WANTS REPRESENTATION

Horicon Man Charges State Dragging on 13th District

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A Horicon man says he got "the run-around" in the state capitol, or there might have been another election in Wisconsin April 1.

Francis Bellow, 51, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, has been conducting a one-man campaign since January to get what he calls assurances of representation in the state Senate for the 13th District.

The district's elected senator, veteran Republican leader Frank Panzer, 78, the Senate's president emeritus, has been ill and unable to attend any sessions since 1967.

Under state law, an office cannot be declared vacant because of extended absence. Only death, resignation or recall could give Gov. Warren P. Knowles authority to call a special election to name a successor.

In deference to Panzer's past services, senators, including Republican majority leader Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan, are reluctant to discuss the matter.

"It's a delicate issue," Keppler said. "Panzer has devoted his entire life to public service."

Bellow, saying he has nothing personal against Panzer, said he wrote to Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman in January about the matter, and that Zimmerman passed the letter on to Republican Lt. Gov. Jack Olson, president of the Senate.

Olson wrote Bellow later in January that state law provides for removing a senator by resignation, death or recall petition.

Bellow said that when he asked for a sample of a recall petition, Olson referred him to Leo Fahey, state election supervisor.

"Fahey said in February he would send me a sample petition in the mail, but never did. I think I have been getting the run-around in my attempt to get representation for the 13th District," Bellow said.

Fahey said recently he recalled a phone conversation about a recall petition, but could not remember Bellow's specific request.

"If he really wanted it, he could have put his request in writing and then he'd have some evidence," Fahey said. "He did not get the run-around from this office, that's for sure."

Bellow said he also wrote to Mrs. Panzer, but received no answer.

"I stopped pushing because I didn't want to harass people and become a big villain," he said.

Bellow said he planned to circulate a recall petition in order to have the office declared vacant.

"Then the election could have been on the April ballot so there would be no need for a special election and special expense," he said.

"I have nothing against Frank, although I know him only remotely," Bellow added, "but the 150,000 persons in Washington, Jefferson and the eastern half of Dodge counties need representation."

The law requires a recall petition to be signed by one-fourth the number of persons who voted in the district in the last gubernatorial election. Bellow would need about 15,000 names.

"After my interest was made public," Bellow said, "people began calling and writing me by the hundreds in sympathy with my move. Some even offered suggestions."

Bellow, who has lived in Horicon 18 years, said Panzer's term does not expire for almost two years. The Assemblyman from the district cannot adequately represent its residents in the senator's absence, he said.

Bellow said he is not sure if he will go through with a recall petition now.

"Some people have encouraged me," he said.

But he said the cost of a special election, and the possibility that Panzer — whose name would automatically go on the ballot in a special election might win re-election on a "sympathy vote," discourage him.

"Even though the principle I'm fighting for and trying to bring before the attention of the legislators is righteous, the election result might leave us in the same predicament," he said.

In the case of a recall, the governor must call a special election within 50 to 75 days.

"But I understand that Mr. Panzer will not run in the next election, and since the legislature probably will not be in session next year, a special election might not be worth the expense," Bellow said.

Bellow, who once said he might be a candidate for the job, insisted he is no longer interested in the Senate post. He ran for the Assembly last fall as an independent candidate.

A 1940 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Bellow is a technical writer for a Fond du Lac firm.

Panzer is in his 27th consecutive year as legislator, having served his first term in the Wisconsin Assembly in 1931.

For 20 years, he was president pro tem of the Senate. He was made president emeritus in 1966, and the position of president pro tem was given to Sen. Robert Knowles, R-New Richmond, brother of the governor.

He has been in Lutheran Hospital at Beaver Dam for about a year, victim of a stroke.

State Senate Approves 'Equal Pay for Equal Work'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota Senate Monday gave preliminary approval to the so-called "equal pay for equal work law" which provides that employers not discriminate against workers on the basis of sex.

