

UNIVERSITY DRAMATIC SOCIETY 1921

Copies of photographs of Mark Stump rehearsing 'Jane' with the University Dramatic Society, and copies of newspaper reports and cast list, donated (May 1985) by his daughter Judith Stump.

Mark Stump was a student at the University of Tasmania 1920-1924. He married a fellow student, Elizabeth Hales. His daughter states that proceeds of the play went towards the cost of two lawn tennis courts, as noted in the Chancellor's graduation address of 1923. Terence Crisp, who also appears in the photographs, was the driving force behind the Dramatic Club. He was a cousin of the actor, Charles Laughton, but 'unfortunately his opportunities for stage work were very limited by his tiny stature - he was about 5 ft. tall . . . Terence moved to Melbourne in 1925 and found some outlets for his talent in broadcasting and directing amateur theatrical groups.
