Troop 45 Has Much To Be Thankful For Says Scoutmaster Cleo Sykes As He Lists Blessings

By Scoutmaster Cleo Sykes
This week is Thanksgiving and Troop 45 would like to take this time and way of giving thanks. The following are some things for which we are thankful. First our thanks to God for this wonderful world with all its many opportunities and freedoms. Freedom of speech and worship. Freedom to organize and take part in such a great organization as the Boy Scouts.

Next our thanks to all the people in this great country who support the Boy Scouts through their contributions and donations. To all the merchants who have helped us by giving us the chance to earn money to buy much needed equipment.

Also our thanks to our sponsoring institution the Methodist Men's Club of the First Methodist Church. For without a sponsor we would not have this fine troop. They furnish us a meeting place, a troop committee, and help support the troop with their contribution.

And our thanks to this fine

troop committee. Here they are and their duties:
Institutional representative, Oliver C. McLemore; committee chairman, Major Geo. Hallanay; advancement committee, Wm. E. Wallace; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Harold Gish; troop chaplain, Rev. Paul T. Lyles; troop physician, Dr. Hugh Houston; troop property man, Gilbert Searfo; camping and activities, Howard Ollis and Charles Mason Baker; publicity, James Lassiter.

Also our thanks to our parents for the fine help and cooperation they have given us and all the various clubs and organization who have helped us in any way.

The accomplishments of this troop and activities for the past year are as follows:
First, membership has increased from 25 to 47 registered scouts. There have been 45 advancements in rank, 80 merit badges earned.

We have qualified for the Onward For God and Country award.

The national Camping Award by camping out for a total of twelve days and night camping out.

We participated in the Boy Scout Circus at Paducah, spent a week in summer camp and many other minor activities.

In public services we have taken part in the following activities:
Last Christmas we rounded up and repaired old toys which we plan again this year.

We aided in the Polio Drive and the Get Out and Vote campaign and the United Fund Drive.

So for the privileges of taking an active part in all these things and offer our humble and grateful thanks.

And in closing, I, as Scoutmaster, would like to give my personal thanks, and I am sure the boys will join me, to my two assistant scoutmasters, Bill Fair and Woody Herndon and Junior Assistant Scoutmasters, Don and Larry Buxton for their help in running this fine troop and to the boys for their fine cooperation.

Woman In Coma Gives Birth To Baby

NEWCASTLE, England, Nov. 19 (AP) — A woman who has been in a coma for the last five months gave birth Sunday to a perfectly normal son on her 23rd birthday, still in a coma.

Mrs. Ellen Moore has been unconscious in a hospital here since May when a log slipped off a truck and hit her on the head while she was walking with her 2-year-old son.

Her husband, Kenneth, was making arrangements for a sad birthday commemoration in Ward 27 of Newcastle General Hospital when he was informed of the successful birth.

Mrs. Moore's pregnancy was discovered two months ago. The son weighed seven pounds, 12 ounces. The birth was reported normal but three weeks early.

Don't Get Nervous Over "Availability"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Note to reservists: If you receive a letter from the military or Selective Service inquiring as to your "availability" for recall to active duty, don't get nervous. It's just part of a "routine screening process."

The armed services and Selective Service want to be sure that a reservist would be ready and available in event of a national emergency. The government agencies are not thinking in terms of calling up veterans because of the Middle East crisis.

In recent weeks, the military services—the Army and Marine corps particularly—have been sending out letters to their reservists asking whether and how soon they could get back in uniform if ordered.

LONG, DRAWN OUT SET

RUTLEDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Ross Helms rested today from paying off an election bet. He spent six days pulling Eddie McDaniels 92 miles in a red wagon.

As smoke towers over the burning First Christian Church, the flame itself is seen as it begins to break out of the small roof peak at the rear of the church.

The center roof falls in as the flames leap sixty or eighty feet into the air over the raging inferno that consumed the First Christian Church Saturday.

Building Of First Christian Church Burns Late Saturday

The First Christian church, one of the oldest buildings in the city of Murray was gutted by a roaring fire Saturday afternoon. Firemen stayed on the job until late in the night pouring hundreds of gallons of water on the historic structure.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a faulty furnace which had in the past, emitted smoke from the fire door, causing some concern.

