

FIRE BRIGADE EXPLAINS NEW HALL PROJECT

Annual Cost To Taxpayer Of This Much Needed Accommodation Shown To Be Very Small

The following statement is issued by the Directors of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade in explanation of the loan By-Law upon which a vote of the ratepayers will be taken on Tuesday next, September 23rd.

The Brigade has requested that the City Council submit for the approval of the ratepayers a By-Law for the building of a new Fire Hall at an estimated cost of $17,000; that this new building be erected on the site of the present Fire Hall, and that it be not combined with any other civic buildings.

This request has been approved by the members of the City Council.

In the following statement of the financial side of the question, the assessment values for the year 1924 are used as a basis. Any future alteration in assessment value will alter the figures mentioned as the mill rate.

The debenture issue, par value, of $1,500,000 will require that $1,500,000 be raised by taxation each year to meet interest and sinking fund charges. This amount is equal to 65 of one mill on the taxable assessed value of city property.

To the taxpayer, this means that each year he will be paying for the new building, six and one-half cents on each $100 of assessed land value and 2.17 cents on each $100 of assessed improvement value.

The average home owner, this means about 60 1/2 cents per year to give the Fire Brigade boys a decent home.

The present drive for a new Fire Hall commenced early in June. The City Council was not approached until all phases of the question had been thoroughly discussed and definitely decided.

The plans are the culmination of ten years of discussion and futile effort on the part of the Brigade members.

We feel sure that the time is ripe for this new Fire Hall. The bonded debt of the City is not excessive and the sinking fund is in excellent shape.

Fire apparatus debentures amounting to $2,000 expired this year. In 1924 there will mature $9,500 of debentures and the total of debentures maturing within five years amounts to $88,500.

So the slight increase of sixty-five hundredths of a mill in the debenture rate to provide for the new Fire Hall will be offset to some extent by the debentures maturing this year and in a few years will be wiped out entirely as the fixed charges on the $88,500 of bonds mentioned as maturing represent 3.7 mills.

The proposed new building is to be located on the site of the present Fire Hall, is to be erected of brick and concrete, will have a nice appearance and will be of good construction without any expensive frills. Its size will not be any greater than needed at the present time, yet will be sufficient so that no addition will be required until this city's population exceeds 10,000.

The ground floor will have room for our two fire trucks, the two reels of reserve hose and the ladder. The space provided for the two reels and the ladder reel can be used for a ladder truck, if at some future time such a truck is needed. A boiler-room, work-room and toilet are also provided for. At the north-east corner of the building will be a tower for drying hose and for the open air meeting-room, and for the open air bathroom. Two sliding poles are provided for, and the main doors will have automatic opening hinges.

Kelowna Defeats Vernon

With the object of stimulating interest in the "Royal and Ancient" game, the Vernon Golf Club was invited to Kelowna to take part in an inter-club match, and seven of its members motored down on Sunday morning and arrived in time for lunch.

After that interesting event, the players were drawn and play commenced at 2 p.m. in splendid weather. The course having been put in good shape, some very fine golf was witnessed by quite a gallery.

The players and results were as follows:—
H. J. Gow, Vernon, beat F. A. Taylor, Kelowna, 3 and 1.
Dr. Campbell, Kelowna, beat T. Brayshaw, Vernon, 4 and 2.
A. M. Brisbane, Vernon, beat H. G. M. Wilson, Kelowna, 1 up.
H. K. Todd, Kelowna, beat W. R. Grieve, Vernon, 6 and 5.
J. R. Guthrie, Vernon, beat A. G. McCosh, Kelowna, 4 and 3.
J. Bowes, Kelowna, beat W. S. Wilson, Vernon, 3 and 2.
W. R. Trench, Kelowna, beat E. S. Jones, Vernon, 2 and 1.

Kelowna thus won four matches to Vernon's three.

The winners thoroughly enjoyed the day and hope to have more of these pleasant matches before the season is ended.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN AERIAL WARFARE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—New developments in aerial warfare that render certain World War methods of strategy obsolete were described yesterday by government experts before a gathering of scientists here in honor of the centenary of the Franklin Institute. Transportation of great armies overseas, bombing of cities by airplanes, a new aerial camera that nullifies camouflage, the wiping out of a battleship with a single air bomb and the possible paralyzing of an entire nation by a combination of new chemical discoveries were among the new weapons described.

building has been estimated on, and would increase the cost one-third, as the saving in the cost of water would be offset by the cost of interior partitions, laths and plaster of which there will be none on the downstairs wall of the proposed new Fire Hall. However, the new building is to be so placed on the site that it will be 20 feet from the lot line and over 50 feet from the north line of the lot, so that, if at some future time, the City Council should desire that an addition be built to the Fire Hall on the existing site, there will be no need to provide accommodation for civic offices, there is no reason why it cannot be done.

The Fire Brigade has a membership of twenty unpaid volunteers and two men employed by the City. A few of the present members belonged to the Brigade before it was organized. In 1909 on the existing basis. We have an excellent organization with definite rules and regulations, the outcome of gradual growth and experience. We have a good equipment and water system. Considerable knowledge of the use of the equipment, of mains and hydrants, etc., is required of the Brigade members. In reality, the keeping of our equipment in good condition and familiarizing ourselves with the use of it for fire fighting is all that should reasonably be expected from a volunteer organization; but the boys are interested in fire prevention, new and up-to-date apparatus, building regulations, waterworks improvements, roads and traffic regulation and civic finances in so far as Fire Brigade appropriations are concerned. The actual time that the boys are occupied at fires is only a very small part of the time that is spent in preparing themselves so that they can more ably cope with outbreaks and in trying to better conditions that are hazardous from the Fire Brigade standpoint.

There are many minor convincing arguments that can be advanced in favour of this new Fire Hall, and any member of the Brigade will be pleased to have the opportunity of explaining any points or answering any questions.

The new Fire Hall is the one essential thing at the present time in so far as the Fire Brigade is concerned. The Directors sincerely trust that the ratepayers of the City of Kelowna will poll an overwhelmingly favourable vote on September 23rd for the debenture issue for the new Fire Hall for the City of Kelowna.

PARENT-TEACHER GARDEN PARTY AND DANCE

Many Attend Enjoyable Function Held On Thursday Afternoon And Evening

The garden party and dance given by the Kelowna Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday afternoon and evening at the residence of Mrs. Royal S. Moe passed off very pleasantly and was a most enjoyable affair which attracted a large number of people.

In the afternoon the musical programme, arranged by Mrs. H. W. Arbuckle, Mrs. A. C. Poole and Mrs. J. A. S. Tilley was carried out, consisting of the following numbers: pianoforte duet, Misses Moe; song, Miss G. Lowery; recitation, Miss M. Flinders; violin solo, Miss I. Murray; song, Master J. Hughes; recitation, Miss M. Aitken; song, Miss E. Pirie; song, Mrs. J. H. Trenwith. In the intervals fourteen little girls danced some folk dances, repeating the performance, by special request, in the evening. Those taking part in these dances were: Lois Lovell, Mildred Lloy Jones, Marion Williams, Dorothy Simmons, Eunice Hayman, Beth Harvey, Margaret Aitken, Eileen McDonald, Dorothy Taggart, Barbara Adams, Joan Adams, Mary Poole, Diana DeHart and Frances Lewers.

Also in the afternoon tea was served by Mrs. S. M. Simpson, President of the Association, assisted by Mrs. R. J. Moe, Mrs. J. N. Cameron, Mrs. J. V. Ablett and a bevy of the older school girls. There was also a candy booth, presided over by Mrs. H. Ryan and the Misses Ryan and Dore and an ice cream booth, of which Mrs. T. Treadgold and Mrs. A. K. Stuart had charge. Other attractions were a fish pond, conducted by Mrs. A. C. Poole and the Misses Poole, and Mr. J. Campbell's ring game.

The evening programme consisted of the following items: pianoforte duet, the Misses Moe; violin solo, Miss I. Murray; songs, Miss B. Stone, Mrs. M. T. Lovell, both of which were repeatedly encored, and a dance by Miss Beth Harvey. During the evening also Mr. C. W. Lees gave a short address on the aims and objects of the Parent-Teacher Association and the growth of the movement for better co-operation between parents and teachers, and, later on, dancing was kept up till midnight.

The Association hopes that the proceeds of this entertainment will enable it to carry on useful relief work this coming winter.

GAME MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED AT WINFIELD

Farmers Complain Of Extensive Damage Done To Crops By Phoeasants And Partridges

Last Thursday evening several members of the Kelowna Fish and Game Protective Association, journeyed to Winfield to attend, by invitation, a meeting of the Winfield Farmers' Institute, and this proved to be an instructive gathering both for the members of the association and the farmers.

Mr. W. R. Fowley, President of the Institute, who was in the chair, excused the small attendance, pointing out that orchardists were, at the present time, working from fourteen to sixteen hours a day picking McIntosh apples. He asked the secretary, Mr. M. F. Williams, to get through the routine business of the meeting as quickly as possible, so that questions connected with the preservation of game and game fish could be discussed.

