Concert Violin Artist Exhibits Fine Mastery

Thursday evening marked the first concert of the Eastern Washington College of Education Student-Community Artist Series. Miss Betty-Jean Hagen, violinist, accompanied by Donald King Smith of the EWCE piano faculty, presented a well-balanced program of classical violin repertoire.

The program opened with the "Sonata in G Minor" by Handel which exhibited at once, the mastery of Miss Hagen. The next number was Brahms' "Sonata in D Minor" which was extremely well received.

Following intermission Miss Hagen performed the difficult "Chausson Poem" with its distinctive moods, and the sparkling "Roumanian Dances" by group included the "Mozart Bartok. Miss Hagen's final Rondo in G Major," the well-loved "Kreisler Liebesleid," and finally the pyrotechnics of Paganini's "La Campanella."

Miss Hagen exhibited wonderful control of the violin in the different periods of music presented. Her strongest point was control of the long phrase line with almost effortless bowing technique.

Other violinist problems were no trouble at all to Miss Hagen, who must be acknowledged as a seasoned concert artist.

The attitude of the audience throughout the performance was one of rapt attention to the performer's on the stage.

This concert was a distinctive beginning to the Student-Community Artist Series which will bring other artists of recognized stature to this campus.

Exciting Melodrama; Tryouts Open To All

Tryouts for the Bachelor club sponsored play, "The Desperate Hours," will be held at 3:10 p. m. Thursday and Friday afternoons in Showalter auditorium, according to Dr. Harold K. Stevens, EWC drama coach.

"The Desperate Hours," based on a novel by Joseph Hayes later made into a movie starring Humphrey Bogart, tells an exciting suspense story of three escaped convicts who moved in on a family and held them hostage.

"Casting is open to all EWC students," said Dr. Stevens, director, "and includes good parts for eleven men and three women."

Freshmen to Choose Class Officers Today

Today, the Freshmen class will get their first chance to become a speaking voice at E. W. C., with the election of class officers reports Janet Douglas, freshmen class adviser.

Miss Douglas urged all the freshmen to vote today, either at the Student Union from 8-4:30 or at Anderson Hall from 4:30-6.

Rain Can't Slow Parade

The downpour of rain failed to dampen the spirits of EWC students as the Homecoming Royalty paraded through downtown Spokane Saturday morning.

Lovely Queen Helen Hansen followed by the Homecoming princesses led the 38 car caravan decked with streamers and signs that read "Savages Will Revenge". Spirited crowds cheered the horn blowing Easterners as they displayed the rally spirit.

From people standing in the doorways to be spared from the showers these comments were heard: "What lovely girls," "If the football players have as much spirit as these students are displaying they are sure to get revenge." "That is what I call real school spirit" was the comment from several groups of onlookers. The procession was about four blocks long and was aided by police.

Problems of Greek Letter Organizations To Be Discussed

Discussion of the pros and cons of sororities and fraternities on EWC campus will be spearheaded tomorrow in the Island lounge at 10 a. m. by the ASB council, according to Don Williams, students activities director.

This will be the first of a regular series of Campus forums which will treat of matters pertinent to the students of EWC. A number of sessions will be devoted to the Greek letter problem and all students are urged to attend and participate. The Phillips' '66' method of group discussion will be used.

Graham Johnson, ASB president, advised the council recently that national Greek letter organizations have been contacting EWC student leaders about the possibility of 'getting an in' on Eastern campus.

In an effort to obtain a more or less rounded picture of such organizations and their effect on at least one other campus, Johnson and Don Rappe, president of the Bachelor's club, recently made a trip to WSC at Pullman where they interviewed student leaders — both Greek and Independent. Johnson and Rappe will summarize their impressions at the forum tomorrow.

Actor Chooses Art As Lecture Topic

Vincent Price, long known to motion picture and legitimate theater audiences as a distinguished actor will appear tomorrow night in Showalter auditorium at 8 p. m. — not as an actor, but as an authority on art.

Price demonstrated his right to an opinion on the subject of art when he twice appeared on "The $84,000 Challenge" program and successfully challenged art-amateur and jockey Billy (than one). Price remains enthusiastic about initiating people into the enjoyment of art. In recognition of the actor's services as an ambassador for the fine arts, the California College of Arts and Crafts awarded him an honorary doctor's degree.

Though he doesn't sketch or paint himself, Price has gained renown as a major art collector and critic and is a member of the art council of the University of California at Los Angeles, an art juror for the Los Angeles County Museum, and an official of the West Coast Institute of Modern Art.

