Russian Agent Trained In Murder Sabotage Tells Story

By ROY W. ... Independent WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian secret police agent, trained in sabotage and assassination, said today religious scruples caused him to balk on a murder assignment and flee to the West.

Nikolai Khokhlov, a slight blond young man in a heavy blue suit, sat perspiring under television lights as he told his story publicly in an extraordinary session of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Chairman William Jenner R-Ind asked Khokhlov "Why did you refuse to carry out an assignment to commit murder?"

"Because, as I understand it, it is not permissible for a man to do so," Khokhlov replied through an interpreter.

Subcommittee Counsel Charles P. Grimes told Khokhlov the answer was not responsive and the interpreter, Eugene S. Serbrennikov of the Library of Congress, stated it again.

Khokhlov answered this time that he refused to murder "because I consider that murder, assassination is a crime against religion and functions."

The Russian came to the small hearing room, filled to capacity, under guard by two uniformed police officers. He sat alone with Serbrennikov at the witness table, but a subcommittee source said plainclothes agents were in the crowd for Khokhlov's protection.

Khokhlov, a captain in the terrorist Russian secret police MVD until his defection in West Berlin in mid-February, said he was sent to Germany to "liquidate" Georgi S. Okolovich, "leader in the NTS, an anti Communist underground organization composed of Russian agents."

Instead of assassinating Okolovich, Khokhlov sought him out and told of the plot. Okolovich then helped him find sanctuary in the West.

The NTS, Khokhlov said, is "dedicated to carry out a revolution in Russia and replace the present regime with one that would be more free."

He said he was trained in the MVD section devoted to "diversionist and terrorist activities in behalf of the Soviet abroad."

Khokhlov, when questioned, he said terrorist functions were "liquidation of orders for the assassination or murder of individual persons."

Under the heading of diversionist tactics, he put "preparation or organization of explosions, sabotage, setting fires in ports and harbors and activities of that kind—destruction of different kinds of war production, throwing bombs in various cities to produce panic."

Jenner, only subcommittee member present for the opening, read a statement saying "Frankly... this witness has given a great deal of testimony in closed sessions which, for security reasons, he will not be asked to repeat in open session."

Teenagers Cause Subway Damage

NEW YORK, May 21 (UP)—Subway officials counted hundreds of dollars' damage today in the wreckage of one of the worst student riots in the city's history.

Two transit attendants were beaten, several subway stations and cars were ransacked, and passengers were thoroughly terrified when more than 500 teenagers rioted Thursday after a high school field day was called off because of rain.

Forty-three students, including 19 girls, were arrested by a squad of hurriedly summoned police.

One 16-year old student was held in $10,000 bail on disorderly conduct charges by a judge who called on city officials to "stop codding" youthful offenders who demonstrate "such mass irresponsibility."

The riot erupted shortly after some 3,000 students from four high schools were turned away from a scheduled field day in Van Cortlandt Park in the Bronx because of rain.

Most of the students entered the 242nd Street Station in orderly fashion, police said.

A small group, however, tore down a gate, vaulted coin turnstiles and mobbed their way into a waiting subway train.

As the train pulled out of the station, the uproar spread among more than 500 students jammed into several cars. With the train speeding downtown, the students smashed windows, knocked out light bulbs, tore up seat cushions and hurled them from windows onto the tracks.

The train screeched to a halt several times as the rioters yanked on emergency brake cords. During stops, the rioters dashed out of the train and grabbed candy bars from newsstands, police said.

Committee To Study Race Issue

FRANKFORT (AP)—Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby said today he plans to appoint an advisory committee to study the effect the Supreme Court's decision to outlaw segregation in the public schools will have on Kentucky's school system.

At the same time Wetherby declined an invitation to meet with governors of other states to talk about the issue.

Wetherby sent a telegram to Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, of Virginia, saying it would be impossible for him to attend the proposed meeting in Richmond, Va., on June 7.

Wetherby added, "In my opinion the Supreme Court decision affects in different ways, and I propose to appoint an advisory committee to study the opinion and determine what action Kentucky should take."