Mr. J. N. Cushing was the first to speak for the Game Protective Association, which he pointed out was an entirely non-political organization, its aim being to prevent the great natural resources of wild life, for which this province was one time famous, from being destroyed. The Kelowna association was just beginning to feel that its efforts in that direction were meeting with a small measure of success. A game warden had at last been appointed for the South Okanagan

GLENMORE

Mr. and Mrs. Irving have their niece, Miss Myrtle, of Ottawa, paying them a visit.

Ducks on McKay Slough had a rude awakening on Monday morning. Sportsmen in goodly numbers hid themselves to this rendezvous on Sunday in preparation for the 15th. Others wended their way in the early hours of the 15th.

Mr. Albert Rankin went after bigger game, bringing home on Tuesday, we think, the first deer of the season for Kelowna District.

Much has been written in recent papers about glaring headlights. When will autoists in their journey through country districts consider this matter? Large numbers do, but a percentage remain who care not at all for those on the road besides themselves. On Sunday evening just before nine, occupants of a car coming southwards, saw an immense glare over the bend of the hill. As this came into sight it proved to be a car with such glaring lights that it was impossible to see anything and the driver pulled to the side and stopped. It is a wonder more accidents do not happen.

The blue birds which left some weeks ago returned last week and are flying round their old nesting places. Is this usual?

Mr. Frank Lewis left this week for Vancouver, where he will take up his studies at the University.

The Reeve and full Council attended the September monthly municipal meeting on Friday, the 12th inst. The minutes of the previous meeting having been disposed of, a communication from the Kelowna Golf Club was read, asking that the Russian Thistle on the roads skirting the Links be cut. It will be explained to the club that the taxes being so very low in Glenmore, the rate of which is being the lowest in British Columbia, the Municipality could not be expected to enter into a comparatively heavy outlay upon the keeping down of the weeds, and that an appeal had already been made to the residents to keep the road clear opposite their holdings. At present this is the best that can be done.

It is interesting to know that this rate of nine mills is only equalled by one other district and that is Fraser Mills, and that the highest rate is fifty-five mills in the districts and sixty-four in the cities. This is a point that should be borne in mind by intending purchasers of land in Glenmore Valley.

Attention was called to the condition of the plank on the bridge over the place where it is popularly supposed there will be a railway "some day," and the railway authorities will be notified. The discussion of several other matters concluded the meeting.

Mr. Price Scott arrived from Ontario on Saturday and intends to spend a few weeks in Glenmore.

It is understood that the delegates were instructed to give their support to the candidature of Mr. Grote Stirling.

"FLANAGAN'S FAIR" NETS SUBSTANTIAL SUM

"Flanagan's Fair," which was held in the City Park on Saturday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the members of the congregation of the Anglican Church, did not attract as many people as might have been expected. The attendance was sufficient, however, to make it a financial success, a substantial sum being realized for the general fund of the church. Refreshments were served during the afternoon in a tea garden and in the evening there was a buffet supper.

Apartment from a shooting gallery, ice cream booth and other side-shows, there was added attraction of music provided by members of the church choir and their friends, who sang and played on a scow anchored off the beach.

SOURCE OF MUCH BAD LIQUOR MAY BE TRACED

Government Liquor Store Employee In Vancouver Arrested On Charge Of Possession Of Seals

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18.—Counterfeit government liquor seals and bottle labels of well-known brands of liquor may be run to their source of manufacture as the result of investigation by detectives and special investigators of the Government Liquor Control Board, following the arrest of George Neilson, an employee of the Cordova Street Liquor Store, on a charge of having such seals in his possession, and of four Chinese, who were alleged to possess loose bottle seals. Practically every printing establishment in Vancouver was investigated yesterday and work will continue in an effort to get at the bottom of the fraud which has made possible the sale of what is termed "the very worst sort of bootleg booze" as the genuine article.

The authorities report the finding of a die for a label in the plant of the Crosby Printing Co., but have met only failure so far in the search for the plates on which the government seals were printed.

"A complete audit of all the liquor seals in the stores in Vancouver has failed to show any shortage in them," said George Miller, Chief Inspector for the Liquor Control Board, today, "but I am at a loss to account for the 360 seals secured in the Neilson case. We got 300 of them in Chinatown and another sixty at his home. I believe we have a case against him but that is a matter for the City Prosecutor to determine. We not only got the seals but the marked money with which he was paid for them by our operative. Unless the seals are counterfeited, there are but two sources from which they could be obtained. Those are the Government Printing Office, the warehouse here or the stores about town. Our check shows no shortage."

STOCK JUDGING PRIZES COME TO KELOWNA

Local Boys Do Well At New Westminster, Winning Medals And Cash Awards

The Junior Stock Judging Competitions have now become quite one of the leading features of the Provincial Fair held each year at New Westminster, and it is gratifying to know that those from this district who have entered these contests have always secured a high place at them.

The competitions are held under the direction of Mr. J. Gibson, Director of Elementary Agricultural Education for the Province, and Professor H. M. King, of the Animal Husbandry Department of the University of B.C. The field crops contests are conducted by the Agronomy Department of the University.

This year ten judging teams were entered, all from districts where agricultural instruction is given, including New Westminster, Langley, Surrey, Salmon Arm, Cranbrook, Grande Prairie, Summerland, Rutland, Kamloops and Kelowna.

There were two contests in live stock judging, one for individuals and one in which the boys and girls competed as district teams. A team was composed of three boys or girls, and the score was the total of all three. Live stock included heavy horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, two breeds in each class.

In the crop judging competitions oats, potatoes and miscels were judged for seed production, with five samples in each class. Points were given for placing and for giving reasons for each decision.

The Kelowna team consisted of Donald Loane, Gordon Meikle and Anthony Pooley, and in the individual stock judging contest Gordon Meikle won second place and Donald Loane the fourth. In the stock judging by teams Grande Prairie came first, New Westminster second and Kelowna third.

In individual crop judging, Donald Loane took third place, while in team work Langley took the first place, Surrey the second and Kelowna the third. For the highest individual score in judging horses, Donald Loane won the special prize awarded by Mr. A. McD. Paterson, M.L.A.

Each member of the Kelowna team will receive two bronze medals and besides that they have won substantial cash prizes, which is very gratifying, not only to themselves, but also to their instructor, Mr. J. E. Britton, B.S.S.A., Supervisor of Agricultural Instruction at the Kelowna and Rutland High Schools.

On the evening following the contests a banquet was given by the directors of the Fair at which the announcements and presentation of the awards took place and at which there was a programme of speeches and songs. Mr. R. H. Helmer, formerly Superintendent of the Experimental Station at Summerland, presented the prizes for crop judging and expressed great pleasure at being able to include among the winners a team from the Orchard City.

Prizes for stock judging were presented by Mr. E. H. Barton, of Chilliwack, Secretary of the Jersey Breeders' Association, who commented on the fact that two of the principal awards had been captured by the "Upper Country," while one had been secured by a New Westminster team. He said that he was pleased to see a prize going to Kelowna, which was not generally considered to be a live stock district.

This is the fourth year in which junior judging competitions have been conducted by the management of the New Westminster Fair, an excellent arrangement for the sake of free transportation and free accommodation for the visiting teams. Credit for the continued success of these contests is also due to Mr. J. W. Gibson, of the Department of Education, and the staff of the University of B.C.

It is now proposed to have this work extended so as to include poultry judging, and next year, there will also be special supervised accommodation in the Fair Grounds for all visiting teams and excursions will be arranged during which they will receive practical instruction.

LOCAL BOYS' SPLENDID SWIMMING PERFORMANCE

A correspondent writes: On Sept. 14th, a fine swimming performance was accomplished by two local lads, Ron Weeks and Evan Pirie. Accompanied by a boat, they swam to a point just above Siwash Point, on the west side of the lake. Not satisfied with this, Weeks, on touching bottom, turned and completed the full distance back to the Aquatic, the distance being computed to be about 2 1/2 miles. No rest was taken with back or breast stroke, an over-arm side-stroke being used for the full course. Pirie returned in the boat. It speaks well for the wonderful condition of the water at so late a date and for the stamina of our local youths, and should be an encouragement to those who provide such fine facilities as we have for swimming and bathing at the local Aquatic. It will be recalled that Weeks was second in the mile swim at the Kelowna Regatta last month.

