*Tracks ...
Tracksof time ...
our time ...
opening almost two centuries ago
with expressions of those hearts!.*

"We hold these truths
to be self-evident
that all men
are created equal,
that they are endowed
by their Creator with certain unalienable rights,
that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness...
these United Colonies are and of right ought to be Independent States...
We mutually pledge to each other our Lives and Fortunes
and Sacred Honor."

And with that pledge began the slow, tortuous journey toward becoming a nation, a free people . . .

*... living,
working learning ...
in towns, microcosms of that nation...*

*... farm communities,
some putting up a general store and moving into commerce...
and even some towns
founding colleges.*

*Time's tracks have struggled along dark roads, too . . .
periods of oppression of blacks, women, and the poor of all those communities
in our country . . .
periods when
the ideal seemed lost
but always a leader dreamed a dream. . .*

...the spark of the ideal smoldered and flamed again.

*These people have progressed through the years
at our college.*

"Jacksonville has always been education minded...

there were lots
of private schools here in the 19th century.

The people here got up the money and started the Grange College.

Then in 1883, I believe it was,
the state legislature passed an act founding normal schools in four towns...
one of them was J'ville.

In 1929, this school
went to a four year teacher's college...
It was a right good one, too.

Some time around—
let's see,
around 1950,
the name
was changed to Jacksonville
State College."

*It's always been a school for the common people...
an education
is just so inexpensive at JCU, being state supported...*

*.. and there has always been great opportunity for student financial aid, too.
Almost anyone who wants to can get an education here.*

Jacksonville has women enrolled in every area with many different professions in mind...

*...but when women first started leaving home to get schooling, teaching and secretarial work were of the few professions
open to them.*

Restrictions on women have become more liberal...

*later curfew...
private keys to dorms...
weekend visiting hours
men in women's dorms...*

*... and women
can visit men's dorms
all during the week.*

*Black pride,
along with enrollment,
has become highly developed...*

*... black fraternities and sororities
with their projects and fun activities...*

*... sports ...

*Meal ticket and campus residence requirements have loosened up...
optional meal ticket plan...
Only freshmen
have to live on campus.*

This freedom has brought a mass movement of students to apartment living...

*... and the ultimate question —
to cook or not to cook ...
learning to cook
and share expenses ...*

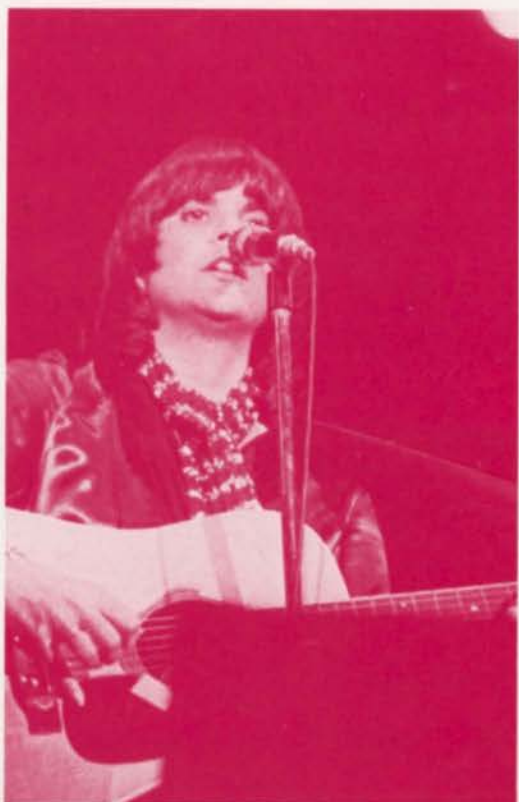

*or regularly haunting
the eating spots
which have sprung up all over Jacksonville.*

Greater mobility
Produced by the automobile has added many changes...
flying trips to Atlanta,
Birmingham,
or even Florida...
or just short jaunts
down the road
to Germania Springs.

*Also,
with increased mobility,
artists of all styles perform here through Community Concert Series and SGA activities.*

The International House is active with students from all over the world, taking part in many JSU activities.

Athletic teams now travel hundreds of miles for competition.

Social life at Jacksonville has changed its whole style with the onset of the fraternities and later the sororities.

"I remember we used to have class dances, and everyone would come and really dance.

They were chaperoned by the faculty, whose main concern was to keep students from smoking and walking around outside.

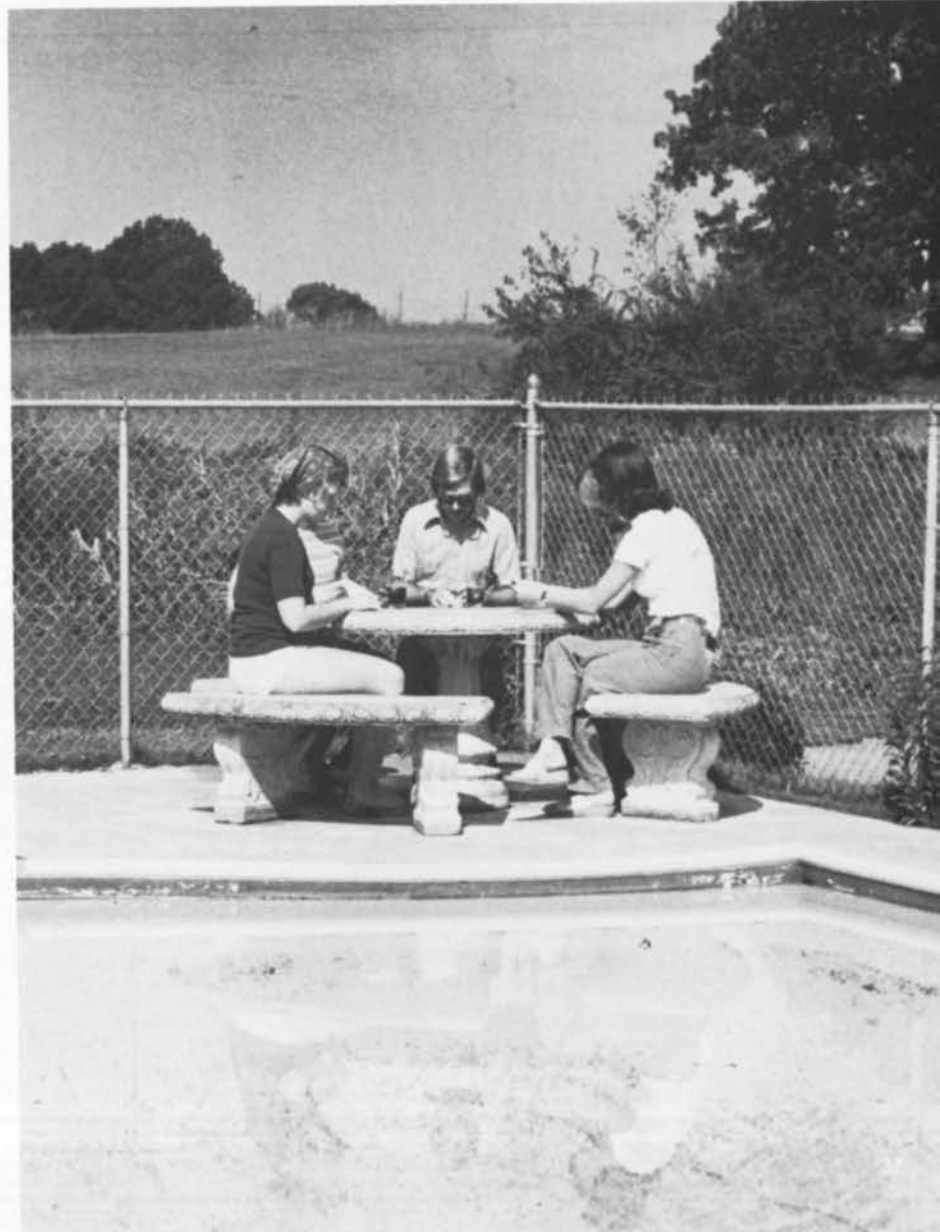

Of course, people don't worry about that sort of thing anymore, and anyway, dances just aren't big social events like they were then.

Now the closest thing
we have to those social gatherings is fraternity and sorority rush.

And those
don't attract everybody.
I suppose the social life today is more sophisticated,
more party oriented...
but somehow I think we're not as close to each other as we were in those days."

Really, the only events that large groups of people come to now
are football games and concerts
they inspire
a feeling of oneness,
but it's only partial...
a limited group.

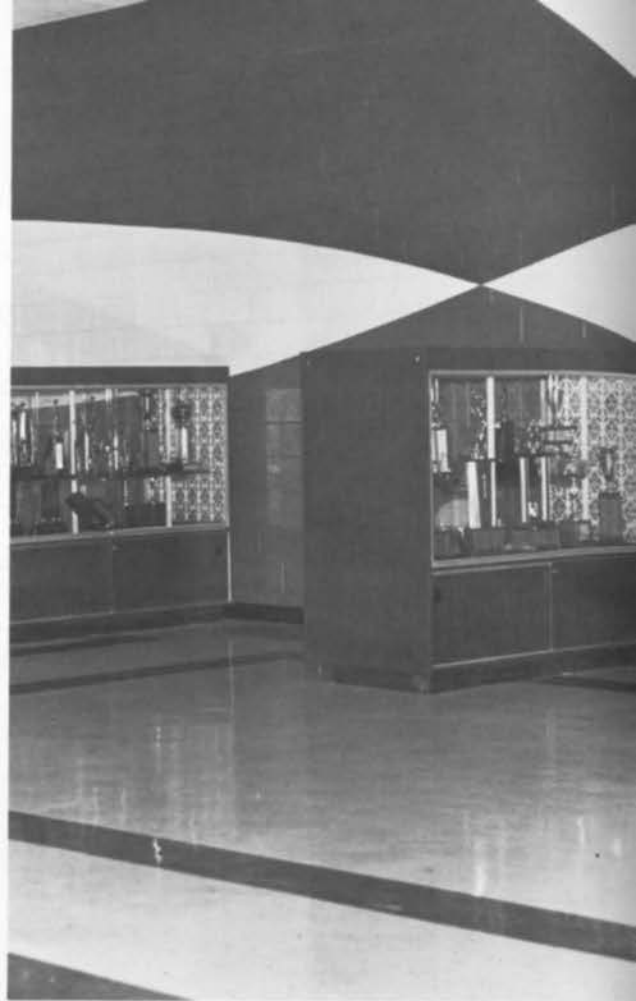

Religion is still highly personal at JSU. Students face their beliefs in individual ways—and sometimes that means turning away from the conventional — private meditation, rallies, retreats.

Still, tradition meets the needs of many —
Bible studies and worship experiences.

Jacksonville has grown in so many ways . . .

