My dear Andrew,

I hope you will excuse this brief note. I have been hoping to be able to write you a long & loving letter but I have been so busy that I have not found time. I found things in a terrible muddle at the office & since then work has poured in to such an extent that I have had much ado to keep pace with it. In addition to this all my old ailments have returned to dyspepsia, biliousness to insomnia make this "human life a hell". Despite this I intend to keep up a stout heart to I am working like a tiger. At present I am gorging My George. (By the way, can you send me the date of the "Times" article referred to in the leading article of the Sydney "Bulletin" of 31st ulto. It would "fetch" Dobbie, if he has not seen it

I believe K C & D are shortly about to dissolve.

This is noised abroad & I have rec<sup>d</sup> several offers from other firms. I shall probably close with one of them shortly & will write you fully by an early post.

I am to see Higginbotham next week on the admission question.

On the night preceding my departure from Hobart my brother begged me to take a share in his business.

What do you think of it?

I am strongly tempted to accept it. Joe is dead against it but you know all the pros & con.s. The matter is to stand over till I decide.

Joe finally decided to decline Dodds's offer & wrote to that effect. Before he did so he was melancholy & distant to a distressing degree but as soon as he had done the deed he recovered his usual spirits. I am going in for a course of legal work with him as soon as he has finished his seemingly interminable tourney.

Please give my love to Mrs Clark & to all your little ones, - especially to Heck & Emma. I trust you are all well & that Miss Pop had recovered her health before she left. Please give my kindest regards to Miss Minnie & Erny & to all the brood of Menivia, especially Edward, Burn & Dobbie.

I can never forget the kindness you & Mrs Clark showed me & the recollection of the delightful hours spent with you will be a life long source of delight.

What about the Mercury? Shall I send you a P. O. order for

(Say) 200 after 11th inst.

I hope you will understand that this is only a preliminary letter & that a larger one will soon follow.

I must now conclude as the hour is late & I have to write to my brother before going to bed.

With kindest regards & wishes for your health & prosperity Believe me

Ever affectionately
Thine

A. Lupton Clark