Women's groups have complained that their sex has not been given equal pay with male workers for similar type jobs and performance.

Under the bill approved, the employer would be responsible for remuneration for the lost wages, plus an amount equal to that figure as the judge decides. The employer must also pay court costs.

The House Monday passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving a 7 per cent tax credit to business which install anti-pollution equipment.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Ray Pavlak, South St. Paul, would allow an industry to offset its state income tax by 7 per cent of the cost of anti-pollution equipment, with a $50,000 limit in any year.

The equipment would have to be installed solely for pollution abatement and could not be part of the production process.

The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday approved a bill which make it a misdemeanor for demonstrators to interfere with the legislature or other government agencies.

Sen. William Dosland, Moorhead, main author of the measure, told the committee "this bill is not to determine another form of trespass or burglary. But it provides that a small minority cannot interfere with the operation of government, legislature or whatever, in an attempt to publicize their cause."

The bill also acknowledges the right of citizens to petition their government in a peaceful and orderly manner.

A House subcommittee studying the parimutuel betting bill has scheduled a hearing at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Rep. Richard Richie, St. Paul, and Sen. Henry McKnight, Woodland, have introduced bills to legalize horse race betting in Minnesota.

Also Monday, an amendment was proposed to the state constitution which would give the legislature the power to pass laws to remove judges under certain conditions.

Sen. Kelly Gage, Mankato, offered the bill, which proposes removal when a judge is "incapacitated, guilty of willful misconduct, willful and persistent failure to perform duties, habitual intemperance or conduct prejudicial to administration of justice while in office."

The legislature also threw sharp barbs at a proposal to give free tuition at state colleges to wives and children of faculty members.

The idea had been raised in a letter to legislators from the Inter-Faculty Organization, which represents faculties at the six state colleges.

The organization said free tuition for families would be a valuable fringe benefit and would help recruit and retain college teachers. The group said the estimated $70,000 a year cost to the state would be "a minor expense."

Rep. Rod Searle, Waseca, called the idea unreasonable and said the plan was being proposed even after it received a decidedly cool reaction earlier from lawmakers.

500 Musicians To Compete at Blair Saturday

BLAIR, Wis. — Blair High School will host the Western Wisconsin Music Festival Association Saturday.

Everett Berg, band director here, will be host to the all-day event, in which some 500 students will compete for district honors in vocal and instrumental solo and ensemble events. Winners of first places in Class A will compete in the state contest at Eau Claire May 3.

Schools participating will be Arcadia, Blair, Cochrane-Fountain City, Gale-Ettrick, Holmen, Independence, Melrose - Mindoro, Taylor, Trempealeau and Whitehall.

Berg said the contests will open at 8 a.m. and won't be over until 5 p.m.

Blair also will entertain the band and chorus district contest May 10.

Three More Districts Lose Federal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal funds will be cut off for three more school districts and three hospitals in the South accused of failing to comply with nondiscrimination provisions of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

They are Bleckley and Washington county school districts in Georgia, the Pascagoula Municipal Separate School District in Mississippi, and three Mississippi hospitals: Kuhn Memorial at Vicksburg, Matty Hersee at Meridian and Natchez Charity at Natchez.

The terminations, announced Monday by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, are to become effective in 30 days.

Leon E. Pannetta, director of the Office for Civil Rights, said as of March 27 federal funds had been terminated for a total of 126 school districts in 17 southern and border states.

Another 143 had been cited for administrative proceedings and 236 are currently negotiating with the department.

Seven other hospitals in the South are barred from federal funds because of charges they discriminate against Negroes.

Queen To Visit Montreal

QUEEN TO VISIT MONTREAL (AP) — Queen Juliana of the Netherlands has begun a visit with her daughter Princess Christina, 22, a voice student at a music school here.

The queen, who arrived Monday, expects to stay 10 days.

Court Refuses to Yield to Political Realities

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's latest one-man one-vote ruling represents a refusal to yield to political realities in the states.

