however, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin tried to help Holden out by offering to give his opinion on the issue.

Marvin never got the chance to have his say, however, as Holden turned to Percy and said, "I think I can answer that question from a different perspective than the president."

Percy made a surprise visit with

Marvin in his office where the Illinois Republican got to sit in Marvin's antique desk chair.

The chair belonged to Livingston C. Lord, Eastern's first president.

As Percy settled into the chair he told Marvin, "This is the second famous chair I've sat in. The first one was President Kennedy's rocking chair."

Before his surprise visit to Eastern, Percy stopped at the Charleston square for the baby kissing and handshaking that goes with any good old-fashioned campaign.

While at the square, Percy had coffee and talked with patrons of the While at Owl Drugs, Percy boosted local revenue by having his aide purchase a package of razor blades, since Percy had forgotten his.

Percy's visit marked the second time in four days a Percy had come to Charleston.

Lacking clout, foreign student adviser retires

by Norm Lewis

After five years of fighting an administration she felt was unresponsive, Foreign Student Adviser Eulalee Anderson said Thursday she felt it was time to retire.

Anderson, whose last day on the job was Friday, cited personal reasons as well as her apparent lack of clout in the Eastern administration when she announced her retirement.

She emphasized, however, that she was leaving "on good terms" with the university and plans to continue her contact with the foreign students who came to know her as "mother."

But the combination of spending 40 hours a week and more as adviser to foreign students on campus—a job which the university considered enough for only a half-time administrator—and pressing personal reasons led Anderson to retire from her post.

"They don't always ask me all the things involved with my office," Anderson said. "The admissions office never asked me about their policies" on admitting foreign students, she added.

"A part-time person is nobody," she continued. "But I would have liked to have been involved."

Anderson cited the time last year when the administration was considering raising the minimum scores on a test given to foreign students.

The minimum score on the TOEFL, or Test of English as a Foreign Language, was raised from 450 to 550 last year, a jump Anderson said was too extreme and made above her recommendation.

She said she told Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, that the minimum score could be raised to 500 in keeping with national trends but that a higher score would be detrimental to foreign student enrollment.

"I have no say in any admissions program," she explained.

"They don't know what it's like on the other side. They're just not very flexible," Anderson added.

Neither Williams nor Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin were available for comment Monday evening.

Despite her dissatisfaction with her fellow administrators, however, Anderson said "all in all I love Eastern. I have many friends here and I hate very much giving up the job."

As foreign student adviser, the 59-year-old Mattoon resident said students were not the only ones to come to her for help. "Just the other day, someone in Charleston wanted me to translate a letter in Portuguese."

But it will probably be the students who will miss her the most. Anderson often kept foreign students in her home free of charge and spent most of her free hours at home corresponding with former and prospective students.

"When she was home not in the office, she worked every bit of that time," Shahid Ullah of the Bangladesh Student Association said.

"We come from so far away and she's the only one we could depend on. She was like a mother to us," Ullah added.

WELH to air progressive sound

by Fred Hampstead
 The year's format at WELH will feature progressive, contemporary and numerous specialty shows, General Manager Matt Piescinski said Thursday.
 "We will not be concentrating on the 40 or on the disco sound," Piescinski said. He added that much of the music played will be from album tracks stressing the contemporary sound.
 Audience participation will be an important part of the interview program planned for this semester, he said.
 Representatives from student related activities such as the housing office and student government will be guests on special weekend talk shows.
 "Of course, we will also cover most Eastern sports," Piescinski added.
 Other programs will include "old-time mystery shows, as well as jazz and soul programs," he said.

 "We plan to be on the air most of this weekend," he said. "We will be on from 3 p.m. to midnight Friday, and we will definitely cover the football game Saturday."
 Broadcast hours are limited now because the station is operating with little more than the executive staff and a few returning staff members, he said.
 The executive staff includes Piescinski, Chris Showalter, program director; Ray Long, news and sports director and sales manager; Tony Little, music director; Mark Hepner, production director; and Greg Moore, traffic and logs director.
 Steven Hofer of the speech-communication department is station adviser.
 The executive staff hopes to improve student listenership this year with the addition of new equipment.

