Dedication

The Class of 1941 dedicates this book to

DORIS E. HUTCHINS.

*who, through her friendship, helpfulness,
and faithful service, has won our love
and admiration.*

"FOUR CORNERS"

*You'll read the books of other schools,
Their jokes and all the rest,
But we hope that we'll hear you say,
"Four Corners" is the best.*

*We've really tried to make it fine,
We've done a lot of work,
Our teachers helped in every way;
No duty did we shirk.*

*Between these covers you will find
A bit of this and that;
Some sports, some jokes, and stories, too,
We hope they don't fall flat.*

*And so we trust you'll ask to have
Our book another time,
Till then I'll have to say good-bye,
I've run all out of rhyme.*

Volume XXIX

“THE GOLDEN RULE”

says to Patronize Our Advertisers. It is only because they have purchased space in our advertising section that we are enabled to publish this book. The Editorial Board of THE FOUR CORNERS and the student body of Scarboro High School wish to extend their sincere thanks to them.

I WONDER HOW

THE FOUR CORNERS received its name. Of course we can imagine:

1. That THE FOUR CORNERS was named because of the intersection of the State Road, the Black Point Road, and the Gorham Road at Oak Hill. Before we moved to our new building, the High School was located there.

2. That our year-book includes all the activities of the school, and all that takes place in the “four corners” of the school.

3. That the old watering trough at Oak Hill made that spot a general meeting place. Therefore, these four corners became very popular.

4. That the High School had pupils who lived in different sections of the town, known better as the “four corners” of the town.

5. That the High School was first located at Dunstan, where four other roads intersect, making “four corners.” At one time, the High School was also located at Scottow’s Hill.

Considering these possible explanations, one can easily realize that THE FOUR CORNERS has been excellently named. However, the students are not satisfied in using their imaginations as to how their book was named. They would like to know the real explanation.

We have asked several people how this book received its name. No one has been able to give an accurate answer, because the book was named so many years ago. We would appreciate any information as to how our year-book actually received its name.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Scarborough High School consists of ten members chosen by the four classes, four from the Senior class, three from the Junior class, two from the Sophomore class, and one from the Freshman class chosen after Thanksgiving.

The members of this board take up any suggestions involving the welfare of the student body, made by their various classes. Many times the Student Council initiates problems.

After debating these suggestions, the Student Council takes those they consider profitable to the faculty for further approval. If the suggestions meet with the faculty's approval, the Student Council then takes the lead in seeing that the suggestions are put into effect as a part of the school's procedure.

There is a Student Council in practically every high school in the United States. This board plays an important part in the educational system.

Let us remember this, that being a Student Council member is not only an honor, but a great responsibility. So let us all try harder and make our Student Council the best. We believe that this year could have been much more successful.

GUIDANCE

This year a new course was added to our schedule, Guidance. This class is under the direction of the home-room teachers, and it is held weekly. It is to help the students obtain jobs in the business world after they finish school.

At the beginning of the year, we studied the necessary etiquette for both private and public life. Then, as the year progressed, we studied manners to be observed in applying for a job.

In some of the Guidance classes, students have brought in their hobbies, which they have both shown and explained to the rest of the class.

Recently, we had a successful business man speak to us on the basic rules on which he hires his waiters and waitresses.

This course is interesting and profitable. We hope that it will be continued as a definite part of the school program.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AND THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

What is national defense? It is a program of rearmament to prepare the United States against possible foreign invasion. Congress and the public, stirred by the implications of a German victory, have become acutely conscious of our defense problem. In the past ten months, they have seen the Allies come tumbling out of a world of dreams and military mistakes.

In general, people are inclined to think that the men of military age are the only ones who have anything to do with the defense program. This idea is entirely wrong. Everyone must help with the defense program, if it is going to be a success. If only a few are interested in it, it will undoubtedly fail, because it is a plan which needs the whole country behind it.

The high school student can help in many ways. Primarily, he should study this idea of national defense, so that he will know "what it's all about." He should consult his teachers and parents about the matter, so he will have different people's opinions. At a time like this, he should be more patriotic than ever before. He should encourage his schoolmates to become more patriotic. A girl could buy patriotic jewelry, or wear clothes in red, white and blue. The idea behind this patriotism is to discourage the "fifth columnists." If every one is alert as far as this "fifth column" is concerned, it will soon die out.

If military training should become compulsory in high schools, the students should take it willingly, and not begrudge it in the least. They should go out for the rifle team, so they would be ready to pick up a gun at a moment's notice and know how to use it. High school students of wealthy standing would be helping the defense program by taking aviation lessons. As this war is being fought mostly in the air, good aviators would be in great demand if our country should become involved.

In my opinion, the present program is a wonderful thing. I think every high school student should help in some way with it. I'm sure that when this program is completed, we will be ready to meet and defeat any possible invader.

God bless America!

Private Donald Stevens writes from Georgia:

"I was picked to come here from Savannah because of my marks in Math. I was given just twenty minutes to get ready. I took the trip in an A-18 Fighter-Interceptor. I had a parachute strapped around my legs and shoulders. Talk about a fast ride! We were going between 350 and 400 miles an hour. He did some stunting for me — loops and dives, side slips and rolls. When the ship comes out of a dive, it feels as if it was going up and leaving you down there somewhere. I am only 75 miles from Maxwell Field, Alabama, where Steve Libby is."

Private Steven Libby writes:

"I'm having a grand time down here in Alabama. The people are swell to us, the work is interesting, and I know lots of things about what's behind the military workings of the government that I never dreamed of."

Richard Woodward on a visit told us:

"I really wanted to get down to some of the practical technique of the aviation business, but my bosses decided differently, so they gave me a job teaching. I never fancied in my wildest imaginings that I'd be among the pedagogs, but here I am."

September 9, 1940

School begins for the teachers. One more day of grace for us.

September 10

School really opens. After a long vacation, it's great to get back. All of our teachers and most of the studes back. Heavy rain!

September 11

Assignment of home rooms: Mr. Bessey, Seniors; Mrs. Libbey, Juniors; Mr. Stoddard, Sophomores; Miss Marr, Div. A, Freshmen; Mr. Higgins, Div. B, Freshmen.

September 12

The talk is all of the Selective Service Act, which will include Mr. Hallett and Mr. Higgins.

Freshmen begin to look somewhat acclimated. Did the rest of us look as scared?

September 13

Class elections:

Seniors — President, Carlton Richardson; Vice President, Clayton Skillings; Secretary, Janet Jordan; Treasurer, Theresa Doyle.

Juniors — President, H. Richardson; Vice President, W. Delaware; Secretary, E. Shaw; Treasurer, E. Nelson.

Sophomores — President, D. Richardson; Vice President, Eugene Klase; Secretary, Jean Seavey; Treasurer, Donald Bradford.

Freshmen—President, R. Lucey; Vice President, Wentworth S. Seamman; Secretary, Eleanor Wyman; Treasurer, Raymond Skillings.

September 17

First Orchestra. We are sure to have a new (to us) piano for the assembly hall.

Student Council chosen:

Seniors — Warren Plowman, Stephen Higgins, Ethel Christensen, Viola Jordan.

Juniors — Shirley Mills, Lloyd Leary, Nason Snow.

Sophomores — George Knight, Avis Withee.

Freshman—Donald Mitchell.