Canon To Talk to USCF

Canon Eric Jackson from St. John's Cathedral will speak at the Episcopal Church at the USCF meeting Wednesday evening, Oct. 22 at 6 p. m.

Students wishing to attend should take their meal trays into the small dining room of Anderson hall at 5:30. Here they will participate in a discussion led by Episcopal students as they press their views on the church.

Canon Jackson's talk at 6 is to be followed by a question period until 7 p. m. This program is a continuation of the denominational heritage series sponsored by the USCF.

Clearance Exams

English clearance exams will be held on October 28, with the time and place not yet scheduled. The following day, Oct. 29, the exam for Math clearance will be held at 3:00 in Room 317.

Scribes Plan Mixer

The Scribes of the Fifth Estate, Eastern's radio club, is sponsoring a mixer at the Student Union, Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 to 12 p. m. Gary Owsley will be the presiding disk jockey, going to different individuals in the room who will provide entertainment and music.

"Jobs or College" Topic of Speech

"A Job or College" was the topic chosen by Dr. Glen Maier, director of counseling and guidance, speaking to the Colville PTA on October 15. Dr. Maier stressed the need to plan early for college rather than make hasty decisions later.

135 Alumni Attend Dinner; Honor Classes of 58, 48, 08

Alumni from Eastern Washington college attended the second annual Homecoming alumni buffet dinner in the Island Saturday night, in spite of rainy weather.

Approximately 135 graduated from classes of 1958, 1948, and 1908 were honored at the turkey dinner.

A special welcome was given to Adrian Beamer, 1948 president, and assistant coach at Central; and John Sande, 1958 vice president and gifts were presented to three members of the 1908 graduating class. They were Mesdames Clara Everson Graham of Colville, the treasurer of the class of 1908; Grace Sullivan Baller, from Seattle, vice president; and Alice Gardiner Tatman from Spokane.

Wayne Hall, alumni director, said that next year graduates of 1924 will be honored in addition to those from classes of 1959, 1949 and 1909. Representtatives from those classes will meet at Eastern in the spring and organize their respective reunions for next year's homecoming.

Set Scholarships

At the business meeting, conducted by Hall, members voted to set up an annual fund drive for scholarships.

Alumni also voted to pledge their support to Referendum Bill No. 10. Letters will be sent to about 4800 graduates urging their support.

Merrill Smith, principal of Chewelah high school, was appointed president of the Alumni association. Former President Al Janssen, superintendent of Okanogan public schools recently resigned.

"We are very encouraged with the annual buffet dinner and plan to continue it. It seems to be a 'natural' for this type of meeting," said Hall.

The dinner concluded the varied schedule for Eastern's alumni during Homecoming.

HELEN HANSEN, 19, reigned last week end as the 1958 Homecoming queen. Her coronation highlighted the Homecoming show last Friday night, after being elected by a student body vote the previous day. She represented Hudson hall as their candidate. —Caruso photo

Many Students Help With Homecoming Preparations

An enormous job has been accomplished and has been done so well that we might well wonder that it could have been brought off at all, had we the slightest glimmering of the efforts that actually went into making the Homecoming weekend an actuality.

Beverly Zier and Ron Campbell, Homecoming co-chairmen, setting the pace, selecting the key personnel, and spelling out the over-all program as they believed it should be, can take pride one for a truly distinguished accomplishment.

Their faculty advisers, Wayne Hall and Don Williams, brought a wealth of experience to the young people's aid and they did so with a tact and restraint that permitted the students full scope for their own inventiveness but short-circuited them past many a pitfall that only experience can recognize.

But the most dedicated leaders can do nothing without equally dedicated followers. These were many and manifold were their talents. Helen Hansen and her committee organized the pajama rally — truly one of the highlight "fun" events of the Homecoming. John Merrick, in charge of the Spokane rally parade, could hardly have guessed that his rally co-worker would be honored guest in that parade as Homecoming Queen.

There were all kinds of committees: coffee hour for alumni committees; pole climb and dating contest committees; there were band intermissions, concessions, refreshments, clean-up, registration, coronation, queen selection, beard growing contest, arrangers — you name it they had it, committees and work, work, work.

Unlike Topsy, none of this "just grew." These many students, each of them carrying a full schedule of study and classes, so believed in their school and the spirit of that school that they were willing to put in the hours and work and disappointment and all else that goes into a massive production of this sort.

But there is much more to it than the blood, sweat, and tears. There is the exhilaration of having a living substance under your hand that, for better or worse, you yourself shape into a living reality. The feeling of having participated, of having had a part and having a recognizable, tangible something as a consequence of your own efforts is a thrill that cannot be comprehended by the one who merely stands by.

