

c.4/c.247
RICHARD OLNEY,
23 Court Street.

BOSTON, 14 December, 1901

PERSONAL

Hon. A. Inglis Clark,

Judges' Chambers, Hobart, Tasmania.

My dear sir:-

I have received your book on "Australian Constitutional Law" and am greatly obliged for it. It will be most interesting to compare the Constitution of the new Commonwealth with that of the United States. No doubt the workings of our Constitution have shown faults and mistakes which the framers of yours have attempted to remedy. If time shows the attempt to be successful, we shall probably be following your lead in amending our own Constitution.

With thanks for being remembered, I am

Sincerely yours,

Richard Olney