WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 . . . . . COVENANT PLAYERS

Covenant Players: A traditional sermon with a brand new application. The tradition is based on first, Christ's method of preaching--parables, and second, the medieval church, using story-telling prolifically to communicate to its followers, who could not read or write. Covenant Players will be presenting a sermon through drama---drama chosen specifically for our chapel service! Ancient truths with a modern touch--here is an opportunity for people to see themselves, to examine their faith in today's world. You will see and enjoy this traditional form of modern preaching by Covenant Players. From Los Angeles, this international repertory drama group has, in its eighteen years of operation, performed in twenty-five countries around the world. With eighty-five full time touring groups, they have stirred and challenged people to take a closer look at themselves and the practice of their faith.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8 . . . . . SUMMER OF SERVICE CHAPEL

Sometimes, taking that first step to get involved in missions is the hardest. During this chapel, you will have the opportunity to learn first-hand from the students and faculty who took that step this summer. The wide variety of experiences ranged from child evangelism in Cyprus, to working in inner-city Philadelphia, to teaching English in Japan. This chapel could provide the information you will need, to consider taking that first big step.

A graduate of Spring Arbor College and Michigan State University, her academic specialty is modern American literature. She studied modern poetry under an NEH grant in San Diego and will read a paper at Bethel College this month. This morning Dr. Baker will suggest that the best teachers are those who expect to learn the most and are most sensitive to the legitimacy of other cultures.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15 . . . . . TAYLOR HERITAGE CHAPEL

"The Angel in Ebony"

President Jay Kesler will introduce this definitive film biography, produced during the mid-1950's, of Taylor's most famous student. There had been several written biographies of Sammy Morris (Prince Kaboo) previously, the most famous one by President Thaddeus Reade. Reade's biography of this Apostle of Simple Faith, Sammy Morris or the Spirit Filled Life, sold over 200,000 copies, with the proceeds and the resulting publicity being the factor that kept the school alive in the financially strained turn-of-the-century years. Come and enjoy a small portion of Taylor's rich heritage--an illustration of the profound effect which a simple life lived with purpose can have.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 17 . . . . . THE JOYBELLS

A unique handbell choir, the Joybells, twelve boys and girls ranging in age from fifteen to twenty-two, live and play and go to school together on an eighty-acre campus of Melmark, a home and school for mentally and physically handicapped students. Most of the Joybells have Down's Syndrome, yet they play beautiful music on a four-octave set of Schulmerich handbells with amazing dexterity. They present a varied program of handbell selections and vocal solos with hand-signing accompaniment. The Joybells have performed on TV, with the Brass Ensemble of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, twice for the Governor of Pennsylvania's Inauguration ceremonies, and at the White House Executive Staff Christmas Open House. The Melmark Home, located in Berwyn, PA, is a non-profit residential facility licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare for the care and training of the mentally retarded. The Melmark School is also a private academic school serving the special educational needs of these residents. The Joybells capture the hearts of any and every audience, and gently open eyes that have been closed too long--to the world of the handicapped.

MR. MICHAEL MILLS

"Rock - A Special Report"

Concerned experts say the most powerful influence on America's 64 million youth is not their parents, church or school, but Rock Music. Millions have heard the Bible's answer through this nationally recognized documentary, hosted by Evangelist Michael Mills, president and founder of Research Ministries. He has devoted years of research into rock music and its Satanic influence and effect on youth in America and worldwide. A nationally known speaker, he has addressed hundreds of thousands in person and has reached millions by television and radio with his findings. Michael has been featured in major newspapers and news segments across America and has been honored by the V.F.W. as an outstanding spokesman for freedom. He is a consultant on the occult and rock violence, with police and news agencies. Come and listen to his special presentation on our campus.

Born in Berlin, Germany, Dr. Schlamm, along with her family suffered persecution under Hitler because they were Jewish. Her family fled to Holland to escape the Nazi terror, but were captured and sent to concentration camps, first in Holland and then to Bergen-Belsen in Germany. Miraculously freed, the Schlamms spent two years in Holland before being allowed to immigrate to the United States in 1947. Dr. Schlamm attended college and continued on to medical school, completing her internship at U.C.L.A., and taking specialty training in Pediatrics at Children's Hospital of Los Angeles. She was in private practice in Glendale, CA from 1949 to 1971, and since then has worked in Child Health Clinics. Sharing her testimony of how she came to know her Messiah has become the focus of Dr. Schlamm's life. Her life story is depicted in the book Pursued, co-authored by Bob Friedman. An updated version has recently been published by Regal.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12 . . . . . MR. DUMITRU DUDUMAN

"Holiness and the Precious Time We Are Living"

A Bible courier, who states he has smuggled 300,000 Bibles into the U.S.S.R. from his native Romania, will describe his brutal treatment at the hands of Securitate, the Romanian Secret Service. Dumitru, who speaks through an interpreter, will describe how he was expelled from his country last year, fled to Italy, and then to the United States. He now lives in Fullerton, CA with his wife, Maria. His expulsion was the government's last recourse to stop him from smuggling the bibles which he obtained from U.S., German and Dutch missionaries. He will tell of the constant battling between atheists and Christians in Russia and Romania. The atheists, tied to the Communist governments, fear the power faith can give those who are oppressed. His is a remarkable story!

He served in pastoral ministry for four and one-half years, prior to founding the New England Christian Action Council, December 1983. With the NECAC he has taught seminars and addressed many thousands through public forums and debates on college campuses, concerning abortion. His principal concern is to view the abortion controversy in light of the Gospel, not to "bend" the Gospel to fit some political agenda, but to articulate the abortion issue in light of the Gospel and public policy. The NECAC has sponsored many public marches, and John has personally communicated with dozens of New England's leading pro-choice leaders. John and his wife Nancy live with their three sons in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

The following quotation might well be his watchword for the BAE Department of Taylor: "The world needs 'Christian tigers' who can combine tough minds and warm hearts in such a way that they can be Christian, competent, competitive, caring--and successful. And further development and promotion of this challenge and responsibility should be enthusiastically pursued by the Christian academic community."

FRIDAY, APRIL 24 . . . . . MR. ELIOT WIGGINTON

In 1966, Eliot Wigginton, straight out of Cornell University, returned to Raban County, GA, where he had been partly raised, to face a group of 155 bored and hostile ninth and tenth grade English students. Wigginton turned this situation into what has been called one of the most dramatically successful high school projects in the nation. A magazine was born - "Foxfire" - a publication that focuses on the practical knowledge and customs of the Appalachian natives. "Foxfire" has grown into six nationally distributed books, all put together by students. The program now includes not only the magazine, but a television production division, a music division, environmental division, photography division, radio division and a publishing company. All projects in the divisions are developed and produced by the students under the guidance of advisors who are employed and paid by the students through the Foxfire Fund, Inc., a non-profit organization.

MONDAY, APRIL 27 . . . . . DR. DAN YUTZY

"Journey Out: Walking With Jesus"

Dr. Dan Yutzy chose Luke 24 as his text for today's chapel. The Emmaus story from this chapter illustrates or illuminates many of our own parochialisms and the need for a visitation of the Master to set things in perspective. Dr. Yutzy, head of Taylor's Sociology Department, continues to be active preaching and conducting Bible teaching, seminars, retreats, etc. on our campus, nearby, and farther afield.

"Oh Shucks - No Simple Answers?"

Pastor Bob Griffin will invite us to look at a few mysteries of life with him. What do we do when faced with a paradox in Biblical truth and life? Do we "wait on the Lord..." or "press on to the mark of the high calling"? Serving as University Chaplain, counselor and friend of students, Bob is in his sixth year at Taylor.