Officers of the Student Council—President, Warren Plowman; Vice President, Stephen Higgins; Secretary, Ethel Christensen; Treasurer, Viola Jordan.

September 18

Indian Summer. Everyone out of doors at noon and recess.

September 21

History II class took their annual trip to the Harvard Museum with Mr. and Mrs. Libbey, Frank Moses and Edward Bullock.

September 23

Big navy dirigible flew over school all day, checking radio finding apparatus. Makes us think of war.

September 25

New piano came. Old one moved to Junior home room.

September 27

Curtis Publishing Co. man called and set up the annual drive. This time we are working for lockers for the girls.

September 28

Scarboro Fair.

October 3

Miss Hutchins entertained the Faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Heald and their guests at the Iron Kettle in Gray. Miss Hutchins very successfully ran the Iron Kettle as a roadside house last summer.

October 4

Junior home room has a new flag presented to them, and an electric clock, which Dana Plummer is making a case for.

October 7

Nason Snow and Lloyd Leary arrived at school on time. Juniors select class rings. First dancing class under the instruction of Mrs. Merle Blanchard (Miss Yvonne Webber), who also held the class two years ago.

October 8

Returns in for the Curtis Drive. Cleared $40.10.

October 9

All the classes take I. Q. tests.

October 11

Local 4-H Contest in the Town Hall. The Co-Boss Club, led by Mr. Bessey, walked off with first honors for the most entertaining skit, presenting "Wild Nell of the Prairie," with Nase Snow as Wild Nell. The following were named local champions: Pig and Dairy, Lloyd Leary; Beans, Pooler; Chickens, Kenneth Libby.

October 15

Girls' Swimming Meet in Portland. Terry Doyle ties for first place in the dive.

October 16

Conscription Registration Day. Mr. Bessey and Mr. Higgins helped in the registration at the Town Hall.

October 17

All the girls are grabbing for the Press Herald to see if they really have lost their last chance at Cal Austin. Tough luck, girls, he is really married to Geneva Plowman, '38. Best wishes, Cal.

October 18

Freshman Reception. Everyone had a grand time (but the Freshmen). It wasn't half bad, was it, Frosh? Think of what you can do next year!

October 21

First honor roll of the year. The lucky ones receive a red ribbon and star.

All A's, First Honors—Theresa Doyle, '41; Theresa Sullivan, '43.

All A's and B's, Second Honors — Glenna Storey, '41; Shirley Mills, '42; Carlo Profenno, '43; Audrey Bryant, '44; Althea Ahlquist, '43.

October 22

Boys' Swimming Meet in Portland.

October 23

Rifle Meet. Frank Winchester, '43, and Don Bradford, '43, placed to win their letters in the sport.

October 24

Teachers' Convention. How we love to see the skulemarms work and let us rest our weary heads.

October 25

Miss Steele's grade youngsters make a hit with their nautical skit at the convention.

October 29

First basketball practice of the year. Selective Service numbers drawn today. We all gathered in the main room to listen to the drawing. Got a big kick out of watching Mr. Higgins, Mr. Hallett and Miss Marr.

October 30

Held a Mock Presidential Election at school. Roosevelt won, 7 to 5.

October 31

Fred Skillings, '25, was chosen President of the Scarboro Red Cross.

November 4

Anna Wright and Caroline Cunningham spoke on the Junior Red Cross in all the rooms at the grade school.

Several Nimrods are absent on their annual gunning trip.

"CAMPUS QUARANTINES"

Front Row: I. Harmon, J. Jordan, E. Christensen, G. Storey, T. Doyle, V. Jordan.

Standing: S. Higgins, C. Pooler, C. Richardson, C. Ahlquist, C. Skillings, W. Plowman.

November 8

The annual Senior Play, "The Campus Quarantine," was very successfully presented in the Town Hall, coached by Mr. Stoddard. The cast was as follows:

Gloria Smith, a Kanna Jamma Girl,
Isabelle Harmon
Mrs. Smith, her aunt and Sorority mother,
Janet Jordan
Beryl Shepard, who caused the trouble,
Ethel Christensen
Edythe Rhodes, another Sorority girl,
Theresa Doyle
Deborah Mercer, the Forgotten Girl,
Glenna Storey

Lela Dunn, Viola Jordan
Dr. Leon Atwell, meek and mild, Steven Higgins
Gordon Dunn, a born manager,

Ronald Steele, his pal, Carlton Richardson
Elliott Maxim, who loves theatricals, Clayton Skillings

Finlay Carruthers, his roommate, Warren Plowman

Howard Ross, from a rival college, Carroll Pooler
Clarence Ahlquist

November 11

Armistice Day. Perhaps in the next few years we will find out what that first Armistice Day was like.

"HIP! HIP!"

November 12

Cheer Assembly. After a number of prospective cheer leaders had strutted their stuff, the school chose as the best: Terry Doyle, '41; Shirley Mills, '42; Caroline Cunningham, '42; Ruth Baizley, '43; and Barbara Fossett, '44. The girls are to wear garnet skirts and white sweaters.

November 18

Blue Monday. 34 on detention. What on earth are the younger generation coming to! Mrs. Libbey had to turn over the overflow to the other teachers.

November 19

First basketball game of the season, Pennell at Scarboro.

November 21

32 states celebrate "Franksgiving." Maine is sticking to the good old date.

November 22

Mrs. Frank Roberts of Westbrook entertained the school assembly with beautiful colored movies of her trip around the world.

November 26

Scarboro beat Pennell at Pennell. What a grand and glorious feeling!

November 28

Maine and 15 other states celebrate Thanksgiving. We will need a vacation to get over our turkey.

December 2

After vacation! We all look like the cat after licking cream. Back to the grind!

December 3

Scarboro beat Greely. Do it again, boys. You can't hurt our feelings that way.

December 4

Whew! 22 below zero. Tough on the old bus and on all who have to start them! Lots late.

Second ranking period honor list:

All A's — Glenna Storey, '41; Albert Chase, '44.

All A's and B's—Theresa Doyle, '41; Carlo Profenno, '43; Theresa Sullivan, '43; Frances Bimson, '44; Brenton Dodge, '44; Audrey Bryant, '44; Lucille Chase, '44; Althea Ahlquist, '43.

ORCHESTRA

December 6

Standish shellacs us, 39 to 25. We are all in sackcloth and ashes.

December 9

Pep Assembly.

Setting up the team, beginning of color week. Every home room is gay with the good old Red and White.

December 10

First meeting of this year's Washington Club. The following plan to go: Viola Jordan, Isabelle Harmon, Janet Jordan, Terry Doyle, Ella Nelson, Anna and Mary Wright, Nason Snow, Everett Withee, Lloyd Leary and Theresa Burnham.

December 11

Mr. Austin shows his pictures of the California trip to the Civic League. Several high school students attended and enjoyed the program.

December 12

Gorham trimmed us on our own floor. Woe is we!

December 16

Like glass underfoot. Lots late, and lots of accidents.

December 17

All the school sang Christmas carols the last period. What fun to be able to sing them with our country at peace!

Mr. Higgins lingers hopefully under the mistletoe. Just one catch!

December 18

The Junior boys aren't taking any risks on the mistletoe business. They hung the quarantine cards around their necks and sallied forth timorously. Those naughty gals caught Charles Rcilly. Tut! Tut!

December 19

Several of the next generation visited with older brothers and sisters. 'Spose we were ever as cute?