The next time an invite is extended to you to put your talents at the disposal of an EWC student function, brother and sister Savages, blast your way with dynamite, if necessary, to one of the finest and most memorable experiences your years at EWC can afford you. Meanwhile, line up with your back-slapping hand ready to congratulate and thank the people who gave us one of the finest homecomings ever.

Business Club to be Active; Plans Many Various Functions

Business club will rise again! That's the cry of members who want to see this organization active on campus this year.

President Ron Campbell said, "we are planning several social activities to create more interest among business students."

Some of the social activities include club luncheons, semi-formal dance, 3-D dance, movie and mixer, club dinner, spring picnic and a cruise-a-wanna.

The cruise-a-wanna on Lake Coeur d'Alene in the spring will be one of the best events, according to Campbell. Dancing on a barge and swimming in the lake will be on the agenda for the all-day affair.

Club pins, with the Business Club emblem, will be purchased for all members this year.

Business club earns money selling tickets at football games. From proceeds, four $100 scholarships are given

Colleges Meet for Annual Discussions

Discussion of programs of conservation and outdoor education will be on the agenda this Friday and Saturday when Eastern's geology and geography departments travel to Ellensburg to meet with the staffs of the other two state colleges of education.

The group will also discuss summer school curriculums and the geography department's approach to world geography in the high schools.

"This is a continuation of meetings began last year to promote better education in our departments," said Francis J. Schadegg, geography instructor. He added that last year's discussions proved fruitful and the sessions will become an annual event at one of the three colleges.

each year to members and one entering freshman.

IMC Needs New Help

Training sessions will be provided on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. in the Instructional Materials Center located in Hargraves Library (first door on the right after entering the Library), for anyone interested in becoming a Projectionist or assistant materials librarian.

Men students will be given preference since equipment must sometimes be carried. However, women with typing and shorthand skill will be considered. Anyone interested in attending the session should write a letter stating his name, address and telephone number, college classification, college major, grade point average and any special qualifications which would be important in serving in the IMC. Submit the letter in person to the IMC.

Persons free to work in blocks of two hours will be given preference in scheduling their work for IMC service. An evaluation will be made of abilities to work after training. Persons selected will be placed on the list as available for service.

Art Press Deadline Set For Fall Copy

Deadline for manuscripts, essays and poetry for the fall issue of the "Art Press" has been set for November 1, according to Jess Ritter, assistant professor of the English department.

"Art Press" is an art and literature magazine featuring poetry, fiction and essays by the students and faculty of Eastern Washington college and also contains examples of work from the art and English departments.

Robert Hanrahan, assistant professor of the art department, and Jess Ritter are editing the magazine, which will appear in little magazine form.

Schadegg Supplies Section About Africa

Francis J. Schadegg, EWC geography instructor, has contributed the section on Africa for the recently published World Geography Book, now being considered for use here.

Schadegg's connection with the book began eight years ago when he and Dr. O. W. Freeman, former geographer here and nationally and internationally known for his geography research and writings, considered writing a World geography book because there was "nothing adequate in the field."

Dr. Freeman contacted other interested geographers who each contributed the section in which they were most interested.

Schadegg's own study on Africa began in 1935, and his section came as a result of this interest. In 1955, most of the sections of the book were completed and Dr. J. W. Morris, a geographer noted for his facility for clear writing and uniformity, began assembling each of the 12 sections.

"The book was prepared for college freshmen or sophomores either nationally or internationally, and includes a complete atlas of maps, prepared by the Jepson company, who prepared most of the maps for the larger airline companies," Schadegg asserted.

Dr. Freeman, now retired, has written a book on the Pacific Northwest Geography, among others and organized the Pacific Coast Geographers organization.

Schadegg, who for many years was secretary of the group is now president.

Winners Selected In Beard Contest

Four winners were selected for the Beard Growing contest. The longest; Dennis Janke, Garry Hall; most unique: Wally Lane, Garry Hall; best attempt; Bob Berger, Garry Hall, and best trimmed; Richard Gwinn, Hudson Hall.

In recognition of the United Nation's thirteenth birthday Friday, the International Relations club members will attend a birthday party for the UN at Providence hall in Sacred Heart in Spokane.

Preceding the birthday party, the club is having a reception for foreign students in the ASB room of the Student Union, starting at 5:30.

William Thomas, associate professor at Eastern, spoke to the IRC yesterday on "major issues before the UN," according to Dr. Kenneth Hossum, associate professor in history and social studies.