Prior to the opening of the recent Imperial Jamboree of British Scouts at Wembley, the Overseas Scouts were inspected by His Majesty the King at Buckingham Palace on account of his inability to be present at the Jamboree. The following account of his inspection is taken from the August issue of "The Scouter":

"His Majesty shook hands with all the Scoutmasters, and talked with many of the individual Scouts, asking questions about their respective tries and about themselves. He talked specially to the little party of Cubs, and then took his place in the centre of the corridor to address the lads. His Majesty said:—

"I am very glad to have taken this opportunity of seeing you here today. I have been having a very busy time, but I could not bring myself to leave London without seeing you. I wish to congratulate you all on your smart appearance and your excellent discipline. I feel sure that your visit to England will be of very great interest to you and a happy recollection in after years. You will have a very busy time at Wembley, and I have no doubt that you will learn more from one week spent there than you could learn in school at home in the course of a whole year. I started to go round the world when I was only about the age of some of you. I was only 14, and I can assure you that my experiences have been of the utmost value to me. "Once a Boy Scout, always a Boy Scout." These words were used by Lord Kitchener on one occasion when he was inspecting Boy Scouts. I think you know what he meant, and what I mean—namely, that the promises you made when you joined the Boy Scouts you ought to keep for the rest of your lives. That will make you better citizens and a credit to the Empire to which we are all so proud to belong. I hope the great Jamboree will be the huge success that I feel sure it will be. I am sorry I shall not be able to be there to see you myself, but I understand that my son intends to spend a day or two with you. I now wish you the best of luck, a safe return to your homes, and happy recollections of your visit to this country."

"At the call of their Leader, the Scouts raised their hats on the points of their staves and gave three ringing cheers for His Majesty. The Chief Scout said a few words in acknowledgment, thanking the King for his kindness and offering to him the humble duty of the Scouts present and of the movement which they represented.

"A party of Japanese Scouts was drawn up near the exit. The whole parade was one of Empire Scouts, but the Japanese had been invited as visitors to witness the ceremony, and the King, on his way out, made a point of greeting and talking with them."

The Nicola Pine Mills, Ltd., of Merritt, have received large orders for apple boxes from Ontario. They will be used principally to handle the crop in the Georgian Bay district.

LONDON LIFE'S JUBILEE YEAR

Non-Profit Industrial Policies Nearly Doubled By Dividends

The "Canadian Insurance and Office and Field," Canada's leading general insurance paper, says:

"Eleven years ago, this paper pointed out that the London Life Insurance Company was one of the best life insurance companies in the world. We had examined its statistics and learned how carefully and economically it had been managed since its start in 1874, and we were probably the first newspaper to appreciate its qualities. Our judgment has since been overwhelmingly sustained. It is safe to say now that while there are many bigger companies than the London Life, there are none better from the policyholders' point of view. Anyone can see this from the dividends now paid to policyholders. Here is one example—an industrial policy issued in 1902 at a premium of 5 cents per week. The original policy was $125 and it was taken on the understanding that it was not entitled to share in profits. Nevertheless, today the policy is $219, the difference of $94, or nearly 80 per cent, being due to dividends quite unexpected by or promised to the assured."

"Here is another case. A policy of $5,000 was issued three years ago to a man aged 31 at an annual premium of $94.25. This is a very low premium for a policy sharing in the profits. Other companies would charge around $124.25 for the same policy, so that it was $30 cheaper to start with. Yet there has been a cash dividend allotted each year which reduced the premium payments of the assured from $94.25 to $90.10 for the second year, and to $89.70 for the third year. So that even in the earliest years of this remarkably cheap policy the cash profit is substantial.

"Why is the London Life able to do these things? The answer is simple. It is because it has been so carefully managed for its whole 50 years of existence. It has never lost on investments, nor spent extravagantly in trying to develop at too great a pace. The mortality of its policyholders is well below the average; the interest it earns on its assets is well above the average; and its expenses have always been moderate. Consequently it has an enormous surplus compared to its liabilities, and it can boast that its dividends to policyholders are in many cases double what the policyholders were originally led to expect. No other company has an equal record.

"We have said enough to show the quality of the London Life policies. Otherwise, suffice it to say that the company had an excellent year's trading in 1923; wrote $44,000,000 of new business or five times what it wrote eleven years ago; has business in force amounting to $151,000,000, and assets of $23,074,000. This year is its Jubilee, and its fiftieth year probably marks the beginning of a period of expansion in which its merits are certain to develop it into one of the very greatest institutions of the country."

The Comox Logging and Railway Company has agreed to pay the settlers at Merrville the sum of $102,000 as compensation for losses occasioned by the bush fire which destroyed the settlers' homes and which originated on the company's timber limits.

WESTBANK

Mrs. Pritchard and daughter left on Monday for a visit to Saskatoon. Mrs. Pritchard's mother, Mrs. Atcheson, went with them as far as Sicamous.

Mr. Arthur Gellatly and family have moved into the Excell house for the winter. Mr. Gellatly left on Sunday for a job in the Glenmore packing house.

Mr. Wells and his son Harvey have gone to East Kelowna to work in the packing house.

The Macs in the co-operative house here are nearly finished. Some of the growers have started picking Jonathans and Winter Bananas but the packers are still idle part of their time. It looks as if there would be no rush this year at all.

A picnic was held at the lake on Saturday by the school children. A few of the grown-ups were there also. After a swim lunch was spread on the shore. Games were played until dark. A great many of the children are getting to be expert swimmers.

A party of about eight enjoyed a swim in the moonlight on Monday evening and afterwards had lunch and games around a bonfire on the shore.

Mr. Ralph Jones, who has been for the last three weeks in the Bank of Commerce in Kelowna, has been moved to Keremeos. We are sorry to see him go so far, but are sure Ralph's pleasant smile will win him friends wherever he goes, and here's wishing him every success.

As the shooting season opened on Monday, the boys and men have been making early trips to the lakes around here. Some of them have been successful.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

Miss E. Frances Mara, Deputy Provincial Commissioner of the Canadian Girl Guides, was an arrival by the "Sicamous" on Wednesday, Sept. 10th. While in the city she was entertained by Mrs. J. N. Thompson, District Commissioner.

The Local Association met in her honour at the home of Mrs. McCarthy, on Wednesday evening.

Miss Mara expects to spend the winter in England and was organizing in Mara, Cranbrook and Fernie on her way East. The interior is of peculiar interest to Miss Mara, having spent her childhood days in its valleys and among its hills. The town of Mara was called after her father and the main street of Vernon is named for her grandfather.

RUTLAND

Mr. Ben Hardie, our local store-keeper, has made a marked improvement in his premises by installing electric lighting. Many residents hoped at one time that in some way Rutland could tap the power of the town of Kelowna, but this proved to be too costly a proposition and was thus out of the question. Nevertheless, Mr. Hardie was determined to have electric light, so he had a Delco system installed by Mr. J. Trenwith, of Kelowna. The results have fully justified the considerable expense involved, for he now has every modern convenience in his store and home, the blaze of electric illumination being seen from 'way up on the Belgo and giving the "corner grocery" less of a countryified air than it had before. No, we are not getting anything for this tribute to enterprise!

The Women's Institute held their monthly meeting last Wednesday in the Methodist Church. The chief item of the proceedings was an interesting and practical demonstration on millinery. The hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Jensen, Miller and Moyer.

Mr. Arthur Cross and his assistant, Mr. Howes, had a somewhat exciting experience with the corn cutter belonging to the former last Thursday. They were filling the silo at Mr. Cross's farm when the ledger plate of the machine, which had become weakened by the loss of a bolt, came apart and fell among the knives. And then things happened! Among the many little incidents which cropped up was the falling of the pipe close to Mr. Cross's head. Nothing could be done to stop the damage and when things cooled down, Mr. Cross is surprised that no further damage was done and considers that he and Mr. Howes came off well not to be injured in any way.

A splendidly equipped public hospital was opened last week at Quesnel. It was erected and equipped entirely through community effort.

NEW MAP ISSUED OF SOUTHERN B.C.

A very interesting map of Southern British Columbia, covering from latitude 51 to the International Boundary and including the Dominion Railway Belt, has just been issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. In the Railway Belt area the disposition of land is shown; also the Timber Berths and Grazing Leases granted, while Forest Reserves, National Parks and Indian Reserves are indicated clearly. A further striking feature of the map is the showing, by means of red colouring, of data regarding the natural resources of each locality, thus affording a bird's-eye view of the principal industries of each district. A copy may be obtained free of charge on application to the Director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

VOTE FOR NEW FIRE HALL
On Tuesday next, September 23rd, in the Council Chamber, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m., a vote of the ratepayers will be taken upon a By-Law to raise $17,000 by way of debentures in order to erect a new Fire Hall. Elsewhere in this issue will be found a statement in explanation of the proposal, prepared by the Fire Brigade, which covers quite fully the principal arguments in favour of it, and in endorsing and supplementing it to enlarge upon its details would be a work of supererogation. But, with characteristic modesty, the Brigade have said little of their own achievements, and it may be pointed out that the vote on Tuesday will afford the ratepayers an opportunity to express their opinion of the Brigade by means of what will be practically a vote of confidence and a vote of thanks.

As will be seen by reference to the "Twenty Years Ago" column in this issue, there was a Fire Brigade of a sort even in those far-off days, but the Brigade of today, with its finely developed organization and strict discipline, dates from 1909. Fifteen years of loyal and unselfish service to the city, without desire or thought of fee or reward,
in itself is a splendid record, crowned with work of the utmost value in saving property from destruction. Time and again dangerous outbreaks that threatened to turn into a general conflagration have been fought and subdued by the dogged courage and tenacity and the fire-fighting skill of these volunteers, and their recompense has been but a sense of duty voluntarily undertaken and well done.