Atty. Gen. J. D. Buckman Jr. declined a similar invitation yesterday. Gov. Herman Talmadge, of Georgia, had asked Buckman to attend a meeting of Southern attorneys general to discuss the ruling.

The action of the two top Kentucky officials in declining to join other Southern states in possible attempts to "get around" or fight the court ruling is regarded by observers as proof Kentucky intends to accept the court ruling and to make whatever adjustments in its education system that are necessary.

Both Wetherby and Buckman previously have said as much, stating Kentucky will do whatever is necessary to comply with the decision which outlaws racial segregation in public schools.

Fishing Will Be Good On Lake This Weekend

FRANKFORT (AP)—The state Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources predicted today that fishing will be good in most Kentucky lakes and streams within the next few days as water temperatures rise.

The recent cold weather—cut down on the number of fish being taken, and it took an angler with plenty of know how to land a decent catch.

There is encouraging news from Kentucky Lake. Largemouth bass have begun to move and are reported to be biting better on surface plugs than at any time this year. Crappie fishing at Kentucky Lake is still slow, according to reports.

Conservation officer Mack Wilson said that the bass are off their nests at Lake Cumberland and that this year's crop of baby bass is the best in the history of the lake.

Bream and rough fish catches are reported improving at Herkington Lake with crappie taking slow. Dale Hollow reports that bass fishing is picking up. Dewey Lake reported only limited catches.

The Horse Show sponsored by the Murray High School PTA will be presented on Friday night June 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Peabody Hotel.

The show was postponed from May 7 because of rain.

The 88 yard relay team composed of Holmes Ellis, Marshall Garland, Dale Alexander, and Billy Dale Outland finished second and qualified for the State Track meet.

In the state Holmes Ellis "was the big gun for Western Kentucky as he won the high hurdles in a flat 15.3 seconds as the boy from Lafayette who best Holmes last year finished second. Holmes had had luck in the low hurdles as he hit one and his stride was broken so he finished second behind the boy from Lafayette. His wins gave Murray High 10 points and sixth in the state as only finished above Tilghman who just got 6 1/2 points.

WHY WAGES ARE HIGH

A survey was just completed by the Apprenticeship Department of the Labor Bureau of the United States Census to determine why wages of skilled workers are so high when compared with those of other workers. The results indicate high hourly wages do not necessarily mean high yearly income, also that in many cases unskilled workers earn more per year than some who are highly skilled.

Brickmasons, stonecutters, carpenters and others whose hourly wages have increased faster than the national average are still underpaid on an annual basis because some work as little as 35 percent of the time, and hardly any are fortunate enough to work 70 percent of the working days in the year.

The highest paid skilled workers are still railroad engineers who can earn an average of $4,500.00 a year and work only 71 percent of the working days. And the two steadiest, and considered by far the most desirable skilled trades, are plastermasons and type compositors in printing and publishing plants.

Of every 100 persons in the country 39 are in the civilian labor force, 28 of them were males, and only 5 were skilled. Practically no women are craftsmen. The fastest growing trade is airplane mechanic, followed closely by telephone linemen, tool and die makers, excavators, roofers and opticians.

While the purpose of the survey is to provide information for those considering apprenticeships in various crafts it also answers the question as to why skilled workers are so scarce. It also explains why the hourly rate of pay is so high for some skilled workers. And the growing tendency to divert as much production as possible, even in the budding trades, to the assembly line.

We have always thought that there is much more to consider in appraising the value of a job than the wage per hour. Too many are tempted to give up satisfactory employment for higher wages only to discover annual income is no more than before, sometimes less. The steel workers are probably on the right track in their effort to increase their annual income, even if they have to work for less per hour.

WHY ARE WE AFRAID?

If the present generation of Americans were to try to explain the difference between our present way of life and that of thirty or forty years ago they would probably agree that "fear" has replaced a feeling of confidence and security that is one of the prime requisites for happiness and well-being.

We are not only afraid of other nations; we are afraid of each other. We used to feel we were at least as good as anybody else on earth, and too many of us probably felt we were better. We had a President named Theodore Roosevelt who was largely responsible for us feeling that way.