... were still growing...
and growing holds such promise
for us all...
the possibility of coming closer
to our standard,
America's standard—
An ideal

Board of Trustees

Jacksonville State University was officially so named in an Alabama Legislative Act sponsored by Hugh Merrill in 1966. The first Jacksonville State University Board of Trustees was appointed in 1967; all of the first members have served consecutively except Mrs. Frieda Coggin whose term ended in 1971, at which time Graves Musgrove was appointed to fill the vacancy. The board functions, in cooperation with ex officio members — the Governor of the State and the State Superintendent of Education — and the chief administrative officials of Jacksonville State University, to operate the university on a sound business basis, to assure continued development of its academic and intellectual programs, and to promote the common welfare of both students and faculty.

Dr. Ernest Stone President

Public education, extending through the university levels, has played a vital part in the building of America. We have built a great heritage with sacrifices, fortitude, and know-how. A universal educational system has given us an enlightened public. Our ambitions have been complemented with know-how which was made possible through education. Two hundred years of progress and freedom are appreciated because we have the necessary understanding that has been taught in the classrooms. It is easy to make the truthful statement that America is one of the greatest nations on earth, but, if we are to understand how America became great, it is necessary that we understand the history that was made in the struggles for greatness. It then becomes evident that we appreciate our country when we understand its history.

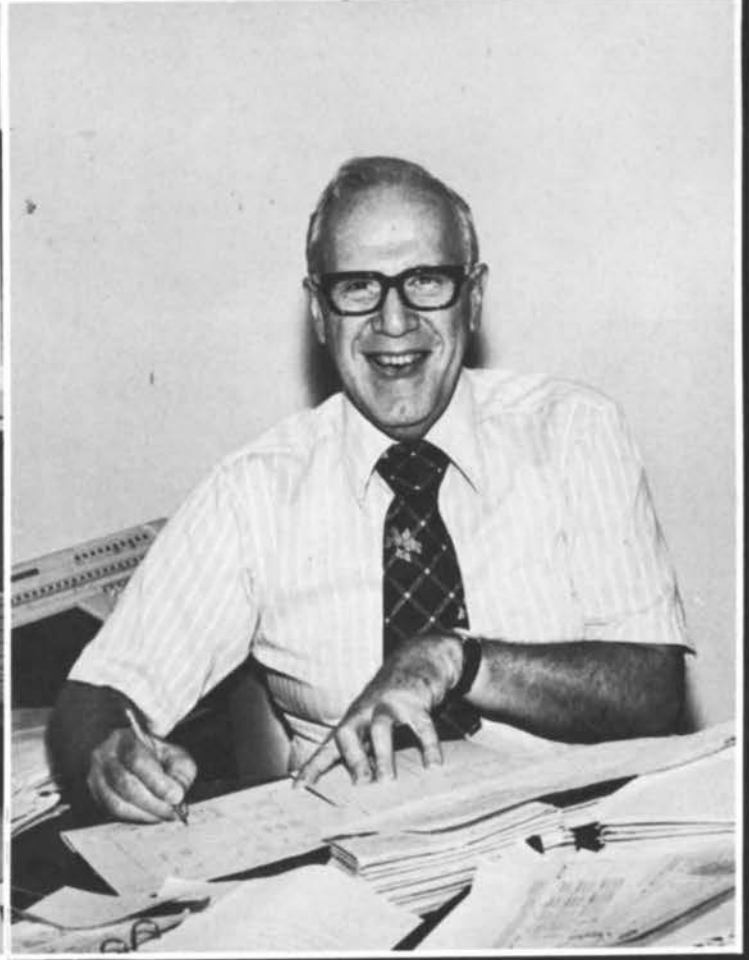

Dr. Theron Montgomery

A life style that affords continuous learning, recreation, and regeneration allows an individual to relieve tension, and maintain a stability in viewpoint even in a time of rapid change. Nothing gives more enjoyment and fulfillment than reading. The reading of good literature, biography and history, especially, gives an individual a perspective for action and thought. A person who has a social conscience and patriotic concern for his country and people finds comfort in the knowledge of his heritage, an appreciation for the strengths and weaknesses of our heroes and leaders, and above all, a reassurance of faith in each new generation. At this time of our Bicentennial, we should read with pleasure of our accomplishments and stay abreast of our time.

College of Arts and Sciences Art

The Department of Art offers the B.A. and B.S. degrees in art with studio areas in painting, ceramics, print making, drawing, sculpture, design and crafts; approximately 400 students enroll in art courses each semester. New faculty additions to the department this year are Dr. Emily Burn and Mrs. Gail McCain. The patrons organization, Friends of the Arts, assists the department in organizing monthly exhibitions and guest speakers; the Art Guild, a student organization, coordinates art student activities and sales. All faculty members are active artists and participate in regional and national competitive art exhibitions.

Biology

In addition to maintaining sufficient emphasis on the traditional academic approach in biology, the members of the department under the direction of Dr. Landers are combining lab with field experience. An attempt to interest students in their environment, in pollution problems, in their own health, in food problems, and in conditions in an ever broadening circle away from the campus into the state, nation, and world is meeting with success. Excursions to Dauphin Island to study marine biology and to Panama to observe the flora and fauna of that region created excitement and enthusiasm among department members and biology students. Consequently, Dr. Summerour and Dr. Mainland plan to direct a study trip to the Galapagos Islands this spring during the mini-mester, and plans are being made for a number of other trips. Graduate courses offered on Saturdays for the benefit of public school teachers include Advanced Biological Techniques, Advanced Animal Science, and Advanced Plant Life. These courses are taught by teams, often including Dr. Landers, Dr. Cochis, Dr. Summerour, Dr. Sanford, Dr. Staples, Dr. Curles, and Dr. Mainland. The fall semester class was involved in tree planting, studying greenhouse principles and provided with an art show on science, as well as performing the usual classroom work. Dr. Landers is appreciative of the individual initiative that members of the biology department have shown in developing such community and world related activities for study and feels the freedom to plan and follow through is responsible for the kind of exciting growth which will continue to make the biological sciences meaningful in a personal way to the students.

Chemistry

The Chemistry Department offers the B.S. Degree, B.A. Degree, and B.S. Degree in Education. Chemistry majors have the option of going to graduate school, medical school, into industrial research, chemical and pharmaceutical sales, and teaching. The Chemistry Department at J.S.U. is directing its curriculum towards today's problems and their solutions. Certain courses such as Ecology help to give balance and incentive to the students who major in Chemistry and balance to the advanced programs in Chemistry. The department sponsors the American Chemical Society on campus.

Drama

The Drama Department which now offers a minor, will soon offer a B.S. degree in Education with a Drama major. New courses in Dramatic Theory and Criticism, Oral Interpretation, Child Drama, and Methods of Teaching High School Drama will be added to the catalogue. Four productions have been presented including THE VISIT, the minimester production of BLYTHE SPIRIT, the fall musical MAN OF LA MANCHA, produced in collaboration with the Music and Dance Departments, and the spring production of THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLE.

Economics

The Economics Department has offered a major for several years and has continually sought specialists in the various areas of the discipline. While teaching is stressed, publication and participation in professional meetings are encouraged to the fullest extent possible. At present the department is stressing cooperation with the East Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission on projects involving industrial development. The vast majority of students in the department are economics minors. Consequently, while extreme care is taken to make sure that the education of the economics students at Jacksonville is second to none, the department's chief role continues to be that of a service department for the University. Many students on the graduate level are enrolled in economics courses recommended for the various graduate degrees offered in the School of Business Administration.

English

The English Department of Jacksonville State University has functioned in a triple role for years in offering service courses to satisfy general requirements for a degree, cooperating with the School of Education in preparing students to teach on both the elementary and secondary levels, and offering the BA degree to students interested in doing graduate work. Actually a fourth role, teaching literature for personal appreciation and continued growth, is equally significant. The department has been consistently recognized for its high standards through the leadership of Lance Hendrix in the 1930's and early 40's and Dr. William J. Calvert, Jr. during his long tenure. Dr. Calvert, a Harvard graduate, joined the department in 1933, became department chairman in 1944, and was recognized throughout the Southeast as an outstanding educator until retirement as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1972. Dr. Clyde Cox, a University of Michigan graduate, was appointed department head in 1972 and continues to strengthen the department services and curriculum. Emphasis is placed on advising students and encouraging them to realize the possibilities for careers in business, journalism and public relations. New courses include those in film, science fiction, journalism, and graduate courses taught on Saturdays or in the local communities on demand.

General Science

The General Science curriculum includes courses in science for the elementary education majors serving a major need in preparing teachers for the classrooms of Alabama. Faculty members along with science and math teachers in the several departments, provide a public service in sponsoring the area Science Fair for public school students and working with school children and scouts who are interested in astronomy.

Foreign Language

During the '30's and '40's the Foreign Language Department consisted of only one professor, Dr. James H. Jones, who realized a life time dream when he was given the opportunity to found the International House Program in 1947 which has received national and international recognition. Since that time the foreign language program and the International House program dissolved their academic ties involving the teaching of the language taught by foreign students under the direction of the department chairman. Until the requirement for languages to satisfy the curriculum for the B.A. degree in a number of disciplines was dropped, the department had grown to include seven members. Now there are only five faculty members and about 230 students. The department operates the language lab and sponsors language clubs, as well as offering courses related to the cultural patterns of European and South American countries.

Geography

The Geography Department has recently initiated a new program which focuses upon the student's acquisition of basic concepts in the introductory courses, thinking ability in advanced courses, and skills technique courses, such as cartography and aerophotography. Through the geography program, future teachers, business persons, and government employees attain an understanding of another dimension in the educational process. This dimension comprises the geographic perspective, that is, an understanding of man and his environment, the location and distribution of phenomena, and the diversity and similarity of regions throughout the world. The recent reception of a grant for equipment enables professors of geography to present the geographic viewpoint to students in a graphic manner. The Geography Department is currently expanding its program to include contact with persons already teaching in elementary and secondary schools, and planners and public officials in the region. The objective is to convince persons of the importance of the geographic perspective to the education process and to planning. Such contact facilitates the employment of geography students immediately after their graduation from JSU.

History

The History Department is much involved in the bicentennial celebration. Col. Worden Weaver, who was recently awarded an outstanding service medal for work in local history by the Alabama History Commission is chairman of JSU Bicentennial program. Dr. Robinson, Department Head, is handling the Bicentennial Speaker's Bureau on which most of the members from the department are listed. Courses added to the curriculum in recent years include South American History, Black History, Asian History, Contemporary History; Mid Eastern History has been approved, and courses proposed for development are Women's History and American Indian History. The program has been liberalized in the last two years. Cooperation between the history department and military science has developed to provide military history courses for M.S. majors. During the mini-mester trips to local historical sites have appealed to art students interested in design, architecture, and art history. This year the department will host the state convention for the history honorary fraternity, Phi Alpha Theta, sponsored by Dr. Thomas.

