Happy Birthday, Emmon!

When we realized that your 50th birthday was coming up, we contacted as many of your former and current students that we could track down and invited them to contribute something they were presently working on to a volume in your honor.

Here is the result: The papers in this volume are diverse -- as are your interests in Linguistics. You will notice that the papers are often influenced both by your theoretical outlook and by informal comments you have made about how language works.

We want to thank various people in the Linguistics Department at the University of Massachusetts for help and ideas, in particular Lynne Ballard, Janet Randall, and Rick Saenz.

We hope you will enjoy these papers as much as we have enjoyed your teaching.
