A1

Dubrovnik 1997

»often burned stones often acute memories a price of a peace trees without shadows dry rivers crawling along asylum in fog people who tremble keeping away from the storm a place wanted warm«

M. V. Diudea