 A new transmitter to Taylor and Lawson Halls will make the broadcast available to 85 percent of campus residents, and a transmitter will soon be installed in the Triad, Piescinski said.
 "We have the ability to reach off-campus people in the Union, but so far that goal has not been reached," he said.
 Though the station received the two new transmitters, additional equipment still needs to be replaced, Piescinski said.

Station seeking staffers

An organizational meeting for all persons interested in working for campus radio station WELH will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 120 of Coleman Hall.
 Station manager Matt Piescinski said Thursday that staff members are needed in sports, music, news, copy writing, production and public relations.
 Production Manager Mark Hepner said "No radio experience is necessary, and interested persons need not be speech majors."

"Many people begin here and then move to a professional station," Hepner said.
 Training sessions will follow the first meeting, Piescinski said, along with an opportunity to earn an FCC broadcasting license.
 Current WELH staff members are returning from summer internships at such radio stations as KMOX in St. Louis, Merchandise Mart in Chicago and National Public Radio in Springfield.

Dystrophy disco nets $231

Despite very hot and crowded conditions, Taylor Hall's Disco for Dystrophy dance contest Sunday earned $200 for "Jerry's kids", Dean Smith, Taylor Hall president, said.

Smith said the total raised in the contest was $181.31. Adding a $50 donation from the Residence Hall Association, total contributions for the contest came to $231.31.

Smith said the contest, held in the Taylor Hall Garage, was well attended.

"It was very crowded in there, almost too crowded," Smith said.

Several contests were held throughout during the dance, which lasted from 8 p.m. to after 1 a.m.

Smith said 12 couples entered each contest with a donation jar set aside for each couple. Donations made during the contests were used as votes to determine the winner.

Smith said because donations sometimes ran low during the contests, couples took their jars out into the audience to solicit contributions.

Plants donated by several merchants were given as door prizes, and prizes for winning dance couples were donated by area merchants.

Chapter Awarded Most Outstanding Chapter In The Nation!!!

Beta Gamma Chapter To Hold Casino Night

Pi's Win All-Sport Trophy For '77-'78

SEVEN SPRINGS, PA, Beta Gamma chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity, Eastern Illinois University was awarded the prestigious Grand Sage's Award by their National Headquarters at their convocation this summer.

This award goes to the most outstanding Sigma Pi chapter during the two year biennium. The decision is based on the superior ranking and ability in the various areas of chapter operation. Included are membership size and ranking in comparison with other Sigma Pi chapters), efficiency, finances, overall campus involvement and membership recruitment.

Beta Gamma was also awarded the Emerald Award of Merit which is presented to the chapter making noteworthy contribution of articles and photos to the Fraternity's National Magazine. A first for '76-'77 and second place for '77-'78 school years. Efficiency Award was presented to recognize overall cooperation with the Executive Office.

CHARLESTON, Sigma Pi Fraternity will hold their annual Casino Night, Wednesday, September 6, at 7:30 p.m. This popular activity is held to help introduce interested men to the Fraternity.

Games include Black Jack, Roulette, Poker, Craps, and much, much more. Prizes will be awarded to the top money winners at the conclusion of the evening festivities. For transportation and information feel free to contact any fraternity member or call the chapter house at 345-9081 or 345-3007. The chapter house is located at 956 Sixth St., one and one half blocks north of campus.

EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY, After all the points were totaled up, Sigma Pi Fraternity came out on the top. Each year the I.F.C. awards one fraternity on E.I.U.'s campus this award.

Sigma Pi won top fraternity honors in Waterpolo, Basketball, Outdoor Track, Gymnastics, Belay, Weightlifting, and Softball. Points are awarded for participation, individual placing, and team placing in all Eastern's intramural Programs.