Mathematics and Music

The major in mathematics has been offered at Jacksonville State University for at least 50 or 60 years. The main functions of the departments are to plan a curriculum and advise majors and minors, offer service courses for the Schools of Business and Education, as well as for the basic student, and to plan a curriculum for graduate students. The graduate program began in 1957 with an MS in Math and class AA certification in 1972. Innovative courses include the Personalized System of Instruction with students working at their own pace with no lecture, Field Experiences offered during the mini-semester to allow students to math-related jobs in action, graduate workshops offered primarily for teachers on Saturdays, and the choice that senior level students to select their own courses. Mathematics is a wise major because there are opportunities for mathematicians in government, industry and teaching. Mathematics furnishes a background for advanced work in the physical and biological sciences and is needed for work in the computer sciences and scientific research.

As early as 1882 classes in voice and piano were offered at Jacksonville State University. For many years Miss Ada Curtiss was the Music Department. Then in 1946 Mr. Walter Mason came and in 1947 the first music major was offered. Under Mr. Mason the department grew. In 1956 the band was reorganized and adopted the style for which the Southerners are now known. The Marching Ballerinas, an innovative dance team which complements marching bands, was developed by John Finley, Director. The department grew from 25 or 30 majors in the 50's to over 200 now. Dr. Robert Cantrell was department head until 1964, when Dr. John Finley was appointed. Since 1961 Dr. David Walters has directed the Southerners and Marching Ballerinas who have gained local and national recognition. The A Cappella Choir directed by Bayne Dobbins offers consistently outstanding performances locally and in national competition. The department offers training in performing arts, composition, music therapy, and teacher training where jobs as band directors are still available, as well as the master's program which began in 1966.

Physics and Engineering Philosophy and Psychology

Previous Jacksonville State University Bulletins and recollection by faculty members reveal the following sequence leading to a major in physics. The Physics Department was first organized in 1948-49 under the Division of Mathematics and Sciences by Professor Gary. Dr. L. T. Wilson taught physics from 1951-1957 during which time the first minor was offered in 1953-54. In the two years, 1956-1958, that Mr. Joseph Freymuth taught, a campus radio station was organized and operated. Mr. Hicks, with the longest tenure in the department, came to Jacksonville as a member of the Mathematics Department in 1947. He transferred to the Physics Department in 1960. Both Mr. MacRae and Dr. Yeh came to Jacksonville in 1967. Dr. Reid came in 1968, and a major in physics first appeared in the university bulletin in 1969-70. Physics and Engineering were consolidated in 1970-71. A high percentage of the physics graduates obtain advanced degrees in physics or related fields.

The psychology major was first offered in 1971 when there were only three professors. The department size has increased to eight professors. The program has expanded to offer courses which bridge the gap between the classroom and the actual application of psychology. Two of these courses are the community practicum where students serve an internship at the Regional Juvenile Center and the child practicum on campus. Graduate courses have been proposed for next year.

Political Science Sociology

The Political Science Department was a part of the Division of Social Sciences until 1940-50 when the Political Science Department was formed. Dr. Edwin Van Keuren was department head 1956-69, until his retirement when Dr. Jackson Selman was appointed. The department has expanded from two members in the early years to ten and added a major and the MA and MPA on the graduate level. The curriculum offers preparation for law school, government service, secondary and junior college teachers, business, public relations, city management and foreign service. In the past the Sociology Department offered courses to satisfy university requirements and courses for law enforcement students. Now the curriculum offers development leading to an understanding of life and society. Courses offering orientation for a variety of special interests include social work, community development, graduate study, education for secondary teachers of the subject and specific training in understanding the school as part of the community and society. To facilitate expanded development, new faculty members include Dr. Hugh McCain, Criminology and Juvenile Delinquency; Dr. Sue Middleton-Kern, anthropologist who did special study in the Union of South Africa and looks at ethnic and minority relationships in the modern community; Dr. Gerald McDonald, social psychologist who studied at the University of Utah; and Dr. Jeff Beaubier, a medical anthropologist, who is a world traveler. Gweneth Mulder, department head, believes that current expansion satisfies students' desires to know "What goes on around them and why it hits them the way it does."

School of Education

Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), the School of Education at Jacksonville State University is proud of its faculty, students, and curricula. A continuous effort is made to improve the teacher education programs, thus providing the best possible teachers to meet the educational needs of children throughout Northeast Alabama and the Southeastern United States. In addition to traditional undergraduate curricula, the School of Education has implemented new programs in Special Education, in which students may specialize in learning to teach either the mentally retarded or the emotionally disturbed. Plans for a program in Early Childhood Education are also being initiated. The graduate program in education has continued to expand with approximately 1,000 students enrolled each semester. Courses are frequently offered to teachers in the field, both for credit and on an in-service basis.

Special Education

Special Education, referred to as exceptional child education, is concerned with children who deviate from the average in physical, mental, emotion, or social characteristics to such an extent that they require special programming or services to develop their maximum potential. The Special Education Department offers a graduate program which prepares educators with backgrounds to work with exceptional children and youth with over 100 students in this expanding program. To promote in-service programs in Special Education, a federal program called "Project Outreach" is offered Special Education teachers in Northeast Alabama.

SPECIAL EDUCATION FACULTY: L-R: Wanda Walton, Cynthia D. Harper, Dr. Rebecca Jane Brown, and Dr. Gregory Frith, Department Head.

Educational Psychology

At the undergraduate level the Educational Psychology faculty teaches courses necessary to basic teacher education program. Departmental offerings are designed to aid the education major in a better understanding of the behavior and learning processes of children and youth. At the graduate level, the Counseling and Guidance program is attracting a large number of students from the Northeast Alabama area and preparing them for counseling in both school and community agencies. The Counseling Practicum offers students direct experience under qualified agency personnel plus University supervisors in counseling with juvenile offenders, drug and alcoholic clients, the aged; elementary, junior high, senior high, vocational school, junior college, and university students; military personnel, disadvantaged youth, unemployed veterans, welfare cases, and trainable and educable mental retardates.

Health and Physical Education Home Economics

The Health and Physical Education Department is rapidly expanding its facilities. The completion of the Pete Mathews Coliseum has allowed the department to develop new fields of physical education and broaden the curriculum. Besides the basic courses offered, new programs will include women's volleyball, tennis, track, and basketball teams. The Mathews Coliseum seats 5,500 for basketball, includes facilities for a handball court, sauna room, dance studio, weight room, a full contingent of classrooms and offices for department members, and boasts an indoor olympic size pool. Use of the pool year round has made convenient the offering of the usual classes in swimming and lifesaving, as well as swimming teams, aqua-sports, and water shows. In addition to regular curriculum, the swimming pool is also popular with the student body and faculty for recreation according to scheduled hours not interfering with the instructional program. Currently a health field is under development with completion expected by another academic year. The expanded facility surrounding the coliseum is a special accomplishment viewed with pride by the University President, Dr. Stone, as well as members of the Health and Physical Education Department. The department is comprised of ten faculty members who are specialists in their fields and offers in addition to the B.S. in Education, a degree in Recreation and the Master's Degree. Of special note are the courses and work done in Emergency Medical Service by Tom Roberson who has involved students, faculty members, and interested citizens in the EMS program operated on a volunteer basis for the city of Jacksonville. Mr. Roberson has been cited by the Exchange Club for his professional and volunteer service.

In 1949 Mrs. Mary Lowrey began plans for establishing a home economics major, and Mrs. Margaret Green joined the staff in 1950. During these early years the department was housed in the third floor of Bibb Graves and in a barracks type building in the area where Mason Hall now stands. The curriculum included courses in foods, clothing, family relations and a nursery school by the time Mrs. Hazel Matthews joined the faculty. In 1963 the entire department was housed in one building, Mason Hall, for the first time. The curriculum now offers a B.S. in Secondary Education, B.S. in Clothing and Marketing, B.S. in Administrative Dietetics, and a B.S. in Food Services. In recent years there has been an increase in male students in the department. These men are mostly interested in foods and clothing courses and are eager for courses in men's tailoring and meal preparation with emphasis on training in food service. Dr. Louise Clark, Department Head, has encouraged the growth of the department by involving her faculty in self-study, by improving and enlarging the curriculum to meet the needs of young people who expect their courses to inter-relate with the family environment and the community. A committee from the School of Education is working with Mr. Mallory to develop a program of early childhood education. Dr. Clark also looks forward to offering graduate courses in the future.

School of Business

Secretarial courses were the beginning of what is now the School of Business Administration. In 1948 a major in secretarial studies was established and in 1949 two degree programs which trained students to be professional secretaries or to teach secretarial subjects on the high school level were offered and have been continued to the present. The School of Business Administration was established in 1971 and includes five departments directed by Dean B. J. Fuller who followed Miss Lucille Branscomb who had served as department head of the Business Department since its organization. The primary objective of the Banking and Finance Department is to provide a program for students who wish training for positions in business, government, and education and for graduate study leading to professional specialization. The curriculum insures training not only in banking and finance but in related areas including accounting, marketing, management, economics, and data processing. The accounting department prepares the student for the C.P.A. exam and receives splendid cooperation from local C.P.A.'s. The following Four Point Outreach was launched: 1. Interchange of ideas between the accounting department faculty and local C.P.A.'s, 2. Setting up an advisory committee of practicing accountants from public, private, and government fields, 3. Student internships offering practical experience in ethics, professionalism, and confidentiality, 4. Faculty residences involving professors in a consulting capacity when school is not in session. The Department of Management and Marketing trains its majors to fit into management in business. The Department of General Business strives to provide a well-rounded curriculum that touches all the fields of business. An effort is made to maintain high standards and to work on a personal level with each student in the advisement program recommended by the University. In addition to these departments, Dr. Roland Thornburg in the School of Education directs Department of Vocational Business Education in cooperation with the School of Business Administration.

The Regional Police Academy was established to train police officials and other persons already working in the criminal justice system. The Law Enforcement curriculum now includes not only a degree in Law Enforcement but also a B.S. in Corrections and Forensic Science, an associate degree in Law Enforcement or Corrections with 36 hours in Law Enforcement or corrections and 30 hours in other university courses, or a certificate in Law Enforcement with 30 hours in Law Enforcement or Corrections. Special interest courses include Introduction to the Criminal Justice System, Criminal Law, Defense Tactics, and Firearms.

This is a red letter year for Cole Library. A computer terminal linking the J.S.U. library with 30 of the 50 states through the New England Library Network and the Ohio College Computer Center. This technical development enables faster cataloging and will eventually allow card cataloging for each floor. The collection continues to increase at a rapid rate and additional qualified staff members have been added. The School of Library Science supports the curriculum for students in Marketing and Business Administration through the course IM403 and Radio Broadcasting and T.V. with courses 452 and 453. A degree in Library Science is offered on the graduate level with a minor on the undergraduate level.