The Constitution, the court says, demands a "good faith" attempt to draw exactly equal congressional districts.

State legislators, using federal census figures, have to aim for the bulls-eye. If they don't, said Justice William J. Brennan Jr., "they must justify each variance."

All this looks like trouble for the legislators—and for the federal courts which will have to pass on apportionment plans.

For Brennan's opinion Monday rejected as possible justifications "partisan politics," the fact that a plan represents "reasonable legislative compromise," or that the legislators didn't want to fragment areas with "distinct economic and social interests."

He even rejected "a state's preference for pleasingly shaped districts."

DEAR ABBY:

'Crumpled Petals' Bothering Bachelor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 28, a bachelor, and a college graduate. I recently returned to this town to head my late father's business. I have been decorated in combat and have seen my share of the world, and now I am ready to settle down for the right girl.

Finding a desirable mate among wet-nosed college co-eds, divorcees, and town tramps is virtually impossible.

Nonetheless, there is one who has become rather special. We dated in high school. She was the local beauty queen and is still very attractive. However, she is divorced and has two children.

I could care for this woman, and the question of marriage has crossed my mind, but in my present business position I shudder at the thought of shackling myself with children who aren't mine, and a "second-hand Rose" with crumpled petals.

S.O.S.

DEAR S.O.S.: Sounds to me as though the little lady has already had her share of headaches, so give her a break and look further for a mate. If you regard a divorcee as a "second-hand Rose with crumpled petals" and admit that you can't accept another man's children as your own, this woman is not for you.

DEAR ABBY: We have many children in our neighborhood who have B. B. guns. One 14-year-old started coming into my yard to shoot birds, and I saw him handling his gun in a very irresponsible manner. I called his mother and told her if her son was going to use a gun, he should go to the YMCA and take a course in the proper handling of firearms. She told me he KNEW how to handle a gun, yet I've seen him pumping his gun with the barrel pointed toward his head. I then told her that since I have children who are six and eight, whose playmates come over a lot, I didn't want her boy in my yard with his gun. (One child had already suffered a chipped tooth from a shot in the mouth!)

Well, the next time I saw the boy in my yard with his gun I called the police. Not out of anger, but out of concern for his own safety as well as the safety of others. I didn't sign a complaint. I just told the officer to talk to him.

Now the boy's mother is furious with me. She said I should not have called the police, that I should have called her again, instead. Abby, I like this woman. If you say I'm wrong, I'll apologize.

MRS. H. DERBY, Kas.
DEAR MRS. H.: No apologies are necessary. I think your neighbor should send you a dozen sunflowers.

Officer, Man Shot to Death in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A city policeman and a suburban Minneapolis man were shot to death Monday night when police were called to the scene of an attempted burglary in North Minneapolis.

Police said the slain officer, Richard Bergquist, 29, and his partner, Ellsworth Johnson, were called to the E. W. Bjorlin Plumbing.

Johnson said Bergquist's squad car was struck by two bullets fired by a man who had been jimmying the back door. He said Bergquist jumped from the car, was hit and fell to the ground.

Johnson and officers from two other squad cars fired at the man as he ran away and felled him at the end of the block. Frank Pipan, 56, Osseo, was dead at the scene.

Bergquist died 10 minutes after he arrived at North Memorial Hospital in Robbinsdale. He is survived by his widow, Sharon Mae, and two young children.

Scotland Yard Searches for Art Thieves

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives watched airports and seaports today for thieves who stole 25 modern masterpieces valued at more than $720,000 from the London apartment of Sir Roland Penrose.

Penrose, a friend of Picasso, is the owner of one of Britain's most notable private collections of modern art. The stolen works included six Picassos, paintings by Braque and Chagall and a drawing by Henry Moore.

The burglars forced open the front door of Sir Roland's apartment in Kensington while he was away for the Easter weekend. The collector said they removed them from the frames but left them on their stretchers, showing they knew how to handle works of art. But "they left behind about 20 small paintings which were not signed but which in fact were by masters," he added.