Saturday night the group will attend the monthly meeting of the Cosmopolitan club in Spokane. Purpose of the club, according to Hossum, is an improvement in the international understanding of peoples. A program of music, dancing, and entertainment is being offered.

The weekly Sunday evening movie in Showalter auditorium is being sponsored by the IFC.

Hossum stated that the club is hoping to sell greeting cards during the month of October to raise funds for UNICEF.

Fall Injures SU Worker

Harold Bumstead, foreman for Spilker & Sons contractors, fell last week and suffered a broken leg while working on the new additions to the island.

Bumstead fell while working on a scaffolding. A new foreman is now on the job. He is the third since building began.

Structural steel for the roof has arrived and is being installed now. It was holding up the building process, but now pouring of the floor of the second story is underway.

Eight instructors have been scheduled to teach these extension classes. English instructors are Dr. L. V. Grafius, Dr. R. N. Lass, William Waddington and Kenneth Halwas. Dorine Guthrie, James McKeehan, George Stahl and V. Engstrom-Heg will teach the extension math classes.

HCDance Entertains Big Crowd

Students, parents, faculty members, and alumni created a large crowd at the Homecoming dance, "Misty Interlude," on Saturday night from 9 p. m. till midnight in the fieldhouse gymnasium.

Monroe Ball was the winner of the Don Juan plaque for having the largest percentage of boys from their dorm at the dance with dates.

Formals twirled as men and women danced to the music of "The Pastels" under a false ceiling of abstract color and design. "The Pastels," an eight piece orchestra, are from WSC at Pullman.

Those at the dance were entertained at intermission by Miss Sally Shafer and Kent Green who did a modern dance correlated with the Homecom-

Committee members for the annual dance were Paul Hooper, Jean Wertenberger, Carol Ulery, Judy Acree, Susan Post, Patty Lane, Bev Haney, and Wally Kluser.

Variety Show Audience Well Pleased

Helen Hansen, 1958 Homecoming Queen, was crowned by ASB president Graham Johnson at the highlight of the Homecoming show Friday night, Oct. 17 in Showalter auditorium.

Helen, dressed in a full white formal with rhinestone accessories and the traditional purple robe, walked down the aisle to the throne as the large audience cheered her on.

Preceding Helen in the coronation march was her court of princesses: Betty Jo Van Woert, Charmie Anderson, Janet Owen, Merrie Jan Haney, Margaret Jefferies, Donna Russel, and Sally Ator. Sacajawea, Miss Ann Torrance, was escorted in by Graham Johnson. She welcomed students, alumni, and faculty members to the show which was entitled "Visitor, 1968."

Soon after encee Bob Hough had been introduced, a strange, weird noise, a puff of smoke, and descent of a red space ship announced the arrival of the Purple People Eater from Mars who decided to watch the Homecoming show at Eastern.

To start off on an imaginary journey of different places of the world, the Collegiates sang Hawaiian War Chant and Esther Kunetake danced a hula to My Yellow Ginger Lea.

Fred Sharp sang Ventian melodies, Volare and Many a Time with the Armand Boatman group accompanying.

City life was presented by Pam Berry as she pantomimed Eloise, the story of a spoiled little girl living with her nurse in a New York City apartment.

On to London and Gloria Shlenker singing number from My Fair Lady. She was joined by Dave Acree, a "scholar" who educated Gloria musically on how "The rains in Spain come mainly in the plains."

After intermission, the audience was taken to the birthplace of jazz—New Orleans with Willie Jones and Mona Lake singing Lullabye of Birdland.

Armand Boatman, who was in charge of much of the talent for the show, and his group, Kyle Pugh, Bill Watson, and Phil McClintock, entertained next with modern jazz sounds from Chicago. Oh, yes—the PPE played along on his trumpet during one of the songs, and it was found that he could really "swing."

As the lights dimmed to a single spotlight, Miss Sally Shafer stepped onto the stage of a Las Vegas night club to sing Fever and Summertime backed by the Boatman group.