School of Nursing

The education of professional nurses has changed drastically since World War II. Responding to the ever-accelerating pace of medical, scientific, and cultural knowledge, professional education for nursing has become much more comprehensive, broader in scope, and integrated increasingly into the baccalaureate and higher degree offerings of the university system of the nation. The Lurleen B. Wallace School of Nursing: Reflective of this dramatic movement was the establishment in 1967 of the Lurleen B. Wallace School of Nursing of the Jacksonville State University. The selection of our institution for this school made available immediately to students the choice of preparing for a career in which there is no shortage of well-paying positions upon graduation. Because the school was created by the Legislature of Alabama as a memorial to Governor Lurleen B. Wallace, the first dean, Dr. Mary Margaret Williams, R.N., was determined from the outset that the school should have a number of unique aspects and become outstanding in every respect. Nothing has diverted the university administration, nursing dean, faculty, and staff from these original intentions. The School of Nursing Building: Concurrently with the development of the baccalaureate curriculum in nursing, therefore, was the designing of a School of Nursing Building which would facilitate the implementation of the curriculum and additional programs which would be developed later. The building was completed and occupied in late 1975 and dedicated on February 2, 1975. Visitors doing a federal study of educational facilities in nursing stated that the building is unequalled and unsurpassed in the nation in the following respects: (1) overall design; (2) interior beauty; (3) flexibility in space utilization; (4) relationships between structure and function; (5) its family teaching center; (6) the comprehensiveness of its electronics teaching-learning system; and (7) its potential for accommodating to and meeting the teaching-learning-developmental needs of student nurses, faculty, and the public.

School of Military Science

The Department of Military Science was established in 1948 and until 1955 trained men for commissioned officers in the Field Artillery Branch of the Army. In 1955 the program broadened to commission officers for all branches of the Army. In 1972 the program was again strengthened by the establishment of a major and minor in military science. Evidence of the leadership acquired in the program is the number 2 rating in overall scores achieved by seniors at advanced summer camp in competition with all schools in this region. The military science program is strongly complemented by the Ranger unit, the Scabbard and Blade, the Rifle Teams, and the ROTC Sponsors.

Believing his patriotic emotion an inherent part of himself, the individual seldom recognizes the professional historians who have helped him to develop knowledge, loyalty, appreciation, and deep devotion for his country. We recall Dr. Robert Felgar, I, Dr. Charles Cayley, and Dr. Marvin Anders who devoted so many years of their lives in the classrooms with students at Jacksonville State University. In recognition of the efforts and enthusiasm of these professors and thousands of history teachers across the nation, the Mimosa staff, on behalf of the student body, dedicates the 1976 Mimosa to the Jacksonville State University History Department. The bicentennial year is an appropriate time to give due recognition to each of you for your excellent teaching, the special consideration that you give to students who seek your counsel, and the high standards which you maintain. May you be encouraged by this tribute.

the art of influencing people.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities recognizes students who have excelled during their undergraduate careers. The general qualifications which determine inclusion in Who's Who here at Jacksonville State are average grades, leadership, high character, and participation in campus activities.

Faculty and administrative staff members make nominations and justify them with letters of recommendation. The Honors Committee composed of Dean Reuben Boozer, Chairman; Dr. Lawrence Miles, Mr. George Teague, Dr. B. J. Fuller, and Sindo Mayor, SGA President consider the recommendations and name the recipients of the honor.

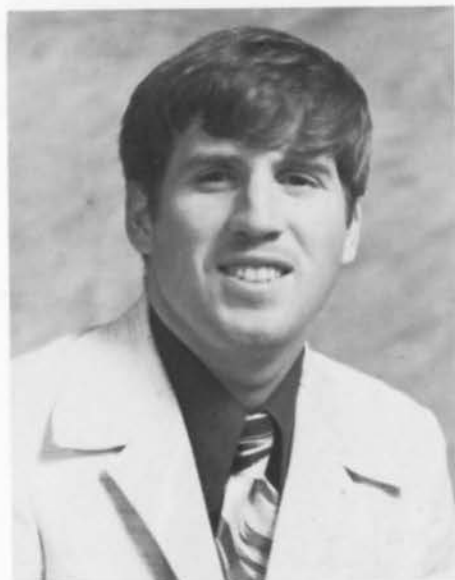

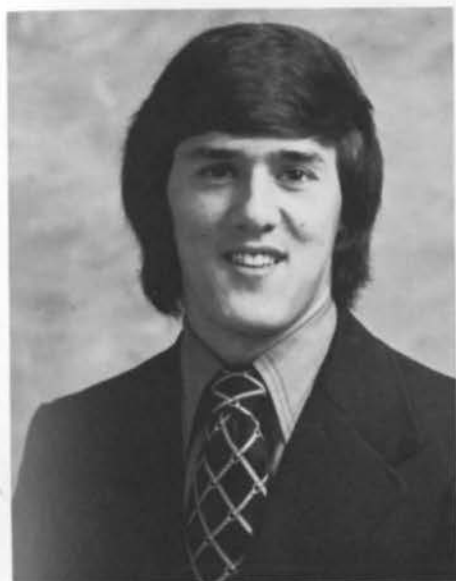

Jacksonville State University members of Who's Who represent every facet of campus life. It is their interest, energy, and selfless dedication that provide the leadership that results in our fine academic honors organizations, organizations related to professional preparation, campus publications, the esteemed Marching Southerners and varsity sports, dramatic productions, numerous music groups, and social fraternities and civic organizations.

The fraternity had the support of Kappa Alpha Psi, Delta Sigma Theta, and the Black Student Union. It is the hope of Omega Psi Phi that this event can be expanded in cooperation with the SGA, Kappa Alpha Psi, Delta Sigma Theta, and the Black Student Union into a Black Culture Week that will be beneficial to the entire student body.

Homecoming at Jacksonville State University under the direction of Mrs. Julia Snead spells involvement, excitement, and action. Committees composed of the administration, faculty, students, and alumni all worked together to plan a day filled with liveliness and fun highlighted by the splendid display of athletic prowess when Coach Mayfield and his associates put together a game plan that led the Gamecocks to their 30th consecutive homecoming victory. The events of the day were climaxed by the tea given by Dr. and Mrs. Stone to honor alumni, faculty and students following the game.

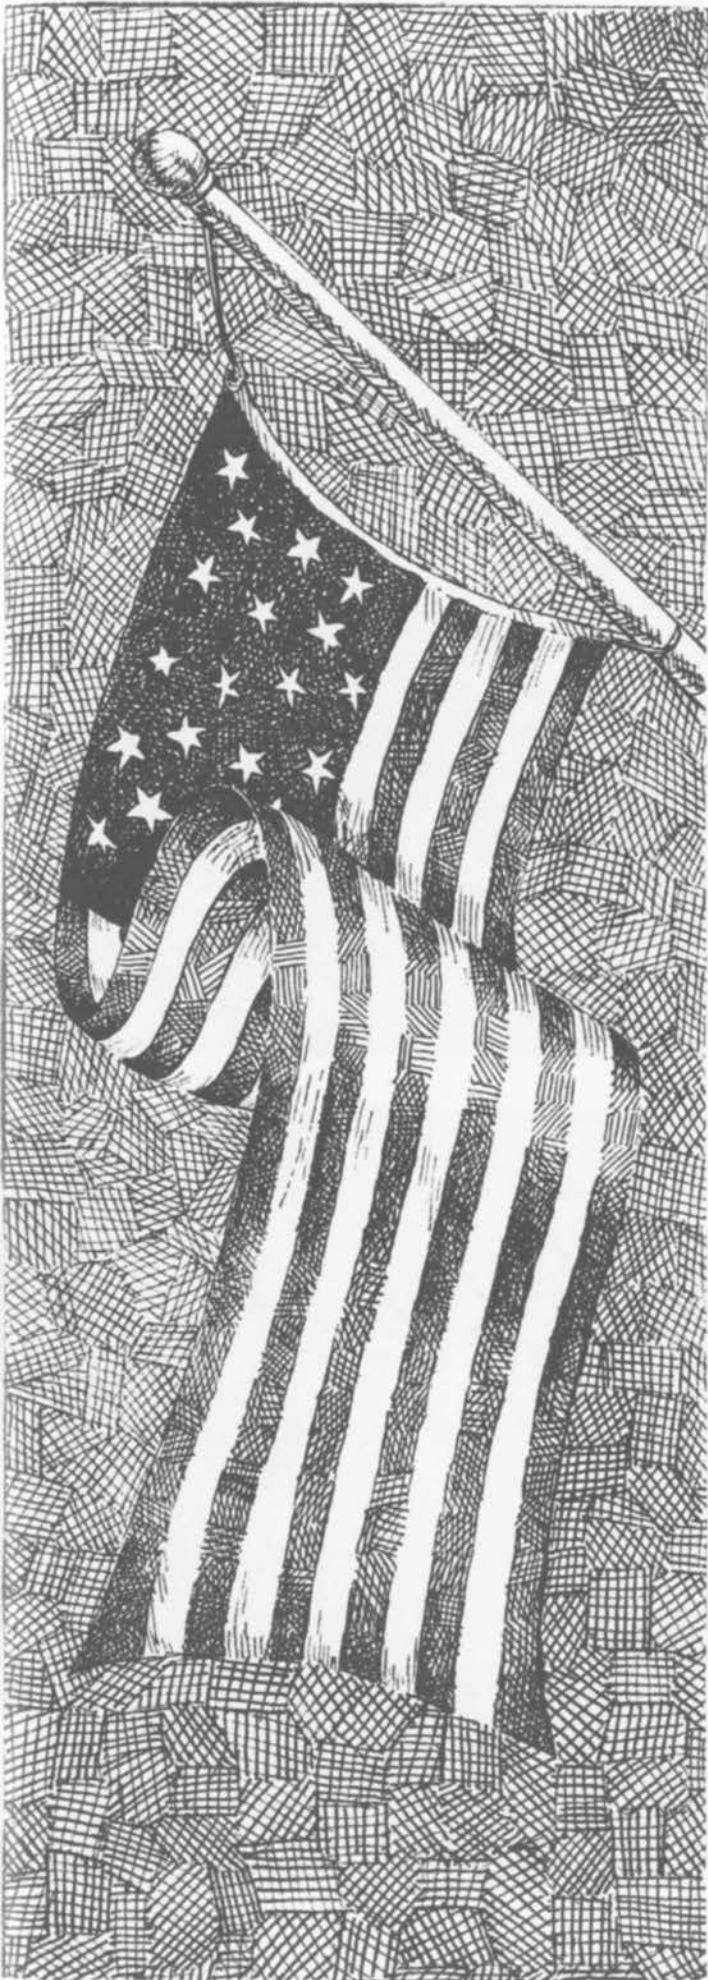

This year's homecoming festivities included openhouse sponsored by the department chairmen and their faculties for returning graduates. Attracting special attention was the coffee hour in the Psychology Department. The gala parade was followed by a barbecue served in James Anders Hall and the grounds of the quadrangle to the tune of the JSU stage band directed by Dr. Surace, blue grass music, and old fashioned fiddling. Nearby in Hammond Hall Lee Manners and his Art Department faculty had assembled a folk art exhibit to complement the bicentennial theme. On hand were craftsmen making baskets, quilts, and pottery. The novel approach was so successful that Mrs. Snead promises that next year's homecoming theme will be equally eventful and different.