Police feared the thieves may have smuggled the paintings out of Britain within hours of the theft and alerted authorities abroad through Interpol.

The stolen Picassos included a 1937 "Woman Weeping" which the owner valued at $150,000 to $200,000 and a 1907 "Negro Dancer" which was one of the artist's first experiments in Cubism.

Matchey Buys Blair Grocery

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—After 40 years in the grocery business, William Schroeder has sold his store to Martin Matchey Jr., who took over April 1.

Matchey was born in Independence May 17, 1940, and went to grade school and high school in that city. He graduated from high school in 1958 and attended La Crosse State University one year. His summer vacations were spent working with his father, a carpenter. During the summers of 1958 and 1959 he worked at Arcadia Industries.

His experience in the grocery business started in 1959 when he began work at Schmeling's Fairway in Whitehall, where he continued until the spring of 1965. At that time he began working for Schroeder's Super Fair here and continued there until the fire which burned out interior of the store in May 1967. During the rest of the summer he worked at Bluske's Super Market here and in the fall he began work at Clippert's IGA Store in Whitehall where he remained until returning to Schroeder's last fall.

Matchey married the former Joan Nelson of Blair in 1959. The family, which now includes Kristin, Karyn 4, and Mari Jo 2, purchased the former Clint Imnell home on West 2nd Street.

New Offer Made to Wisconsin Dairymen

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin dairy co-op members, many of them hesitant about joining a proposed Midwestern cooperative, were offered the advantages Monday of a separate district of their own in the new marketing set-up.

Suggestions that Wisconsin be given its own district-level position of semi-independence reflected farmers' questions about who would have the most control in the multistate cooperative, and what the consolidation of existing cooperatives might do to prices paid Wisconsin farmers for milk.

ABOUT 150 dairy leaders attended a meeting Monday, the fourth since February when a committee was named to begin organizing a cooperative stretching from Texas to the Canada border. Officials have estimated the new combine could represent 10 percent of the nation's dairy production.

Under the cooperative, there would be regional advisory boards. Minnesota would be represented primarily by Twin City Milk Producers, and the Chicago market by Pure Milk Association PMA.

Paul Affeldt of Sparta, representing Pure Milk Products Co-op of Fond du Lac, was named to a committee to study giving Wisconsin a region of its own. He scheduled a meeting for April 21 in Fond du Lac.

Others on the committee are Edward Engelbreton of Oconto, president of Badger Consolidated Dairy Co-op, and Walter Siemrs of Cleveland, Wis., president of Land O'Lakes Dairy Co-op.

JOHN BUTTERBRODT of Burnett, a vice president of PMA and chairman of the proposed cooperative's steering committee, said Wisconsin could have the biggest percentage of membership if more of the state's cooperatives would agree to join.

Wisconsin, he said, would have a potential membership of 65,000 compared with 4,100 in Texas or 3,800 in Arkansas.

High prices received by Southern dairy farmers is one of the motivations behind the planning of the new cooperative. Northern co-ops say Chicago-area prices should be brought up to Southern levels.

Yet, there is a feeling that Wisconsin and Chicago-area milk prices have been higher historically, and some Badger State cooperatives are re-

Algerian Hero Given Death In Absentia

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Belkacem Krim, Algerian revolutionary hero and former government minister, was sentenced to death in absentia Monday for plotting to kill one of President Houari Boumediene's chief political aides.

Krim is believed to be in France. The court also sentenced to death Belkacem Tansant, another fugitive in France, and Amtar Slimane, who is expected to go before a firing squad later this week.

A court statement said 56 persons were tried for an attempt on Jan. 24, 1968, to assassinate Kaid Ahmed, a leader of the ruling National Liberation Front. The announcement said 13 were acquitted, eight were sentenced to life in prison and the others received lesser sentences.