Grad school admission test to be given Tuesday

by Tom Keefe

A graduate school admission test, the Miller's Analogy Test, will be given at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Effingham Room.

Claude Sanders, of Eastern's counseling center, said Monday the test is open to "anyone who is interested in going to grad school."

He said the MAT is one of "two fairly common entrance exams" with the other test being the Graduate Record Exam.

Both tests are administered at Eastern. The MAT is given two times per month and the GRE is given three times per year "on national test dates," he said.

The MAT is a "general test of a student's intellectual ability," Sanders said.

All of the questions on the MAT are analogous, which are "this is to this like this is to what?" questions, Sanders said.

He said most of the questions test the student's ability to relate words and concepts, but some mathematical figures are included to test student's ability to relate numbers.

MAT scores can be sent to two graduate schools at no additional cost than the $8 registration fee, Sanders said.

Students may take the MAT as often as it is given, but scores are recorded and sent to the graduate schools each time the test is taken.

The Testing Center has a study guide for the MAT which "doesn't help you as far as the questions on the test" but it allows students to understand what type of questions are on the test, Sanders said.

Sanders said he administered the MAT Friday to seven students and he believed a similar number of students would take the test Tuesday.

The number of students who take the test "will vary, but this time of year is kind of early for graduate schools," he said.

Most students who take the exam call the Testing Center beforehand, but students may just walk into the test if they wish, Sanders said.

However, most students do not just walk into the test because the MAT "is not the kind of fun thing you'd do on the spur of the morning," he added.

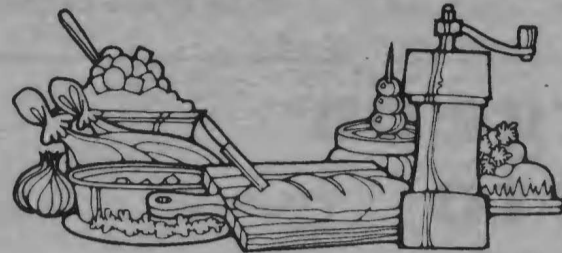

Sanders said he is administering the test because the Testing Center does not have a coordinator.

The former director of the Testing Center, Herb Bartling, resigned earlier this year and as of Monday no replacement had been hired, Sanders said.

Festival up for award

By Jennifer Schulze

Celebration '78, Eastern's annual arts festival, has been nominated for the Governor's Arts Award to be presented Sept. 27 at Chicago's Goodman Theater in conjunction with Arts Week in Illinois.

Celebration '78 was nominated for the award by the Eastern News and the Gurner of the Speech Department, J. Sain of the theatre arts department said.

The award, which is being presented for the first time this year, is for any organization, community or individual, that has made an "outstanding contribution to the arts in Illinois," Sain said.

There are 432 other nominations for the Governor's Arts Award, including Charleston music teacher Mrs. Louise Bergman, he said.

However, Sain added, Celebration '78 has a "very good chance of winning."

Celebration is the biggest arts event in central Illinois and I think we are going to win," he said.

If Celebration '78 does win the award, Eastern will receive a sculpture by Illinois artist Virginia Ferrari and she help establish grants from the Illinois Arts Council," he said.

ing the arts award, along with the annual Arts Week in Illinois to be held Sept. 23-30, Sain said.

He added communities throughout the state will be participating in the week by holding a variety of arts related activities.

Eastern will join in the celebration by sponsoring several recitals, a puppet show, art exhibits and the Dudley Riggs "Brave New Workshop," during that week in September, Sain said.

Throughout the week "we will be making people aware of what is happening in the arts," he added.

Student Senate to review Tenant Union proposal

by Terri Manuel

A proposal aimed at improving the Tenant Union will soon be brought before the Student Senate, summer speaker John Grant said Wednesday.

The Tenant Union was set up to provide students with information on leases and to aid in landlord-tenant disputes.