Geographers Study 'n Play in Puerto Rico

For the second time, JSU students traveled to Puerto Rico with Dr. Howard Johnson of the Geography Department. The group traveled 700 miles throughout the island during its two week stay to observe facets of physical and cultural geography. Faculty members at the Inter American University housed and entertained the group while in the Ponce area. Daily project assignments included the inventory and mapping of urban neighborhoods; examination of historical urban features; inventory and comparison of climatic/vegetative regions; survey of land use patterns; study of food markets, preferences, and costs; interviews with production and management personnel in the sugar cane and related industries.

Included in this study trip were those in the upper right picture: L-R, Sitting: H. Johnson, V. Vines, E. Johnson. Standing: T. Doss, C. Weaver, and J. Pettus.

Biologists Study in Panama

During the spring minimester Dr. Summerour, an associate professor of biology, and seven students from JSU traveled to the Republic of Panama to observe the flora and fauna of the tropics. One week was spent in the cloud forest in the mountains in western Panama, near the Costa Rican border, and one week at the Smithsonian Tropical Institute on Barro Colorado island in the Canal Zone.

Dr. Summerour was successful in locating the Resplendent Quetzal, a rare and endangered bird of the high cloud forest and considered a contender for the most beautiful bird in the world. In addition, the group observed over 100 other species of tropical birds and a number of amphibians, reptiles and mammals indigenous to jungle regions. On Barro Colorado island the students were given conducted lecture-walks by trained personnel familiar with the local flora and fauna. Students accompanying Dr. Summerour include Jim Arial, Kenneth Beeler, Wayne Hinton, Timothy Johnson, Mike Meyer, Miles Albright, and Randall Wood.

Blood Drive Success

The fall blood drive netted 461 pints according to Robert Smith, chairman. The Red Cross was assisted by the Student Nurses' Association and the Ballerinas. Sigma Nu deserves special recognition as winner of the organization competition.

Entertainment

Among coffeehouse entertainers in the fall were Jimmy Parker, (upper left) and the Monday Express Co. (lower group). One program offered by the Lyceum Committee was an evening of good humor with Robert Kline (center).

Linda Ronstadt — Homecoming

The Linda Ronstadt concert was the highlight of Homecoming week for students. The concert, sponsored by the SGA, was a sell out. Appearing before Miss Ronstadt was Jimmy Buffett, equally well received by the responsive audience. When Linda Ronstadt appeared, she was greeted effusively.

The Terry Group (upper picture) and the Parliament-Funkadellic (lower picture) are among the concert groups sponsored by the SGA this year.

Lyceum Committee Presents Capote

The Lyceum Committee proudly presented Truman Capote during the minimester. Capote, widely known for popular works such as BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S and IN COLD BLOOD, touched the hearts of thousands of students and area people in the Coliseum as he read the nostalgic story taken from an experience in his childhood, "A Christmas Memory." Capote and his manager were entertained at lunch in the Faculty Club where he was joined by the president and vice president of academic affairs and local dignitaries. In the afternoon students were invited to the lecture rooms in the Houston Cole Library for a question and answer session. Both students and faculty members were fascinated with his discussion of social and world events, as well as his comments on his own writing career. Long lines waited for him to autograph books.

Among the variety of speakers who appeared on campus are three interesting ones. The Lyceum Committee sponsored the appearance of Bill Turner (upper left) in the Student Commons November 18. Turner, a former F.B.I. Agent and one of the early critics of Warren Commission Report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy is continuing research on the president's assassination, as well as investigating the assassination of Robert Kennedy and the attempt on Gov. George Wallace's life.

The Art Department and The Friends of the Arts sponsored "An Evening with Frank Wachowiak" in which Professor Wachowiak (lower left) gave a lecture on teaching children's art. He demonstrated his points with a slide show of children's classes working for him at the University of Georgia, throughout the United States and some in Japan and Africa. He is well known for series, for art education. Art students and visitors from faculty, staff, and local schools were inspired by this man's love for art and the children he stimulates to produce it. The lecture was followed by a reception and opening of Professor Wachowiak's exhibit of Japanese and American child art.

Also sponsored by the Art Department and Friends was Miss Seonaid M. Robertson (lower right), internationally known artist, author, and art educator. She did a workshop for Art students including lectures open to the public and a session on Saturday, March 22, where she taught how to make dyes from natural plants and barks.

Art Shows Attract Many.

The Department of Art, in cooperation with the Art Guild, has sponsored shows on a monthly basis during the academic year. The September show was "Recent Works" by Bill Page; in October paintings and drawings by Stan Pippin and Mark Lane were on exhibit; Phil Carpenter's were shown in November. Senior art majors — Karen Calhoun, Katie Sikorsky, Nancy Pollack, and Susan Couch — fulfilled a graduation requirement with an exhibition of their works in December. In addition, the Art Guild sponsored an Art Festival on the Square which was really successful with students and townfolks alike. The January show featured four Huntsville weavers — Erving, Potter, White and Young.

The Omega Psi Phi sponsored a Black Culture Talent Show and beauty pageant. Their plans are to work up a Black Culture Week coordinated under the sanction of SGA in cooperation with Kappa Alpha Psi, Delta Sigma Theta, and the Black Student Union. Winners of the talent show are Marvin Williams, first place (upper left); Harlan "Peaches" Winston and Herman Brown, second place (lower right); and Mary Whatley, third place (lower left).

UN Day Tea

The United Nation's Day Tea is celebrated annually at the International House. The students living in the House, both American and foreign open their home and their hearts to visitors from over the state. Exchange students dress in native costumes and exhibit a flavor of world cultures coming together in a spirit of brotherhood. President and Mrs. Stone, as well as board members of the International House Foundation, are a'ways on hand to share the occasion with John Stewart, director.

Cinematic Arts Council

Early this year the Student Government Association established the SGA Cinematic Arts Council. It was the hope of the Council to broaden previous JSU film programming. Because of the diligent work of the Council, its program was met with the growing participation of members of the JSU community. Interest in film was such that the Cinematic Arts Council added two new features to its schedule: Thursday Documentary-Classic-Foreign Film Night and Saturday Children's Matinees. The Council was able to provide, for the first time at JSU, a broad selection of films, shown in a proper atmosphere. It was a successful attempt to expand the total student film program at JSU into one that had never previously existed.

Mimosa Staff

"To err is human, to forgive is divine" — Alexander Pope. The Mimosa Staff this year has worked many long hours to bring to you, the students of Jacksonville State University, the best yearbook yet.

We have continued to improve your Mimosa this year by enlarging the index to include faculty and administration and organizations. We believe this will make it more informative and add to your enjoyment of the yearbook.

To commemorate the bicentennial year, we have developed a historical theme and added copy depicting the historical growth of the schools and colleges and the departments within the schools. We have improved the copy throughout the book which we believe will prove helpful to you in your present school life and in future reference.

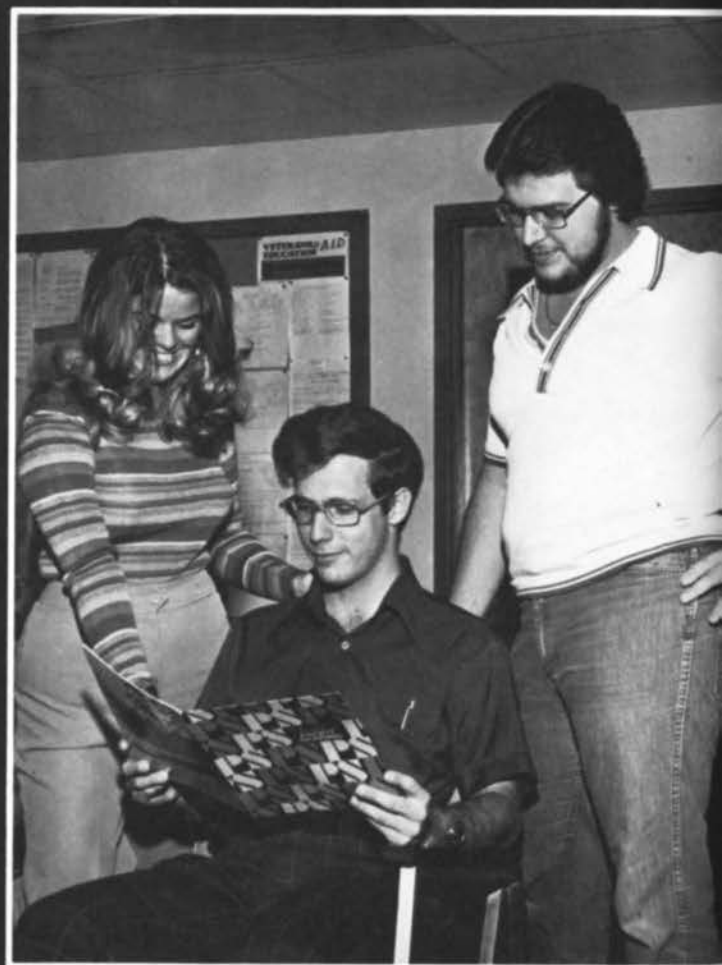

We owe special thanks to the Associate Editor Constance Carrier and Kay Pugh who composed the theme; Rick Pugh, who did the art work; Lee Ann Self, who did our printing; Billie Napper, our faithful and hardworking typist; Rick Gamel and Ron Mitchell, who worked so hard and Bill Braddock who was there when needed, and Roger Smith, our Taylor Publishing Company representative who answered all our questions no matter how ridiculous. Our deepest gratitude goes to Mrs. Lovett, our advisor without whom we could never have put it together and Mr. Lovett and his staff who gave us our great photography. We thank the staff who worked so hard to make this Mimosa so successful.

Chanticleer Staff

The campus newspaper has seen many changes in its nearly forty-two-year history. The paper, when founded, was known as the TeaCola. Later, it became the Collegian.