We got our lockers, a grand Xmas gift.

Freshmen have a joke tree in their home room; Juniors have Xmas stockings; and the whole school had a jolly time in the afternoon. A dramatic program under the direction of Miss Marr and Mr. Hallett, and a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Libbey were enjoyed. Then the tree gave the final touch of fun. Merry, Merry Christmas!

December 20

Holy Smokes! Mother Earth, you needn't celebrate just because we're on a vacation. An earthquake, of all things!

December 21

Another Christmas gift, swell skating and a moon! Que voulez-vous, encore?

December 24

Another and worse earthquake, and a number of small shakes. If it were only warm, we might think we were in California.

December 30

Ida Nelson, '39, and Richard Woodward, '38, visited school. Dick has a new mush and a new job, instructor at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois.

December 31

Junior Class New Year's Party. Miss Steele and Mr. Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Libbey were chaperones. Games, refreshments, and then most all went to one of the midnight shows in Portland.

January 1

Faculty meeting to plan a show to raise money for the piano. Still cold. Gee! Don't we get up hard these mornings!

January 2

Mrs. Libbey out, ill. Mrs. Marguerite Leary is substituting.

January 3

Porter trimmed S. H. S. at Kezar Falls. Nuff said!

January 4

Third ranking period honor roll:

All A's—Theresa Doyle, '41; Glenna Storey, '41; Theresa Sullivan, '43; Althea Ahlquist, '43.

All A's and B's — Shirley Mills, '42; Karine Johnson, '43; Carlo Profenno, '43; Ruth Baizley, '43; Frances Bimson, '44; Albert Chase, '44; Brenton Dodge, '44.

January 6

Private William Colburn, ex-'43, who is stationed at Ft. Ethan Allen, Vt., visited and spoke to the Civics B Division.

January 7

We are all trying hard to see Cunningham's Comet. Clarence Moody is trying the hardest.

January 9

George Milliken, '29, and Ken Dolloff, '40, brought a set of new basketball nets for our gym as a gift from the Town Team. The team is composed of graduates of the high school and is right in the limelight of the League. The gym floor is going to pieces again.

January 10

Mr. Hallett is out ill.

Teachers' visiting day. Our faculty visited Thornton Academy, Wells, York and Kennebunk.

January 13

This week was our big flu epidemic. Miss Blanchard watched over us and sent home any suspicious cases. 28 absent.

January 14

37 absent.

January 15

32 absent.

Home Ec girls, under Miss Hutchins' supervision, put on a grand supper to earn money for the department.

January 16

41 absent.

January 17

Ice storm. Terribly slippery. No school, luckily for many of us.

January 20

42 absent. Mr. Hallett back.

January 23

Mid-year's. Teacher, remember when you were young, and spare the innocent. Why the dickens didn't we study harder on our daily work?

January 24

Well, we lived through yesterday; one more deep breath, and it's all over.

Gorham put the finishing touches on by drubbing us, 33-11. Never mind. Even the biggest nations have their ups and downs.

January 25

Mid-year Dance given by the Senior class.

January 28

Same old luck! Windham beat us.

February 2

Ground hog didn't see his shadow today, if "thet" means anything.

February 3

Make-up exams for those who flunked the mid-year's.

February 7

Percy Knight, Bates, '42, visited school.

A near-hurricane today, and how the ventilators rattled!

February 12

Trials (rightly named) for prize speaking. The following were selected:

Girls—Theresa Doyle, '41; Glenna Storey, '41; Rena Libby, '43; Arlene Cohen, '44; Eleanor Wyman, '44.

Boys—Carlton Richardson, '41; Clayton Skillings, '41; Linwood Dyer, '42; Nason Snow, '42; Warren Huntley, '44.

February 13

World's Fair movies at the Town Hall. The eighth grade were our guests.

Mr. Bessey announced the honor parts: Theresa Doyle, Valedictorian; Glenna Storey, Salutatorian.

Glenna Storey has also been chosen as the outstanding Senior girl to compete with girls similarly chosen from the various high schools of the state for a trip to Washington as the guest of the D. A. R.

Boy Scout public supper to raise money for the troop of which Vernon Paulsen, '37, is leader. Mr. Bessey presented a flag to the troop.

February 17

Hooray! Good old vacation! Now don't we snooze past that old bus time! Will we ever get that sleep made up?

February 24

Work on the "Naughtical Nautics" begins in earnest. We are to have a competition for the best poster.

February 27

Triple-C Basketball Tournament at Gorham Normal School.

February 28

Our school nurse, Miss Catharine Blanchard, has left to join the army nursing unit. We will miss her faithful attention.

Pep assembly.

March 3

Annual Town Meeting. Raised money to repair the gym floor and lay a linoleum on the Home Ec floor, both sadly needed. Thanks a million, voters!

"NAUGHTICAL NAUTICS OF NINETEEN-41"

March 7

Big night! Presented "Naughtical Nautics," with Captain Willard Higgins, Sinbad, Deadeye Dick, John Silver, Pop-eye, Captain January, and a chorus of sailor lads and lassies. The show was all fine, making it hard to single out any acts for especial comment. A dance followed, participated in by everyone from six to sixty. We cleared $108.00. Theresa Burnham won first prize for selling 137 chances on the blanket; Shirley Mills won second; and Ella Nelson won third. Congratulations to Miss Steele and all the cast. Flowers were presented to Miss Steele.

March 11

Mr. Joseph R. Knight gave a talk on applying for a job to the Junior Guidance Class.

Terrific blizzard in the evening. Here's hoping!

March 12

Hooray! No school! Took us all day to dig out of the drifts.

March 14

Jane Courtenay and Rachel Whipple of Thornton Academy were visitors.

A representative of the Hood Company gave a most interesting talk and movie program on "Milk, Our Best Food."

March 15

Mr. Stoddard, Mr. Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Libbey drove to U. of M. to attend the Maine Masque Festival. The program consisted of one-act plays and a 3½-hour presentation of "Hamlet."

March 16

Fourth ranking period honor list:

All A's — Theresa Doyle, '41; Glenna Storey, '41; Theresa Sullivan, '43; Althea Ahlquist, '43.

All A's and B's — Clara Hersey, '41; Shirley Mills, '42; Linwood Dyer, '42; Karine Johnson, '43; Frances Bimson, '44; Ruth Chase, '44; Brenton Dodge, '44; Albert Chase, '44; Eleanor Newcomb, '44.

March 21

Sophomore Dance. A great success and a fine time. Our assembly today was by a debating team from Bates who debated on the question of a union of North and South America. The students voted for the best speaker of the four and the winning side, but the college is to announce the decision later.

March 24

The Scarborough Town Team, composed of graduates of S. H. S., with the exception of Cal Austin, copped the league championship.

March 26

The two divisions of Freshman Civics competed in a question quiz on the Constitution. Each division won a match. Individual high honors were won by Eleanor Newcomb, Albert Chase and Earl Ahlquist.

March 27

No Seniors. All off collecting ads. Lucky kids!

March 28

Assembly. Mr. Timothy Ward gave a very funny and interesting cartoon program, after which letters were awarded.

Basketball letters to: Warren Plowman, Carroll Pooler, Steve Higgins, Everett Withee, Charles Reilly, George Knight, Malcolm Libby, Donald Richardson.