What would it have cost the City of Kelowna to have maintained a paid
Fire Brigade through all those years?
The Brigade numbers twenty efficient, trained members. If they were paid, one year's wages would more than equal the $17,000 required for erection of the new Fire Hall. But this is looking only at a small phase of the question. What is the total value of the property saved from fire by the work of the Brigade during the past fifteen years? It cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, but it is certain that, compared to it, the cost of the new building will be but a bagatelle.
Yet, during all those years, the members of the Brigade have put up with most inadequate quarters in a ramshackle frame building, in itself a dangerous fire hazard. Lately, it has housed fire apparatus of at least twenty times its value, and its destruction
by a sudden blaze might do costly damage which would leave the city without protection for a considerable time until building and equipment could be replaced.

A few critics may think that the Brigade are actuated only by selfish motives and that they desire to put the city to the expense of erecting what will principally be a club house for themselves, but the past history of the Brigade should in itself be sufficient answer to such opposition. Their requests to the Council for any expenditures in connection with fire protection have ever had a single eye towards obtaining the most efficient appliances that could be secured, and in asking for the new Fire Hall they are not thinking so much of their own comfort and convenience—although their services amply justify them in doing so—as that, by the provision of practically fire-proof housing for the valuable motor trucks, hose, reels and other fire-fighting equipment, the risk of Kelowna being left without defence against the fire fiend will be reduced to a minimum, while provision for sleeping quarters for six men will allow a standard of efficiency equal to that of a paid Brigade in quick response to night alarms.

The Brigade have rendered invaluable service for the past fifteen years.
Surely the ratepayers cannot pass a vote of censure upon them instead of accordng a vote of thanks on September 23rd.
Vote for the new Fire Hall, and so express your thanks!

A COSMOPOLITE
IN A CAFE

By O. HENRY
Copyright by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

At midnight the cafe was crowded.
By some chance the little table at which I sat had escaped the eye of incomers, and two vacant chairs at it extended their arms with vernal hospitality to the influx of patrons.
And then a cosmopolite sat in one of them, and I was glad, for I held a theory that since Adam no true citizen of the world has existed. We hear of them, and we see foreign labels on much luggage, but we find travellers
instead of cosmopolites.
I invoke your consideration of the scene—the marble-topped tables, the range of leather-upholstered wall seats, the gay company, the ladies dressed in domi-state silks, spicing in an exclusive visible chorus of taste, economy, opulence or art; the sedulous and largess-loving garçons, the music wisely catering to all with its raids upon the composers; the melange of talk and laughter—and, if you will, the Wurzburger in the tall glass cones that bend to your lips as a ripe cherry sways on its branch to the beak of a robber jay. I was told by a scotchman from Manch Chunk that the scene was truly Parisian.

My cosmopolite was named E. Rush-more Coglan, and he will be heard from next summer at Coney Island.
He is to establish a new "attraction"
there, he informed me, offering kingly diversion. And then his conversation ran along parallel to latitude and longitude. He took the great, round world in his hand, so to speak; familiarly, contemptuously, and it seemed no larger than the seed of a Maraschino cherry in a table d'hote grape fruit. He spoke disrespectfully of the continent, he derided the zones, he nattered up the high seas with his nappekin. With a wave of his hand he would speak of a certain bazaar in Hyderabad. Whiff! He would have you on skis in Lapland. Zip! Now you rode the breakers with the Kanakas at Keal-akahi. Presto! He dragged you through an Arkansas post-oak swamp, let you dry for a moment on the alkali plains of his Idaho ranch, then whirled you into the society of Vienna arch-dukes. Anon he would be telling you of a cold he acquired in a Chicago lake breeze and how old Escamilla cured it in Buenos Ayres with a hot infusion of the chuchula weed. You would have address a letter to "E. Rush-more Coglan, Esq., the Earth, Solar System, the Universe," and mail it, feeling confident that it would be delivered to him.

I was sure that I had found at last
the one true cosmopolite since Adam,
and I listened to his world-wide discourse fearful lest I should discover in it the local note of the mere globetrotter. But his opinions never fluttered or dropped; he was as impartial of cities, countries and continents as the wind of the world.
And as E. Rushmore Coglan prattled of this little planet I thought with glee of a great almost-cosmopolite who wrote for the whole world and dedicated himself to Bombay. In a poem he has to say that there is pride and rivalry "between the cities of the earth, and that "the men that breed from them, the traders of Vienna, but cling to their cities' hem as a child to the mother's gown." And whenever they walk "by roaring streets unknown" they remember their native city "most faithful, foolish, fond; making her mere-breathed name their bond upon their bond." And my glee was roused because I had caught Mr.
Kipling napping. Here I had found a man not made up of words, one who no narrow boasts of birthplace or country, one who, if he bragged at all,
would brag of his whole round globe
against the Martians and the inhabitants of the Moon.

Expression on these subjects was precipitated from E. Rushmore Coglan by the third corner of our table. While Coglan was describing to me the topography along the Siberian Railway the orchestra glided into a medley. The concluding air was "Dixie," and as the exhilarating notes tumbled forth they were almost overpowered by a great clapping of hands from almost every table.

It is worth a paragraph to say that this remarkable scene could be witnessed every evening in numerous cafes in the City of New York. Tons of brew have been consumed over theories to account for it. Some have conjectured hastily that all Southerners in town tie themselves to cafes at nightfall. This applause of the "rebel" air in a Northern city does puzzle a little; but it is not insoluble. The war with Spain, many years' generous mint and watermelon crops, a few long-shot winners at the New Orleans race track, and the brilliant banquets given to the Indiana and Kansas citizens who compose the North Carolina Society have made the South rather a "fad" in Manhattan.
Your manure will hiss softly that you let forger reminds her so much of a gentleman's in Richmond, Va. Oh, certainly; but many a lady has to work now—the war, you know.
When "Dixie" was being played a dark-haired young man sprang up from somewhere with a Mosby guerrilla yell
and waved frantically his soft-brimmed hat. Then he strayed through the smoke, dropped into the vacant chair
at our table and pulled out cigarettes.
The evening was at the period when reserve is thawed. One of us mentioned three Wurzburgers to the waiter; the dark-haired young man acknowledged his inclusion in the order by a smile and a nod. I hastened to ask him a question because I wanted to try a theory I had.
"Would you mind telling me," I began, "whether you are from—"
The fist of E. Rushmore Coglan hanged, the table and I was jarred into silence.
"Excuse me," said he, "but that's a question I never like to hear asked."

Hobson and family, of Okanagan Mission, returned on Thursday by car from Comox, where they were visiting friends. The regular monthly child welfare clinic was held in the Scottish Hall on Tuesday afternoon, when twenty babies were examined by Dr. H. L. Bryce. Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., is still in the North Okanagan, where he is taking a prominent part in the election campaign now being held in that Riding. It will be of interest to many that Mr. C. Bianchi, who was a resident here some three years ago, is making a name for himself in musical circles in Vancouver. Miss Winifred Harvey returned home on Monday on a vacation from the Vancouver General Hospital where she is undergoing a course of training for the nursing profession. We are glad to be able to state that the condition of Bobby Knox, who was injured in the head yesterday when playing at the swings at the Public School, is improving. A number of local sportsmen are going to Oliver this week to shoot pheasants, this being allowed in that section on account of the damage the birds have done to crops. Superintendent D. B. Brankin, of the Boys' Industrial School, Port Coquitlam, who is also Provincial Superintendent of Neglected Children, is a visitor to the city and is staying at the Palace. The Ven. Archdeacon Greene left yesterday for London, Ont., where he will attend the general synod of the Anglican Church in Canada. He expects to be away from home about three weeks. Mr. G. W. Weeden had the misfortune to get his leg injured severely while cranking up his car on Friday. He was taken to the Hospital where his wound was attended to and is now able to get around again. Mrs. Grote Stirling and daughters, who are on their way to the Coast, motored down to Penticton this afternoon with Mr. Grote Stirling, who is attending the Conservative convention being held there this evening. Mrs. D. H. Learn and family, of Riverton, Wash., who were staying with Mr. and Mrs. E. Weddell, left this morning for home. They were accompanied by Miss V. Weddell, who will make a stay of several months at