The fire came after a funeral service in the afternoon. Several people commented on the fact that they could smell smoke during the service, but did not connect it with a fire.

All three Murray trucks were called into service and water lines snaked across streets, causing traffic to be detoured around the affected area for hours.

Mrs. Broach Passes Away Saturday

An "explosion" of some kind was reported by Howard Nichols, pastor of the church. It is not known whether this was exploding soot or whether furnace gases had been trapped in some manner in the stoker fed furnace which finally exploded.

Once the fire started, the fifty year old structure whose interior was built of wood, raged into a roaring inferno and flames shot through the billowing tower of smoke over the church.

Efforts attempted to enter the burning building, but the intense heat made this impossible. They poured water into the basement, but the fire had gained such headway that it had little effect. The building is of brick construction on the exterior and the walls extend high into the air, giving firemen little opportunity to work from the outside.

Fire Chief Flavil Robertson directed one hose to the top of the new educational building so that water could be poured into the top of the church, and other hoses were played on the big fire from other angles.

Firemen did an excellent job in containing the blaze to the church building proper since the new educational building is less than fifteen feet from the rear of the building. Shroat Brothers meat market is just across the alley from the building and had to be "wetted-down" frequently to keep it from catching fire.

The basement of the church building had several small rooms and there were numerous halls which acted as flues which seemed to spread the fire in all directions.

The firemen were called at 3:45 p.m. and immediately answered the call with the white truck. When it was seen that it was a fire of large proportions, the other two trucks were pressed into service and an urgent call was sent to Mayfield for aid.

The Mayfield truck arrived in Murray in about fifty minutes, arriving at 4:40. It was placed on a standby call at the Murray Fire Station and the firemen with the truck aided local firemen. Many volunteers, both white and colored people, came to the aid of the regular chummy firemen.

An estimate of the loss was not given, but it is expected to exceed $200,000.

The interior of the church was completely destroyed together with all the fixtures.

The walls were left standing and the familiar towers on front of the church building are still standing. The street has been roped off however because of the danger of the falling brick.

Junior Barnett of the Murray Water System aided the local department very much when he had presence of mind to call the water plant to tell them that a heavy demand would be made on the city water supply.

The stand pipe located on Eighth street is empty because it is undergoing a periodical painting, both inside and out.

The pumps are being hand operated and attendants were ready for the sudden demand on the mains. The water tank has little to do with the water pressure, however it does represent a large above ground reserve, and normally operated automatically.

As it was, the pumps were turned on immediately and the mains were kept filled by water department employees throughout the conflagration.

A huge crowd converged on the area causing the Murray Police force to use nearly every policeman on duty to direct traffic within an area of two blocks.

The Murray-Western game had brought many persons into town and many of them came to the scene to view the activity.

The First Christian church building was constructed in 1905 during the pastorate of G. H. C. Stoner.

Murray State Wins Over Western 34-13

Big Dave Bottos played the best game of the year here Saturday and aided Murray State to a 34-13 victory over their old rival, Western.

Bill Hilboppper went to work in the first quarter and quickly put across one TD but as the first quarter progressed the Murray squad settled down to the ballgame and at one point was ahead by their own seven yard line.

Murray came back to march down the field for 83 yards behind Bottos to mark up a touchdown and the extra point was good to tie it up 7-7 at the first quarter.

Bottos scored three touchdowns during the game. In the second quarter Bottos went over again to give Murray a halftime score of 13-7.

It was all Murray in the second half with Bottos going over again and Phil Foster and Dick Uley also scoring.

The Western team was demoralized in the second half with the only bright spot being the 54 yard run by Shiftv Griffith of Western, when he made the second touchdown for his team.

Western led in nearly all departments in statistics. They had 22 first downs to 18 for Western and ran up 388 in yardage to 236 for the visitors.

Western was tops in passing with 111 yards gained, completed seven out of 19, Murray completed 3 of 11 for 57 yards.

Murray could still tie for the OVC crown if Middle Tennessee loses to Tennessee Tech on Thursday. Middle Tennessee is unbeaten in conference play with a 4-0 record. Murray has a 4-1 record.

Bottos carried the ball 18 times Saturday and marked up 151 yards and won the season scoring title with 49 points for the year.