Girls' basketball letters went to: Eleanor Shaw, Clara Hersey, Theresa Doyle and Ethel Christensen. Terry also received her swimming letter.

Rifle letters were awarded to: Frank Winchester and Donald Bradford. Prizes were announced for the "Naughtical Nauties" posters, as follows: First, Eugene Klase; second, Thomas Walker; third, Louis Manter.

This year we have received so many excellent publications that the Board of Editors has decided to change its policy in regard to Exchanges.

Your Exchange Editor, therefore, was requested to make the list of ratings which follows. She realizes that these ratings are by no means final, but they are an attempt to give a fair and impartial estimate of our Exchanges.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES

1. The excellent typing in all mimeographed books.
2. The pages in The Review (Foxcroft Academy).
3. The cover of The Islander (Bar Harbor).
4. The poetry in The Rostrum (Guilford).
5. The work with the stylus in The Clarion (Freeport).

Pullman Porter: "Shall I brush you off, sir?"

E. W., '42: "No, thanks, I'll climb off like the rest of the passengers."

Barber: "How did you lose your hair?"

Mr. S.: "Worry."

Barber: "What did you worry about?"

Mr. S.: "About losing my hair."

Following the line of least resistance is what makes rivers and men crooked.

Mr. B. (in Geometry): "Scoot, what is the definition of a line?"

Scoot R., '42: "A good line is the shortest distance between two dates."

THE BOY WHO SITS IN BACK OF ME

His temper is always sunny, his hair is ever neat;

He never notices the girls, he says they are too sweet;

He loves to study Physics, and in Algebra he's bright,

To have my marks as good as his, I'd sit up half the night.

His shoes are always polished, his hands are always clean,

He never bullies little kids, he would not be so mean;

His teacher never has to say, "Your conduct from good is far,"

For he adores his teachers and worships our Miss Marr.

You wish to know this model boy?

Oh! Him you'll never meet;

There is no boy in back of me—

I sit in the back seat.

Mr. S.: "Arlene, in what meter is this poem written?"

A. C., '44: "Antiseptic."

If anyone is interested in learning dancing, he should sign up for Geometry.

Mr. B. proves to be an excellent teacher of rhythm.

The SENIORS, they are "quite the nuts,"

The JUNIORS, they're "the works";

The SOPHOMORES, they're sure "some mutts,"

And the FRESHMEN they're just "little squirts."

Patient: "Doctor, are you sure this is pneumonia? Sometimes doctors prescribe for pneumonia, and the patients die of something else."

M. D. (with dignity): "When I prescribe for pneumonia, you die of pneumonia."

S. M., '42, and A. W., '43: "We guess you'd call us friends — we have the same enemies."

K. J., '43: "May I get a drink?"

Mrs. L.: Yes, you may. I suppose Cæsar is rather dry."

V. J., '41: "I can't understand why I never accepted Jack the first time he proposed."

I. H., '41: "That's easy, dear — you weren't there."

"How often do you shave?"
 "Oh, about thirty times a day."
 "Are you nuts?"
 "No, I'm a barber."

BONERS

Have you heard that:

A race is a group of people with the same color, skin and feathers.

A dwelling is a place you reside in when not at home.

Picketing is removing the seeds from cotton.

Probation means liquor not allowed.

Suffrage is when a person is dying.

Aristocracy is rule of the wealthy people over the pheasants or poor people.

The President signed the Consumption Bill in September.

D. R., '43 (feeling a twinge in the back while he is tuning in the radio): "I believe I'm getting lumbago."

D. B., '43: "What's the use? You won't be able to understand a word they say."

Mr. H.: "What is half of eight?"
 W. S., '44: "Which way, teacher?"
 Mr. H.: "What do you mean, which way?"

W. S., '44: "On top or sideways?"
 Mr. H. (bewildered): "What difference does it make?"

W. S., '44: "Well, half of the top eight is zero, but half of eight sideways is three."

T. D., '41: "Can you type?"

J. J., '41: "Yes, I use the Columbus system."

T. D., '41: "What's that?"

J. J., '41: "I discover a key, and then land on it."

E. W., '44: "How many brothers and sisters have you?"

H. S., '44: "I have two half brothers and one half sister."

E. W., '44: "My gracious, are you the only whole one in the family?"

We are told that "this year's world output of motor cars will run into millions." We are glad of this hint and will try our best not to be one of those millions."

E. W., '42: "I know a fellow who got into trouble being frank and earnest."

G. P., '42: "Yeah?"

E. W., '42: "Yeah! Frank in New York and Ernest in Brooklyn."

L. L., '42: "Nace Snow says he didn't make a mistake in his history exam, and yet Mrs. L. wouldn't pass him."

E. W., '42: "How ould that be?"

L. L., '42: "Well, he wrote 'I don't know' after each question, and he claims that his answers were all correct."

G. P., '42: "Parlez-vous fraucais?"

R. B., '43: "No, thanks. I'd rather walk."

In Am. Hist. Class: "To which side do you think Gen. Johnston belonged?"

Scot R., '42: "I think he was a Confederate, but in this picture he has on a Union suit."

Cheer up, girls! The only thing worse than being talked about is not being talked about.

First Freshman: "Who is this guy Homer?"

Second Freshman: "I guess he's the one Babe Ruth was knocking all the time."

Mr. S.: "What are you chewing, gum?"

Wise Junior: "No, my eud."

Mr. S.: "All you need is a tail to switch the flies off."

Miss Marr: "I want you pupils to write a composition in French, and I said a composition and not a sentence!"

CLASSES

There are classes good and bad, great and small, classes of many kinds, many kinds of classes, classes of all kinds, all kind of classes, but, after all, there is but one class—the SENIORS.

(Well, why not?)

WANTED FOR THE SENIORS

1. A car to relieve Lloyd of carting the Seniors around.
2. An Italian sandwich for Viola's lunch.
3. A race horse to catch up with Clara's typing.
4. A case of Coke for Terry.
5. Someone to teach Izzie how to use the telephone.
6. A porter to help Warren carry Betty's saxophone.
7. A new radiator for Ethel's car.
8. Some library rules for the Senior girls.

Mr. S.: "What part of speech is 'nose'?"

R. B., '43: "None. You speak with your mouth."

Mrs. L. (in Hist. Class): "Who can tell me who Anne Boleyn was?"

K. B., '42: "Anne Boleyn was a flat-iron."

Mrs. L.: "What on earth do you mean?"

K. B., '42: "Well, it says here in the history book: 'Henry, having disposed of Catherine, pressed his suit with Anne Boleyn'."

Miss M.: "My, what a funny pair of gloves—one red and one green."

B. B., '44: "I have another pair at home just like them."

Husband (looking over household accounts): "What is this item of five dollars for overhead expenses?"

Wife: "Oh, that's the new umbrella I bought, dear. I left my old one on the bus."

