FROM THE EDITORS

Dear Students, Residents, Faculty, and Friends of the Forum,

We are delighted to present you with the 21st annual edition of The Medicine Forum. Here in the birthplace of our nation, we like to think of The Medicine Forum as being of the housestaff, by the housestaff and for the housestaff. Undeniably, this publication would not be possible without the countless hours dedicated by our residents, students, fellows and faculty.

This year has not been normal. The international healthcare community has been confronted by a pandemic that has posed challenges unlike anything seen by our generation. Our residents and faculty have been at the frontline of treating and better understanding Covid-19. While we eagerly await the results of multiple clinical trials that will continue to shape our management of this disease, we are also excited to share other areas of ongoing scholarship within our department.

As always, thank you for reading The Medicine Forum. We hope you will continue to support us in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Chief Editors