Mr. R. A. Copeland, of Lumby, is spending a few days in town. He reports that there is no evidence as yet of commencement of work on the Lumby branch of the C.N.R., and that nothing can be ascertained as to when it will begin. Mr. F. H. Hill left on Sunday for Sicamous, where he caught the train for Toronto. During his absence on a short holiday he is being relieved by Mr. S. McMahon, the relieving officer of the Dominion Express Company for this district. There is considerable discontent expressed locally in the Provincial Game Conservation Board has allowed prairie chicken to be shot in this district this season, as these birds are very nearly extinct in this section of the Okanagan. Mr. C. W. Frazee, Supervisor in B. C. for the Royal Bank of Canada, spent last Friday and Saturday here on his annual trip through the Okanagan and Kootenay districts, journeying on to Penticton and southern points on Saturday evening. Among guests staying at the Lakeview are: Mr. and Mrs. R. Ballagh, of Chilliwack; Mr. L. S. Arner, of Kingsville, Ont.; Mr. F. E. Loveday, of Penticton; and Mr. B. McMahon, of Revelstoke. Last Thursday evening, the members of the choir of the United Church and their friends arranged a corn roast which was held at Manhattan Beach and at which the new choir master, Mr. W. Moncrieff Mawer, was the guest of honour. Songs were sung and a pleasant time was had by all. Harvesting and handling the fruit crop so fully occupies the time of many people, necessitating hard work and long hours, that it has been deemed wise by the Executive Council of the Board of Trade to dispense with the regular meeting this month, and an advertisement to that effect appears in our Announcements column. Mrs. W. B. M. Calder returned on Friday from Kamloops, where she attended the B. C. School Trustees' Convention, held there on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. She reports that this was a very successful gathering, at which sixty-seven delegates from all points of the province were present and that some highly important resolutions were passed at it. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mandel, of Seattle, arrived in the city on Tuesday, having made the trip from Seattle to here by car in one day and six hours. They are very delighted with Kelowna and district but are obliged to leave for home again on Saturday next, when they will take with them their two sons who are spending their vacation here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Middleton. It will be noticed from the special prize list of the Kelowna Fall Fair, which appears in another column, that a number of prizes will be given this year which hitherto have not been offered. This year's Fair will have special attractions also. It will wind up with the usual dance on Thursday evening, music for which will be provided by the Len Davis Orchestra, consisting of five instruments. The Kelowna Growers' Exchange is still busy shipping McIntosh apples, but it is expected that the shipments of that variety will be over by the end of this week. All departments are exceptionally busy at the present time. Exports to Australia and New Zealand, which began this week, are being got together at the Duggan & Davies building. They consist of McIntosh and Jonathan apples and onions. Mr. Robert Bone, Manager in Vancouver for the Montreal Trust Company, who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Gordon, returned on Sunday to Vancouver. Mr. Bone, who was formerly secretary of the British North American Tobacco Company, will be remembered by many who live here. He is a very prominent golfer, having won the provincial championship and several Coast championships since living in the Okanagan. The Kelowna Hospital very urgently requires fruit and vegetables, as hardly any donations of these have been received this season and, unless friends come forward with supplies, it will be necessary to purchase. This entails a large outlay to the Hospital, whereas a few boxes of fruit and vegetables, which would not mean very much to the individual donor but would be a kindly act of considerable value and benefit to the local institution. The Occidental Fruit Company is now employing over one hundred and fifty men here counting in the office staff. This firm is making heavy shipments of onions and apples to prairie points at the present time, besides exporting apples to the United Kingdom and New Zealand. Shipments of the Antipodes began last week and are being steadily continued. These are forwarded by the steamer leaving Vancouver at the end of this month. After a very prolonged period of summer the weather has taken on decidedly the character of fall within the past few days. Forest fires had again begun to assert themselves and a heavy pall of smoke gathered over the valley on Tuesday, to be dispelled largely, however, by a heavy rain which fell on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and brought about a marked drop in the temperature, the crest of the mountain ranges showing a powdering of snow. A real rush of work has at last struck the industrial district and at every warehouse, packing house, shipping house and cannery stacks of produce are being piled up. The Dominion cannery work was carried on on Sunday and since then overtime work has been the rule. At the Occidental cannery also Sunday work and overtime work has been a necessity. So far, though the tomatoes are coming in in large quantities, there has been no "jazz" such as occurred last season. The tomatoes are of much better quality than last year. In some of the fruit and vegetable shipping houses also work had to be carried on on Sunday in order to cope with the quantity of produce which had to be handled.

On Friday, Provincial Constable Pentecost arrested Edward McDougall on a charge of having supplied liquor to Pierre Simpson, an Indian, who died on July 31st and whose death was the subject of an inquest held on August 1st. McDougall was tried in the Provincial Police Court the same afternoon, was found guilty of the charge laid against him, and was sentenced by Magistrate E. Weddell to pay a fine of $50 and costs, with the alternative of two months' imprisonment. In addition, his licence to buy liquor at the Government Liquor Store was cancelled. The fine not being paid, he was taken to Kamloops Gaol to serve his term. At a largely attended convention, held at Vernon last Thursday, Mr. Arthur O. Cochrane was nominated as Conservative candidate to contest North Okanagan against Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, newly appointed Provincial Secretary. The occasion was signalized by the appearance in support of Mr. Cochrane of all the three candidates who opposed Dr. MacDonald at the provincial general election on June 20th last. The nomination was made by Mr. Price Ellison, who stood as an Independent Conservative, seconded by Mr. R. J. Coltart, who ran as a Provincial candidate, and was supported by Mr. A. T. Howe, who was the regular Conservative nominee. Polling takes place on Wednesday next, September 24th.

Mr. John Thompson, who was fifty-nine years and seven months of age at the time of his demise, was a native of Ontario and had lived the greater part of his life in Lanark County in that province, where he was engaged in lumbering. He came to B.C. in 1912 and during the Great War enlisted in the 172nd Battalion, C.E.F., but, owing to disabilities, was unable to serve overseas. Recently he had suffered from ill health and the immediate cause of his death was pneumonia. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, his son, Mr. Clarence Boyd Thompson, of Vancouver, who served with the 172nd Battalion overseas and also saw active service with the 72nd Battalion during which he lost a leg, and his daughters, Mrs. F. Neill and Miss Bessie Thompson, both of whom reside in California, Mrs. C. B. Calder, of North Vancouver, and Miss Bertha Thompson, of Vancouver. The latter ladies and Mr. C. B. Thompson arrived in the City in time to be present at the obsequies. The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. J. A. Dow on Saturday morning was attended by many friends of the deceased and his family and was held at the undertaking parlors of the Kelowna Furniture Company, interment being at the Kelowna Cemetery.

Cheeriness pays. We all admit that I saw the above few lines, as I lay in hospital last week, and thought how applicable they were to "George—or Andy—or Mr. Anderson"—whichever name you know him by. Anyway, what I wanted to say was this—that we have now—in this store—a combination which can't be beaten for service. We are all set to give you the best that is in us. All right—LET'S GO!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AN APPRECIATION BY AN ENGLISH VISITOR

Lone Pine Ranch, Rutland, B.C., Sept. 13, 1924.

To the Editor, Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
Four years ago I was on a trip from England to Victoria, B.C., and paid a visit to the Okanagan Valley.

The beauty of the district and the hearty welcome of my friends, Mr. and Mrs. Schofield and others, so impressed me, that on my return home I was never tired of speaking of this delightful place. So much so that I made up my mind to come again and here I am, once more in the midst of the most wonderful fruit growing centre it has been my lot to see.

The broad valleys sheltered by the surrounding hills, the shady creeks and the glorious lakes make a beauty indescribable, and as we muse on the scene I am lost for words suitable for the feeling that comes over me, and I repeat to myself the words of the writer who said:
"It's the great, big broad land way up yonder;
"It's the forests, where silence has lease;

COULD NOT WIRE TO KELOWNA VIA GOV. LINE

614 Alexandra Apts., Vancouver, B. C. 15th Sept., 1924.
To the Editor, Kelowna Courier.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Clarion")

September 15, 1904

"A public meeting will be held in Raymer's Hall at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, to appoint officers and organize a fire brigade. All interested will be expected to attend."

"The fire engine arrived by boat from Vernon on Friday. The town will now be able to do more effective work in case of fire."

"The carpenters are engaged at the front and inside work of Lequire Bros.' new store. The fine plate glass windows have been put in place, and altogether it presents a handsome appearance."

"Stirling & Piteairn are sending out six carloads of fruit this week. It consists of various kinds, and is destined to Calgary and other parts of the North-West. Lawson, Rowcliffe & Co. and the Farmers' Exchange have also shipped a large amount."

"Dr. Tolmie, of Victoria, who is interested in fruit growing, arrived yesterday for the Exhibition."

"The Kelowna Fall Show will be well patronized by outsiders. A large number came in from Vernon and other points up the line on Wednesday, and many more are expected from Summerland, Peachland and other places down the lake this morning. The local sail boats have been out practising most of the time for the past week. The weather has been favourable and promises to continue so. A large number of sail boats are expected to arrive this morning from Okanagan Landing and various other places along the lake. Although the horse races do not begin until tomorrow, a number of fast horses are already here. Vance Young came in from Armstrong with one yesterday, and a number more came over the trail from Pentiction."

"Part of three carloads of water pipe came in by Wednesday's boat for the Kelowna Land & Orchard Co. It is to be used by the Company in conveying water from Canyon Creek to their bench lands about three miles from Kelowna. This land is already supplied with water for irrigation and that which is to be conveyed through the pipe will be for domestic use. This bench property is now selling at $75.00 per acre. The company are sparing no pains to put their land on the market in the best possible shape and are spending large sums of money for that purpose."