FROSH ALPHABET

DIVISION A

- A is for Audrey, so quiet and bright;
By the way, little girl, where were you last night
- B is for Betty, so sweet and so small;
I don't know why, but she won't grow at all.
- C is for Clarence, our class poet;
He's very smart, but doesn't know it.
- D is for Dodge, Brenton by name;
His trusty trumpet will bring him fame.
- E is for Eleanor, both W and N,
If you need them to help, just tell them when.
- F is for Fossett, a dear little girl;
When Junior's around, her head's in a whirl.
- G is for Gordon, our lilting song bird;
Whenever he sings, for miles he is heard.
- H is for Helen, with pretty red hair,
A smiling face and complexion so fair.
- I is for intelligence,
Which usually goes with commonsense.
- J is for Junior, a talkative lad;
You had better watch out when he gets mad.
- K is the letter that comes after J,
But no one here begins with K.
- L is for Lucille, so smart, you know,
But why, oh, why, must she always talk so?
- M is for Main, a girl five feet eight,
Who always, always wants a date.
- N is for Nelsen, so very witty;
Her jokes are so dry, it's really a pity.
- O is for Olesen, Norman by name;
Whenever you meet him, he's always the same.
- P is for Pooler, Arthur, you know;
This tall, lanky lad is still on the go.
- Q is for queer, quick, quiet and quaint;
Most of these, I'm afraid we ain't.
- R is for Richard, and Raymond, too;
Give them some gum and watch them chew.
- S is for Stanley, quiet as a mouse;
You never can tell when he's in the house.
- T is for truthful, trustful, twenty-one;
When they're together, they're sure to have fun.
- U is for unknown, the author, you see;
I am in hopes you won't know me.
- V is for vitality and vigor;
Watch your vitamins and save your figure.
- W is for Wentworth, an athlete fleet;
He runs so fast, he can't be beat.
- X is the letter which everyone fears,
But study hard, and you'll shed no tears.
- Y is for our year-book;
Open the cover and take a look.
- 'Z anyone here want me to stop?
I didn't say such an awful lot.

Fond Mother: "Yes, George is taking French and Algebra. Say 'Good morning' in Algebra, dear."

D. D., '44: "Is that my hat?"

D. M., '44: "I don't know, but it's the one you gave me."

D. H., '43: "I would like to open an account at this bank, please."

Teller: "We shall be very glad to accommodate you. What amount do you wish to deposit?"

D. H., '43 (smiling): "Oh, I mean a regular charge account, such as I have at the department stores."

E. K., '43 (handing cartoon to editor): "Now, this is the picture of a cow eating grass."

Editor: "I don't see any grass."

E. K., '43: "Oh, the cow has eaten all the grass."

Editor: "And where's the cow?"

E. K., '43: "Well, you can't expect a cow to hang around when all the grass is gone."

Father: "It says here in the paper that an astrologer predicts that the world will come to an end next Christmas."

R. S., '44: "Will it be before or after dinner, Dad?"

MEOW!!

"Well, well! I haven't come across you in years. How you have aged, my dear."

"Is that so? I wouldn't have known you, either, except for that dress you are still wearing."

Mr. H.: "What is the formula for water?"

T. D., '41: "H I J K L M N O."

Mr. H.: "Why, what do you mean?"

T. D., '41: "Well, you said it was H to O."

H. V., '42: "I don't see how football players get clean."

T. B., '42: "What do you suppose the scrub teams are for?"

Large Room Needed

From Montezuma (Iowa) Republican:

"Wanted — Large, well-furnished room by a young woman about 16 feet square."

Strange Adventures of a Lady

From Blyria (Ohio) Chronicle:

"She was born in Brecksville, Ohio, April 17, 1860, and previous to that time had lived in Mentor for 46 years, where she was an active member of the Methodist Church."

How tragic for a man to pine
 'Neath mistletoe's romantic vine,
 Watching the misses passing by
 While he tries in vain to catch their eye.

'Tis mighty tough to miss the kisses,
 But, oh, what bliss to kiss the misses,
 And tho' next week you may be miss-less,
 That is no sign you should be kiss-less.

These kisses used with a little care
 Will give a man his normal share,
 So, as you smack these 'lasses kisses,
 Think of the smacks from pretty misses.

It was a "Sensation" and a "Lucky Strike" for me when I found "Old Gold" as I was riding across the "Chesterfield" plains, on a "Camels" back. It was worth "Twenty Grand." Some "Marvel"!

E. W., '42: "What's happened?"

L. L., '42: "Puncture."

E. W., '42: "You should have looked out for it. The guide-book says that there is a fork in the road just about here."

C. S., '41: "If you stood with your back to the north and facing south, what would be on your left hand?"

C. R., '41: "I don't know. East, I suppose."

C. S., '41: "No, your fingers."

Mr. B.: "What are you doing with your foot on the desk?"

Student: "I'm economizing, sir. I've lost my eraser, and I'm using my rubber heel."

N. S., '42: "Was Robinson Crusoe an aerobat?"

D. B., '43: "I never heard that he was. Why do you ask?"

N. S., '42: "Well, it says here that at the end of his day's work he sat down on his chest."

A. S., '43: "My uncle can play the piano by ear."

G. K., '43: "That's nothing. My uncle fiddles with his whiskers."

Young Girl (from the city, visiting B. M., '43): "Oh, I'm so glad you have a brown cow."

B. M., '43: "Why so?"

Young girl: "Because now I won't have to go without my chocolate milk while I'm visiting here."

OLD STUFF

The orderly officer received a complaint about the issue of bread.

"Soldiers should not make a fuss about trivialities, my man," he said. "If Napoleon had had that bread when he was crossing the Alps, he'd have eaten it with delight."

"Yes, sir," said the lance-corporal, "but it was fresh then."

"THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN."

R. W., '42: "Well, I showed up the teacher before the whole class today."

C. R., '42: "How?"

R. W., '42: "She asked me for Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, 'n' I had to tell her he never lived there. Oh, you should have heard the class laugh then."

ATHLETICS

BOYS' OUTDOOR TRACK

Scarboro High, during the 1940 Season, enjoyed one of the most successful track seasons in its history. The team was balanced as well as any ever developed at Scarboro. Our first meet was with Old Orchard May 9th. This meet proved that Scarboro had plenty of power to spare, as we defeated them $73\frac{5}{6}$ to $25\frac{1}{6}$, winning all but two first places.

We were unable to schedule any other dual meets, but practiced intensively for the Triple C Meet, which was later cancelled.

The State Interscholastic Track Meet was held at the Portland Stadium June 1, 1940. Scarboro, with a well balanced team, easily captured the Class C title for second time in three years. Gerald McElwain added a new record to the books by broad jumping 19 ft. $10\frac{3}{8}$ in. This broke the old record by $\frac{7}{8}$ inches. Glover and McElwain were tied for top scoring honors, with 15 points each. $19\frac{5}{6}$ of Scarboro's $62\frac{5}{6}$ points were won by Freshmen.

INDOOR TRACK

A somewhat more ambitious program was undertaken in indoor track this year. Practice was started on March 10th, and two meets were held with Pennell Institute, in addition to the usual interclass and Triple C contest.

The Interclass meet was held on March 14th and 18th. This was won quite handily by the Sophomores, who piled up 61½ points. Charles Reilly tried hard to preserve the glory of the Juniors, winning all but one of their 12½ points for second place. Clayton Skillings carried third place for the Seniors. Forrest Pooler tied for third in the high jump, bringing the Seniors' total to 8. The Freshmen won 3 points in the relay.

On our home floor, on March 19th, the boys won over Pennell, 40-28. Eugene Klase was the star, winning two first and enough other points to make a total of 17. Pennell's high-point man was Donnie Hall.

Seven boys went to Pennell on March 31st and won again, 39-29. Klase again was star for Scarboro, with Reilly, Cohen, Libby, Knight, Profenno and Winchester also winning places. Hall of Pennell was high scorer of the meet, with 16 points.