In 1966 the Chanticleer was born. The many years since 1934 have promoted a natural evolution in the purpose of the campus newspaper.

Today's CHANTICLEER strives to serve the student body by providing news which affects all facets of the student's campus life. The many news stories, features, and editorials are written with you, the student, in mind.

Lyceum Committee Provides Speakers

The Lyceum Committee at Jacksonville State University functions to bring speakers from various fields to our campus. Some of our speakers for the past year have been Truman Capote — a writer, Robert Klein — a comedian, and Bill Turner — a specialist on assassinations. The committee strives to find speakers of interest to students and speakers who have something worth saying. The speakers chosen are brought to our campus to provide both entertainment and enlightenment. The funds for this committee come from the University and all lectures are free and open to the public.

WLJS-FM Airs

The formation of the radio station began over 2½ years ago in the fall semester of 1972. Mike Sandefer headed the project and slowly the radio station came to life. A construction permit was issued in April of 1975 and by September of that year the station was on the air. The creation of WLJS was for entertainment and information to Jacksonville State University and surrounding community. The station also provides practical experience for students to hold important positions which would not be possible at a commercial station. Now with the station on the air many objectives have been set by the station staff. Many new ideas are yet in the making which will make WLJS-FM the best campus radio station in the south.

Masque and Wig Guild

The Drama Department's producing organization, the Masque and Wig Guild tries to offer a variety of drama productions during the academic year. These include comedy, tragedy, melodrama, and musicals.

This fall the Masque and Wig Guild took field trips to theatres across the state to see plays, both student and professional performances. The department is hoping to develop relationships with sister institutions to allow group rate attendance for our drama students to see their plays. The students would have the opportunity to examine the theatre facilities, as well as study the acting techniques. Drama Department Chairman, Carlton Ward, says that productions are cast and produced entirely by JSU students. They build the scenery, focus the lights, actually run the show. "We feel this is a valuable experience. When they are on their own in the high schools directing their own plays, they will know what to do. After dress rehearsal the show is theirs," he says.

Whit Davies, a drama student has created his own act, "Mark Twain — Back on the Circuit" and has performed in classes, for civic organizations, banquets, school groups, and on radio and T.V.

Pictures on pages 168-171 reflect the work and spirit of the Drama Department as faculty and students produced BLITHE SPIRIT, MAN OF LA MANCHA, and THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLE. Last minimester marked Mrs. Janet LeFevre's retirement as she bowed out with the excellent production of BLITHE SPIRIT. During the fall MAN OF LA MANCHA, a cooperative effort of the Drama, Dance, and Music Departments, directed by Dr. Wayne Claeren, drew wide campus response. It is hoped that the success of the musicals will encourage students to attend the serious drama productions as entertainment and art form.

The addition of Dr. Wayne Claeren, who has been a professional actor in plays, movies, television and commercials, has increased the scope of the department. He has instrumented new techniques of interest in the acting and movement classes with fencing and stage acrobatics to improve agility. An enthusiastic Guild member says, "He is thorough, a demanding director, but patient." Such directing resulted in the successful outcome of MAN OF LA MANCHA.

Dr. Claeren and the cast are seen in early practice sessions of the spring play, THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLE, chosen to emphasize the university's celebration of the bicentennial. The play is based on the Battle of Saratoga in the Revolutionary War. The actors were authentically costumed in 18th century American and British dress. The ROTC supplied a drill unit to serve as British officers and soldiers. For the first time Jacksonville audiences were exposed to theatre in the round.

The program had its first home in a classroom in the basement of Bibb Graves. Its present home was constructed in 1964. The International House Program provides a "window on the world" for the students at JSU and is considered a person-to-person laboratory in human understanding.

Here at Jacksonville State, ETA THETA chapter of Alpha Tau Omega was founded in March of 1969 and has from the beginning been outstanding in all phases of college life. With the advantage of our way of life, the student gains memorable associations and profitable contacts with fine young men of varied personalities and interests. Alpha Tau Omegans find three great principles imbedded in their minds: Brotherhood, Religion, and Scholarship. A major step in the pathway to success is achieved when young men strive for perfection and develop into well rounded gentlemen. Alpha Tau Omega is unique among fraternities in that it was founded upon Christian principles with Christian ideals as its goals.

Alpha Xi Delta, the second largest sorority in the nation, spreads its sisterhood through the members of the Epsilon Pi Chapter of Jacksonville State University. In 1968, Alpha Xi Delta, the first sorority chapter on this campus, was organized. Since then the sorority has led the campus through pep rallies, Rush, Step Sing, Greek Week, the Cancer Drive, and the Blood Drive. The Sisters of Alpha Xi Delta represent Jacksonville State University as Cheerleaders, Ballerinas, SNA members, BSU members, Southerners, Fraternity Lil Sis, Assistant Drum Major, Class Beauties, Bat Girls, ROTC Sponsors, Miss Mimosa, Miss Northeast Alabama, Dean's List, and Who's Who in America. Together, we enjoy Parents' Day, Thanksgiving Dinner, Christmas Formal, Spring Formal, Sock Hop, Senior Retreat, skating parties, and cookouts. Our Jacksonville Alumnae Chapter has given us the interest, support, and guidance that is essential for the well-being and growth of the Fraternity and its college chapters; these Alumnae offer evidence that their love and pride for Alpha Xi Delta continues undiminished.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., is an international public service organization comprising more than 85,000 women. Nationally, members like congresswomen, Shirley Chisholm and Barbara Jordan, actresses Ruby Dee and Lena Horne, vocalists Roberta Flack and Nancy Wilson, poetess, Nikki Giovanni, Oklahoma's LaDonna Harris and many others are making America better by "breaking new ground." Through Delta's Telcommunications, Inc., the sorority's first public film was produced. This film was previewed at the 1975 National Convention held in Seattle. Delta Tau Delta is a "social" fraternity; this classification defines not only the nature but something of the purpose of our organization. "Social" derives from the Latin word Socius, meaning companion. Certainly the companionship of friends is the very breath of the fraternity. Delta Tau Delta has one of the highest ratings of the national fraternities with 114 chapters in the United States and Canada. The financial system is the strongest with assets of over three million dollars. It is from these assets that Delta Tau Delta is able to make loans to chapters for building new houses, give scholarships and through investments keep the dues among the lowest. The Deltas at JSU participate in such activities as intramural sports, campus leadership and public service projects which help others in the Greek tradition. The chapter was recently honored by the United States Congress for one of its local service projects. Through the sports program the Deltas won the Best Sportsmanship award for the year. The scholastic program has given the chapter an overall B average. Delt leadership has members at JSU holding high offices in several campus organizations and coaching in the local high school.

Kappa Sigma, the second largest international fraternity in the world, is proud to be a part of the Jacksonville campus. Its 177 chapters across the U.S. and Canada make a person feel at home wherever he may travel. Although Kappa Sigma is interested in all campus activities, its main interest lies in the promotion of Brotherhood. Brotherhood is the backbone of Kappa Sigma. If it were not for Brotherhood, Kappa Sigma would have no purpose whatsoever. True Brotherhood is a feeling a Kappa Sigma can know, enjoy and respect, for Kappa Sigma means Brotherhood. The star and crescent shall not be worn by every man, but only by he who is worthy to wear it. He must be a gentleman . . . a man of honor and courage . . . a man of truth . . . one who tempers action with wisdom . . . and above all else, one who walks in the light of God.

Pi Kappa Phi is a bond of brotherhood that stretches across the nation. It is one of the only two fraternities founded in the South. Pi Kappa Phi is on eleven campuses in Alabama, more than any other national fraternity. Delta Epsilon chapter of Pi Kappa Phi, in its fourth year of existence at Jax State has become one of the most dynamic forces on campus. Among the brothers of Pi Kappa Phi involved on campus activities are Chairman of the Lyceum Committee, Chairman of the Blood Drive, SGA Senators, IFC Treasurer, class favorites, and varsity athletes. Our little sisters are included in such activities as cheerleaders, marching ballerinias, class beauties, and class favorites. This is only part of what it means to be a member of Pi Kappa Phi. Intramural sports, Greek Week, the annual Rose Ball, and numerous good times and parties. Pi Kappa Phi is a very personal brotherhood, a very personal experience.

Phi Mus won second place in Homecoming mini-float competition with the liberty bell. One heartwarming project was making gifts to take to the Oxford Nursing Home. In the spring of 1975, Phi Mus raised over $600 for the Cancer Drive during Greek Week, winning the competition. Phi Mus support JSU blood drives, too. In March their Carnation Ball was held at the Hyatt House in Birmingham. Eight Phi Mus were ballerinas with Lisa Willis head. Valinda Hawkins and Barbara Ary were cheerleaders. Constance Currier was associate editor of the Mimosas. Since its inception in 1869, Sigma Nus everywhere have worked hard to exemplify the ideals of the Legion of Honor; Love, Truth and Honor. Founded on January 1, 1869, on a limestone outcropping at Virginia Military Institute, three young men set the ideals and goals that would eventually lead the lives of over 100,000 living initiates. Here at Jacksonville State, Sigma Nu is in its third year of existence, having been chartered as Iota Lambda Chapter in April of 1975. Zeta Psi Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha is one of the most active Zeta Chapters in America and was awarded the national award most outstanding active chapter in small colleges in the nation. The year 1975 began with the hectic week of fall rush. The week ended when twenty pledges came through the Chapter Room door to meet their sisters and begin life in Zeta Tau Alpha. Fall brought football games, pep rallies, fraternity parties, homecoming, Founders Day, Halloween parties, Christmas parties and Candlelights that announced our sisters' new loves! Spring semester began and the beautiful secrets of Zeta became a reality for pledges on initiation day. Spring brought other great times too, like the White Violet Formal in February which was held at Lake Guntersville, annual sisterhood retreat and Greek Week with its step sing, and activities. The semester ended with a trip to Panama City Beach. Zeta Psi Chapter participates in projects like the Harris Home, American Cancer Society, and the National Philanthropic project aids in the prevention of Mental Retardation. Zeta Tau Alpha is a truly beautiful experience, reaching beyond college walls into the lives of those who strive ever to make their lives "a symphony of high ideals, devoted to the Right, the Good, and the True, without a discordant note; remembering always that the foundation precept of Zeta Tau Alpha was Love — the greatest of all things."

Trackmen Work

The track program at Jacksonville State University consists of three phases, cross country in the fall, indoor track during the winter and outdoor track in the spring.

The results of the 1975 cross country season included a victory over Oglethorpe University in a dual meet, fourth in the Gulf South Conference meet, second in the NAIA District 27, fourth in the Georgia State University Invitational.

Indoor track provides an athlete the opportunity to stay in shape and prepare for spring track. The indoor track schedule for 1976 consists of the Montgomery Invitational, Auburn University Invitational and the University of Tennessee Invitational.