"Eight boxes of choice fruit were expressed to Chiswick, England, on Tuesday from Kelowna. They are to be exhibited at the Royal Horticultural Society's Exhibition, which is the great flower and fruit show of England and is generally opened by one of the members of the Royal Family. The exhibit consists of eight boxes of apples and pears, and was packed and shipped by Stirling & Piteairn at the request of R. M. Palmer. The following is a list of the samples sent: Of apples, 6. Warner's King, 24 Wolf River, 18 Canada Red, 18 King of Tomkins, 20 Ontario, 16 Jonathan, 20 Ribston Pippin, 16 Northern Spy, 24 Snow, 17 Belle de Boskoop, 14 Baldwin, 12 St. Lawrence, 14 Greening, 24 Golden Russet, 16 Alexander, 20 Blenheim Orange, 15 Wealthy, 14 Wagner, 12 McIntosh Red. The pears sent were: 17 Beurre Clairgeau, 24 Easter Beurre, 18 Beurre d'Anjou and 12 Howell. The fruit was well wrapped and packed, and will doubtless reach its destination in good condition, where it will do justice to the place where it was grown. As yet a sufficient market exists in the North-West for all the fruit that can be grown here, but the time may come when it will be necessary to look abroad. In England an extensive market exists, particularly for the table varieties of fruits, and the price is not a matter of consideration."

An editorial once more takes up the cudgels on behalf of the feasibility of growing peaches in the Kelowna district.

Dear Sir,
It may interest the people of Kelowna to know that Kelowna is not yet on the map as far as the Government Telegraph is concerned.

A few days ago I wanted to send a wire to one of the employees in the Government Telegraph Office in Kelowna, so naturally got in touch with the Government office here but although after some trouble, they admitted there was a Government office in Kelowna, they said they couldn't send a wire for me, so I tried the C.P.R. with the same result. But the C.P.R. said they could deliver it to the Government Telegraph Office in Kelowna.

Is it any wonder that some of us are doubtful about nationalization of public utilities?

The weather so far has been splendid; people still bathing at English Bay. Kelowna Wealthies are selling at 50c per dozen, not only in the "swankie" shops.

Yours truly,
H. B. D. LYONS.

tract. It states: "From whatever cause, the delusion exists in the minds of some who have never visited Kelowna and the Okanagan Mission that peaches cannot be successfully grown here. Whoever is responsible for this gross misrepresentation does not concern us, but we will give the names of a few on whose farms peaches have been successfully grown for years: A. McLennan, T. W. Stirling, John Conlin, Lequire Bros. and the Guisachan ranch. Any one writing to any of the above on the subject will doubtless receive a corroboration of our statements. More peaches have been grown and shipped from Kelowna than from any other point in the province, and the only reason why the farmers do not go extensively into that branch of horticulture is the unsatisfactory shipping facilities for soft fruits at their disposal. Apples find a ready market and reach their destination in good condition, therefore more apples are grown. Those who attend the exhibition here which opens today will see sufficient to remove any doubts existing in their minds."

The advertisement of the Kelowna Farmers' Exchange in this issue shows that co-operative marketing organizations twenty years ago carried on some branches of trading not practised in these days of specialization. It states: "We will pay the highest market price for wheat after this date. Five good cows for sale on very reasonable terms. Want to buy a good gentle driving pony. Fir fence posts and piling. Plums, potatoes, cabbage at highest market prices for cash."

MONKS AND ALE

How Brewing was Carried On In Monasteries

(Contributed)
The regulations of the religious houses nearly always make reference to ale, and it may be inferred from the evidence we possess that the holy fathers, who were always strong sticklers for the rights and privileges of their order, would brook no interference either with the quantity or quality of their liquor. In the Institutes of the Abbey of Evesham, drawn up by Abbot Randolph about the year 1223, the directions as to the diet of the inmates of the abbey are to great peculiarity. The Prior is to have one measure of ale at supper (except when he shall sup with the Abbot). Each of the fraternity shall each day receive two measures of ale, each of which shall contain two pints, of which pints six make up a "sextarium regis". In the same rules it is laid down that monks are to have "two sines of beans throughout niburne to make puddings throughout all Lent". Further, we find: "On every day every two brethren shall have a measure of ale from the cellar, but after being let blood, they shall have one for dinner and one for supper". The servant who shall let the monks' blood shall have bread and ale from the cellar, "if he have blooded more than once".

As every one knows, the monks of old were famous for their home brewed ales, and the brewer and cellarer, in a fish warden, or in the less distinguished religious houses were officials of considerable importance. The office of cellarer was one held in especial esteem. In the Priory of St. Swithin at Winchester, special prayers were offered up for this functionary. Such a person is depicted in the old monastic sketches in monastic garments tasting a basin of ale freshly drawn from a cask, and with it an interrogation beneath reading, "Is it in condition?"

Some curious entries relating to home brew are to be found in the registry of the Priory of Worcester, A.D. 1240. At each brewing "VIII" cronn de growe ad X quarteria de meis" were used, which probably signifies eight crons or four quarters of growte (here meaning ground malt) and ten quarters of mixed barley and oat malt. The beer was of three different kinds, prima or melior, secunda, and tertia. The cellarer was to have one measure of prime and one of second; the servant of the church was to have the wolly water bucket full of "mista", i.e. part prime and part second. Ale seems to have been the chief drink, and even the invalid about to undergo a course of physicking was allowed his measure of ale. Sometimes the records tell sad tales of the poor monks being robbed of their beer by reason of the malt failing. This misfortune is recorded in the annals of Dunstable as having happened in 1262. The annalist ruefully mentions that "in this year, about the feast of St. John the Baptist, our ale failed."

district, but it was just as necessary, if not more so, that there be a fish warden for this section of country. The association had induced the Dominion Government to stock a number of local lakes and streams, but unless illegal and wasteful fishing were prevented the money thus expended would be thrown away.

Messrs. A. K. Stuart, J. C. Taylor and J. C. Clarence also spoke regarding matters connected with fish preservation, the latter pointing out that it would be quite useless to stock Wood's Lake until such time as the numbers of squaw fish in that sheet of water had been greatly lessened, and Mr. Taylor, who spoke at considerable length, explaining that, in order to encourage tourist travel through the Okanagan, it would be necessary to greatly improve the fishing to be had in the district.

The chairman, in a very straightforward address, thanked the members of the Game Protective Association for coming to the meeting and stated that, although the farmers in his section of the valley were fully willing to back up the association in its efforts to protect and improve the fishing in the district, they held an entirely different opinion as to the usefulness of pheasants and partridge. These birds were not natives of the province and had done a great deal of harm to the crops this season. Yet farmers, who had to feed them, were not allowed to kill them without securing special permission from the police, which was not an easy matter. In his opinion, neither pheasants nor partridge were of the slightest value to farmers, though they might be to city people who had time to shoot them in the open season, a period when the farmer was occupied from early morning to dewy eve.

Other speakers backed up the chairman's remarks, one going as far as to assert that pheasants, if not shot off soon, would eventually become as great a pest to cultivators in the Okanagan as rabbits had become in Australia.

A friendly discussion followed, in which the members of the Game Protective Association pointed out that when pheasants were first introduced into the Okanagan no one ever expected that they would do the amount of damage they have done this year, and that the association had tried to secure from the Game Conservation Board permission to shoot the large numbers of hen birds which are altogether quite out of proportion to the cocks, also that if farmers would secure permission to shoot birds doing damage to their crops, and had not time to use their guns, the members of the association would be only too willing to do their shooting for them. The fact was also brought out that want of proper game protection was the cause of there being so many pheasants, a bird it would not have been necessary to import if the native grouse had been preserved.

The chairman, in closing the discussion, thanked the visitors for their attendance at the meeting, stating that undoubtedly this would result in a better feeling which should lead to co-operation in matters in which both were interested. To this Mr. Cushing made a suitable reply, stating that the association would only be too willing to co-operate with the farmers and that if the latter would only organize themselves into protective game associations, it would relieve other classes of the community of the task of seeing that wild life in this province was not destroyed.

After a short debate, the following resolutions were passed by the members of the Winfield Farmers' Institute:

- "That this Institute strongly endorses the efforts of the Kelowna Fish and Game Protective Association to procure (a) the appointment of a fish warden, with sub-wardens, for this district, and (b) the establishment of a fish hatchery on Okanagan Lake."
- "That the Directors of the Winfield Institute be authorized to endorse at their discretion any action of the Kelowna Fish and Game Protective Association looking to the increase of the stock of game fish in the lakes and streams of this district and to the conservation of game birds consistent with due consideration for the economic welfare of the farmers."

"The Man Who Fights Alone" Is A Big Picture In All Respects

William Farnum's first starring production for Paramount, "The Man Who Fights Alone," directed by Wallace Worsley, will be shown at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 22 and 23. It is a big picture in every sense of the term—stirring, cast, star, all topnotch.