We had trouble, even then, with Central American countries, but we certainly were never afraid of them. They tell us Russia is shipping arms to Guatemala and it scares the day-lights out of us.

Germany did the same thing more than a generation ago. Spain armed Mexico and Cuba but there probably wasn't an American who didn't feel that we could lick both of them with one hand tied behind our backs, and Germany or Spain either, if they wanted to fight.

We once knew an old preacher whose favorite expression was: "the world belongs to the impudent." We think of him often when we consider who is running things on the home front, in state, national and world affairs.

When we read about the showing Russian and Chinese diplomats make at Geneva we shut our eyes and think about our own statesmen of the past, even back to the days of Benjamin Franklin, and when we hear about Malenkov giving orders to all and sundry we think of Teddy Roosevelt.

The world really does "belong to the impudent." If the greatest nation on earth isn't "impudent" enough to seize and maintain world leadership can we blame a pee-wee like Malenkov for doing so. And if we associate with Chinese Reds, and other butchers, can we blame them for being over-bearing and insolent?

And anybody who thinks fear may lead to peace should compare our war record since 1917 with the thirty years prior to that time.

The Calloway County Conservation Club will have its regular, and probably last meeting for the summer, Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Court Room at the Court House. It has been customary for the club to discontinue the twice monthly meetings during the summer months of June, July and August, resuming the meetings the second Monday in September.

At the last meeting amendments and resolutions were made to effect the possibility of women becoming members of the Sports Club. Already several memberships have been received by Paul Butterworth, the club Sec. and these new members are expected to be present at the meeting Monday. Anyone wishing to join the club is invited to attend the final meeting of the summer, this coming Monday.

ATTENTION BOYS-GIRLS
A very generous offer has been made several times at the Sportsman Club meeting by its president, Al Blum, owner of Irvin Cobb Resort. He offers to teach any boy or girl the fine art of casting, all one must do is go to the Cobb and ask for Mr. Blum. He promised to make a champion out of those learning from him. So far, no one has taken advantage of this wonderful opportunity, and we think enough of Blum's ability to give his offer wider distribution. He has equipment for those that do not have their own. He has equipment for those that do not have their own mental of casting, and maybe, he will even point out a bass lair for you. Here's hoping some young fellows and girls will make Al keep his promise.

J. C. Benedict lifted these 48 crappie from the water long enough for us to snap the picture, Saturday a week ago. He and his wife were fishing out of Lynburner Resort, and what happened to fish into the same cove in which they were anchored. We asked how they were doing and Benedict, a Murray State College Graduate, lifted the string and showed us.

The largest one will go to 2 lbs. with several nice ones over 1-pound hanging on the stringer. It was only about 9:30 a.m. when the picture was made, which left plenty of time for the Wicketite, Ky. couple to pick up the rest of their limit. J. C. said that he learned of the good fishing while a student at Murray State and has been coming back to a favorite spot often since he left Murray.

THIS WEEKS REPORTS
The lake proper (where the Tenn. River used to be) seems to be picking up with some fine catches being reported. Bass are giving some real thrills now, though some are still being taken that are full of roe, and the best fishing is yet to come.

CALTON MURPHY and JAMIE HARRELL, fishing in the Patterson area on the lake, took 18 crappie and 1 bass during a short trip Monday. Harrell said that several small bass were taken and released, some hitting the top water Hula Popper plug, but that the keepers were not to be found. Rain halted the fishing for them.

Patterson also yielded an assortment of fish for Leonard Wood and Ernest Cleveland, Jr. They reported taking 7 crappie, 4 bream, and 2 bass. Several small bass were taken on the L. & S. Panfish and Johnson's red and white spoons which were released. They said that they drew their best up alongside a man, fishing a L. & S. Bassmaster, who was wading the shallows. The fisherman had six bass on his stringer, two of which would weigh up to three pounds. Cyprus Creek got into the reports this week when J. W. SO-

COGGINS and MITCHELL ARNETT reported taking 21 crappie there, Cyprus being a relative short embayment of water often makes people think that its fishing qualities plays out early in the season. There is hardly a place on Kentucky Lake where it fishes better enough, fish cannot be taken, even the year around.

strung 28 crappie. Ray Cable and "arty" (no names or indication of how many) caught 40 crappie in Bloody. J. P. Morgan and a friend, fishing in Wildcat Creek, limited with 60 crappie. Morgan went again the next day to score 25 on the crappie, two short of the limit for a second time in as many days.