Football — 75 —

Jacksonville State University posted a fine 7-3-0 record in 1975 to maintain its reputation as one of the top small college football teams in the country.

The 7-3-0 record is misleading though, as far as the possibilities that existed for the Gamecocks in 1975. Take away a few injuries and a bad break or two, plus playing six games on the road, and the Jaxmen may have made a dent in the national playoffs. Jax State was ranked third in the nation going into the final two games, but an upset and a last-second TD killed its hopes for retaining this lofty spot.

Jacksonville's seniors closed out their college careers with records of 7-3-0 (1975), 7-4-0 (1974), Gulf South Conference Champs), 7-2-0 (1973) and 7-2-1 (1972).

Highlights of the season were numerous, but two that shared the spotlight were wins over Livingston (17-13) and Chattanooga (24-6). Another high point was a new attendance mark for Jacksonville State.

JSU 42 — A&M 0: In a first game ever between Jacksonville and Alabama A&M, the homestanding Gamecocks exploded before a capacity crowd and coasted hands down to a 42-0 opening victory.

It was a rout all the way as Jacksonville led 7-0 after the first quarter, 21-0 at halftime and 35-0 at the end of three periods. Fullback Mike Hobson had a field day, scoring four of the Gamecock's six TD's.

The Jax State offensive machine rolled up 396 total yards, 343 by land and 53 via the airways. Jacksonville's Red Bandits held A&M to only 213 total yards and intercepted two passes.

NSU 18 — JSU 6: Jacksonville State's bid for a second straight Gulf South Conference crown took a severe blow against Nicholls State as the Gamecocks came up on the short end of an 18-6 score. A couple of fumbles proved fatal for Jax State in the first conference game for Jax State. Early in the third period, Nicholls took the first fumble, a bobbled punt reception, at the Jax six yard line and cashed it in quickly to break a 6-6 deadlock. Nicholls got a second break at the Gamecock's 23 on the ensuing kickoff and took it in for a TD also. Jacksonville's touchdown came in the second period as Mike Hobson rammed over from a yard out for his fifth TD of the young season.

JSU 24 — UTC 6: After losing an important conference game to Nicholls, Jacksonville took it out on small college power Chattanooga, blasting the visitors 24-6 in impressive fashion.

The Gamecocks completely controlled the contest, jumping out to a 14-0 halftime lead and increasing it steadily throughout the second half. Mike Hobson continued his scoring rampage with three touchdowns and Joe Hix added a 27-yard field goal for Jax State's final three points.

Gamecock quarterback Larry Barnes had his best effort of the season thus far, completing 10 of 14 passes for 190 yards.

JSU 38 — SEL 7: A well-polished Jax State Gamecock team could do nothing wrong on a pleasant sunny afternoon here in this New Orleans' suburb, thrashing GSC opponent Southeastern Louisiana 38-7 to spoil the Lions' homecoming ceremonies.

Ken Calleja scored two TD's, Ronald Young one and Mike Hobson one to continue his string of scoring in every game.

Quarterback Larry Barnes passed 42 yards to tight end James Coleman for another Jax TD and kicking specialist Joe Hix booted a field goal of 42 yards to round out the scoring.

JSU 21 — NWL 0; Jacksonville State's "Red Bandits" (defensive unit) did a little barnstorming during a rainstorm to sack Northwestern runners for losses 14 times, paving the way for the Gamecocks' third conference win of the season, a 21-0 shutout.

During a steady downpour, Jax managed 21 points for its fifth overall win of the year against one defeat. The first JSU TD came when Jimmy Cox pounced on a blocked Northwestern punt in the Demon's end zone.

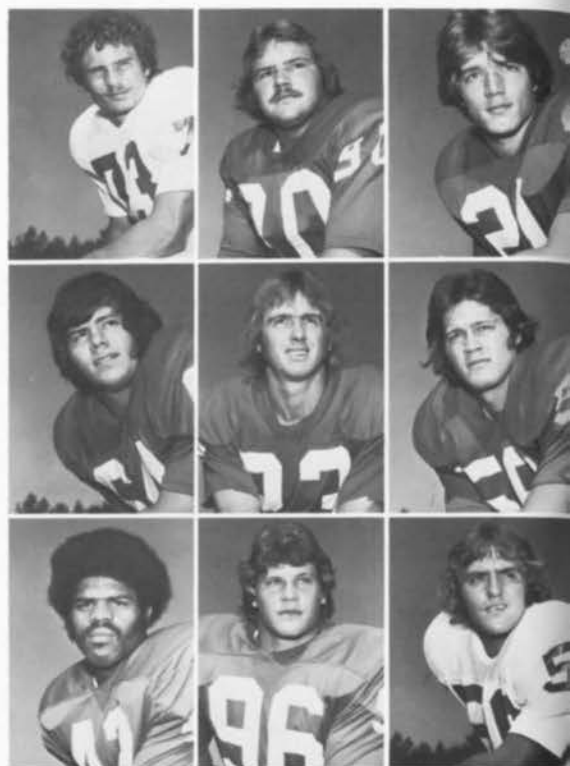

Tailback Ken Calleja scored one touchdown from a yard out and quarterback Larry Barnes accounted for the other on a 26-yard jaunt. Joe Hix converted after each score.

JSU 21 — DS 7: Jacksonville State journeyed to a land filled with fields of fluffy white cotton and did some serious picking at the first place team of the Gulf South Conference, Delta State. The Gamecocks turned in a brilliant offensive show and decked the league leaders 21-7. The win placed JSU in a tie with Livingston for the GSC lead.

Quarterback Larry Barnes had a fine two hours at the helm of the Gamecock offense, scoring all three JSU touchdowns. His first came on a three-yard run in the first period, giving Jax State a 7-0 lead. After Delta tied the game at 7-7, Barnes put JSU on top at halftime with another three-yard plunge. In the third period, Barnes put the Statesmen away for good with a 15-yard punt to the end zone.

Terry Grammer had an exceptional night, receiving Barnes' passes with four catches for 51 yards. Substitute fullback Curt Mitchell had 38 yards rushing to lead JSU runners.

JSU 17 — LSU 13: Coach Clarkie Mayfield and his Jacksonville State Gamecocks met their toughest challenge of the season with a comeback effort that netted a 17-13 win over Livingston. The win gave JSU sole possession of first place in the Gulf South Conference race.

It was a tough comeback for the Gamecocks as Livingston jumped ahead 13-3 on a six-yard run and a perfectly-executed halfback pass. JSU staged a 64-yard drive and fullback Mike Hobson scored from the four-yard line to shorten LU's lead to 13-10 at the half. Hobson ran one yard for the winning points in the third quarter. Jax State's defense shut out Livingston in the second half.

Homecoming

JSU 11 — UTM 3: Homecoming celebrations were in jeopardy on a chilly afternoon until Jacksonville's Kim Porch knocked down what looked like a sure Tennessee-Martin TD pass late in the fourth period. Porch's play gave the JSU Gamecocks possession and they ran out the clock to ensure an 11-3 victory and extend its homecoming victory string to 30 games without a loss.

The victory, Jacksonville's third in a row and second conference win, moved the Gamecocks back into the heated Gulf South Conference race. Joe Hix gave JSU a 3-0 first quarter edge with a 27-yard field goal and Henry Studyent blocked a UTM punt out of the end zone in the second period for a safety and a 5-0 halftime lead.

Quarterback Larry Barnes sneaked in from a yard out with JSU's only touchdown of the afternoon.

TSU 26 — JSU 10: It was probably the most unusual afternoon Troy head Coach Byrd Wigham will ever experience as he watched his Trojans whip defending Gulf South Conference Champs Jacksonville State 26-10, only to learn shortly after that he had been fired.

It was a weird afternoon for the Jaxmen. After jumping out to a 10-0 lead, the Gamecocks seemed to have the upper hand in the contest. Things changed suddenly, though. Troy got a couple of quick touchdowns and a field goal just before the half for a 17-10 advantage at intermission.

Jacksonville could manage only one drive in the final half and it fizzled inside the Troy 25 on a fourth down conversion attempt. Troy added another field goal and a late TD to ice its biggest victory in two years.

UNA 21 — JSU 14: North Alabama used a 20-yard TD pass in the final 11 seconds to put out a hard-earned 21-14 victory over Jacksonville State in the final game for both teams.

The loss gave the Gamecocks a 7-3-0 mark for the year and a third-place finish in the Gulf South Conference. A victory against North Alabama coupled with a loss by Nicholls would have given the Gamecocks the GSC title (or at least a share of the crown) but this was not to be on a cold, overcast day in Florence. Nicholls edged Delta State later in the day, 24-21, to take the GSC title. North Alabama capitalized on a couple of Gamecock fumbles to take a 14-0 lead in the first half, but the Jaxmen bounced back on a five-yard run by Mike Hobson (his 12th for the year and a new JSU record) and a three-yard run by Larry Barnes to tie the game and set the stage for UNA's last-second heroics. UNA's Will Fuller made a great run after taking Garner Ezell's pass for the winning points.

Baseball — GSC Champs

Jacksonville State University's 1975 baseball team posted the best record in Gamecock history, winning 32 games and the Gulf South Conference Championship.

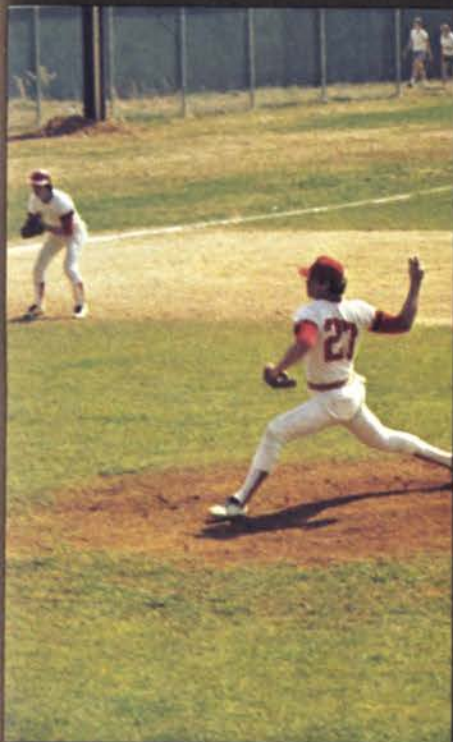

The Gamecocks, GSC Champions in both 1973 and 1975, have won the Eastern Division title each of the four years the league has been in existence. Jax State defeated Nicholls in the GSC playoffs.

As champions of the Gulf South Conference, the Gamecocks advanced to the NCAA South Region playoffs. The tourney was held at the New University Field in Jacksonville.

Highlight of the season, however, was not winning the GSC or playing in the NCAA playoffs. Playing on the new playing field for the Gamecocks proved the high point of the year. The facility, which was completed in February, is one of the finest facilities in the Southeast for baseball.