Drunken Khrushchev Blasts The West

MOSCOW, Nov. 19 (AP) — The Western envoys walked out on Communist Party Secretary General Nikita S. Khrushchev again Sunday night when he gave them another tongue-lashing and hinted that God would be on the side of the Communists "if we believed in the existence of God."

"We will bury you," Khrushchev told the Western diplomats at a reception at the Polish Embassy to mark the signing of a Soviet-Polish agreement giving the right to pursue an independent course of Communism.

"If you do not like us," the vodka-drinking Khrushchev told the American, British and other envoys, "do not accept our invitations, and do not invite us to you."

He also blasted Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito although he did not mention him by name.

Encouraged By Leaders
"Those Socialist countries who boast of their experience and attempt to set their forms and methods have a mistaken attitude that does not agree with the principles of Marxism - Leninism," he said.

The Red - faced Khrushchev, apparently encouraged by the many top-level Soviet leaders gathered around him, delivered his bitter anti-Western tirade at a reception given for Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka.

He ran the gamut of internal affairs and the course of Communist theory and relations behind the Iron Curtain. He brought God into it when he said:

"Things are going very well with us. If we believed in the existence of God we would thank Him for it."

Frequently interrupted
Khrushchev was frequently interrupted by Soviet leaders standing around him, but there was no indication anyone was trying to shut him up. They applauded, laughed and encouraged him as he rambled on about Hungary, Egypt and the United States.

Each time Soviet leaders tried to correct or tone down his remarks, Khrushchev brushed them off.

Once Soviet President Klement Voroshilov took exception to Khrushchev's remark that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser put Communists in jail.

"He had to," said Voroshilov. "Don't try to help me," Khrushchev answered brusquely.

FUTURE OF SMALL BUSINESS

Attorney General Herbert Brownell warns that the government's industrial research program may be concentrating the nation's economic power in the hands of "big business."

He said in a report to President Eisenhower Congress that 98 percent of the federal research projects were awarded by either the Defense Department or the Atomic Energy Commission.

He said less than six percent of the Pentagon's share went to small business, while the AEC awarded only two percent of its total contracts to smaller firms.

And the result is that all business is becoming BIG BUSINESS for the simple fact that small business can't compete.

Economists have been sounding the warning ever since V-E Day, and government tax authorities admit that individuals and small business earning between $5,000.00 and $25,000.00 a year are paying the lion's share of income taxes.

Politicians never miss an opportunity to proclaim their love and affection for small business. They promise relief, but it is coming too late for untold thousands who could possibly succeed with some form of tax relief, or if they could get the same consideration Big Business gets in using earnings for expansions.

Under twenty years of democratic rule we spent billions to relieve certain groups in our society, principally farmers, but big farmers who live in pent-houses in our cities got the lion's share of federal aid, just as big industry is supplying the needs of our armed forces.

We think the biggest economic challenge facing the legislative and executive branches of our government is the plight of big business.

P. S. If it is true that huge surpluses of farm products are depressing the market why can't we get some of our freighters out of moth balls and rush some of this surplus to starving Hungarians?

If it wouldn't be legal how can we figuratively turn heaven and earth getting oil tankers out of moth balls to rush oil supplies to Western Europe?

The answer to those two questions is that we help those we want to help. We have no intention of letting England and France run short of gasoline merely because they went off half-cocked and caused the Egyptians to close the Suez Canal for months to come.

Rose Bowl Is First With Lineup

All Bowls Head Toward Same Goal As Season Moves To End

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

This will mark the first time in the 43-year history of the Rose extravaganza at Pasadena, Calif., that two teams meet in the classic who also clashed during the regular season. Iowa won that one, 14-13, at Iowa City, but Oregon State star back Joe Francis insisted today, "we had 'em, but let 'em get away."

Place, Iowa Here Quarterback Ken Ploen, who passed 17 yards to Jim Gibbons in the first period, was the Iowa hero as Ohio State suffered its first Big Ten defeat in the last 18 starts. Paul Lowe saved Oregon State's bacon when they were losing to Idaho in the last two minutes as he first passed 51 yards to the Idaho three end and then sprinted around end for the winning TD.