CRAPPIE CONTEST WINNERS
The Murray-Bait Company had to divide the 5 doz. minnow prize for the largest crappie of the week three ways last week. Three fishermen reported and produced as evidence crappies weighing 1 lb. 8 oz. The Bait Company will award 2 doz. minnows to each of the winners, to solve the problem of splitting 5 doz. three ways.

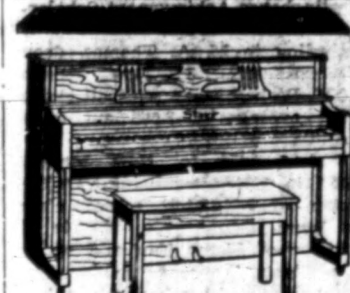

David Parker, Murray, registered one of the winning crappies and reported taking 14 others out of Blood River, along with his whopper, Mrs. Wheeler, wife of the Bait Company manager, said that David was about 16 years old and "the happiest boy I've ever seen." We would be too with a nice slab like David's.

MRS. EREMONT GOETZ, of Sikeson, Mo., was fishing in Crap-ple Hollow with her husband when she hooked into the crappie that made her one of the winners. Together, the Goetz's boated 29 crappie that day.

The other winner of the Bait Company contest was R. E. Rinehart, Murray, who was fishing with his wife in Bloody. They took 17 crappie in all, the biggest rewarding them with 2 doz. minnows with which to fish for many days. The leader thus far this week in the current weeks contest is MRS. DAISY SHOEMAKER, Murray, who was angling with CAR-RYE JOHNSTON in Wildcat Creek. The ladies strung 18 crappie all total with the largest weighing 1 lb. 3 oz., which they have registered at the Bait Company.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

NEW YORK, May 21, (UP)—The talk among members of the golf fraternity as they prepare for the U.S. Open at Baltusrol June 17-19 is all Ben Hogan and Sam Snead but don't be too surprised if it turns out to be one of the many newcomers hitting the fairway jackpot.

This thought was put into words by Earl Stewart, the loquacious red-head out of Texas, during the recent Palm Beach Round-Robin when he said flatly: "I don't think either Hogan or Snead will win it. My guess is that it will be somebody you never heard of."

The odds are prohibitive against a complete unknown marching up to the payoff window in the "big one," but it could be almost any possibly such a one as Bantam one of some 20 professionals—and Bob Toski, out of Northampton, Mass.

You'll be hearing a lot about this little man with the big grin in the next few years, for Toski proved this winter that he finally had found the touch on the tough pro circuit by winning such as the Hayes, Baton Rouge and Wilmington opens.

Ryder Cup Berth?
That makes him the leader among those striving for Ryder Cup points and he already has banked a fat total of $12,000 this year. It went almost unnoticed in Snead's magnificent victory in the Palm Beach, but this same 27-year old Toski, who now plays out of the Cedar Hill Club in Livingston, N.J., finished a fine second.

The five-foot, eight inch slinger could credit his success to marriage, for since he became a bridegroom in December he has been playing like a giant. Two years ago at Ardmore, Okla., he almost ruined his career when he did a jack-knife off the high board at the club swimming pool and injured his back. There will be no more such hi-jinks.

"I've even put on weight," delightedly smiles the tiny man who weighs 130 pounds now. "But he hits the ball like a man who weighs 230."

"It's probably due to more confidence," he explains. "I'm hitting the ball 25 yards longer now than when I first started on the tour. Of course, I've had to take a longer backswing and generate more clubhead speed."