There's not a doubt but that William Farnum is the most popular western star in motion pictures today. In this production, a screen adaptation of the kind of story which has been made into a big cast which includes, among other notable names, Lionel Belmore, Dawn O'Day and George Irving. The story has to do with a civil engineer and his band of empire builders—a sort of advance guard of civilization which is preparing the great western vastness for the endless tide of humanity which is to follow. It's a story of a strong man's fight against great obstacles—both physical and mental, the kind of story with which Farnum's name has become associated—a tale of the great outdoors, a real man's story, with a delightful love theme running throughout—a romantic story of love and sacrifice that will restore your faith in motion pictures as a medium of both instruction and entertainment.

Comedy? Lots of it to relieve the strain of the heavier scenes. Action? Thrills? This is the greatest Farnum picture of them all, and you know what that means. The experimental dehydration plant which has been operated this season at Pentiction has turned out excellent samples of evaporated peaches, pears, crab apples, prunes and apples and these have been distributed in thirty different cities in the Dominion, by officials of the federal Department of Agriculture.

In spite of the fact that many portions of the Canadian Northwest are harvesting light crops this year, the Peace River district has the finest crops of grain ever garnered in that region. Hundreds of settlers there, however, are still leaving the district, it being impossible to market their crops at profitable prices on account of the lack of transportation facilities. Experiments of growing sugar beets on a large scale are to be made next year in the Armstrong district. The intention is to start a sugar factory at that point if the land in that section proves suitable for growing sugar beets commercially.

THE PRAIRIE FRUIT MARKET BULLETIN

Current Prices And Market Conditions

(From the weekly Bulletin issued by J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, Calgary.)

Calgary, September 13, 1924. The Week In Calgary

The weather this week has been fair, but decidedly cool. Harvest yield is running higher than expectation, fruit business is good but a tendency to oversupply small country towns is noticed.

Four cars of prunes from Washington arrived here last week, one of which was condemned in Vancouver, B.C., routed to Calgary and sold here. They broke the market, none of them showed the class of No. 1 quality.

Several cars from B.C. were sold at a reduced price on this account.

We find a rather crude method of making a claim for inferior quality of imported fruit in practice here. The buyers tried to secure a Customs rebate for condition of arrival and a Government certificate as to quality.

We understand that Customs rebates are not given on inferior quality of fruit, but only for transitory deterioration.

This is another case of overlapping authority. In our opinion all matters affecting fruit should be advised by the Fruit Branch.

Some 370 boxes of Bartlett pears arrived from Arrow Lakes Thursday showing a decidedly yellow appearance.

If shipped two weeks earlier they would have been in excellent shape, as it is they must be cleaned up this week-end in Calgary.

We are informed by the buyer of the car, that he bought them for country trade and must disappoint his customers. Beyond being too ripe for country shipment the pears were good.

Calgary Car Arrivals, Sept. 4th to 11th

B.C.: 11 mixed fruit and vegetables; 6 mixed fruit; 3 mixed vegetables; 1 mixed apples and pears; 3 apples; Washington: 2 peaches; 1 mixed fruits. Calif.: 1 grapes.

Medicine Hat, Sept. 10.—The preserving season finishes this week. Peaches are entirely off the market and finished at extremely low prices on account of condition.

Prunes are practically cleaned up also and the movement is very sluggish.

A large percentage of the consumers have gone without both fruits this year and, although repeatedly advised that the season was practically over, they do not appear in any rush to secure supplies.

The apples have not yet started to move in quantities and business generally is stagnant this week.

Table listing prices for various fruits like Peaches, Prunes, Pears, etc. with prices per box or crate.

Edmonton, Sept. 11.—The business on preserving and pickling goods was dull this week, as compared to last. This was no doubt due to the weather, which has been rather bad, as we have had rain during some portion of almost every day.

B.C. prunes coming on this market lately have been rather over-ripe.

The same thing can be said of the cantaloupes.

There has also been some poor celery coming in. Some of it certainly never should have been shipped out.

The sale on pears continues rather slow. A lot of people are still asking for Bartletts.

Sale on Hyslop crab apples has been good, and stock has been excellent.

No Ontario fruit has yet been brought on this market although it is rumored some is expected.

First car of Valencia onions arrived during the present week.

Sale on apples continues pretty good.

Approximate wholesale prices are as follows:

Moose Jaw, Sept. 10.—Weather conditions in this territory have been exceptionally fine for harvest and the crop is being rapidly cut. Below we give you the selling list for the week of Sept. 8th:

SASKATOON, Sept. 10.—We will have the following arrivals from B.C. for market this week: 7 cars mixed fruit, 7 cars fruit and vegetables, 2 cars bulk apples, 1 car prunes, 1 car pears. Imported: 3 cars peaches, 2 cars mixed fruits, 1 car prunes, 2 cars bananas.

Prices this week are approximately as follows:

REGINA, Sept. 10.—Business on the whole good. Supplies are arriving in good condition with the exception of one B.C. car of mixed produce showing considerable shrinkage and some shrinkage is being found in imported peaches. Bulk apples are now on the market and these are being crated by the wholesale houses.

Arrivals, Sept. 4th to 10th: B.C., 13 fruit and vegetables, 4 mixed fruit, 4 apples, 2 bulk apples. Ontario: 1 onions, 1 fruit and vegetables. Imported: 4 peaches, 1 pears, 1 onions.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—Business on the Winnipeg market this past week has been steady with commodities of different kinds cleaning up fairly fast.

Ontario tomatoes arriving in large quantities and in a number of cases in very poor condition. Bulk Wealthies from B.C. moving out in good shape, being put in sacks and barrels.

The first McIntosh are on the market, in crates, and very fine stock. Ontario mixed cars are all heavy to tomatoes but enough plums are coming forward to satisfy the buying public.

Ontario Standard grade are good quality and dry, B.C. onions so far have been poor. The following are the car receipts since last report:

From B.C.: 16 apples, 5 bulk apples, 2 pears, 2 prunes, 1 onions, 5 mixed fruit, 1 crab apples. From Ontario: 6 tomatoes, 10 mixed fruit, 5 onions. Imported: 3 onions, 2 grapes, 1 pears, 1 melons, 2 cantaloupes, 2 peaches.

Current wholesale prices:

COOLIDGE, Sept. 10.—Cooler weather has prevailed during the past week with one or two night showers.

Imports have fallen off heavily during the week, peaches and Bartlett pears being at the end of their season. However, there is much of these fruits in storage.

The three carlots of Elbertas from Utah arrived during the week. Quality was good but the run was small being about 80c and 90c.

McIntosh Reds are now on the market in quantity, Kamloops supplying a large part of the receipts. King David, Kings and Wealthies are also in fair supply.

Hothouse tomatoes have slackened off in supply with a resultant increase in price. The field stock remains at the same level.

Local plums and prunes are fairly plentiful, most of the supply being in bulk. The writer has noted a strong inquiry for English Damsons this last week or so but the supply of these is so small as to be hardly noticeable.

Local fruit growers would be well advised to consider the possibilities in this direction. The enquiry is for English Damsons not for the other varieties.

The potato deal shows no market change. Price to grower delivered is $23.00 for Lower Mainland stock. Reports from this district are for a light crop—as light if not lighter than last year. It is estimated that about 25 per cent. of this year's acreage was in the early varieties.

LENGTHENING THE PERIOD OF USEFULNESS OF SIRES

(Experimental Farms Note)

It is a lamentable fact that many sires that have later proven to be valuable breeders have had a limited period of usefulness to their breed, due to the fact that they were disposed of before their breeding ability became known.

Early disposal is sometimes due to a disinclination to risk the insecurity to life and limb entailed in keeping aged breeding animals around, but more often is due to the gradual impotency, inadvisability of inbreeding and the lack of facilities for keeping two herd sires. Be the cause what they may, the fact remains that, in many cases, better use could be made of many of the outstanding sires in the country that meet with slaughter while still in prime breeding condition.

With most classes of stock, proper care, comfortable quarters, plenty of exercise, and due cautions on the part of the attendant reduce impotency in the animal and the risk of attendants being injured by aged sires to a minimum. Also, in most classes of stock, the get of the sire mature sufficiently early to enable a fair estimate to be made, through the get, of the breeding ability of the sire before the latter has to be disposed of to avoid inbreeding.

Such being the case, it would seem advisable for the breeder to study his breeding results closely and retain as long as he possibly can those sires that show outstanding merit.

Co-operation with neighbours or other breeders (where accredited herd regulations will allow) in such a way

CRICKET

On Sept. 14th another cricket match was played on the Athletic Ground, the eleven being the Occidentals and "The Rest", and, in order to avenge the defeat they suffered a few weeks ago, the Occidentals picked up all the good players they could find in advance, including several of their opponents at the previous game.

Unfortunately several of the regular players could not turn out, the result being that "The Rest" arrived on the scene of action only seven strong. However, by the time play commenced they mustered ten men.

The Occidentals, winning the toss, decided to put their opponents in first and it appeared from the start that "The Rest" could not handle the bowling, wickets falling quickly. In fact the only attempt to make runs was made by Sutton and Campbell and, later on, City Supt. H. A. Blakeborough, one of cricket's latest recruits. The latter played a nice innings, making nine when runs were most needed. The whole side, however, were all out for 56.