Here's how the lineup on the other major bowls today appears: Sugar Bowl: Tennessee certain of a berth after crushing Mississippi, 27-7, but bowl committee must wait until conference season ends before issuing formal bid. In line for the other: Georgia Tech, SMU, or Baylor.

Orange Bowl: Colorado now certain to represent Big Seven since Missouri was drubbed by Oklahoma, 67-14. Clemson still likely for other berth but prestige was weakened by 21-0 loss to Miami Friday and Duke could be voted the Atlantic Coast loop's "most representative" team.

TCU Route Texas Cotton Bowl: Texas Christian leading for host berth after 46-0 rout of Texas, but SMU and Baylor still have a chance. Possibilities for "guest" team—Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Navy.

Gator Bowl: Still trying for Tennessee or Georgia Tech as one team, with Syracuse, Mississippi, Pittsburgh, and a Wyoming possibility for the other.

Yale's 42-20 triumph over previously unbeaten Princeton reduced the list of perfect-record teams to 17 overall, including just three major-college teams—Wyoming (10-0), Oklahoma (8-0), and Tennessee (8-0). Wyoming is finished; the other two have two games each remaining.

Six major conference champions have been decided: Big Seven, Oklahoma; Southern, West Virginia; Missouri, Alley, Houston; Skyline, Wyoming; Rocky Mountain, Montana State; Border, Texas-Western.

Here's the situation in other major conferences: Yale Faces Harvard Ivy: Yale (6-0) has clinched tie, can clinch outright by beating Harvard this Saturday even if Princeton (3-1) beats Dartmouth.

Southeastern: Tennessee (4-0), Georgia Tech (5-1), each have two league games left and Florida (5-1) has one. Florida-Georgia Tech clash this week eliminates one contender.

Atlantic Coast: Clemson (3-0) has two left while Duke (3-1) has only North Carolina game this Saturday.

Big Ten: Iowa (5-1) and finished with league) has clinched a tie; Ohio State (4-1) meets Michigan in windup this Saturday.

Southwest: Texas A&M (5-0) but bowl-ineligible, has only Texas to play Nov. 26; Texas Christian (3-1) has two left.

Pacific Coast: Oregon State (6-1) winds up this week at Oregon while UCLA (5-1) finishes with Southern California.

Bomber Forces Step Up Exercises

WASHINGTON UP - America's long-range hydrogen bomber force, designed to strike deep into enemy territory on a moment's notice, apparently is engaged in stepped-up exercises within the United States.

The Air Force said the activity on the part of the Strategic Air Command is "routine training" Naval officers disclosed meanwhile that 13 of the nation's 23 big aircraft carriers will accompany cruisers and destroyers, now are deployed in the Pacific, Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Naval "readiness training" has been under way since the Middle East crisis erupted.

There was speculation here that a task force, probably built around two aircraft carriers, may be dispatched to the Indian Ocean area. Defense officials made no comment except to say that any U. S. military deployments would not be "provocative."

The Strategic Air Command's activity came to public attention Thursday night when the biggest social event of the season at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., was cancelled suddenly so bomber units could carry out exercises.

At the Omaha Headquarters of Gen. Curtis E. Le May, SAC commander, officers said "if trouble strikes the enemy isn't going to hold off for a dance at an Air Force base."

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRAYLEY
United Press Sports Writer

UNITED PRESS Sports Writer EN ROUTE TO THE OLYMPICS UP - Washington Irving, who you may remember as a bowling journalist of some note, missed the boat by not being a sports writer in 1956.

Old "Wash" chronicled the Catskill heaving antics and scored quite a best with his bit about a gaffer named Rip Van Winkle. Well, he'd be up to his goose quill in bearded material these days.

Because 1956 has really been an "old man's year" in sports. Nor, it might be added, are the doings over. Because, come Nov. 30, "Oly" could really have written himself a piece on the fist-cuffing endeavors of a greybeard named Archie Moore.

ARCHIE SEEMS TITLE On that date, many learned observers predict, ancient Archie will flatten a young upstart named Floyd Patterson and ascend to the throne as heavyweight champion of the world.

This all happens with Archie of the moors, not the mountains, approaching his admitted 41st birthday. And, if the truth be known, Archie's wide-eyed Ma insists that Archie done celebrated that birthday two years ago.