The proposal is a result of the tenant union evaluation made by the summer housing committee, headed by former Student Body President Dan Fowler.

The proposal would make the Tenant Union a separate office within student government, allotted its own budget.

The tenant union is currently part of the Housing Committee, and has no budget of its own.

A provision for recruiting volunteers to serve as counselor-directors of the Tenant Union is also included in the proposal.

Grant said he feels that permanent directors are needed "to increase the effectiveness of the Tenant Union."

Under the current system, volunteers usually change every semester, making long-term programs difficult to establish, Grant explained.

After review by the Housing Committee, the proposal will be brought before the senate for approval, Grant said.

If approved, the committee must find office space, hire a secretary, and create a budget.

If all goes smoothly, Grant said the new changes in the Tenant Union will be in effect by spring semester.

The services the Tenant Union will offer include helping find off-campus housing, referring students to legal assistance and providing information on apartment buildings and the landlords.

Grant said the directors of the Tenant Union also hope to be able to read the lease with the student before he signs it.

Financial Aid Information

FINANCIAL AID DISBURSEMENT

Financial aid recipients scheduled to receive aid September 25th should report to the Grand Ballroom (September 26th to the Charleston Mattoon Room) with I.D. cards between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Any student unable to appear during those hours should notify Mrs. Thomason (581-3713) prior to September 25th. If aid is to be applied to University financial obligations, the student must sign the voucher(s) during those hours, also. The next disbursement date will be October 13, 1978.

BEOG RECIPIENTS

September 5th is the final date to file in the Office of Financial Aids the forms necessary to receive BEOG on September 25/26. These forms are:

1. Student Eligibility Report
2. BEOG checksheets with notarized affidavit

AID APPLICATION DEADLINE

For a student to receive financial aid administered by the Office of Financial Aids (i.e., NDSL, SEOG, CWSP, and the Scholarship for Socio-Economically Disadvantaged) effective with the fall semester, the student's aid file must be COMPLETE no later than October 2, 1978. Any files completed after that date will be considered for spring semester only.

Varsity-Alumni meet open to all runners

Eastern cross-country coach Tom Woodall of the defending national champion Panthers has announced that the sixth annual Varsity-Alumni meet will be open to the public.

The meet, slated for Saturday at 5 p.m. on the grass south of O'Brien Field, will be open to any runner, male or female, that is capable of running the four-mile course.

"I know that there are many runners on this campus, and I'm sure that they would like the chance to run in a race with a national championship team," Woodall said.

"We encourage anyone, male or female, who have some running experience to participate. I hope that this will be the first of many of these events, and I hope that we get a good response," Woodall said.

No medical exam is required, but Woodall cautions that all participants should have had some running experience.

"Anyone in reasonably good shape should be able to jog four miles,"

Woodall said, "so that should be no problem."

"This was set up to be a fun type thing, where people could meet the guys on the team and run with them. Most people who run, do so on their own, and never have the opportunity to run in a race," Woodall said.

Eastern's Chris 'Poke' Cobb (30) threads his way through the hole in the Central State Ohio defense as he scores his second touchdown in the Panther's season opening 41-16 win over the Marauders Saturday at O'Brien Field.

Cobb's two touchdowns gave him a career total of 21, tying the Eastern career record set by Willie White in 1970-73. (News photo by Tony Lawson)

Panthers win in 'grand opening'

by Brad Patterson

Eastern's football program gained some badly needed respect Saturday, as the Panthers made Darrell Mudra's Eastern coaching debut a success by blasting Central State (Ohio) 41-16.

Poke Cobb rushed for 134 yards, and Lonnie Denton scored three touchdowns to lead the Panther attack, and a swarming defense allowed the Marauders only four first downs in the second half.

"I saw a lot of positive things out there," Mudra said. "We moved the ball well, both on the ground and through the air, and our defense just flat out played their offense."

Eastern scored first in the contest, when Cobb busted over from two yards out. Dan DiMartino added the extra point, and the Panthers led 7-0 with 8:23 remaining in the first period.