One of the accused blamed the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and "Zionists" for the plot. He got a two-year suspended sentence.

Krim, one of the leaders of the Algerian revolt against the French, was a minister under President Ahmed Ben Bella. He fled to France in 1965 when Boumediene deposed and imprisoned Ben Bella. After his escape Krim pledged to overthrow Boumediene, accusing him of bringing "anarchy, chaos, hunger, ignorance, unemployment and dictatorship" to Algeria.

sistence upon mathematical exactness, with no tolerance for reality," put his imagination to work.

He saw legislators drawing a district line down the middle of the corridor of an apartment house or even dividing the residents of a single-family house between two districts.

In dismay, he said the court appeared to be rejecting every possible type of justification that could be advanced for population disparities.

Justice John Marshall Harlan complained: "The court refuses to permit any room for legislative common sense."

The point of the ruling was to clarify five words: "As nearly as is practicable."

The virtually indecipherable phrase appears in the February 1964 decision that put U.S. congressional districts under the one-man one-vote standards.

State legislators, the court said then, must arrange the districts so that "as nearly as is practicable one man's vote in a congressional election is to be worth as much as another's."

Missouri argued the variance should be considered "de minimis"—too small to be ruled at fault. Besides, the state said, the General Assembly acted out of a legitimate regard for the integrity of county lines, the compactness of districts, the political realities of "legislative interplay" and other reasons as well.

Brennan's opinion, joined by Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall, rejected both arguments.

Any cut-off point would be arbitrary, said Brennan, and to pick one "would encourage legislators to strive for that range rather than for equality as nearly as practicable."

As for the realities of the legislating business, he said: "Problems created by partisan politics cannot justify an apportionment which does not otherwise pass constitutional muster."

Missouri—and New York, whose congressional arrangement also was cut down—will have to try again. Any thought that the court would withdraw gracefully from what the late Justice Felix Frankfurter warned was a "political thicket" can be laid to rest.

WASHINGTON (AP)—All 12 Federal Reserve Banks now have a discount rate of 6 percent.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston voted Monday to join the other eleven in raising the rate from 5½ per cent.

In announcing the new rate last Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board said it had approved requests from all but one of the district banks to adopt the higher interest charge on loans to member banks.

he said, "you've just got to come out ahead as a Wisconsin producer compared to present milk prices and federal order prices."

Hugh Cook, a University of Wisconsin agricultural economist, told reluctant cooperatives that Wisconsin would find security through high membership, especially since a director would be appointed for every 1,000 members.

"IF YOU study the proposal," he said, "you've just got to come out ahead as a Wisconsin producer compared to present milk prices and federal order prices."

Besides the Chicago-based and Minneapolis-based regions, and the proposed Fond du Lac-based region, the cooperative organizers have suggested creating regions for the South and mid-South.

U.S. Again Wooing Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration, rebuffed by Communist China less than a month after taking office, has again extended the olive branch to Peking.

"We would like to have more friendly relations with Communist China," Secretary of State William P. Rogers told his first formal news conference Monday.

He said it is possible the Ninth Communist party conference in Peking will end with some change of direction in the Asian giant's foreign policy.

"But in any event we are willing to do what we can do to have more friendly relations with Red China," he added, "but we are not going to do it in the spirit of exploiting it because we think it will give us some advantage against the Soviet Union."

Another round of talks between U.S. and Chinese spokesmen was scheduled for Feb. 20 in Warsaw, but the Chinese abruptly canceled it shortly after one of their diplomats defected to the West.

The State Department takes the position that it is up to the Chinese to reschedule the talks.

Sources say they have made no such move.

Rogers also dealt with the ticklish question of American military bases and control in Asia by putting the administration on the record as acknowledging that "changes have to be made with the passage of time."

Pressure is strong in Okinawa for return of the island to Japanese control. It was wrested away in the last bloody battle of World War II and is now supervised by an American high commissioner. It is also home for many of the B52 bombers that bomb South Vietnam.