But Archie has plenty of Scintillating company which refuses to fade before the years. Guys like 46-year-old Johnny Longden, who still rides better than Wild Bill Hickok; baseball Methuselahs Sal Maglie and Country Slaughter, who will be 40 and 41 respectively before another baseball season rolls around, and a rounders robot named Satchel Paige, who reportedly inspired Abner Doubleday to invent baseball.

Longden this year dusted past the world record set by Sir Gordon Richards of England by riding his 4,671st winner. Now he has left that far behind and hardly too time out from the saddle to thank all hands for entering him in the Jockey Hall of Fame. How long can he go on?

"Why, a couple, three more years anyhow," he allows.

Maglie was supposed to be "washed up" when this season started. So he fired Brooklyn to the National League pennant with 13 big wins including a no-hit, no-run game; won his first World Series triumph, and then probably would have copped another with a five-bitter except for a perfect game by a sprout named Don Larsen who is underage for this era anyhow.

SLAUGHTER SERIESTANDOUT Slaughter won two games for the Yankees in the Series before the underpinning weakened and he bowed down. But Country had no time to weep. As the Series ended, his wife presented him with an infant.

That Paige is out of this world: Pitching for Miami in the International League, at an admitted 48 and an estimated 60, old Satch had an 11-4 record, two shutouts, and a 1.85 earned run average.

Yet these still are only kids. Feller named Jim Fitzsimmons trained a horse named Nashua which became the all-time money winner of the turf and then came up with a colt named Bold Ruler which might win the Kentucky Derby next spring. "Young Jim" is only 82.

Who's this upstart Rip Van Winkle?

Testing Of Nicotine Speeded Up

Steam distillation equipment and procedures to speed testing of tobacco samples for nicotine content have been developed at the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Robert Griffith, associate agronomist, who made the development, says quick determination of alkaloids (such as nicotine) has permitted an expansion of the tobacco research program at the experiment station.

The new equipment and procedures permit a trained technician to determine the alkaloid content of more than two hundred samples a day. Under the old system only about 12 could be checked accurately.

Tobacco companies, for instance, could use the new process to advantage. They, as manufacturers, are concerned now with nicotine content of tobacco, they use. Presumably, research units (such as the one at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station) or even sales organizations could profitably use the equipment and procedures.

Griffith described the equipment Thursday Nov. 8 at a meeting of tobacco chemists in Washington, D. C.

Here's how it works, in layman's language: Tobacco samples are ground up, put in capsules, and weighed. The samples are then put into the apparatus and the nicotine is steam-distilled after an alkali is added. The distillate (and product) is collected in a flask and the nicotine content is checked "spectrophotometrically."

This means a machine sends a beam of light through the distillate sample. The amount of light absorbed by the distillate is a measure of the nicotine (alkaloid) content of that particular plant sample. The less light penetrating the higher the nicotine content.

Because samples are numbered, lower nicotine plants can be found. From a plant breeding standpoint this is important; it shows along what lines breeding must be directed to produce lower-nicotine plants. Steam distillation of tobacco samples for nicotine testing is not new. In fact, the old system here at U. K. used it.

Griffith says the new system embodies "time-and-motion" principles, i.e., ways to cut the movements involved in running samples.

For instance: the distillation equipment has been designed for maximum efficiency in operation and for ease in introducing the samples, and removing the spent sample. Flasks containing the distillate are handled in groups of 3 to 5 rather than individually.

The contents of the flasks in a rack are stirred simultaneously with a special magnetic device. A small plastic-covered magnet is dropped into each flask and motors beneath the flasks are turned on. Large magnets mounted on the motor shafts spin the small magnet, stirring the solution.

Flasks, when samples have been finished, are washed in battery fashion. A device has been arranged whereby these flasks can be washed as a unit, rather than each one being washed separately.

Essentially the system "eliminates all superfluous steps," Griffith says.

The experiment is regarded highly enough that the University is applying for a patent on it.

GOV. MEYNER, FIANCEE STEP OUT

NEW JERSEY'S GOVERNOR Robert E. Meyner, 48, and his fiancée, Helen Day Stevenson, 28, are shown as they attended the Flamingo Ball in New York City. The gala event was for the benefit of the Soldiers' Sailors' and Airmen's Club. The Governor and Miss Stevenson plan to get married in January, 1957. The bride-to-be is a cousin of Adlai E. Stevenson, defeated Presidential nominee.

