

Judges' Chambers,

Hobart. 8 Nov 1900

My dear Mr Higgins,

I am in receipt of your letter to me of the 3rd inst. It was very unfortunate that your unknown friend should have sent a copy of the Daily Telegraph of 3/1 late to you, because The reproduction of the 2nd part of my article on ~~the~~ Federal Government in that issue of the paper is full of outrageous blunders. Whole

lines were dropped
out with the result of making the context unintelligible.

But I am glad to say
it has been reprinted and I am sending to you under separate cover a corrected copy of No 2 and a copy of
No. 1.

I was induced to send the articles to the Telegraph by a letter which appeared in the local press attacking the work of the Convention and

citing your article in support of the attack.

I am also sending to you some slips containing ~~two~~ articles I wrote on the question of appeals to the Privy Council which perhaps you
have not seen,

I am

Very sincerely Yours

A. Inglis Clark

My dear Mr Higgins

I am in receipt of your letter to me of the 3rd inst. It was very unfortunate that your unknown friend should have sent a copy of the Daily Telegraph of 31 October to you, because the reproduction of the 2nd part of my article on Federal Government in that issue of the paper was full of outrageous blunders. Whole lines were dropped out with the result of making the context unintelligible. But I am glad to say it has been reprinted and I am sending to you under separate cover a corrected copy of No. 2 and a copy of No. 1.

I was induced to send the article to the Telegraph by a letter which appeared in the local press attacking the work of the Convention and citing your article in support of the attack.

I am also sending to you some slips containing two articles I wrote on the question of appeals to the Privy Council which perhaps you have not seen.

I am
very sincerely yours