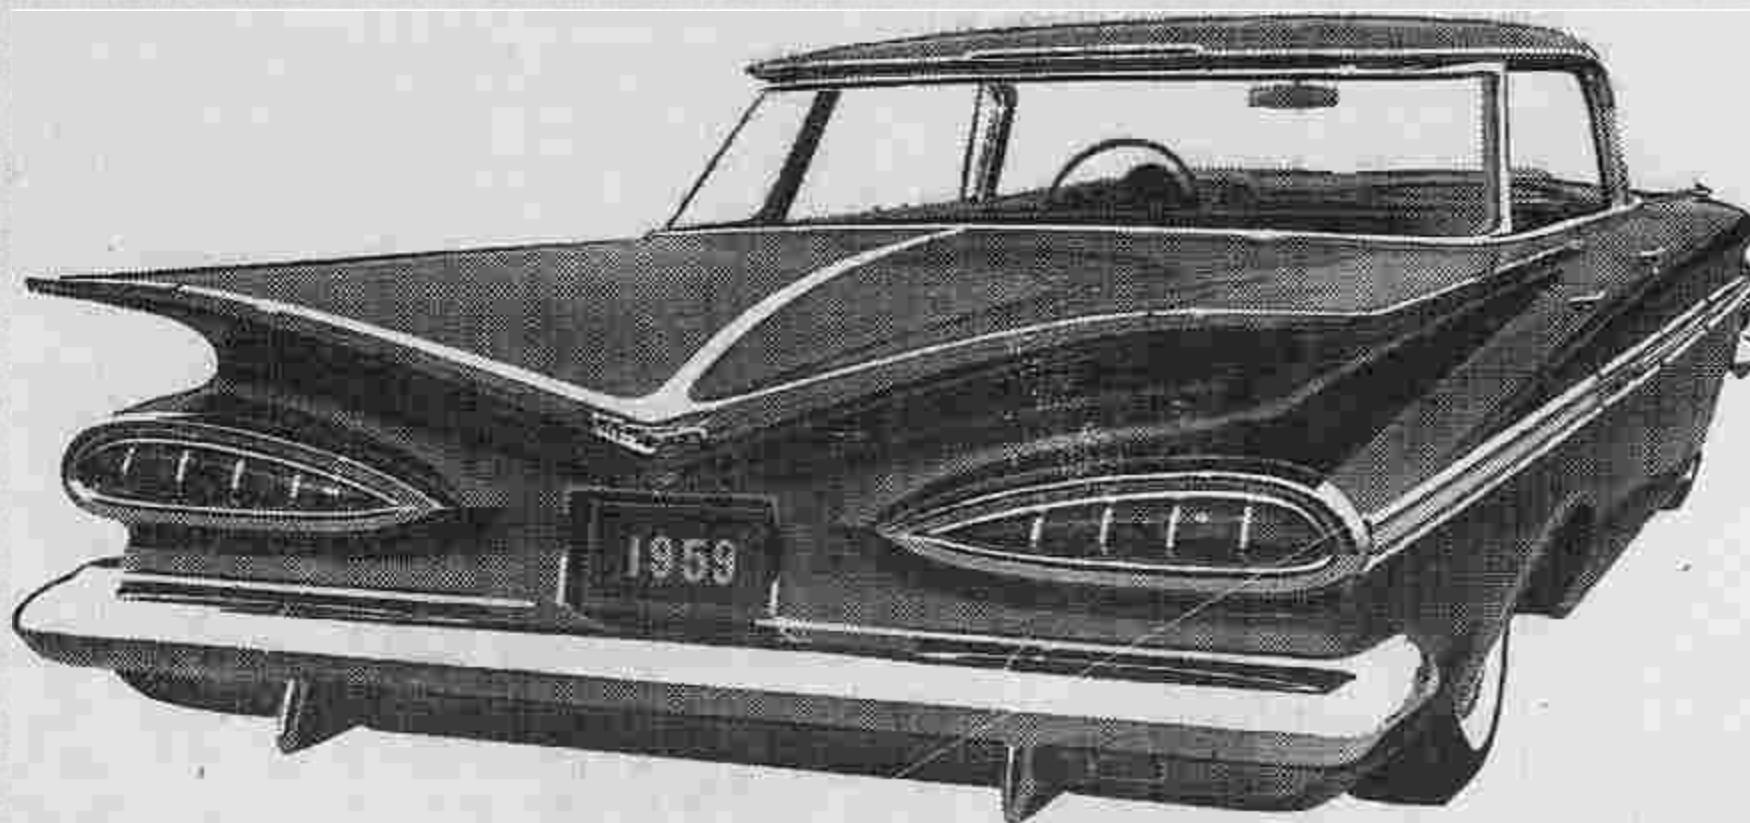

Moving "way out West," the audience saw Rita Foye and tiny Peggy Bedient dance cowboy and Indian style. "Pickin' and Grinnin'" Howard Ball sang two western numbers accompanied by his guitar.

Stan (the man) Rizzuti proved that he really likes to eat as he pantomimed Midnight Snack from Comedyland in Seattle.