Faxon School NEWS

Mrs. Estelle Outland's sixth grade has been busy this past month decorating the room for Thanksgiving and planning their chapel program. We gave the chapel program Friday, November 9th and enjoyed giving it. Barbara Steele gave the reasons why so many people enjoy the program. After that Edward Paschall led us in prayer and we sang "Footsteps of Jesus".

The pledges to the American and 4-H Flags were given. A play "Nerve on Display" was presented by: Edward Paschall, Shirley Futrell, Eddie Clyde Hale and Keith Hays. Piano solos were played by Marilyn Duncan and Shirley Futrell. A song was acted out by Judy Walker. Several songs were sung by the group. We were happy Bobby Joe Edmonson was able to help us out on the stage.

Our group enjoyed the lesson on finger printing. We have a lot of pretty scenes, and are looking forward to decorating boxes and baskets and etc. with them.

We want to thank Jerry Travis, Marilyn Duncan, Keith Hays and Evelyn Donelson for the pretty flowers they have added to our room. We are also happy that the fish Ronnie Miller brought are doing so well. Joe Pat Phillips has named our fish "Romeo and Juliet".

Our reports on the life of a kangaroo were very interesting. We are happy to have Mickey Boggess back in school after being out due to an illness. We were proud of the way Keith Hays, Terry Farris, Mickey Boggess and Eddie Clyde Hale played ball against Aurora, even though we were defeated the game was interesting.

Highway Program Becoming Slower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The history-making federal aid highway program—now only 30 weeks old—already has developed symptoms of becoming a slower and more expensive proposition than expected. The outstanding symptom is the rising cost of constructing roads—up 3.8 per cent since President Eisenhower signed the $27.6 billion highway bill at the end of June. In money, that means up $1-billion.

A federal highway official said today the price increases so far have been offset by the development of more efficient road building methods. But neither he nor other road experts saw any signs that the cost climb is stopping now. The Bureau of Public Roads will send Congress an official re-estimate of the total cost in January 1958. That re-estimate is generally expected to be larger.

Looking ahead to that increase, federal authorities have concluded informally that the program—and the taxes to pay for it—probably will have to be stretched out for more than the planned 13 to 15 years.

Shift To Power In Government Bad Says Benson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson warned today continued shift of power to the federal government may make the states helpless.

Benson said there has been a tremendous shift in the last 25 years from individual to governmental responsibility in many phases of economic and social life. At the same time, he said, "we have seen a rapid shift of responsibility from the states to the federal government."

Benson listed the magnitude of these changes in a speech prepared for a meeting of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities.

He said the federal government 25 years ago received one-fourth of all taxes collected in the United States. Now, he said, the federal government collects three-fourths of all taxes.

The Channel Swim

By WILLIAM SWALD United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — The channel swim...

Dr. Bergen Evans, who writes posters for "The $64,000 Question" gets a Sunday afternoon show on CBS-TV in January. Called "The Last Word," it'll be based on the quirks of the English language.

Jim Jordan and his wife, Marian, better known as "Fibber McGee and Molly," are talking about hosting an independent filmed comedy series. Jack Carson may join the project.

Mort Abrahams, executive producer of NBC-TV's "Producer's Showcase" (Jack and the Beanstalk) was his latest effort) is getting the come-hither treatment from a major Hollywood studio.

Eddie Fisher and his soft drink sponsor probably will part company in February, but Eddie will remain in his two-a-week slot on NBC-TV—his alternate backer, a peanut company, has indicated it will pick up the vacant time spot.

"Ombuds" is keeping it under wraps, but it's planning a lengthy cycle of Eugene O'Neill plays for the current season. The ABC-TV show also has signed Agnes DeMille for another segment—she'll show how a Broadway musical is choreographed.

Two new series based on the Civil War are in the cooking stage—one, "Battleflag," is being planned by a major ad agency; the other is being worked out by Bruce Catton, the prize-winning author of "Stillness At Appomattox."