The fourteenth annual Triple C Indoor Track Meet was held at the Portland Y. M. C. A., on Saturday, April 5th. The meet this year was won by the Falmouth team, which gathered 27 points. Scarboro, winning 15 points, finished third, behind Pennell. Our points were won by Mike Libby and Charlie Reilly, in the potato race; Carlo Profenno, in the high jump and rope climb; and the relay team.

Eugene Klase, an excellent performer and winner of many points in the other meets, was forced to leave the squad before this last meet, on account of a slight injury. Everyone hopes that by next year, Gene will have fully recovered and will be able to go on and round out a brilliant career in high school track.

The summary of the Triple C Meet follows:

20-Yard Dash—Won by Plummer, Falmouth; second, Estes, Windham; third, Swett, Falmouth. Time, 3½ seconds.

Rope Climb—Won by Glass, Pennell; second, Fogg, Windham; third, Profenno, Scarboro. Time, 7½ seconds (new record).

High Jump—Tie for first place between Pratt, Falmouth, and Hall, Pennell; third, Profenno, Scarboro. Height, 5 feet 2½ inches.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Meehan, Falmouth; second, Ames, Falmouth; third, tie between Anthoine, Windham, and Hall, Pennell. Distance, 8 feet 9 inches.

Hop, Step and Jump—Won by Hall, Pennell; second, Meehan, Falmouth; third, Plummer, Falmouth. Distance, 26 feet 9¾ inches (new record).

Potato Race—Won by Libby, Scarboro; second, Reilly, Scarboro; third, Hall, Pennell. Time, 16½ seconds.

Shot Put—Won by Meehan, Falmouth; second, Kupelian, Pennell; third, Martin, Gorham. Distance, 37 feet 10¼ inches.

Relay—Won by Scarboro (Knight, Libby, Cohen, Reilly); second, Pennell; third, Windham. Time, 28 seconds.

GIRLS' TRACK

A number of girls who were interested in track practiced faithfully for the Triple C Meet, which was scheduled for May 23, 1940, at the Portland Stadium. However, this meet was not held because of the lack of interest among other schools.

At an interclass meet, the class of 1941 proved itself the strongest in competition, winning the meet by about eight points.

This spring we are hoping that there will be a Triple C meet for us to enter, as track is one of our most popular girls' sports.

Members of last year's team were: Gertrude Perry, '40; Marion Stamford, '40; Ethel Christensen, '41; Terry Doyle, '41; Isabel Harmon, '41; Clara Hersey, '41; Viola Jordan, '41; Wanda Varney, '41; Theresa Burnham, '42; Hazel Varney, '42; Patty Stevens, '42; Anna Wright, '42.

CROSS COUNTRY

The interest for Cross-Country was less this year than in previous years, as only 6 men reported for practice. We lost our first meet to Windham by the score of 27-34. Our men finished as follows: Klase, 2; Winchester, 3; Seammon, 4; and Dukey Davis, 12.

A final race for individual honors was run on our own course. Eugene Klase won the race and received a pair of track shoes. Wentworth Seammon was second, and he got a season ticket to all home games of the High School Team.

RIFLE

The Eleventh Annual Triple C Rifle Meet was held at the Portland Y. M. C. A. Scarboro had a fairly strong team, taking fourth place.

Bradford and Winchester tied for top honors with a score of 72.

Members of the team are as follows: W. Delaware, '42; D. Bradford, '43; E. Winchester, '43; E. Klase, '43; L. Stamford, '43.

BOYS' SWIMMING

The 13th Annual Boys' Swimming Meet was held at the Y. M. C. A. Pool. Windham captured the meet very easily. Scarboro failed to score. Many candidates were out for the team. They all will be back next season, so we hope for better results in the future. Our team consisted of the following boys: F. Pooler, '41; E. Withee, '42; D. Wirtham, '43; E. Klase, '43; C. Profenno, '43; R. Jensen, '43.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

The Tenth Annual Triple C Girls' Swimming Meet was held at the Portland Y. M. C. A. on October 15, 1940.

Our entrants were: Terry Doyle, '41; Caroline Cunningham, '42; Virginia Nelson, '42; Charlene Perham, '43; Priscilla Campbell, '44; Barbara Fossett, '44.

The Cape girls won the meet with 12 points; Gorham and Falmouth tied for second with 11 points each; North Yarmouth, 8; Scarborough, 3; while Windham and Standish failed to place.

Terry Doyle was the only scorer from Scarborough, tying for first for diving with H. Dow and Leighton of Cape Elizabeth.

The Meet was very interesting. Everything depended on the last event. If Gorham had placed first in the relay, they would have won the meet.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Front Row: M. Libby, '43; E. Withee, '32; S. Higgins, '41; W. Plowman, '41; C. Pooler, '41; C. Reilly, '42; E. Klase, '43.

Second Row: D. Bradford, '43; J. Scamman, '43; R. Grant, '43; R. Jensen, '43; D. Richardson, '43; G. Knight, '43; H. Cohen, '43; C. Profenno, '43; Jr. Plowman, '44.

Third Row: D. Davis, '44; L. Stanford, '43; L. Leary, '42; Coach Hallett; D. Sewell, '43; D. Mallory, '43.

BASKETBALL

The Scarborough "Redskins" did not experience as good a season this year as in the past. This was probably due to the lack of veterans, as only three lettermen returned. Many players were worked into the different positions. The team will lose only three lettermen by graduation, so we look forward to a fine team next year.

Our schedule covered seventeen games and one tournament game. Of the scheduled games, Scarborough won four, lost thirteen. All the games were well played, and the team showed very much improvement at the last of the season.

SECOND TEAM

Our second team was one of the best Scarborough has had. Many of the players will be back next year. They will help the first team very much, as they have had lots of experience. Of the fourteen games they played, they won eight and lost six.

Veterans who will be back next year are: Jensen, '43; Bradford, '43; Scamman, '43; Grant, '43; Profenno, '43; Cohen, '43; Plowman, '44.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball practice began in November this year, and was held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

A new feature of the practice was the two-court method of play, instead of the three-court game played in other years.

The girls decided that, instead of having intramural games, it would be interesting to play against girls from other schools, so on January 30th a game was arranged with North Yarmouth Academy in our gym. Because the purpose of the meeting was merely to have a good time and to get acquainted with one another, no account was kept of the score. After the game, refreshments were served, and a general afternoon of fun was enjoyed.

On March 5th, the girls were invited to North Yarmouth for a similar gathering. We all admired their gym and were glad to renew acquaintances.

Girls who practiced regularly were: Ethel Christensen, '41; Terry Doyle, '41; Clara Hersey, '41; Eleanor Shaw, '42; Marguerite Skillings, '42; Doris Allen, '43; Delona Harmon, '43; Shirley Libby, '43; Charlene Perham, '43; Jean Seavey, '43; Barbara Shaw, '43; Betty Bimson, '44; Lucille Chase, '44; and Helen Soule, '44.

CHEER LEADERS

The cheer leaders were selected from a tryout assembly, the school voting for the six best. The following were chosen: Terry Doyle, '41, as head leader; Caroline Cunningham, '42; Shirley Mills, '42; Ruth Baizley, '43; and Barbara Fossett, '44; as assistants. Eleanor Wyman, '44, was the alternate.