Brothers Encourage Him
Little Bob credits his two brothers, Jack and Ben, both of them home club pros who don't make the circuit, with "making" him. "It's tough getting started in competitive golf," he explains. "They figured I had the game, despite my small size, and they bank-rolled me. Let me tell you, it's a rough racket physically, but it's even rougher when you have to worry about finances."

Toski proved how far he had come in winning the Wilmington Open. He hardly remembers the final round and was so sick with a virus fever that he hardly could play the last three holes. But he finished grimly—and won it—and then spent three days in bed.

That's the kind of challengers, young comers such as Toski, whom Hogan and Snead will have to beat off at Baltusrol. It is to be doubted that the chore could be accomplished by a complete unknown, for Toski admits: "I've learned more in two or three years on the circuit than I could have learned in 25 years as a club professional."

But he's one of the twosome young hopefuls who will be trying, and just about any one of them could turn the trick.

FISHIN' IS REAL GOOD

Here is proof enough that the bass are hitting well. Russell Settle, of Indianapolis, Ind., caught this 4-pound 8 ounce smallmouth while with Harry Crocker on Kentucky Lake. Settle entered the bass in the Paris, Tennessee Fishing Rodeo. Bass like these make people from all over the U. S. come to Kentucky for the fine fishing our waters offer.

MORE ABOUT --- YOUR MILK SUPPLY

The first requirement of any modern pasteurizing plant is a high quality milk supply.

1. OUR Grade A producers must have several thousand dollars invested in a modern spotless milking barn and about $1500 to $2500 worth of modern sanitary equipment such as electric milking machines, electric milk cooler, electric hot water heater, and various other items.
2. Our producers plant is inspected once each month by the County Sanitarian. He rates the entire setup and sanitary practices of each producer, and leaves rating sheet with him.
3. The County Sanitarian collects from each producer a sample of milk once each month and sends it to the Kentucky State Dept. of Health Laboratory for complete analysis. Any producer failing below a certain dairy rating and sanitary practice is degraded and removed from our list of approved Grade A producers.
4. In addition to the above, our own Field Agent devotes most of his time working with our producers helping them to maintain, EVERY DAY, a high standard of quality for Grade A milk.

We are proud of our Grade A producers, and we as well as our producers, would be most happy to have you visit them. We believe your visit would be most interesting.

Take the children.

INDO DELTA BATTLE UNDERWAY

WITH EVACUATION of wounded from Dienbienphu being negotiated, Indochina warfare now centers in the river delta around Hanoi, with strongest enemy pressure concentrated near Phuly (arrow). WHY DON'T YOU CARRY CUT-RATE INSURANCE? IF IT IS SO GOOD, WHY DO THEY HAVE TO CUT THE PRICE?

Why take chances for a few dollars possible "saving"? You can "save" money by having your telephone taken out and making calls from a corner drugstore but this would be inconvenient and in case of an emergency might prove disastrous.

You might do without the service of an insurance agent, too, and possibly "save" a few dollars but like the lack of a telephone, this might, in the case of an emergency not only prove inconvenient but very costly. Be SURE of your insurance.

Over $480,000,000

Yes, over $480,000,000 was spent in Kentucky last year through the travel industry. That's a lot of dollars . . . and it takes a lot of doing to keep these dollars flowing . . .

Your state government feels that it is in a partnership with the owners of hotels, tourist courts, restaurants and other businesses that cater to the traveler and with the Kentucky State Chamber of Commerce and local organizations to promote the travel industry and to serve those who want to visit over Kentucky.

The Kentucky Division of Publicity wages an all-out campaign to attract tourists into Kentucky, and its national advertising campaign has resulted in an average of 120,000 inquiries from out-of-state tourists annually.

Through the Division of Parks, your state government has built a system of state parks that are attracting national attention and aiding in bringing many thousands of visitors into Kentucky each month.

The travel industry is big business, and its benefits reach into many communities and rewards flow from it into many pockets. Let's take care of the visitors . . . treat them right so that they will go away pleased, will return themselves and send others to us. Give them a full measure of true Kentucky hospitality.