Rogers pointed out that talks will be held with Japan's foreign minister Kiichi Aichi in June and with prime minister Eisaku Sato who will visit the United States in November. "We hope that we can work something out on Okinawa that will be mutually satisfactory," he declared.

He said the Nixon administration is reviewing all of its commitments and each time when one of the base agreements involving troop deployments overseas comes up for renewal, "We will consider it."

A new dimension in cooking satisfaction:

gas infrared broilers designed and built with taste in mind.

Tastefully done. Your steaks, chops or whatever. Because they were done in a smokeless, infra-red gas oven broiler. The flavor's all there, but not the smoke. Because a gas broiler is really a very efficient anti-smog device. (They're putting them on all the '69 models.) So your broil with the oven door closed. All the smoke and grease is taken care of inside. And when you're through, just forget the oven. It'll clean itself. Sound good? Stop in at your gas appliance dealer's or your gas company and see just how good it really is.

Mass to Honor Late Mrs. Weir

The Winona Teresian Chapter will offer a Mass in memory of Mrs. Hubert M. Weir (Clymene Parisey) Thursday at the College of Saint Teresa.

The Mass will be offered at 8 p.m. in the Chapel of the Holy Angels. A reception will follow in the South Lounge of Lourdes Hall, at which the local chapter will act as hosts.

Mrs. Weir, Class of 1929, was national president of the alumnae association, received an alumnae association citation in 1964, received the bishop's medal for Catholic action in 1954, was a president of the Cathedral Council of Catholic Women, and of the diocesan board of National Council of Catholic Women. She was the first president of St. Anne Hospice Auxiliary, served on Christmas seals board, the Red Cross board, Community Concert, Girl Scout and public library boards, and on the lay advisory board of the college.

Mrs. Weir taught at the Winona Medical Secretarial School.

Iranian Says Usual Dress No Different

Miss Karimi
LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Miss Zhihus Karimi, AFS student from Iran, spoke and showed slides of her native country when the auxiliary of Bethany Lutheran Church met Wednesday at the church.

Miss Karimi explained the location of her native country with the use of a map and then showed slides. She explained that in Iran, the dress is very similar to that in America; native costumes are only worn on very special occasions. She has noticed that the education in America is quite different. In her homeland, students carry 21 subjects each year as compared to five or six in America.

The AFS student also discussed the Islam religion and explained that their years start with the birthday of their prophet. Their year is now 1348, Miss Karimi having been born in 1330. They have no religious schools in Iran. Parents teach their children religion and when a child is 9 years old, he is taught to pray.

Miss Karimi's father is a dentist and very similar to a dentist in the United States. However, she noted, that her father does not charge the patient for his services. He is instead, paid by the government. Her mother is a principal and she has one sister and two brothers. The exchange student also has relatives in Minneapolis and Texas.
The Rev. Carlton Spatzek showed a film, "Dawn of Victory," which told the story of Christ's death and resurrection. It was announced that the LWML spring rally will be held April 24 at the Palsdam Lutheran Church. The Lutheran Laymen's League will meet May 4 at 7:30 p.m.
Mrs. Ruben Willers and Mrs. A. J. Pretzer were named co-chairmen for the stamps for mission project.

McGovern: Reasons for Building ABM Changing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Senate opponent of President Nixon's missile defense program says the administration keeps changing its reasons for building the controversial Safeguard system.

"We have had a whole series of rationalizations for Safeguard from the administration," Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota said. "They keep changing them all the time. Now it seems to me they are escalating the terror rather than giving us any enlightenment."

McGovern commented at an interview shortly after Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a group of European reporters visiting the Pentagon Monday that the Soviet Union is testing a triple warhead for its big SS9 rocket.

Laird has cited deployment of the SS9—without extra warheads—as reason for deploying Safeguard. He said Monday that mounting triple warheads on the SS9 would give Russia triple the punch it is expected to have by 1973 and the capability to take out the Minuteman missiles comprising America's main deterrent, first strike force.