Central State marched down to the Panther 5 yard line, but were stopped on downs.

The Marauders got on the board just moments later however, when a bad center snap sailed over Eastern punter Scott McGhee's head and out of the end zone for a safety.

The Panthers scored again with only :54 left in the first half, when quarterback Steve Turk threw a touchdown pass to junior wide receiver James Warring. Warring's acrobatic catch and DiMartino's kick gave the Panthers a 12 point advantage, 14-2.

Central State was not ready to run out the clock, as they covered 67 yards in only four plays, aided by two pass interference penalties flagged against the young Panther secondary.

The second penalty occurred in the end zone, giving the Marauders a first down from the Panther one. Larry Kelly scored on the next play, and the Eastern halftime lead was a slim 14-9.

With 6:43 remaining in the third period, Eastern defensive end Tom Pettigrew recovered a fumble at the Central State 12 yard line, setting up Cobb's touchdown run on the following play.

"That was probably the biggest play of the game," Mudra said. "We had not moved the ball on our first two possessions of the half, and that touchdown really put the pressure on them."

Central came right back, as quarterback Jeff Postelli lofted a perfect strike to wide receiver Brian Greene to complete a 54 yard scoring play and the Eastern lead was back at five, 21-16 with 3:08 left in the third quarter.

Early in the final stanza, the Panthers marched to another touchdown on a 10-play, 62 yard drive. In the drive, Turk completed three passes, two to James Warring, and one 22 yard aerial to Scott McGhee on a third and 12 play to keep the drive alive.

Cobb carried the ball five times on the march, and Denton got the call from the five and rammed into the end zone. DiMartino's kick gave Eastern a 28-16 lead at the 11:12 mark.

On their next possession, the Panthers moved 76 yards in only six plays. Turk and Warring hooked up for a 40 yard gain, and Denton powered from the eight to put the game away.

Eastern scored for the final time with 2:15 remaining when Denton bulldozed across from two yards out. DiMartino's kick ended the scoring.

"We were a lot better fundamentally in that second half," Mudra said. "We made very few mistakes, that is a real good sign considering how young we are and it being the game and all."

"This game means a lot to veterans who haven't won for the two or three seasons. This kind of win really gets their confidence up."

Net sign up slated

Anyone interested in playing on the men's tennis team should sign up in Room 217 in the Lantz Building. Dutch Gossett announced.

Due to the time limit this fall, the number of entrants will be limited to anyone who has earned a tennis scholarship for at least two years in high school or junior college, Gossett said.

Wrestlers to meet

There will be an open house meeting for all interested parties Tuesday in Room 308 in the Lantz Building at 3:30 p.m. Wrestlers should obtain a physical from the University Health Service before practicing. Ron Clinton announced.

Soccer team starts out tough

by Kathy Klisars

Eastern's booters didn't have to put up much of a fight to put down the alumni 3-1 as they opened the soccer season with the Miklovic Alumni game Sunday.

The Panthers took their time with the unequalled competition, waiting until the 34th minute of the first half to score. Last year's leading scorer, Miguel Blair placed a high ball in the corner to give Eastern a 1-0 edge at the half.

Working hard in the net against his teammates was Triton College transfer John Schram who played for the alumni. Schram has proven already to be quite an asset to the Panther squad as he was awarded the game ball for Most Valuable player.

One goal that did get by Schram was a penetrating shot made by Joe Kearney in the 16th minute of the second half which gave the Panthers a definite boost.

Alumni's Donald Hale retaliated in the 23rd minute to score the team's only goal and bring them within one of the Panthers.

Striker Ross Ongaro popped in a penalty kick with nine minutes remaining in the game to tally up Eastern's third goal and first victory.

Hoping to improve front line communication and increase pressurizing this week, Eastern booters will face Columbia College in the intercollegiate opener Saturday. "All in all, I think we'll be ready for them," Hyndman calculated.