After the wide geographic tour, the audience heard from home talent from Cheney by the Stompers with Hap Fransen. An instrumental, the Stompers' Special, was played then Hap presented "Roll Out the Barrel" on his spoons.

The Purple People Eater (Dave Berger) sang along with the Men's Four group on their selections which included "Over the Rainbow."

Topple Redmen

Central Washington college remained the number one club in the Evergreen last Saturday, as they handed the Eastern Washington Savages their second conference defeat 27-6.

Central's halfback Corky Bridges was again the outstanding single performer, with some excellent kicking his biggest asset. Bridges kicked six times during the game for a 45 yard average, which included a quick kick that was good for 68 yards. He was also the leading ground gainer with a net of 109 yards.

The 'Cats scored three times in the first half. With just over six minutes remaining in the first quarter Jim Bauer, Savage quarterback, faded to pass from his own 22. The Wildcat defense put on the rush and Bauer was forced to throw with a tackler hanging on his arm. An alert Central tackle, Larry Maguire, intercepted on the eight and raced untouched into the end zone.

Danny Schwisow roared off his own left tackle on the second play of the second quarter for second Wildcat score. Schwisow kicked the extra point and the scoreboard read 13-0, while the Savages had run only nine plays from scrimmage.

About half way through the second period, sophomore quarterback Jack England went back into punt formation on his 35. Elmer Balley blocked the kick attempt and Central recovered. On the following play Bridges ran for a 35 yard touchdown. Bridges added the extra point when he was forced to run due to a bad pass from center.

Jim Thrasher made the score 27-0 before the Redmen could muster a payoff drive. Central recovered a fumble on the Eastern 12 and in five plays Thrasher had boomed over from the one.

Eastern fullback Clark Myers threw his first pass in the 1958 season and it was good for the only Eastern score. Dave McWhirter, who had been switched from guard to end for the game took the 35 yard pass for the td.

Eastern outgained the visitors 240 to 162, getting 139 yards in the air and 101 on the ground.

Intramural In Full Swing

The Intramural program on Eastern's campus is now in full swing with a program including both football and bowling and table tennis and volley ball to be added.

Pat Whitehill, in charge of men's intramurals, said that at present 155 are participating in bowling and 72 in football.

This year's intramural football is divided into two leagues, A and B. There is no difference between the leagues, however.

Whitehill said "we need officials and anyone interested should contact me."

He also pointed out that points would be given in intramural activities and the team with the greatest number of points at the end of the year would receive a trophy.

Starters Return For Hoop Season

Returning to Eastern maple courts for the 1958-59 basketball season is coach "Red" Reese's entire starting group. Kent Matheson, senior, returns to his starting post job along with Gary Roberts, sophomore.

Returning to their outside positions are Dick Koford, junior, Don Nelson, senior, and Walt Hartman, sophomore. Doug Cresswell who alternated with Hartman also returned for last week's starting workouts.

Jon McFarland is another returning postman, along with Al Fackler who saw limited action last year.

To bolster to the returnees is a promising group of freshmen.

Two freshmen from Moses Lake, who drew praise from coach Reese for their performance in last year's state tournament, Roland DeBoer and Ted Paterson, join the Savages. Both have looked good during last week's scrimmages, according to Reese.

Tom, Payne, a rangy 6 foot five incher from Okanogan is another in the all-state freshman lineup at Eastern.

John Nugent, also 6'5", from Rogers high school in Spokane, has drawn praise from the coach for his backboard work.

Bright Look For Coming Track Squad

It might be a long time until track season, but nobody can blame Eastern's Coach Red Reese if he's doing a little preliminary dreaming about the sport.

He has several reasons for thinking about track in October, and those reasons are a group of freshmen and transfers who have enrolled this fall.

Among them is Leroy Seth, Lapwai, a transfer from Lewis and Clark normal. Seth is a high jumper who cleared 6-4 last year.

Two other reasons are 1958 state high school decathlon champion, Mike Clark from Moxee, and the runner-up Roland DeBoer from Moses Lake. DeBoer was also second in the state in the 100-yard dash during last spring's meet.

Also on hand is Warren Wilson who cleared 13 feet as a prep star at Lewis and Clark high school in Spokane. Another pole vaulter enrolled is Stan Rhodes, a transfer from Eastern Washington gridgers make their final road trip of the football season when they meet the College of Puget Sound Loggers Saturday in Tacoma.

Puget Sound is the only club in the Evergreen conference, that has developed a better win-loss record than Eastern. In 12 seasons the Savages have won five and lost seven and tied one. Last year the two teams played to a 7-7 tie in the rain.