Donald Woods, daughter, Linda, marries an insurance executive Saturday, but Woods won't take the day off—he'll show up on Saturday night as usual to host ABC-TV's "Famous Film Festival."

Score another "first" for Ed Sullivan—Clark Gable will make his initial TV appearance on the Nov. 25 Sullivan show. It'll be a filmed interview Sullivan made with Gable in Utah.

Down Concord Way

There seems never enough time to write anymore. Really there's no time for friends only as last Sunday, to attend ones funeral. I thought as hundreds of people filed by the casket of one of our dearest girlhood friends, Mrs. Lettye Oliver Moody, how happy she would have been could she have known how highly esteemed she was.

As they sang so beautifully "There's a Mansion now empty, just waiting for me, at the end of life's troublesome way, Many friends and dear loved ones will welcome me there Near the door of that Mansion, someday."

I thought, it is so pathetic that we wait until ones hands are folded in rest to bring the masses of flowers, and see old acquaintances for the first time in years.

Lettye, who dreamed dreams with us at Concord High School finished her life's work of rearing a family of five children, and at the age of 83 lies sleeping in the New Liberty Cemetery while I still go down the highway past her grave daily to my school. So many of our "Whys" remained unanswered.

We do not know much community news for with school all week and staying with the invalid mother week-ends, we do not hear much.

Mrs. Perry Allbritten left the hospital several days ago to go to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Harold Elkins, to recuperate from a serious heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Murray Auto Parts have rented their Murray home and are hurrying to finish renovating the old Bonner place so they can move before winter.

This modernized old farm house by the side of a babbling brook and babbling spring, surrounded by oak trees in the haven of refuge and seclusion which the Millers have yearned for for years and we sincerely hope that they may enjoy the contentment there, for which they have yearned.

I used to cherish a dream of a softly built log house with a stone chimney, beamed ceiling, rag carpet, lots of books, writing material and quietude. No modern mansion has ever changed my desire, but I may do, fall to realize my dream, and settle for a mansion over the hill tops, but make childless couples do not deserve to retire until they do all the good they can, in all the ways they can, just as long as they can.

One of my little 12 year olds said today, that he already knew everything he needed to know. I wrote a poem on the board and signed its writer, "Anonymous." I said, "Sonny, who wrote this." He didn't know Mr. Anonymous. I explained the word and he grinned sheepishly and admitted that maybe he didn't know every thing.

After going past the half hundredth birthday I can see that I still know far less than I thought I knew at the little boy's age, but I want to continue to be able to look at life on the level of the little fellows at the same time helping them raise their sights.

I do hope the sick are better.

As Thanksgiving nears, we have a wonderful harvest to be grateful for. We are thankful that our parents have been spared to rear us. We are thankful for every experience from which we have profited, and may we ever be able to count our blessings.

National Advertising Higher Than In 1955

NEW YORK (AP)—National Advertising in September dropped 6 per cent from August, but was 7 per cent above September 1955, the trade magazine, Printers' Ink, reported today.

For the first nine months of 1956 advertising ran 10 per cent higher than the similar period in 1955.

The publication said in September newspaper advertising fell 6 per cent from the previous month, but was 3 per cent ahead of September 1955.

The nine-month total showed newspapers had 9 per cent more ad business than in the same period of 1955.

Network television had the widest month-to-month decline in September, falling 18 per cent, but compared with a year ago the category was 21 per cent higher, Printers' Ink said.

Less Meat Available in 1957 Says Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says there will be slightly less meat available in 1957. It will sell at higher prices than in 1956. "Hog slaughter especially will be less than in 1956," the department said Wednesday. "Fully as many cattle likely will be slaughtered as in 1956, but average carcass weights may be enough lighter to pull down the total output of beef to some extent."

Backstairs At The White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backstairs at the White House: President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg never looked better than when he was up there last week. The lawns are sparkling and well-trimmed and his acreage seems well prepared for the coming winter.

One new addition about which little has been said is a new, regulation-size skeet range with automatically controlled stations for sending clay pigeons whizzing into the air for shotgun marksmen.

Mr. Eisenhower once enjoyed skeet shooting, but he has not done much of it lately. As a matter of fact, he hasn't had time to try out the new range. He's a good shot — the type who can go for an extended period without firing a gun, then return to the sport and still turn in a credible score.