The girls dressed alike, wearing white blouses, white sweaters and maroon skirts.

A great deal of credit is due the girls for attending the games faithfully and showing great school spirit, which the team needed.

PUPPY LOVE

Chuck Deering was standing on the steps of Madison High School waiting for Cynthia Paige. It was a sunny afternoon in April, and the pupils of Madison High had just been dismissed. Finally, the door opened, and out walked Cynthia, meeting Chuck face to face. "Well," said Chuck, "are you going to be busy this afternoon? If not, how about a soda at the corner drug store?"

"I'd love to," answered Cynthia.

"O. K. Let's get going," Chuck said. "The 'tub' is waiting at the curb."

The "tub" was a dilapidated Model A Ford, painted bright yellow with black markings all over it. With a heroic air, Chuck hopped from the steps, and he and Cynthia started for the "tub." He helped her into the seat beside him.

And so that was the way it had been for over three months. Their classmates soon found out how things stood between Cynthia and Chuck. Other boys in school tried to date Cynthia but found it useless.

Mrs. Paige didn't approve of Cynthia going steady with any boy because she felt that Cynthia was too young. But she liked Chuck very much and never worried when Cynthia was with him.

Cynthia was of medium height, with blue eyes and curly blond hair. She was very pretty. Chuck was tall, broadshouldered and brunette, with dark eyes. He was one of the most popular boys in school, a football hero, and active in other sports. He was liked very much.

Chuck was having trouble with Geometry during his senior year, and more than once he feared it might keep him from graduating. He didn't want this to happen. He was planning to go further on to law school.

That's how it happened that on the night of the Senior Class Dance, Chuck couldn't go. There was a six weeks' quiz in Geometry the next day, and he had to study.

Joe Bates knew this and immediately asked Cynthia to go with him. "Just this once, Cynthia! Chuck thinks he owns you. He never thinks that we other boys would like to get acquainted with you, too. Oh, no! Not big-hearted Chuck! Cynthia, please say you'll go with me."

Cynthia did want to go to the Dance so badly. It was one of the biggest events of the year, and she had just bought a new dress. "I'll let you know later," she said.

"O. K.," said Joe, and he watched her go down the hall.

Cynthia told Chuck that Joe had asked her to go to the Dance, and she could tell that Chuck didn't like it. "Well," Cynthia thought, "here's my chance to show him that he doesn't own me." She thought Chuck was selfish not to let her go to the dance.

She said, "I guess I'll go to the Dance with Joe, Chuck." She said it haughtily.

"Sure, if that's the way you feel about it." Chuck turned and walked down the hall.

Joe Bates was at the other end of the hall, so Cynthia ran and told him she would go to the Dance with him.

When Cynthia came out of school that afternoon, the "tub" was nowhere to be seen. Chuck was mad! Well, let him be mad! She tossed her head high and joined the other boys and girls, who were talking about the Dance.

The night of the Dance! Cynthia took a bath, and then, because she had a headache, she lay down to rest. Suddenly she burst into tears.

"Chuck!" her heart cried, "I don't want to go without you. I can't. It'll be horrible. Oh, Chuck, why did you let me?"

And she saw her dress hanging on the closet door.

"I hate it!" she cried, and tears were streaming down her cheeks. "I'll never wear it tonight! I won't! I don't have to!"

That was it. She would stay at home. She went to the telephone, called Joe, and told him that she couldn't go.

Joe was frantic. "You can't do this to me!" he said.

"I know, Joe," Cynthia broke in, it's an awful thing to do, and I'm sorry, please believe me. Good-bye."

She hung up and went to her room, and her headache disappeared.

Her mother and father went to the movies and invited Cynthia to go, but she said she had rather be alone.

About nine o'clock Cynthia was surprised when she heard a knock at the door, and more surprised when she saw Chuck standing there. He came in quietly, and they faced each other in front of the living room fire. He took her hands in his and said, "I met Joe Bates, and he 'gave me the devil' because you stood him up."

"It wouldn't have been any fun without you, Chuck," she said, timidly.

"Cynthia!" he breathed in a soft whisper. "Cynthia!" And suddenly his strong arms were around her. Then their first kiss. His lips touched hers.

Chuck's stay was all too brief. In spite of his happiness, he had work to do.

She went to the door with him, and then he was gone.

At ten-thirty, Cynthia went to bed. The Dance was in full swing by this time, but she didn't care. She whispered to herself, "I'm glad I didn't go. If I had, my miracle might never have happened."

MY ROOM

My room is situated on the south side of our house. The view is wonderful (outside). Well, of course I don't have much time to devote to my room, because I have to go to school, and — and — well, school takes up a lot of time, anyhow.

It is Sunday. I come into my room, or at least try to. Without moving a chair, it would be impossible. Oh, where in the deuce is my sweater? I want my blue one, but I guess my black one will just have to do! Oh, dear, if I weren't going away, I'd clean my room, but, mercy me! when do I have time?

On my way out I stumble over something. Oh, heavens! That ink bottle, and it spilled! How in the world did that ink bottle ever get on the floor? I know! That's my youngest sister's pet trick. I guess she was in too much of a hurry to put it on the table.

Ink on the floor, how horrible! Oh, my land! Harry was tooting the horn, I'll have to wait until I get back, and then I'll give my room a thorough cleaning.

"What a grand time I had!" I was thinking as I came into my room to change my dress. I came out of dreamland with a start. My goodness! my bed hadn't even been made. For goodness' sake, how in the world did that sweater get here? Oh, heavens! I simply must get this room straightened out. I'll get lost myself if I don't!

"I'll open my window and get a breath of fresh air," I thought. I guess I must have dozed, because when I came to, it was dark.

Sunday went, and once more I faced a "no-spare-time week" and an unkept room.

But, perhaps, if I speak to her about it, my mother will take pity on me and straighten my room, where I'm so positively busy!!!

"THE BLACK PEARL"

Mrs. Patricia Dale, a famous actress, had just returned to Chicago from a trip around the world. She had spent most of the time in Africa, where she had made the movie "Love in Africa," with Mr. Stanley Boyha playing the leading man's role.

In memory of a wonderful six months with Patricia, Mr. Boyha had given her a black pearl. It was a beautiful and priceless gem, which was very rare. Several other persons had given Patricia beautiful gems, which made a beautiful collection, but she treasured the black pearl most highly. "Keep it always with you," Stanley had said.

Backstage in room 2A of the Metropolitan Theatre, Patricia sat looking at her collection of gems. She could not stop gazing at the black pearl. Was it because this pearl brought back dear memories? Or was it because the only man she had ever loved had given it to her? She had about decided that the answer to both questions was "Yes"—that the answer to the second question gave the answer to the first, when a knock came on the dressing room door.

Dropping the pearl on the table, she went to see who it was. It was a messenger boy with a telegram for her. Quickly she stepped back into her room and opened it. It said: "DEAR PATRICIA KEEP BLACK PEARL STOP IF LOST WE DIE STOP." It was signed "Stan." Questions began to flash through her mind. What did it mean? Where was Stan and what had happened to him? Clutching the pearl tightly in her hand, she flung herself on the bed and began to cry. She sobbed hysterically until the call boy reminded her that she was due on the stage for her personal appearance in five minutes.