Last week CPS lost to Whitworth in the Pine Bowl 19-13

Columbia Basin JC who presently is playing football for the Savages.

Two new distance men who Eastern's red-headed coach thinks might be as tough as any in the Evergreen conference are Lee Wilber, last year's state cross country champion from Lewis and Clark high school and Richard Baker from North Central high in Spokane.

Glenn Gunderson from Otis Orchards is on hand and Gunderson has thrown the javelin 175 in AAU competition.

In the quarter mile this year the Savages will have Tom Shelton, a California junior college transfer, who has been clocked at 49.2

to give the Pirates their first win of the season.

According to Eastern Coach Ed Chissus the Loggers have a strong line, but are short of backfield strength.

Bolton Returns

Big Jack Bolton is the real strength of the line. He was an all-conference selection last year.

In the backfield Bob Autin is their leading power.

Coach John Hienrick had but 11 lettermen return to build his squad around.

CPS ended second in the conference last season with four wins and five losses and one tie.

Two weeks ago the Tacoma club lost to a surprisingly strong University of British Columbia team, for the first time in 33 years.

The UBC Thunderbirds dropped out of the Evergreen conference this year.

Eastern will be looking for its second win in conference play, trying to equalize its 1-2 record.

Dave McWhirter, who was switched from guard to end for last week conference will very probably remain in that position, as he turned in an excellent performance against the Central Washington college Wildcats. He scored the only Eastern tally on a 35 yard pass from Clark Myers.

Chinese Coed Talks To Fairchild Group

Sally Lu, a foreign exchange student from Formosa, and a Senior here at Eastern, was the speaker at a meeting of the Protestant Women's Service Guild at Fairchild Chapel on October 16.

Dressed in costume of her country, Miss Lu described her native customs concerning the dress, marriage and education. She is an English major and plans to return to Formosa to teach in the schools there.

Her comment on American custom? "In America, it's ladies first, but this is not so in Formosa. I like it here!"

Scribes Welcome Interested Members

The Scribes, an honorary radio organization on campus, are inviting new members into their club, according to Miss Daphne Doods, adviser to the group. Anyone having a "B" average or higher and who has six hours in any radio class is eligible.

Bill Bumgardner is the club's president. Other officers are Gary Owsley, secretary; and Paul Aust, treasurer. Program chairman and vice president were elected yesterday, but the names have not been released yet.

Scribes has been one of the outstanding clubs on campus since the fall of 1948, when it originated, said Miss Daphne Doods, faculty adviser of the radio workshop and KEWC, Eastern's radio station. They are planning to attend a Western conference for Radio and TV held at Phoenix, Ariz., February 19, 20, 21. Anyone who is interested or has had any experience in radio, is invited to attend the weekly meeting of KEWC.

KEWC went on the air Monday on a trial basis to Monroe hall. As soon as the new transmission lines are put up, they will begin broadcasting. This year KEWC under the direction of Dr. Richard Miller, head of the division, has applied to Federal Communications Commission for a carrier current to the campus and FM, a static free program which will reach Spokane. The campus broadcast will be 5 p. m. to 11 p. m. The FM broadcast time has not been designated yet.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows... ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Now answer this one: Do you really think about the filter cigarette you choose? YES  NO

If your answer is "Yes"... well, you're the kind of person who thinks for himself. You can be depended on to use judgment in everything you do.

The fact is men and women who really think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know for a fact that only VICEROY—no other cigarette—has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

EW Coeds To Host State AWS Group's

Associated Women Students expect an active year, "for the women seem eager to work on projects," reports Karen Wheeler, president.