Ted Barnicle, JSU pitcher from Sudbury, Massachusetts, the first college pitcher in the professional baseball draft last June, was the San Francisco Giants' number one choice. Barnicle was named to the NCAA All America first team and is the only JSU athlete in any sports ever to make the Sporting News All-America team. He posted an 8-2 record with 160 strikeouts in 76.1 innings and had ERA of 0.94 for the year.

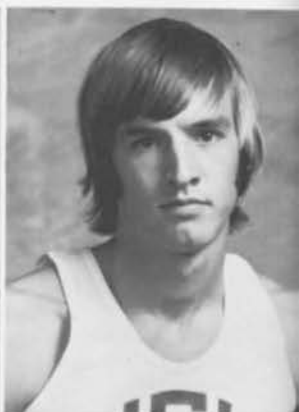

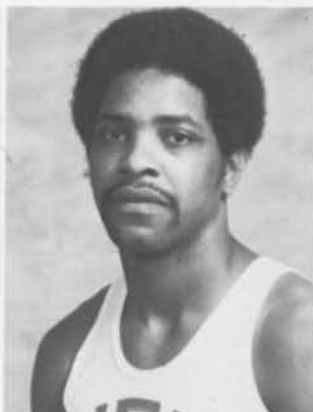

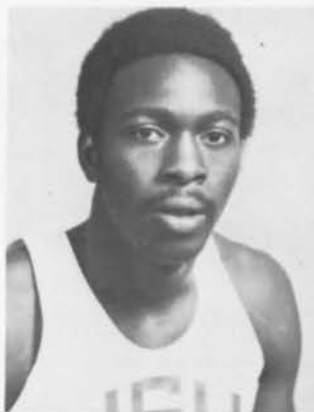

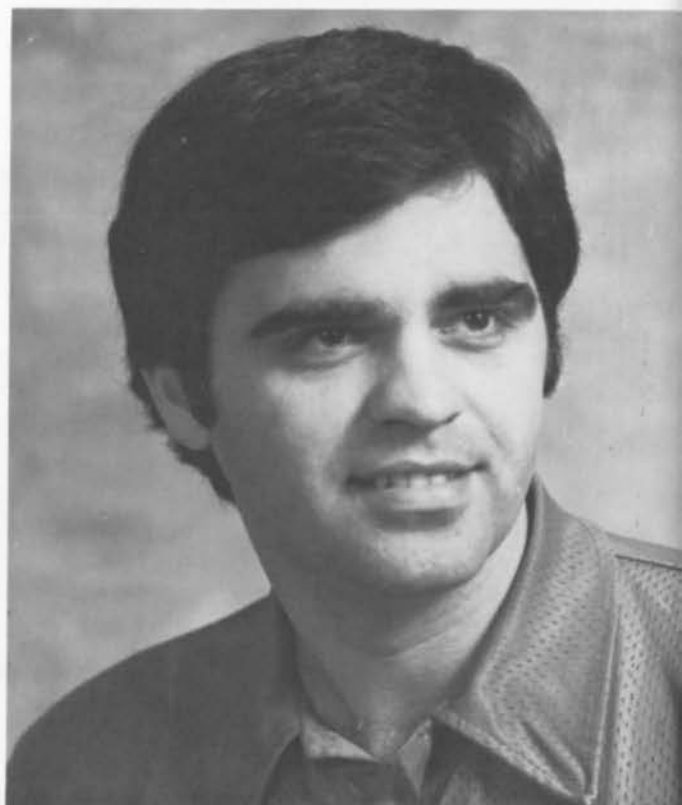

Varsity Basketball

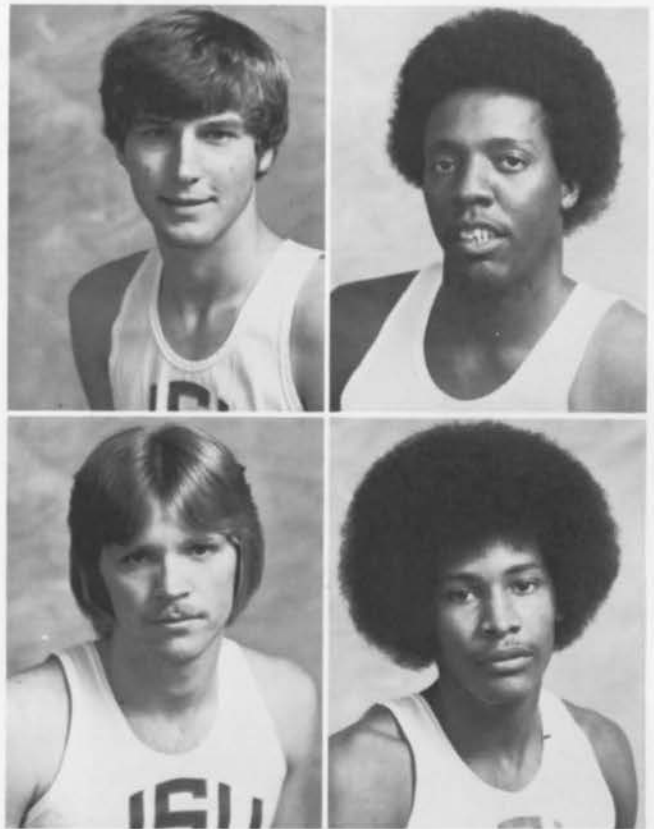

The leading scorers from JSU's 1974-75 GSC championship team return in Eddie Butler (6-5) and Herman Brown (6-5), plus starters Darryl Dunn (6-2) and R. J. Bonds (6-3).

If this experience isn't enough to provide leadership, the Gamecocks have two other seniors waiting for a chance to show their talents. These include Harlan Winston (6-1, point), who thrives on pressure situations, and David Webster (6-8, post), who could solve the replacement problem at the low post.

Coach Bill Jones is hoping Webster and a pair of talented rookies will help solve any rebound problems. In Kim Williamson (6-8, 255) and Robert Clements (6-8, 195), Jones has a pair of talented youngsters capable of holding their own in the rough and tumble college cage game.

Butler and Brown tied for scoring honors last year with 14.8 averages each and claimed their share of missed shots off the boards. Butler pulled down 10.7 rebounds per game last winter to pace the Gamecocks in this department (Money had 10.0 per game) while Brown had 6.9 per game. Dunn averaged 9.6 points while Bonds carried a 7.5 mean.

Jacksonville State University's basketball program took another positive step up a ladder that hopefully one day will result in a national championship during the 1975-76 season.

The Gamecock basketball program, which sank to an all-time low in the early 1970's, showed signs of gaining national stature in 1974-75 when they took the Gulf South Conference title and in late January were in contest for another playoff slot.

The credit for Jacksonville State University's success has to be given to new coaches, Bill Jones and Randall Bean, and a fine crop of six seniors.

Jones, who made all-star honors as a Gamecock cager in the mid-sixties, returned to Jax State from the University of North Alabama in 1974 and won the GSC title in his first season. The crown, incidentally was one of three GSC championships won by JSU that year.

The half dozen seniors of mention include Eddie Butler of Florence, Herman Brown of New York City, Harlan Winston of Russellville, Darryl Dunn of Gadsden, R. J. Bonds of Russellville, and David Webster of Columbia, TN. Butler and Dunn climaxed their careers at Jacksonville by making numerous all-star squads, including All-GSC. Butler was the leading scorer and rebounder while Brown was right behind in 1975-76.

And while this great group of veterans is going to be missed, a talented cast of youngsters is waiting in the wings to keep the tradition going.

These include Robert Clements of Carbon Hill, Bruce Sherrer of Dayton, OH, Kent Bouldin of Crossville, Mike Robins of Franklin, Tenn., Curtis Webster of Columbia, Tenn., Mike Cornelius of Gardendale, and Ron Blair of Birmingham.

Of this group, Clements was the only underclassman to work his way into the starting lineup this past school year, but this is expected to change next season.

The big push in Gamecock basketball came when the new Pete Mathews Coliseum was completed prior to the start of the 1974-75 season.

The Gamecocks won every regular season game in Pete Mathews Coliseum that season and had lost but once with only two games remaining in 1975-76.

"The new coliseum opened the way for a new era for us," Jones said of the facility. "The old gym (J. W. Stephenson) was a recruiting handicap and limited our fan attendance."

Rifle Team

MSG Herbert's energy, enthusiasm, and innovations have resulted in many improvements to the JSU Varsity Rifle Team. He is most zealous when discussing the team; MSG Herbert is quick to express the promise and future of several new young shooters. "We have some new freshmen and sophomores this year who show potential and we expect great things from their future shooting."

The team still needs and is looking for new talent; so if you enjoy marksmanship and are interested in firing the .22 caliber weapons, get in touch with a Rifle Team member or MSG Herbert at the ROTC Department. Hats off to a team of hard workers and straight shooters!

The intramural program is directed by Dick Bell, physical education instructor. Though the football competition receives the emphasis this year, the program includes tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball, racquet ball, swimming, and ping pong. Any sport for which students express an interest will be added to the intramural activities. A large percentage of the student body participates in the intramural program. Much spirited rivalry develops during competition among identified campus groups. These include fraternities and sororities, independents, academic organizations, campus residents, off-campus residents, and sometimes faculty teams. If you want to add liveliness and a spark of fun to your dull routine, become a part of the intramural program.

DISPOSE OF YOUR YOUTH IN THIS NEIGHBOURHOOD, WHO HAVE ANY INCLINATION TO JOIN THE TROOPS, NOW RAISING UNDER GENERAL WASHINGTON, FOR THE DEFENCE OF THE LIBERTIES AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE UNITED STATES, Against the hostile designs of foreign enemies,

TAKE NOTICE,

THAT Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Hollywood in London and New York with his right and recruiting party of London and New York company will be given of the 11th regiment of infantry, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel London and New York for the purpose of assisting the enrollment such youth of spirit, so may be willing to enter into this noble and glorious service.
 The ENCOURAGEMENT of this time, to join, is truly liberal and generous, namely, a bounty of twenty dollars, an annual and fully sufficient supply of good and handsome clothing, a daily allowance of a large and ample ration of provisions, together with sixty dollars a year in so and silver money on account of pay, the whole of which the soldier may lay up for himself and friends, as all articles proper for his subsistence & comfort are provided by law, without any expense to him.
 Those who may favour this recruiting party with their attendance as above, will have an opportunity of seeing and living in a more particular manner, the great advantages which their brave men will have, who shall embrace this opportunity of spending a few happy years in viewing a different part of this beautiful continent, in the honorable and truly respectable character of a soldier, after which, he may, if he please return home to his friends, with his pockets full of money and his head covered with laurels.