The hunters made a pretty fall sight, as their red coats could be seen working in and out of the woods, their hounds baying at the scent of a cottontail, then the bang-bang of the shotguns in the distance.

Mr. Eisenhower much prefers bird hunting and he'll probably try his luck again early next year in the south Georgia and north Florida quail fields. The deer population is plentiful in Pennsylvania this year and some of the President's neighbors might try to talk him into what they call "real hunting."

The President has had several invitations in recent years to go duck hunting in Tidewater Virginia, but he always said, "I'd love to go later."

He possibly could run into some trouble with his doctors about duck shooting, however, because frequently the best weather for this type of hunting is cold, wet and blustery and that could cause a flare-up in a shoulder bursitis, particularly when combined with the recoil of a shotgun against his shoulder.

A lot of wisecracks expected the President to head for the nearest golf course right after the election when he could resume his game without the fear of politicians making a lot of it.

But the International crises kept Mr. Eisenhower close to his desk for the first week after the election. He finally managed to get away Tuesday afternoon for a round of golf at the Burning Tree Club.

The main thing now, however, is to find an appropriate time for getting down to Augustus, Ga. This present far more difficulties than an afternoon at nearby Burning Tree.

Nobody wants or needs a holiday more than the President's own staff — and they didn't even get a breather on Veterans Day when the rest of the government took a holiday.

Mr. Eisenhower put in a full day at the office. Only Jim Hagerly seemed to be missing and he was home nursing a cold.

The upper echelons of the Eisenhower staff put in some punishing hours for the last seven or eight weeks, working 10 and 12 hour days and seven-day weeks.

MAKE DRIVEWAYS VISIBLE

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture urge farmers to avoid planting crops too close to driveway entrances to eliminate a traffic menace. They urge farmers to keep driveways clear and "see what you're missing."

Sandra Bedwell and Annette Palmer led the group in singing "I am a Gonna Grieve My Lord no more."

The members answered the roll call by giving the name of their favorite flower.

Poland Is Big Winner In Red Revulsion

By CHARLES M. McCANN United Press Staff Correspondent Poland appears - at the moment - to be the big winner in the East European revulsion against Soviet Russian domination. The Soviet government has become so alarmed over the open rebellion in Hungary that it may yet move its army against the Poles.

But as of now, Poland has established a Titoist government and is proceeding with a combination of caution and boldness to get rid of its Russian "advisers."

Strives For Independence That is, he has tried to keep the Polish movement a political one, to make Poland an independent Communist state with emphasis on the Communist label, and to give the Russians no excuse to intervene.

They used to call Gomulka Poland's Little Stalin. He is a hard-bitten, hard-core Communist, stocky, close-mouthed and tough. He is very lucky to be alive. He was sent to prison as a "diversionist" when President Tito successfully rebelled against Josef Stalin's domination of Yugoslavia. He was freed in December, 1954. After the Kremlin's denunciation of Stalin-type dictatorship last February, Gomulka was "rehabilitated."

When the Polish revolt broke, he was brought back as the Communist party leader.

Apparently Realizes Danger Apparently Gomulka realized from the start the danger that the Polish revolt might turn like that in Hungary into an open and bloody rebellion against Communism itself. The Poles are historically hot-headed. They hate Russia-Russia itself, not just Communist Russia - perhaps more bitterly than do any other people. It is reported that Poland is still seething with unrest, partly in sympathy with the Hungarian rebels in their heroic fight. Gomulka has appealed again and again to Poles to maintain discipline. He has warned that he will suppress any riots "for the good of our fatherland and the safety of our homes."

Avoiding Hungary's Fate He has said that it depends on Poles themselves whether their country shall share the fate of Hungary. The way to avoid that, he has said, is for the people to restrain themselves and obey all orders of the government and the Communist Party.

That leaves Poland still under Communist rule. But Gomulka has the support of Cardinal Wyszynski, Roman Catholic primate of Poland in his appeal for law and order.

So Gomulka, once Poland's Little Stalin, has made himself Poland's Little Tito. Like Tito, Gomulka has been a Communist since his youth. But as Tito turned out to be a Yugoslav as well as Communist, Gomulka has turned out to be a Polish nationalist as well as a Communist.