She hurriedly repaired her make-up and went onto the stage, taking great care to carry the pearl with her, but it was of no use. In the middle of her song, she broke down and began to cry. She fled from the stage. She would give no explanation of her action, but she placed the pearl that night in the stout wall safe in her apartment.

The next morning the headlines in the paper said, "Patricia Dale, famed actress, fled from the stage of the Metropolitan Theatre in tears last night. Miss Dale refused to give an explanation, but it is rumored that something has happened between her and Stanley Boyha.

During the next two weeks, Patricia was very busy with her stage work. She was playing the leading feminine role in the stage production "Forever Yours."

Then one day she got a telegram saying that Stan was seriously ill and that she must come to him at once. He was in the Boston General Hospital. Patricia left immediately for Boston.

Three weeks passed, during which Stan was very ill. When he showed signs of recovery, he and Patricia made plans for their marriage. But fate intervened.

Patricia came into the Hospital in a very happy mood one morning, only to meet the doctor in the corridor and to be gravely informed that Stanley had died very suddenly that night. After the first shock of grief, Patricia suddenly remembered the black pearl. She rushed back to her apartment and frantically opened the wall safe. The pearl was gone!

Somelhow the story got into the newspapers, where it created the usually great sensation. Patricia became the chief concern of the entire American Nation. A hundred million persons, more or less, became detectives overnight to start searching for the deadly black pearl. So great was the furor that the thief, a former trusted secretary, confessed in terror and brought back the jewel.

But Stan was dead. Patricia retired from the world of screen and stage to a country home in New Hampshire. There she lives her quiet life among her devoted friends — her neighbors. If you should visit her at her home, you would notice a ring on her left hand set with a magnificent black pearl. It is always with her.

MY CATS WHEN THEY WERE KITTENS

I was going to express my opinion about cats, but, as a cat has to be a kitten before it is a cat, I will give my opinion on kittens instead.

When two kittens start to play, it's worth being late for school just to watch them. They will take turns creeping up on each other. Ending the creep with a leap, they are at each other, turning tumble-saults and chewing one another.

A kitten is always comical, even when he is eating or resting. The funniest part of their learning-to-eat days is when the mother cat brings them their first live rat. Whether the mother tells them, or whether they know by instinct that the rat is an enemy, is more than I know. But they do.

One smell of the rat and their hair, I mean fur, stands on end. When this first impression, or whatever it is, passes, common sense tells them that the rat is smaller than they and therefore cannot harm them. With this in mind, their fur comes down.

One of the kittens gives a mighty roar, then swoops down on the helpless rodent. There is a sudden squeak of pain; the poor rat is sprawled on the barn floor as kitten makes a mad dash away from his sharp teeth. This goes on for fifteen or twenty minutes.

The rodent makes a dash for freedom every so often. He gets about four feet, when the referee (the mother cat) pounces, then hauls him back by the nape of the neck, each time sinking her fangs a little deeper.

You can guess that it's not long before the rat, with a last effort, crawls to a bucket in the corner, staggers onto his hind legs, and kicks it.

A kitten's play usually ends in rest. This consists of finding a position somewhere, squinting his eyes, and relaxing. I watched a kitten do this in the barn once, and decided to try it myself. As I wiggled around trying to find a comfortable position, the kitten was aroused. He made a face at me and acted disgusted at my discomfort.

Suddenly, as though a thought had struck him, he rose and walked to me. He looked me over, then unexpectedly stuck his paw into my ribs, like someone testing a new mattress. Finding my ribs rather hard, he climbed on my chest and proceeded to tickle me to death before finding a comfortable position on my stomach.

Like you or me, the kitten likes to get his paw into food as soon as possible. As the food is milk, and as the kittens are always in the barn when I milk the cow, you can guess why I like to milk the cow sometimes.

One kitten sits behind me and every so often reaches up and does something with his paw, I mean claws, to remind me that he is hungry. The other will climb up my pant leg, using claws that are slightly longer than my pant leg is thick, and will try to get her head into the milk. Finding this impossible, she waits for the milk to rise in the pail. While she is waiting, the other one behind me comes to the conclusion that his claws are not sharp enough. He then proceeds to invite the undertaker by using the cow's leg to scratch on. You can see why I like cats.

A VACATION THOUGHT

Just one more month and a few more days,
Then we'll be out of school,
To work, to play, to fool around,
To follow no set rule.

Our Seniors will bid their fond adieux
And come this way no more,
But all the rest will soon be back,
And we'll meet them at the door.

But while we're having this little rest
From school and all its ways,
Let's try to do some worth-while thing
To remember in future days.

For some little deed of kindness done,
Be it errand, word, or smile,
We'll always find that in the end
It was so much worth while.

So, when we leave our school this June,
For a time that's short or long,
Let's do the things which we are sure
Will be right and never wrong.

S. MILLS, '42.

FRESHMAN IDYLLS

One night when all was calm and still,
The wind in through the leaves was shrill;
I listened to the cowbells' notes,
As if from some great magic throat.

The stars on high were beaming down
With glistening light that was profound;
It shone on me as if to say,
"To sleep, you've had a busy day."

All along the moonlit beach,
Where ripples rise and fall,
I listen to rumbling speech—
The lonesome ocean's call.

Far out upon a rocky bar,
Beyond the wide blue foam,
The lighthouse blinks its warning far
For vessels not to roam.

Down by a bubbling, shadowed creek,
Where the tumbling waters flow,
I listened one day and heard it speak,
So thoughtful, cool and slow.

It seemed to say, "Don't stand in my way,
For I travel so far to the sea,
And tumble over the stones all day,
So tired, so weary, yet free."

C. F., '44.

SONG OF THE BIRD

I heard a sound this early morn;
It was so sweet and clear,
I listened hard, and soon I knew
It meant that Spring was here.

I looked around both high and low;
The singer I wanted to see,
To know just whom I had to thank
For giving this pleasure to me.

I saw a bud, so tiny and small,
 Its colors so bright and so gay,
 That just to look was really enough
 To help me start my day.

And yet again, in the morning air,
 The notes rang sweet and clear,
 To form again the oldest song,
 A message of hope and cheer.

In any place where there are no birds,
 I know I could never live,
 For they are the symbol of peace and love,
 With happy notes they give.

S. MILLS, '42.

TWO PEOPLE

I saw two people standing in a doorway;
 Their every gesture true love did denote;
 Beseechingly, she showed her fondness for him
 By touching every button on his coat.

Each day, when they were free, they soon would be there,
 With mutual glance, reminding of the blest,
 As morning, noon and midmorn found them
 standing,
 Unmindful of the passing of the rest.

Even though some souls desired entrance.
 Yet these two from their bliss would never stir,
 And busy folk went crowding out around them
 As she looked up at him and he at her.

And, though 'twas true that there were other doorways
 Where she, with tearful gaze, might search
 his eyes,
 'Twas here they met and talked in lowest mur-
 mur
 So no one to their secrets could be wise.

The eagle-eyed custodian looked upon them,
 For though he knew that this was not the place
 That lovers should impede the public passing,
 To send them off, he didn't have the face,

For well he knew the years on him were creeping.
 And yet the draughts from out the cup of love
 Had been for him so very sweet, yet sparing,
 He couldn't censure either turtle dove.

So, children, if you ever see two lovers
 Upon the path that you may wish to take,
 'Tis Louis and his Avis that will be there;
 Pass quietly around them, for their sake.