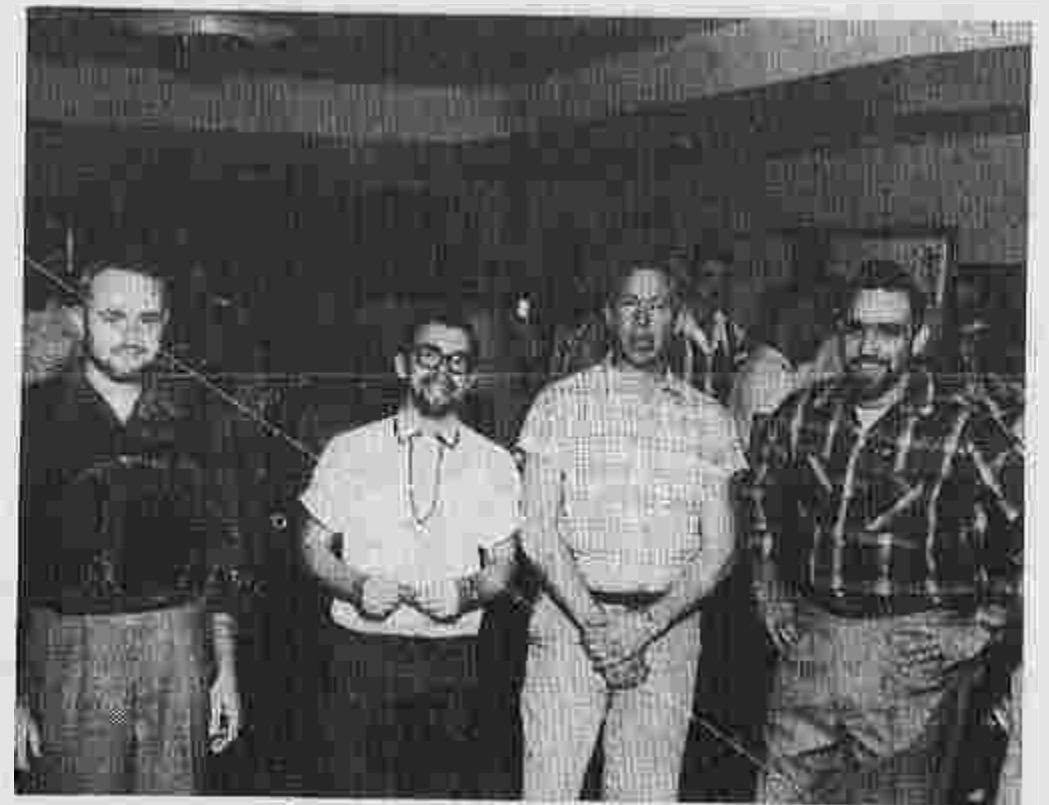

Members of the group are in charge of the coffee hour on Dad's Day and are making plans for the affair which will be at the Student Union after the game with Whitworth Saturday, Nov. 1.

Eastern's AWS group will play hostess for the State AWS meeting in February this year. Invitations have been sent to 23 colleges in Washington state, according to Ann Torrence, general chairman.

Officers of the organization are Karen Wheeler, president; Louise Woollett, vice president; Judy Gibson, treasurer; Garnett Royce, secretary; and Peg Simms, ASB representative.

Gibson To Address Coming USCF Meet

Judy Gibson will show pictures and tell of her summer experiences working at the YWCA camp at Esther Park, Colorado at the USCF meeting Sunday evening, Oct. 26. Students will meet at 5:30 at the Christian Church and will participate in skits, games, and singing led by Becky Williams and Jean McWhurter.

The college quartet including Dave Acree, Dennis Kock, Dave Berger, and Gary Thomas will help round out the evening's singing.

Garry Hall Named For Savage Spirit

Garry Hall, most recent addition to EWC's campus, got off to a fine start during Homecoming activities by receiving three out of four awards in the beard contest and by placing second in the lawn decoration contest.

The Garry boys also boast a glee club under the direction of Stan Rizzuti. Rizzuti was featured in "The Midnight Snack" in the Homecoming show and, all commentators agree, joyously rocked the boat.

Garry Hall was named in honor of the famous Indian chief, Spokane Garry. It was also intended that an appropriate name be found to further the EWC theme of "Savages."

Officers newly elected to conduct activities and council for Garry hall are Bruce McQueen, president; Gary Owsley, vice president; Bruce Peters, secretary; Jack Moore, treasurer; Stan Rizzuti, ASB representative; Tim Rooney Ken Gamon, social co-chairman; and Wally Blane, publicity chairman.

Radio and Drama Students See Play

Miss Daphne Dodds and Dr. Harold Stevens have been advised by the Civic Theater board of Spokane that the radio and drama students and all "prospective" radio and drama students at EWCE can purchase tickets for the current plays on Friday and Saturday nights for $1.00 (regularly $2.50 and $3 seats).

An invitation was extended to students to attend a party given at the Ridpath, held in honor of the cast of "Born Yesterday" after closing. Mrs. Earl Weilver, is in charge of the the Riverside theater box office in Spokane.

The play selected for November is "The Diary of Anne Frank", directed by Alice Garvin Windsor. It will run from November 11 to 15.

Projector Available

An Opaque projector is a piece of audio visual equipment made available to classes and to faculty sponsored campus organizations. By process of reflection, this machine can show any flat object which is placed in it.

A snapshot can be put into the projector and projected life size. Book illustrations can be projected. A picture or written message which is to be enlarged for a poster or the side of a float can be projected to the size desired on cardboard or paper and traced.
