About our Conductors.....

Dennis Zeisler has been on the faculty of Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia for more than three decades, serving as Director of Bands, Professor of Clarinet and Saxophone, and Chairman of the Music Department. Under his direction, The Old Dominion University Wind Ensemble has developed into a premiere performing ensemble and has received critical acclaim for performances of works of Colgrass, Ring, Sochinski, Camphouse, Hailstork, Smith and Erickson. They have recorded for TRN Music Publishers and Frank Erickson Publications. The ODU Wind Ensemble has been featured at the Virginia Music Educators Association In-Service Conference, the College Band Directors National Association Southern Division Conference and most recently in Carnegie Hall and the Kennedy Center. As former Chair, he guided the steady growth of the Old Dominion University Music Department at the undergraduate and graduate level. Professor Zeisler has a B.M., B.M.E., and M.M. from the University of Michigan, where he was solo clarinetist of the Symphony Band under the direction of Dr. William D. Revelli. He was solo clarinetist of the Detroit Concert Band under the direction of Dr. Leonard Smith and clarinet soloist with the United States Military Academy Band at West Point. Mr. Zeisler made his New York debut in Carnegie Recital Hall in May 1974 and has performed at three International Clarinet Society Conferences. He is on the faculty of Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp in Michigan where he is principal clarinetist of the faculty orchestra and conductor of faculty and staff ensembles. In 1998, Professor Zeisler was awarded membership in the prestigious American Bandmasters Association. In 1999, he received the Orpheus Award from Phi Mu Alpha for "significant and lasting contributions to the cause of Music in America", and the Virginia Music Educator of the Year Award from the Virginia Music Educators Association. In 2004, Professor Zeisler was awarded the National Band Association Mentor Award by alumni of Old Dominion University. In 2009 he was designated a University Professor for excellence in teaching. He is the founder and conductor of the Virginia Wind Symphony, a professional wind group made up of primarily music educators from throughout the southeastern Virginia area.

David Walker has been on the faculty of Old Dominion University since 1999, serving as Director of the Old Dominion University Percussion Ensemble, and Percussion Instructor. In 2008, he became the Drumline Instructor/Arranger for the Old Dominion University Monarch Marching Band. In addition to percussion, Mr. Walker teaches Instrumental Conducting, Music Theory, Music History and Culture, and co-teaches the New Music Ensemble. The Old Dominion University Percussion Program has seen significant growth under his direction, from the percussion ensemble touring with the Fort Monroe Continental Army Band and performing at the Reagan National Library, to his private studio performing master classes with Evelyn Glennie, Kevin Bobo, Percussion Group Cincinnati, Neil Grover, Joe Locke, Chuck Redd and Colin Currie. Mr. Walker performs regularly with the Virginia Symphony Orchestra and Richmond Symphony Orchestra and is founder and