"I'm not talking about intentions," Laird said, "but about capability."

Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., a top Senate authority on military matters, and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who turned down Nixon's offer of the defense secretaryship, both have cited the SS9 as a prime reason for installing the anti-missile system.

Jackson said the United States has no multiple-warhead missile in its arsenal. Russell said this country is working toward development of such a weapon.

While McGovern conceded the SS9 might be capable of a first strike designed to wipe out U.S. land-based missiles, he said administration officials are "curiously silent" about the retaliatory power of U.S. Polaris-equipped submarines.

"It's only in the last couple of weeks that they have been talking about this first strike threat to justify Safeguard," he said. "They don't mention that we have a second strike capability in our submarines that could wipe the Russians out, and the Russians know it."

"We're all guessing about Russian intentions. But even if they were foolish enough to try a first strike and to knock out our land-based missiles, they can't touch our submarines."

The Soviets are estimated to have 200 operational SS9's with current deployment expected to give them 500 by 1973. With triple nuclear tips, they would have 1,500 warheads to the 1,000 U.S. Minutemen with a single warhead.

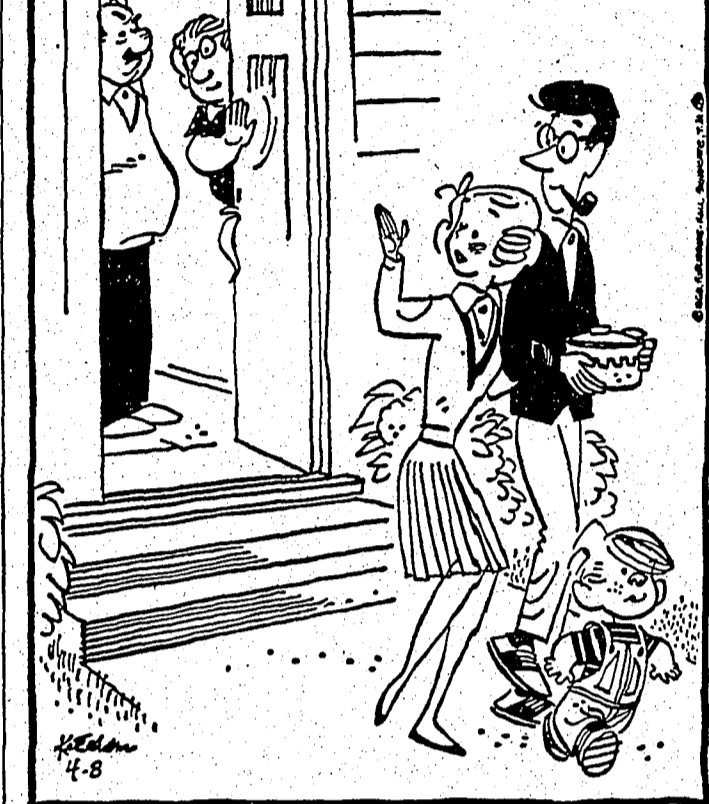

Spices should be kept tightly covered at all times because they contain oils. When the oils evaporate, the flavors are immediately lost.

Martin Wants to Be 'Just Plain Bill'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Billy Martin, who has been working diligently for several years to erase his old image as the Yankee brawler, just wants to be himself as manager of the Minnesota Twins.

combination of Leo Durocher and Casey Stengel. I asked him "Why can't I just be Billy Martin?"

about changing his image. Martin inherited a club bled intermittently by disension since it won the 1965 American League pennant. Insiders say he appears to have alleviated a lot of the tensions.

bringing it out into the open. Martin ran an orderly spring training camp and delegated authority to his coaches, who ran the show with him as overseer.

off to a fast start. If we do, we're going to be hard to catch.

Wednesday night's game here. Royals Manager Joe Gordon sent former Baltimore star Wally Burker to the mound for Kansas City, which officially celebrated its return to major league baseball after a one-year absence.