On the Occidentals going in to bat, they did not fare much better, as apart from a short stand by Jerman Hunt and A. P. Hayes, a quick contribution of ten by Harry Lee and twenty by Verity, they were all retired for 66. The outstanding feature of this innings was the masterly display of patience by A. P. Hayes, who, while on the field fifteen, displayed great judgment in picking out loose balls and playing a stone all game against the good ones.

The score follows:—

LACROSSE

Armstrong Wins First Game For Shaw Cup

The first of a series of two games for the Shaw Cup, the holding of which confers the honour of the lacrosse championship of the Interior of B. C., was played at Armstrong last Thursday, the challengers being the Kelowna lacrosse team. The second game is being played at Armstrong this afternoon, and a majority of goals of both games will decide who are the champions. Last Thursday's game gave Armstrong a long lead in the score at the end of play being seven to one in their favour.

It was a real old-time lacrosse game, in which the skill and experience of the Armstrong old-timers was more than a match for the youth of the Kelowna team. After witnessing the game, we are astounded at the fact that the Armstrong lacrosse team dropped out of the Okanagan Valley League for the season now closed. The excuse we heard at the beginning of the season, that "they could not field a team," was disproved by their exhibition last Thursday.

Mr. G. F. ("Gus") Reinhard, of Vernon, was to officiate as referee but he did not arrive until the end of the first period, Redgrave of Vernon acting referee for that quarter. Reinhard had a busy time and succeeded in maintaining good control of the game, but missed a number of fouls. There was a good deal of dashing and slashing in between times, and by the end of the game more than half of the Kelowna team had to be more or less patched up, showing that their opponents were by no means gentle in their attentions. Indeed, it was a rough game in which the defenders took no chance of being defeated if hard knocks would help.

The game went the regulation four fifteen-minute periods, and was marked by fast work by both teams from start to finish. The play was by no means as one-sided as the goal record implies, the difference being mostly due to the skill and lightning-like speed with which the Armstrong sharpshooters, C. McCulloch and Johnny Hammill, sent in their shots on the one hand, and to particularly effective checking by the Armstrong defence every time their goal was the scene of attack. Spear and Neill worked hard to stem the shower of goals but seemed to miss something. Roddy Watt played a hard game, as did also Fred Fowler and C. McMillan. Bill Raymer and Claire McPhee did well too. Hubert and Charlie Shillingford have been seen to better advantage, their work around the Armstrong goal being particularly ably aided by the good work of their checks.

McCulloch got the first goal, after about ten minutes' play, on a pass from Fred Murray. A few seconds before the end of the first period Hammill notched a point. Two more goals were scored in the second period, the first of them being credited to Tom Phillips. It was scored after a furious melee of two or three minutes around the Kelowna goal in which the ball was bounced about from stick to stick and on the ground until it was finally forced into our goal. In a very short time afterwards Hammill registered the fourth tally, the score at half-time standing at four—nothing in favour of the Armstrong team.

The next period was slowed up a bit and twice play was stopped owing to Tooley being wounded. McCulloch added another counter in this space, the teams lining up for the last quarter with Armstrong five goals to the good.

Early in the last quarter Hammill made it six. In a furious onset on the Armstrong citadel, Claire McPhee in attempting to bore in on the goal received a nasty gash on the head, delaying the game and retiring him from further participation in the conflict. After the doctor assisted McPhee to the club side play was resumed and Hammill scored his fourth goal and the seventh tally of the game. In sheer desperation in the closing moments of the game the Armstrong defence was penetrated by Fred Fowler for Kelowna's lone tally. Thus the Armstrong lacrosse team go into today's match with a big advantage.

Notes On The Game
The lacrosse team are indebted to the following citizens who so kindly undertook to transport the players: Messrs. Clark Rowcliffe, Jim McCormick, S. T. Elliott, Claire Mabey and Roddy Watt.

There was not a very large crowd out to see the game, the Vernon and Kelowna contingents being about equal to the number of Armstrong spectators.

The Vernon lacrosse men, who were themselves badly beaten by Armstrong recently, appeared to enjoy the defeat of the Orchard City boys.

The best team won, Fred Murray and C. McCulloch being the star players for the victors.

A COSMOPOLITE IN A CAFE

What does it matter where a man is from? Is it fair to judge a man by his post-office address? Why, I've seen Kentuckians who hated whiskey, Virginians who weren't descended from Pocahontas, Indians who hadn't worn velvet trousers with silver dollars sewed along the seams, funny Englishmen, spendthrift Yankees, cold-blooded Southerners, narrow-minded Westerners, and New Yorkers who were too busy to stop for an hour on the street to watch a one-armed grocer's clerk do up crates in paper bags. Let a man be a man and don't handicap him with the label of any section.

"Pardon me," I said, "but my curiosity was not altogether an idle one. I know the South, and when the band plays 'Dixie' I like to observe. I have formed the belief that the man who applauds that air with special violence and ostentatious sectional loyalty is invariably a native of either Scaucus, N.Y., or the district between Murray Hill, Lyceum and the Harlem River, this city. I was about to put my opinion to the test by inquiring of this gentleman when you interrupted with your own—larger theory, I must confess."

And now the dark-haired young man spoke to me, and it became evident that his mind also moved along its own set of grooves. "I should like to be a periwinkle," said he, mysteriously, "on the top of a valley, and sing too-ralloo-ralloo." This was clearly too obscure, so I turned again to Cogan. "I've been around the world twelve times," said he. "I know an Esquimaux in Upernavik who sends to Cincinnati for his neckties, and I saw a goat-herder in Uruguay who won a prize in a Battle Creek breakfast food puzzle competition. I pay rent on a room in Cairo, Egypt, and another in Yokohama all the year round. I've got slippers waiting for me in a tea-house in Shanghai, and I don't have to tell 'em how to cook my eggs in Rio Janeiro or Seattle. It's a mighty little old world. What's the use of bragging about being from the North, or the South, or the old manor house in the dale, or Euclid avenue, Cleveland, or Pike's Peak, or Fairfax County, Va., or Hootigan's Flats or any place? It'll be a better world when we quit being fools about some mildewed town or ten acres of swampland just because we happened to be born there."

"You seem to be a genuine cosmopolite," I said admiringly. "But it also seems that you would decry patriotism."

"A relic of the stone age," declared Cogan, warmly. "We are all brothers—Chinamen, Englishmen, Zulus, Patagonians and the people in the bend of the Kaw River. Some day all this petty pride in one's city or State or section or country will be wiped out, and we'll all be citizens of the world, as we ought to be."

"But while you are wandering in foreign lands," I persisted, "do not your thoughts revert to some spot—some dear and—"

"Nary a spot," interrupted E. R. Cogan, flippantly. "The terrestrial, globular, planetary hunk of matter, slightly flattened at the poles, and known as the Earth, is my abode. I've met a good many object-bound citizens of this country abroad. I've seen men from Chicago sit in a gondola in Venice on a moonlight night and brag about their drainage canal. I've seen a Southerner on being introduced to the King of England hand that monarch, without batting his eyes, the information that his grandpa on his mother's side was related by marriage to the Perkinses of Charleston. I knew a New Yorker who was kidnapped for ransom by some Afghanistan bandits. His people sent over the money and he came back to Kabul with the agent, 'Afghanistan?' the natives said to him through an interpreter. 'Well, not so slow, do you think?' Oh, I don't know, says he, and he begins to tell them about a cab driver at Sixth avenue and Broadway. Those ideas don't suit me. I'm not tied down to anything that isn't 8,000 miles in diameter. Just put me down as E. Rushmore Cogan, citizen of the terrestrial sphere."

My cosmopolite made a large adieu and left me, for he thought he saw some one related by the chatter and smoke whom he knew. So I was left with the would-be periwinkle, who was reduced to Wurzbarger without further ability to voice his aspirations, to perch, melodious, upon the summit of a valley. I sat reflecting upon my evident cosmopolite and wondering how the poet had managed to miss him. He was my discovery and I believed in him. How was it? "The man that breed from them they traffic up and down, but cling to their cities' hem as a child to the mother's gown."

Not so E. Rushmore Cogan. With the whole world for his—

My meditations were interrupted by a tremendous noise and conflict in another part of the cafe. I saw above the heads of the seated patrons E. Rushmore Cogan and a stranger to me engaged in terrific battle. They fought between the tables like Titans, and glasses crashed, and men caught their hats up and were knocked down, and a brunette screamed, and a blonde began to sing "Teasing."

My cosmopolite was sustaining the pride and reputation of the Earth when the waters closed in on both combatants with their famous flying wedge formation and bore them outside, still resisting.

I called McCarthy, one of the French garçons, and asked him the cause of the conflict. "The man with the red tie" (that was my cosmopolite), said he, "got hot on account of things said about the bum sidewalks and water supply of the place he come from by the other guy."

"Why," said I, bewildered, "that man is a citizen of the world—a cosmopolite. He—"

"Originally from Mattawamkeag, Maine, he said," continued McCarthy, "and he wouldn't stand for no knock-in the place."
