

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 36 | Number 1

Article 20

Fall 12-1-2013

Deux Coeurs / Two Hearts

Ali Bestler

College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <http://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Bestler, Ali (2013) "Deux Coeurs / Two Hearts," The Prairie Light Review: Vol. 36: No. 1, Article 20.

Available at: <http://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol36/iss1/20>

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact koteles@cod.edu.

Friendship Road

Bestler: Deux Cœurs / Two Hearts [Dodi Dolendi]

Blessed are those who walk life's path with her.
She neither lags behind nor speeds ahead;
steady is her pace alongside.
When the road diverges or widens,
she stays close enough to hear secret tales:
the dark, the light, the tall.
No judgment has she to pass,
her attention like loving mother to her child.
Gentle are her words of encouragement, firm she stands her ground.
Heaps of praise are ready and waiting,
her tireless eyes seek opportunity to give voice.
Always intuitive to the brambles on the path;
she knows each root to be avoided.
She offers approval, displeasure, but always love.
She has patience when others misplace theirs,
the faith of Yahweh when all hope is lost.
Together life's path we will journey, connected not by blood, but by choice and God's favor, hands and hearts God holds intertwined.
Always warm and secure in each others' presence,
we learn to love and be loved.

Deux Cœurs / Two Hearts

[Ali Bestler]

Je cherche pour toi, Pendant tu cherche pour moi. Deux cœurs ont séparé par un océan, L'amour nous a frappés comme un ouragan.	I search for you, While you search for me. Two hearts separated by an ocean Love hit us like a hurricane.
--	--

Nous parlons le langage de l'amour, Pendant tu attends mon retour. Cœur à cœur, Être séparés à contrecœur.	We speak the language of love, While you wait for my return. Heart to heart, To be separated is against the heart.
---	--