Williams and King Hope For Better Things

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Professional baseball's second century got under way Monday and for Ted Williams and Clyde King, two of the sport's new managers, the next 100 years can only get better.

LOSE OPENER TO MIAMI

Cold Pipers Now Facing Uphill Playoff Struggle

MIAMI (AP) — The Minnesota Pipers faced an uphill struggle today in their Eastern Division playoff series with the Miami Floridians.

But the Floridians hardly let the Pipers get within reaching distance, taking a 42-28 lead one point in the first half. The Pipers made only 11 of 43 two-point field goals for a 25 per cent average in the first two periods.

Williams' Washington Senators were bombed 8-4 by the New York Yankees in the presidential opener in Washington.

The Yankees unveiled their new running game in the second inning as Roy White stole two bases and Bill Robinson one and Tom Tresh and Jake Gibbs delivered them with singles.

The remaining 18 teams, including expansionists Montreal and San Diego in the National League and Kansas City and Seattle in the American, swing into action today.

"It's only one game," said Williams. "I was glad the President was here. We need all the help we can get."

Twins Load Lineup With 6 Left-handers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tom Hall, a 146-pound rookie with 30 innings of major league experience, was Manager Billy Martin's pitching choice today for the Minnesota Twins in their American League opener against the Kansas City Royals.

The 21-year-old pitcher, who is 6-foot, says he hasn't tried to gain weight "because I figure I've been doing well enough just as I am."

Hall worked 22 innings in spring training, the most of any Twins hurler. Martin has named left-hander Jim Kaat to face the Royals Wednesday and will go with right-handers Dean Chance, Jim Perry and Dave Boswell in the California series starting Friday at Anaheim.

Former Twin Jackie Hernandez will start at shortstop for the Royals along with right fielder Bob Oliver, a former Twin farmhand, the Royals also will have Lou Piniella in center; Jerry Adair, second base; Joe Foy, third base; Ed Kirkpatrick, left field; Chuck Harrison, first base; and Ellis Rodriguez, catcher.

GIVE UP 5 RUNS IN 8TH

Redmen Fall To Bradley

PEORIA, Ill. (Special) — What a difference a year makes. Last year John Ruddy was nearly the entire St. Mary's College pitching staff, posting a 7-1 record and pitching the Redmen to the MIAC title.

freshman Dan Del Fava, through no fault of the yearling right-hander. Two errors by Sundry sandwiched around a pair of outs set the stage for Ron Sullivan's run-scoring single that made it 2-1.

Monday Ruddy, a senior from Mankato, was rocked for five runs and four hits in the only inning he worked as Bradley University came from behind to defeat St. Mary's 6-3 in the season opener for the Redmen.

Then the roof caved in and St. Mary's found itself 0-1. The Redmen played Bradley again today in the second game of their six-game road trip.

ST. MARY'S had held leads of 2-0 and 3-1 until Ruddy came on in the eighth inning. He hit the first batter to face him and then gave up a single and a walk to load the bases. He fell behind 3-0 on Bradley center-fielder Dave Mack with one away. When he grooved a 3-1 pitch, Mack singled home two runs to tie the game 3-3.

A bunt single by the relief pitcher Lou Pasierb reloaded the bases, and leadoff hitter Terry Gualandri responded with another two-run single for what proved to be the winning runs.

Pasierb, who had been touched for a run when he came on in relief in the eighth, set the Redmen down in order in the ninth.

ST. MARY'S had gone in front in the fourth when, with two out, Tom Sundry beat out an infield hit. Chuck Richards socked a wrong-field triple and came all the way around when a relay throw was bobbed.

That lead stood up behind the pitching of Pete Behles and John Gyllen although Bradley had two on with one out in the second against Behles and had loaded the bases with none out in the fourth against Gyllen.

It wasn't until the seventh that Bradley broke through against
