While living in Spain with the Little Brothers of Jesus of Charles de Foucauld, he worked as a construction worker and praying in solitude, spent seven months in a cave twelve miles from the nearest village. He worked as a dishwasher in France and voluntarily spent six months as a prisoner in a Swiss jail with his identity as a priest known only to the warden. From 1973-1975 he returned to campus ministry in Fort Lauderdale, and then began to engage in a full-time ministry of evangelization. In 1982 Brennan married and now makes his home in New Orleans from where he continues to travel and preach retreats and missions.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15 . . . . . PASTOR HAMAN CROSS, JR.

As a preteen, Haman Cross, Jr. discerned God's calling on his life as a full-time Christian worker/minister. He entered Nyack Missionary College in New York, later transferring and graduating from Detroit Bible College (currently William Tyndale College). Immediately following graduation, he entered full-time Christian work at his parents' church, Detroit's Afro-American Mission, where he learned to be a servant by being everything from Janitor to Youth Guidance Counselor and Youth Minister. In March, 1982, Haman gave a public declaration of his response to God's direction to begin a new church in the City of Detroit. The request of key families, discernment of the spiritual needs of Detroit, and a strong conviction, along with being gifted with talents and skills necessary to edify and lead others to Jesus, culminated in the founding of Rosedale Park Baptist Church. Pastor Cross repeatedly stresses to his congregation the importance of "bodylife" or fellowship. "Once we begin to minister to each other, God will develop compassionate hearts within us, and people outside will want us to minister to them," he says.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17 . . . . . FATHER ELIAS CHACOUR

Currently Father Chacour is building schools, libraries, community centers and youth clubs throughout Israel's Galilee region, where he continues his work of reconciliation in the strained atmosphere of Israel. He hopes to "change hearts, not simply institutions." His ventures are bold and often risky. Too, Father Chacour keeps a grueling schedule lecturing worldwide, always relying on the simple and urgent message of the Beatitudes.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20 . . . . . MR. MOSS NTLHA

Moss Ntlha is the National Coordinator of Concerned Evangelicals, an interracial (predominantly black) South African organization working for an end to apartheid and a free, just, democratic future for all South Africans. Mr. Ntlha is a graduate of the University of the North/Turfloop with a BS in Science. While at the university he was Chairman of the university SCM (a black evangelical university movement in South Africa). He started New Life Ministries after university, a community ministry doing evangelism, leadership development among youth, and community development near Soweto. As National Coordinator of Concerned Evangelicals, Mr. Ntlha has taken an active role in the struggle against apartheid and in reconciliation activities bringing together blacks and whites.

MONDAY, APRIL 17 . . . . . REV. BILL HYBELS

"A Walk Down the Street Called Desire"

A warm welcome is again extended to Bill Hybels, Senior Pastor of Willow Creek Community Church in South Barrington, IL. Bill's ministry at Willow Creek, since its inception in 1975, has adhered to a two-pronged philosophy. On Saturday evenings and Sunday mornings, drama, multimedia, contemporary music and practical spoken messages are used to present the ageless truths of Scripture at an introductory level, easily understood by non-churched people. The low-key evangelistic environment of these Saturday and Sunday services stands in marked contrast to the worship and atmosphere of the Wednesday evening services, where between three and four thousand believers gather together for singing, communion, and in-depth expository teaching. The church now operates from a 112 acre campus with a staff of over 100, and continues to grow.
