2014 CELEBRATION OF PUBLICATIONS, CREATIVE WORKS, AND GRANTS

Wednesday, October 29
University Ballroom
3:30-5:00 p.m.

Sponsored by
The Division of Academic Affairs

At its best, a university is a collection of individuals -- students and faculty -- focused on learning and discovering new knowledge. For this goal to be realized, a critical element is having faculty members deeply engaged in such discovery within their disciplines. Scholarship, in the form of journal articles, book chapters, monographs and similar endeavors, creative activity which can take an even wider range of forms, and funded research which explores the boundaries of disciplines all contribute to such engagement. Through such participation, faculty members stay at the growing edges of their fields, and in so doing, they enrich their intellectual lives as well as those of their students.

Once again, I invite each participant at this event today to browse the contributions of your colleagues, ask questions, and celebrate the intellectual vitality of our university community. Each year as this event grows and widens its reach and audience, it continues to inspire and impress me. I am sure it will do the same for you.

Tamera Duzan & Misty Baker Child Care Resource and Referral

The Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) program is a service of the School of Family and Consumer Science. For more than 20 years, CCR&R has been an important resource for people who need child care in a six-county region surrounding Eastern. The program offers referrals of child care providers to parents and families, provides child care resources and technical assistance to parents, families, and child care providers, and assists families in paying for child care. CCR&R is funded by substantial grants from the Illinois Department of Human Services.

Tamera Duzan has been with Eastern Illinois University's School of Family and Consumer Sciences Child Care Resource and Referral since its inception in 1990. Ms. Duzan is an alumna of EIU, receiving a Bachelor's in General Studies degree with minors in Psychology and Family and Consumer Sciences, and a Master's in Family and Consumer Sciences. Ms. Duzan also teaches as an adjunct in the EIU School of Family and Consumer Sciences and has served on many committees in the past including Civil Service Council, Staff Senate, and the President's Child Care Task Force. In 2012 Tamera was approved as a trainer for early childhood professionals through the Illinois Trainers Network.

Misty Baker holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois University. Prior to joining EIU her career experience included addictions counseling, youth and family counseling, and public relations for an at-risk youth service. Since 2008 she has served as the director of the EIU Child Care Resource and Referral, and as an FCS instructor. As the mother of five children and experiencing moments of financial instability, she believes that all families should be able to access affordable, high quality child care. She is grateful for the opportunity to be a part of the EIU CCR&R team, providing support to families and providers in the community.

2014 Dean's Award of Excellence in Summer Research and Creative Activity

Dr. Britto Nathan, Biological Sciences

Dr. Nathan's research centers around neuroscience with special interest in neurological diseases. His current research is aimed at understanding the pathological pathways that lead to death of brain cells in aging humans, and predisposes them to dementia such as Alzheimer's disease. A wide range of molecular, biochemical, and cellular techniques are used in his laboratory. He has received funding from the Alzheimer's Association and the National Institute of Health, and has published in several journals including Science.

2014 Dean's Award of Excellence in Research and Creative Activity

Dr. Steven Daniel, Biological Sciences

Dr. Daniel's specialty areas center on anaerobic microbiology, microbial physiology, and environmental microbiology. His general research interests include the ecological and metabolic roles that microorganisms, especially anaerobic bacteria, play in the turnover of matter and energy in various environmental systems such as the human gut. In particular, he is interested in the degradation of toxic dietary compounds (plant-derived) by gastrointestinal bacteria and its influence on the health of the host animal, metabolism of the toxin oxalate by microorganisms, physiology and enzymology of bile acid-metabolizing gut bacteria; and acetogenic bacteria and their use in the conversion of syngas to biofuels and specialty chemicals.
