SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Society for Pentecostal Studies conference on "Gifts of the Spirit" will convene on campus November 18-20. All interested students are encouraged to participate as you are able. The evening sessions with Drs. Dunn and Gelpi are open to anyone wishing to attend. Conference registration fees are $15.00. Some partial scholarships are available. For further information please contact Mel Robeck in Student Services (Box 120, ex. 3833).

Personal Safety. It is important that you remember to take precautions for the personal safety of yourself and your family in downtown Pasadena. Use the escort system whenever possible. File a report with campus security personnel following any incident. Train your children not to open doors to strangers, not to talk with strangers, and to avoid contact with strangers in vans and automobiles. Recent incidents in the local area point to the need for more student awareness of these guidelines.

BOOKSTORE

The Bookstore is offering a 10% BONUS on "NO DISCOUNT" textbooks during Winter Quarter 1983. In order to qualify, you must:

- 1) Register during REGISTRATION WEEK.
- 2) Bring proof of your registration and the courses in which you are registered with you when you come to buy your textbooks (Winter texts will be available beginning Dec. 27th).

This offer is good for 10% discount on the "NO DISCOUNT" textbooks used in the courses in which you are registered. I repeat . . . it is for textbooks for only those courses in which you are registered.

The reason the Bookstore is offering the BONUS is to encourage students to register during Registration Week. We need accurate class figures in order to eliminate some of our annoying textbook problems.

Book Sale: The Fuller Bookstore is offering a very special 35% discount sale on Zondervan academic titles. If you didn't receive a flier in your box, you can pick one up in the Bookstore. Don't miss out on the bargains!

S.W.M. WINTER QUARTER

COURSES OPEN TO SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

MC510 SIGNS, WONDERS AND CHURCH GROWTH (John Wimber and C. Peter Wagner).

This course will focus on understanding the effects of signs and wonders on church growth, approached from biblical, theological, historical and contemporary perspectives. Special attention will be devoted to the vital role the ministry of healing has played in confirming the Word and stimulating the growth of Christian churches. Case studies will feature churches that have experienced growth due to the miraculous manifestations which accompany their ministry. The course will also help a person take practical steps toward developing a ministry in which God confirms His Word through signs and wonders.

MH520 THE HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT (Paul Pierson).

The purpose of this course is the missiological reinterpretation of the history of the Church worldwide, and the application of the insights which emerge to present strategies of mission. We will not examine primarily the theological and institutional development of the Church, but rather the dynamics of its expansion. We will pay special attention to means of renewal and structures of mission. The course does not require loading the memory with dates, names, etc., but is more concerned with understanding the processes through which the Christian movement has grown, expanded, faltered, and flourished.

MH521I HISTORY OF EVANGELICAL AWAKENINGS (J. Edwin Orr).

A survey of the dynamic movements of the Spirit of God through the Word of God among the people of God, beginning with the model of the Acts of the Apostles, continuing briefly with post-Apostolic and medieval movements, thence to the Lollards, Reformers, Puritans and Pietists as spiritual recoveries and renewals, with detailed studies of the First (1725--), Second (1792--), Third (1830--), Fourth (1858--), and Fifth (1900--), General Evangelical Awakenings, and significant revivals in modern times (1920--).

MR530I JUDAISM AND CHRISTIANITY (Arthur Glasser, Mitch Glaser).

Students will develop a biblical and historical overview of Jewish missions and Messianic movements with an emphasis on current trends and how they affect the Jewish community, the Church, and the Jewish believer in Christ. Special attention will be given to the present condition of the Jewish people, primarily in North America, concerning their openness to the Gospel.

MH523 CHRISTIANITY AND TOTALITARIANISM (Arthur F. Glasser).

This course is a study of the emergence and evolution of Marxist totalitarianism with particular reference to the various types of challenges it currently poses to the mission of the Church worldwide. Particular attention will be given to Christian-Marxist encounter in those countries dominated by its materialist philosophy, economic theory and political structures. Inevitably, the course will include reflection on those situations in which the Church exists under non-Marxist totalitarianism or under any form of minority government.

MB544 CHRISTIAN COMMUNICATION THROUGH MUSIC (Roberta King, Charles Kraft).

A study of communication principles successfully at work in the musics of varying cultures. Intended as an introductory study of the interrelationships between music and culture, the main focus of the course centers on receptor-oriented communication and the processes involved in developing such an orientation. The basic elements of music and their appearance in cultures around the world will be studied with specific applications to the work of the Church. Special emphasis will be placed on ethnomusicology and its role in developing effective music communication channels for worship, evangelism, and discipleship.

MH561I THE GOSPEL IN CHINESE (Ralph P. Covell).

In this course, students will (1) briefly examine scriptural data relating to the indigenization and/or contextualization of the Christian Gospel; (2) focus upon significant aspects of the Chinese context; (3) critically analyze efforts, largely unsuccessful, made through the centuries by missionaries, Chinese church leaders, and independent Chinese Christian movements to present their message in terms of the Chinese environment; (4) explore reasons for the successful indigenization of Buddhism, a foreign religion; (5) evaluate the current religious/Christian revival in China from the historical perspective; and (6) seek to apply positive and negative insights gained to the contemporary challenge of evangelizing the Chinese.
